$500 Cash Prizes Get-Together Day

Things are shaping up right for Creston Valley's big Get-Together Day celebration on Friday, June 25th. Those in charge of securing finances to put the day over in good shape are meeting with splendid success and it is now assured that in the neighborhood of $500 will be available for prizes for the various events. Too, with this amount it will be necessary to have some of the events pulled off in the morning, thus assuring something doing from almost 10 a.m. till midnight.

At the committee meeting on Friday night it was decided to call for tenders to be in by Monday for the refreshment privileges for the day at the fair grounds, where the sports will be held, and which are to be put in shape for the handling of the many features. The successful bidder for the refreshment privileges will be required to serve lunches as well as drinks and ice cream, so that those attending from a distance will be assured of being able to get something to eat if they stay in town for the evening features.

There will be both junior and senior baseball matches: in the former the Boy Scouts and the Public School nines will clash, while in the senior series Wynndel, Porthill and Creston will compete for the sustantial cash prize that is offered.

There will be log rolling, sawing and chopping contests, races of all description, along with the Indian sports, for which a good field of entries is assured. Late in the afternoon the horse races will be run on Canyon trseet, which provides a good course where all can get a good view of the affair.

Every effort is being made to have the day surpass the big sports day that was an annual feature of Valley life. It is planned to come in just before the strawberries come in so that all can have a great big outing before buckling into a very busy season that will extend over the next four months almost. For the evening there will be two shows at the Peekin theatre and a dance in Mercantile Hall.

Erickson

Frank Palmer, who is in charge of construction of the irrigation ditch is making good headway. The worst stretch of country to handle is now completed, the workmen now being almost through to the canyon.

C. Fass, who is just back from an extended trip into northern B.C., is spending a few days here with Mr. and Mrs. M. McCarthy.

Erickoon members of the Women's Institute netted $25 at their dance in the interests on the convention fund on Thursday night last. The affair was transferred from Mrs. F. Staples' residence to the Parish Hall at Creston in order to take care of the crowd.

The showery weather at the first of the week was just what was needed to start the field vegetable crop off right. Dong Barney had just completed the planting of his ten acres of tomatoes two days previous.

The F. B. Turner ten-acre ranch is reported sold, and the buyers are expected in this week to take up the option on it. Mr. Turner will move into Creston to reside if the deal is closed.

Erickson furnished the first of the June weddings. On Monday morning Milt Beam and Miss Daisy Rhodes of Canyon City were quitely married at Christ Church, Creston, Rev. C. C. Owen of Vancouver officiating. The bride's custume was of pale blue silk, and she was assisted by Miss Burns of Canyon, while Geo. Muwson of Creston supported the groom. After the ceremony a sumptuous wedding dinner was served at their home here. At night the finishing touch was given the happy event when a regulation charivari was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Beam, who will reside on the groom's ranch here.

Mrs. Thurston was a visitor with Nelson friends for a few days the early part of the week.

E. Haskins last month enlarged his holdings of Valley property by the purchase of a five-acre tract in the Dow Addition near town—across the roadway from the Sherwood ranch. As a town homesite the location could hardly be beat.

Canyon City

Mr. Witherhead left on Monday on business visit to Yahk and Wardner, at both of which points he has been offered logging contracts that will take a couple of years to complete.

Canyon City oldtimers will hear with regret of the death of Al. Hussack, at Orillia, Ont., last month. Deceased had been ailing for a few years and his demise is due to the after effects of a wound along with trench fever. He was here about ten years ago in partnership with his brother, Lou, ia their 20-acre ranch.

Sister M. Angela of St. Teresa's—a home for business girls—Seattle, whr has been a visitor with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wood, has returned to Seattle.

Lumber shipping is inclined to be on the quiet at present, and some of the Company teams are being used on the haul of ties taken out by Mr. Samuelson last winter.

It is reported that aboot half a dozen head of cattle have died from the effects of eating powder which they got to at clearing operations at Lister.

The telephone is being installed this week in the residence of P. Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer have lately had a visit from the former's brother, Jim, who was here from Balfour.

The caterpillar engine is now being operated day and night shifts, and so far has been able to haul enough logs to keep the mill running steady with an average cut of almost 50,000 a day.

Fred Waylett left on Wednesday on a short holiday trip to Winnipeg, Man., where he will attend the diamond wedding celebration of his parents in that city.

Mrs. Axel Bergen has gone to Blairmore, Alta., on a visit to her husband, who is working at the mill there.

Peter Burns has lately disposed of his team to O. Harris, and will in future be on the caterpillar crew on the log haul.

L. Hussack and Andy Wickholm are now handling the lumber loading at the mill on the contract basis. The latter will have the work in full charge shortly, as Mr. Hussack is leaving on an extended trip east.

Salvation Army services in Mercantile Hall every Thursday night, with young people's meeting at 7.30 and adults at 8.15.

Board of Trade's June Meeting

Business before Creston Board of Trade at the June meeting on Tuesday night was largely routine, with reports of committees largely to the fore. President Constable was in the chair and there was an attendance of sixteen members.

Chairman Rodgers of the transportation committee reported fully on the interview with C.P.R. Supt. Maharg early last month, pointing out that already the company had erected the long wanted auto loading platform, and had given the asked for service at the station. For the reclamation committee chairman Constable reported that it had been decided to informally place the matter of Kootenay Flats drainage before the Natural Resources department of the C.P.R., while chairman Bennett of the publicity committee stated that a pamphlet was in course of preparation to be sent out to enquires for information re Creston Valley. These requests have been so numerous of late that literature of some sort was imperative.

Messrs. Constable and Hayes reported fully on the East Kootenay boards' of trade conference at Invermere last month, expressing the opinion that it would be good business on the part of Creston board to join up with the associated board that was organized there, and which at present consists of the Golden, Windermere, Cranbrook and Fernie boards. On motion it was decided to have the report lie on the table until the July meeting when a vote will be taken on the question.

The Women's Institute wrote asking the board to name a member to act on the joint committee that is being formed to handle the Public Health Nurse which effort is being made to secure for the Valley. C. W. Allen was named for the honor. A letter from Boswell-Kootenay Lake Union asking endorsation of their move to have the government announce the route of the proposed trans-provincial highway was referred to the transportation sommittee.

The matter of having a sewer system installed for the town was introduced and debated by a number of the members. This matter was an issue some years ago and on motion Messrs. Mallandaine, Garland and Henderson were named a committee to investigate the proposition and report at the earlies possible moment.

Wynndel

The dance under the auspices of Wynndel baseball club on Saturday was a huge success. A large crowd turned out, and with H. Bathie as master of ceremonies everything went fine. Quite a nice sum was realized for the club funds.

Mrs. E. W. Wall has her mother, sister and aunt, of Calgary, Alta., on a visit to her.

E. S. Butterfield spent the week-end at Balfour visiting friends.

The representative of the A. Macdonald Co., Nelson, paid Wynndel a business visit on Wednesday, and will make regular calls here in future.

Mrs. A. Packman and child are visiting their sister, Mrs. H. F. Packman, this week.

Wynndel baseball team will play Creston on Sunday. The club wants every player to get out and loosen up.

Miss Dorothy Payette fell down the railway embankment on Saturday, breaking her wrist. Dr. Henderson was called, the bone was set and is now mending nicely, with Dorothy as cheerful as ever.

The berries will be considerably later than last year. In 1919 the first crate was shipped on June 12th.

Mrs. Nathorst's horse, which was left tied at Wynndel Mercantile store one day last week, took fright at a bit of flying paper, and in its runaway hurry the buggy wheel collided with [illegible] ripped off, but this was the only damage done.

C. H. Robinson, fishery inspector, took a look over the district on Saturday, going on to Nelson in the afternoon.

Wynndel this week had everything in the line of weather, except snow. Possibly a fall of the beautiful will yet be required to get the reason squared away.

"Well, he happened to paddle by in his canoe while the girls were waiting there, and he saw Rosa and promptly fell in love with her. He knew who they were, and after that he climbed the wall several times and managed to slip up and throw notes into their windows. It's my private opinion that he bribed Hassan, but I couldn't swear to it."

"That Hassan person never looked right to me," Ruggles said.

"Humberto," Miss Elliot continued, "assured me on his word of honor as a gentleman that this was the first time that he and Rosa had ever met, but that he was wildly in love with her and wanted to marry her. I told him that in that case he had better let me talk to his mother, and he said that he wished I would. So the next day I went there and called. The old lady was pretty cattish at first, but when she learned more about the girl, and particularly that she had a dot of a million francs, she warmed up considerably. The next day I invited her and Humberto to tea, and, well—to make a long story shorter—they are both coming on to Paris in a couple of weeks to ask your consent to the marriage."

"Gee!" muttered Ruggles, between his teeth. "Wouldn't that jar you, though?" He mopped his moist forehead. "Well, how about Bulbul and Alessandra? I suppose King Ferdinand and King Constantine came flyin' over in airplanes to get them."

"They didn't have time," replied Miss Elliot. "Bulbul has been commandeered by an American soldier of fortune, who is a West Point graduate and came out here as a war correspondent. His paper has recalled him, but he has decided to remain on in Constantinople to write a history of the war. He says that it may take him twenty years if things keep on as they are now going, but that he is in no hurry whatever, and that with Bulbul he would not mind remaining fifty. Pembroke brought him over for tea one day, and as he had been having chills and fever he decided to come back with us to go up the ship to Marseilles to get the malaria out of his system. He appears to have succeeded with the fever, but he has got something else in his system in its place, and he is now in Paris and means to come around to see if you may not be good enough to help him get it out. Bulbul is mad about him, and as she is dark and plump and beautiful and he is built like a giraffe and just about as many miles, they ought to be splendidly suited to each other."

"Gee!" gasped Ruggles helplessly; "it's not Mr. Livingstone, is it?"

"Gracious me, no!" snapped Miss Elliot. "It is Gallatin Livingstone—or 'Cod' Livingstone, as he tells me they used to call him at West [illegible] Pembroke knows a good deal about his being recalled, it looks like he was out of a job just now, doesn't it? And he doesn't seem to care about breaking his neck hunting for another."

"But he's of very good family and a West Pointer—an ex-officer in the United States Army," Miss Elliot protested.

"So far as I can see," Ruggles observed, "his family don't seem to be good for his meal tickets. And as for his being a one-time army officer, why did he get out?"

"I'm sure I don't know, Mr. Ruggles," said Miss Elliot, with a tone that tried to be injured but somehow failed of its effect. "No doubt he preferred to write for his living."

MOTHERS TO BE

Should Read Mrs. Monyhan's Letter Published by Her Permission.

Mitchell, Ind.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me so much during the time I was looking forward to the coming of my little one that I am recommending it to other expectant mothers. Before taking it, some days I suffered with neuralgia so badly that I thought I could not live, but after taking three bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was entirely relieved of neuralgia, I had gained in strength and was able to go around and do all my housework. My baby when seven months old weighed 19 pounds and I feel better than I have for a long time. I never had any medicine do me so much good."—Mrs. PEARL MONYHAN, Mitchell, Ind.

Here is What the Principal Learned

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS ARE THE REMEDY FOR KIDNEY ILLS

Principal of Saskatchewan Schools Tells Out of His Own Experience What to do When the Kidneys are Diseased.

Webb, Sask., February 23.—(Special.) — That there is one sovereign remedy for kidney disease and that remedy is Dodd's Kidney Pills is the outspoken opinion of Mr. George Hutchings, principal of the public schools here.

"I suffered for two years from diseased kidneys," Principal Hutchings states. "I was advised about a year ago to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. They have helped me more than any remedy I have ever tried. I find that my health has been greatly improved.

"I can conscientiously recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to anyone suffering from kidney disease. I would not be without them."

Dodd's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys. They help the kidneys to do their full work of straining all the impurities out of the blood. The result is new health and energy all over the body. Ask your neighbors about Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Hemp Possibilities In Manitoba

A Huge Rope and Cordage Industry May Be Developed

Dr. W. J. Harington, a member of the Manitoba legislation, is of the opinion that Manitoba may become one of the world's largest hemp-producing districts, and as a result a huge rope and cordage industry may be developed in this province.

"Hemp grown in Dauphin district last summer," he says, "was from 12 to 14 feet high when harvested, and I am given to understand that the yield in relation to the seed used was as great, if not greater, than is to be found in any part of the world where the industry has been established for years. There is an opportunity here for Manitoba to come to the front as a rope, twine, cordage and paper manufacturing province, as all these things are manufactured of hemp fibre, and I would urge upon the government the necessity of giving earnest attention to the encouragement of the industry.

A Polar Coal Field

Spitzbergen Output From 500,00 to 1,000,000 Tons Annually

An artist in "Karikaturen," published in Christiana, pictures a portly polar bear reading the Spitzbergen address of welcome to King Haakon of Norway, other polar bears smiling approval, and the King's boatmen, with their mittened hands on the oars, waiting impatiently till the ceremony is over and the king returns where it is warmer. The world at large knows little of Spitzbergen, which the Peace Conference awarded to Norway, but the fact that last winter the population of Arctic Ocean Archipelago numbered about 500 men, of whom more than 400 were Norwegians and the rest Swedes, combined with the statement that of late years the Norwegians have done much for the development of Spitzbergen seems to justify the award, and the cartoonist of "Karikaturen" no doubt expresses the feelings of the average Norwegian. There is coal in Spitzbergen, and the output, under proper development, has been estimated at from 500,000 to 1,000,000 tons annually but for only three months of the year and sometimes for only one, is the land free of ice and the way open for vessels.

The arctic tern is the foot-loose wanderer of the bird world. It breeds far within the Arctic circle, as far north as it can find land on which to build its nest, and spends the winter as near the South pole as it can find open water in which to find its food. Its summer and winter homes are 11,000 miles apart and necessitate an annual round trip of at least 22,000 miles. The name "Arctic" well suits it; the young have been found within 7 deg. of the pole and the nest frequently must be freed from snow.

One Big Union Takes Increase

A resolution stating that they are willing to accept the 14 per cent. increase in pay pending further negotiations which they insist must be entered into, has been adopted by the One Big Union mining district of Alberta, and forwarded to the Minister of Labor. The resolution also opposes the recent order of the fuel commissioner, requiring that all miners must be members of the United Mine Workers of America, the international organization, or leave their work.

YES! MAGICALLY! CORNS LIFT OUT WITH FINGERS

You simply say to the drug store man, "Give me a quarter of an ounce of freezone." This will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn from one's feet.

A few drops of this new ether compound applied directly upon a tender, aching corn should relieve the soreness instantly, and soon the entire corn, root and all, dries up and can be lifted out with the fingers.

This new way to rid one's feet of corns was introduced by a Cincinnati man, who says that, while freezone is sticky, it dries in a moment, and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin.

Don't let father die of infection or lockjaw from whittling at his corns, but clip this out and make him try it.

HEART SO BAD WAS NOT SAFE TO LEAVE HER ALONE

Miss Eva P. Yateman, Krugersdorf, Ont., writes: — "I feel that I must write and tell you of the benefit I have received from Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. About four years ago I was taken terribly bad with my heart, nerves and fainting spells, and was down in bed for about six months. I doctored with two different doctors and seemed to get better, although the fainting spells would not leave me. I would take such terrible falls, wherever I was, that it was not safe to leave me at home at any time. At last I decided to resort to proprietary medicines and took several different kinds, but seemed to receive but little benefit from them. One day noticing the advertisement of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I decided to try them, and before I had taken more than two boxes I could see they were helping me. I have taken about ten boxes, and am almost cured of those terrible spells. I sincerely feel that your medicine has proved a blessing to me, and I advise any one troubled with their heart to try them, as I am confident they will find relief."

He says that the British workmen must work a quarter harder than before the war, the French twice as hard, and the Germans eighteen times harder. Mr. Thomas adds that the Labor party's difficulties arose not because of other parties being more clever, but through the damnable jealousies in its own ranks.

Market For Toys In Great Britain

A Splendid Opportunity If Canadian Manufacturers Can Supply Demand

Toys sold on the English market at the present time have not reached a very high degree of excellence, and as the prices are very high, Canadian manufacturers have a splendid opportunity to sell large quantities in Great Britain, according to a Canadian Government trade report. The report adds that while Germany will undoubtedly be an important competitor in the British market, the manufacturers of that country will probably confine their attention as in the past to the cheaper grades of toys. In the better class of toys Canadians should find their opportunity.

THE BEST TONIC FOR NERVOUS PEOPLE

Increase Your Nervous Energy by Building Up the Blood With Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

Nervous people who have not yet developed a disease that can be recognized and treated by the medical profession have the greatest trouble in finding relief. Irritation, headache, sleeplessness, nervous indigestion, all these discomforts make life miserable but are endured rather than run a doctor's bill without hope of recovery.

Every such sufferer should know the danger of such a condition to the nervous system. Nervous debility and even paralysis may result if the tone of the nerves is not restored by building up the blood. As a tonic for the blood and nerves Dr. Williams Pink Pills have been used with the greatest success. They have a direct action on the blood and therefore enable it to carry to the nerves the elements they need to fully restore their normal function—and at the same time improve the general health. The benefits that follow the use of this medicine, is shown by the statement of Mrs. Jenny Marr, R.R. No. 3, Port Rowan, a well known school teacher, who says—"Some years ago I became greatly run down and was in this condition for nearly a year. A doctor whom I called in said I was suffering from complete nervous prostration. It would hardly be possible to tell all the symptoms of my case, but anyone who has passed through a nervous breakdown will know what I suffered. As I did not seem to improve under the doctor's treatment, I decided to try Dr. Williams Pink Pills, and the decision was a fortunate one for me, as I soon found some relief through the use of the pills, and after taking eight boxes I was fully restored to health. To-day I am strong and hearty, without an ache or pain, and for my present physical condition I feel I am indebted to Dr. Williams Pink Pills, and can heartily recommend them to anyone suffering from nervous troubles."

You can procure Dr. Williams Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or they will be sent you by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by writing direct to The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ontario.

While the history of the Saskatchewan Municipal Hail Insurance Association has not been at all encouraging, the farmers are showing a disposition to persevere and hope for better times in the future, when a few years of freedom from hailstorms will enable the association to build up a reserve, something which so far they have failed to accomplish. Up to date, the association has been notified of only four rural municipalities which have decided to withdraw from the association, thus leaving 120 municipalities which still place their faith in municipal hail insurance on the assessment plan.

HOW TO "BE FIT" AT SIXTY

BY DR. LEE HERBERT SMITH.

As our boys "came marching home," they brought a certain red-blooded doctrine, and showed us the glory of a perfect body. They will show us how to "keep fit," even if we have passed middle life and are beyond the athletic stage. For the tired business man, the man who feels the daily grind and the nightly fag, has meager appetite, headaches, nerves unstrung, is gloomy, ending in a soggy brain, try the right way. Get out of bed, open the window, breathe deeply, exercise the army "setting-up" exercise or use dumb bells, until in a warm glow.

Before breakfast take hot water, and occasionally castor oil or a pleasant laxative made up of May-apple, aloin, jalap, and sold by all druggists as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

As Prof. Strauss says, "The excretion of uric acid we are able to effect by drinking diuretic." Drink copiously of soft rain or distilled water, six or eight glasses per day, hot water before meals, and obtain Anuric Tablets, double strength, for 50 cts., at the nearest drug store and take them three times a day. If you want a trial package send 10 cents to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

"Anuric" (anti-uric-acid) is the recent discovery of Dr. Pierce and is much more potent than lithia, for it will dissolve uric acid as hot tea dissolves sugar.

Virtuous Wives

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Forrester—blissfully happy in the first few meeks of their married life, comfortably settled in a "small" New York apartment of fourteen rooms and three baths, made possible by his income of $25,000 a year, are devoted in their mutual admiration for each other. Andrew is deeply in love with his wife for her beauty, her refinement, grace and breeding. Amy, fresh from innumerable social conquests as the reigning debutante of the season, finds in Andrew's strength of character, business acumen, and his wholesome affection for her, a refreshing contrast to the men of her own set.

Maurice Delabarre, steel magnate with world-wide interests, bristles with polished indignation when Andrew refuses his offer of $50,000 a year for five years and a stock bonus which would make him a millionaire, to go to Colorado and develop one of his holdings. Determined to make Andrew's remarkable executive ability an asset to himself, Delabarre invites the young couple to his country estate.

Their visit succeeds in greatly impressing Andrew Forester with Amy's changed beauty and charm against a background of lavish elegance. Irma Delabarre, a social idol and a model mistress of conventional flirtations and diverting "affairs," offers, at her husband suggestion, to entertain Amy while Andrew is absent in the West—there to win the fortune which is to give his young wife the same luxuries and social latitude that Irma enjoys. Forrester accepts Delabarre's offer, and asks Amy to play for both of them while he is away.

Monte Braken, social waster of the moneyed, intelligent type, falls in love with Amy, to the surprise of Irma Delabarre, who secretly cherishes an affection for him above all other of her conventional admirers. To thwart Braken's effort to win Amy away from her husband, Irma writes a note of warning to Andrew, who returns at once to New York. Amy refuses his demand that she pack and go West with him immediately. It is the eve of her first big social triumph—a prehistoric ball.

Andrew quickly grasps the extent of the affair between Amy and Braken and unconsciously becomes Irma's victim of her renewed animus. Amy for winning Braken from her. Andrew thwarts Irma's effort to wreck his pride by remaining loyal to Amy, despite the insult of her affinity with Braken. He accuses Bracken of being a cad, and has his eyes opened by the social parasite to the fact that it is his own conduct toward his wife which has led Amy to the danger point.

Andrew gives Amy an hour in which to make her choice. She seeks the woods for solitude to hide her own heartache caused by Andrew's misinterpretation of her intentions with Bracken. There she rises to a situation fraught with great personal danger to herself, and which leads to a revolution of conduct in the Delbarre household, and her own triumph over an obstacle of such proportions that it seemed certain to wreck the happiness of herself, her husband and their associates. In the successful outcome of her bravery and forgetfulness of self she provides a modern definition of the meaning of virtuous wives, and establishes a new feminine standard which brings happiness out of misery and moral danger.

Well Deserved Re-Election

Almost without exception all directly interested in the local haying situation will note with satisfaction that at the annual meeting of Creston Valley Stockbreeders' association the 1919 officers and advisory board were re-elected by acclamation en masse, and with considerably more enthusiasm than is usually in evidence on occasions of this sort.

Possibly no organization ever came into existence under such trying circumstances. In a year of abundance of feed it would have been task enough to have taken charge of the flats and attempted equitable and systematic control of a big area that had hitherto run itself on more or less happy go lucky principles.

To have the work thrust upon them in a year when the flats were called upon to provide feed for many that had never before utilized it, as well as to give an increased supply to those who had cut there regularly—due to the dry season shortening up the crop on the benches—provided a job that certainly required some handling, both in the planning and executing.

To add to their troubles, too, it was needful for them to administer the affairs under regulations that were primarily designed for grazing, with little or no provision for hay cutting. That they were able in what may justly be termed a time of crisis to formulate plans that have since demonstrated their worth as to be included in the B. C. Grazing Act, and that gave effect to the policy of the greatest good to the greatest number in the difficult situation that existed last season, speaks well for the very thorough attention the matter was given—and without remuneration or even hope of reward.

Doubtless some mistakes were made and just as assuredly these defects will be remedied, and all the more speedily and satisfactorily if those who have suggestions to offer will place their ideas before the directors rather than grumbling amongst themselves.

Pending drainage the flats hay crop is a Valley asset that needs careful looking after. The Stockbreeders' association has made a splendid start at the work and are to be congratulated on a success achieved under circumstances that at times were far from pleasant. The election by acclamation is the best possible endorsement of policies adopted, and the only mandate required to continue the good work in any and every direction finances and due regard for the users' good would seem prudent.

The rise in the price of lumber has awakened all Canadians to the fact that the forests comprise one of Canada's greatest resources. The land on which our forests stand is in the majority of cases not fit for farming, and, consequently, the time when no forests are growing thereon represents a dead loss. Forests cut down grow again with comparative rapidity, but acres burned over by fire are slow to reproduce, and when trees come on again they are likely to be of inferior kinds. Thus there is every inducement to save them from fire. Yet in Canada eight or ten times as much timber has been burned as has been cut. Our governments and lumber companies are now fighting forest fires, but they still take a terrible toll. Fires start from many causes, but camp-fires left alight by tourists and hunters, and cigarette stubs and burning matches thrown carelessly into the underbrush are among the most prolific. It is to the advantage of every citizen, young and old, to aid in keeping down the forest fire evil.

The Firebrand

Virginia Pearson has a particularly strong and compelling story in "The Firebrand," which will be shown at the Peekin theatre next Wednesday. It is a tale of the Russian revolution and shows the intense and bitter battle between the revolutionist and the royalists for control of that vast but badly governed country.

In the play she is the Princess Natalya, the niece Prince Andrei Rostoff who wants her to marry his son, Boris. But the princess reads the story of Julian Ross, an American writer, of Russian family, Ross is one of the leaders of the revolution. He is captured and placed in prison. The princess visits the prison camp. A rock falls and places her in danger. Ross saves her. She promises to help him. She gives him a passport made out in the name of a servant of her uncle's household. He goes to Petrograd and continues his work for the revolution.

Treachery on the part of the Royalists who are in league with the kaiser cause the slaughter of a regiment of Russian troops. Among these is the princess' brother. Ross learns that Prince Andrei is the arch traitor. Using the servants passport he goes back and kills the prince. This makes the princess not only hate him but plan to kill him. She shoots him, causing a slight wound. He shows her proof that the prince, her uncle, had brought about her brother's death. She forgives him and they both slip away to Petrograd and both give aid to the revolutionists.

Britain--The World's Terminal

In his review of Great Britain's industrial and financial future, to which certain references were made in this column last week, Lord Northcliffe not only told his American interviewer of the ability being displayed in reforming the status of the industrial workers, and gave reasons why neither the United States nor any other country could succeed in taking away from Britain her supremacy in shipping, but he submitted a logical reason why England would continue to be the centre of world trade and finance. In this connection he said:

"Americans who come to London arrive here not realizing that our small country, which you can almost put inside the state of New York, is merely the great terminal of nearly a hundred diverse sections comprising the British Empire. That Empire is roughly divided into half a dozen free nations, quite independent of England,—the great collecting and distributing centre of the whole,—if they choose to be independent. If Canada, or Australia, or New Zealand wish to cut the connection tomorrow, they can do so without leaving any bad feeling behind. Sometimes there is ruffled talk between us, as there is between any other great business, but when it comes to what I understand you call a 'showdown,' it is seen that the business alliance is of the strongest.

"Never forget, too, we are linked by sentiment strong enough to unite us to death itself, as the world has lately seen, when from the remote parts of Australia, and from such widely separated places as Central Africa, the Klondike and the Falkland Islands, came these busy Britons, who were not killed, who will give you an excellent stand-up business fight in South America and elsewhere. From all those places there flowed to France, to Palestine, to Egypt, to Asia Minor, the fine young people who formed a portion of the land and sea armies of the British Empire, which numbered nearly eight millions, and of whom 1,000,000 were killed and missing (and missing means dead), and of whom our losses in dead officers alone amounted to 50,000.

"A people like ours, backed up by practically every single raw material the world contains, except, I understand, potash, which seems one of your weakness, too, have every reason for the silent confidence they feel in the future. In addition to our supply of raw material, we have the best skilled labor in the world. I say without hesitation that, mechanic for mechanic, ours are the best, for we have practically no aliens."

Financially, Lord Northcliffe agrees with some of the best bankers in England that Great Britain does not need to borrow further from the United States. The position of the five great British banking combinations, holding amongst them 85 per cent. of the deposits of the English banks is so strong that any present or immediately prospective British trade can be financed without seeking outside help, and it is not too much to say, says the editor of Wall Street Journal, who interviewed Lord Northcliffe, that the task the great English bankers (and no country possesses greater or perhaps as great) would like to turn immediate attention to, is paying off the British national debt to the United States, irrespective of what is owing to Great Britain by her allies. And in this connection it is worthy of note, and a source of British confidence in the future, that this year Great Britain will be able to provide all national expenditures out of current taxation and still be able to make a substantial reduction in the war debt.

Concluding his statement of the British position, Lord Northcliffe made reference to a well-known characteristic of the British race. He said: "We have many faults as a people. The French say that we have the faculty of putting our worst foot foremost. We are bad advertisers. We always like to grumble. It amuses one to notice how violently we grumble at a small business loss and how quietly we pocket a gigantic business achievement. We are not good 'boosters'; but I do happen to understand something about propaganda, and having the opportunity of speaking to a great body of business men through the Wall Street Journal, I would ask the many business friends I have made at business conventions in the United States to apply a large amount of salt to any dish served up by young and inexperienced cable correspondents who blow into London, and, because they find an absence of the noise and rush to which they are accustomed at home, fail to realize that Mr. John Bull is back at his old stand and is about to give you a thoroughly busy time in many markets that you will find are not such easily cut lemons as some of your enthusiasts believe."

All of which should help to dissipate from the minds of Canadians, fed up with articles in the United States newspaper and magazine press, any fear that Great Britain is in danger of losing her old-time position as leader in the world of finance, shipping, manufacturing and commerce.

New Diamond Fields

Tlaring Will Be Proclaimed Open for Digging March 20

Tlaring, a waterless, treeless and virtually gameless desert near Taungs, in Bechuanaland, promises to be the scene of the biggest diamond claim-staking rush in South African history. It is understood that Tlaring will be proclaimed open for diamond digging about March 20.

Amazing stories are afloat concerning the wonderful richness of the district, and prospective diggers from the Cape, and Mozambique, and even the Congo, are preparing to try their luck in the new field. Despite warnings of possible failure, men are abandoning good jobs in various parts of the country in order to be free to stake out claims when the proclamation is issued. Hundreds of women also are arranging to go to the new diggings.

The government is preparing to cope with the anticipated rush to Tlaring, and a township to receive the new community is being laid out.

Taungs is situated about forty miles south of Vryburg, and about one hundred miles north of Kimberley, the last named place being famous for its great diamond mines.

May Get Part of German Naval Equipment

British Government Offers Dominion Some Reparation Claims

In the material which the allies are requiring Germany to deliver as compensation for the loss of German battleships at Scapa Flow are several floating docks, dredges, hydraulic cranes, etc. It is understood that the British Government has made enquiry of the Canadian Government as to whether Canada would like to acquire any of these on account of Canada's reparation claims, and the matter is now being considered by the government.

The aeroplane in Tasmania has been used to survey a route for the erection of a transmission line capable of delivering 10,000 horsepower of electric current from the Great Lake Works to Launceston, a distance of 50 miles. No man has every been through this part of the country. The aeroplane, which carried an engineer of the government huydro-electric department, traveled 180 miles, and flew over wild mountain peaks, rising to an altitude of 6,000 feet, over very heavily timbered country, numerous lakes, lagoons and rivers. Information, which in the ordinary way would have taken some months to obtain, owing to the forbidding nature of the country, was gained in a couple of hours.

Germany Defiant Over Trials Of War Criminals

Berlin.—Commenting on the allied note to Germany making concessions regarding the trial of Germans accused of war crimes, the Tageblatt says:

"The awakening of the democratic spirit in England and Italy has had its effect in inducing the leaders of the entente to recede from their previous attitude on the extradition issue."

Vorwaerts says that the note is now free of malice and other obscurities, which are likely to lead to complications later, but it declares the document represents the victory of sanity.

The Vossische Zeitung expresses belief that neither the German nor the entente statesmen could have acted differently in the premises. It thinks the entente will do well in abstaining from interference with the trials Germany is to hold, as the allies will thus be spared "the ignominous defeat awaiting them in case they attempt to reaffirm their charges before an unbiased court."

The Pan Deutsche Zeitung finds the note unacceptable, and demands that it be met with "an unflinching 'No.'"

Predicts Another Great War

Henry Morgenthau Says U.S. Must Take Her Part in Settling Up Affairs in Europe

New York.—A warning that the United States will be involved in another European war within ten years, unless she accepts her share of the responsibility of putting Europe and Asia on their feet again, was uttered by Henry Morganthau, former ambassador to Turkey, in an address before the students of Columbia University.

Mr. Morganthau declared that the United States in refusing to accept a mandate for Constantinople had lost an advantage which it can never gain.

After asserting that the magnificent talk of self-determination has all died away, and that the nations of Europe are "going back to the old order," the former ambassador continued: "Unless militarism is destroyed and the new order of things established, I predict that all you young men will be called upon again to bear arms in a European war, and that all of you who were too young two years ago will receive your first call for service."

The decree is directed against threatened strikes of the bakers and hotelkeepers.

Changes In U. S. Immigration Laws

Would Make It Necessary for Aliens to Report and Register Every Year

New York.—Amendment of the immigration law so as to require aliens to register and report once a year to some federal official, is one of the several recommendations made to the National Republican Club by its subcommittee on immigration.

On repeal of the laws in certain western and southern states that permit aliens to vote who have only declared their intention to become citizens, stringent regulation of the foreign language press in the United States and creation of a permanent immigration commission to study the effects of past and especially future immigration were other recommendations.

Russian Situation Bad

Ally Officials Fearful of Bolshevik Triumph in Southern War Area

Constantinople. — The situation in Southern Russia is so uncertain that the allied officials are fearful of a general Bolshevik triumph, more, however, through the internal dissensions than the entrance of Red forces from the outside.

General Schilling is at Sebastopol commanding the volunteer forces which held the Crimean isthmus.

The surrounding lagoons are frozen hard, however, and it is feared the Bolsheviki may approach on the ice.

Sebastopol harbor is cluttered with useless shipping. Ten thousand persons are registered willing to get away, while 11,000 more are on ships from Odessa without adequate food or medicine. Typhus is raging among the refugees. It is impossible to take away the population, as commanders of allied warships in the harbor apparently lack authority for such action.

An agreement has been reached between General Denikine and the Cossack supreme council. The Terek Cossacks are giving their wholehearted support, but the Don and Kuban Cossacks are making reservations which will weaken the anti-Bolshevik strength and will make the Crimean situation doubtful.

Ottawa.—That Canada has every reason to be gratified with the present outlook, more particularly now that educationists were attacking the heavy task of carrying on a huge campaign to deepen and strengthen the moral and spiritual factors in national education, was the keynote of a speech delivered by the Duke of Devonshire, Governor-General of Canada, to the delegates to the National Council of Education here.

Dr. Parmalee, of Quebec, urged for a serious consideration of the bilingual question. If they were to have peace and harmony it was absolutely necessary that they give the French-Canadians the right to preserve their mother tongue.

British Navy Can Cope With any Emergency

Manchester Guardian Ridicules Idea of Amalgamating the Ships Built

London. — Discussing editorially Admiral Jellicoe's tour, the Manchester Guardian says it exerted a good deal of controversy in Canada, where the newspapers said that this might suggest a special building program for the Dominion and a plan for amalgamating the ships built with the British navy if the emergency should arise.

"We don't believe that any such foolish scheme is contemplated," continues the Guardian. "No emergency to begin with, is conceivable with which the British navy is not amply adequate to cope, and even if it were not so, the method of shaping and directing naval policy from Whitehall for the dominions would be the worst imaginable to meet the need. It cannot be too clearly realized the tremendous help which the British overseas nations have accorded to the allied cause. So far from making the centralization, the imperial policy has given the separate members of the Commonwealth a title as they never before held toward their own destination.

"While the Dominion policy is against the inclusion as items in the plans of imperialism, and there could be no graver error of statesmanship at this time than to imagine they would meet a scheme for putting armed forces at the disposal of the imperial council with anything but profound suspicion."

Nurses Arrive From Siberia

San Francisco.—One hundred and forty American Red Cross workers arrived here from Siberia on the army transport Great Northern. Women members of the party told of their experiences with cholera at Harbin. From Harbin they went to the foothills of the Ural mountains and aided in the evacuation of the thousands of children.

Quebec.—An order-in-council has been passed by the Quebec government raising the transfer bonus for timber limits to $20 per mile, or fraction of a mile.

Now Expected Ex-Kaiser Will Be Interned in Holland

The Hague.—The Dutch press, although inclined to resent what one newspaper calls a display of bad temper in the rather sharp wording of some parts of the second allied note with regard to the former German emperor, in its comment generally takes the view that these parts are intended only for home consumption, and that the real meaning of the note is that Holland is simply asked to prevent William from interfering with the peace of the world.

The government, the newspapers say, is undoubtedly pleased that the allies did not attempt to dictate the special place of internment. The general feeling is that the incident will be speedily settled, with Holland's expected offer to intern William at Doorn.

Hope to Secure New Beer Bill

Creston Presbyterian Sunday school scholars had their annual picnic at the fair grounds on Saturday afternoon. There was the usual line of amusements and supper. The day was ideal for such an event, and the youngsters certainly enjoyed the outing.

The committee in charge of the sports day on Friday, June 25th, are likely to have $500 to distribute in prizes, and with this amount at their disposal have arrangements under way to provide a day's amusement that will eclipse the best ever seen here.

The Erickson members of the Women s Institute wish to thank Mrs. Lister for giving her services at the dance on June 3rd, and making the music so enjoyable for everyone. The door receipts were $54. Expenses were: Hall $5; orchestra, $20; loss on ice cream, $2; total expense, $27. Clearing $27.

R. L. T. Gilbraith, Indian agent at Fort Steel, was a visitor here the latter part of the week, in connection with the trial of the four Indians. No date has been set yet for the election of a new chief, and the event may be postponed until the return of Father Lambot, who is at present on a holiday trip to Belgium.

Provincial works Engineer Ramsay of Nelson was here the early part of the week, and during his stay took the levels, etc., for the stretch of permanent road which will be laid between Crawford's hill and Creston. At least this much work will be done—and more if the appropriation and labor conditions will permit.

The final shipment of the 1919 apple crop went out on Wednesday when the B.C. Fruit Market, Lethbridge, got about twenty boxes of domestic pack Wagners from the Truscott ranch. Rhubarb shipping this season has hardly been as heavy as a year ago, while the export of asparagus has run to almost half a ton.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Leaman of the R. Stark ranch, who left here in October on an extended visit to old friends in England, got back on Saturday last and report a very fine outing. Mr. Leaman states he found conditions in the Old Country much better than he had been led to believe they were from newspaper accounts.

R. Lamont has been busy the past few days moving the L. Leamy house, which he purchased a few weeks ago to the seven acre ranch property which R. Lamont has along the K.V., beyond the Arrowsmith property. With a house on the ranch the place should be readily saleable to some of the many prospective land buyers.

G. Seymour and Jack Smith were put on duty last week as fire patrolmen at Corn Creek and Lookout respectively. At Corn Creek a new trail has been built this spring to facilitate patrolling the country between there and the boundary, in which there is a very heavy stand of white pine and spruce—estimated by some at 300 million feet.

The experts are all agreed that the strawberry season is at least ten days later than last year, and that no berries will be moving before the 20th at the earliest. At Wynndel the Indians are not expected to arrive for the season's harvest until at least July 1st. Taken as a whole the Valley should increase last year's strawberry export which was just over 12,000 crates.

Creston Valley was to the fore at the Provincial G.W.V.A. convention at Fernie last week, when Jos. Bell, the Lister delegate to the gathering, was chosen unanimously as one of the eight members that constitute the provincial executive. He will be responsible for the G.W.V.A. branches at Creston, Lister, Cranbrook, Fernie, Natal, Corbin, Golden, Windermere.

The Valley was favored with showery weather from Sunday afternoon until Tuesday, which was exactly what was needed to give the field crops put in last week the right start. Not for several seasons back have the vegetables got off to the good start they have this year. With the right sort of weather the Valley should see the biggest tomato year on record.

Major Mallandaine, who has been operating a portable mill on Goat Mountain, near the waterworks intake for the past four months, has this week shifted the plant to a site along the mountain about opposite the Jas. Compton ranch. In addition to his own timber he will also saw a quarter of a million feet on the skids there which were [illegible] last winter.

Quite a large and efficient staff of deputy registrars of voters has been named for Creston Valley, and citizens who wish to vote on the forthcoming prohibition referendum as well as the provincial election next year, should see to it that their names are enrolled on the new list. All the old voters lists have been destroyed and unless you get your name on the new one you will be out of luck when polling day comes around.

Chas. Lapointe, an old-time and well known Creston lumber camp worker, had the misfortune to lose his right leg on Tuesday. In an effort to board a moving train at Kitchener he fell under the wheels and the limb was severed just above the boot top. Fortunately Hon. Dr. King of Cranbrook was a passenger that day, who dressed the injury as best as possible, and Lapointe was taken on to Nelson for treatment at the hospital.

June 1st was Graduation Day at St. Eugene Hospital, Cranbrook, and among the half dozen ladies who received diplomas as full-fledged nurses is Miss Connie McCarthy of Creston, who has been in training in that institution the past three years. Valley friends extend congratulations on such an auspicious occasion. Miss McCarthy and Miss A. Ebbutt are the first from Creston to successfully complete the course of graduate nurse.

The Dominion department of agriculture has issued the first of the 1920 fruit crop reports and in its general summary of conditions in B.C. says: "There is some doubt as to the extent of the winter injury in the Creston Valley; it does not appear that trees have been killed, but so weakened as to effect the crop; the varieties most effected are the Duchess, Grayenstein and Wealthy; the aggregate tonnage is expected to be equal to or greater than last year." The report of inspector A. McL. Fletcher, who made a trip through the Valley a couple of weeks ago, is as follows: "In spite of good showing of blossoms, there is evidence of considerable winter injury, which will effect the crop; Wagner and McIntosh Red are heavy, and other yarities give every indication of a good medium crop. The aggregate tonnage will be fully equal to that of last year, if not slightly in excess."

Fish Inspector Here

C. H. Robinson of Nelson, Dominion fishery inspector for the Kootenays, was in the Valley on an official visit the latter part of the week, during which he visited Kitchener, Summit and Corn Creeks as welll as Wynndel, at which latter point he is keeping close tab on the fish ladder the C.P.R. this year installed in their big cement culvert at that point. Mr. Robinson made quite a careful survey of the situation at Corn and Summit creeks, due to the fact that requests have lately been made that a close season should be established on these streams with a view to giving them opportunity to restock themselves, which should be readily accomplished as both of them are directly fed by the Kootenay River. Mr. Robinson did not care to disclose the nature of the report he would make, but after going over the ground it struck him that if anglers would confine their catches to the regulation of no more than twenty-five a day, and none under less than eight inches as to size it would not be long before the fishing in these two streams would be all that could be expected. The Goat River, of course, is a different proposition, as it does not restock itself so handily, on account of the canyon. An ideal spawning ground exists, however, at the meadows in the Kitchener district, and he is in favor of a generous supply of eastern brook trout spawn being deposited there to augment the fishing in that stream, which at present is not what might naturally be expected. On his trip he posted up notices everywhere setting forth the fishing regulations and intends, so far as he is able, to see that these are not violated. While on his trip from Corn to Summit creeks he had the pleasure of meeting up with a blackbear meandering through the brush. These animals are reported to be unusally numerous in that locality this spring.
