Some Red Cross Facts and Figures

The annual meeting of Creston Valley Red Cross Society was held on Oct. 14th, and although the meeting was well advertised there was a very small turnout. Mrs. Mallandaine presented the report of the work secretary which showed that not nearly so much work had been turned in by members, due to various causes. Shortly after the annual meeting in 1918 the flu epidemic struck the town, and by the doctor's orders all meetings had to suspended for a time. Then, on November 11th, the armistice was declared and before the flu ban was lifted the soldiers were arriving home and graudally interest in Red Cross work fell off, and with the exception of a few "regulars" the meetings were slimly attended. The work secretary's report showed that the following articles were shipped during the year:

77 bandages.
78 suits pyjamas.
6 pillow slips.
95 pairs socks.
50 amputation socks.
15 personal property bags.
426 handkerchiefs.
32 stretcher-caps.
9 trench caps.
6 wristlets.
3 day shirts.
3 woollen scaryes.
1 face cloth.
163 children's undergarments.
2 child's dresses.
1 woollen sweater.
8 women's jackets.
1 surgical shirt.

And a large assortment of used clothing in good order, which was donated.

For a couple of years a Red Cross auxiliary to the Creston Valley branch has been operated at Canyon City under the presidency of Mrs. Blair, and the work secretary's books shows the Canyon City ladies to have sent in the following articles up till they suspended operations early this spring:

6 pairs socks.
17 suits pyjamas.
48 bandages.
312 handkerchiefs.
15 personal property bags.
12 stretcher caps.
66 children's undergarments.
1 child's dress.

During the year the Canyon auxiliary raised $91.50, and of this amount $51.25 was contributed in cash to the Creston treasury, while the $40.25 balance was spent on purchasing material for the members to make up.

For the year 1918-1919 Mrs. Con. Hall holds the record of turning in the greatest quantity of finished work to the Creston depot. The last Red Cross raffle was on the 14th when a piece of crochet work given by Mrs. W. S. Watson was drawn and won by Mrs. Garland. The raffle netted the treasury $10.50. The local society has one life member in Mrs. Cherrington.

Below will be found the treasurer's statement for the year just closed, which has been audited and certified correct:

RECEIPTS.

Bal. from previous year	$ 97 40
Donations—Cash	170 12
Raffles, various	126 60
Membershp fees	47 00
Campaign Fund	424 00
Red Cross boxes	8 59
Red Cross teas	52 55
10c. Collections	6 55
Sundries	7 95
	$940 76

EXPENDITURE

Vancouver Red Cross	75 02
Campaign Fund	423 51
Spent locally	170 59
Balance on hand	61 39
	$940 76

Mrs. Cherrington, treasurer, has also complied a comparative statement of receipts and expenditures since Red Cross work was under taken in the fall of 1914, and which follows:

RECEIPTS.

1915	$ 505 47
1916	538 52
1917	883 75
1918	1204 97
1919	843 36
	$3976 05

EXPENEITURE.

1915	$ 489 40
1916	497 67
1917	819 87
1918	1228 28
1919	879 37
Bal. on hand	61 39
	$3976 05

The Red Cross organization will be kept intact until March, and probably it will remain permanently. The ladies feel that there is at least emergencies when the society could render the Valley valuable assistance in this line af effort, and it is probable that it will continue in existance if only for that purpose.

Announcement is made that commencing on Sunday, 26th inst., Methodist service will be resumed in the schoolhouse here, starting at 3.30. Thereafter service will be every second Sunday. The union Sunday school will meet as usual at 2.30 p.m.

A clucking hen on the Kelsey ranch has this week hatched out a clutch of eight chicks. This surely is an unfailing sign of a late and mild winter.

The canvass of the Erickson section for the Victory Loan has been delegated to Miss Jeanne Palmer and W. W. Hall, who are due to commence the work any time after Monday. The loan closes on Nov. 15th.

S. Lewis of Kingsgate, who has spent the past month on his ranch here, returned home the fore part of the week. It is stated here that Mr. Leyesque will be here to take the house in a few week...

This week will see apple picking completed in this section, a few of the ranchers having some on trees for Wednesday's gale. However, as these were hardy winter sorts very little damage was done them.

This month the union Sunday school disposed of some of its surplus funds by making a $5 donation to the home mission fund of both the Presbyterian and Methodist churches.

Wynndel

Mr. Piggot is building quite an addition to the house on the Ramstad ranch, which he recently purchased. Three additional bedrooms will be provided as well as a verandah.

The apples in this part of the Valley are mostly all picked, and the end of the month will see the year's shipping at the Co-Operative completed, It is expected the businee for this year will show an increase of 25 per cent over 1918.

So far we can get no trace of anyone securing a deer. Messrs. Bathie retuaned Friday without any vension. They report bear quite numerous in the hills at Canyon.

The round up of this section for the Victory loan this year will be in charge of D. J. Dewar, who handled the work so well in 1918. A year ago over $3500 was subscribed, and an even better showing is looked for this trip.

The box factory has not been running this week, and from present appearances there is enough stock on on hand to handle the remainder of the season's business. The windstorm at the end of September cut down the box demand at least three thousand at Creston alone.

J. B. Winlaw has a crew of men busy cleaning out the channel of the of the canal to the mill to expedite the getting of logs in from Goat River.

Mr. Clark, who lately acquired part of the old Dixon ranch, has started work this week on the erection of a house on the property.

Gunn—Smith Nuptials

A wedding of interest to our readers was solemnized at New Denver on Thursday evening, Oct. 16th, when Miss Vesta Smith, a former resident Creston, daughter of the late Mrs. C. Smith of the City Bakery, was united in marriage with Hugh Gunn, eldest son of Geo. M. Gunn, a former provincial police officer here. Rev. D. Scott officiating. The ceremony was performed at the Gunn residance, the bride being gowned in blue silk trimmed with lace, and was attended by Mrs. Angus Cameron, while the best man was the groom's brother, Will. The ceremony was witnessed by a small company of intimate friends, and was followed by a sumptuous wedding dinner. The happy couple left the following day via Nelson on a honeymoon trip to Vancouver and Seattle, and on their return will spend the winter at Rosebery, where the groom is at present employed. A host of Creston friends of both Mr. and Mrs. Gunn join in extending heartiest congratulations and best wishes for future happiness.

Alice Siding

The gale on Wednesday did a little damage in local orchards, though the loss will be light as the quantity of apples on the trees is small.

Scotty Todd's ranch has been leased by Geo. Marshall, who gets possession in a few days. The McCloach family are moving to a ranch down the lake.

The Matthews ranch has also been leased, this time to a Mr. Paul, who is from Alberta, and who has already taken possession.

Mrs. Beyts is already here to take possession of the Bartholomew ranch which Mr. Beyts recently purchased. Mr. and Mrs. Long will move to the Bainbridge ranch at Creston as soon as the Bainbridge's remove to their new home at Boswell.

Miss Bertha Pease left on Saturday for Nelson, where she will spend a few months taking a commercial course in Kootenay Business College in that city.

Jas. Compton and W. A. Pease have been selected to handle the Victory Loan canvass in this section. The drive starts on Monday, and they will be at the rounds early.

The Darbyshire ranch, near Reed & Mathers, is reported sold to a Mr. Anderson of Victoria, who, with his son, was here last week looking the place over. They expect to take possession in the spring.

A well is being sunk on the Constable ranch, to relieve a water famine that has a tendency to prevail in dry seasons like the present.

A number of our residents are on the sick list at present. Mrs. R. Stewart has been confined to the house for almost a week past.

W. A. Pease was a business visitor at Fernie last week, looking for a buyer for a carload of domestic pack winter apples and a quantity of No. 3's. He was quite successful and on Monday he loaded the car out with just about 700 boxes in it.

Lister

With the prospect of a building in which to have public gatherings the camp had a call last week from Rev. G. H. Hamilton, Methodist pastor at Creston, who will open up the Methodist work here as soon as the schoolhouse is available. At present Rev. Dr. Eby is doing a little missionary work for the same denomination each Sunday.

Mr. Firk, the Land Settlement Board auditor, was an official visitor here the latter part of the week. Another caller on an official inspection was Lieut. Kirchner, who was much taken with the progress the camp is making in getting land ready for soldiers.

Work on the new school is making splendid progress. Early in the week the carpenters had the flooring in and the progress they are making should see it opened almost at the end of the month, if the equipment gets here. The building is 25 x 40 feet.

Accountant S. Coop has an assistant now to help out with the rapidly increasing work in that department. His deputy is Geo. Paton, who has just arriyed from Vancouver.

Lister now has telephone connection, a second instrument being installed last week at the camp office.

An addition has just been completed to the store, which will be utilized as a storeroom for the flour and feed feature of the business, while the basement will be utilized for storing the vegetables, fruit, etc

Another car of stumping powder is expected in any day, which will make third car lot of this explosive that has been delivered to the camp. As yet the caterpillar engine has not put in an appearance for stump pulling.

The new camp, which is to take care of operations on Section 7, is now in operation, with a crew of 23 men and a team of horses. The cook house is in charge of Mr. Bownes, who has a first-class lot of equipment to work with.

At Peekin, Monday

"The Heart of a Girl," the new World-Picture in which Barbra Castleton and Irving Cummings are the stars, is coming on Monday to the Peekin theatre and it is unqualifiedly recommended by this theatre to all lovers of the best in photoplays. "The Heart of a Girl" was written by Maravene Thompson, the famous authoress of many popular stories and best selling novels, and in penning this play she wrote a production which is wholesole, clean, pleasing and exceedingly interesting. "The Heart of a Girl" is a modern love story told against the background of a tense political struggle for a gubernatorial nomination.

In order to save $250, which the government assesses Grand Forks for the city's supply of [illegible] River, the council is having tests made to see if a supply cannot be had from wells, which the city will drill and equip.

After being out of business completely for two months the Cranbrook Herald has done another comeback and was issued as usual last week. The newest editor is W. A. Elletson of Rowland, who it would appear has purchased the plant.

Commitie Names Loan Canvassers

At a meeting of the Creston Valley Victory Loan committee on Friday all details were arranged for a thorough canvass of the country from Sirdar to Kitchener for the 1919 loan, the following citizens being seiected to make the canvass:

Kitchener—H. A. McKowan and E. McGonegal.
Lister—Capt. Stone, Mr. Layton.
Canyon City—Fred Waylett, A. R. Swanson.
Erickson—Miss Jeanne Palmer, W. W. Hall.
West Erickson—W. V. Jackson, J. W. Hamilton.
Creston—Dr. Henderson, E. C. Gibbs, C. B. Garland, C. F. Hayes, S. A. Speers.
Alice Siding—W. A. Pease, Jas. Compton.
Wynndel—D. J. Dewar.
Sirdar—W. H. Morris.

Last year with the bond sale on while the flu was raging at its worst Creston Valley people invested in almost $18,000 of these securities. Under the more favorable conditions that at present obtain, and in view of the boosting last year's buyers are doing for the 1919 loan the committee in charge are confident the $50,000 expected of the Valley will be in some measure over-subscribed.

Canvassers are instructed to complete the rounds of the territory assigned them not later than Nov. 8th This will give them time to tabulate the returns and plan the campaign for the last days to make sure every possible effort was put forth to attain and surpass the amount asked. Saturday, Nov. 15th, is the last day applications for the loan may be written.

Canyon City

Surveyor Rice of the Lister soldier settlement area, who occupies the house on the Hickey ranch, has just purchased an auto-getting S. G. Foreman's Chevrolet.

The Literary Society had another highly successful session last week when the subject, "Are strikers justifiable," was debated, with F. Knott taking the affirmative, and Manfred Samuelson and W. S. Gilbert opposed. The decision was in favor of the latter by about 30 to 18. To morrow night the ladies are debating the same subject, with Mrs. Little on the affirmative and Mrs. Gilbert her opponent.

Fred Wayleet and A. R. Swanson have been selected to handle the canvass of this section for the Victory Loan, with operations due to commence next week. A small commission is paid on all bonds sold and both Mr. Waylett and Mr. Swanson have agreed to turn the commission they earn over to the local soldier memorial fund. Canyon bought heavy in bonds a year ago, and an equally good showing is expected this year.

Canyon City this week heartily welcomes home Corp. Hilton Young, who is the last of the Valley men to return from overseas, after two and a half years of it. Hilton went over with the local forestry draft but had gone into the infantry and was in readiness to leave for France when the armistice was signed. He never looked better in his life. He is particularly pleased with the development of his ranch. When he went away the trees were quite young, while this year he will have at least 300 boxes of apples.

The Company unloaded a car of horses at Creston on Monday, which will be used at logging operations here this winter, which will be on a bigger scale than ever.

With regular church services now being held the union Sunday school is enjoying an attendance of almost fifty scholars and teachers.

J. B. Hodge, who removal we chronicled last week, is now a resident of Moravia, near Bonners Ferry, where he has purchased a320 acre farm, for which he is reported to have paid $6000.

Nelson Baptists are now looking for a new minister. After two years in charge, Rev. J. Boswell has accepted a call to Medicine Hat, Alta.

A Pimple Remover That Never Fails

Dr. Hamilton Stands Behind His Formula

Bad blood is always responsible for pimples, blackheads and humours.

Pimples, eczema and boils are the common result.

I contend that to cure these ills, the liver, kidneys and bowels must receive attention.

My remedy, known as Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut, invariably reaches the trouble.

For putting life into sleepy organs, for forcing out every kind of waste and foreign matter, for making health-sustaining blood, where can you find such efficiency as in Dr. Hamilton's Pills?

In a thousand cases I have demonstrated that Dr. Hamilton's Pills cure facial blemishes and skin diseases.

I look upon these pills as the best blood purifier and system builder of the age, and guarantee they will cure every complaint having its origin in a weak or debilitated blood supply.

If Dr. Hamilton's Pills will not cure that tired, rundown condition, if they will not change lack of force into energy and vim, then nothing will.

By creating an abundant supply of rich, nourishing blood they maintain that standard of health so much desired by those participating in the strenuous life we live today.

Filling His Own Shoes

HENRY C. ROWLAND

The Austrian stepped forward, his eyes dancing with malicious triumph. He was half a head taller than Ruggles, broad of shoulder and long of limb.

"They gafe it to me because there was nobody so fit to take it," he snapped.

"Then the company must be in a mighty bad fix," said Ruggles contemptuously, and turned to the manager. "I just dropped in to tell you what I thought of you," said he, and his voice, though not loud, had a suppressed intensity that carried to every corner of the store, the words being distinctly audible.

Clerks serving customers stopped plying their shoe-horns and looked up, startled. The book-keeper ceased his entries and the cashier rummaging among his change. Customers twisted about in their chairs, among them the British surgeon, who instantly recognized Ruggles as the [illegible] spoken young chap who had [illegible] the newspaper the previ[illegible] Ruggles, in his cold, [illegible] did not observe [illegible] predicament. "I'll talk to you in a minute, Lorenz," said he. "I've got a few words to say to Durand first. You lied to me," he went on to the manager, who was struggling hard for his self-possession. "You lied to me like a dirty sneak, and you know it. You kept me in the dark about what was going on, and backed Lorenz for all you were worth. What did you get for it, anyhow?"

"I will not listen to you!" splutttered Durand. "You have been drinking—"

"You're a liar. You know I never touch a drop. You're a stinking, sneaking liar, that's what you are. A man that would play a trick like you have ain't fit to sell sabots to a street cleaner. That's what I think about you. And Lorenz, here, is right in your class."

Durand's face was chalky, but over that of the Austrian there spread a swarthy flush. He had some bitter Hungarian blood in his veins and, though cruel and treacherous, he was no coward. Besides, his nature was such that having betrayed Ruggles's confidence he hated and despised him for it.

"You have said enough," he growled. "Go out and do not make a scene. You have got only what you deserve. While you were loafing around Paris and riding your bicycle and walking in the Bois with your girl, I was writing to prominent business men in Vienna who would recommend me for this position."

Ruggles felt the hair bristling at the nape of his neck, and his fists clenched involuntarily. His blue eyes blazed at Lorenz.

"Oh, you were, were you?" said he. "Why, you piker, who'd give you a recommendation, I'd like to know? You told me yourself that you'd been a quack corn-doctor and got run out of town for nearly killing somebody from blood-poison, then rounded on your boss and swore it was the shoes. When the company gets down so low as to stick in a cheap skate like you for a manager, it's time for the honest men in the concern to hunt new jobs."

Ruggles's voice held more scorn and bitterness than anger. He despised Lorenz too thoroughly to feel any violent rage at the man. But his scathing reference to the unfortunate experiment in chiropody was more than the savage, underlying nature of the Austrian could endure. His face turned almost black.

"You dirty little Yankee pig," snarled Lorenz, quite forgetting in his fury the nationality of the business which had employed him, "get out of this shop." And trusting to the supremacy of some forty pounds of bone and muscle over Ruggles's weight, he seized the boy so fiercely by the right arm near the shoulder that his strong, bony fingers sank almost to the bone.

A snarl burst from Ruggles's throat, for the pain was sudden and intense. The next instant it seemed to Lorenz as though a wiry mountain mule had planted his hind hoof directly under his left ear. He loosened his grip and spun around on his heels; then, before he could recover his balance—smash!—and the other hoof had been planted in the cavernous socket of his right eye. Backward he went, smashing one of the company's nice new Art-Nouveau chairs in his fall. He scrambled to his feet and glimpsing Ruggles through a swirling haze, rushed [illegible] with the mad intention of bearing him down by sheer superiority of size and rending him limb from limb. CUTICURA HEALS RASH ON CHILD

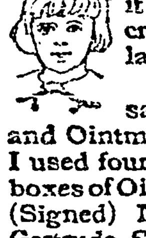
On Body and Face. Red and Itchy. Cried For Hours. Lasted a Year.



"A rash started all over my little girl's body, and she had some on her face. It started in a pimple that was full of water, and it got red and itchy. She cried for hours. This trouble lasted a year.

"Then I started with a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I bought more, and I used four cakes of Soap and three boxes of Ointment which healed her." (Signed) Mrs. Dora Langly, 1032 Gertrude St., Verdun, Que., August 11, 1918.

The Cuticura Toilet Trio Consisting of Soap, Ointment and Talcum is an indispensable adjunct of the daily toilet in maintaining skin purity and skin health.

three or four agents de police, had not Durand lost his head. Excited beyond thought or reason by the shocking scene that had arisen in his polite shoe parlor, he hurled himself upon Ruggles, who received him almost with love. Durand had no distinct idea of what he meant to do, but there was no doubt in Ruggles's mind as to his own intentions in regard to Durand. He gave him a straight jab where nose and forehead meet, and another chair was added to the list of casualties.

At this, the cashier, to whose horror-stricken eyes it seemed as if a god had been smitten in his presence, leaped from his desk, upsetting his inkpot over the ledger, capsized the bookkeeper in his passage, and dashed through his door like a falcon unhooded. Ruggles saw him coming, met him just outside the threshold, and sent him back into his coop, door and all, where he fell across the typewriter, adding this and a large pane of Art-Nouveau glass with a beautiful design of lotus flowers to the profit-and-loss account of the company.

By this, the spirit of strife having taken charge of Ruggles's awakened soul, his blazing eyes darted this way and that, searching out the next candidate for belligerent honors. They fell upon the manager Durand, who had struggled to his feet. There was nothing bellicose in the bearing of Durand, but Ruggles was now too far amuck to discriminate, and started for him. Durand did not await the onslaught. With wonderful dexterity for a corpulent young man whose nose had been broken and eyes badly strained, he leaped over the legs of a semi-paralyzed customer, hurled a stool, and darted around the double row of chairs, with Ruggles in swift pursuit. They made the complete circuit, and then Ruggles doubled craftily. But Durand was not to be caught napping, and the chase reversed itself. The corpulent Durand, light on his feet as a dancing-master, gained the foot of the stairs leading up to the ladies' department. Ruggles pursued him halfway up, then, catching sight of a swooning saleswoman at the head of the stairs, he descended slowly, glaring up from the foot like a terrier who has treed a cat. He was panting hard, but his head was beginning to clear a little.

It was during this instant of pause that the door swung open and Ruth Downing entered. Ruggles did not see her, but she saw Ruggles, and at sight of his wild face, bloodshot eyes, and bleeding knuckles, she stepped back with a little gasp of dismay. Her startled eyes fell upon the wreckage, and her ears were greeted by hysterical cries from the rear of the shop and the top of the stairs. The much bebuttoned little page who officiated as St. Peter to the Walkeasy Elysium, and who alone of all the personnel had stood fast, unforgetful of the responsibilities of his position, steered her gently into a quiet corner.

"Pardon, madame, on se bat" (there's been a fight), said he politely.

Ruth did not attempt to contradict him. The shop gave every evidence of a battle royal with Ruggles as the prime mover. In the rush of her final shopping she had taken time to drop into the store to tell Ruggles that, on talking to her father, she had heard of the appointment of an Austrian to the management of the Vienna branch, but that Mr. Downing had promised her that Ruggles should have the same position in a much more elaborate store to be opened very shortly in Rome. It is unnecessary to say what means Ruth had employed to extract this promise, but she had achieved it; and she had sacrificed an hour of very precious time for the sole purpose of being the harbinger of these glad tidings.

Consequently, she was considerably taken aback by the spectacle presented to her vision. As she stood there, dazed and astonished, she saw a handsome man of a distinguished air rise quietly from his chair and lay his hand on Ruggles's shoulder. Ruggles appeared to recognize him, for he turned quickly with clenched fist, ready to strike, then let his arm fall, with a gasp that was half a sob.

"Come, old chap," said the stranger soothingly. "You've done quite enough damage. Chuck it now and come with me. I've got a taxi waiting."

He steered Ruggles through the open door, which was swung wide by the small page.

If Constipated, Bilious or Headachy, take "Cascarets"

Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, or sour, gassy stomach — always trace this to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep.

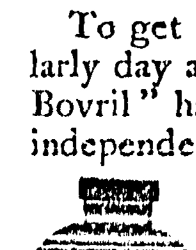
Give her BOVRIL

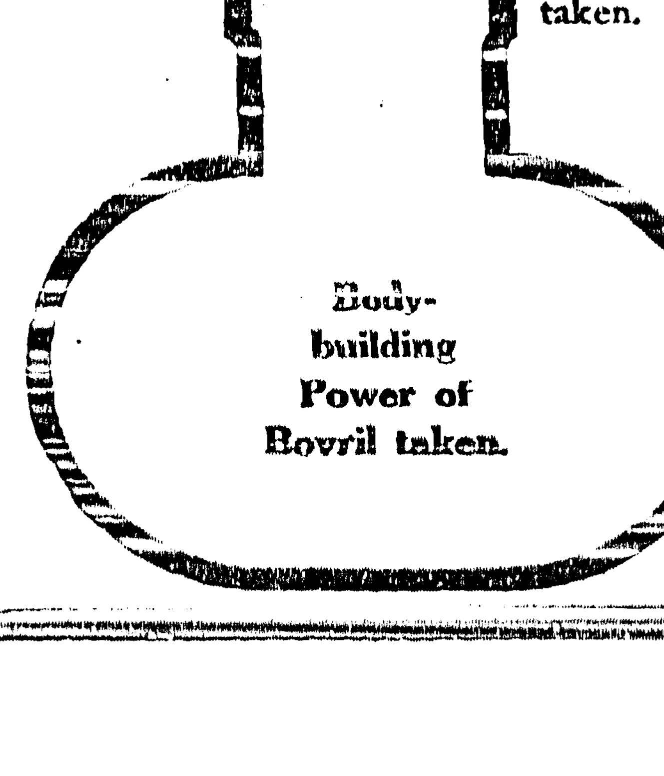
Bovril is one of the most precious food substances in the world. Its beneficent effects are immediate; it acts like a glass of champagne, but without the reaction which wine sometimes brings. Bovril does permanent good by building up the very fabric of the body.

To get the full benefit of Bovril, take it regularly day after day. The value of "a course of Bovril" has been scientifically demonstrated by the independent investigations of Professor Thompson.



Bovril taken.

After bringing human subjects to a constant weight on a standard diet, he added Bovril to the other food, and found the body-building powers of Bovril to be 10 to 20 times the amount taken.



Bovril stands alone.

A Happy Family

BY DR. S. C. BOWERS.

A happy family is one that can sit down to the table with keen appetites and good cheer. Plenty of the out-of-doors and cleanliness, inside and outside of the body, will make for health, wealth and happiness. Your doctor will tell you that anything from a headache to the most serious illness may result from allowing food to ferment in the intestines. The first thing to do in case you feel mean, logy, dull, perhaps feverish, is to flush the liver and kidneys, drink plenty of water, and take a dose of castor oil, or, something better, made of May-apple, aloin and jalap, and long sold by almost every druggist as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. This may save you from a fit of sickness, remove the poisons from the system and give the tissues of the body a chance to build up and resist disease.

People are realizing more and more that the kidneys, just as do the bowels, need to be flushed occasionally. The kidneys are an eliminative organ and are constantly working, separating the poisons from the blood. Uric acid backs up into the system, causing rheumatism, neuralgia, dropsy and many other serious disturbances.

This can be avoided by stimulating the kidneys to increased action, and because of its tonic effect on these organs I would advise any one to get Anuric (anti-uric-acid) which is to be had nowadays for fifty cents, at almost any drug store.

Humiliating

George: I hear that your employers discharged you.

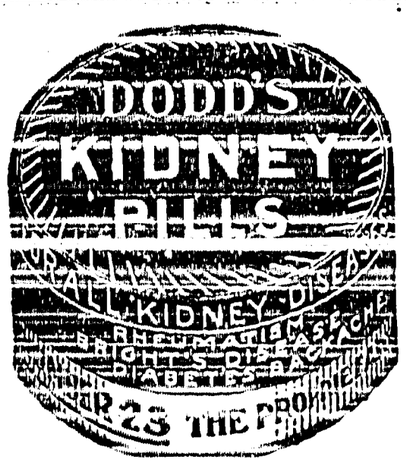
Daphne: Yes, but I wouldn't mind that so much if they hadn't added insult to injury.

George: How?

Daphne: They advertised for a boy to fill my place.—London Tit-Bits.

No More Asthma.—Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy sounds the death-knell of this trying trouble. It stops the awful choking and painful breathing. It guards against night attacks and gives renewed ability to sleep and rest the whole night long. Much is claimed for this remedy, but nothing but what can be demonstrated by a trial. If you suffer from asthma try it and convince yourself of its great value.

Probably you never heard of the man who was killed with kindness—but if you did it was nothing but hearsay.



A Musical Incident

The young lady attended a concert. As the violinist finished his solo she wept loudly. "Ah!" he said, "she is a lover of music." Rushing to her he clasped her. "I understand," he said, "you have true appreciation." "Yes," she said, "you played grand. But I wept because I neglected to remove my dog's dinner from the stove, and I know it is ruined."

The Best Liver Pill.—The action of the liver is easily disarranged. A sudden chill, undue exposure to the elements, over-indulgence in some favorite food, excess in drinking, are a few of the causes. But whatever may be the cause, Parmelee's Vegetable Pills can be relied upon as the best corrective that can be taken. They are the leading liver pills, and they have no superiors among such preparations.

She Wanted Progress

"No, sah. Ah doan't neber ride on dem things," said an old colored lady looking in on the merry-go-round. "Why, de other day I seen dat Rastus Johnson git on an' ride as much as a dollah's worth an' git off at the very same place he got on at, an' I sez to him, 'Rastus,' I sez, 'you' spent yo' money, but whar yo' been?'"—Boston Transcript.

Laugh When People Step On Your Feet

Try this yourself then pass it along to others. It works!

Ouch ! ? ! ? ! ! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called freezone when applied to a tender, aching corn stops soreness at once, and soon the corn dries up and lifts right out without pain.

He says freezone is an ether compound which dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding tissue or skin. A quarter of an ounce of freezone will cost very little at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels.

Which Are the Seven Seas?

That there is magic and mystery in numbers is an ancient tale, and the fact is confirmed by a correspondent asking: "Which are the seven seas?"

Upon inquiry, there appears to be a common consensus as to six of the seven, these six being the Atlantic, [illegible] Mediterranean, and Indian. And just as the ancients, agreeing on six, were divided upon the seventh wonder of the world (some voting for the Pharos of Egypt, others for the Palace of Cyrus), so there is doubt as to whether the seventh sea be the Baltic or the North Sea.

To Dig Out

Prices Will Fall When Production Is Increased

There is only one sure way to cut down the cost of living. Prices will fall when production is increased. With larger supply of what everybody needs to eat, drink and wear and for shelter there will be concurrent drop of cost to the consumer. At the same time there is brought about an equivalent rise in the wages of labor. To stop work is to decrease production. Having endured the war we must now begin the work of repair. One little word of three letters shows the way out of the world dilemma. That word is "dig."—From the Philadelphia Record.

RHEUMATIC PEOPLE

Can Only Find Relief By Enriching the Blood

Rheumatism is a disorder of the blood. It attacks people when the blood is overcharged with acid and impurities, thus setting up inflammation in the muscles and joints. Wet weather or cold weather of autumn may start the tortures of rheumatism, but is not the cause. The cause is in the blood and the blood only. Victims of this malady have every reason to fear the first dull ache in the limbs and joints, followed by sharp pains through the flesh and muscles; these are the symptoms of poison in the blood which may shortly leave the victim painracked and helpless.

There is only one way to cure rheumatism, and that is through the blood. Liniments, hot applications, and rubbing may give temporary ease, but cannot possibly root the trouble out of the system. That can only be done by the rich, red blood which Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make. This new blood drives out the poisonous acids and impurities, and the rheumatism disappears. If you are a sufferer from this painful malady begin curing yourself today by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and see how soon the pains and stiffness of the joints fade away, leaving behind new energy and new health.

You can get Dr. Willianis' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

War Purpose Money

The Victory Loan about to be floated in Canada is a war loan the same as the others. This money and more will be needed to pay war obligations already incurred. Some of it is required to retire short loans, some to meet the charge for accruing gratuities and allowances to soldiers, some for farm loans and other advances. Even if the largest objective is reached all will be re quired to meet war bills.

Therefore the ocuntry makes the same appeal to patriotism and self-respect of the people that it did when the war was on. These are real victory bonds. They are the price of victory. If the Canadian people do not offer the money the victory will not be quite complete. Canadians are able to raise this money at home. We do not need to go to a foreign country in search of the means to pay our war bills and so increase our outside obligations

Synopsis of Land Act Amendments

Minimum price of first-class land reduced to $5 an acre; second-class to $2.50 an acre.

Pre-emption now confined to surveyed lands only.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes and which is non-timber land.

Partnership pre-emptions abolished, but parties of not more than four may arrange for adjacent pre-emptions with joint residence, but each making necessary improvements on respective claims.

Pre-emptors must occupy claims for five years and make improvements to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivation of at least 5 acres before receiving Crown Grant.

Where pre-emptor in occupation not less than 3 years, and has made proportionate improvements, he may, because of ill-health, or other cause, be granted intermediate certificate of improvement and transfer his claim.

Records without permanent residence may be issued, provided applicant makes improvements to extent of $300 per annum and records same each year. Failure to make improvements or record same will operate as forfeiture. Title cannot be obtained in less than 5 years, and improvements of $10.00 per acre, including 5 acres cleared and cultivated, and residence of at least 2 years are required.

Pre-emptor holding Crown grant may record another pre-emption, if he requires land in conjunction with his farm, without actual occupation, provided statutory improvements made and residence maintained on Crown granted land.

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites; title to be obtained after fulfilling residential and improvement conditions.

For grazing and industrial purposes areas exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or company.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

A New Highway

Editor Review :

Sir,—Knowing that you were a good road booster and interested in the developmert of your district I respectfully call your attention to what Idaho and Boundery County, your neighbor, is doing to connect this county up with British Columbia.

Idaho, within the next ninety days, will let contracts for the construction of a North and South Highway aggregating over one million dollars, of this amount Boundery County will recieve about one hundred and thirty thousand dollars.

W. J. Hall, Commissioner of Public Works for Idaho, called a goods road meeting which was held at Moscow, Idaho, for the purpose of discussing State road problems. At this meeting all northern counties were represented and the question came up in regard to the North and South Highway as to which route we should choose for this State road through Boundery County.

The representatives from this county, believing it to be for the best interest of our county that it would open up to settlement a large area of agricultural land also, accure to the benefit of the most people by the route to Port Hill, and also to our neighbors across the line, the Creston people, have requested the Commissioner to designate this route as the North and South Highway, which he has re spectfully complied with. B. A. Polson, engineer in charge of this work, arrived a few days ago and has begun the survey of the North and South State Highway from Bonners Ferry to Port Hill.

This route, being a government post road, we will recieve one third of the cost of the construction from the U.S. Government. The people of North Idaho fully realize that the construction of a transcontinental highway through a scenic country like Idaho and B.C. will be equealed by no place in the world for tourists and recreational travel; This means that the tourists from Canada and the Westeren States will pass over this route bringing an immense trade to Creston and Bonners Ferry; The construction of this Highway to connect with your national road will be the greatest factor for the development of our agricultural lands we have had for many years. Good roads make a country. I believe that our little cities located as they are in one of the most fertile spots on the western hemisphere, where climate conditions are ideal, where scenic beauty surrounds us, will come into its own and that we will grow and prosper. We should work as a unit on this geeat problem, assist each other in every way we can and as a community get together as we have a greater problem to solve in Kootenay flats drainage.

"I Hope Every City and District Will Win My Flag"

When Edward, Prince of Wales—eager, bright eyed, smiling and sincere—arrived in Canada in August, and when he voiced his great admiration of the wonderful achievements of Canadians, on the fields of battle and at home, once again we were thrilled with joyous pride.

He asked concerning Canada's reconstruction programme, and when he was told of the Victory Loan 1919, he graciously consented to the use of his Coat of Arms on a flag, which is to be the prize of honour for districts achieving their quota in the loan.

In dedicating "The Prince's Flag" at Ottawa on Labor Day, His Royal Highness said in part:—

"It is a great joy to me to be associated with the loan, which is the bridge between war and peace, and which is finishing off the job."

"I hope every city and district will win my flag."

Striking, and beautiful in design, this flag will form not only an unique memento of Victory Year, but a lasting and outstanding souvenir of the visit of His Royal Highness—a visit which will remain as one of the most memorable events in Canada's history.

The reproduction above shows the design of the flag. The body is white, the edge red; in the upper left hand corner is the Union Jack, and in the lower right hand corner the Prince of Wales' Coat of Arms.

The flag is made in two sizes, 4 feet 6 inches by 9 feet for small cities, towns and villages, and 7 feet by 13 feet 6 inches for cities of over 10,000 population.

Canada has been divided into canvassing districts by the Victory Loan Organization. Each city forms one district. Other districts have been determined according to population.

Each of these canvassing districts has been allotted a certain amount in Victory Bonds to sell. To win the Prince's Flag, therefore, a district has to sell its allotment. That is the one and simple condition.

Anticipating that many districts will buy far beyond their allotment, the organization decided that for each twenty-five per cent. excess of the quota one Prince of Wales' Crest be awarded. Thus the workers in a district doubling its quota will be the proud winners of four small crests for their Honour Flag. These crests will be sewn to the flag. The Prince's Crest—the three ostrich plumes—is shown at the top of the coat of arms.

To every organization with fifty or more employees, where seventy-five per cent. of the enrollment invests a total of ten per cent. of the annual payroll in Victory Bonds, a supplementary Prince of Wales Flag in smaller form—48 inches by 34 inches—will be awarded.

The allotment for each district has been carefully considered, and is based on a conservative estimate of the purchasing power of the district.

Your district can sell its allotment and thus win the Prince's Flag, provided each person does his or her share.

You will gladly do your part and encourage your neighbour to do his.

Remember YOUR purchase may be the one that decides whether or not your district is to be the proud possessor of the Prince's Flag.

The Prince's Motto is "I Serve" Will You also Serve?

Juggled Prosperity—and True

Dedicated to the "under dog," (against the profit-mongering selfish hog);
Exploited toilers on land or sea, mill, mine, farm or factory.

All is not gold that glitters.
A trite saying, ever new, but old;
Prosperity appears a glittering thing,
When the tale is but half told.
To those who only live for self,
Its about the only thing on earth;
But to the human altruistic mind
Its viewed at its true worth.
Now prosperity has been with us,
So at least we understand,
Till our jeans are all ajingle,
And its hyptonized our land,
We've chased it morning, noon and night,
Until we've got the craze,
We really haven't time to live,
Prosperity so crowds our days.
And so methinks it might be well,
To pause,—and think some more;
For maybe things are not as seen.
When we test them at the core.
Behold, then, Rome at her zenith days,
When her slaves felt and lived in gloom,
Prosperity shone only for the master class
Now history records her fall and doom.
The two extremes reached breaking point
Thus came social evolution's testing call;
If we be wise we'll heed her fate,
For the handwriting's on the wall.
If by some occult order-in council then,
Sunshine be controlled, to order in spots,
The multitude would be living in gloom,
Or pay tribute to prosperity's sots.
And so methinks its up to us,
In this so-called civilized age,
To apply the acid test, by heck,
To our vaunted prosperity days.
We've been piling it up by the millions
From our great hives of industry,
In fact we've gone one better,
Now concentated prosperity we see.
We've made some scores of millionaires,
And that during four years of war;
As humanity's millions were torn to pieces,
Mid horrors reeking with blood and gore.
These millionaire gents are still living.
Prospering, and still looking for more.
(If the boys who have done their bit
Be granted further gratuity,
Then the only just place to get it is
From these same made-millionaire gentry.)
It staggers human comprehension,
And questions our smart sanity,
As we acquiesce in letting it pass.
All for the sake of prosperity.
These money magnates are all prosperous,
In fact some sicken on prosperity,
But the innocent blood of strikers shot
Will curse them thru all eternity.
We may be smart and all o' that,
But the nation ne'er was born
That could cheat social evolution,
Or put her laws to scorn.
Those laws they stand inviolate,
Mattering not how blind we be,
We'll reap as we sow, and finally fate
Will mock at our false prosperity.
Ill fares the land, the seer wrote,
To hastening ills a prey,
Where (purloined) wealth accumulates
And exploiter and exploited face decay.
You may make your dollar fortunes
And in so doing refuse to see,
That prosperity breeding dire poverty
Is a misnomer—'twixt you and me.
In getting our ill-gotten wealth
We've robbed and cheated labor's just right,
And we're going to pay the penalty
Just as sure as day follows night.
Unless we change exploiting profit system
And establish for humanity just laws.
Give heed to social evolution's mandate;
Economic justice—proeperity without flaws.
All wealth for a class, poverty for the mass,
Spells disease at the core of society;
We've some reconstruction work to do
To save us from social calamity.

But why prolong the story
Of this juggled prosperity.
Filched by profiteering class from working mass,
By test a rank counterfeit we see.
What then, say you, is genuine.
Ah, well, it dawns on me,
It doth not dwell in filthy lucre,
And that of a live certainty.
Ah, no, its found in happy homes,
With firesides a-glee with joy,
Where peace and content pervade the air—
Here's prosperity without alloy.
Where wealth is spread with equity,
No great extremes meet here,
Parasites and millionaires just fade away,
And unknown are want and fear.
Where honest labor shall enjoy,
Its full reward and fruits of toil
And none shall deign or dare to profit,
Lest he be branded an exile.
Where none so rich as to control
The lives of any other in the land.
And none so poor as forced to beg
Bread from organized charity's cold hand.
Where liberty, peace, fraternity,
Flourish as a green bay tree,
'Neath the flag of true social democracy,
No juggled prosperity or exploited humanity.

It may be old or it may be new,
But the dreams that nations' dream,
Find a way of coming true.
Petrified pessimist takes a fit,
It can't be done, ideals make me sick;
Practical optimist off with his coat,
Live as human; no longer mule, sheep or goat,
By wise political action unheeding the jeer,
Votes and fights till true prosperity's here,

Proportional Representation ---No. 3

Having in preceding articles referred to the inequalities in representation in our public bodies which result from our present system of election, and the methods which are proposed by Proportional Representation for overcoming these inequalities, it is now proposed to cite a few examples of results achieved where P.R. has been put into practice.

In the last British elections, seven of the English universities were combined into one constituency electing two members, and the election was conducted under the P.R. method. Four candidates were nominated for the two seats. When the ballots were counted it was found that first preferences had been recorded as follows: Fisher, 959; Hobson, 366; Williams, 366; Conway, 303—a total of 1,994.

With a total vote polled of 1,994, and with two candidates to be elected, the necessary quota to secure election would be arrived at by dividing 1,994 by three and adding one. This gives a quota of 665. Mr. Fisher, having polled 959 votes, was declared elected, and his surplus of votes over 665, namely, 294, was then distributed according to the second preferences indicated thereon. More than half, 162, fell to Conway, 88 to Hobson and 44 to Williams. The position of the candidates at the conclusion of the transfer was: Fisher, 665 (elected); Conway, 465; Hobson, 454; Williams, 410.

While one candidate was elected, not one of the other three had obtained a quota. The lowest on the poll, Williams, with 410 votes, was accordingly declared defeated, and his votes transferred. As many as 312 fell to Conway, thus bringing his total above the quota, and he was accordingly elected. Thus under P.R., a man who was at the foot of the poll on the first count was actually elected because he was a strong favorite as a second choice candidate.

An election under the Proportional Representation system which has attracted widespread attention was the municipal election in Sligo, Ireland, whereby the first town council in the United Kingdom to be chosen by the new method was selected. In that election 24 candidates were elected, eight from each of three wards. Four groups of candidates were in the field representing the Ratepayers' Association, Sinn Fein, Labor and Independents. The following table gives a summary of the final result, and reveals the fact that each group obtained representation in the council in proportion to their voting strength:

Parties	First Preferences	Seats in Proportion to First Preferences	Seats Actually Obtained
Ratepayers ...	823	8.94	8
Sinn Fein	674	7.33	7
Labor	432	4.70	5
Independents .	279	3.03	4
Totals	2,208	24.00	24

It is thus shown that all groups of citizens obtained representation, and that, if allowance is made for cross voting between the wards, they obtained representation in proportion to their numbers. Further, in all cases the electors had the final word in deciding which of the nominees of the various parties should be returned. The objects of P.R. being to secure freedom of choice in voting and justice in representation, these were secured by the single transferable vote.

Prior to this election in Sligo, as in so many other places, many of the more heavily-taxed citizens found themselves out-voted. After some time, they ceased to try to obtain representation. They were compelled to be content with criticising the work of the council from outside, and much of their criticism was justified, for, as is often the case when the constitution of the council is one-sided, the administration was not of a high order. The corporation, however, labored under difficulties. Its powers of assessment and taxation were limited. It inherited a considerable debt. Burdens imposed by the council continued to increase. Eventually the crash came. The corporation was bankrupt. The streets were, for a time, neither repaired nor swept and the street lights were not lit. As a result, there sprang into existence a vigorous Ratepayers' Association, in which many members of the hitherto unrepresented minority took a prominent part. The ratepayers challenged the action of the council in striking a rate in excess of its powers. Finally, a new municipal charter was passed, giving the corporation unlimited powers of assessment and taxation, but providing for an early election under the proportional system. The result, indicated above, shows that the ratepayers through their association candidates have now obtained fair and proportionate representation on the council.

Speaking of the election results, the newly-elected mayor says: "The elections recently conducted here under P.R. have given entire satisfaction to the people of Sligo, and under no circumstances would they be agreeable to go back to the old system."

(Next week some objections to P.R. will be dealt with.)

A Labor Saving Combination

"IT is the last straw that breaks the camel's back." So runs the old proverb. And it is the little extra efforts which tire you out on wash day.

Eddy's
Indurated Fibreware
Washtubs and Washboards

form a combination which save you much extra labor. Indurated Fibreware tubs are much easier to lift and to move about. They keep the water hot for a much longer space of time, because they do not conduct heat as metal does. They are easier to scrub clean, because they are made of one piece of material. And they cost no more. Last longer, too.

Eddy's Twin Beaver Washboard has a double rubbing surface of Indurated Fibreware which loosens the dirt quickly and saves many strenuous motions.

Are Your Nostrils Full Of Catarrhal Discharge?

If So, It's Time You Got Wise to Catarrhozone, the One Certain Cure

By no other means can you get relief so quickly as from Catarrhozone. It's the most direct remedy—direct because you breathe it to the very spot that is irritated and full of catarrhal germs. Nothing roundabout in the Catarrhozone method. It acts instantly, clears the throat of phlegm, stops the hacking cough, relieves tight chest, removes bronchial irritation.

So healing and soothing is Catarrhozone, so full is it of curative essences that winter ills flee before it. Carry a Catarrhozone Inhaler in your purse, in your pocket, use it to ward off your little colds before they grow big. Dollar outfit lasts two months, small size 50c, trial size 25c; all dealers or the Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Canada.

GUARD THE CHILDREN FROM AUTUMN COLDS

The Fall is the most severe season of the year for colds—one day is warm, the next is wet and cold, and unless the mother is on her guard the little ones are seized with colds that may hang on all winter. Baby's Own Tablets are mother's best friend in preventing or banishing colds. They act as a gentle laxative, keeping the bowels and stomach free and sweet. An occasional dose will prevent colds, or if it does come on suddenly the prompt use of the Tablets will quickly relieve it. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers, or by mail at 25 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Salaried Man

Bill Introduced to Remove Restrictions as to Age

London, England.—An interesting paragraph in the August number of the International Woman Suffrage News stated that the Icelandic Government has introduced a bill into the Althing for the amendment of the Constitution in such a way as to give equal political suffrage for elections in districts to all men and women of 25 years, while 35 years is to be the qualifying age for electors of both sexes for elections to the Upper House. It is considered certain that this amendment will be passed, in which case the elections will take place in the spring. Four years ago the Icelandic women were enfranchised, subject to certain restrictions as to age, which the amendment bill now before the Althing will remove.

ONLY TABLETS MARKED "BAYER" ARE ASPIRIN

Not Aspirin at All without the "Bayer Cross"

For Colds, Pain, Neuralgia, Toothache, Headache, Earache, and for Rheumatism, Lumbago, Sciatica, Neuritis, take Aspirin marked with the name "Bayer" or you are not taking Aspirin at all.

Accept only "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" in an unbroken "Bayer" package which contains complete directions. Then you are getting real Aspirin—the genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for over nineteen years. Now made in Canada.

Handy tin boxes containing 12 tablets cost but a few cents. Druggists also sell larger "Bayer" packages.

There is only one Aspirin—"Bayer"—You must say "Bayer"

Aspirin is the trade mark (registered in Canada) of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid. While it is well known that Aspirin means Bayer manufacture, to assist the public against imitations, the Tablets of Bayer Company will be stamped with their general trade mark, the "Bayer Cross"

Move to Regulate Price of Clothing

Toronto.—Immediate and effective action to regulate clothing prices was forecasted by Commissioner Murdoch of the Commerce Board, at the conclusion of the board's investigation into clothing prices here. Col. W. H. Price, government counsel, had addressed the commissioner, calling attention to evidence which he said warranted action on the part of the board, and Commissioner Murdoch replied:

"I am firmly convinced that something should be done to reduce the price of clothing, and so far as I am concerned, as one member, I will hope to see something done promptly and effectively."

Commissioner Murdoch said he concurred in Col. Price's declaration that there had been too much profit made by some of the clothing houses whose affairs had been investigated. "And I am further of the opinion," he went on, "that there is more than net profit involved, that there is real net profit to some extent hidden in certain other items referred to in a general way as overhead. I think the people of the country demand, and are entitled to, a change in the situation."

Later on the chairman suggested: "If the business houses generally that have been to some extent under investigation will co-operate with the board themselves, and at the same time co-operate with the public and in the interest of their customers, we may go some reasonable distance toward the desired end of correcting the existing situation at this time."

Col. Price, in summing up the clothing situation as revealed in the investigation here, referred to the big profits made by the manufacturers and dealers, and said to Commissioner Murdoch:

"You will notice that the cost to the consumer is, in nearly every case, nearly 100 per cent. over what it cost to produce the article."

Prohibition in Norway

Despite This, Arrests for Intoxication Have Been Increasing

Christiania.—War-time prohibition, operating since December, 1916, and forbidding the sale and private importation of spirits and strong liquors has been made permanent.

Despite this prohibition, arrests for intoxication have been steadily increasing throughout the country, and in some places have been higher than before the war-time prohibition was put into effect.

Substitutes for liquor, especially denatured alcohol, are being used everywhere. Illegal distillation also is increasing, especially in the rural districts.

It is feared that France, Spain and Portugal, from which countries liquor was imported, may retaliate with a tariff on Norwegian products, such as timber and fish, thereby injuring especially the Norwegian fish trade, 60 per cent. of which goes to Portugal.

Nationalists Capture Konieh

Apprehension That Turkish Throne May Be In Danger

Paris.—Konieh, an important railroad centre, is in the hands of the Turkish Nationalist troops.

This city, which in the days of Roman power was known as Iconium and was the capital of the province of Lyaconia, stands in a position which virtually dominates South Asia Minor. Its capture appears to indicate that Mustapha Kemal is in control of the vast region stretching from Konieh from the southwest to Erzerum, the principal city of Turkish Armenia, a distance of 425 miles. It is said the fall of the Turkish cabinet was caused by the capture of Konieh, and there seems to be some apprehension in some quarters that the Turkish throne may be in danger.

On the other hand, French circles point out that Djemal Pasha, the newly appointed Turkish minister of war, is a political ally of Mustapha Kemal.

Great Britain began to withdraw her troops from Armenia in August, and it is probable this movement is now far advanced. France has forces in Syria, while Greece and Italy have small detachments at various points along the coast of Asia Minor.

None of these nations, however, appears to have sufficient forces to conduct a campaign in the interior of the country. Great Britain's army in Mesopotamia and in Palestine, to the east and south, seems to be too far away to menace the spread of the Turkish nationalist movement, led by Mustapha Kemal.

London.—The Cork Development Association has received a cablegram from Henry Ford stating that he is considering running a line of steamers to Ireland.

Concerning Shipping Supervision

Co-operation to Be Introduced in Control of Ocean Tonnage

Ottawa.—Replying to a question by J. E. Armstrong, Sir George Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce, stated that the Dominion Government has called the Imperial Government's attention to injustices in connection with the supervision by the British Ministry of Shipping in the employment of vessels under charter by Canadian shipping interests.

In reply to another question, Sir George stated that the Canadian Government will co-operate with the Imperial Government and other overseas dominions in considering the question of the supervision and control of ocean tonnage between the different parts of the British dominions.

In reference to a report of a British royal commission in favor of government supervision in trans-Atlantic shipping, the minister stated that this report will probably form the subject matter of consideration at the next Imperial conference.

Will Investigate Irrigation in West

Ottawa.—The agriculture committee of the commons recently gave consideration to the question of irrigation in the dry areas of the prairie provinces. During the discussion the important announcement was made by Professor J. A. Grisdale, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, that the Department of Agriculture, realizing the importance of this matter, is undertaking to carry on a thorough enquiry into the whole question, which may lead to important results.

Italy Ratifies Peace Pacts

Third Dose Relief! Fifth Dose! Diarrhoea Stopped.

Diarrhoea does not need to persist for any length of time until the whole system is weakened and debilitated. No other disease so quickly undermines the strength and brings about a condition of prostration and very often total collapse.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is not only prompt and effectual in checking the diarrhoea, but at the same time acts as a stimulant, strengthens the heart and braces up the whole system, and one of its principal points is that it does not leave the bowels in a constipated condition.

Mr. W. H. Arnold, Fort Qu'Appelle, Sask., writes: "A few years ago while out threshing, I had a severe attack of diarrhoea. Nothing I took seemed to do me any good. I was getting worse all the time. Hearing that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry was good for diarrhoea, I went into town and procured a bottle. After the third dose I felt relief, and after I had taken the fifth dose the diarrhoea had stopped. I always keep it in the house, and would not be without it."

See that you get the original "Dr. Fowler's." It has been on the market for the past 74 years. Substitutes may endanger your health. Price 35c. Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Increased Gratuities A Heavy Burden

National Women's Council Present Views on Many Subjects

Calgary.—Resolutions asking that second offences for bootlegging be punishable by jail sentences, that equal parental rights be established in the province, that widows be given greater power under the Dower Act, that a living wage be incorporated in the Factories Act, that hotels and lodging houses be licensed to bring them under police regulation, and that marriage licenses be issued only from courthouses by responsible parties and that the lists be published every day, were passed by the provincial executive of the National Council of Women, which met here recently.

Heavy Expenditures

Deputy Minister of Finance Submits Figures to Committee on Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment

Ottawa.—A presentation of the government's obligations in regard to the payment of perhaps $200,000,000 re-establishment grant in addition to the burdens already to be borne, was given to the special committee on the soldiers' civil re-establishment by T. C. Boville, deputy minister of finance.

Since March 31, 1914, the public net debt has increased 580 per cent., from $335,996,000 to an estimate for 1919-20 of $1,950,000,000. Pensions are estimated this year at $30,000,000; land settlement, $25,000,000; and soldiers' civil re-establishment, $10,000,000. Interest on the public debt has risen from $12,093,000 in 1913-14 to $102,762,000 this year.

War expenditures for 1919-29 were estimated at $350,000,000 exclusive of pensions, and this year's consolidated revenue receipts were estimated at $244,000,000.

King Albert Runs Train

Chicago.—The King of the Belgians ran the engine of his own train for ten miles. The special train on which the King and his party are travelling westward was stopped at Wauseon, Ohio, while His Majesty climbed into the cab of the engine and took over the throttle from the grimy pilot. The King, who has a thorough knowledge of locomotive engineering, ran the heavy train for 10 miles without a jolt, then he stopped the engine and returned to his car.

Irish Home Rule Bill

London.—Parliamentarians say the Irish bill will be the feature of the new session of parliament, and the cabinet is now considering one drafted on lines of dominion home rule, but with suggested alterations that may satisfy may stand out as Ulster counties be all included and have their own secretary of state.

Ottawa.—A further statement of the difficulties facing the government which make payment of $200,000,000 or more in gratuities a difficult matter for the administration to face, was placed before the special committee on soldiers' civil re-establishment by Sir Thomas White, former minister of finance.

The former minister of finance was calling attention to the many heavy expenditures, which the government was called upon to face from the forthcoming Victory Loan. Without any new debts incurred, the major portion of this loan would be taken up in bank debt and other obligations.

"Canada's financial position," he said, "while it should not be called critical, is still serious because of five years' war expenditure to call for most careful administration.

"The policy of all the nations which were belligerents will be toward retrenchment for the next few years."

In regard to the forthcoming loan, Sir Thomas said he had no misgivings. It would probably be well oversubscribed, but he could see that, from present indications, a further loan would be necessary next year. Canada had had to borrow money to finance purchases by Britain and her allies in order that Canada's own trade might not suffer.

"I do not see how it would be possible for the government to raise any such further sum as is suggested if its credit is to be maintained," said Sir Thomas. The ex-minister expressed the view that should the government decide to grant a large amount of additional aid to soldiers, the money would mostly have to be produced by domestic loans.

Bulgaria Seeks Time Extension

Paris.—The supreme council will meet to reply to the request of Bulgaria for an extension of ten days to the time granted it for presentation of its observations on the treaty handed to the Bulgarian commissioners September 19.

Ex-Kaiser Moving

Amsterdam.—The former German emperor will remove from Amerongen about December 16, and take up his residence at Doorn.

A cool, clean, satiny shave for 1/5 of a cent—think of it! At least 500 shaves are obtained from 12 AutoStrop blades, and you often get more than that.

Just a turn or two on the strop and your AutoStrop Razor is ready. After shaving, you press a little lever, put the blade under the tap, wipe it off, and it is ready for the next shave. There is no need to take the razor to pieces and assemble it again; simply leave the blade where it is from start to finish. This means time saved in the morning rush—and a razor blade that's good for about six weeks' clean, cool shaves.

The Valley hens have not as yet started their fall campaign at egg laying, and in consequence the very limited supply of fresh hen fruit is retailing at 75 cents a dozen.

The influx of Alberta citizens to secure winter employment in the Valley is the largest ever. Quite a few of them are bringing teams with them and will take logging contracts.

Christ Church harvest thanksgiving services are scheduled for Sunday morning and evening, with appropriate music and addresses. There will be a celebration of Holy Communion after morning service.

Creston is considerably alive with visiting insurance agents this week, all of whom appear to be doing some business. The Great West Life man has written up about $20,000 of business during a ten-day stay.

Mrs. F. H. Jackson and Mrs. Lyne left on Monday for Nakusp, where they are attending the annual Kootenay Women's Institute convention in that town. They will make a bid for the 1920 convention to be held here.

The attraction from Friday evening next is the Methodist Ladies' Aid hallowe'en party, to be held in Speers' Hall. There will be games of various sorte along with a programme, and refreshments. Adults 35c., children 15c. All are invited.

Citizens generally are hoping for an exceptionally short and mild winter. Local vendors have shot the price of wood up to $6 for the regulation two ricks, while from present appearances very little coal will be available at Creston this season.

John Ayis of Perry Siding was a Valley visitor a couple of days last week, and so taken with things here that elsewhere in this issue will be found his advt. offering to exchange a 320 acre stock ranch for Creston Valley property.

Creston station is now staffed by three men, Henry Chester arriving on Friday to assist agent Bundy and baggageman S. Hendren, who have had considerably more business to look after than could be expeditiously taken care of in an 8-hour day.

Arrangements are now complete for the canvass of the Valley in connection with the Victory Loan, which starts on Monday and closes Nov. 15. The Valley's quota is set at $50,000, but those in charge are confident that at least $60,000 will be subscribed.

Although peace came within a month of the annual meeting of the Red Cross Society in 1918, the treasurer's report shows that the financial intake for last year was the second largest in the society's history—almost $880 being raised in the fiscal year.

Members are reminded that the November meeting of the Women's Institute is on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 1st. The feature will be the reports of the convention delegates, while committees will also be named to handle Armistice Day whist and dance.

The Creston detachment of the Mounted Police went on duty here this week. The corps is made up of Constables Engle and Carr, with the former in command. For the present they are quartered in apartments attached to the Foreman music store.

C. O. Rodgers got back the latter part of the week from a horse-buying trip in Southern Alberta, and on Monday a car of eighteen head were unloaded at the stables here. They are the finest lot the company has so readily picked up, and had quite a crowd of admirers during unloading proceedings.

Cranbrook Cleaners and Dyers, Cranbrook, B.C., for French dry cleaning, dyeing, pressing, repairing and alterations on all garments worn by man, woman or child. New clothes are expensive. Send your worn garments to us by parcel post. We will make them look like new. Pre-war prices.

Dr. Henderson and S. G. Foreman were business visitors at Nelson the latter part of the week. The Victory Loan is expected to go away over the quota set for that city, the report being current that there is at least a million dollars in the Nelson banks that should be available for Victory Bonds.

NO SUGAR FAMINE—No occasion to complain of the sugar shortage when you can buy honey at 30 cents a pound provided you bring your own cans and take ten pounds of it. Think of two pounds of honey for the price of one pound of butter. Order early and avoid disappointment. John Blinco, Creston.

The westbound train was six hours late on Wednesday, due to snow on the prairie and the wait at the Hat for main line connection. A very heavy gale raged here all day and until Thursday a.m., furbishing the first sample of real winter weather. The government thermometer showed eight degrees of frost Thursday.

The local sugar famine was partially relieved last week. John Blinco's announcement that honey made an excellent substitute resulted in the sale of almost 600 pounds of the well-known Blinco honey between Friday noon and Saturday evening, and people are still coming to secure a supply. REVIEW advts. certainly get results.

The Hatfield barber shop changed hands on Thursday last, the new owner being J. P. Peairs, who arrived here some time ago from Bow Island, Alta., and has been in charge of the poolroom the past couple of months. He expects a barber from Lethbridge to take charge of that end of the business, and the whole shop will be conducted on up-to-date lines.

The feature of the November meeting of Christ Church Ladies' Guild, which was held on Thursday last at Mrs. Crosthwaits, was the presentation of a leather handbag to Mrs. M Young, who leaves in a few days on an extended visit to England. The presentation was made by the president, Mrs. Ebbutt, and was suitably acknowledged by the recipient.

JAMS

If, due to the sugar shortage, or for any other reason, the family larder is not as well stocked as you would like to see it with preserved or canned fruits, we would suggest that you make good any shortage by putting in a supply of jam—and do it now.

You will be needing it before the winter is over, and advices are that the supply is going to be limited. Which, in turn, means that present favorable prices are not at all likely to prevail even a few weeks hence.

We have it in 4-pound tins in the following flavors:

Strawberry
Raspberry
Peach
Apaicot
Cherry
Red Plum
Red Currant
Strawberry and Apple
Raspberry and Apple

We handle the well-known K.-C. Brand, which certainly has no superior.
