CRESTON, B. C., FRIDAY, JULY 18, 1930

No. 20

$8825 Required Operate Schools

Jas. Cook is New Trustee—Give Secretary $50 Raise—Rooms to be Kalsomined—Mrs. Henderson Again Heads Board.

About thirty ratepayers were out on Saturday night for the annual Creston School District meeting, with F. H. Jackson elected to occupy the chair, and Geo. Nickel taking the minutes. Fred Lewis, whose three-year term had expired, declined to seek re-election and he will be succeeded by Jas. Cook. Dr. Henderson, who has been auditor for the past fifteen years, also refused reappointment, and J. W. Hamilton was named school board auditor for this year. In appreciation of services rendered for some years past Mr. Nickel, secretary to the trustee board, was given a raise in salary from $75 to $125 per year.

The estimates for the present year contained an agreeable surprise in that instead of an expected vote of not less than $9000, the board are hopeful of getting along with $8825, and their estimates calling for this amount were adopted with very little discussion. An additional $540 is required this year to take care of payment of principal and interest payments on the steam heating plant installed a year ago. No salary raises have been given, and due to engaging at least two new instructors it was possible to reduce stipends in at least two of the divisions. Estimated expenditures for this year are as follows:

|----------------------------|-----------|
| Teachers, salaries..... | $5770.00 |
| Janitor..... | 850.00 |
| Secretary..... | 125.00 |
| Supplies..... | 500.00 |
| Insurance..... | 150.00 |
| Water..... | 35.00 |
| Coal..... | 500.00 |
| Kalsomining..... | 200.00 |
| Miscellaneous..... | 200.00 |
| Payment heating plant..... | 540.00 |

After the meeting adjourned the new trustee board met and Mrs. Henderson was again named chairman of the board, and Geo. Nickel was appointed secretary. It was decided to advertise for teachers for kalsomining all seven rooms of public and high school.

Erickson

Miss Joan Heric left at the middle of the week to spend the holidays with friends at Yahk.

George Leadbetter returned on Thursday from Spokane, where he has been receiving medical attention.

Mrs. J. S. Peck and boys of Edmonton, Alberta, have just arrived to spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Cartwright.

Jack Hall, who has spent the past two weeks at his home here, returned to Vancouver on Saturday.

H. Campbell of Bellvue, Alberta, came in at the end of the week for a stay at the ranch.

Friday was a red letter day for Erickson and district. The water was turned in the pipe line of the East Creston Irrigation District system for the first time. Everyone was using the water at the first of the week, but it had to be shut off on Wednesday for a time to make repairs to a few leaks that had developed.

heard with regret the sad news of the death of their third son, Clarence, who passed away in a hospital at Calgary on Saturday morning. Ted Staples, who is in charge of the ranch here, left immediately for Kelowna, where the funeral was held on Tuesday.

Miss Margaret Speaker of Nelson arrived on Sunday and will spend a few weeks with her mother, Mrs. Fred Speaker.

At the annual school meeting on Saturday night, E. Cartwright was re-elected trustee for another three years, and E. J. C. Richardson was named auditor. $1800 was voted as running expenses and out of this will come quite substantial raises for both Miss White and Miss Walker of the teaching staff.

Wynndel

Percy Cockle, who has been working at Pincher Creek, Alberta, has returned home.

Misses E. Hagen and E. Miller left last week on a visit at Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Pluris of Saskatchewan, are auto visitors here, guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Joy.

Miss L. Williams is spending the summer vacation with her parents here.

E. Williams of Blairmore, Alberta, is on a visit with his family at Wynndel.

The last car of strawberries rolled on Thursday, July 10th, bringing the year's car lot shipping up to 14.

The first straight carload of early potatoes to be shipped from Creston Valley went out from Wynndel at the end of the week. They were from the Monrad Wigen ranch, and were mostly of the Early Ohio variety. They were sent to Fernie, with fifteen tons in the car.

The first drowning accident of the season occurred on Saturday last when an Hungarian, who had arrived in a few weeks previous and had worked at the berry harvest lost his life in an attempt to swim the channel of the Winlaw mill pond. It is presumed he was taken with a heart attack. The body was recovered and the usual inquest held, after which the body was taken to Creston where burial took place on Sunday.

Annual school meeting was held at the old schoolhouse on Saturday evening, G. W. Taylor presiding. T. Sexsmith was elected auditor and Geo. Huscroft was elected trustee for a three year term. Finances were discussed and $2000 was voted for the year, which includes a substantial raise in teacher's salary. Matter of school yard beautification was discussed and trustees authorized to take care of the work. Resolution was carried that no more dances will be held in the old schoolhouse until it is disposed of and removed from present locations.

Canyon City

Miss Heien McRobb has returned from Wynndel, where she has been on the strawberry packing staff for the past three weeks.

Miss Florence Burns was taken to Cranbrook hospital on Thursday last, where she underwent an operation for appendicitis and is making a satisfactory recovery.

George Foreman was also a hospital patient at Cranbrook a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burns of Lethbridge, Alberta, spent a few days here this week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Burns.

Miss Kathleen Clayton has just left for Kaleden, in the Okanagan, where she will be employed in a fruit packing warehouse this season.

At the annual school meeting on Saturday night, $1900 was voted to carry on educational affairs this year. F. Knott was re-elected for the fourth time to serve the three-year term, and H. Young is the new auditor.

Canyon orchardists are complainidg of depredations of some of the unemployed who have been guilty of cherry thieving on a considerable scale. In at least one orchard they were guilty of speeding up operations by sawing limbs off and making off with the fruit as well as part of the tree. The provincial police has the matter in hand.

In ample time to allow them to record their vote on July 28th, Martin Nelson, John Gartland, Eric Olson, Leonard Olson, Gus Oberg, Nelson Larson, Gunnar Larson have just received their official certificates of naturalization from Judge Nesbit of Nelson, who held a court for naturalization purposes at Creston about three months ago.

Everyone is invited to the benefit dance to be held in the Community Hall this Friday evening, 18th, with dancing at 9 o'clock. The music will be by the Nighthawk's orchestra, and the admission is 75 cents to gents, and 25 cents to ladies. Proceeds go to the Hurl family, whose home was destroyed by fire about two weeks ago.

Creston Bats Out 7-6 Win at Troy

Fortin Pitches Stellar Ball and Support Excellent—Double by Telford Gives Creston Lead—Wind up Season Here, Sunday

Creston baseball team chalked up its second win of the season at Troy on Sunday when they nosed out the fast Montana town nine by a margin of 7 to 6, and local fans who saw the game say it was by long odds the best the locals have put up this year.

Against the usual invincible pitching of Neitzling Creston piled up 11 hits while Fortin held the losers to 7 safe blows. However, in the matter of strikeouts the Troy hurler had nine to his credit and Fortin but three.

Creston went into the lead at the opening round, but Troy evened things in their half of the second. The third was scoreless for both and in the fourth Creston forged to the front and was never headed.

The breaks of the game were with Creston, particularly in the fourth when a dropped third strike by the Troy backstop caused Neitzling to lose control temporarily and permitted Creston to annex enough counters to win the game.

In the fourth Baum opened with a double. Campbell dropped Brogan's third hit at the air and threw wild to first in an effort to retrieve his error. L. Benedetti walked and the bases were jammed. Fortin's infield hit forced Baum at the plate. Romano followed with another hit of the same sort which Neitzling was forced to play to first to get the out and Brogan scored. Telford then obliged with a two base hit bringing in Benedetti and Fortin.

For Creston stellar ball was played by Watson who not only did the backstopping in faultless fashion but also contributed a two base hit that was converted into the run that brought victory to Creston. Fortin had perfect control and his mixture of slants proved baffling to the hard hitters from Troy. Baum's work at short was also brilliant, three of the seven assists in which he figured being real sparklers. The score:

|-----------------------|---|--------------------|---|
| Romano, cf..... | 1 | W. Wolz, 2b..... | 0 |
| Telford, rf..... | 0 | Kensler, lf..... | 0 |

CRESTON..... 1 1 0 3 1 1 0 0 0-7
TROY..... 0 2 0 2 1 1 0 0 0-6

Two-base hits, Romano, Telford, Watson, Baum, Thornton; sacrifice hits, Romano, Telford, E. Wolz; stolen bases, McKelvey, Morn; hits off Fortin, 7; off Neitzling, 11; struck out by Fortin, 3; by Neitzling 9; bases on balls off Neitzling 2; left on bases, Creston 8; Troy 6.

Troy will be here on Sunday afternoon to wind up the league season and there should be a record turnout of local fans for this final encounter. Playing on Sunday's form the game should be a great battle.

Lister

Norman Berry of Edmonton, Alberta, is a visitor this month with Mr. and Mrs. Dick Stevens.

Joe Bell of Kimberley spent the weekend of July 6-6 at his ranch here and was renewing old acquaintances.

Ed. Langton left last week for Coalhurst, Alberta, where he is a guest of his son, Ernest, at present.

About twenty of the local German settlers pulled out on Tuesday for Sancer, where they are working on a sub-contract on the Kuskamook-Grey Creek Road. We hear Jock Osborne has gone with them and will be camp cook.

Sam Lazachuk left at the first of the week on his return to Kellogg, Idaho, where he will again be employed.

Miss Hazel Hobden left on Saturday for Vancouver, where she will spend a few weeks visiting with her sister, Miss Agnes Hobden.

Alex. Martin of Salmo, who has been a visitor here with A.R.F. Bernard, is away on a holiday trip to renew acquaintances at Invermere.

Dr. Gaddes, the B.C. superintendent of colonization, along with a Mr. Fell of the coast real estate firm of Fell & Scarr, were looking the area over at the first of the month. Fell & Scarr have had considerable success in selling the government dyked lands at Sumas.

Several of the Lister residents were guests at the home of B. R. Bohmer on the evening of July 2nd, at a birthday celebration in honor of Mr. Bohmer. Six tables of players participated in the bridge whist at which high scores were made by Mrs. Ed. Smith and John Bird, while the consolation honors went to Mrs. Harold Langston and W. L. Baker. Lunch was served and a very enjoyable evening was spent by all.

At the annual school meeting on Saturday night John Bird was re-elected to succeed himself for a three-year term, and A. R. F. Bernard replaces Mrs. D. J. McKee, who resigned from the board. Mrs. H. Yerbury is the new auditor, succeeding Mrs. W. Mitchell. $420 was voted to carry on school affairs this year.

At the school meeting at Huscroft the same evening John Huscroft was favored with re-election for a three-year term, and Mrs. Chas. Huscroft was re-appointed auditor. $400 was voted to finance the year, as it is possible fees may have to be paid for some high school pupils from that district.

Alice Siding

R. Alderson, who returned a couple of weeks ago to work in Turner Valley, was a motor visitor at his home here on Sunday.

Mrs. J. C. Martin arrived from Shepard, Alberta, on Wednesday, and they are occupying the house on the Beytz ranch.

Raspberry shipments are the heaviest in a number of years, and the train stop at the Smith crossing has been made for the past week. Fred Ash is shipper again this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Burles of Cowley, Alberta, motored in at the weekend for a few days' visit with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Pease, returning on Tuesday.

Miss Alice Carr, who is on the telephone central staff at Fernie, was a weekend visitor with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Carr.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Carr with Mr. and Mrs. C. Ogilvie of Wynndel, were motor visitors to Sandpoint the latter part of the week.

Sirdar

Mr. and Mrs. Percival of Coalhurst, Alberta, were visitors with Mr. and Mrs. R. Heap last week.

R. Moore was a visitor here from Bowwell on Sunday.

Geo. Cam left on Sunday to spend a few days with friends in Nelson.

The annual school meeting was held in the schoolhouse on Saturday night for the election of one trustee and an auditor with R. Heap presiding over the gathering. Jack Cameron, whose term as trustee had expired, was re-elected for another three years. Mrs. McCabe was re-elected auditor.

Misses Nellie Payne and Phyllis Macdonald of Creston are holidaying here.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederickson of Bonners Ferry were visitors here on Sunday.

Kitchener

Mr. and Mrs. Slein, who have been visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Molander, motored back to Cranbrook on Tuesday.

Mrs. Z. Geroux, who has been a hospital patient at Cranbrook returned on Sunday, accompanied by Mr. Geroux. Mrs. Anderson and family, along with Misses Vera and Hazel McGonegal, are spending the week at Kuskamook.

B. Johnson and son, Robert, are Nelson visitors a few days this week, guests of Mrs. A. LaPage.

The annual school meeting on Saturday evening attracted much more than the usual attendance. G. A. Hunt was re-elected trustee, and A. G. Strudwick was appointed auditor.

Katherine and Irene Cavanaugh of Kimberley are guests of Mr. and Mrs. B. Johnson.

Mary Ross of Creston is a visitor with Mr. and Mrs. E. Drifill.

Miss Clara Hunt spent a few days at Erickson, a guest of Miss Marcella Sanford.

Alice Cameron of Moyle is a visitor with Mr. and Mrs. Foley.

Women's Institute Meeting

The July meeting of Creston and District Women's Institute on Friday afternoon was most informal. The chair was occupied by the president, Mrs. J. E. Hayden, but there were no papers read nor demonstrations given, and what little correspondence there was was disposed of with despatch.

It was agreed that there would be no meeting in August, but it is just possible the members will be called together to

Erect Monument Irrigation District

Pillar Fifty Feet High, Made of Cement and Steel Pipe to be Permanent Memorial—Drinking Fountain Provided.

A unique, attractive and lasting monument to commemorate the installation of the East Creston Irrigation District water system is under course of construction at the corner of the R. J. Long ranch facing the R. B. Staples place, where a likely triangular site is being cleared for the cement pillar.

The monument will be most appropriate in that it is proposed to construct it of concrete and steel pipe in the sizes used in the irrigation system, and with it will be a sanitary drinking fountain.

A heavy concrete slab will provide the base, and from this will rise a 50-foot column starting with a length of 21-inch concrete pipe, to be followed with a length of 18 inch concrete, and then in succession 10, 8, 6 and 4 inch steel pipe, with the top piece of galvanized pipe from which a spray of the Arrow Creek water will issue, and the top length to be fitted up to carry a flag for national holidays and other special occasions.

On either side of the monument will be lengths of the 21-inch concrete pipe stood on end which will be used as flower boxes, and it is proposed to fill in all the other space in the monument area with granite chips.

On the first length of pipe in the pillar will be placed a brass tablet which will give the name of the district; date of commencement and completion of work; names of the first trustees, the engineer in charge and showing the name of the British Columbia Concrete Company, Limited, who installed the system.

The work of erecting the memorial is very largely in charge of the B.C. Concrete Company and will be completed early next month, when it is hoped there will be suitable exercises in connection with the unveiling.

witness a demonstration on making crystallized fruit which it is expected Mrs. Gibbs will give on a visit sometime next month.

The hospital Dr. Olivier of Blairmore is about to open in Creston was favorably considered and a committee of Mrs. Jas. Cook, Mrs. Hayden, Mrs. Hayes and Mrs. R. Stevens was named to interview Dr. Olivier and ascertain if there is any way in which the Institute can be of assistance to him in the conduct of the hospital.

The B.C. Worsted Mills Company has sent along a shipment of raw wool, which is now being carded and when that work is completed some oldtime bees will be held to manufacture it into a quilt which is to be shown at the fall fair.

The usual collection was taken for the Crippled Children's Hospital work and amounted to $1.25.

How's Your Bank Account?

It is a common thing for parents to open a bank account for a very young child, taking care of the account until the child is old enough to manage it. Then the bank book is turned over, and Dick or Ruth shoulders a new responsibility.

In this way the child is, early in life, taught the valuable habit of thrift. Practical lessons in the keeping of accounts and records are learned. And as these small savings are conserved and mount upwards, a substantial sum of money is created which will make adequate provision for the later education of the child, or constitute a reserve of capital to start a boy in business or enable a girl to assist in establishing her own home.

Famous leaders in commerce have said that regular saving, even on a small scale, is the surest foundation for financial success. To save only five dollars a week is to build up a financial reserve, which will grow. To contract five dollars debt weekly is to accumulate a growing burden.

Nature starts each of us in life with an account at the Bank of Health, which is handled in trust by older folk, until we reach the age of responsibility for the care of the body. It makes all the difference in the world whether we handle our health account wisely or foolishly.

How is your account at the Bank of Health? Have you a good balance? Is it shrinking instead of growing? You ought to know.

Nature abhors and punishes waste while she approves and rewards thrift, both in what we call the big realm of Nature and in the individual human life.

Experts tell us that reckless and unchecked cutting and fishing threaten the existence of some of the world's largest forests and fisheries. The supplies we thought unlimited may fail. We are learning that continuance of supply depends on conservation, which is simply a bigger word for thrift.

The same is true of health. Nature exacts heavy penalties for waste. Preventive work promotes and assists the practice of health thrift.

Just as a savings account is built up by small deposits, so, too, must our health reserve be built up. Enough food and exercise, enough rest and relaxation, must be deposited in the Bank of Health every twenty-four hours.

These deposits must be in good currency, too. Nature, like our bankers, accepts no bad bills or counterfeit coins.

Why not look into this matter of your account at the Bank of Health? A wise way to begin is to go to your doctor for a complete medical examination. Don't wait until you are sick to visit your doctor; go to him when you are well and have him check you up. Take stock.

Another good plan is to repeat the process of a thorough medical examination at least once a year—say, on your birthday anniversary. In this way any disease which may, quite unknown to you, be making insidious headway, will be discovered in its early stages, checked and cured, but which if left to develop undisturbed until you begin to "feel sick" may by then have reached the stage where it is beyond cure.

World's First Talkie Sign

Novelty Introduced At Chicago By Envelope Company

What is probably the first talking sign in the world made its debut before a crowd of over 3,000 Rotarians with a speech boosting Chicago, telling about its schools, churches, parks, playgrounds (libraries, universities, boulevards, policemen and other civic assets).

George D. Gaw of the Gaw-O'-Hara Envelope Company, is responsible for the sign, which is a 50-by-20 foot affair on the envelope company's plant in North Sacramento boulevard.

The speech was made before the microphone and amplified through the loud speaker hidden in the neon lettering but in the future records lauding the city and boosting for its "Century of Progress" will furnish voice to the sign throughout the day, according to Mr. Gaw.

Japan Building 'Planes

Army airplanes built entirely in Japan are proving highly satisfactory, according to an official report issued by the aviation department of the ministry of war. Recently two scout 'planes made night-flying tests in which they met every requirement of safety, speed and general airworthiness. Airplanes are now being manufactured extensively by the Kawasaki and Mitsubishi dockyards.

Lead Mines of Spain and Britain were worked more than a thousand years before Christ.

Received Information

Editor Found Out Why Manuscript Showed Damage By Fire

Adventure sometimes comes closer to you than you imagine. Recently, for example, Roy Long, editor of Cosmopolitan Magazine, opened a manila envelope mailed a few days previously in San Francisco by Peter B. Kyne, containing the manuscript of two stories. When Long drew them out, he found them slightly damaged by fire. Noticing that the envelope, also somewhat burned, bore an air mail stamp, he wired National Air Transportation for information. Soon he got this reply:

"Accident near Curwensville, Pa. Pilot Henry J. Brown, carrying 1,421 pounds mail and express, leaving Cleveland 1:10 a.m. Motor failed to pick up quickly after switching from one gas tank to the other, causing descent into clouds and fog. Pilot jumped at altitude below 1,000 feet over Clearfield mountains landing safely, but 'plane burned. Postal Inspector McWin, Williamsport, superintended removal of eight pounds of salvaged mail and ashes."

Trees Sometimes Get Thin

Trees, like human beings, can get thin. But their loss in bulk has passed unnoticed until recently when extremely accurate instruments for measuring their girths have been available. These measurements show what scientists name "reversible variations" especially in tree trunks. Sometimes extremely small shrinkages occur.

Airplane Flight To Far North

Government 'Planes To Open Up Air Route In Sub-Arctic Areas

To inspect aeroplane supply caches in the Canadian sub-Arctic and with a view to opening up aerial communication routes in the Barren Lands belt, in the Northwest Territories, a special detachment of the two government seaplanes will leave Rockcliffe Aerodrome in the near future for an air tour which may extend over 25,000 miles, most of it over a little travelled country.

Flight Lieut. F. J. Mawdesley, of the civil aviation branch of the Department of National Defence, will be in charge and will pilot one of the two 'planes. Flight Sergt. H. J. Winny will pilot the other. In addition to the two pilots there will be two mechanics, Corporal S. C. Dearway, who will be the camera operator, and C. S. McDonald, inland surveyor of the topographical surveys.

The flight will be the first official government step toward the opening up of air lanes in the North West Territories. The majority of the trip will be in the vicinity of the Mackenzie River Basin, the Great Slave Lake area and northward to Coronation Gulf. The flight will also travel over that part of Canada lying to the west of Hudson Bay north of Churchill. With only a few exceptions all the caches to be inspected will be just to the south of the Arctic circle.

The detachment will return to Ottawa before the freeze-up.

SUMMER HEAT HARD ON BABY

No season of the year is so dangerous to the life of little ones as is the summer. The excessive heat throws the little stomach out of order so quickly that unless prompt aid is at hand, the baby may be beyond all human help before the mother realizes he is ill. Summer is the season when diarrhoea, cholera infantum, dysentery and colic are most prevalent. Any of these troubles may prove deadly if not promptly treated. During the summer the mothers' best friend is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach and keep baby healthy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from "The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

Edmonton Exhibition

Prize List Contains Regulations Regarding Surgical Treatment Of Show Animals

The Edmonton Exhibition prize list contains a regulation in the cattle section, that any animal exhibited, which has been so treated as to alter its natural conformation, will be disqualified. Competent veterinarians will examine the cattle to ensure the enforcement of this regulation. This is in line with the present wide agitation to eliminate the cutting of ties and the surgical or other treatment of show animals for show ring purposes.

It is the greatest asthma specific within the reach of suffering humanity.

French Evacuation Of the Rhine

Reports State That Departure Of Troops Was Somewhat Hurried

All was not so quiet and peaceful as official reports stated when the last French troops left Mainz and Wiesbaden recently, according to the Paris National organ, "La Liberte," which describes the departure under the headline of "violent incidents."

La Liberte says that, owing to hostile manifestations, booing and whistling by the crowd at the Mainz station, Gen. Guillaumat, commander-in-chief of the Rhine army, had drawn the blinds of the compartment occupied by himself and his staff. The newspaper also quotes a German newspaper story to the effect that the French troops covered the distance from their barracks to the railroad station in two minutes, whereas ten minutes was usually taken for the same march.

The Lokal Anzeiger calls it "precipitated departure."

Gen. Guillaumat himself, who arrived in Paris with the president of the inter-allied high commission, M. Tirard, declared the departure of the French troops was effected normally without any noticeable incident.

M. Tirard said: "We have given evidence of our confidence in the good faith of Germany. May it be understood and appreciated by the government and population of the Reich."

Four Doses Relieved Bad Attack of Cholera

Mr. W. J. Cooper, Maughan, Alta., writes:—"A year ago last spring I arrived in Canada with my family, and one of my boys, aged six, was suffering very much with cholera. When we arrived I had a few hours to wait, and told one of the attendants at the station about it, and he asked me if I had ever tried Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. I had never heard of it in England, so he told me I could get it in Winnipeg. I was pleased to say I had only to give the child four doses and he got well and was quite cheerful by the next morning."

VICEROY WOULD DEAL WITH FIRM HAND IN INDIA

Simla, India.—A fight to the finish with the civil disobedience movement was promised by the viceroy of India, Lord Irwin, in his address to the Indian legislature at Simla.

"As long as civil disobedience persists we must fight it with all our strength," Lord Irwin said. "I believe the right and best solution to the riddle of India will be found only in Britain and India joining together in the search."

Lord Irwin bitterly denounced the civil disobedience method of procedure instituted by Mahatma Gandhi, now jailed. He said it was a "deliberate attempt to coerce established authority by mass action."

"It, therefore, on account of its natural and inevitable developments, must be regarded as unconstitutional and dangerously subversive. Mass action, even if the promoters intend it to be non-violent, is nothing but the application of force under another form. And when it avowedly is intended to make government impossible, the government is bound either to resist or abdicate."

The present movement is exactly analogous to a general strike in an industrial country intended to coerce the government by mass pressure instead of argument."

In reference to the Simon commission's report on India and the proposed round table conference in London next autumn, Lord Irwin said:

"The responsibility of expressing a considered opinion has now passed to the government of India—and just as the Simon commission would have failed in its duty to parliament if it had not presented a report reflecting faithfully its own conclusions as members of the British Parliament, so the government of India would fail in its duty if, similarly, it did not approach a consideration of the commission's report with complete liberty of judgment."

Claim Of Rancher Earl Is Confirmed

Earldom Of Egmont Belongs To Alberta Man Says Judge

London, England.—Mr. Justice Eve in Chancery Division of the supreme court confirmed the claim of Frederick Trevelyan Perceval, former Alberta rancher, to the title and estates of the Earldom of Egmont.

His Lordship confirmed the decision made four weeks ago by the Master of the Chancery, P. W. Vandeler, who found the claims of Robert Poinall, retired optician, and James William Perceval, baker, should be dismissed.

Mr. Justice Eve granted a declaration that the "rancher earl" was entitled to the monies in the hands of the trustees, subject to trusts of settlements, and that the trustees should make a vesting charge in favor of Perceval.

Testing Out Glider

Flight Across Atlantic May Be Attempted Later

New York.—A wireless message from the liner "Saturia" revealed that the glider "Clairborne Foster" stayed in the air for eight hours, believed to be the longest ocean flight ever made in a towed glider.

The glider, named for the Broadway actress who is sponsoring the venture, is being taken to Gibraltar for an attempted east-west flight across the ocean behind a ship. On the eastward voyage practice flights are being made by the youthful owners, Hugh Keavney and Robert Lewis.

Population Of Prince Albert

Prince Albert, Sask.—Local civic officials and members of civic boost organizations are claiming a population of 12,000 for Prince Albert, the voters' lists having shown there are 4,755 voters within the boundaries of the city. This new total is based on the contention that the number of those entitled to cast a vote is generally about one-third of the population.

Labor Government Escapes Defeat

Have Slim Majority On Critical Division In British House

London, England.—MacDonald Labor Government escaped defeat by the slim majority of three votes in a critical division in the House of Commons on the finance bill. It was the smallest majority in this government's career, which was sustained by eight votes two months ago on the coal mines bill and lost a vote on a minor clause of the coal bill before that.

The vote was against an amendment moved by Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, the Liberal leader, under which profits spent upon modernization or improvements of plants or machinery would be rendered exempt from income tax.

Although it was the Liberal leader who sought the amendment which met adamant opposition from the chancellor of the exchequer, it was some of the Liberals who saved the government and further weakened the oftbroken solidarity of the Liberal party in the House. Four Liberals voted with the Labor government. They were D. Simon, of the Withington division of Manchester; Sir William Edge, Leicester; Sir Robert Hutchison and Percy A. Harris, Bethnal Green. Beside these, several Liberals, including Sir Godfrey Collins and Sir Donald McLean, abstained from voting.

Milling Qualities Excellent

Millers In Britain Are Enthusiastic Over Garnet Wheat

Ottawa, Ont.—Considerable enthusiasm was expressed among millers of Great Britain and on the continent who investigated Garnet wheat as to its milling qualities. A report by L. H. Newman, Dominion cerealist, on the result of the investigations of specially bagged shipment of this blend of wheat overseas has been made public. For a time at least Garnet should be shipped as a separate variety, instead of mixed with Manitobas. This would give the millers an opportunity of knowing the variety they were dealing with and they could treat it to the best advantage.

The Federal Department of Agriculture decided to submit Garnet to test by millers in the United Kingdom, and in different European countries. A year ago 6,700 bushels were shipped overseas to men expert in milling to obtain their opinions as to its suitability. These men were asked a series of questions, and Mr. Newman's report includes the replies they made.

Ban On U.S. Apples

Order Issued By British Government Effective Between July 7 and November 15th

Toronto, Ont.—A. M. Wiseman, British trade commissioner for Canada in Ontario, has received official information from the British government of an order just issued, prohibiting the importation of raw apples from the United States into the United Kingdom between July 7 and November 15.

Exceptions to the ban are: in barrels, United States fancy and United States No. 1; in boxes, extra fancy and fancy. These must be accompanied by certificates signed by an authorized inspector of the United States department of agriculture.

It is learned that the embargo may be due to a fruit fly known as the "railroad borer," which is not believed to exist in England.

Had Narrow Escape

Markinch, Sask.—J. E. Burke, local agent for the North Star Grain Elevator Company, narrowly escaped being buried alive here when a grain bin in the elevator, next to the one he had been cleaning, burst open, just as he had climbed out, pouring several tons of wheat into the space he had just vacated.

Had the breakage occurred but a few moments sooner, it is probable that Burke would have been hopelessly trapped in the bin, with little, if any, chance of getting out.

Boy Scout Jamboree

First Official Jamboree Ever Held In Canada Staged At Prince Albert National Park

Prince Albert.—First boy scout jamboree ever held in Canada was officially opened in Prince Albert National Park, with 476 scouts answering the roll-call. Situated on beautiful Lake Waskesiu, the site selected for the camp is ideal in every way. "Big Beach," nearly half a mile long, paved with clear, white sand, and curving out to Prospect Point, offers fine bathing facilities, combined with perfect safety.

Waskesiu Beach, the park headquarters and the site of the western summer home owned by Premier Mackenzie King, is a government motor camp, equipped with kitchen shelters, open fireplaces, life-saving equipment, warden's quarters, service and filling stations.

Crooks Displace Decent Men

Given Election Posts In Chicago Despite Records

Chicago, Ill.—Throwing an illuminating light upon Chicago election disorders and the ability of known crooks to get into public life, from minor positions to the state senate and the bench, a supplemental petition has been filed before County Judge Edmund V. Maguire.

The petition names 211 men and women, alleged to have police and criminal records, who have been appointed as election judges and clerks. This petition, signed by a large number of reputable voters, follows one filed last month in which 275 judges and clerks were named as having police or prison records. Men and women judges and clerks with clean records were displaced to make room for the list handed in by the political bosses, it is asserted.

The initial order for silverware for the new Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, in New York, calls for 100,000 pieces.

Would Halt Immigration

President Beatty Of the C.P.R. Would Put Check On Entries From U.S. and Europe

Toronto, Ont.—Immigration from the United States and Europe should be stopped for the time being at least, said E. W. Beatty, K.C., president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, in an interview here. Mr. Beatty would not include on the ban, however, "those British immigrants who bring their own capital and can proceed under their own steam."

"Unemployment is bad in the building trades, I think, because the usual projectors of big buildings are holding back until the wheat situation clears up. But if we have a normal crop this year and it moves out in a normal way, which it should, unless there is a permanent resistance in Europe, which I doubt, the situation in Canada should clear up," said Mr. Beatty.

Proposed Power Line

Plan To Produce Power For Saskatchewan Being Considered

Prince Albert.—A proposal by interests of eastern Canada and the United States for expenditures of $4,500,000 on construction of a power project at what is known as "The Horseshoe Bend" on the Saskatchewan River, is under consideration of the Saskatchewan Government.

The site for the proposed harnessing of the river, which would produce power for distribution throughout the province, is 35 miles east of Prince Albert.

It was said here that the Fraser Brace Engineering Company of Montreal, and Rollins and Sons, Boston, are backing the scheme. It is considered development of northern Saskatchewan's pulpwood resources would follow completion of the project.

For Poultry Congress

Exhibits From Brandon District Now On The Way To Big Show

Brandon.—An exhibit of live poultry from the Brandon district is now on its way to the World's Poultry Congress, being held in London, England, this month.

Thirteen of the 50 birds going from Manitoba were contributed by exhibitors in the district. Mrs. Jos. Woods sent three Black Orpingtons; Jas. Clarke, three Black Wyandottes; John Windover, pair of White Chinese geese; the provincial exhibition pair of Canada wild geese; Roger Morrison, a Barred Rock cock; Mrs. John Mumby, a white turkey tom, and Mrs. A. M. MacPherson, a white turkey hen. There are to be about 1,000 birds from all Canada at the show in London.

Expects Heavy Crop

Saskatoon.—Third generation Marquis wheat is standing four feet high on the farm of Henry W. Fisher, at Hague, Sask., north of here, and the heads are about four inches in length. If nothing happens to it, Fisher expects his 50-acre crop to go over 40 bushels to the acre.

U. S. SENATOR SAYS TRADE WITH CANADA IS KILLED

Washington.—Senator George G. Georgia, in a statement issued recently through the Democratic National Committee, assailed the administration for "strangling Canadian trade with the greediest tariff bill ever enacted." The tariff, he said, "has squeezed more than a protesting squawk out of our northern neighbor and best customer."

"Unwittingly or not it has made the Smoot-Hawley-Grundy tariff an important issue in the forthcoming general election in Canada, to which country, in 1929, we exported $948,000,000 worth of commodities, and from which we imported the same year shipments to the sum of $502,000,000—a trade balance of $445,000,000 in our favor.

"Obviously the loss or the serious curtailment of our trade with the Dominion of Canada is no trifling incident. On the contrary, it presents proportions which, in time, may assume aspects that will have to be treated as an economic calamity.

"Figures compiled in the department of commerce confirm the fact that when the president approved the Smoot-Hawley-Grundy tariff act he killed the proverbial goose that lays the golden eggs with one stroke of his pen.

"It is to be regretted that efforts to promote friendly relations with our neighbors are not supported by liberal trade policies."

Investigate Butter Prices

Charge Made That Combine Exists Amongst Certain Produce Companies

Ottawa, Ont.—Charges that a combine exists amongst certain produce companies with a view to depressing the price of butter to the producers may be ventilated under the Combines Investigation Act, at least in one section of Canada, if the representations of Jean Francois Pouloit, former Liberal member of Parliament for Temiskaming, Que., are prosecuted to their ultimate stages.

In a communication to Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Labor, was enclosed a copy of a newspaper circulating in his constituency wherein the assertion is made that the wholesale dealers "keep the market prices low when they purchase butter and accumulate it in cold storage for some time, selling it at an exorbitant price to the consumer later."

They thus deprive the farmer of his legitimate profits, says Mr. Pouloit.

The former member asked the minister to intervene under the Combines Investigation Act.

Disastrous Forest Fires

Loss In Northern Saskatchewan During Three Months $138,929

Prince Albert, Sask.—Forest wealth of more than $138,929 went up in smoke in the fire ravages in Northern Saskatchewan from April 1 to June 30, Dominion forestry office revealed. This figure covers only 195 of the 225 fires reported in this period, but it includes the major conflagrations.

Including the disastrous fire at Birch Bark Lake, 171,627 acres were burned over by the fires; 17,723,000 board feet salvable saw timber burned, and 3,033,000 board feet destroyed. Sixty-five thousand of the 108,388 cords of fuel and pulpwood in fire areas are salvable. Causes of the fires are summarized as follows: Settlers, 91; campers and travellers, 43; incendiary, 34; railways, 14; smokers, 6; unknown, 5; lightning, 1, and lumbering 1.

Marksmen At 78

Bisley Camp, England.—Sergt. MacKay, of Scotland, is 78 years of age. He won the King's prize, classic for Empire marksmen—though it was called the Queen's prize then—back in 1883. But if anybody thinks he is losing his keen eye and steady hand he has only to point to the score card he hung up at the Bisley meet recently—six consecutive bull's eyes at 200 yards.

TWINS TAKE LONG TRIP

June and George Hunt, two-year-old Lancashire twins, sailed recently on a six-thousand-mile trip from Liverpool to Britannia, British Columbia, on board the Canadian Pacific liner "Duchess of Atholl." George looks as though quite capable of defending sister June and faces the world with the air of one ready for all hazards. However, Canadian Pacific officials, both on the ship and the railway, smoothed the way for the tots and their trip was one long playtime to the two of them.

Big business is travelling by telephone

The head of a large Vancouver contracting concern keeps in regular touch with his company's Montreal office, nearly 4,000 miles away, by long-distance telephone.

This is an example of how business men more and more are taking advantage of the telephone speed that conquers time and space to convey important messages to distant point.

Instead of writing a letter and waiting for a reply a few words over the telephone quickly and effectively disposed of the matter at hand.

CRESTON, B.C., FRIDAY, JULY 18

HOME BREW

Pretty general is the surprise expressed concerning the fuss Conservative orators in West Kootenay are making over the registration of a couple of dozen Canadian born Doukhobors as voters at Brilliant. The Doukhobors are among the jobless—and are about the only ones likely to vote for Esling in the innocent belief that Mr. Bennett has a policy that will relieve unemployment.

A considerable controversy has arisen in these parts over the exact wording of a certain sentence in a letter that redoubtable Scot, Geordie Davie, put in a letter to a friend in the land of brown heath and shaggy wood, in telling of his intended removal to Rossland. One side of the argument has it that Geordie wrote it, "Good; by god I'm going to Rossland." But the others insist it was phrased, "Goodbye, God; I'm going to Rossland." Nothing less than a four-verse gem from the pen of the veteran himself will effectively settle the question. Och, aye.

Speaking at Port Arthur, Ont., recently, Hon. W. Finlayson, a minister in the Ferguson (Conservative) government in that eastern province, said, "I don't like any man who deserted Canada during the war; I don't like any man who made his money from the Rockfellers and United States, when many of us had to give up what we had." If Mr. Bennett is to be enumerated as one of those who had "to give up what he had" during the war, the opposition leader should indeed be grateful to the present Liberal government and the policies adopted the past few years. To-day Mr. Bennett is rated as being worth at least twelve millions of dollars.

In those advices W. K. Esling would lead us to believe he is getting from eastern Canada telling of the great gains for the Conservative cause. It would be interesting to know if any mention is made of some really notable desertions from the Tory ranks. For instance what is wrong down east when J. H. Burnham, a former Conservative member for Peterboro, and J. J. Carriek, a Conservative member for Port Arthur, are both out campaigning for the Liberals. Mr. Carriek is running as Liberal candidate in the constituency he one time represented as a Conservative, and Mr. Burnham is just as active in supporting the Liberal cause in his old riding. And by the way, Peterboro is one of the liveliest industrial centres in all Ontario. Surely the Liberal policy has much to commend it when these former followers of Mr. Bennett have found it necessary to openly repudiate him in this all important campaign.

Over in East Kootenay where M. D. McLean, a coal mine pit boss from Michel is Conservative candidate, the voters are strongly urged to elect him because he knows the coal business and can help with firsthand information in shaping a policy that will save that industry from ruin. If this argument is worth anything might we suggest that in West Kootenay everyone should vote for Dan McLean, a man off a Nova Scotia farm, who came west many years ago on a harvesters' excursion, has been a working man ever since. Certainly he should be splendidly posted to develop a sane policy to help the unemployed, which the Conservatives assert is the big issue in this campaign.

Considerable is heard in this campaign about a "lack of sincerity on the part of the government," but neither Mr. Esling or Mr. Bennett can escape condemnation on identically the same charge. These Tory stalwarts are doing their utmost to fool the people into believing that the latter has a policy to relieve unemployment. If this is the case one naturally asks why did not Mr. Bennett submit the remedy when employment was occupying so much attention during the 1930 session of the Dominion house. The fact that he failed to do so indicates that he has no policy in this regard. And the Review has no hesitation in saying that in the whole district there is not a responsible Conservative who believes Mr. Bennett can solve a problem that Tory and Labor governments in Great Britain have unsuccessfully dealt with for the last ten years. On unemployment Mr. Esling is shrewd enough to go no further than to "believe" Mr. Bennett has a policy that will save the day. There are still some people who "believe" there is a Santa Claus.

It is wonderful the indignation Tory speakers in West Kootenay are expressing over recent misdeeds of the Sons of Freedom section of the Doukhobors, and indirectly suggesting that the Dominion Government, which allows all immigration into Canada, ought to do something. These Tory platform experts may be fooling some inconsiderable part of the populace with their firey declamations, but most of us are wondering when the administration at Victoria is going to step out and make the Doukhobors obey the law. Very definite assurances in this connection were given by Tolmie, Pooley et al prior to July, 1928, but up to the present no positive effort has been made to curb recent outbreaks by these fanatics. A little less jawsmithing by Conservative spellbinders and a whole lot more effort at law enforcement would be appreciated by all.

A very striking and commendable plan to commemorate the installation of irrigation in the east Creston and Erickson districts has been hit upon in the decision to erect a monument peculiarly appropriate to such an undertaking at such a likely location in the irrigated area, and the enterprise of the B.C. Concrete Company in so effectively co-operating in this final phase of the project cannot be too highly admired. To fittingly round off the affair the Review hopes some sort of celebration will be arranged in connection with unveiling and turning over of the monument to the safe keeping of the irrigation district trustees. And if at all possible the doings should certainly include something for the youngsters. A committee of property owners and trustees should at once get busy on an oldtime picnic or something of the sort with the customary dinner at which customary approval can be voiced of the services of all who have been in any way connected with this all important development. Everywhere the deepest sympathy is expressed with Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Staples, who are mourning the death of their third son, Clarence, who passed away in the hospital at Calgary, Alberta, on Saturday morning after a brief illness. Deceased, was a graduate of Creston public school and was a student at the local high school at the time the family moved to Kelowna to reside about three years ago, going to Calgary about a year ago where he was employed with the fruit firm of C. H. Robinson & Company. At school and in business life deceased gave much promise for the future and his passing at the early age of nineteen comes as a sad blow to the many who knew and respected him. The remains were taken to Kelowna on Sunday where burial took place on Tuesday.

The Drugstore is a Vital Necessity

Just what do you expect of your druggist? You want something—almost anything—a book or stationery—maybe a cigar or newspaper—likely you think of the drugstore. Someone is accidentally hurt on the street—take him to the drugstore for first aid—is your first thought—and a dozen other things! These courtesies you may now take as commonplace as the DUTY of your druggist. Then—when it comes to your purchases of face powder, toilet articles, patent medicines, toilet soap or those many things your druggist knows so well—let the druggist be your first thought. He is capable of serving you in the trivial or grave things of life, for he knows your needs and trusts you to return his courtesies with your confidence. Trained in college—skilled in experience—your druggist is your health's best friend.

UNCOOKED SALAD DRESSING

Warm weather and plenty of vegetables combine to make the tempting salad a frequent dish on the menu. The secret of a delightful salad is the dressing and here is the recipe for an uncooked salad dressing that will be relished by every member of the family — and it can be made up quickly, and, once made, it will keep for weeks:

- 2 eggs.
- 1 teaspoonful salt.
- 1 teaspoonful mustard.
- 1 cup vinegar.
- 1 can Eagle Brand Milk.

Beat vigorously all ingredients except vinegar, for a few minutes. Add vinegar, stir well and set aside for a few hours to thicken.

Plans To Visit the Moon

Scientist Has Perfected Model Of a Rocket That Will Make Trip

At Horst, a little bathing place on the Baltic, Professor Oberth has been very busy of late perfecting an exact model of the rocket in which he intends visiting the moon. This model rocket is to be shot up by the explosion of the gas it contains and instruments concealed in it will record the composition of the atmosphere through which it travels. An automatic parachute will bring the rocket down again when the motors are exhausted. The rocket-model is expected to reach a height of 100 kilometers and to bring back valuable secrets.

IT'S SMART AND WEARABLE

A sporty frock of yellow and white printed linen boasts of its plaited skirt treatment.

It has the smartly belted waistline like the grown-ups are wearing, that achieves a pinched-in effect.

A large yellow bone button attracts attention to the tab closing of bodice with interesting cap sleeves.

The back is quite straight and slender.

Style No. 3444 is simplicity itself to make. It can be had in sizes 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. For the miss of 8 years, 1 1/2 yards of 39-inch material with 1/4 yard of 39-inch contrasting is sufficient to copy it exactly.

The two-piece skirt is merely pressed into box-plait effect and attached to the bodice. Patch pockets stitched at edge of plait, secure a snug hipline, to keep its line slender.

It's so attractive in white cotton broadcloth printed in sailor blue polka-dots with cap sleeves, belt and pockets of plain blue.

Shantung is stunning in opal-pink shade.

Tub silks in baby blue or baby pink tones is just the cutest idea ever that promises to be very popular this summer for beach and country wear.

Nile green and white pique print worn with green leather belt is smart.

Yellow-beige and brown stripe in men's cotton shirting fabric is very effective with the cap sleeves and pockets cut on the bias and worn with brown leather belt.

Printed dimity, printed handkerchief lawn and gingham checks also appropriate.

Price 25 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred).

Takes First Glider Lesson

Prince Of Wales Coached By Famous German Pilot

The Prince of Wales has taken his first glider lesson.

The lesson was given near Lewes, Sussex, by Robert Kronfeld, a German, who is reputed to be the world's champion glider pilot. It consisted chiefly of a demonstration as how to operate the glider, and it was understood the prince did not actually pilot the ship.

The prince long has been an enthusiastic aviator and is reputed to be an excellent pilot, although for reasons of state he is never permitted to make solo flights. He always is accompanied on his flights by one of the best Royal Air Force pilots, but the prince handles the controls except when taking off or landing on strange or difficult landing fields.

Montreal Has Grown Rapidly

Is Now Fifth Largest City On the Continent

Few cities in Canada have shown such substantial growth as Montreal. Within a decade the total assessable property has doubled in value and is now $1,200,000,000. In 1914 the population was 625,000; today there are a million people in the city proper. In 1914 there were 153 miles of streets and today there are 600 miles. The municipal revenue, which in 1914 was $10,500,000, is now $36,750,000. Montreal has reached the rank of the fifth largest city on the continent.

Kept Appointment

Four Men Keep Tryst Started 31 Years Ago

Keeping a tryst started 31 years ago, four men met in Trafalgar Square, London, England, on a recent night. In 1899 six young decorative artists, H. E. Hansfield, G. MacDonald, G. Clifton, E. Bite, Brown and Edwards, were notified that the studio in which they worked was to be razed. They then made a vow to meet once a year. This year only Mansfield, MacDonald, Clifton and Bite were able to attend, but the two absent ones sent telegraphic greetings to their friends.

Agricultural Conventions

Efforts will be made to bring as many large agricultural conventions as possible to the west at the time of the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference, in Regina, in 1932. According to a decision at a committee session, such conventions will be invited to meet directly prior to or following the show, in cities other than Regina. Delegates will thus be able to attend Regina session.

MOSES "A COURAGEOUS LEADER"

Golden Text: "By faith he forsook Egypt, not fearing the wrath of the king; for he endured, as seeing Him who is invisible."—Hebrews 11:27.

Lesson: Exodus 1:8-14; 2:1-22; 3:1-14; 11:1-10; 32:30-35; Deuteronomy 34:1-8; Hebrews 11:23-29.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 90:12-17.

Explanations and Comments

The Call of Moses, verses 1-10. — The summons to become the leader of his people, deliver them from oppression in Egypt and bring them forth on their way to the Promised Land, came to Moses as, in his care of the flock of his father-in-law, Jethro, the priest of Midian, he wandered from the back of the wilderness (that is, the west; the east is always the front), to Horeb, the mountain of God. There before the bush that burned and yet was not consumed, Moses heard God speaking to him. Just as the account of the temptation of Christ in the wilderness must have come from Christ Himself, and is his pictorial way of portraying His inner experience, so the account of the call of Moses in the wilderness must have been told by Moses himself, and may have been given by him in this pictorial way. The burning bush may have been an outward representation of an inward experience—the flame of enthusiasm for a great cause. Be that as it may, it is assuredly true that Moses had the power to see the divine origin of the glowing beauty of the bush; he was able to see God in the things of everyday life.

"Moses stood before an ordinary bush, and he became aware of God; Jeremiah stood before a budding almond tree while all around was dead, and he became aware of God; Wordsworth stood before a little primrose on a rock, and it became to him the court of the Deity."—J. H. Jowett.

"Draw not nigh hither; put off thy shoes (sandals) from off thy feet, for the place whereon thou standest is holy ground." Recall Jacob's sense of God's presence at Bethel and the holiness of the place.

"Earth's crowned with heaven, and every common bush afire with God; But only he who sees, takes off his shoes; The rest sit round it and pluck blackberries."—Mrs. Browning.

With a new flash of insight Moses knew that God was calling him to a stupendous task, that it was God's will that he should return to Egypt and accomplish the deliverance of the enslaved Israelites. All this is expressed in the words of verses 7-9.

Building Permits

Building permits issued by 61 cities in Canada during May of this year were valued at $19,621,302. For the first five months of 1930 the total value of building permits issued by these cities had a value of $65,267,996.

Reciprocal Trade

British Bankers In Favor Of Free Trade Within the Empire

Reciprocal trade agreements between the nations comprising the British Empire and the retention of an open market for Empire products was urged in a resolution adopted recently by representatives of several leading British banks meeting in the offices of Hambro's Bank, London, England. The meeting was presided over by Sir Eric Hambro.

"Urgent measures for the promotion of inter-Imperial trade are needed to secure and extend the market for British products, both at home and through export trade," the resolution read. "Bitter experience has taught Britain, that hopes expressed four years ago in the plea for removal of restrictions upon European trade have failed. Restrictions have been materially increased and the sale of surplus foreign products in British markets has steadily grown. While we retain hope for the ultimate extension of free trade worldwide, we believe the immediate step for securing and extending the market for British goods lies in reciprocal trade agreements between the nations of the British Empire. As a condition of securing these agreements Britain must retain an open market for all Empire products while being prepared to impose duties on all imports from other countries."

London Traffic Project

Scheme To Construct Underground Lines For Transportation Of Goods

A scheme is on hand to make possible the removal of goods traffic from London streets. It consists of the construction of underground lines, with fifty-four stations, for the sole purpose of carrying goods. The promoters are anxious to build seventy-five miles of tubes at a cost of about $200,000,000. All the principal railway termini and goods yards would be connected; the docks, wharves, and public stores would have their private stations. It is said that 125,000,000 tons of goods are carried annually in London, and the trade of the Port of London amounts to $144,000,000 a year. According to the promoters of the new scheme the cost of existing congestion in the streets is $120,000,000 per annum, while the railways have estimated at $300,000 a year the amount of money they lose by the detention of goods lorries at Billingsgate Market alone.

"Since the hair itself appears to have been dipped in star dust," was the gallant response, "their absence is not noticeable."

"You are a base flatterer," declared Charmian, and turned away, thereby transforming what had been "the gold bar of heaven" into a plain New England window sill!

But the doctor liked his fancy, and Grandma, who had become accustomed to the appellation, merely smiled. Then her face sobered, and she replied: "You've noticed it, too, sonny?"

He nodded, saying thoughtfully: "Something's gone out of her. For lack of a better word we'll call it pep. She seems on edge. Last night I ventured to ask if she didn't feel well, and—she took my head off!"

He grinned at the memory, while Grandma chuckled as she admitted: "Sometimes she gets that way. Charmian's a good girl, but she's no saint, and I'm glad of it. She's human like all the Davises. I'll tell you what's the matter, Doctor, but you mustn't ever let on I spoke of it. It's Jimmy Bennett."

John Carter didn't suspect that Grandma's wise old eyes were watching to see how this would strike him. His head lifted suddenly, as if her words surprised him, and he echoed: "Bennett! You mean she—"

"I don't mean anything of the sort," she interrupted. "All I mean is that before Jim went away Charmian did something that hurt his feelings. She misjudged him; and when she found out her mistake she felt just terribly. So she wrote him a letter. I don't know what she said, but it took two stamps so she must have said considerable. That was all of a month ago, and he's never answered. For two weeks she hasn't mentioned a word about it; but you can depend upon it, that's just what's ailing her now."

John Carter looked thoughtfully into space until Grandma gently reminded him that his lunch was getting cold. He seemed to pull himself back from somewhere at her words, and said: "Letters sometimes go astray, Grandma. Didn't she hear from him at Christmas?"

"Only a card. Not—not what you'd call a real affectionate card, either."

Summer Strains

For all the strains the flesh is heir to during the summer months—use Minard's. Popular for fifty years.

N. U. 1846

The doctor laughed, though his eyes still looked troubled.

"I bet there's some explanation," he insisted as he resumed his meal. "I don't think Bennett liked me particularly; but it struck me that he'd be a darned nice chap if only he'd knock the chip off his shoulder."

"Jimmy's the salt of the earth," said Grandma loyally.

"And he's in love with Charmian," added the doctor.

"Always has been," said the old lady, "and in my opinion the only reason she's not in love with him is because he's always been too close. She's never had a chance to get—well, a sort of bird's-eye view of him, so to speak, and see what a splendid boy he is. She's used to him, same as she's used to the kitchen range and the front door; and I'll say for Jim that he's been every bit as useful to her as they have! I miss him like anything."

"From all appearances I should say that your granddaughter misses him, too," ventured John Carter, as he took Grandma's empty plate and proceeded to bring the desert that Charmian had prepared. "Are you sure the letter was addressed properly?"

"That's my one hope," said Grandma, brightening. "Lizzie Baker was in yesterday and said she had a card from Sarah Bennett a week ago, and they were off somewhere on a trip, all three of 'em. I told Charmian, and seemed to me she was more cheerful for a while. This is a good pie, isn't it? Charmian got up early and made it before breakfast."

"She's no business to do such things!" declared John Carter. "She needs more sleep. Look here, Grandma, does it make things harder for her—my being here?"

"My stars, no! Maybe she gets a little more food ready for noontime; but it's an awful comfort having you look after the furnace, sonny, to say nothing of the times you drop in to speak to me. Charmian said just yesterday that she didn't see how she could keep the school without you being here. Don't you get fretting over that. Take another piece of pie, Doctor. It'll please Charmian to think you liked it. She's a real good cook, isn't she? She says if the school board turns her down next year she'll get a job at the hotel!"

"When she does," retorted the doctor, helping himself to a second generous slice, "I'll take my meals there!"

"You needn't bother to wash the dishes," said Grandma, when their luncheon over, the young man started to clear the table. "Some way it never seemed right to me for you to pay for a meal and then clear up afterward. You leave 'em be."

The doctor threw her a smile, but continued at his task nevertheless, explaining as he filled the dish pan with hot water: "You forget the reduced price at which I eat. It was in the contract that I clean up when I had time; and so far as I know a call to South Wickfield is the only prospect for this afternoon."

"Maybe if Ezra brings Jim's letter you could leave it at the school as you go by," suggested Grandma.

"Sure!" he replied with cheer. "I meant to time things so I could stop for Charmian on the way back. I think she's grown thin on the exercise she talks of needing—at least, she's looked so this last week. I'll run in from the office before I start, Grandma, and see if the letter's here."

"Thanks, sonny. Ezra comes early in the afternoons. It's real good of him to come at all. We aren't on his route, being right here in town this way. He says maybe it's against the law for an R.F.D. man to stop on Main Street, but if 'tis, he's not going to find out! He saves Charmian a walk to the post office every night, and we appreciate it. Just hang that dish towel behind the stove. It'll freeze stiff if you put it out today."

"Well," murmured the old lady to herself, when John Carter had escorted her back to her place by the window and gone out to his office, "I don't quite what to make of that young man. He looked the least mite startled when I told him Jim Bennett was what was worrying Charmian; but after that one minute he was natural as life, and he didn't seem to mind when I asked him to carry her Jim's letter if it came today. I can't make out whether he's trying to act square to Jimmy, or—"

Grandma stopped abruptly, peering from the window, and then said: "Here comes Lizzie Baker. She's got on her ulster, and her old milk fur piece on top o' the lavender scarf

Many Boils on neck. Doctor said Lizzo tried Boils O.G. Overnight. Boils vanished overnight. C. T. Scott, Scotia, Sars. Boils gone in a minute. Boils gone in few hours. At all druggists.

that Mrs. Merry knit her for a Christmas gift. I'm sick to death of that fur since the moths got into it and ate a piece out o' the back. I hoped she'd stop wearing it when Mrs. Merry gave her the scarf, but she'd as soon think of leaving it home after the first o' November, as she would of leaving her false teeth. She's coming in. Hello, Lizzie! What's up today?"

"I wish the mercury was up," replied Miss Lizzie, as she dropped the fur onto the table and began to unwind the scarf. "It's only six above zero, and what it'll be by sundown the Lord knows. I wanted to run in this morning, Grandma, but I didn't have a chance. Just as I put my bread in the oven Luella Moore Purdie come over and made me burn it. I clean forgot all about it, she talked so fast. She'd been having words with the deacon and wanted to let off steam. She never was one to keep her affairs private. Seems that Edgar wants to sell her house over to South Wickfield, and invest the money to better advantage; but Luella says she's going to keep it for a refuge."

"She may need a refuge before she gets through with Edgar Purdie," responded Grandma. "Sit down, Lizzie. Take off your coat or you'll never be able to squeeze into that rocker."

Miss Lizzie obeyed, remarking on how warm and comfortable the house was.

"You're lucky to have a man on the place, Grandma; not that I miss what I've never had, but the older I get the harder it is to keep real comfortable without help. Yes, Luella was het up. She'd read somewhere that city folks have what they call trial marriages—if they get sick o' their bargain they just split up. She told the deacon hers was that kind, and he called her a wanton! She said if ever such a word passed his lips again, she'd clear out."

"Do tell!" ejaculated Grandma. "It must have been a fight."

"I guess 'twas. No wonder I burned the bread, hearing her tell about it. Gam Garfield may have a law suit on his hands yet! Dear me suz! that's news enough for one day. Grandma, but it's not all. I had a letter from Sarah Bennett, and you'd never guess what she's up and done. She's bought a fruit farm out in California!"

"Good land!" cried Grandma. "Has she lost her mind, or is Jimmy going to run it for her, the farm, I mean? Jim couldn't run his mother's mind if he was to try till Gabriel blows his trumpet."

"It's more likely that she runs his," replied Miss Lizzie. "George K. told Jim that he could have his old place at the bank whenever he wanted it again; but it looks now like he'd never come back. I suppose they'll need him 'round the farm. You don't have to milk fruit trees, but I presume a man would come in handy just the same; and Sarah'd never let Jim come back to Wickfield without her, you can depend on that."

Miss Lizzie rocked violently for a minute, while Grandma appeared to be gazing into the street.

"Sarah Bennett's gone daft over"

Read How This Medicine Helps Her

Cardston, Alberta—"I am fifty-eight years old and the mother of eighteen living children. We live on a farm and I am a very healthy mother considering that I have such a big family to work for. The druggist first told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have depended on it for many years. When I had this picture taken, the photographer was telling me about his wife's ailments and after I told him about the Vegetable Compound he went to the drug store and bought her two bottles."—MRS. California," continued the caller, having caught her breath. "She says she feels like a new woman; and that she's missed Sophie something dreadful all these years without hardly knowin' it. Seems that Sophie's wanted a fruit farm for years and years. She knows all about the business, and they've gone into a sort of partnership, Sarah providin' the money, I presume, and Sophie the brains. And here's the queerest thing yet, Grandma: She never said one word about Jim, or what's to be done with her fine house here in Wickfield! Don't that beat all?"

To Rival the Zeppelins

Germany Planning Giant Airplane To Challenge Dirigibles

An airplane company in Berlin plan to make a giant airplane of the "flying wing" type—that is, without a body, everything being carried inside the wings—as a challenge to dirigibles. It will carry 120 passengers, with a "pay load" of 21 tons, and will have a cruising range of 5,000 miles. It will have Diesel engines, burning crude oil.

The world will welcome a test of this kind. So far, the Zeppelins have had a monopoly among big craft carrying many passengers, and have been the only trustworthy trans-Atlantic flyers. They have the great advantage of being self-supporting in the air, whether their motors are going or not.

The airplane though, has its peculiar advantages, the chief of them being speed. The dirigible may be blown back, or out of its course, by a gale. A plane can drive through a gale.

Dirigibles find it hard to cross the North Atlantic because of prevailing head winds, although by turning toward the equator they can swim ahead in the trade winds, as Columbus did. Planes with enough motive power, and enough size for steadiness may solve the problem for direct routes between Europe and North America.

Nine Daily Foreign Papers in Canada

Chinese Have Four, Japs Two, Jews Two, and Finns One

There are nine daily newspapers in Canada, the Soo Star points out, which are not printed in either English or French. Victoria and Vancouver have one Chinese daily each, and Toronto has two; Vancouver has two Jap dailies; Winnipeg and Toronto have each a Jewish daily and Sudbury prints one in Finnish. There are in addition some 33 weekly papers not printed in either English or French. The claimed circulations of these run from 1,850 to 20,000. Winnipeg prints about half of them although Montreal, Toronto, Vancouver and Edmonton are well represented.

Miller's Worm Powders are sweet and palatable to children, who show no hesitancy in taking them. They will certainly bring worm troubles to an end. They are a strengthening and stimulating medicine, correcting the disorders of digestion that the worms cause and imparting a healthy tone to the system most beneficial to development.

Built To Fit

A boat much larger than the stream in which it floats is a very common sight in certain parts of China. Junks navigate with ease these ribbon-like interior canals. These boats, whose superstructure is strikingly large, often hang over the banks of the canals, through which they pass. The bottom of the craft is small enough to "fit into" the stream.

No child should be allowed to suffer an hour from worms when prompt relief can be got in a simple but strong remedy—Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator.

First Apples Exported

The first apples exported from Nova Scotia are said to have been shipped by sailing vessel from Halifax to Liverpool in 1849, the price realized being $2 per barrel. In 1886 a shipment of 700 barrels was made by schooner to Boston, U.S.A., the price realized being $2.5 per barrel.

Little Helps For This Week

"And thine ears shall hear a word behind thee, saying, 'This is the way, walk ye in it.'—Isaiah xxx. 21.

A Calm Path

Which lies before the feet through common ways, And undistinguished crowds of toiling men, And yet is hard to tread, though seeming smooth, And yet, though level, earns a worthier crown, For knowledge is a steep which few may climb; But duty is a path which all may tread.—Lewis Morris.

Let it make no difference to thee whether thou art cold or warm if thou art doing thy duty, and whether thou art drowsy or satisfied with sleep, and whether ill-spoken of or praised.—Marcus Aurelius.

Be not diverted from your duty by any idle reflections the silly world may make on you; for their censures are not in your power, and consequently should be no part of your concern.—Epictetus.

Internally and Externally It Is Good.—The crowning property of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is that it can be used internally for many complaints as well as externally. For sore throat, croup, whooping cough, pains in the chest, colic and many kindred ailments it has qualities that are unsurpassed. A bottle of it costs little and there is no loss in always having it at hand.

Provides Unique Service

New Yorkers Can Park Their Goldfish At Loew's Theatre

Loew's Lexington Theatre provides an unusual service for New York people. When you go out of town, you can leave your goldfish at Loew's Lexington. There is a huge goldfish pool in the lobby and you simply walk in and dump them into it. The quaint custom was started in 1923, when a gentleman who lives in the East Sixties stopped in, with his fish under his arm, and asked Mr. Crawford, manager of the theatre, if he could leave them there. Mr. Crawford said he could, and the news of this convenient service spread. Every now and then a car drives up and a chauffeur with a goldfish bowl gets out and empties it into the pool. People never come back to claim their pets, because of course they couldn't tell which ones were theirs, and nobody wants anybody else's goldfish. They buy new ones. The system keeps the pool well populated.

Minard's Liniment gives quick relief.

Canoelists' Paradise

Within the Prince Albert National park lie three important bodies of water, as well as some forty or fifty smaller lakes. These large lakes are so closely connected by waterways that one may paddle for days in this lovely region which has been called "the prairies' wonderland."
