Bradley Heads Farmers Institute

Fruit Committee Pressing for Acts that will Give Growers Direct Opportunity to Name MembersCommittee Direction

Retiring President D. Bradley was in charge of the annual meeting of Creston Farmers' Institute on Tuesday night last which was well attended considering the severity of the weather. The Institute is very little more than four months old, but the several reports submitted indicated that the organization had been active along several lines.

The Institute has shown a live interest in the fruit marketing problem, and a splendid report in this connection was given by W. H. Hilton, chairman of the Institute's fruit committee, which amongst other things revealed the fact that the institute had financed the second meeting of the local B.C.F.G.A. in order to provide an opportunity for a complete expression of local opinion on the marketing problem for the guidance of Creston's representatives at the B.C.F.G.A. annual meeting this month.

As this meeting did not fulfil the purpose for which it was called the committee submitted a letter covering the situation, which the meeting endorsed and authorized being forwarded Premier Tolmie, and along with the letter will go a copy of the resolution favored by the Institute to secure control of the Growers and Shippers Federation which elects the members of the provincial Committee of Direction. In addition to the B.C. premier copies of the letter will forwarded all the other institutes and other likely organizations.

The board of directors elected consists of Don. Bradley, W. H. Hilton, K. E Paulson, Geo. Nickel and Emil Johnson, and these have since met and re-elected Don. Bradley, president, with Chas. Murrell, secretary.

There was also some discussion on the situation of Kootenay Flats and it was agreed that no grant of land should be made before reclamation. Likewise it was felt that all residents should have the right to obtain any land they wanted at a reasonable price, if reclaimed. This matter was left to the directors.

Wynndel

Oscar Ofner was combining business with pleasure on a visit at Cranbrook last week.

Ice cutting started on Monday for the Co-Operative Fruit Growers Association. Blocks about 13 inches are being harvested.

The January meeting of the Women's Institute was held on Thursday last, at which it was decided to purchase and equip a first aid kit for Wynndel school. Arrangement were made for a whist drive and dance on St. Valentine's Day. Further announcement later.

Mr. Botts returned home last week, after a two months visit at points in Louisana, U.S.A.

Rev. A. Garlick of Creston was here on Sunday for Anglican Church service. After service the annual congregational meeting was held. Officers for 1930 are: Acting rector's warden, A. E. Towson; acting people's warden, H. F. Packman. Church wardens—Mrs. R. Andestad, W. Towson and Mrs. Davidge. Secretary-treasurer, A. E. Towson.

Alice Siding

The severe weather that prevails is keeping down the school attendance at Alice Siding. On Friday the total turnout was only eight.

Miss Gladys Stewart left a few days ago for Trail, where she is expecting to remain for the next few months.

Mrs. McDougall has returned from quite an extended stay at Yahk, and is a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kelly.

The cold weather is creating a heavy demand for feed, and the hay-stacks on the flats are fast disappearing.

The ice harvest is in full swing at Carr's Point and a very fine sample of the frozen fluid is being harvested. It is about 18 inches thick.

Four tables of players were out for the Whist Club meeting on Friday night at which Mrs Willis was hostess, and the high scores were made by Mrs. Brubacker and a Mr. Kelly, who is at present occupyinf the old Beazer place. This week the club meets at Mrs. Brubacher's.

Curlers Choose Skips for Season

Fight Rinks Playing the Roarin' Game this Season—Lighting of Rink Excellent—Cup Play is Going Strong in First Round.

Creston curlers will this season operate on the always ideal schedule of one draw a night and a game every other evening, play to start at 7.30 and go twelve ends. This very desirable change is made possible due the fact that only enough active players for eight rinks have paid the $10 membership fee.

Play got under way on Wednesday of last week, with the first draws in the regulation President vs. Vice-President contest, the winner of which is entitled to hold the Dr. Henderson cup, donated last year for this this time-honored classic. Those who will play this year are:

J. W. Craig, skip—Fred Hale, Sam Steenstrup, Reg. Watson.

M. J. Boyd, skip—R. Chandler, M. J. Beninger, Mr. Wheeler.

A. L. Palmer, skip—Dr. Henderson, G. H. Kelly, C. W. Allan.

Dolf Weir, skip—H. W. McLaren, Dr. McKenzie, C. B. Twigg.

M. R. Joyce, skip—C. H. Hare, R. J. Forbes, C. F. Hayes.

T. W. Bundy, skip—R. M. Telford, E. Cartwright, L. Littlejohn.

Spares—H. S. McCreath, Col. Malandaine.

In addition to the Henderson trophy, there will also be play for the cups donated by ex-President W. Fraser and the Imperial Bank—the latter for rinks on which all the players are moved up, and the skip plays lead.

President M. J. Boyd has devoted a whole lot of his time in directing effort to get the rink in shape, and the executive are to be congratulated in incurring some considerable expense in having the rink electric lighted from the C. O. Rodgers plant.

In the old days when the rink was illuminated from the rink's own gasoline engine generated "juice" it was only possible to have a string of lights down centre of the building. Under the new lighting system there is a string of globes down the centre of each ice which helps the skip a whole lot in figuring just how the rocks are coming down the ice.

It is expected the season windup will be the same as last year when a most successful bridge was given and at the conclusion of card play the various trophies were presented by the rink officials.

Why Dutch Are Sturdy

Start Day With Breakfast Of Many Courses

A Dutch breakfast is like no other meal in the world. There are, to start with, at least seven kinds of bread, plain white bread, ginger bread, plain buns, buns with raisins, brown bread, toasted biscuits, sweet cakes and a kind of fruit cake. You will find at least three or four kinds of meat, could sliced veal, roast beef, ham and sausages.

Then, if you dont see it all at once, you smell the cheese, two or three of the Dutch specialties, including limburger and Edam. There are several dishes piled with boiled eggs, and, of course, there are jams and honey and seasonable fruits. The climax is a pot of steaming coffee, not the insipid beverage of the rest of Europe, but the real thing from the Dutch colonies.

Ask Reduction Of Income Tax

Canadian Chamber Of Commerce Submits Some Important Questions To Federal Cabinet

The views of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce on a number of important national questions were submitted to Prime Minister Mackenzie King and members of the Dominion Cabinet, at Ottawa, recently.

Headed by Col. J. H. Woods, of Calgary, president of the chamber, a deputation waited upon the prime minister and his colleagues and presented a memorandum based on resolutions passed and subjects discussed at the Calgary meeting of the chamber last summer.

Such important matters as the construction of the St. Lawrence waterways; reduction of the income and sales taxes; seasonal unemployment; development of the Peace River country; construction of a national highway; inquiry into complaints of the fruit and vegetable industries; development of Empire trade, etc., were touched upon in the memorandum submitted.

In connection with the suggestion of the deputation for the further reduction of the income and sales taxes as when warranted by the Dominion's finances, and the avoidance of duplicatory taxation," Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Finance, made a few comments. He pointed out that the federal income tax was a war measure, and that the Dominion still required money to pay war obligations.

Suggestions had been made by some of the provinces that the Dominion abandon the income tax. But, said Mr. Dunning, the Dominion could not do without this tax. Another suggestion had been made by certain provinces, however. That was that the field be divided between the Dominion and Provinces. The Dominion, for instance, might retain business income taxation and leave personal income taxation to the provinces. Without making any promises, Mr. Dunning asked the deputation to think over the situation with these suggestions in mind.

B.C. Pilchard Industry

Now One Of the Most Important Branches Of Province's Fisheries

Starting with the very small beginning of one plant and a catch of 500 tons in 1925, the pilchard industry of British Columbia has assumed very large proportions and during the present year there were 23 plants in operation handling a total catch of 80,000 tons, making the industry one of the most important branches of B.C. fisheries. The product of the pilchard oil and meal this season is valued at $1,750,000, most of the oil going to the United States where it is used largely in the soap industry, while the meal is shipped to Germany, Japan and the United States.

Predicts League Will Encircle World

General Smuts Says All Nations Will Eventually Join

In not more than ten years the whole human race including Russia will be represented at the council table of the League of Nations. This was the prediction of General Jan Christian Sumts, South African statesman, speaking at a dinner in New York, arranged as a part of the celebrations in the U.S. for the tenth anniversary of the founding of the league.

"It would be a very serious and a very tragic thing," said General Smuts, "if when all the nations of the world gather there, the seat of the founder and inspirer should remain vacant."

In this and other references he paid tribute to the late President Wilson as one of the main forces in bringing the league into existence. The United States, he pointed out, was bound to enter into international conferences whether within or without the league. The pact of Paris required. In this way the method of conference for disposing of international disputes would become universal and once this came about peace would be guaranteed without fail.

STANDARDS OF THE KINGDOM

Golden Text: "Blessed are the pure in heart; for they shall see God." —Matthew 5.8.

Lesson: Matthew 5.1-48.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 24.1-6.

Explanations and Comments

The Scene, verses 1, 2.—Jewish rabbis usually sat while teaching, and Jesus followed the custom. Surrounded by His disciples, the Twelve and also others, He "opened His mouth and taught them," in Matthew's Hebraic statement—a solemn way of introducing words of great importance.

Receipts For Blessedness, verses 3-10.—Blessed: with this word each of these verses begins. We call them the Beatitudes, from "Beati," Blessed, the word with which they begin in the Latin version. Blessedness is higher than happiness. Happiness may seem to depend on circumstances; blessedness always depends upon relationship with God. "Blessedness is an infinitely higher and better thing than mere happiness," says a note in Weymouth's New Testament. "People who are blessed may outwardly be much pitied, but from the higher and truer standpoint they are to be admired, envied, congratulated and imitated."

And who are the blessed? The poor in spirit, said Jesus. Poor in spirit is in no sense poor-spirited; rather is it the truest manliness. The poor in spirit are the humble-minded, who are conscious of their need of God, those who in Dr. George D. Boardman's words, "conscious, it may be, of great spiritual capacities, are at the same time conscious of great spiritual incompleteness, and therefore kneel at Heaven's gate for Heaven's supplies." Luke's version gives only "Blessed are ye poor," and a writer in the Expository Times explains that the two statements are one and the same, for "the poor" was a recognized term among the Jews for those who had dedicated themselves to the service of God. They were, for the most part, literally poor in this world's goods, but they possessed God, and having Him they had attained blessedness. Blessedness depends not upon what one possesses, but upon what one is.

For theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven. Notice that each Beatitude gives the reason. There are many definitions of the Kingdom of Heaven, or Kingdom of God. As it is used here we may think of it as having for its members the followers of Christ, who obey His teachings and seek to further His ideals. The Sermon on the Mount, which has been called "The Constitution of the Kingdom of God," contains a generous portion of His great teachings.

WINDOLITE The Improved Glass Substitute

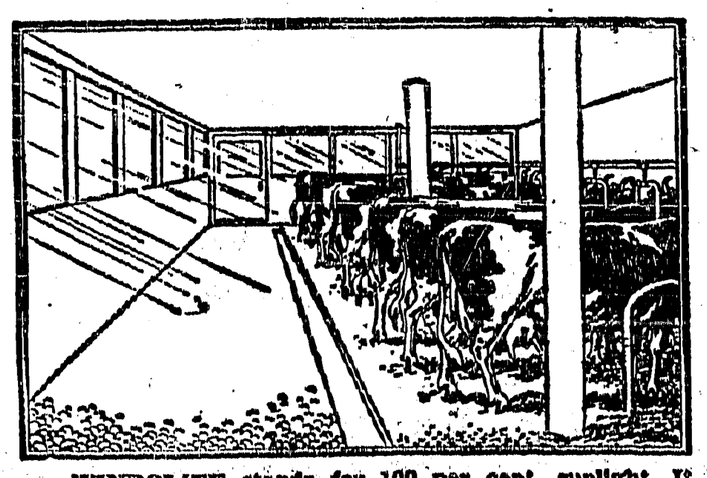
MADE IN ENGLAND



COMES WITH A MESSAGE OF HEALTH

THE sun is the all-powerful life producer. Nature's universal disinfectant and germ destroyer, as well as stimulant and tonic. WINDOLITE is the sun's most important ally.

Medical research has definitely proved that from the point of view of Health and Hygiene, the most effective among the sun's rays are the Ultra-Violet rays, which possess the greatest power for the prevention and cure of disease and debility.

Science has further established that ordinary window glass does not allow the passage of Ultra-Violet rays, so that by using glass we are artificially excluding these vital health-giving rays. Therefore, the invention of WINDOLITE has completely satisfied the long-felt want. Exhaustive experiments have conclusively proved that it is a most effective substitute for glass, that it freely admits the Ultra-Violet rays, and that its use has a most beneficial effect on the growth and development of plants and chickens and on the well-being of cattle, enabled for the first time to have healthy light instead of darkness in their sheds.

Indeed, the discovery of WINDOLITE has during the last six years completely revolutionized gardening, given a new stimulus to poultry breeding, increasing the egg-laying capacity and fertility of chickens, has greatly improved the health of cattle and is now being used in domestic and household requirements.

WINDOLITE stands for 100 per cent. sunlight. It makes light but strong windows for cattle sheds, dairy stables, poultry houses, brooders and all out buildings. It is economical, unbreakable, flexible and is easy to cut and fit. It is now being successfully used for sunrooms, verandahs, schools, factories, hospitals, sanitariums, hot beds, plant coverings and greenhouses. It keeps out cold—will not crack or chip,—cuts with an ordinary pair of scissors and is easy to fit. WINDOLITE is supplied in rolls any length but in one width of 36 inches only. A square yard of WINDOLITE weighs about 14 ozs., while a square yard of glass of ordinary thickness, weighs about 135 to 190 ozs. The improved WINDOLITE requires no varnish. WINDOLITE is made in England.

The Singing Fool

By HUBERT DAIL

Copyright, 1928, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.

SYNOPSIS

Al Stone, singing waiter at Blackie Joe's New York night club, marries Molly Winton, a ballad singer, not knowing he is loved by Grace Farrel, a loyal little cigarette girl. After Al wins fame as a composer of popular songs, Molly elopes with John Perry, taking her baby, Junior, as she sails for France. Al, broken by the loss of his son, becomes a derelict, but is saved by Grace Farrel, and recovers to appear in a Broadway revue. One night he receives a phone call from Molly and rushes to a hospital to find Junior fatally ill. He sings to Junior, but his son dies. Then Al dashes back to the theatre to find he must sing the same song to his audience.

CHAPTER XXXI.

The bright lights were on, the stage was empty, the orchestra played the opening bars that heralded Al's entrance. But still he stood in the wings as if in a trance, fearful of attempting the song he had just sung to his dying child. The orchestra stopped, started again, and the stage manager ran toward Al.

"That's your number, big boy."

"I can't sing that song," protested Al. "Not tonight."

The stage manager saw something was wrong, but he didn't know what.

"It's too late to change, now, Al. It's your hit song. Think of the show!"

The show! Al walked on the stage, driven by sheer force of will. There were the lights, there was the orchestra leader, beyond were the dim sea of faces of the audience. Without knowing it, he fell into his character, the happy-go-lucky singing fool. A roar of applause came up and met him like a great wind. He went into his song, believing he could carry on.

The stage manager relaxed and turned to Grace. "What's the matter with him?"

Quickly Grace explained and they both watched Al with anxious eyes. Would he make it? He was singing bravely, but it was apparent to their well trained ears that he was faltering now and then. When he came to the chorus the quaver in his voice was too intense. Once his voice broke entirely.

Suddenly it seemed to Al as if that sophisticated audience did'n't exist. Instead of grown-up faces he saw hundreds of faces of babies and children, pleading and beckoning to him. Babies and children, who had drifted off into Never-Never Land, and among them Junior! Junior's face and figure came toward him with arms outstretched.

Only Grace understood the dreadful ordeal he was passing through. She felt as if he were sinking into that sea of light while she stood by, unable to aid him.

To the audience it seemed as if the intense fervor of Al's singing keyed close to the breaking point, was only a phase of his skilful rendering, but the musicians caught the occasional minor breaks and glanced up with worried expressions.

Then the end came—Al simply broke off singing in the midst of his song. He stood there, seeing Junior as plainly as he had seen him at the hospital. . . . . Where was he? Oh, yes, the theatre, the lights. He tried to rally, choked, and stopped again. Swiftly the stage manager signalled to have the curtain lowered.

As the curtain came down Grace ran forward and caught Al in her arms. The stage manager was by her side to put an arm about his star singer and help him toward his dressing room. From beyond the curtain came the staccato beat of the applause. The audience was bewildered, but it realized that the best tribute it could give was due the man who had just stood before it.

Al collapsed in his dressing room chair, his head dropping limply forward on his chest. What had happened? . . . . Oh yes, he remembered—he had tried to sing and failed. He raised his head, gazed around the room curiously and brought his eyes back to Grace's face. Here was dear, loyal Gracie standing before him—that was a help, at any rate.

"I guess I flopped, darling."

Grace did not answer. She simply took his face in her hands, holding it firmly and gently, as if to soothe the trembling muscles. How curiously large and brilliant his dark brown eyes seemed with the solid black make-up around them.

As Grace tried to quiet him Al saw Junior's photograph and heard the ticking of his watch, which seemed strangely loud. It was like a voice telling him that time was passing and that his baby had gone away.

He picked up the watch and began slowly turning the hands backward—to nine o'clock, to eight, seven and six. Then he stopped, while an uncanny expression, almost like a smile, crossed his face. Grace drew back with a terrible rising fear that he might be losing his mind.

"What is it, darling? Why are you doing that?"

"I'm doing it because of Junior."

His voice and eyes were rational now and she saw a tear splash across the watch case.

"I'm turning my watch back," he said softly, "to the time when he was still alive!"

No one but Al and Grace knew the fierce struggle that little Grace passed through after Junior's death to save the man she loved.

It seemed as if the menace of his first breakdown lurked, like an ogre, just around the corner, waiting to pounce out and send him down and out. Its chance came with the passing of the little boy Al had loved with his whole heart. So the ogre of despair was at Al again, while Grace fought valiantly.

She watched Al like a hawk, fearful that he would disappear once more. She knew if he did she would never be able to bring him back. The second breakdown would be much worse than the first.

On the day after his breakdown Al's old sense of apathy took possession of him; he told Grace he would have to quit the show. But at this declaration Grace took counter-action. She saw that what he needed now was not rest and escape. He should be forced for his own good to go on as if nothing had happened. She explained that to him.

"Al, you mustn't back down, you mustn't give an inch!" she cried with passionate conviction. "I know how you feel and I sympathize with you. Heaven knows I've suffered with you and for you! You must hold tightly to the will to live—if not for yourself, then for me. I love you!"

Al stared at her a long time without answering. Then he said quietly, "You're right, Gracie."

Grace saw she had won the first battle, but she knew there would be other skirmishes. However, the first battle was the most important—and the hardest.

Al stayed on with the Marcus revue. Another song was substituted for "Little Feller," but otherwise his routine was the same. And as the nights passed Grace's contention was proved. His grip on life grew stronger because he was surrounded by people who sympathized with him and because he had to work.

Strangely enough, Molly had disappeared in much the same way that Al himself had vanished following her elopement. As soon as the first shock of Junior's death had been softened in his mind, Al, at Grace's suggestion, tried to trace Molly. When they heard how John Perry had gone through her money they were fearful that she might be in want. But Molly had left the city, leaving no trace of her whereabouts. Not until months later did Al learn that she had gone to the home of a relative in the middle west. She never came back to Broadway.

As Al's second recovery progressed, so his plans and Grace's moved closer to materialization. Then came the day when he and Grace, with a few of their closest friends, visited the Little Church around the corner and were married. Marcus, Blackie Joe, and Bill Cline, Al's former partner were in that small group of friends. When the ceremony was over, Marcus whispered to Al:

"Boy, you've picked the right girl this time."

Passing Of Frank Froest, One Of the Most Famous Scotland Yard Sleuths

After many years of well-earned leisure, Frank Froest, one of the most famous old time Scotland Yard sleuths, died recently in London, Eng., aged 72, after an operation.

One of Froest's most dramatic adventures was when he went to Argentina to arrest Jabez Balfour, financial misdoer, on a mammoth scale, whose story belongs to nearly 40 years back. The detective found innumerable obstacles against him in getting Balfour out of Argentina.

Finally he got his man on a car attached to a locomotive which went at a breakneck speed to Buenos Aires, and despite the efforts to impede him, Froest got Balfour aboard a ship for England.

Dogs Have Good Judgment

Dogs have better judgment than humans at times. Ever notice a canine romp around a grouch? His instinct knows. He may be dumb, but somehow cynics and pessimists are anathema to him. If a dog makes friends with you, you may be sure your disposition is of the right caliber. Even though he has fleas respect him for his perspicacity.

Tribute For Newspaper Editor

One Of Greatest Newspaper Editors Of Great Britain To Be Honored By City Of Manchester

C. P. Scott, chief proprietor of the Manchester Guardian, and until his resignation a few months ago one of the greatest newspaper editors in Great Britain, will be honoured by the city of Manchester when the freedom of the city is conferred upon him shortly.

"C. P." resigned the editorship of the Guardian, which he had developed into one of the most influential organs in the country, in July of last year. The task devolved upon his son, Edward Taylor Scott.

On that occasion "C.P." received from His Majesty a telegram congratulating him upon his editorship of the Guardian for 57 years, an achievement which His Majesty remarked "was surely unique in the history of journalism."

CONSTIPATED CHILDREN

Constipation is one of the most common ailments of childhood and the child suffering from it positively cannot thrive. To keep the little one well the bowels must be kept regular and the stomach sweet. To do this nothing can equal Baby's Own Tablets. They are a mild but thorough laxative; are pleasant to take and can be given to the newborn babe with perfect safety. Thousands of mothers use no other medicine for their little ones but Baby's Own Tablets. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Little Helps For This Week

"The love of Christ constraineth us."—2 Corinthians v. 14.

Blest be Thy love, dear Lord,
That taught us this sweet way:
Only to love Thee for Thyself,
And for that love obey.
—John Austen.

"The love of Christ constraineth me." It is in the light of these words that we come to understand the meaning of the cross of Christ. If love is to be the king of your life and mine, if with us here, amid all the strife and rivalry that make up our "workaday world," the voice that bids us love is to be regnant over all other voices, somewhere or other there must be the spell that compels us to do so. An apostle has found the spell when he wrote, "the love of Christ constraineth me;" and other men than he, aye, a multitude whom no man can number, have looked also into the face crowned with thorns, and have learned there how to love.—Henry C. Potter.

Persian Balm—the peerless aid to loveliness. Delightfully fragrant. Dainty to use. Leaves no stickiness. A little gentle rubbing and it is swiftly absorbed by the tissues. Tonic in effect. Soothes and dispels roughness and chafing. Keeps skins soft and velvet-textured. Unrivalled for charm, distinction and refinement. Used by lovely women everywhere to preserve and enhance their natural beauty.

"Dear Lord," prayed the co-ed, "I don't ask anything for myself — just give mother a son-in-law."

Needless Pain!

The man who wouldn't drive his motorcar half a mile when it's out of order, will often drive his brain all day with a head that's throbbing.

Such punishment isn't very good for one's nerves! It's unwise, and it's unnecessary. For a tablet or two of Aspirin will relieve a headache every time. So, remember this accepted antidote for pain, and spare yourself a lot of needless suffering. Read the proven directions and you'll discover many valuable uses for these tablets. For headaches; to check colds. To ease a sore throat and reduce the infection. For relieving neuralgic, neuritic, rheumatic pain.

People used to wonder if Aspirin might be harmful. The doctors answered that question years ago. It is not. Some folks still wonder if it really does relieve pain. That's settled! For millions of men and women have found it does. To cure the cause of any pain you must consult your doctor; but you may always turn to Aspirin for immediate relief.

Sleet storm topples twenty-four poles

Tearing down 24 telephone poles between Hope and Kingsvale, a sleet storm hit long distance lines of the B.C. Telephone Company in November. One direct circuit from Vancouver to Calgary, one to Kamloops, one to Princeron, and oue to Penticton were out of order. Alternate routes prevented a complete cessation of service between Vancouver and the points involved, and telephone men were speedily on the job replacing the damaged line.

January Session Village Council

Balance December Accounts are Ordered Paid—Name Election Day Officials—Auditor Completes—Expenditure Heavier.

The January meeting of the village council on the 13th was confined strictly to routine matters, the most important of which was giving the three readings to the bylaw providing for the election of commissioners. This rather lengthy document as passed names Monday January, 27th, as nomination day' and polling, if any, shall be on Thursday, January 30th, and so there can be no argument as to the correct time for election day it is provided that coast time will be used. The clerk, Miss E. F. Arrowsmith, has been named returning officer.

December accounts of $136 were ordered paid. These were some bills that were not to hand when the special meeting was held last month for passing accounts, and shows a total expenditure for December, of $1470, most of which was on streets.

The commissioners also fixed Tuesday, January 28th, at 8 p.m., in Trinity United Church hall, as the date, time and place of the usual ratepayers' meeting, preceding election. The date selected is a good one as the old council will have opportunity to review operations of the past two years, and all the candidates nominated will have opportunity to state their platforms.

The council was able to report straightening out a mixup that developed in connection with the improvements made on Main street in 1928 by the government road crew. $560 was deducted from this year's liquor profits check to pay for the roadwork of 1928. However the deduction has been cut by $238 which represents the value of the tar the village supplied for the roadwork, and for which the government was giving the village no credit. When the $286 is received from Victoria it will make the cheque for the second half of the liquor year $1641, or about $100 less than the amount received at the end of 1928—in this amount, too, is included the pari mutuel revenues due the village.

Local and Personal

The annual congregational meeting of St. Stephen's Presbyterian Church was held on Wednesday evening. Considering the condition of the weather the attendance was very good, The reports of the Session, Managers and other organizations show the congregation to be in a healthy condition. The financial statement showed heartiness and liberality. Some changes were made in the administration. S. A. Speers and H. H. Taylor were elected to the vacancies on the board of management. W. S. McAlpine continues as secretary-treasurer, but regretful, at his own request, was relieved of the office of manager. A committee was named investigate desirable changes in the church property. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered all presenting reports. Refreshments were served after the meeting.

Just at present it looks as if the electors will have at least seven citizens to choose from when they go to the polls on Thursday next to elect three commissioners to serve the village for the next two years Four candidates are definitely in the field today. They are Dr. Henderson, Geo. Kelly, A. L. Palmer and Geo. Nicholls. The three former are all well known and successful business men, while Mr. Nicholls, who is C.P.R. section foreman, while not so prominent in the public eye, has been here for over 20 years, and has a reputation for being both practical and economical, Mr. Nicholls is the owner of one of the most attractive residential properties in town and if he will make the village look as well as his own home and grounds he ought to capture a big vote, Of the old council it is pretty well understood that A. Comfort and F. H. Jackson will again be in the field, and most likely T. M. Edmondson, who is too well known in connection with municipal affairs to need any introduction to village electors. Nomination takes place on Monday and voting day is Thursday, from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. town time.

A total of 44 cases were tried by Magistrate Mallandaine in the police court during 1929, and in these, with the exception of one case, where sentence was suspended, the parties were either convicted or sent up for trial.

The most successful ice carnival in Creston's history was that of Wednesday night at the skating rink when Manager C. Hamilton put on a fancy dress carnival which was followed by the old time so-called moccasin dance. The number in costume was not as large as expected, but at that the judges had their troubles in picking the prizewinners, which were named as follows: Best dressed lady, Mrs. F. C. Rodgers, fancy pierette, and best dressed gent, Chas. Moore, Knight of the Bath. Girls' comic, Phyllis MacDonald, gipsy; boys' comic, Hubert Beninger, Chink With skating closed at 10 the moccasin hoedown followed with music by Hector and Ron. Stewart, accordeons; Chas. Cotterill, saxaphode; T. Lacey, banjo; and Bob Marshall, drums, and this feature proved exceptionally popular, dancing continuing until almost 1 a.m. For the convenience of his guests Manager Hamilton had a stand serving hot dogs, cake and coffee, and all who attended speak highly of the entertainment provided throughout the evening.

THE PUBLIC SETS THE PRICE

A RECORD development and progress of every industry in British Columbia is the achievement of 1929. Public interest in these events was manifest on the Vancouver Stock Exchange. In 1929 $129,748,630 worth of shares were bought and sold on the Vancouver Stock Exchange.

Such a volume of business requires an almost perfect system. The operation is governed by the laws of supply and demand. Buying and selling orders meet on the "floor." These orders set the price, and the Public controls the orders. The trading concerns securities of known value, and these securities represent undertakings on the threshold of a great era of industrialization of Western Canada.

No undertaking can list its securities on the Exchange without passing an examination. First principles of Stock Exchange operation are alike in London, New York and Vancouver, and are strictly adhered to. The Vancouver Stock Exchange, as an institution, owns no stock in any enterprise . . . sponsors no stock flotation . . . favors no broker . . . expresses no opinions about individual stocks. It accepts no responsibility for rise and fall of prices.

No progressive country, looking to its industries and natural resources for the production of National Wealth can be without a Stock Exchange. Like electricity, water, roads, transportation it ranks as a Public Service, disinterested, neutral.

The purpose is to make trading efficient, to broadcast prices instantly from the "Floor." The Public sets the price. And the Exchange lives up to the ideal, expressed in its charter passed by Provincial Parliament in 1907, as long as it fulfills in every way the duties given it to perform.

This advertisement is published by Members of the Vancouver Stock Exchange in order to disseminate information concerning the functions of a Stock Exchange and the Business of Buying and Selling Securities.

A meeting of the ratepayers is called for Tuesday evening in Trinity United Church hall at 8 o'clock, when municipal affairs generally will be discussed. The The meeting is called by the village council.

At the time of going to press it seems certain that at least seven citizens will offer for village commissioners at the nomination proceedings on Monday. This is the biggest field the village has ever known.

The prolonged cold spell is bringing considerable trade the way of he plumbers and in handling the situation good work and prompt service are being given by Messrs. Steenstrup and Reid of Creston Plumbing & Heating Company.

Total revenues collected at Creston office of the provincial police during 1929 totalled very close to $9000. Of this $6650 was for motor licenses, and $1307 for hunting, trapping and fishing licenses. Police court fines and costs were $310.

The Paulson electric light plant is placing its "juice" in a number of the local business places and residences. Trinity United Church, the postoffice, telephone central, Downey's poolroom and the residence of A. L. Palmer are recent inatallations.

Mrs. J. A. Bell has vacated the Commercial Hotel and is now occupying the King George Hotel. This building was recently given a thorough renovation throughout and with Mrs. Bell in charge is sure to attract a generous share of public patronage.

The Ladies' Guild of Christ Church are holding a masquerrde ball in the Parish Hall on Friday evening, January 31st Prizes for the best ladi s' and gents' fancy costumes, and best ladies' and gents' comic costumes, also the most original costume. Costumes to be homemade. Admission 75 cents, which includes supper.

Commissioners Jackson, Cherrington and Comfort sat as court of revision on the village voters list at the town hall on Monday morning, when two new names were added and 5 removed. The list to be used at the election on Thursday will show a total of 169 names.

In a newspaper report of a basketball match between Colville and Northport, Wash., teams considerable credid is given Billy Bayle, formerly of Creston, who is now living with his parents at Northport. Bill had the distinction of scoring all of the eight points amassed by Northport, who lost by a margin of 38 to 8.

This week the new telephone directory for Creston and district will be distributed to phone users. It shows a total of 118 names at present. In assigning numbers the Review das been signally honored with No. 1. Crestos Transfere is No. 18, and 30 belongs to road superintendent A. E. Davies. No. 50 will connect with the government vendor.

The International Joint Commission is in session at Washington, D.C., this month adjusting the claims of farmers and others in the Northport, Wash., area for damage said to be caused from the smoke and fumes from the smelter at Trail. Amongst the witnesses is G. J. Bayle, formerly of Creston, now of Northport, who is now in the employ of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company.

Notwithstandfng the severity of the weather attendances at the Full Gospel Mission are well maintained with new faces from week to week. Miss Littley, who has been associated in the work here since early fall, has been transferred to Jaffray, where she is in charge of the mission work at that point and since her departure Miss Price of Grand Forks has been assisting Miss Richards at Creston. In a few days Miss Price will be returning home and the work at Creston will be in charge of Miss Richards and Miss Ethel McLean, who has just arrived from Vancouver to be assistant here.

Creston is now well into its third week of decidedly winter weather. The coldest so far was 12 below on Friday, with the general average about ten below for the past two weeks. H. Napier Denison, who is in charge of the observatory at Victoria, predicts the winter will be a real one, and his prediction is in a fair way to prove true. Mr. Denison predicted 1929 would be a hot dry summer, so he is entitled to considerable respect as a weather guesser. Yesterday morning it was one above zero.

Immigration and Unemployment

At the present time much is being said and written on the twin subjects of immigration and unemployment. Hardly an issue of a daily paper appears that does not contain some reference to the problems involved, hundreds of letters to ed tors are penned expressing one view or another, conferences and conventions pass resolutions, and Governments, Federal, Provincial and Munic pal are struggling with the difficulties confronting them. There is in all quarters a tendency manifested to shelve the responsibility on to the other fellow, to, in the descr ptive language of the day, "pass the buck," and "let George do it."

With n recent weeks headlines in the press have informed a reading public that "3,000,000 are unemployed in the United States," that in Germany "2,000,000 are out of work," that the number of unemployed in Great Brita n "remains between 1,500,00 and 2,000,000," while, coming nearer home, that "the unemployed situation is acute in all large Canadian centres of population."

What is the cause? What is the solution? The United States has been experiencing a period of unexamp'ed industrial growth and activ ty. In 1929 Canada enjoyed the most prosperous year in its history, with all records for manufacturing, building construction, and development of natural resources reach ng new high marks. Despite depress on in certain basic industries, Great Britain reports more people at work than before the war, while Germany, we are told, is "coming back," and regaining much of her former strength in the export markets of the world.

In Canada the opinion prevails n many quarters that our unemployment problem is largely due to an influx of immigrants, but such a cause cannot be advanced in the case of Great Britain, Germany, or even in the United States, with its r gidly restricted immigrat on quotas. Yet unemployment seems to be almost universal; in fact there is less in proportion to popular on in Canada than in other countries. So, the cause lies deeper than in immigration, although, of course, it undoubtedly has some effect.

In the United States is it not partly accounted for by the fact that for some years past mass production has been ma ntained on a scale hitherto unknown, and the marketing of this enormous product on has only been possible through the sale of every conceivable kind of article on the instalment plan, until the average income of the buying public was t ed up in advance for long per ods. Possibly the saturation point has been reached, and, people being unable to buy more, even on a credit basis, production had to slow up.

Is it not also true that the enormous sums now invested in automobiles, radios, and other expensive but, in the case of the average citizen, unproductive devices, being thus withdrawn from productive enterprises is having its effect on other industries?

Again, through the inventive genius of th's age, labor-saving machinery and appliances of all kinds have had the result of enabling one man or woman to do the work of two, three or more, with a consequent lessen ng of the ratio of employment to vo ume of output. Wages to those employed are higher, but the number of workers actually required in many industries is less, although their output is greater. Here in Western Canada we have an example of this in the big drop in the number of farm helpers required through the introduction of the comb ned harvester-thresher and the increasing use of motor trucks over horse drawn vehicles. As one result, too, the tendency is again in the direction of larger farms, whereas not many years ago the bel ef was fairly general that the day of smaller farm holdings providing for more famil es on the land was approaching.

What governments, economists, manufacturers, labor unions, and our whole citizensh p must realize is that a present paradox of unemployment in an era of general expansion and growth is the result of chang ng world conditions. All countries are affected. Everything is in a state of flux. And because all count ies are affected, and also because far away fields always look green, people everywhere are looking elsewhere to better their condition. The inev table result is that all countries will more and more restrict immigration as a measure of the r own national salvation.

What will happen then? There is only one answer: People will have to adjust themselves to changed, and still rap dly changing conditions. They w ll have to work out their salvation at home. The problem is a huge and d fficult one. Nobody yet has the solution. All must think and study, and that is the sole reason for this article—to encourage real study of the problem, instead of the present prevailing tendency to lay the blame on somebody else.

Says Insanity Increasing

Eminent Psychologist Makes Somewhat Startling Assertion

After copious consideration and profound contemplation an eminent psychologist asse ts that it is only a matter of time when we w ll all be in the asylum. He finds that insanity is increasing rap dly, that a few centuries hence practically the whole world will be daffy in the bean. In a universe of nuts a squirrel may be king.

The fact that the world is go ng crazy is no surprise to some folks. They think that it is that way already. But on the other hand there are some of good reputa who a e still able to figure out that this is not such a rotten world after all, and that there is enough skill and intelligence available to keep the machinery runn ng for an indefinite period.—Los Angeles Times.

So easy to get quick relief and prevent an attack in the future. Avoid bromides and dope. They relieve quickly but affect the heart and are very dangerous. They are depressing and only give temporary relief, the cause of the headache still remains within.

Unemployment Relief

Regina City Council Projecting Civic Works During Winter Season

At an actual cost of $20,000, another sewer programme is now being cons dered by Regina City officials as an unemployment rel ef measure, and will supplant the programme already undertaken and nearly completed.

To date this winter, eight and a half blocks of sewers have been dug by day labor in various sections of the city as unemployed relief. As well, a plank walk programme of 18 blocks has recently been started for unemployment relief at a cost of $5,000.

Good Word For Women Drivers

New York Commissioner Says More Men Break Traffic Laws

Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, Charles A. Hartnett, states that wo men drivers in New York State represent 16 per cent. of the total number in the last four months 27 130 mer violated traffic laws—as against 653 women.

On an average day 250 men are arra gned and only four women.

Over th s four-month period 3,918 men were up for speeding, as opposed to sixty-six women.

Difficulties over car lights have brought 4,635 men to court, while only sixty-nine women were charged w th similar offenses.

Smoking motors were charged aga nst seventeen men, but against not one woman.

One woman was very legibly booked for intoxication. To offset that showing there were 132 men accused of driving while drunk.

Thirty women fa led to keep to the right, 4,075 men did l kewise.

Seven women mistook a one-way street. There were 481 men who made the same error.

Thirty-two women did not have their licenses at a crucial moment. Similar lapses of memory affected 1,226 males.

INFLUENZA'S VICTIMS

Left Weak, Miserable and a Prey To Disease In Many Forms

One of the most treacherous diseases afflict ng the people of Canada during the winter months is influenza. It almost invariably ends with a complication of troubles. Its victims suffer with alternate fevers and chills, headaches and backaches. It leaves them an easy prey to bronchit's and pneumonia. Indeed, the deadly after effects of influenza may leave the victim a chronic invalid. You can avoid influenza entirely by keeping the blood rich and red by the use of Dr. Williams' P nk Pills. If you have not done this and the disease attacks you, you can banish its deadly after effects through the use of this great blood-bu lding nerve-restoring tonic.

Here is proof of the power of Dr. W lliams' Pink Pills over this trouble. Mr. F. H. McMullen, Belleville, Ont., says:—"Some years ago, following a severe attack of influenza, I was left in such a weak condition that my friends thought I would not get better. I developed nervous indigestion, and my blood got th n and watery. In this weakened condition I began the use of Dr. Will ams' Pink Pills, and these did what other medicine had failed to do—brought me back to health and strength. I can honestly say I think them the best blood builder and nerve ton c known, and I shall always praise them."

You can get the pills from your druggist, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Will ams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

To Pay $20,000,000 In Cash

The growing prosperity of Canada is indicated in the official announcement that the Canadian Government w ll redeem in cash a loan of $20,000,000 payable on February 1, 1930. The revenue of Canada was greater in the first ten days of the current fiscal year than the total for the whole of the year 1868, the first year of Confederation. The surplus of revenues over expenditures last year would have more than paid off the national debt of Canada as it stood in the early seventies of the last century.

Awful Asthma Attacks. Is there a member of your family who is in the power of this d stress ng trouble? No service you can render him will equal the bringing to his attention of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. This remarkable remedy rests its reputation upon what it has done for others. It has a truly wonderful record, covering years and years of success in almost every part of this continent, and even beyond the seas.

Real Service

If a shower comes up in the city of Berlin, the pedestrians will find on the next corner an automatic machine for the vending of umbrellas. Drop 15 cents in the slot and walk off with a brand-new storm shelter. The umbrellas are made of oiled paper and may not last a lifetime, but they are good for a dozen or more storms, and are right handy when the drops are dropp ng.

Indigestion

What most people call indigestion is usually excess acid in the stomach. The food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali which neutralizes acids. But don't use crude helps. Use what your doctor would advise.

The best help is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. For the 50 years since its invention it has remained standard with physicians. You will find nothing else so quick in its effect, so harmless, so efficient.

One tasteless spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in acid. The results are immediate, with no bad after-effects. Once you learn this fact, you will never deal with excess acid in the crude ways. Go learn—now—why this method is supreme.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore.

To Extend News Service

Movement To Enlarge Newspaper Service In Western Canada

Newspaper publishers and editors of western Canada, members of the Canadian Press, met at Vancouver recently, in preparation for the great extension of the news service in western Canada follow ng the printerization of the leased wire telegraph circuits now in progress from Winnipeg to Victoria, which will about double the wordage laid down in the individual newspaper offices and will permit scope for much freer interchange of news as between the four western provinces, as well as the publ cation of more eastern Canadian news in the west and more western Canadian news in the east.

Proposals of the management for the betterment of the news service, both fore gn and domestic, were endorsed and in particular the meeting went on record as recommending to the board of directors of the Canadian Press the early establishment at Tok o of a Canadian Press staff representative, now that a Canadian ministry has been established in Japan.

B.C. Lumbering Operations

Four hundred plants are engaged in manufacturing lumber products in British Columbia, involving an investment of 200 mill on dollars. In 1928, the cut was over three billion feet. These plants employ forty thousand people and pay out in wages sixty million dollars annually.

The strong no less than the weak must bear the penalty of their own natures. The man or woman who has learned to stand alone must not complain if left to stand alone much of the time.

Tribute To Canadian Industry

Canada Has "Cleanest" Tea Warehouse In the World

On a tour of the Dominion, under the auspices of the British Inst tute of Certified Grocers, six post graduates visited the Montreal plant of the Salada Tea Company, of Canada, L mited. The following report made by the secretary, Mr. C. L. T. Beckhing, appeared in the Tea & Coffee Trade Journal, of New York.

"During the tour they (the graduates), inspected some of the wholesale and retail tea concerns in the Dominion, and they considered that the Montreal plant of the Salada Tea Company was the neatest and cleanest tea blending warehouse and packing centre in the world."

Canada has reason to be proud of industries that can make such an impression on visitors of this calibre.

TAKES HOPEFUL VIEW OF SUCCESS OF NAVAL PARLEY

London, Eng.—Great Britain can only move on the pr nc ple that other nations move correspondingly with her, and that when an agreement on naval disarmament is arrived at, it shall represent an international policy adopted by the other nations as well as Great Britain, this compr sed the keynote of the formal remarks made by Pr me Minister Ramsay MacDonald, when he met a couple of hundred newspaper correspondents of all countries, both resident in London and specially sent to the British capital, who will report the naval disarmament conference.

Among po nts the prime minister established, were that Great Brita n is looking for the eventual elimination of the battleship, both on account of its tremendous expense (Mr. MacDonald mentioned they cost £7.-000 000 apiece), and also because of the differences among naval experts concerning the r ut lity. Until battleships are eliminated it is sought to effect a gradual reduction in their tonnage and gun-power when replacements are made.

British authorities, the prime m nister continued, took a hopeful stand on the instruments already effected, such as the Locarno pact, the optional clause of the world court agreement, and the pacts of Washington and Paris with a number of additional regional agreements. These instruments had already given the whole world a greater feeling of security, so that if the risk of war had already been reduced, it was surely reasonable, he sa d, to expect armaments could be reduced.

Premier MacDonald stressed that if the conference failed, it would mean the world would be faced with 10 or 20 years' competitive naval bu lding. But he was confident it would achieve a treaty effective in reducing navies to the lowest level cons stent with national sa ety.

Today also, Lord Bridgeman, first Lord of the Adm ralty, in the former Conservative Government, attacked the Labor Government for lowering the Brit sh level of cruisers necessary for Empire defence, from 70 to 50. The justification for this given by the government the improved atmosphere resulting from the Par s pact, "is most unconvincing," Lord Bridgeman said.

Speak ng to the British Naval League, Lord Bridgeman added the belief that some agreement might be reached in a spirit of g ve-and-take; "but others must give as well as ourselves."

At another meeting, Vice-Admiral E. A. Taylor also expressed grave fears for the future of Britain's naval defences and some doubts as to the security offered by the Kellogg-Briand pact.

"The Kellogg pact is no guarantee whatever that war is a thing of the past," Vice-Admiral Taylor declared.

New German Cruiser

Is Named After Vessel Sunk In Battle On the North Sea

Wilhelmshafen, Germany. — The new German Cruiser "Koeln" 6,000 tons, was ceremoniously commissioned recently, replacing the old cruiser Amazone w thdrawn from service. Commander Von Schroeder, in a speech recalled that the first "Koeln" was sunk in battle in the North Sea, on August 28, 1914, and that only one man was saved after cling ng three days to a piece of wreckage. The second "Koeln" was sunk at Scapa Flow.

Start Hazardous Trip

Five Men Making Journey Across Rockies On Skis

Jasper.—Five young men have left Jasper, Alberta, on a 300-mile skii trip across the Rocky mounta ns to Banff. It will be one of the most hazardous adventures of its k nd ever undertaken, and if the trip is successful it will be the first time such a crossing has been made during the winter months.

The members of the party are: Vernon and Allen Jeffry, Pete Withers, F ank Burstrum and Joe Weiss, all of Jasper Park, and all exper enced mountaineers and skiers. They expect to conclude the r trip by February.

The adventure was planned last spring and during the summer adequate caches were placed at strategic points along the route which, in some cases, will be more than 9.000 feet above sea level. At such altitudes very low temperatures, in some cases sixty below zero, are likely to be encountered, and the party w ll also have to face such dangers as unknown snow conditions and the elimination of trail gu des that are visible during the summer.

As far as is known this is the longest continuous ski tr p ever attempted anywhere in the world.

Children Die In Fire

Three Smothered By Smoke Before Rescue Could Be Made

Hull, Que.—Fire which broke out while they were play ng about the r home, took the lives of the three children of Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Parisse here. The theories entertained as to the origin of the fatal blaze are that either the children were playing with matches or an electric heating plate set fire to the walls.

The dead are: Jean Paul, aged five years; Pau ette, two years and s x months, and Adrienne, seven months.

The conflagration, breaking out during the brief period the mother absented herself to telephone from the ground floor apartment of the triplex in which the Parisse family resided, gave off such a volume of smoke that the little tots were smothered before a rescue could be effected.

Korean Students Strike

Over Ten Thousand Said To Be Involved In Trouble

Seoul, Korea.—One thousand Korean students including 250 girls, have been arrested as a result of a str ke of 13 college and high schools, including two m ssionary institutions run by United States societies.

The strike involved students estimated to number 10,000. It occurred dur ng the post-holidays examinations, and ostensibly out of sympathy for the 900 students arrested last month. The December strike was said to have been due to long standing quarrels between Japanese and Korean students of the m ddle schools.

Many of those arrested last month still are in p ison. Japanese authorities believe the new strike was engineered by a street society w th Communistic tendencies.

Naval Architect Dead

Victor a.—One of the most widely known architects of his day, and who had to his credit the building of three Spanish cruisers that took part in the battle of Santiago, in 1898, and was founder of the steel sh p building industry in Japan, is dead here in the person of James Stewart Clark, following a prolonged illness. He was a native of Troon, Ayrshire, Scotland, and was eighty years of age.

Have Important Task

Committee Will Try To Co-ordinate Pacts Of Peace

Geneva.—The personnel of the important committee which wi l have the task of bringing the league's disarmament covenant into harmony with the Kellogg-Briand peace pact, has been made known by the council of the League of Nations.

The members, meeting on February 12, will be: M. Adachi, Japan; Lord Cecil, Great Britain; B. B. Von Bulow, Germany; E. Cobian, Spain; Mariano Cornejo, Peru; P erre Cotc, France; Vitorio Sciajola Italy; Francesco Sokal, Poland; Nicholas Titulesco, Rumania; M. Unden, Sweden, and Woo Kai-Seng, China.

Their task will be to fill in the gap in the league covenant which tactly allows armaments cons stent with national security and impl es action by league members against a nation which starts an aggressive war. The later pact of Paris renounces war altogether.

Vessel Adrift On Atlantic

Reward Is Offered For Return Of Schooner To Newfoundland

Halifax.—A reward of $1,000 is being offered by the government of Newfoundland to any officer of any sh p who goes aboard the schooner "Neptune" and brings back to Newfoundland the vessel that is drifting at the mercy of sea and wind somewhere in the North Atlantic. Her captain, accustomed only to shore navigation is unable to bring her to port.

This information, broadcast from Cape Race, was received by C. H. Harvie, local marine and fisheries agent. Hundreds of sh ps crossing the Atlantic would pick up the message.

The schooner has been drifting helplessly since it left St. John's Nfld., on November 29, and was driven out to sea by a hurricane that scattered the fleet of 10 vessels with which the "Neptune" had left for home ports on the northeast coast of Newfoundland.

The "Neptune" carrying 19 persons, was reported "all right," 720 miles southeast of Newfoundland on December 15.

FARMERS MUST MAINTAIN HIGH WHEAT QUALITY

Saskatoon, Sask.—Unless Canadian farmers maintain the high quality of their wheat, they are in imminent danger of finding no market for it, according to Major H. G. L. Strange, of Fenn, Alberta, who addressed the convention of the Saskatchewan Field Husbandry Assoc at on at the University of Saskatchewan. Major Strange, once winner of the grand award of the International Hay and Grain Show, at Chicago, and an enthusiastic seed grower has made a study of the conditions in respect to marketing wheat, not only in Canada but also in England and in cont nental Europe.

"The man who buys is the important man," stated Major Strange, "and not the producer. If we do not provide a product of quality and at a p ice which suits the consumer, we will not be able to sell it. Not long ago the cry was raised for two dollar wheat, and we were told that the world could not get along without our grain. During the last s x months we have been shown how well the world can and will do without Canadian gra n, for the millers of Europe have reduced the percentage of flour from our wheat, which is mixed into their bread, from 35 to 10.

This, stated the speaker, was not because they objected to the higher price altogether, but because the quality in the last few years has been sacr ficed for quantity in production. Countries buying Canadian wheat are devoid of sentiment, and Canadians sell their grain to Britain and then buy goods from the United States. The Argent ne buys goods with the money received for the r grain, and keeps a good customer. Sheer economic necessity compels the British buyers to go where they can get the most value for their money and sell the most goods in return.

Russia is again in the ma ket, and as a result, the price of wheat drops e ght cents in Canada. There is no reason for Canadian farmers, with the advantage in methods they have gained in the past five or ten years, not holding the top of the world market with their wheat, if the former high standard is kept up. The only way to do this is to follow the advice of Cato, who, two thousand years ago, sa d: "Plough well, sow good seed and keep down the weeds." The C.S.G.A. offers fac lities for the procuring of good seed equalled by no other organization in the world, and it is up to the farmer to protect his own interests.

Want Old Age Pensions

Immediate Acceptance Of Government Pension Plan Is Urged For Quebec

Quebec, Que.—William Tremblay, Conservative M.L.A. for Maisonneuve, urged the immediate acceptance by the Quebec Government of the Dominion old-age pension provisions, speaking in the leg slative assembly, in the course of the debate on the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne. He argued that the people of Quebec were aiding in the payment of pensions in other provinces through the Dominion taxes and getting nothing for their own aged people.

Express Fear For Islanders

London, Eng.—The Daily Express expressed grave fear for the nhabitants of Bardley Island off Carnarvonsh re, who have not been reached from the mainland since December 15, due to the gale which has been most persistent since then. They were believed to be without food. There has been no response to beacon lights and other signals, which is declared to be unprecedented.

Dry Educational Campaign

Detroit, Mich.—A $50,000,000 dry educational campaign was outlined at a meeting of the anti-saloon league here by its chief, Dr. Ernest H.
