Board of Trade July Meet Quiet

The July session of Creston Board of Trade, on Tuesday night, lacked the usual large and representative attendance that invariably greets these monthly sessions, President Constable having but ten members before him for the evening's deliberations.

The session was very largely taken up with reports of standing committees. For the Agriculture committee Chairman Compton reported that it had been decided to award the Board of Trade cup at the Creston fall fair to the winner of the prize for the best collection of vegetables—the cup to be won twice in succession before becoming the permanent property of any exhibitor.

On Publicity Chairman Bennett reported that enquiries were still coming in at a liyely gait for information as to the Creston district, among the latest being one from Winnipeg who has his eye on Creston with a yiew to opening a boot and shoe repair shop. B.C. agent general Wade at London, England, has been urging the board to send along some literature for distribution from his office to enquiries after information of this part B.C., and to meet this and other publicity needs a pamphlet has been prepared and the necessary permission to issue it was given the publicity committee.

For the Reclamation committee Chairman Constable reported progress. Correspondence in the hands of the board, as well as other information that has come to hand indicates that drainage is occupying soms attention both with the proyincial and federal authorities.

Attention of the board was drawn to the fact that it was now impossible to get dutiable parcels direct by mail. These now are held up at Cranbrook until duty is paid, and oftentimes a delay of a week or ten days results. The secretary was instructed to write the collector of customes at Cranbrook, the postoffice inspector at Vancouver, and R. F. Green, M.P., asking that the previlege be restored.

Correspondence was tabled showing that every effort had been made to induce the Vancouver business men make at least a half-day stop here on their tour of the Kootenay country this week. The effort, however, had all been to no purpose, and the best that could be hoped for is the usual few minutes stop of today's westbound—the length of which will depend on how much fruit there is to load. It is likely some members of the board will be at the train to great the tourists.

Canyon City

Our old friend, Tom Hickey, is again a temporary resident of Canyon City, being now in charge of the Kelly truck on the log haul to the mill.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Searle motored in from Coalhurst, Alta., the latter part of the week, and are here to stay permanently. During the last four years Mr. Searle has spent a lot of money on his ranch, and now has a place that is in good shape to produce, particularly with irrightion in sight.

Matt. Clayton spent a few days with friends at Lethbridge, Alta., the fore part of the month.

Grover Kifer, a former resident of Canyon, but who is now working at Kitchener, was a visitor to this section last week. He had just returned from Cranbrook where he purchased a Chalmers auto.

While it lasted Sunday night's rain was about the heaviest the Canyon section has been favored with lately. The total rainfall was almost an inch, and came just right to keep the raspberries coming in good shape.

The Canyon Water Users' Association was permanently organized at a meeting of those interested on Wednesday night last. Engineer Biker's report on the Association Creek irrigation project was discussed, and it was decided to get on with construction as speedily as possible. E. VanAckeran was elected president of the association, with A. Spencer, secretary.

There was a large and representatiye turnout at the annual school meeting on Saturday night, which proved to be one of the most important in the section's history. $1600 was voted to carry on school affairs this year, and the trustees were authorized to purchase another lot and get ready for the erection of another room for school purposes. F. Knott was re-elected trustee—his third term on the board—and C. Blair was again chosen auditor.

Erickson

Property in the Erickson section still continues to change hands. The latest sale is of the Mrs. W. K. Brown ranch, just beyond the Crawford hill, which has been purchased by Jas. Ward of Coleman, Alta., Rose & Timmons putting the deal through. There is twenty acres to the property, part of which is planted to orchard. Mr. Ward will get possession early in the fall.

Another sale was made last week when R. Lamont disposed of a three-acre part of his holdings here to G. P. Smith, principal of the Creston public school. Mr. Smith is already doing clearing preparatory to erecting a small residence on the place at once.

Mr. Coates, who recently acquired ten acres from R. Lamont—near the station, adjoining the Campbell property—is busy at clearing operations at present.

Sunday's rain accounted for almost an inch of wet goods and certainly came just in time for everything except strawberries which in most cases had dried out too badly to recuperate

Laying of the 8-inch main pipe of Erickson Water Community Irrigation pipe line is now under way, with two cars of pipe now on the ground. If there is no undue delay in getting the other two cars of pipe the system will be installed pretty well on time.

The Littlejohn ranch is capturing most of all the first-of-the season shipping honors this season. Already he is the first to export cherries and red currants, and dividds the same honors on raspberries with R. Dodd. These three latter lines started moving since Sunday.

General satisfaction is expressed at the engaging of Miss Jeanne Palmer to take charge of the Erickson school for another year, at a nicely increased salary. Without doubt she has been the best principal the school has had for several years.

At the annual school meeting on Saturday night the business before the ratepayers was disposed of with despatch. Roy Telford was the unanimous choice for the vacancy in the trustee board, and E. J. C. Richardson was equally popular as a choice for auditor. A matter of $750 was yoted for school purposes this term.

A Water Record

In view of the late season in every direction and particularly with the water on the flats showing a rise at a time in most seasons when it is usually all off the meadows, an old diary of F. G. Little's is of special interest. Mr. Little's records show that in 1804—the year when the highest water ever known was recorded—the water was at its highest point on June 8th; on Junn 9th it began to fall, and on July 9th the flats were all dry. Just how high the water got that year may be gleaned from the fact that boats on the Kootenay were able to come clear up to J. C. Rykert's house and tie up to the verandah posts.

J. P. Fink of Cranbrook made Creston a hurried business visit on Wednesday last. Arriving on the afternoon train he negotiated the purchase of S. A. Speers' McLaughlin car, and started for home in his new purchase right after supper.

At the July meeting of Creston Women's Institute on Friday afternoon the matter of making an institute display in the ladies' section of the Nelson fair this year was discussed, but action in the matter is deferred until the August meeting.

Lister

The camp experienced the hottest day in its history on Saturday, when the mercury negotiated 90 in the shade.

A S.O.S. call was received here on Sunday for men to help handle a fire-fighting job at Wynndel. Two autos and the Ford truck were pressed into service and about two dozen men rushed to the conflagratiou—in some timber in the Duck Creek district—and up till Tuesday they were still on the job.

The rain on Sunday night was just what was needed to put new life into garden stuff and field crops. From present appearances Lister will have a fine yield of potatoes this year.

Mrs. Aspell has been named by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the G.W.V.A. to represent them on the central public health nurse committee which has been organized for the purpose of securing a district nurse for Creston Valley.

The ladies' auxiliary is quite busy at present raising fuuds to wipe off the debt on the piano, and one of their money-getting projects is the serving of ice cream at the schoolhouse each Saturday night. Two ladies take charge of a Saturday, with Mesdames Aspell and Stones on the job at the school meeting, when the intake was quite satisfactory.

Tickets are now being offered for sale at 50c. each on the raffle of a hand knitted shawl, the proceeds to go to ward the piano fund.

At the annual school meeting on Saturday the trustees who have had charge since the school opened late in 1919, all retired, and a full new board was elected, as follows: J. McGee, 3 years; Mrs. Millington, 2 years; N. Stones, 1 year. The trustees were authorized to proceed with the enlargement of the school building so as to be able to employ two teachers—the present attendance being too extensive for one instructor to handle expeditiously. J. Brain presided over the evening's deliberations.

Sirdar

The annual school meeting on Saturday night was slimly attended, and it was impossible to secure a successor to Trustee Dennes, who refused to stand for re-election. The matter will be referred to the department and an appointment made to fill the vacancy.

Tourist trade at Sirdar is the biggest ever. At the C.P.R. Hotel has quite a big list of visitors almost steadily, while mine host Hughes at Hotel Sirdar is equally well patronized.

The putting on of the new ttain between Cranbrook and Lethbridge has temporarily depriyed Sirdar of the company of Conductors Greaves and Hall, who haye transferred to the new run, Dick McBurney takes the place of the latter and fits into the Sirdar scenery and other actiyities to a nicety.

A number from here were at Creston for the Nelson-Creston ball game on Sunday afternoon, with W. Proctor at the head of the local rooting squad. In his excitement at winning two bits on the game our genial guest's thrifty predilections forsook him to the entirely unaccountable extent of failing to collect his winnings.

With characteristic Irish stubborness Mayor Daly positively refuses to concede any merit to the new National Liberal Conservative party at Ottawa. True to his Hibernian ancestry the mayor is agin the government—even though the new premier has a name with the true Irish ring to it.

The Fraser crew have moved out to Yahk, where they are putting in new coal chutes at that point. When these are in use it is hardly likely much coal will be stored here, as nothing but passenger engines will take fuel here.

Sirdar parents will hear with satisfaction that Principal Brewis has notified the trustees that he is coming back to take charge of the school for another year. Both as teacher and citizen he has given splendid satisfaction.

The new slip at the Landing is working in fine shape. In addition to being a timesaver in that four cars can now be handled as against two with the old one, the crew has a feeling of absolute safety at their work which they did not always have on the old slip for almost a year back.

District Health Nurse Committee

A public health committee, which the Ceeston Women's Institute has been endeayrring to organize for the past two months to handle the District Nurse undertaking in the Vrlley, had its inaugural meeting on Thursday night last at the home of Mrs. Henderson. Seven organizations that have selected their representatives on this committee were represented as follows:

Presbyterian Ladies' Aid—Mrs. Henderson.
Christ Church Ladies' Guild—Mrs. H. B. Downs.
Methodist Ladies' Aid—Mrs. Fred Smith.
Lister Women's Auxiliary to the G.W.V.A.—Mrs. Aspell.
Women's Institute—Mrs. J. W. Hamilton.
Creston School District—R. B. Staples.
Creston Board of Trade—C. W. Allen.

Creston, Canyon and Wynndel local of the United Farmers have been asked to send a delegate to this central committee, but up to the time of the meeting had not notified of their choice.

The delegates assembled unanimously chose R. B. Staples as the committee chairman, with Mrs. Hamilton as secretary, and then went into a discussion of ways and means to procure the necessary funds to enable the work to be carried on.

It was generally felt that not enough publicity had been giyen the project, nor were these in charge fully supplied with information as to the cost of such a nurse direct to the community she will serye. The secretary has written the provincial health authorities for complete information as to financing a District Nurse, and in the direction of publicity next week we will give a statement of case by Mrs. H. B. Downs, which she presented to the Women's Institute at the May meeting. Mrs. Downs' article quite fully sets forth the advantages accuring to a district blessed with a nurse of this class. After that it is hoped to present the financial needs of the undertaking.

Wynndel

The dance at the schoolhouse on Saturday night was attended by the biggest crowd ever seen at Duck Creek. The floor was very ably managed by Harry Bathie, and the music was of the best, while the ladies surpassed themselves in proyiding an excellent suppei.

There is no shortage of berry pickers here this year. There is the usual number of Indians, and never before has there been such a big influx of white help.

The Co-Operatiye is sending out a carload of berries almost every day this week, and although the crop is a large one there will not be enough fruit to fill all orders. Certainly the high price of sugar is not shortening the consumption of berries.

Miss M. Sutherland, who has had charge of Wynndel school the past year, left for her home at Vancouver on Thursday. She will be missed here as she was popular alike with pupils and parents.

Miss M. Hartnell spent the week end here, the guest of Mrs. Butterfield, returning to Balfour on Sunday. E. S. Butterfield accompanied her, getting back on Monday.

Jim Butterfield paid a visit to his parents here the latter part of the week, returning to the sanitorium on Saturday.

Besides the berry activity Wynndel now has two sawmills running steady.

The United Farmers are giving another of their always popular dances in the schoolhouse on Saturday night, at 9.30. Ladies please bring supper. Gentlemen $1.

Wynndel was largely represented at Creston on Sunday for the Nelson-Creston baseball match, and report the game the best of the year.

Our Duty to Canada

In this column last week, using the celebration of Dominion Day as a text, reference was made to the bright, even glorious, future before this country, provided the Canadian people, profiting by the lessons and experience of the past, threw themselves with sincerity and downright honesty of purpose and vigorous effort into the inspiring task of cultivating a true national spirit based on a Christian tolerance, a broad sympathy, and a real desire to understand one another, coupled with an enlightened and progressive policy of development of the Dominion's great wealth of natural resources.

The more one studies Canada's position among the nations today in the light of the world's requirements of those things which Canada can supply, the more does one become enthusiastically optimistic over this country's future. The realization of true national greatness however, rests with the people themselves, rather than in the extent of our fertile fields, the hidden wealth of our mines, the great stretches of our forests, or the teeming millions of fish in our lakes, rivers and along our sea coasts. These are but the means, the tools ready to hand. Their development for use depends upon the character, the intelligence, the energy of the Canadian people.

In turn, the standard of Canadian manhood and womanhood, depends upon the moral character of our people, individually and collectively; upon their educational training and attainments, upon their physical fitness, strength and general well-being from the standpoint of health; in a [illegible] their conception of what [illegible] and what things are [illegible] permanent, and leading [illegible] better and greater.

[illegible] great length, [illegible] well be asked: Has [illegible] questions [illegible] duty [illegible] viction of a prominent physician in Ontario for attempting to evade the Federal Income Tax. This man, in receipt of an average income of $11,000 a year for the past three years, made returns to the government indicating an income of less than 25 percent of the sum actually received. This man, no doubt, would never dream of burglarizing his neighbor's house, or cheating his friends, nevertheless he sought to rob his fellow citizens by attempting to defraud the treasury of Canada.

This man lacked the national spirit which will make Canada strong and great. He apparently thought it was all right to cheat the government, which is merely another way of saying, cheating Canada. And the thought obtrudes itself: Are there not many more people who through complete evasion of the Income Tax, or the making of incomplete returns, or by smuggling, and in various other ways, defraud Canada who would hesitate to steal a five-cent piece from a neighbor?

It may be that, as individuals, we disapprove of customs tariffs, income and luxury taxes, and other methods through which the national revenue is raised, and it is our legitimate right to agitate and educate for reforms in taxation, but so long as the methods in vogue are the law of the land, it is the duty of every loyal citizen to abide by and observe those laws. It is just as dishonest to rob the public treasury as it is to rob a bank or a store.

Refusal to obey the laws of the land, no matter how unpopular they may be, or how much opposed to them any individual citizen may be, is evidence of a lack of that national spirit through which alone can any country be elevated to a high plane. The citizen who himself seeks to dodge his national obligations has no just cause for complaint against the dishonest member of parliament or government official, nor should he object to the profiteering acts of others, when he is attempting to profiteer himself at the expense of his country, that is, at the expense of his friends, neighbors and all fellow citizens. His crime is only different in degree, not in principle.

Until the individual conscience is aroused, the national conscience must remain asleep and the national spirit dead. No government and no country can be better than the people from which a government springs and who themselves are the country. If national honesty is at a low ebb, our national resources will be made the plaything of exploiters and modern buccaneers out for personal gain, rather than be development for the use of the people and the enrichment and glory of the nation.

Much is said about this reform and that reform to promote Canada's welfare and progress, but the basic reform, from which alone these others develop, calling for individual consideration, is our attitude of mind towards Canada itself.

GUARD BABY'S HEALTH IN THE SUMMER

The summer months are the most dangerous to children. The complaints of that season, which are cholera infantum, colic diarrhoea and dysentery, come on so quickly that often a little one is beyond aid before the mother realizes he is ill. The mother must be on her guard to prevent these troubles, or if they do come on suddenly to banish them. No other medicine is of such aid to mothers during hot weather as is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the stomach and bowels and are absolutely safe. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Placing a Ladder

Just when is a ladder safe, both for the man working on it and the people walking under or near it? Safety News has worked out a diagram indicating that the angle of 75 degrees offers the maximum of safety. An easy way to secure this angle is to find the length of the ladder, and then place the ladder feet one-fourth that distance away from the vertical surface it leans against. This angle prevents undue strain or slipping, and yet gives the workman at the top of the ladder sufficient foot-room.

Canada's Universities

Sir Arthur Shipley Praises Training Provided in Canada

When we are so dissatisfied with our general educational system in this country, it is a reason for some measure of gratification to observe our more advanced system lauded by educationalists of the Mother Country. The Royal Colonial Institute in London was informed at a recent meeting by Sir Arthur Shipley that Canada was better off in the matter of universities than Great Britain. He pointed out that this country has more universities than there are in all Great Britain. He gave high praise to the thorough training provided in Canadian universities. Training in medicine "abreast of the best on the European continent," Sir Arthur said, was given in McGill and Toronto Universities. In veterinary science, too, Canada was in some ways in advance of the Old Country. In law, applied science and dentistry, our universities served the country well. An important thing was that university education cost less in Canada than in Britain.—Ottawa Journal.

HEART SO BAD WAS NOT SAFE TO LEAVE HER ALONE

Miss Eva P. Yateman, Krugersdorf, Ont., writes: — "I feel that I must write and tell you of the benefit I have received from Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. About four years ago I was taken terribly bad with my heart, nerves and fainting spells, and was down in bed for about six months. I doctored with two different doctors and seemed to get better, although the fainting spells would not leave me. I would take such terrible falls, wherever I was, that it was not safe to leave me alone at any time. At last I decided to resort to proprietary medicines and took several different kinds, but seemed to receive but little benefit from them. One day noticing the advertisement of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills I decided to try them, and before I had taken more than two boxes I could see they were helping me. I have taken about ten boxes, and am almost cured of those terrible spells. I sincerely feel that your medicine has proved a blessing to me, and I advise any one troubled with their heart to try them, as I am confident they will find relief."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c a box at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Writing up the Wedding

As the society editor might write it—but won't: "The bridegroom, who was dressed in a rich creation of black, unfinished worsted, tastefully shaped in cutaway form, with a V-shaped neck to show the spotless linen of collar, the pique of shirt, the undoubted elegance of cravat and the foamy cream of vest, also wore a beautiful shade of grey trousers and well-fitting black shoes. He carried a hat of carefully ironed black silk, and was marked by a general air of apprehension. The bride was gowned in conventional white, carried flowers and wore a veil."

Great Waste

In a single year unscientific loading, accidental damage and the tremendous cost of packing add more than $700,000,000 to the cost of food, clothing and other necessaries. Unused space in freight cars costs $209,000,000 and hauling half-empty cars more than 6,000,000,000 miles costs the railways $157,000,000; damage and theft cost $100,000,000, and lumber that is wasted after being used once in packing cases costs $240,000,000. It is estimated that from a tenth to a quarter of the cost of foodstuffs goes to pay for crates that are thrown away instead of being used a second time.—Youth's Companion.

ULSTER RIOTS MAY SPREAD OVER IRELAND

Believe That Londonderry Trouble May Have Far-Reaching Effect

London.—Writing of the Londonderry riots, the Belfast correspondent of the London "Times" wires:

"The gravest aspect of the present position is that Londonderry may speedily become a mere incident in a much larger setting. For three days rumors have stated that Sinn Feiners from the northwest were concentrating for an attack on the city—and it is not improbable.

"For the first time very large bodies of lawless elements in that city possess deadly weapons, and plenty of ammunition; for the first time the whole city is involved, and not merely a restricted area where the factions live; for the first time the principal victims have been inoffensive people, who have been shot down, not for political or sectarian reasons, but in wantonness. The lawless element over a wide area is being drawn into the conflict, while those who have hitherto held aloof from battles are gradually but surely coming to the conclusion that they must take up weapons.

"The proceedings at Derry possess every element of civil war without any interference worthy of the name from the forces which the government is supposed to control.

"The descent of Sinn Feiners en masse from the countryside, assisted or preceded by a large movement in Ulster, either of which seems possible at any time, will immediately precipitate matters in such a way that the military forces may be engulfed.

"Unionists are said to be pouring into the city bent on vengeance, but there is also an exodus of people from the city by road and train. It is reported that artillery has arrived."

Hungary Has Begun an Energetic Counter-Boycott Against Austria

Vienna.—In retaliation for the international transport boycott against Hungary, started on Monday, Hungary has begun an energetic counter-boycott against Austria, whose workmen are taking an aggresive part in the action instituted by the international organization in protest against the alleged Hungarian prosecution of working elements.

Freight and passenger service on the railways and communication by river have been cut off by Hungary Food barges on the way up the Danube from countries to the East were stopped in Hungarian waters.

In pursuance of international boycott traffic in the direction of Hungary remains totally suspended. Trains from Vienna for Hungary are being held up although they were loaded with passengers ready for the trip. It is reported that Hungary has proposed that leaders of the boycott meet in Vienna to discuss the calling off of the international boycott.

Dispute Referred to League

Sweden and Finland Should Arbitrate Aland Isles Issue

London.—The London Times announces it has reason to believe that representations have been addressed to the Swedish and Finnish governments on behalf of the allied and associated powers to the effect that Sweden and Finland should refer the question of sovereignty of the Aland Islands to the League of Nations.

Sweden desires a plebiscite in the Aland Islands, which are situated in the Baltic between Finland and Sweden, claiming the majority of the population is of Swedish origin. Finland, however, is holding out against separation of the Archipelago from Finland on the ground that they are more nearly connected with the Finnish mainland and are definitely divided from Sweden.

Would Recognize Soviet

English Labor Party Adopt Resolution Demanding Recognition Of Russia

Scarborough, Eng.—The twentieth annual conference of the Labor party has adopted a resolution demanding recognition of the soviet government of Russia.

An amendment proposed by Ernest Bevins, of the Dock Workers' Union, favored the creation of a labor commission for an investigation of conditions on the continent.

The resolution and the amendment were adopted after the conference had been addressed by Lieut.-Colonel L'Estrange Malone, member of parliament for Leyton, and Mr. Bevins.

Wireless Strike Called Off

London.—The strike of wireless operators which threatened to bring shipping activities to a virtual standstill, has been called off. This action was taken as a consequence of meetings of the association of Wireless Telegraphists recently held at London Liverpool and other parts. The wireless leaders declare they have secured guarantees of fair treatment.

Appointment of Prince Arthur

Controversy Postponed Regarding Matter of the Governor-Generalship

London.—The Daily Chronicle remarks on the appointment of Prince Arthur of Connaught as the governor of South Africa, that it postpones for a moment the controversy in which many dominion statesmen, including the present South African premier, are involved as to whether the appointment of an Englishman as governor-general is consistent with the claim of equal partnership.

"This point might sound rather theoretic in view of the great practical services rendered, for example, in South Africa by such governors as Lords Selborne and Buxton, but there is no doubt that it is strongly felt and seriously urged," says the Chronicle.

The Chronicle adds that the Duke of Connaught was the most popular governor Canada ever had. The prince, therefore, will sail for South Africa with this fine example in front of him.

Period of Inflation Ended

London.—The Times financial editor, in reviewing the Canadian banking expansion, says that it is clear conditions in Canada have much in common with those on this side. The period of inflation has ended and it would be unwise to anticipate a continuance of rate expansion recorded in the past few years.

Coal Shortage in Montreal

Montreal.—The coal situation in the vicinity of Montreal is becoming serious, and it is highly probable that before long many plants will be compelled to close down on account of this shortage.

Booth, chief director of the anti-grasshopper campaign reports that outbreaks have occurred in several new district in Saskatchewan, but the protective measures of poison dope has worked wonders among the pest. The livestock branch will spend $10,000 on dairy cows, which will be brought here to form the nucleus of several new dairy herds.

Forty-one districts have already entered teams of five boys to take part in the annual farm boys' camp at the Regina exhibition. The boys will be given practical demonstrations as in past years, and later on will attend the camp at Saskatoon in connection with the annual summer fair at the university.

ALBERTA

Protect Wild Birds

Seven bird sanctuaries have been established in Alberta. They are in the nighborhood of Many Islands Lake, Birch Lake, Padowki Lake, Buffalo Lake, Miquelon Lake, Ministik Lake, Lac La Biche. The aim is to protect the chief breeding areas of wild birds.

Greater Dividends

Greater dividends in Southern Alberta will be paid by the investment of $20,000,000 in irrigation projects than any other investments, so C. A. Magrath, chairman of the Canadian section of the International Waterways Commission, declared in a statement.

Too Much Curriculum

Throughout Alberta there is a general feeling not only among educationists, but among business men that the fornial term end examinations in the schools should be abandoned as too great a tax on the mental and nervous systems of the pupils, and the Edmonton Board of Trade has even gone so far as to adopt a resolution declaring that these examinations are not a good influence, and that there is too much curriculum in the public schools of the city.

MANITOBA

Will Not Increase Indemnities

Proposal to Raise Amount to $4,000 Per Session Has Failed

Ottawa.—The proposal to increase the indemnities to members of the house of commons from $2,500 to $4,000 per session failed to receive the support of the government in the house of commons after nearly a score of members of all parties had expressed themselves in favor of it. The speech of the prime minister, in which he admitted that many members were representing constituencies at a financial sacrifice and intimated that the government was not prepared to take any action for increased indemnities, was not received favorably by the house.

Sir Robert emphasized the fact that the country regarded such an increase at the present time unfavorably. As the prime minister clearly intimated that the government has no intention of bringing in a bill or otherwise providing money for increased indemnities, it would seem that the matter is closed for the present session. A private member has no power to introduce a bill involving a money vote and the government apparently refuses to do so.

Tried Them and Now Is Satisfied

MADAM LANDRY TELLS WHAT DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS DID FOR HER

New Brunswick Lady Who Had Tried Other Medicines Claims She Found the Remedy She Was Looking For in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

St. Leolin, N.B., June 28th. (Special).—Among the many women who claim they owe their health to Dodd's Kidney Pills, none is more enthusiastic than Madam Bruno D. Landry, a highly esteemed resident here.

"It is with great pleasure that I recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills," Madam Landry says. "I was ill for a long time and nothing I took relieved me. I read often of the good Dodd's Kidney Pills did for others, but I had not much faith in them.

"At last, after having tried a lot of other medicines, I decided to give Dodd's Kidney Pills a trial. The result has brought me perfect health.

"If those who suffer from kidney disease will use Dodd's Kidney Pills, they will find them good and soon be convinced as I have been, that they are the remedy for kidney disease."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are no faith cure. You don't have to believe in them to find in them the relief you are looking for. But if you ask your neighbors they will tell you of their own experiences of the work Dodd's Kidney Pills have done.

Terrible Scenes in Londonderry

Streets Swept By a Murderous Fire For Sixteen Hours

Londonderry.—Scenes of the most terrible description were enacted here when the streets were swept by a murderous fire for sixteen hours continuously. One man was killed and ten dangerously wounded in one section of the city. Several bodies are reported to be lying in Bishop street. Among the wounded was a young girl and those who suffered slight injuries cannot be estimated.

Sniping was indulged in on a large scale and there was indescribable firing of rifles and revolvers all over the city. The principal conflict took place in Bishop street, where there was a large concentration of Sinn Feiners in the neighborhood of St. Columbia's Catholic college and Nazareth home. Sandbags were thrown up, from which a strong fire was directed at the Unionists. There was a vigorous exchange of fire and many casualties resulted on both sides.

Continue Hague Tribunal

The Hague.—The discussions of the commission of jurists strengthened the theory that the existing Hague arbitration tribunal will not be abolished if a high court of nations is formed, but, on the contrary that the tribunal will not only function as formerly, but have a considerable part in the selection of the judges for the high court.

Japanese Recognition

London.—A wireless dispatch received from Moscow says Japan has agreed to recognize the far eastern Russian republic on condition that it shall have complete political independence of the Russian Soviet government and that it guarantees democratic form of government.

SITUATION IN NEAR EAST IS NOW SERIOUS

War Office May Appeal For Reservists to Strengthen the Army Reserve

London.— The war office intends almost immediately to appeal for reservists, according to the Daily Mail. The newspapers say it probably will ask for discharged soldiers and men who served for at least one year during the war and have not since joined the Territorials to enlist in the army reserve.

"The decision," the Daily Mail continues, "is due to the serious view taken by the military authorities on the situation in the Near East. The chief factor in that situation is the rapid spread of the Turkish Nationalists, under Kemal Pasha, the Turkish Nationalist commander."

London.—The army estimates coming up again in the house gave the commons an opportunity of discussing at length British policy and operations abroad, special attention being directed to expenditure in Mesopotamia. Former premier Asquith led the attack by moving a reduction in the votes. He declared there was no legal right for a British footing in Mesopotamia and urged the withdrawal of troops.

Premier Lloyd George, defending the vote, pointed out that Britain had responsibility for establishing order and good government in Mesopotamia, and if they were to withdraw now they would later have to reconsider things. The amendment was defeated.

Handed Disarmament Note

Germany Will be Told How to Avoid Further Occupation

Paris.—The note to Germany regarding disarmament prepared by the council of ambassadors and approved by the allied premiers at the Boulogne conference was handed to the German peace delegation here.

The communication probably will be followed by another note going further into details and telling Germany exactly what she must do to avoid further military occupation of German territory.

Failure of Bolshevism

London.—A Reuter dispatch from Stockholm quotes Mrs. Philip Snowden and Dr. Guest, members of the British Labor Delegation which went to investigate conditions in Russia, and who have arrived in Stockholm on their return journey, as declaring that in their view, soviet Russia could teach western Europe nothing. Socialism, they predicted, would prevail in Great Britain long before it would in Russia, the message adds.

SHORT OF BREATH

Could Hardly Walk Without Resting.

When you go to a physician to be examined for any heart trouble, one of the first questions he asks is: "Are you short of breath?"

Now, when the heart becomes affected there ensues a feeling of a choking sensation, a shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensation, dizziness and a weak, sinking, all-gone feeling of oppression and anxiety.

On the first sign of the heart becoming weakened or the nerves unstrung Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are just the remedy you require. They regulate and stimulate the heart, and strengthen and restore the whole nerve system.

Mr. Stephen Crouse, East Clifford, N.S., writes: "I suffered for five years with heart trouble. I could hardly walk from the house to the barn without resting, as I used to get so short of breath. Doctors could not help me. My wife told me to get a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and I felt better after taking them; three boxes made me quite well. I am now helping my son to work the farm, and can truthfully say I feel like a different man."

CRESTON, B.C., FRIDAY, JULY 16

School Board's Inaugural Session

The inaugural meeting of the trustees of Creston school district was held on Monday night, with the members all present, and a gallary of two spectators to see that the inaugural ceremonies were well and truly performed.

The first item of business was the election of F. H. Jackson as chairman for his third successive term, and the selection of Trustee Speers for the position of secretary treasurer. After which the minutes of the special meeting of July 5th were read and adopted.

At the previous meeting the seeretary had been authorized to wire the department if it were legal for the outgoing board to engage teachers for the oncoming term. The reply is that the trustees may re-engage teachers but cannot guarantee what salary shall be paid them until after the annual meeting has voted the year's finance.

Two new teachers are required to replace Misses Hunt and Roy. A few applications have already been received and on motion it was decided to offer Division III. to Miss Marcia Kane of Kaslo, at a stipend of $1150 per annum, and if she accepts advertising will be placed for a teacher for the primary room at a stipend of $1200. If Miss Kane refuses the two vacancies will be advertised. Miss Kane had charge of the Balfour school last year, holds a B.C. first class certificate, and comes well recommended. She is a sister of Miss Mavis Kane, who taught Division III. successfully in 1918.

The enlarging of the school playground was decided upon to the extent of removing the stumps, etc., from the unoccupied half-acre of school property, and Chairman Jackson was clothed with full power to have the work done complete. A matter of $100 appears in the estimates to carry out the work.

The secretary was authorized to at once advertise for a janitor for the coming term, for which position a sum of $665 has been allocated. He will also ask for bids on a supply of cut-green 4-foot wood to be delivered before the end of the year. Arrangements will also be made for securing at least half a dozen tons of coal. The school has on hand a fuel supply that should enable them to carry on until at least Christmas.

The school heating system was discussed at some lengtn. Although the present plant is guaranteed by the coast experts to be just what is wanted to comfortably heat a four-room school, for some reason or other it don't do it satisfactorily. An authority on furnaces at Nelson will be brought in to make an investigation and report on what changes should be made to make the furnace function satisfactorily.

Principal Smith, who was among those present, requested the board to purchase a new map of British Columbia for use in his room. The one now available is about ten years old and is deficient in the all-important regard of not showing any of the new lines of railway and adequately displaying the new country these rail lines have opened up. The board gave Mr. Smith authority to purchase the map he required.

As in the past the board meetings this year will be held on the third Monday of each month, at the schoolhouse, at 8.30 p.m.

The Brute Buster

Louis Grantaire inherited a timber kingdom from his father and set out to view his holdings through the eyes of a lumber-jack. He wandered from camp to camp seeking information.

The north woods bore an evil name that grew with each orgy of immorality that flamed in the camps whenever the men acquired a little money. Grantaire determined to break the brutes that led the weaker men astray, and to use his own fists and muscles to do it.

He started with LeBlanc, the bully of one camp, who lusted for blood and marked the faces of weaker men with the calks of his boots to satisfy his craving to see men suffer. Grantaire thrashed him and sent him whining into the woods, plotting revenge.

Brute after brute fell before him. His strength was greater than any man's and only a woman could break down the barriers of his reserve.

In pretty Annette Bosseut he found the woman who lured him almost to death in his quest for love and honor.

The story will be told at the Peekin Theatre on Saturday, July 17th, when "The Brute Breaker," the Universal photoplay, begins its showing.

Frank Mayo and Kathryn Adams are seen in the star roles. An admirable supporting cast includes Harry Northrup; Jack Curtis, Burwell Hamrick, Bert Sprotte, Frank Brownlee and Charles LeMoyne.

$1500 for Bigger School Grounds

The annual meeting of the ratepayers of Creston school district on Saturday night passed off without incident. There was a total attendance of about two dozen, of whom possibly half a dozen were ladies. The meeting unanimously chose Jas. Compton as chairman of the gathering with Trustee Cherrington acting as secretary.

Trustee Cherrington's three-year term having expired, and on his refusal to again accept the office, and Jas. Compton also decining the honor, S. A, Speers was finally prevailed upon to fill the vacancy in the trustee board, while Dr. Henderson was favored with his sixth successive term as auditor.

Estimates for the year, which were finally drafted as to call for $6000 were passed with little discussion. The bigger items in this year's budget are ~~$3564~~ for teachers' salaries; ~~$665~~ for janitor; $350 for fuel; $400 for supplies; $100 for improvements to playgrounds; $100 for equipment; and a contingency fund of $535.

A policy of hands off was adopted towards the rather tidy surplus of $4692, except the trustees should decide that now is the accepted time to enlarge the schoolgrounds. Should they come to such a happy decision they are permitted to spend up to $1500 of this surplus in acquiring additional area. Should they decide it is good business to get hold of more land and more than $1500 be required to make such purchase then they are asked to call a special ratepayers' meeting to discuss the purchase.

About the only other feature to the meeting was an informal discussion of school insurance. At present a matter of only $9000 is carried and this was felt to be insufficient. In case of fire almost double that amount would be required to replace the present buildings. The trustees were given discretionary powers in this connection.

Married at Nakusp

The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Moul, Nakusp, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Tuesday, July 6th, when their eldest daughter, Lillian Amelia, was united in marriage with Stanley Hendren of Crestou. The bride, given away by her father, was dressed in white silk crepe de chene, wore a bridal veil with wreath, and carried a boquet of white carnations and roses. Miss Nellie Harvey, the bride's cousin, was bridesmaid, gowned in white silk mull with trimming of pink silk. The best man was Theodore Moul, a brother of the bride, and the officiating clergyman Rev. Mr. Skeane, Presbyterian pastor. After the ceremony a buffet lunch was served. The popularity of the young couple was amply attested in the many beautiful and useful gifts received.

Mr. and Mrs. Hendren arrived in Creston on Monday, and are receiving the felicitations of the groom's many friends—included in which was an old-time chivaree on Tuesday night.

Women's Institute

There was a good turnout at the July meeting of Creston Valley Women's Institute on Friday afternoon, which was presided over by Mrs. G. Cartwright, in the absence of the president, Mrs. H. Lyne.

The feature of the sessisn was the reading by Mrs. Mallandaine from Parson's Manual for Women's Institutes, which was listened to with great interest. Mrs. Henderson and Mrs. Speers, the Institute's school visiting committee, gave a report of their visit to the school in June. They had noticed some details that required attention, and these will be brought to the trustees attention immediately.

Considerable progress was reported in connection with the forthcoming Kootenay-Boundary Institutes conference which is to be held here at the end of August. Three committees have already been appointed as follows:

Hall and Entertainment—Mesdames J. W. Hamilton, Crompton, Garland, Thurston and F. H. Jackson.

Banquet—Mesdames G. Cartwright, G. Young, Bennett, Speers, Hayden, Dow and G. Johnson.

Billets—Mesdames Cook, Maxwell, Hayes, Cherrington and Miss Jennie Palmer.

Between forty and fifty accredited delegates and speakers are expected to be here on that occasion, for most of [illegible] can be provided. The committee in charge of this work have met with encouraging success so far but there is still a few prospective delegates for whom accommodation is required.

There was some discussion as to whether the Institute should enter for a competition for institutes at the Nelson fair this year, consisting of needlework, home cooking, preseeves, vegetables, etc., but as this is a matter which required consideration it was decided to postpone any action until the August meeting—Nelson fair not being on till the latter part of September. Mesdames G. Young, W. H. Crawford, Christie and Fisher served the usual tea just before adjournment, which netted the Institute treasury $4.25.

According to Vernon reports the Okanagan is only expecting this years fruit crop to equal 1919. Wealthy, Jonathan and Wagner apples will hold their own, while prospects at present are for a heavy yield of MacIntoshes.

But maybe what you don't know is that I stole from trappers who'd pilfered my traps afore I tetched theirn; fooled the rangers 'cause they tried to do me dirt, an' the government 'cause it tried to treat me unfair. I aint' proud of doing these things. But I can't say I'm sorry either—it's all a matter of justice, as I see it. One thing I never did do an' that is backtrail on a friend. Abe Dalton, he wanted me to do it; wanted me to help him raid your Hardwoods Retreat. I'm tellin' you this so that you'll watch out fer him an' his gang; not to boast that I was loyal to the man who's allers played straight by me."

He paused, panting, and by and by weakly resumed: "There's one thing I gotta tell you, afore I strike the trail of the Big Unknown. Leetle Willer— she ain't"—a paroxysm of coughing interrupted him, and when it passed, his mind was wandering again. He half raised himself on his elbow and let his burning eyes drop to the dipper. Dorkin lifted the water to his lips, and he sank back on the furs with a long sigh.

"Let me see, what was I sayin'?" he continued faintly. "Oh, yes, I was tellin' you about my early trappin' days, up on the North Daskatooch. I'd built a nice snug little cabin 'twixt the forks of the Grand. My woman helped me build it. First year up there, our boy, Dannie, was born. It was mighty hard goin' in them days. Sixty miles of a trek to the nearest Hudson Bay post an' mighty small money for prime skins at that. But we got along; we got along." He lay breathing heavily and by and by continued: "Eight year we [illegible] in the forks. Dannie [illegible] and a half old, I [illegible] day, spring it was, [illegible] baby [illegible] was born."

I waited [illegible]

[illegible]

Dorkin diluted some whiskey with water and held it to his lips. Again the faint smile illumined the sunken features, and the weakening voice went on:—

"Then I got down on my knees an' prayed, Dorkin. 'O, Gawd,' I prayed, 'I know I'm not fit to pray, but, I want you to know that I'm obliged to you fer this child, an' though I wanted a little girl baby, I ain't holdin' nuthin' ag'in' You.' I kept on prayin' and prayin' that prayer. I felt that there was only one thing to do an' that was to pray. My wife was still sleepin' when old Darwana slipped into the room. It was night an' the moon streamed in through the winder. She'd lit the rush lamp, an' I went over to the bed an' looked down—an', so help me Gawd, if my woman didn't open her eyes an' say—'It's a little gal, Daddy. Ain't you right glad?'

"Glad! I jest slipped down on my knees an' prayed again. "much obliged, O Gawd,' sez I, an' then I broke right down and cried."

The old trapper's voice had sunk to a whisper; his breath came in panting gasps.

A cough shook his lank frame, and Dorkin wiped a fleck of blood from the white lips with a damp cloth.

"Better rest awhile, Daddy," he advised. "Try and sleep, and you can tell me the rest of the story when you wake up."

"Is that the wind I hear?" whispered the trapper.

"Yes."

"An' it's gettin' close and dark outside ain't it?"

"It will be rainin' soon" said the woodsman.

"I'll likely pass out with the storm," panted the man. "I want to go out when the wind is whippin' the trees an' Old Lake Baittibi grits her white teeth, so I'd best finish. There's somethin' I've got t' tell ye, Dorkin.

"We named the baby Willer, 'cause she was so slender and supple jest like a red willer shoot, and the trappers they all called her the Wisp, 'cause she was allers appearin' an' disappearin' at unexpected times. When she was six my woman took swamp fever and died. Arter that, more'n ever, th' gal was jest about life ter me. She was allers jest something I'd prayed fer an' got, an' I've prayed my thanks fer her regular every night o' my life since that day, my thanks t' Gawd fer sendin' her. I've cheated an' stole an' swore an' drank, I have, but allers at night I prayed my little prayer o' thanks, an' what I've got ter tell yer now is that she—"

His weak voice died in a moan. He lay, scarcely breathing, and the man watching thought that all was over; but by and by the heavy eyes opened.

"It's gettin' darker, ain't it?" whispered the old man. "Dorkin—you'll take keer o'—my gal baby?"

Dorkin pressed the chilling hands in answer. Dannie and Willow stole silently into the room and stood close beside the cot, but the trapper's filming eyes looked beyond them. For long slow hours he lay so, scarcely breathing. It was late afternoon when his filming eyes sought those of the watchers about his cot.

"The storm has broke," he whispered; "the firs are bendin' an' creakin'—carry me over to the darkest corner of the cabin an' lay me down there."

Dorkin lifted him gently up and bore him to the far corner of the room.

"Ah," he breathed." We all wanter [illegible] into the dark sometime [illegible] off that skin from the winder. I wanter have the rain splash in on my face— It's growin' [illegible]. I can hear the waves on the beach—I haven't told ye that she— Much obleeged, Gawd— "

Dorkin laid the hand he held softly down and reached through the [illegible] girl.

"He has gone across," he said [illegible]. Then with a convulsive [illegible] he gathered [illegible] him.

Stops Stomach Gas, Prevents Fermentation Aids Digestion

If fermentation of food in the stomach can be prevented, you go a long way towards stopping the most frequent ailment of the day. Looking down on the face of the dead man Dorkin's mind recalled a verse of an old poem he had once read and remembered, as one will remember that which one but vaguely understands; a poem entitled the "Sea-Gull," which an old classmate of his had written:—

"And I'll skim the brine with these wings of mine
And scorn the sheltered shore,
Till I grip the mane on the hurricane,
And flit to the Nevermore.
For my restless soul, like the waves
that roll,
Knows neither home nor rest—
When the tempest sings, let me fold
these wings,
And sleep on the wild sea's breast."

Large Families Going Out of Fashion in Young Province

The province of Saskatchewan, although young and still very much in the pioneer stage, with a mixed population gathering from all quarters of the globe and including hundreds of thousands from Central and Southern Europe, is not doing its duty by the nation, according to statician of the Bureau of Vital Statistics. Large families are going out of fashion, he says, according to his records of 1917 and 1918. Registrations reveal that in the 21,695 families in the province in which a birth was registered in 1918, the average number of children to a family was 3.7. After making allowance for the death rate, the average number is below the standard required to maintain the population, and if immigration should cease, there would be an actual decrease in population.

Pigs in Alfalfa

Thrive on Alfalfa With One-Third Less Grain

While an alfalfa pasture will first make the pig happy it will soon make his owner happy also, for he will find that pigs on alfalfa pasture can be grown into better pigs on one-third less grain than is required where they are fed in a dry lot. Also, home grown grains can be used entirely, thus eliminating the purchase of high-priced concentrates. Other pastures will, of course, serve to some extent the same purpose, but no others combine the same degree of palatability, productivity, and permanency that are found in alfalfa.

Twenty to twenty-five spring pigs can be pastured per acre of alfalfa, from May 15 to September 10 without danger of injury to the alfalfa, and a light cutting of hay be taken off besides in late June.

Wheat Prospects

The Europeans cannot afford to go on buying food for which they cannot pay; no more can they afford to neglect their own fields, where they have the means of self-sustenance. The French expect to harvest almost enough wheat this summer for their needs in the year ahead. The British are busily restoring the exports that assure them their wheat from Canada, Australia and South America. The people of Austria and certain other sections of middle Europe will remain in need, for a time, of the wheat that they have not the means to buy. But the problem of feeding them should diminish little by little. —New York Evening Sun.

Owe Debt to Themselves

Nine-tenths of the public debt of Great Britain is held by men and women of that country. While £400,000,000 must be raised annually in taxes to pay interest and sinking fund requirements, that money goes back to the creditors. In no sense has the foreigner a mortgage on the Motherland.

A Hidden Hand

A great game is being played in Ireland, but the Irish people are not the players, they are merely the pawns in the game. The real players on the Irish side are hidden. They are not in Ireland. This game has gone on for centuries and it will continue just so long as the Irish people will allow their blind hatred of England to make them easy tools for those who are interested in the destruction of England.

Old London Not Crowded

Many journals are featuring stories about the alleged overcrowded state of London, Eng., hotels for the present season. London is certainly full, but information is that with the exception of the swagger places, there is room for the less ambitious visitors, while flats are rentable for a period and are actually slumping. A well-known Canadian traffic manager says real tourists are not as numerous as expected, the majority of the visitors having definite business other than mere sight-seeing.

Nitric Acid from the Air

Private Company Will Take Over Plant in England

England will soon begin to produce in large quantities of ammonia and nitric acid made with the aid of the nitrogen from the air. A large factory for this production begun during the war by the government at Billingham-on-Tees, near Stockton, was completed recently. It will now be transferred to private interests for operation. It is the first factory erected in England for the production of ammonia by this process, which was invented by the Germans, and has since been improved upon by the research chemists attached to the staff of the Ministry of Munitions.

The company which will take over the factory will reimburse the nation for the money already spent and will invest new capital. The whole transaction represents an investment of between $20,000,000 and $25,000,000.

TO SAFEGUARD YOUR DIGESTION

The Blood Should Constantly be Kept Rich and Pure

If you suffer from any form of indigestion, your diet should be carefully chosen. Over-eating is always harmful, but at the same time one must take enough food to supply the needs of the blood. It must be remembered that the blood has to carry nourishment to every part of the body, find fuel for energy and defence against its enemies, as well as the requisite juices for digestion. Hence, when the blood becomes weak and fails to do its work, indigestion arises; also when digestion begins the blood still further suffers. Therefore, to safeguard your digestion the blood should be kept rich and red, and this can best be done by taking a course of Dr. Williams Pink Pills. These pills are a blood-building, nerve-restoring tonic and through their use your digestive system will respond naturally, your appetite will improve and your food will do you good. The value of Dr. Williams Pink Pills in cases of stomach trouble is shown by the experience of Mrs. J. H. Alexander, Barriefield, Ont., who says: "Some years ago I was in a terribly broken down condition. I had indigestion of a severe nature, and sharp pains of agony all through me. My stomach was so weak that it was difficult to retain food, and often after eating I would have vomiting spells. I was under medical treatment, but as I did not improve my nerves were in a terrible condition and I was always in such misery. One day I read of a woman who had been cured of similar trouble through the use of Dr. Williams Pink Pills and I decided to try them. The result can be summed up by saying that after using the pills for some weeks I was completely cured, could eat a hearty meal and was again enjoying life. If I feel run down at any time I take Dr. Williams Pink Pills and always get benefit from them."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Some Sold to Speculators

Will Make a Fat Killing at the Expense of Farmers

The estimate is made that the province of Saskatchewan will secure $32,000,000 more for 1919 wheat from the cashing of the participation certificates at 40c a bushel. Taking western Canada as a whole, the increased return will probably be between $60,000,000 and $70,000,000. It is when we begin to figure on a basis of total wheat marketed, that we appreciate properly the significance of the Wheat Board's achievement. The only unfortunate feature of the situation is that so many farmers listened to those who told them that these certificates were worth little or nothing and sold them at anywhere from 2c to 10c. The consequence is that speculators will make a fat killing at their expense. The farmers have reason to ask to be delivered from their "Friends." — Edmonton Journal.

Santiago is Described As A Chaotic Jumble of Pigments

All Cuban cities offer a motley of tints, says the Century Magazine, but Santiago outdoes them all in the chaotic jumble of pigments. In a single block we found house walls of lavender, sap green, robin's egg maize yellow, sky grey, saffron, deep imperial pink, old rose, light pink, yellow ochre, maroon, tan, vermillion and purple. This jumble of colors, with never two shades of the same degree, give the city a kaleidoscopic brilliancy under the tropical sun that is equally entrancing and trying to the eye.

Miss Olive McClarty of Vancouver arrived the latter part of the week for a vacation with Mrs. Stocks. Since leaving here about three years ago Miss McClarty has been on the staff of Vancouver General Hospital, and has jnst successfully completed two years of her training.

The high school pupils who have been collecting for the Central Europe save-the-children fund have met with very gratifying success. Already $30 has been forwarded the treasurer of the fund, and there is likely to be another substantial installment to go forward by the end of the month.

The cut of slabs and edgings at the Mallandaine mill while it operated on Goat mountain, has been purchased by Truscott Bros., and citizens are notified to consult the purchasers before removing any of the fuel. The Truscott's propose sawing the stuff stoyewood length and marketing it in town.

W. H. Dunn of Kaslo, a deputy registrar of voters for this constituency, paid Creston an official visit the latter part of the week. Judging by the stacks of registration papers that have already been sent in not very many Creston people have neglected to register. Registration closed yesterday.

Capt. Gray of the Salvation Army wishes us to announce that he is away on a vacation trip to the coast and that there will be no Army meetings in the Valley again until early in August. The captain has met with gratifying success in his work at Wynndel and Canyon City, and in future will hold regular services at these two centres as well as Creston.

This week sees the peak of the strawberry season in Creston Valley, and just at present Wynndel is shipping a straight carload almost every day, the fruit going direct to Winnipeg. The crop is holding up well on irrigated areas, but where no water is available the two weeks' hot spell that prevailed up till last Sunday has about ended the season's picking.

Norman Moore of Cranbrook chief forester for East Kootenay, was here on an official visit on Friday. Up till that time the loss from forest fires had been about the lightest on record, with Creston Valley as lucky as any section in his jurisdiction. So far there have been only four fires in these parts—all of which have been caught in time to prevent any serious financial loss.

The quite long dry spell, which culminated with a touch of 92 in the shade on Saturday, was broken Monday morning when the Valley was favored with a thunderstorm which accounted for a rainfall of almost an inch. The wetness will lengthen the strawberry season on unirrigated patches and came just right to keep the raspberries and all other crops moving on good shape. Raspberries, cherries and red currants commenced shipping on Monday at Erickson.

A wedding of interest to Creston people was solemnized at the Methodist parsonage, Cranbrook, on Monday, July 5th, when Miss Jennie Nicholls, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Nicholls of Creston, was united in marriage with H. J. Broley of Fernie. Mrs. Broley has taught at Flagstone for the past two years, and it is there they will make their home. The bride is a visitor with her parents here this week, and is receiving the congratulations of her many friends.

Sunday's championship baseball match between Creston and Nelson at Recreation Park ended in a 6-6 tie at the end of the seventh innings when the game had to be called to allow the visitors to catch the afternoon train for home. The match was the best seen here in years, Creston having a shade the best of the play, and but for reckless baserunning should have won handily. F. V. Staples umpired the game to the satisfaction of all, and there was a fine turnout of spectators to witness the game.

There is no off-season this year for the sale of desirable Creston ranch property. The latest sale is the W. K. Brown ranch of nine acres which Rose & Timmons sold the latter part of the week to Messrs. Scallen and Carlson of Cranbrook, but more recently of Alberta. There is no better appointed ranch in the whole district than the one the newcomers have secured and they are already in possesion. Mr. Brown will move into his town property, next the C. G. Bennet residence.

The Creston Hotel changed hands on Friday last. The new owner is Mrs. Moyer of Cranbrook, who has purchased the building and business outright, and has installed D. Hollinger as manager. At present the house is receiving a thorough renovating throughout, and the bar, which has been closed for several months, has been reopened with a stock of soft drinks, cigars, etc. Mr. Bell, the former lessee, and family have moved into the Muir house on Park Road for the present.

Word that Trennie Long, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Long, has just been placed in charge of the Northern Pacific station at Oakville, Wash., establishes something of a record for getting along at railroad work. Trennie left here in February of last year and up till August was working in a sawmill, but practised telegraphy in the evenings and his other spare time. In August, 1919, he went on as assistant at the station at Montasana, Wash., and on July 1st he was placed in full charge of the depot at Oakville. In addition to his rapid promotion another noteworthy feature is that he has just turned 20 years of age.
