Sirdar

Section foreman Tolerico has improved so far that it has been possible to let Nurse Malone return to Creston. Just now his chief complaint seems to be from a touch of jaundice.

Mr. Lawrie, who has been night operator here for some weeks, has been transferred to Wardner, and along with Mrs. Lawrie left for tdat point on Sunday.

Possibly the first of the season's ploughing in the whole Creston Valley was started on the North ranch at the end of the week.

Rev. H. Varley will be here on Sunday morning for his usual monthly Church of England Sabbath service.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Romano and Chas. Biafore of Creston were week-end visitors here at the Tolerico home.

R. Dennes returned to work at the first of the week, after taking about a month's enforced vacation to get over an attack of the flu. All the flu sufferers are now around as usual with the exception of Mrs. Sid McCabe, who has just recently been laid up with a touch of it.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Cook of Creston were week-end visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Loasby. The latter spent some of his spare time rustling members of the Creston Fifteen Hundred Club, and gathered in about half a dozen applications.

The last of the stone for the soldiers' memorial at Creston is being loaded at the Wilson quarry this week—the C.P.R. car and loading apparatus being supplied on Monday.

Jack Cameron is the first autoist to make the Kuskanook trip this season, as well as trying the Creston trip as as far as Washout. If the road foreman would remove an accumulation of boulders along the road the travelling would be in good shape.

Spring has arrived at Kuskanook, according to Mrs. Jones who was here for the sewing circle meeting on Saturday afternoon. In the ranch garden onions are up almost three inches, and radishes are also showing well above the ground. So promising have been the climate conditions that almost half the garden area has been planted.

The sewing circle had another very largely attended meeting on Saturday afternoon at the schoolhouse, with Mrs. Loasby as tea hostess. A pleasant diversion during the session were the vocal numbers by Mrs. Wilson and Mr. Doble, and a piano solo by Miss Margeory Goodman. The financial intake was above the standard, and at the session announcement was made of a donation of $5 from Mr. Murray toward the Church of England funds.

For the first time in Sirdar's history there has been at least one case of eggs eastbound per day, Messrs. Goodman and North doing the exporting. From all accounts the poultrymen of the town are raising large flocks of ducks and expect to flood the Valley market this season.

Jas. Mannerino came within hailing distance almost of the pearly gates one day last week, his escape from a broken neck being miraculous when a colt, he was attempting to break in, ran away.

F. Volpna of Hillcrest is on the payroll at the Pascuzzo ranch at present, having charge of agricultural operations.

Building operations are quite brisk at present, Messrs. Cam and Whites'des are both employing a number of carpenters.

Due to the coal strike Mrs. Cherbo is expecting Messrs. Frank James and Tony Pelle, her son-in-law, home during the time the miners are off work.

Alice Siding

The Social Club had its fortnightly meeting on Tuesday evening of last week in the Compton packing shed. Dancing was the outstanding feature of the evening, with excellent music supplied by Messrs. Frank West, Garfield and T. Trevelyan, and a much appreciated duett rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Beazer. In appreciation of his services rendered as violinist the club has presented Mr. Trevelyan with a purse of money, which he is using in the purchase of a new instrument.

R. Alderson of Hosmer has just shipped in a carload of fertilizer, which he will put on the acre of his ranch which will be set out to strawberries this year.

Mrs. V. Carr, Miss Alice and Master Bertell were Nelson visitors a few days last week, returning on Sunday.

A. Anderson was a visitor here on Thursday, en route to the coast.

Tony Anderson, who has been visiting his brother, T. M. Anderson, left on Friday for Victoria, with his father.

A surprise party dropped in on Mr. and Mrs. E. Payne on Tuesday evening, in celebration of Mrs. Payne's birthday. Games, dancing, and songs by J. Johnson, and S. Vaness were features of the evening, which was a most enjoyable one throughout.

A club meeting of the Social Club is to be held in the Compton packing shed on Tuesday, April 11th, the proceeds from which will be used to defray the expense of cocoa purchased for the use of Alice Siding school pupils this winter. All come, and have a good time.

Canyon City

Father Bessette of Cranbrook was here the fore part of the week calling on his parishoners.

John Wood now finds that his ranch has develsped to the point where it requires year-round attention, and he will not be returning to Birchbank this season to take charge of the Deschamps saw-mill—a position he has had for the last four years.

The semi-annual meeting of the Water Users' Association will be held at 8 p.m. Saturday, April 8th, in the schoolhouse.

Taken all round the Saturdry night meeting of the United Farmers was quite the most satisfactory yet held. The packing shed committee reported a favorable interview with Creston Fruit Growers' Union officials, who promised to carefully investigate the proposition of their erecting a packing shed for Union shippers at Canyon. In view of this development the community hall proposition will stand in abevance for the present, while Messrs. Olsen, Samuelson, Wood and Kemp were named a special committee to interview Engineer Ramsay as to certain highway improvements in this section. On request of the U.F. head office with a list of the assessments of the members of this local. Before adjournment was taken H. Young gave a short talk on the possibilities of goat raising here.

A most enjoyable concert and dance took place in Canyon City schoolhouse on Friday night in the interests of the piano fund. Without a doubt Canyon City is not dead, and any suggestions to this effect will be stoutly repudiated by those who attended. The varied programme was opened by a pianoforte solo by Mrs. Pochin, and her number was followed by contributions by the following artists: Miss Minnie Strong and H. Young in recitations; Messrs. Bateman and Young, solos; T. Mawson, violin solo; members of the choral society furnished two choruses, and another was given by the members of the senior fourth class; Mrs. Guy Browell and Mr. Guy Browell were heard in a duett; Misses Stella Speaker and Arvilla Cleave appeared in the dialogue, "The Talker," and Mrs. Hickey, and Messrs. VanAckeran and Kolthammer were also responsible for a second dialogue number. The last item on the programme was the play, "Too much of a Good Thing," in which the cast consisted of Mrs. Hickey, Miss Jessie Hickey, Mrs. Guy Browell, Miss Kathleen Clayton, Miss Sadie Wood, Miss Charlotte Speaker and Messrs. Mawson, VanAckeran and Kolthammer. This was very much enjoyed, creating many situations which the audience found extremely interesting and laughable. God Save the King closed this part of the programme, the lunch and dance following, and were equally successful. John Wood officiated as chairman in his usual genial manner, and Fred Browell was in charge of the dance. The proceeds totalled $25.

Lister

A meeting of the settlers was held in the schoolhouse at 8.30, Thursday evening, with T. Milner, chairman of the Settlers' Committee in the chair. Routine business was disposed of, and then came the election of officers for the ensuing year. Walter Wright was chosen as new chairman, and three other members were elected—R. T. Milner, Charles Loder and Jack Conquest. The meeting was largely attended.

An enjoyable party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred R. Webb on Thursday evening last, the event being in honor of Miss Winnifred Webb, just prior to her return to Nelson. Dancing and cards, followed by supper and more dancing, were the evening's features.

W. McLeod is a Nelson visitor this week.

Fried Kunst, who has been looking after one of C. O. Rodgers' farms near Lister, has gone to Boswell, where he will engage in horticultural operations this season.

At the service held in the school house on Sunday morning a baptisimal service was conducted by Rev. G. Knox. The children baptized were the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivor Christensen, and the infant sons of Mr. and Mrs. E. Langston and Mr. Mrs. John Bird. In the afternoon a priyate service was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thompson, when their infant son was christened.

E. L. Langston has just been appointed resident agent for the B.C. Nurseries Company.

A large and enthusiastic crowd turned out on Faiday evening last to hear C. W. Trayes, provincial poultry instructor, give an instructive and educational lecture on the work of his department. The address was most timely, as it dealt with spring work on the poultry and mixed farm, haudling of incubators, clucking hens, brooders and other incubation devices. After the lecture the meeting was thrown open by Fred Powers, who occupied the chair for questioning the speaker. Mr. Traves then went on to explain the egg circle and its work. He supplied the necessary information for the local poultrymen to affiliate with the Nelson branch. So enthusiastic was Mr. Traves over the possibilities of this district for poultry keeping that he is placing before Capt. Rowbury of the Land Settlement Board a scheme for the giving of of financial assistance to those who wish to take up this sort of work. The scheme has been devised after a careful and comprehensive survey of the district and its marketing possibilities, and would assist the men to the extent of the necessary housing and equipment, and a foundation stock of 100 good birds. A hearty vote of thanks was passed Mr. Traves for his talk, the meeting adjourning at 10.30.

FOR SALE—Democrat, strong, shafts or pole, terms if necessary. Also a treadle sewing machine in good condition, cheap. Geo. Davie, Canyon.

FOR SALE—Oak refrigerator, good as new also white enamcled provision cabinet, two shelves, and galvanized ice box. Enquire Review Office.

Baseball Talent Ready for 1922

The best attended session of those interested in sports ever held in Creston was that of Monday night when the the annual meeting of Creston Baseball Club was held in the board of trade rooms, the chair being occupied by A. R. Swanson, in the absence of President French.

While the treasurer's statement showed the club to have closed the season with about a dollar to the good some expenses had been met from the personal funds of the captain, manager and treasurer, all three of whom agreed to donate the club the money they had expended in order to get the organization off to a free-of-debt start this year.

Appreciation of the generosity of Messrs. Telford, Staples and Hayes was shown in a vote of thanks that was heartily approved. The officers elected are:

Hon. President—Col. Lister, M.P.P.
President—A. R. Swanson.
Vice-President—R. B. McLeod.
Secretary—C. F. Hayes.
Treasurer—A. H. Bleumenauer.
Manager—R. B. Staples.
Umpire—F. V. Staples.
Executive—W. R. Long, E. Taylor.

The membership fee was fixed at $2 for adults, and a charge of 50 cents to junior members. If possible the wheeled scraper will be got into action this week putting the diamond into shape, and a meeting is announced for Monday night at which organization of a school baseball club will be completed, and an effort made to come to an arrangement for the use of the grounds by the senior and junior aggregations.

Before adjournment Father Bessette, who was present, gave a trimely ten minute address on good sportmanship that was well received. Judging from the attendance and the enthusiasm manifest prospects for getting a strong team together this year are exceptionally bright, and with a complete playing equipment and uniforms carried over from last year the club gets off to a splendid start.

Wynndel

The Co-Operative Fruit Growers held a meeting in the small schoolhouse on Saturday night, the chief business of which was the ordering of seeds, fertilizer, etc.

T. Dunseth of Jaffray arrived with his car of household effects last Thursday. His wife and family arriving the next day, and are now comfortably settled in their new home.

The United Farmers dance on Saturday night was well attended, and a very lively time was enjoyed by all. Messrs. Carl Carlson and M. Wigen kept things moving in their usual brisk fashion. About $10 was netted for the local.

Saturday, April 22nd, is the date of the big Athletic Club concert. Notices will be out in a day or so, so keep your eyes open for them. About two and a half hours solid amusement at popular prices. Dance afterwards.

Geo. Huscroft, who has been working at Erickson all winter, arrived home on Monday, and is preparing to get busy on his ranch here.

M. Wigen left on Tuesday on a few days' visit to points along Kootenay Lake.

Enoch Williams, who has been working in the mines in the Pass since last fall, arrived home on Sunday.

Messrs. Joy and Foxall have just finished a contract job of putting in a tunnel in the Tyo mine, about two miles west of here.

With the frost coming out of the ground land clearing operations are again in full swing. Rudd's Andestad's, and several others are all very busy shooting stumps, and it looks as though there was going to be a good year for development in Duck Creek.

FOR SALE—3-burner coal oil stove; just what you want for summer cooking. Enquire Review Office.

The Settlers Canada Wants

The figures of the recent census reinforces the fairly well recognized fact that one of Canada's needs is a larger population. With an area larger than that of the United States, with millions of the best agricultural lands in the world, and undeveloped natural resources of wealth beyond all human computation, this Dominion has a population comparable to that of little European countries like Belgium.

Reference has been made to this outstanding Canadian problem on more than one occasion in this column, and while it is not necessary to repeat facts and figures, nor dwell at any great length on all the undoubted advantages which a substantial increase in Canada's population would bring to every man, woman and child now in the country, it may be well to continue urging the necessity for the adoption of a far-seeing, businesslike and aggressive national policy designed to meet Canada's needs in this respect.

Recently two important speeches were delivered in Eastern Canada on this subject, and in both instances commonsense views were expressed and sound advice given. One such address was delivered by Sir Clifford Sifton before the Toronto Board of Trade, and it must be admitted that if there is any man in Canada qualified to speak on the subject of population, and the relation of immigration thereto, it is Sir Clifford Sifton. He has had practical experience in handling the problem, and, while mistakes may have been made under his administration, he certainly succeeded in obtaining results to a greater degree that any other man before or since his regime as Minister of the Interior.

Sir Clifford showed he had little sympathy with many of the pet theories which find acceptance in some quarters these days. There is, in his opinion, but one way to accomplish the desired results, and that is to go after stalwart agricultural settlers, bring them to Canada, and put them on the farms where they can make good. He is absolutely and unalterably opposed to bringing in immigrants by the million without reference to their ability to "make good" on the land. Half a million agricultural settlers of the right type are, in his opinion, worth ten million of other classes. Settlers on the land would establish homes here and would bring about a natural permanent increase in population. Settlers of other classes if brought in would inevitably find their way to the cities, and create new and difficult problems, or would drift to the United States.

The second address to which reference is made was by Professor C. R. Fay, of Toronto University, on the subject "Principles of a Sound Immigration Policy." Like Sir Clifford Sifton he strongly urged a policy of going after and getting settlers of the agricultural labor class. At the same time he argued that good agricultural laborers could be obtained in the Old Country from a wider class than that of the farmers and farm laborers, if they are given the necessary training. He held, therefore, that Canada's immigration policy should provide for the giving of such training, and in this connection instanced the success achieved in so many instances by soldier settlers under the Soldier Settlement Board. He advocated the extension of this policy for the direction of land settlement as a whole.

Professor Fay summed up modern conditions of successful settlement as requiring:

1. Land with reasonable marketing facilities.

2. The right kind of land for the settler and the right kind of crops for the land.

3. Sufficient capital; some settlers might be able to provide the whole for themselves, but assistance in the shape of loans would probably be required in most cases.

The first essential to holding good settlers on the land was the right policy of land settlements. The second was the reconstruction of rural life around various forms of co-operative enterprise. Co-operation means, he said, better business, better farming, and a better country life.

The old policy of bringing settlers into the country and then leaving them to shift for themselves will not do. They must be assisted in establishing themselves and taught as to the methods which make for success in this country. Furthermore, hand in hand with, or rather in advance of, the adoption of an aggressive policy to obtain this type of settlers, there must be action by the Federal Government to ensure to the people, now on the land and to those who will come, adequate markets and marketing facilities to the end that the results of their labor may yield a reasonable profit over costs of production and as a reward for the labor given and the capital invested.

Portraits of Saints Discovered in Rome

Expert Believes the Paintings Were Made from Life

What are believed to be contemporary portraits of St. Peter and St. Paul have been discovered in a hypogeum, or underground structure of the Roman epoch. The belief in their authenticity is shared by the well-known archaeologist, Prof. Lanitani.

The hypogeum was found in the course of excavations for a building of a large garage. It comprises a number of rooms and galleries, a crypt, and a Christian Church with marvellous frescoes of a very early date. The professor believes the portraits were painted from life.

The Prince and Education

Laying a Solid Foundation for Future Government

"Let us keep undimmed our love for learning, for hard work, for discipline and order, and for friendly co-operation." Thus spoke the Prince of Wales to the University youth of India. To understand the point of view of the youth of India, to know their aspirations, to let them have insight into the ideals of the British Empire is good work on the Prince's part. The Prince of Wales by adopting such a wise procedure and chosing his language so aptly is laying a solid foundation for future government. SPRING WEATHER HARD ON BABY

The Canadian spring weather—one day mild and bright; the next raw and blustery is extremely hard on the baby. Conditions are such that the mother cannot take the little one out for the fresh air so much to be desired. He is confined to the house which is so often over-heated and badly ventilated. He catches cold; his little stomach and bowels become disordered and the mother soon has a sick baby to look after. To prevent this an occasional dose of Baby's Own Tablets should be given. They regulate the stomach and bowels, thus preventing or banishing colds, simple fevers, colic or any other of the many minor ailments of childhood. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The United Kingdom Alliance, the foremost temperance organization in the country, declares that there was a decline of 14 1-2 per cent. in the expenditure on alcoholic liquors in 1921, compared with the expenditure thereon in 1920.

England's Crops Smaller

Cultivated Land 781,000 Acres Less Than in 1918

A reduction of 781,000 acres in the cultivated land in England and Wales is shown by Ministry of Agriculture's statistics for 1921. The reduction is figured from the total of 12,399,000 acres in 1918 when the area was greatly increased owing to the food production campaign.

The total acreage sown to wheat in 1921 was 1,976,000 acres, or 101,000 over 1920.

"When I say that I weigh twenty-five pounds more than I did a short time ago it speaks volumes for the merit of Tanlac," said Jos. B. Drake, 430 Belmont Ave., Springfield, Mass.

"The first thing Tanlac did for me was to give me an appetite and tone up my stomach. It wasn't long before I was eating things I hadn't dared touch for years and anyone to see the hearty way I eat now would find it hard to believe that a few weeks ago I was dyspeptic and living on the lightest kind of diet.

"Another good thing Tanlac did for me was to drive the rheumatism almost entirely out of my system. In fact, I can truthfully say it has made me feel like a new man in every way. It certainly is a grand medicine."

NEWS FROM THE OTHER SIDE

Interesting Letter From Woman in South Africa

Johannesburg, South Africa.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weakness and because I felt run down. I tried a lot of medicines before I tried yours. One day I was standing on my stoop when a boy came up to me and handed me one of your little books. I read the book and the next day my husband went to the chemist's and bought me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have taken the medicine ever since and I feel quite strong and well now as I am on the sixth bottle. I have written to my sister and told her all about the wonders it has done for me, and I am quite willing for you to use my name as I can not thank you enough for what it has done for me."—Mrs. W. F. Rush, 128 6th Ave., Mayfair, Fordesburg, Johannesburg, South Africa.

It is this sort of praise of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, given by letter or verbally, one woman to another, that ought to commend this splendid medicine to you.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine for women's ailments (in use nearly fifty years), and the fact that it has helped thousands of other women, should cause you to give it a trial now. It can be safely taken by any woman—young or old.

Amendment To Dominion Elections Act Affecting The Franchise Of Women

Ottawa.—The first private member's motion of the session was carried without division in the House and will entail an amendment to the Dominion Elections Act, affecting the franchise of women. The enfranchisement to the foreign-born woman, naturalized by marriage to a Canadian, was particularly at issue. Under a subsection of the act as it stands, such a woman unless born on the continent of North America must obtain a certificate from a judge before she is entitled to vote.

W. D. Euler (Liberal, North Waterloo), led the discussion. As he has done in previous sessions, Mr. Euler sought an expression of opinion from the House that the sub-section should be struck from the act. He claimed that it had disfranchised thousands. It placed the woman born in France or Belgium in a position inferior to that of the Mexican or American, educated or uneducated, black or white. The sub-section, it was emphasized by Conservatives, was directed against women from Germany and Austria, although Hon. Hugh Guthrie, former solicitor-general, who piloted the act through the House, admitted that the reasons for the clause which existed two or three years ago were not so strong today.

Miss Agnes MacPhail entered the discussion. She held that women wanted equal rights under the franchise. Her remarks, to the amusement of the House, occasioned a reply from ex-Mayor T. L. Church, of Toronto, who informed Miss MacPhail that she did not represent "all the women in this country."

Premier King indicated his approval of the resolution and announced that if it received also the approval of the House, the Government would give effect to it by an amendment to the Dominion Elections Act.

After nearly three hours' discussion, the House gave its approval. The next step will be the submission of the Government amending bill.

I was on a nervous breakdown when a neighbor told me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. This I did, and before I had the second box used I was better and would advise anyone who has nerve trouble to take them."

Basilica of St. Anne Destroyed by Fire

Short Circuit in Electric Wiring Said to be Cause

Quebec.—As a result of the fire which broke out at Ste. Anne de Beaupre only the gaunt ruins of the majestic cathedral which marked the site of the far-famed shrine, where pilgrims have worshipped for more than three centuries, are left standing. While the monastery and the college are also a mass of desolate debris. The monetary loss involved is estimated at $1,200,000, while the insurance carried will probably reach the sum of $500,000.

Although no definite plans have yet been announced by the Redemptorist Fathers, it was stated that as soon as possible work will be started to rebuild the venerable pile and it was said that it would be constructed on a larger and even more imposing scale than the building which has just been destroyed. The cause of the fire is attributed to a short circuit in the electric wiring.

The boots worn by the Life Guards of the British army cost $60 a pair.

Research Work to Counteract Grasshoppers

Looking for Diminution of this Menace in the West

Ottawa.—A diminution of the grasshopper menace in the western provinces during the coming crop season is looked for by the Dominion Department of Agriculture, according to answers given to a question in the House by O. R. Gould (Assiniboia).

Hon. W. R. Motherwell stated that in Manitoba from evidence at hand it was anticipated that grasshoppers would be less in evidence than they were during 1921. In Saskatchewan a further outbreak was expected, but the chief outbreak apparently would be in Alberta in which province there was a heavy egg deposition in 1921, which, it was expected, would result in an important infestation of hoppers in 1922, particularly in the sections immediately north of the main line of the Canadian Northern Railway.

It was the intention of the Government to continue research work with a view to finding means to counteract the damage caused by the grasshoppers, wheat stem saw fly, rust and cut worm.

Further experiments with chlorine gas as an insect destroyer would not be made, as previous experiments with this gas indicated that the remedy was too expensive, Mr. Motherwell added.

Allied Supreme Council Expected To Meet Again In The Near Future

Paris.—The Allied Supreme Council is likely to meet again in the near future, it is believed here, as a result of the German chancellor's refusal of conditions attached by the reparations commission to the moratorium granted Germany on her reparations payments.

The Chancellor's reply will come before the reparations commission first, but that body, lacking the power to take any coercive measures, will again refer the question to the Allies.

Too many complications are involved, it is believed, to permit of an agreement on a plan of action being reached through the Allied diplomatic representatives, and it is thought in the best informed Allied circles that Premier Poincare, therefore, will probably be obliged to consent to a meeting of the supreme council. An exchange of views will take place preparatory to this meeting, which may precede the general Genoa conference.

The French semi-official opinion is that Chancellor Wirth has been obliged to switch his position as did Dr. Simons before him, in order to maintain his majority, and that he has become thoroughly committed to resistance to the Allies.

To Represent Canada at Rome

W. A. Wilson, of Regina, Will Attend Meeting of World Agriculturists

Regina, Sask.—W. A. Wilson, general manager of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Creameries, has been appointed one of two delegates to represent Canada at the forthcoming conference of world agriculturists to be held in Rome, Italy.

The appointment of the two delegates is made by the Dominion Government, and Mr. Wilson has just received advice of his appointment. He will leave here about April 15 en route to the sunny south, to take part in this most important conference.

One of the most important questions likely to be discussed at this session of the conference will be the advisability or organizing a wheat pool which will be able to exercise some kind of control on the prices of the world markets.

Mr. Wilson was formerly dairy commissioner for the Government of Saskatchewan.

Secondhand Store in connection with business

An unintentional but none the less eloquent argument in favor of a Government liquor store at Kaslo is furnished in a news paragraph in last week's Kootenaian that points out that "Kootenay Lake is lower now than has ever been known to be by white men." As no mention was made of a low lake level during the late fall the inference is that during the winrer Kaslo residents have depleted the waters to a greater extent than has ever been noted since the memory of the white race runneth not to contrary. And if the water habit caught on so tremendously during the exceeding cold winter the town has just experienced what is going to happen when the natives resume bathing and quench the many parched tongues in the usually hot summers. Both in the interests of navigation as well as internal irrigation the liquor store seems quite an absolute necessity at Kaslo.

The education department has recently announced quite a drastic change in the general conduct of the midsummer Entrance examinations. The outstanding feature of the new regulations is that in future scholars will have to make 60 per cent. of the total marks obtainable in order to secure promotion Hitherto 50 per cent. was all that was required. However, from now on there will be less papers to write upon, and on the subjects that have been dropped principals will have to certify that pupils have shown the necessary proficiency. Inspectors on their visits will give special attention to testing out prospective candidates on the unwritten subjects. Written tests are to be made on arithmetic, grammar and composition, spelling, dictation, writing, geography and drawing. The minister of education greatly approves of the change asserting that these subjects do not lend themselves to the "cramming" process. In Vancouver, particularly, there is considerable outcry at the new order of things, principals claiming that on an average not more than 30 per cent. of the pupils will be successful.

A social fixture that should have the fullest possible patronage of residents of the Valley is the Agricultural Association whist and dance on Easter Monday evening, April 17th. Not quite four years ago the directors acquired the five-acre town park and immediately erected a commodious main building on it. While the fair grounds were purchased at a remarkably fine price and on satisfactory terms, those who can recall building prices of 1919 will at once realize the spacious structure that has been erected was quite a costly affair. That the fair officials have so far been able to take care of the usual exhibition running expenses and pay off all indebtedness on the building with the exception of about $250 will convince that the exhibition management has been all that could be desired. The anxiety at this time to get out from in under the debt on the building is due to the fact that this year the association starts to make payments on the principal sum involved in the purchase of the five-acre fair grounds property—up till the present only the interest payment was required under the terms of the grounds purchase. Rid of the debt on the building the directors will have trouble enough financing the fair for the next five years. In view of the generally admitted all round value of the fall fair to the Valley those in charge of the exhibition anticipate a very large turnout on the 17th—and certainly the cause and the line of entertainment that will be dispensed fully justifies the confidence manifested.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Public Health Nurse Affairs

EDITOR REVIEW:

SIR,—The attention of the executive of the local Red Cross Branch has been drawn to letter in your last issue on the subject of Red Cross Public Health nurses. There is one paragraph in that letter that needs a little explanotion. This refers to the local branch being "expected to provide comfortable quarters and adequate transportation facilities" for the nurse.

Last year the transportation charges were paid by the Red Cross Society headquarters and, naturally, we had concluded that it would do the same this year. Not having been told anything to the contrary, but when the nurse had been with us a few weeks we received from headquarters a copy of the new regulations in which it was stated that the local branch was expected to bear transportation charges.

Had the committee been advised of these altered conditions before asking for another nurse to be sent here at the end of last year, they would probably have not sent in their application for one, knowing that in such a wide district it would be too heavy a charge on the local branch.

The committee did their best to overcome this difficulty but it was found impossible when they realized that the nurse considered it her duty to visit all the schools between Kingsgate and Boswell.

The local Red Cross branch comprises about 200 members whose annual membership subscription expires, in most cases, this next June. But the $200 thus collected last June was all forwarded to Red Cross headquarters at Vancouver, none of it being kept in the Valley.

At the end of last year the district was canvassed for funds for the community's share of the nurse's salary for six months ($150), and a little more than the required amount was collected, but this small surplus is quite inadequate for any but this small surplus is quite inadequate for any but the small current expenses.

As regards living quarters the new regulations previously referred to read "the local branch shall arrange for comfortable living conditions" which is not the same as "provide for," and is not intended to imply a charge on the local branch.

J. C. HAMILTON
Red Cross Secretary.

The program will be the richest ever offered by Chautauqua in Creston, and our citizens will be given an opportunity of hearing the best talent obtainable in Canada and England by the Chautauqua people.

Local and Personal

A public meeting of all interested is called for Thursday night, April 13th at 8 o'clock, in Speers' Hall, to decide whether to apply for another Red Cross Public Health nurse to replace Mrs. Lucas, who returned to the coast on Thursday last.

J. D. Moore of Kaslo, road superintendent, was here the latter part of the week looking over the new bridge operations. Foreman Johnson reports that even at this date it is necessary to blow holes through almost two feet of frost in order to get a start at pile driving.

WARNING—Will the party who broke into the house on the Bainbridge ranch and carried off two double windows kindly return these to the house from which they were stolen, and pay for this notice ($1), they will save themselves serious trouble.—Jas. Davis, Creston.

Auctioneer Rose was most persuasive at the sale of household effects of N. Schade on Friday last, which was largely attended, and exceptionally high prices obtained on most everything exposed for sale. Although credit was available the sale was ninety per cent. spot cash.

At the baseball club meeting on Monday night A. R. Swanson was selected as president for 1922, and all arrangements completed for the coming season for the seniors and intermediates. On Monday night a meeting will be held to organize the junior baseball club and arrange the season's operations.

The band and assisting talent have been busy most every night this week with rehearsals of the different numbers that will be presented at the band's variety concert in the Grand to-night. A splendid array of popular numbers has been arranged and at 50 cents admission the affair should draw a packed house.

Everything points to Easter Monday night's whist and dance being the finest entertainment of the sort ever put on in Creston. Cards will start prompt at 8.30 and will end in ample time to have supper over and dancing under way shortly after 11. The affair is for fall fair benefit and the admission charge is 75 cents.

Arrangements were completed last week whereby the Staples Fruit Co., Ltd., take charge of the whole of the Speers' store building, and in this issue will be found notice of the new scale of charges for the rent of the hall. Part of the west half of the building is being fixed up as a permanent office for Horticulturist Twigg.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Schade and family, along with Mr. and Mrs. Clark Moore, left on Sunday for Rosthern, Sask., where they will resume prairie farming operations. Mr. Schade purchased part of the old Griffin ranch about two years ago, selling it twelve months later to Mr. Kleist. He was a splendid type of rancher citizen and his departure from the Valley is regretted.

About ten delegates from the Liberal Associations at Kaslo and other north end points will be here to-day for a re-organization meeting of the Kaslo Riding Liberal Association, and for the discussion of other matters affecting the party throughout the entire riding. The visitors will be entertained at dinner at the Creston Hotel and will attend the band concert in the evening.

Organization was completed last week of the Creston Catholic Club in connection with Holy Cross Church work. The president is Mrs. J. E. Hayden, with Mrs. D. S. Timmons, vice president, and Miss A. Doyle is secretary treasurer. The functions of the club will be mostly social and after Easter the intention is to give a series of card parties at which prizes will be given, concluding with a final evening at which special prizes will be given to the four making the best showing in points on the series.

Six well-known residents of Laird, Sask., are this week added to the population of Creston in the arrival on Monday of Mr. and Mrs. Lantz, who for the present are occupying one of F. H. Jackson's houses; Mr. and Mrs. A. Kleist, who are stopping with their son, K. Kleist on the Griffin ranch; and Mr. and Mrs. John Berg, and son, who are occupying the Nickel (Compton) residence on Victoria Avenue—Mr. and Mrs. Berg being Mrs. Nickel's parents. Between them they have two carloads of effects, including quite a flock of purebred poultry.

R.W. Bro. A. L. Walker of Fernie, D.D.G.M. paid Creston Masonic Lodge an official visit on Wednesday night, and was greeted with a banner turnout of members and visiting brethren. W.M. Bro. H. Young and his officers very creditably conferred the first degree on a couple of candidates, and was warmly complimented by the district deputy on the efficiency displayed. After lodge closed an informal banquet followed at which the spread of good things to eat and the oratiry was of an exceptionally high order. The district deputy was accompanied by Dr. Corsan of Fernie, who was British Columbia Masonic Grand Master in 1918.

Water in Kootenay Lake is reported to be the lowest at the present time that any white has ever known.

Kaslo has not yet been able to secure a resident physician to replace Dr. Read, who was drowned about a month ago. Dr. Major of Proctor is looking after the town's medical needs in the interim.

ROBERT J. C. STEAD

"I heard him say something about Mr. Harris losing all his money that night, in the old shanty up the river road. 'Strange things have happened up there, Riles,' he said. That made me suspicious, and I hurried back to the ranch, determined to follow them. I found that my revolver had been taken. I armed myself as best I could, and set out. When I came near the building which Gardiner had mentioned I dismounted and approached it carefully. It was very dark. Suddenly I was attacked from behind. A sack was thrown over my head, and I was overpowered and bound. I don't know how long I was kept in that condition, but when at last the sack was removed I was in the presence of Sergeant Grey."

With the progress of Travers' narrative all eyes had turned to Gardiner, but, whatever his inward emotions, he outwardly showed no signs of discomfiture. "This seems to be a day of strange tales," he said to the coroner, "and the last we have heard is stranger than the first. Of course, it is quite absurd on the face of it. The suggestion that I would be a party to robbing Mr. Harris of twenty thousand dollars, and so balk a transaction in which I stood to make a profit of more than twice that amount, is too ridiculous for discussion. I didn't say so before, because it didn't seem to bear on the case, but I have at home a telegram which I received a few days ago from the New York investors, offering me a personal commission of twenty per cent. on the transaction if I was able to get this property for them at the price they had offered. So, from a purely selfish point of view, you see where my interests lay. But there are other reasons for this fine tale which you have just heard. To spare the feelings of some present, I intended to say nothing of them, but if I must tell what I know, why, I must tell what I know. This man Travers was a farm hand working for Harris on his farm back in Manitoba. Harris is—or was—well-to-do, and Travers accordingly mustered up an attachment for his daughter. This the young lady, it seems, was foolish enough to return. They——"

"That'll do, Gardiner," interrupted Travers, in a quiet, vibrant voice. "You are getting away from the subject."

"On the contrary, I'm getting close to the subject—a little too close for your comfort, it seems."

"I am not investigating any family closets," said the coroner. "You will have to show the connection between these matters and the inquiry we are making."

"I will do that in a moment, sir," Gardiner returned. "But I cannot show the connection until I have shown the events that are connected. Travers had trouble with Harris and had a fight with Allan. Then he and the young lady ran away. They have both been in this part of the country for some time. But Travers' plan to inherit the Harris property was upset on account of the girl quarrelling with her parents, and his ardour seems to have cooled off noticeably. But he was as keen for the property as ever. Riles was a weakling in the hands of a man like Travers, and no doubt he betrayed the fact that Harris was taking his money with him into the hills. Then the two of them framed up the plan which has resulted in the death of one and the arrest of the other."

During these exchanges the sympathies of the jurors seemed to veer from side to side. The theories propounded were so contradictory that opinions wavered with each sentence of evidence. But a new bolt was ready for the shooting.

"Mr. Coroner," said Beulah, rising and pointing at Gardiner, "will you make that man take his gauntlets off?"

There seemed an instant recession of the blood from Gardiner's face. But it was for the instant only. "My hat is off," he said, with a smile. "Is not that sufficient?"

"Make him take them off!" Beulah insisted.

"There is no rule against wearing gauntlets in a coroner's court," said the coroner. "I do not see the point of your objection."

"Make him take them off," said Beulah.

"As the young lady insists," said the coroner, turning to Gardiner, "I suggest that you comply with her request."

"I should be glad to," said Gardiner, "but the fact is I have a sore hand. When I was giving the horse medicine the night Travers left me alone the brute nipped me a little, and I have been keeping it covered up since."

"Mak him take them off," said Beulah.

"Make him take them off," said Beusaid the coroner. "Surely it makes no difference——"

"Only this difference. You have heard my father's evidence of the fight in the old house. The man with whom he fought will have tooth-marks in his hand. Make him take them off. Or if you won't—look at these hands." She seized Jim's hands in hers and held them up before the coroner and the jury. "Any tooth-marks there? Now make this other man show his."

For a moment all eyes were on Travers' hands. In that moment Gardiner rushed for the open window, and in another instant would have been through it, had not the quick arm of the policeman intercepted.

"Not so fast, my man," said Grey. "Now we will see this horse-bite of yours." Gardiner made no further resistance, and he drew the glove from his hand. There was a fresh scar on the right thumb.

The coroner examined it carefully. When he spoke it was in the voice of a judge delivering sentence. "That is not a horse-bite," he said. "Those are the marks of human teeth!"

Gardiner smiled a faint smile. "Well, what are you going to do about it?" he said.

"We are going to put you in Travers' place and tender him our apologies," said the coroner.

"Very good," said Gardiner. "And do I marry the girl?"

"This is no time for levity," said the coroner, sternly. "You have escaped a murder charge only by grace of this young man's excellent constitution."

But Travers had crowded into the centre of the circle. "Gardiner," he said, "if you weren't under arrest I'd thrash you here and now. But you can at least do something to square yourself. Where is that money?"

"That's right, Jim. Everyone thinks of what is nearest his heart."

"You scoundrel! You know why it is near my heart. You have robbed Mr. Harris of all that he had spent his whole life for. You will have no chance to use that money yourself. You are sure of your living for the next twenty years. Why not show that you are not all bad—that you have some human sentiments in you? It seems as little as you can do."

"There may be something in what you say," said Gardiner. "I have a slip of paper here with the key to the secret."

He reached with his finger and thumb in his vest pocket and drew out a small folded paper. This he unfolded very slowly and deliberately before the eyes of the onlookers. It contained a small quantity of white powder. Before any hand could reach him he had thrown his head back and swallowed it.

"Too late!" he cried, as Grey snatched the empty paper from his fingers. "Too late! Well, I guess I beat you all out, eh? And, as I said before, what are you going to do about it? Twenty years, eh, Jim? You'll be scawny and rheumatic by that time, and the beautiful Beulah will be fat and figureless. Twenty years for you, Jim, but twenty minutes for me—and I wouldn't trade with you, damn you! I beg the pardon of the ladies present. One should never forget to be a gentleman, even when—when——"

But Gardiner's breath was beginning to come fast, and he raised his hands to his throat. A choking spell seized him, and he would have fallen had not the policeman and the coroner held him on his feet. "Let me lie down," he said, when he got his breath. "Let me lie down, can't you? Have I got to die on end, like a murderer?"

They led him to the adjoining room, where he fell upon the bed. The muscles of his great arms and neck were working in contortions, and his tongue seemed to fill his mouth.

"Most extraordinary," said the coroner. "Strychnine, doubtless. We can't do much for him, I'm afraid. We might try some mustard and hot water, Mrs. Arthurs."

"Take your time, Lil," whispered Arthurs. "You may save your country a long board bill." But Lilian Arthurs' abhorrence of Gardiner's perfidy had been overwhelmed in a wave of sympathy for a suffering fellow-being. She hurried to the kitchen, while the men of the party filed down the stairs and out into the yard. John Harris was the last to leave the house; and he walked slowly, with bare, bowed head, into the group who were excitedly discussing the amazing turn events had taken. He took no part in their conversation, but stood a little apart, plunged deep in his own inward struggle.

At last he turned and called his wife in the kitchen door. "Bring Beulah," he said.

The two women joined him. At first Harris stood with face averted, but in a moment he spoke in a clear, quiet voice.

Somewhat Entangled Legacies that Were Left Behind

"To my beloved wife I leave my house with its first and second mortgages.

"To my beloved son I leave my automobile and the privilege of making the rest of the 'easy payments.'

"To my daughter I give and bequeath my player piano, on which there is only a matter of $220 to pay.

"To my old friend Jones I leave my phonograph and cabinet, in which I have $15 equity, he to assume the contract.

"To my friend Smith I leave my sets of Dickens, Balzac and the Bug-lovers' Nature Liberary, amounting all in all to a trifling, on his part, expense of $6 a month until paid."

The Kidneys

The office man and the outdoor worker suffer alike from derangements of the kidneys.

Backaches and headaches are among the symptoms. In some cases Bright's disease soon develops, others suffer from high blood pressure until hardening of the arteries sets in.

In order to forestall painful and fatal diseases prompt action should be taken at the first sign of trouble.

Mr. A. D. MacKinnon, Kirkwood, Inverness county, N.S., writes:

"I can highly recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to all suffering from weak kidneys. I suffered from kidney disease for a long time. I may also say that for three years I was nearly always troubled with headaches, and no treatment seemed to do more than afford temporary relief. I was finally told of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and after using a few boxes was completely relieved. I have also used Dr. Chase's Ointment with the best results, and never fail to recommend these wonderful remedies."

Electricity in Switzerland

Nowhere else in the world is electricity power so generally used as in Switzerland. In the small town of Lucerne, with only 40,000 inhabitants, to take one example, only twenty small houses are without electric light. There are seven electric bakehouses, 1,000 electric motors, 3,500 electric stoves for heating, 2,000 electric cooking stoves and over 5,000 electric irons in use among the inhabitants.

A GOOD MEDICINE FOR THE SPRINGTIME

Do Not Use Harsh Purgatives—A Tonic is All You Need

Not sick—but not feeling quite well. That is the way most people feel in the spring. Easily tired, appetite fickle, sometimes headaches and a feeling of depression. Pimples or eruptions may appear on the skin, or there may be twinges of rheumatism or neuralgia. Any of these indicate that the blood is out of order—that the indoor life of winter has left its mark upon you and may easily develop into more serious trouble.

Do not dose yourself with purgatives, as so many people do, in the hope that you can put your blood right. Purgatives gallop through the system and weaken instead of giving strength. Any doctor will tell you this is true. What you need in the spring is a tonic that will enrich the blood and build up the nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do this speedily, safely and surely. Every dose of this medicine helps to enrich the blood which clears the skin, strengthens the appetite and makes tired, depressed men, women and children bright, active and strong. Miss S. L. McEachron, Nairn P.O., N.B., says: "I have been in the habit of taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the spring and they keep me in the best of health. I think it is entirely due to the use of these pills that I always have such good health."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Boy Who Started to Town With a Hundred Dollars

The advice they gave him for getting on in the world was simple and familiar enough: "Keep what you have, and build on it. Be careful what you do and it will grow into more."

It's a safe rule—with money or health, but a good many overlook the rule with health, until they have lost what they had. Then it's hard to get a new supply.

Postum is a splendid help in saving health from the very common losses through the drug elements of tea and coffee—whose effects on the nervous system any doctor can tell you.

Thousands of people who think it wise to be as careful of their health as they are of their dollars are users of Postum. They find this famous cereal beverage a delightful drink with any meal, and it's free from any disturbing element.

You can begin with Postum today, with an order to your grocer. The road to health is a good road for anybody to follow. "Save what you have, and build on it," is sound policy for everybody.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes. Sold by all grocers.

Very chic is this dress and one that will be found to meet the general needs of milady. It can be worn to business or as a sport dress, and is a very practical model for the spring and early summer. The capelike back adds materially to its smartness. It is of black, with Roman stripes. The hat, which is of black straw, is adorned with black quills.

Mexico rope-soled shoes are now sold in England, and for dry weather wear they are said to be cool and comfortable.

There is nothing repulsive in Miller's Worm Powders, and they are as pleasant to take as sugar, so that few children will refuse them. In some cases they cause vomiting through their action in an unsound stomach, but this is only a manifestation of their cleansing power, no indication that they are hurtful. They can be thoroughly depended upon to clear worms from the system.

New Variety of Wheat

Oregon Man Evolves Wheat With Smut-Rust Resistance

Wheat, totally resistant to smut or rust, heretofore unknown to plant pathologists, has been evolved, as a result of experiments conducted at the Government Experimental Station in Oregon, by B. E. Stephens, superintendent, and his assistants. He has succeeded in producing four distinct varieties of wheat that are completely immune from smut, he said. From these, he has brought forth a number of hybrid varieties of great promise, by crossing his smut-resisting wheats with some of the most productive of the present varieties grown.

They were cases where a person had sustained some slight injury—a cut, a burn, a wire-prick—and where the wound, being thought not serious enough for careful treatment, had been neglected. Blood-poisoning and death resulted.

Capt. and Mrs. Crompton and son, Frank, left on Sunday to spend an extended visit at the captain's former home in England, his mother's health being in a very precarious condition. They will be away at least six months.
