Wynndel Assured Community Hall

Old Schoolhouse to be Moved to New Site and Fitted Up for Real Hall—Spirited Meeting Declines Enlarge Teacherage.

One of the livliest meetings for some time was held in the old schoolhouse at Wynndel on Wednesday evening, August 6th, when a special meeting of the rate payers was called to discuss the building of an addition to teachers' residence and moving the old school building. A. E. Hackett occupied the chair.

The first question asked was for a clear understanding with regard to delinquent taxpayers voting, and the School Act was read and explained. A person having paid taxes since May 31st, and not being aware they had to produce receipts, it was left to the honor of the ratepayer not to vote if he had not paid his taxes.

The question of adding to the cottage then came up and the addition required being 12 x 20 feet and cottage roof. Figures were gone into and discussed, and quite a few suggestions made. One point was brought out, which was unknown to many, that house and wood was part of teachers' salary.

Finally it was put to ballot, T. Sexsmith acting as scrutineer. While balloting was in progress there was some talk about some delinquent tax payers voting even though they were on their honor. One ratepayer delinquent at last meeting feeling it was at him that this was being directed produced postoffice money order counterfoil for money sent.

When the ballots were being collected the scrutineer again-questioned some ratepayers as to their having paid their taxes, but here, again, he was shown ratepayers had honor as receipts were produced. The ballot resulted in a decision not to go on to expense of building addition.

The next question, and one that produced quite a heated argument and some very plain speaking was the removal of the old schoolhouse. Letters were read from the Women's Institute, Fruit Growers Association and the K.K. Klub, who had been approached as to taking this building over. All declined to have anything to do with it.

Matter of land on which to put the building was discussed, and it was made known that a piece of land close to main highway would be donated for this purpose, but the adjoining owners strongly objected and raised quite a hornet's nest. However, this was later on disposed of, and it was discussed and motion made that the trustees buy a piece of land next the church, have the building moved there, made community hall and make it a paying proposition. Money for necessary work to be loaned by trustees and paid back from rentals with bank rate interest. This motion was carried, and a long drawn out song ended.

In their great loss the family have the sincerest sympathy of all.

Idaho Halts Road; Asks Conference

Idaho Citizens Press for North and South Highway via K.V. into Creston—Work is Stopped Pending Conference with B.C.

Victoria, Aug. 13

Col. E. Mallandaine
Creston

Reference your telegram 12th regret it is impossible for me to visit Creston at present time but have instructed District Engineer Dixon to meet the Idaho commissioner of highways at Creston on Friday, 15th.

NELS. LOUGHEED

If Creston does not get the consideration it is entitled to in connection with selecting the route of the Creston-Porthill link of the North and South Highway, certainly the fault will not lie with the people or highway authorities in Idaho.

On Saturday last work was started on the Idaho side to make the connection with the bit of new road B.C. built last winter from the Geo. Hurry place to the boundary, but the same evening work was ordered stopped as the people in Boundary counry are insisting that the connection with the B.C. road shall be made at Porthill village to catch on with the old K.V. roadbed for the Creston connection.

A halt is called for ten days and Mr. Woods, the Idaho superintendent of highways, has wired Hon. Nels. Lougheed, B.C.'s minister of public works asking the latter to visit Creston as soon as possible so that the two responsible highway officials can go over both proposed connections and mutually agree as to which one will be used. Confirmation of this action is contained in the following despatch from Bonners Ferry:

BONNERS FERRY, Ida., Aug. 11—Word was received via long distance telephone Sunday by Frank B. Camp, from J. D. Woods, state highway commissioner of Idaho, relat ve to the construction of the North and South Highway from Copeland, Idaho, to a point selected by the Idaho state engineers on the Canadian border.

Mr. Woods, in his conversation, stated that he was wiring Hon. Nels. Lougheed, minister of public works at Victoria, B.C., regarding a date to be fixed within ten days for a meeting at Creston or Porthill, and further stated that he would order the construction work, now being carried on through the Rath ranch, to cease until a thorough investigation had been made regarding the proper and needed route.

It appears that Mr. Woods was under the impression that the majority of people in both the Porthill and Creston districts favored the present survey and that he had been informed by his own assistants and parties in British Columbia that the route surveyed and chosen was the choice of the large majority.

After being informed by Mr. Camp of the real facts in the matter Mr Woods stated over the phone that he, in person, would make the investigation with Hon. Nels. Lougheed, and that every detail of this vital problem would be gone into.

From present indications, coupled with the findings of the conference to be held, it is the consensus of opinion among more than 95 per cent. of the taxpayers on both sides of the international boundary, that the North and South Highway will be connected with K.V. route near Porthill, and that a vital problem will be solved by the Idaho state highway department to the satisfaction of the very large majority.

On getting word that this action had been taken Creston Board of Trade and the Associated Boards of Trade again got on the wire urging Hon. Mr. Lougheed to come to Creston and look the whole situation over, confer with the people of Creston and district, and get firsthand information as to their wishes in this all important matter.

In Idaho much the same state of affairs obtains as here. The great majority of the people directly interested want the North and South Highway to run into Porthill, but interested county officials are endeavoring to have it built to better serve private ends, but our U.S. friends are quite confident that if the two highway heads can be got together right on the ground there is no doubt whatever about this all important highway being routed the way Creston and Boundary county residents so overwhelmingly prefer. And in arranging for the get-together Idaho has shown an efficieney it is sincerely hoped British Columbia will promptly reciprocate.

Tenders will be at once called for wood supply and janitor work, and before school opens the school grounds will be connected up with the water system, connecting the main on the McLeod side of the road.

The German residents were out in numbers on Monday for a meeting at the schoolhouse to meet Mr. Thiesson, representing the Canadian Colonization Company, who was accompanied by Geo. Nickel of Creston. The matter of the new settlers purchasing livestock was discussed but due to the local feed situation we understand it was decided not to branch out into cattle as yet.

Discuss Highway Hospital, Fall Fair

Committees Struck to Assist Fall Fair and Hospital—Still Pressing K.V. Route for North and South Highway.

The best attendance of the year was recorded at the August session of the Creston Board of Trade Tuesday evening with the president, Col. Mallandaine, in charge of proceedings, and highway, hospital and fall fair matters to the fore.

Everyone expressed gratification at the practical move that had been made by the Idaho state highway commissioner to give the best possible connection from south of the line with the proposed North and South Highway via the K.V. route and a highways committee of C. O Rodgers, G. Johnson, F. Putnam, S. A. Speers and C. F. Hayes was given full power to act in any way that was deemed in the best interests of the district, It was also decided to communicate with W. K. Esling, M.P., to ascertain the policy of the new government in connection with customs facilities at Rykerts.

The president and R. J. Forbes, who constituted a committee that looked over the new Creston hospital, gave a most favorable report of equipment and staff ond correspondence in the same connection indicated that Dr. Olivier was highly qualified to handle such an institution. A committee of R. J. Forbes, G. H. Kelly, F. Putnam, J. S. Clowes, and Geo. Johnson was named to interview Dr. Olivier and ascertain in what way the citizens can best co-operate in making the hospital a success. The committee will report at a special meeting of the board to be held next Monday evening.

President F. Putnam of the fall fair spoke briefly on what had been done in connection with the 1930 exhibition and asked the board to assist the exhibition directorate by naming a committee to handle the special attractions at this year's fair. The committee will consist of President Mallandaine, R. J. Forbes. G. H. Kelly, M. R, Joyce, Geo. Johnson, J. S. Clowes, with power to add.

In discussing attractions for the exhibition many bright ideas were forthcoming, and it seems now assured that in addition to the championship school sports there will be baseball, softball, basketball, and if talent can be secured there will also be vaudeville attractions. It is jnst possible a three-day fair will again be tried out.

Mistakes

Glancing through a magazine recently the writer's attention was attracted by an article bearing the same title as appears at the heading of this column, "Mistakes." It was a short article, but two paragraphs in it stood out as important and worth-while,—worth passing on for the consideration of those who read this column from week to week.

After reciting mistakes made by "Great Men of Business," and the different ways in which they react to them, the article in question offered comment:

"Looking back over history, it would seem that mistakes, of themselves, are comparatively unimportant. All men make them. The important thing is how a man acts afterwards."

There is sound philosophy in that observation. It is deserving of more than passing attention,

All people make mistakes. Not one of us is infallible. The real test is: Do we profit by them? Do we use them as stepping stones to real achievements; to the winning of success? Or are we embittered by them; discouraged; inclined to give up and let go?

When a business man makes a mistake, jeopardizes, even loses, the savings and accumulations of a life time, and then begins to think of throwing up the sponge, contemplates suicide, or some other rash act, it is a confession that he was not really a big man after all; that he is lacking in stamina, will-power and true courage.

Experience is a hard taskmaster, a bitter teacher, but—it is a teacher, and a good one at that, because it is through experience that we do learn.

All men make mistakes, big men as well as little men. Nor is it individuals alone who make them. Governments make them, communities make them, nations make them. They must pay for their mistakes, but they can also profit from them.

One of the mistakes of this present age is to confuse bigness with greatness, to confuse quantity with quality. Next year the census of Canada will be taken, and already communities are anxiously awaiting the figures to ascertain to how large an extent they have grown in population, each town and city hoping they have outstripped their rivals. But how many have been giving serious consideration during the past ten years to the quality, rather than the quantity of their citizenship? The United States census has just been completed, and we find some of their larger cities, while boasting of their growth in size, seriously regretting that they were not smaller by some thousands of criminals and others of an undesirable class. In their ambition to become big and bigger they have made the mistake of ignoring the quality of their citizenship, and neglected those social provisions which would make their communities big in the truest, hghest sense.

It is not the manufacturer who, through mass production, is turning out an enormous volume of products who is the truly successful man and a benefit to his country; the really successful man is he who is producing quality products. Nor is it the farmer who is operating several sections of land in a more or less indifferent way who, in the long run, will prove successful; it is the farmer who is farming intelligently, striving to raise the best quality of grain, the best grade of stock, poultry and dairy products, with trees and flower and vegetable gardens, who is establishing a real home, making a lasting contribution to his country, and a success in his life work.

But to return to our theme,-"Mistakes." All men make them. Do not be discouraged by yours. Remember, the important thing is how a man acts afterwards.

This is a comforting thought. You can retrieve your mistakes. If you had always been right during the past five or ten years you might be much better off financially today than you are. But you have those experiences to guide you now, and you can profit from them if you will.

But, and here let us quote the second outstanding paragraph in the magazine article to which reference has been made. It reads:

"Don't make the most serious mistake of all, that is to think about your mistakes."

Forget them, except to profit by them. Don't brood over them; don't let them discourage or embitter you; don't weaken; don't regard them as irretrievable disasters. Be up and doing; forget them; use them to rise to greater heights and a larger success.

Would Deport Communists

U.S. Congress Is Urged To Take Necessary Steps

Representative Hamilton Fish, Jr., in a radio address from New York, urged that congress take appropriate steps to deport all alien agitators and Communists affiliated with the Third International.

"We have tolerated them and their criminal activities too long," he said. "Let them go forth, or be deported back to their native land."

Congressman Fish, who is chairman of the special committee investigating Communist propaganda in the United States, asserted that what the Communist leaders do in Russia is solely the business of the Russian welfare.

"What the emissaries of the Soviets do in the United States of America, however, is our business," he added.

Time Element In Cancer

Different Periods Of Life Have Bearing On the Trouble

A curious time element in cancer is described by Sir George Lenthal Cheatle, British cancer authority. He is chief surgeon of King's College Hospital, in London, England, and is attending the British Medical Association meeting in Winnipeg.

There is one time when previously harmless stages of growths are likely to become cancer rather suddenly. This is in the same relative period of life for both men and animals.

"It suggests," Sir George said, "that either some fresh, as yet unknown factor or agent may enter the body just at the critical time and cause cancer, or that the different parts of the whole cycle for a continuous process, and one part passes naturally from one stage to the final catastrophe of cancer.

"The first stage is most prevalent from the late twenties to the thirties, the second stage takes form in the late thirties and early forties. The change into cancer occurs in the late forties and early fifties of life."

Guard Baby's Health in the Summer

The summer months are the most dangerous to children. The complaints of that season, which are cholera infantum, colic, diarrhoea and dysentery, come on so quickly that often a little one is beyond aid before the mother realizes he is ill. The mother must be on her guard to prevent these troubles, or if they do come on suddenly to banish them. No other medicine is of such aid to mothers during hot weather as Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the stomach and bowels and are absolutely safe. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Importance Of Rubber Industry

Canadian Rubber Products Exported To Many Countries

Now-a-days the world moves on rubber, and this does not apply to automobiles alone. According to a recent return of the Canadian Government the people of Nigeria, in June, bought 300 pairs of shoes with rubber soles from Canada. Barbadoes took 3,020 pairs and Trinidad 6,555 pairs.

Although Canada is not a producer of raw rubber, the rubber industry is of much importance and rubber products are exported to many countries of the world. In June the export of Canadian automobile tires exceeded $1,000,000. The largest buyers were New Zealand, British South Africa, Belgium, Argentine and Brazil.

Congress Held At Damascus Asks For Reforms In Restrictions

The London Daily Herald says that women delegates from nearly every Moslem country have just concluded a congress at Damascus which represents the first concerted move by women of the Islamic faith to escape its restrictions.

The correspondent says the women adopted a resolution calling for abolition of the veil; for permitting brides and bridegrooms to see each other before marriage; for making divorce possible to women equally with men; for making 18 years the legal minimum age for marriage, and for compulsory education of children of both sexes.

BANKS FINANCE BALANCE OF THE 1929 WHEAT CROP

Toronto, Ont.—The statement that the Canadian banks had promised to carry the unsold balance of the 1929 wheat crop and that the arrangements were entirely satisfactory, were made by Premier John Bracken, of Manitoba, at the conclusion of the conference between eight managers of leading banks and three premiers of Manitoba, Alberta, and Saskatchewan.

Since the guarantee of the three prairie provinces to the banks for subsidizing the Wheat Pool expired August 1, Premier Bracken was asked whether the western provinces would again renew the guarantee to the banks.

"There has been no request made for guarantees for the new crop and it is not anticipated that a guarantee will be required," he replied.

"The guarantees were to cover the whole crop," he explained, "and the only difficulty arose through a small portion of it not having been delivered at the end of the crop year, July 31. It is concerning that portion that we have been having conferences with the banks."

"Has the whole matter been satisfactorily adjusted?" Premier Bracken was asked.

"Yes," he replied, "the banks and pools are carrying on with respect to the balance of the 1929 crop exactly as they did prior to July 31.

"Has the pool lost much money on the 1929 crop?" was the next question that the premier consented to answer.

"That question cannot be answered till the balance of the crop is sold," he said. "If the price goes much lower, there probably will be a loss, but if the price goes higher, there should be no loss."

"Are the reports true that you are going to have a bumper crop in the west this year?"

"It will be a bigger crop than last year," Premier Bracken replied, "but smaller than 1928. The estimates run all the way from 325,000,000 bushels to 400,000,000 bushels. It is too early yet to make an accurate forecast, but the total will probably be nearer the smaller figure."

The premier intimated that there were more hopeful signs already for the marketing of this new big harvest, so that it would not be an added embarrassment to the Pool.

"The increase in the price of wheat by 9 cents in the last two or three days," he said, "is due partly to the reports of severe drouth in the middle western states, bad marketing conditions in France and to an extent to the dry weather in the west."

"The initial payment of the Pool used to be $1 a bushel," Premier Bracken was asked. "Now that wheat is below a dollar what will the payment be?"

"That's a matter which comes altogether under the jurisdiction of the Pool, and the banks from whom the Pool borrows," he said.

"The initial payment during the past few weeks has been 70 cents for No. 1 Northern, with lower figures for lower grades."

Much Uncertainty Exists As To the Probable Yield

Ottawa, Ont. — "Although the western crop is generally well advanced in the filling stage, there is still much uncertainty as to the probable yield," states the crop report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Lack of moisture in Saskatchewan and southern Alberta and damage from rust in Manitoba and south-eastern Saskatchewan are features of last week's reports. Alberta crops alone have registered an improvement in the past two weeks, the large central area being again benefited at the last week-end by good rains.

Cutting of early wheat and barley is common in all three provinces, with indications that harvest will be general in a week or ten days.

The weather has again been hot and dry, with central Saskatchewan points registering over 100 degrees on the last day of the month. Effective precipitation fell only in central Alberta.

Rust infection varies greatly with date of maturity, variety, and stand of the crops. Although future weather conditions will have an important effect there is every indication that the damage will be light on early maturing, light crops. But heavy on the good crops maturing later. The telegraphic report from the Dominion rust research laboratory at Winnipeg for this week reads as follows:

"In Manitoba, hot dry weather of past week has hastened maturity of all cereal crops. Cutting of early fields of wheat and barley is now general in central and southern part of province. Losses from stem rust will be heavy in about sixty per cent. of fields of common wheat in area included within radius of sixty miles from Winnipeg.

Because of hot, dry weather, stem rust has not increased rapidly in Saskatchewan but has spread northward to Pontrilas and southwest to Shaunavon. Severity of infection about twenty per cent. on common wheat in eastern Saskatchewan. Durums have only traces of stem rust. No stem rust reported in Alberta."

Tragedy At Royal Regatta

Racing Yacht Is Sunk In Collison and One Life Is Lost

Cowes, Isle of Wight.—A steward was drowned and a racing yacht, the "Lucilla," owned by J. Lauriston Lewis, was sunk in collision at the start of the royad regatta events. The King, aboard the "Britannia," witnessed the tragedy.

The "Lucilla," manoeuvring with the 12 metre boats for the getaway, was hit by A. A. Paton's big cutter, the "Lulworth," and went to the bottom in three minutes. The "Lulworth" rescued the survivors of the "Lucilla's" crew.

When the crew of the "Lucilla" came ashore it was stated that William Saunders, a steward, had lost his life.

The King saw the accident from the "Britannia," which at the time was leading in the race for big yachts.

The "Britannia" won the race, which was excitingly close throughout, and thereby scored her 200th victory.

As the Britannia swept across the line the King could be seen standing on the deck smoking a cigarette, evidently pleased with his victory. At sight of him there was renewed cheering and waving of hats and handkerchiefs from the throng ashore.

Soviets Support Chinese Reds

Moscow.—"Pravda," mouthpiece of the Communist party, sounded a clarion call to the proletariat masses and Communist parties throughout the world to support the Chinese revolution. In each factory of enterprise and in every part of the world, the paper said, there should be established committees for enforcing the policy of "hands off the Chinese revolution."

Technical education in Saskatchewan will be promoted by a new technical college at Saskatoon which will afford accommodation for 1,000 students.

Plans To Visit Argentina

Prince Of Wales May Pay Visit To South America Next Year

London, England.—The Prince of Wales who, among his many other roles, has been called the British Empire's "best travelling salesman," plans to visit Argentina and Brazil next year, it became known recently.

The visit of the Prince to Buenos Aires will be for the particular purpose of opening the British trade exposition.

The first official announcement came from Buenos Aires when Ambassador Ronald MacLeay informed President Irigoyen that the Prince of Wales would make the visit.

It has been announced that the British heir will extend his visit to Brazil, but it was not known whether he would visit other Latin-American states.

Reports that the Prince would visit the United States next year have been definitely denied.

Will Be Of No Benefit

Lumbermen See No Benefit In Washington Tariff Ruling

Ottawa, Ont.—Lumber merchants in British Columbia and the Ottawa Valley express the opinion that the announcement from Washington that all sawed lumber and timber, if not further manufactured than planed or dressed on one side, will be admitted free into the United States—will have little effect on Canadian trade. The view of leading lumbermen is that the Washington ruling is only a clarification of the tariff which carries with it no particular benefit to the industry from a Canadian standpoint.

Ransom For Missionaries

London, England.—The Church Missionary Society has given its Fuchow representatives authority to pay the ransom demanded by the captors of Edith Nettleton and Eleanor Harrison, British women missionaries, if the British consul there considers it necessary to accomplish their release. The amount demanded was $50,000 in Chinese money or about $10,000 in gold.

Destitute Britishers Returning

Hundreds Who Went To U.S. Now Anxious To Get Back To Homeland

London, England. — The police at all British ports have been informed by the New York authorities that hundreds of destitute Britishers are hiding there waiting for a chance to stow away on homebound liners, according to the London Daily Herald.

Announcement was made in open court at Southampton to this effect, and at all ports where trans-Atlantic ships call special vigilance measures are being taken to arrest stowaways, while all ships out of New York are being searched for them.

The stowaway wave is due to the unemployment situation in the United States, whither thousands of Britishers went when wages were high and prospects good in that country. Now, the only anxiety of these Britishers seems to be to get back to their homeland again.

Many thousands are spending the little money they managed to save in the United States in returning by cargo steamers; others are working their way across. Some of the returning workers have savings in Britain, but the majority will be dependent on relatives.

Nine stowaways were arrested on an Anchor liner when she reached Glasgow last week-end. Seven were found on the "Mauretania" and "Plymouth," while last week four were discovered on the "Minnekahda" during the voyage to Britain.

Will Recover 'Plane

To Bring Back 'Plane Abandoned By MacAlpine Party Last Year

Edmonton.—Off to bring one of the super-Fokker aeroplane abandoned at Cambridge Bay, in the Arctic, last September by the ill-fated MacAlpine party to this city, Pilot W. J. Buchanan, of the Western Canada Airways, Limited, left here in another of the firm's big machines on Wednesday afternoon, August 6. He is accompanied by T. Gilmour, mechanic.

Pilot Buchanan expects that the trip will take about three weeks, but this depends upon the condition of the machine. In case it has been damaged during the long spell in the north, it will be given temporary repairs and then flown to Winnipeg; on the other hand, if it is found to be in working order, it will be brought to Edmonton.

Famous Bands May Come

Endeavor To Secure Musical Attraction For 1931 Western Fairs

Brandon, Man.—Another outstanding band may appear on the western circuit of the Class "A" exhibitions in 1931. At the recent meeting held in Regina, it was the opinion that at least two famous bands might be open to engagements and communications are being opened now with these organizations. The bands mentioned are the Royal Scots Guards and the Besses o' the Barn, the last-named a well-known civilian band in the Old Country. The Coldstream Guards and the Royal Air Force have played at engagements in Western Canada within the past five years.

Heavy Gold Imports

Montreal, Que.—Total gold imports to this country from New York, since the movement started about two weeks ago, reached $14,500,000 recently with the arrival of $2,000,000 in gold consigned to the Canadian Bank of Commerce and the Imperial Bank of Canada, in equal amounts.

Impressive Sky Line

Other structures easily noticed are the Temple and Robert Simpson buildings, Sterling Towers, old and the new Union Stations, Northern Ontario, Canada Trusts, Metropolitan, Dominion Bank, C.P.R. buildings, the Bank of Hamilton and the heating and power plant of the Union Station.

BUREAU TO AID IN KEEPING TRADE MORE STABILIZED

Montreal.—The gravity of the business depression with consequent unemployment and lack of consume demand confronts Canadian busines with the necessity of establishing a research and administrative bureau composed of representatives of the government, the universities and the business interests of the country whose duties should be to keep a perpetual survey of business developments within Canada, to anticipate possible trade depressions sufficiently in advance to take preventive measures, said Joseph T. Crowder, president of the Retail Merchants' Association, of Canada, in convention here recently.

Federal, provincial and municipal governments are the bodies most capable of creating employment, said Mr. Crowder in his address. Their work could be more intelligently planned if they knew in advance just what was likely to happen in business circles, and where indications pointed to impending trade depression, these bodies could to advantage so plan government works as to absorb the shock of the unemployment in certain commercial enterprises, thus sustaining employment and consumer demand.

Explanations are not lacking for the reduced volume of business during the last six months, said Mr. Crowder. He cited the excess amount of wheat held over from last year, the stock market crash, over-production, the natural business cycle and the increase of unemployment.

"Unfortunately," said the president, "business is influenced by mob psychology. When one group ceases buying from forced economy, the disastrous effect of such custom is easily seen."

While admitting the influence of world conditions upon Canadian business, yet generally speaking, so long as our farmers do a reasonable good job of farming, and factories do an equally good job of manufacturing and transportation agents the same, each taking advantage of modern methods, inventions and facilities, it is difficult to understand with the amount of money in the country remaining reasonably constant, why such things as hard times or trade depressions should overwhelm us with such distressing regularity, said Mr. Crowder.

"Today," he continued, "we actually have farmers producing more foodstuffs than they can sell and factories producing more goods than they can sell, each in actual want of the other."

England sends telephone greetings to B.C. bride

Uttered wedding congratulations travelled a record distance when from far-away Byfleet, in Surry, England, some 7,000 miles across ocean and continent, came a telephone message to a Vancouver bride.

During the reception at the home of the bride's parents, ollowing the wedding ceremony, a telephone call came through from the bride's uncle and aunt, of Byfleet, who voiced greetings appropriate to the occasion.

Time and space were speedily bridged by the telephone in bringing the voices of distant dear ones to the happy bride.

CRESTON, B.C., FRIDAY, AUG. 15

Benefits of K. V. Route

By way of illustrating in a dollars and cents fashion just what the North and South highway means to Creston let us point out that for 1929 the records show that almost 6000 tourist cars passed through Porthill-Rykerts going or coming from the south and fully 4500 of these came from the east or were headed east over the always popular Banff-Windermere highway.

With the North and South highway routed over the K V. to Creston this town has a chance at all that trade, but if the highway is to be constructed by the Huscroft-Lister-Canyon route none of these 4500 autos will pass through Creston.

With each auto averaging three passengers or more, and the tourist bureaus estimating that each tourist is a spender to the extent of an average of one dollar per head, Creston is in a fair way, on 1929 figures, to lose the trade of about 13,000 customers whose spending power, even at 50 cents each, is just too much money for Creston to pass up without a protest.

The building of the new highway via the circuitous Canyon-Lister route benefits no one in a business way, while the placing of the highway through Creston does benefit village merchants directly, and indirectly every other Creston resident.

Premier Bennett in Charge

After almost nine years of very efficient Liberal administration Canada is now under Conservative rule, the change at Ottawa taking place on Friday, when Premier Bennett and his new cabinet were sworn in and immediately assumed charge of our national affairs.

Of the new cabinet papers are careful not to make too optimistic predictions, as the members of the new government are, for the most part, inexperienced at the work, Premier Bennett himself being amongst those who has never headed a government department previously for more than a very few months.

British Columbia's cabinet member is Hon. H. H. Stevens, as minister of trade and commerce, who, although defeated in Vancouver on July 28th, is to sit for East Kootenay, with the member in the latter riding resigning to provide a seat for Mr. Stevens.

With the argument that the Vancouver cast off should not be made way for in another constituency, the Review is not in harmony. So far as parliamentary experience and abiltity goes Mr. Steveng is just about in a class with the new premier, and on the face of it he seems to be just as well qualified to administer a department as any of the others taken into the new cabinet, and in these days when there is mighiy little sentiment in business the Kootenays are lucky to have a member from their midst sitting in the executive council.

When W. K. Esling approaches the cabinett for grants for unemployment refief, money for cold storage plants, public buildings and wharves, to say nothing of funds to pay for dyking indian lands in the vicinity of Creston, it will certainly strengthen his hand to have the B.C. cabinet representative sitting for the adjoining constituency of Kootenay East.

HOME BREW

The modesty of the Conservatives toward the new Bennett cabinet is not hard to explain. In August, 1928, they were proud to boast that our own Premier Tolmie had constructed a cabinet at Victoria that was the business administration par excellence. But in just two years all this conceit has entirely disappeared and the standard of ability in evidence at the B.C. capital is so low in 1930 that even our friend Conductor Balment cannot help remarking that the Tolmie outfit does not seem to be possessed of even sense enough to resign.

In the usual statement to the press on the formation of his new cabinet Premier Bennett did not exhibit his reputed shrewdness by announcing that he had "persuaded Senator G. D. Robertson, to assume the portfolio of minister of labor feeling sure that his past experience in this department will be of incalculable assistance in solving the unemployment problem." People with a reasonably good memory will recall that Senator Robertson was minister of labor in 1920 and 1921, and in the latter year, particularly, the unemployment situation was the worst Canada has ever known; in addition to which 1921 saw an exodus of 107,000 Canadians to the United States. If that is the best the newly "persuaded" minister of labor could do in 1921, God help the unemployed in Canada this winter.

But speaking of unemployment, if the village council would like to do something practical in this direction the Review believes it would be splendid business to give the exterior of the exhibition building a couple of coats of paint. This year Creston is to have one of those bigger and better exhibitions and right now the appearance of the main building is nothing short of disgraceful. Now that the government is reported to have taken over the full cost of maintaining Main street the council should have ample funds for the painting job. Save the surface and you save all.

And still further discussing unemployment, we feel sure the Canadian Pacific Railway will appreciate speedy relief from this unwelcome situation. For the past few months it would be safe to say the company is carrying more pasgengers free on its freight trains both east and west than it handles in pay customers in the first-class coaches. If this free transportation assumes much larger dimensions the company ought to instruct one of the "brakies" to announce the stops and the length of time available for taking the air and making the all too frequent touch for the price of a meal.

Now that the provincial public works department has provided more storage room for equipment at Creston it is to be hoped no time will be lost in getting that new cylinder gravel screen under cover. This bit of new machinery has been sitting out in the C.P.R. yard in snow, rain and sun for about two years and certainly is not improving at all by ihis exposure to the elements. Speaking of new equipment, it would be quite safe to say that most people hereabouts would have been much better pleased with less outlay on new machinery and greater expenditures on highway construction and betterments this year.

In connection with Premier Bennett's new cabinet it would be well to point out that Hon. Hugh Guthrie, minister of justice; and Hot. Dr. Manion, minister of railways, are former Liberals. They backed the Unionist government in 1917, and in 1921 were in the Meighen cabinet for a few months prior to defeat in December of that year. We just mention the fact because, speaking at Guelph, Ontario, in May, Mr. Bennett blurted out with, "Whenever you have a convert who does something he has not been brought up to he always makes a mess of it." And there is some truth to the observation. In 1917 our now Premier Tolmie followed the example of Messrs Manion and Guthrie, and just see what is happening in this province.

Request Council Improve Streets

Wilson Avenue and Albert Street Want New Sidewalks—Electrical Inspection By-Law Now Effective—Pay on Park Debt

The August session of Creston village council Monday evening was largely given over to routine business, the only new feature to the session was the passing of the Electrical Inspection By-Law, which was given three readings and declared approved. Reeve F. H. Jackson presided, and Councillors Edmondson and Dr. Henderson were in attendance.

The correspondence included a letter from M. J. Beninger asking that some attention be paik Fourth Street in front of the Commercial Hotel in tne way of gravelling. Property owners on Wilson Avenue petitioned for a new sidewalk, removal of loose rock from the street and better drainage. Both parties are to be advised that these matters will be taken under consideration. Councillors Henderson and Edmondonson were named to look over Albert Sfreet, opposite Christ Church, where residents are asking for a brand new sidewalk.

T. Mawson, owner of "Your" Cash Store buildlng on Wilson Avenue, wrote asking for $22 to reimburse him for a broken plate glass window in the store, said break being caused by gravel forced from road by a passing truck. The clerk is to write him stating the village assumes no responsibility.

Payment of the annual installment of $500 and interest on the purchase of Exhibition Park was authorized. This makes $1500 the village has invested in the property, and $1000 still to pay. Notice is to be published in the Review to hasten the payment of 1930 poll taxes.

The Electrical Inspection By-Law was given due consideration and in considerable detail provides for inspection of this sort and sets forth the schedule of charges to be made by the inspector, this position to be offered J. G. Farris, superintendent of Creston Power & Light Company.

The council agreed to a donation of $100 toward the 1930 fall fair, and the promised grant of $50 was ordered paid Creston Baseball Club. July accounts ordered paid totalled $251—the baseball club's rememberance being included in this.

Nationalize Coal Mines

Drastic Steps In British Coal Mining Industry Are Planned

Rt. Hon. William Graham, President of the Board of Trade, in a speech at Durham, England, said the recently passed coal bill was a Parliamentary step along the road which the British Government intended to follow until the great collieries were the property of the people. His audience, composed largely of farmers, welcomed the sentiments expressed. "We are pledged as a Government to nationalize the mining royalties, and we hope the time will be found in the next session for that bill," Mr. Graham said.

Claims Matter Is Weightless

Scientist Gives New Definition Of Weight and Force Of Energy

After delving into philosophical questions as a hobby from a very early age, W. Donald Mitchell, under the nom de plume of "Logus Philotus," has published "The Great Light of Relativity."

In his work, Mr. Mitchell, who was born in Pembroke, Ontario, of Scottish parentage, claims to reveal that, "the earth does not weigh so much as one ounce, that matter is weightless," and gives a new definition of weight, and also of the force of energy. He claims to reverse Newton's equation of attraction, and Einstein's space-time-energy theory. He gives other concepts of philosophy in axiomatic form, chief of which seems to be his statement that, "knowledge, or intelligence, is the relative, transient, personal and material reflex from objects and elements of external reality, partially retained in memory—in or on the negative plates or cells of the brain."

The author of this remarkable work believes himself to have made the most remarkable discoveries in recent generations, and thereby set a new standard for philosophy, metaphysics, psychology, and thus also education. "It promises to affect the entire scientific thought of the age," he says. He makes no declaration dogmatically, but states: "I shall be delighted to receive, either personally or otherwise, any criticism for or against any statement, axiom or definition, appearing herein, for the spirit of progress is formed in criticism and unbiased investigation."

The Peking Man

Canadian Scientist Has New Theory Regarding Discovery In China

The "Peking Man" was really an adolescent girl, who lived possibly 1,000,000 years ago, Dr. Davidson Black, Canadian scientist, said, in announcing the discovery of a second ancient skull.

The noted paleontologist, who dug up the skull of the "Peking Man" some months ago, said he had found the second cranium embedded in the rock of the same cave in which he found the first skull.

The second is that of an adolescent male, Dr. Black said, and the measurements further indicated the first skull was that of a girl.

Four Doses Relieved Bad Attack of Cholera

Mr. W. J. Cooper, Maughan, Alta., writes:—"A year ago last spring I arrived in Canada with my family, and one of my boys, aged six, was suffering very much with cholera. When we arrived I had a few hours to wait, and told one of the attendants at the station about it, and he asked me if I had ever tried Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. I had never heard of it in England; so he told me I could get it in Winnipeg. I am pleased to say I had only to give the child four doses and he got well and was quite cheerful by the next morning."

SAUL "A MAN OF GREAT POSSIBILITIES WHO FAILED"

Golden Text: "Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall."—1 Corinthians 10.12.

Lesson: 1 Samuel, Chapters 8 to 11; 13; 15; 16.14-23; 19.9-12; 28; 31.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 1.

Explanations and Comments

God's Will Regarding Saul Revealed To Samuel, 1 Samuel 9.15-17. — In the Hebrew the verb "revealed," as the margin of the Bible explains, means literally "uncovered the ear of," and signified the divine Spirit's announcement to the human spirit. "The revelation which Samuel received the day before Saul's arrival, that a man of the tribe of Benjamin would come to him, whom he was to appoint king over Israel, was psychologically based on his constant prayerful, expectant reflection as to how God would establish the monarchy." When Samuel saw Saul he asked himself whether Saul were the Benjamite of whom he had been told, and felt assured that Saul was the man chosen of God to be the leader of His people.

"God's voice is of the heart—I do not say
All voices therefore of the heart are God's;
And to discern the Voice amidst the voices
Is that hard task that we are born to."

The Meeting Of Saul and Samuel, 9.18-26.—In search of his father's asses (9.1-17), Saul sought the aid of Samuel. He found him on his way to the "high place" where he was to offer sacrifice. Samuel at once set the young man's mind at rest regarding the lost animals, telling him they were found, and then awakened great expectations in Saul's heart by adding: "For whom is all that is desirable in Israel? Is it not for thee and for thy father's house?"

In astonishment Saul answered: "Am I not a Benjamite, of the smallest of the tribes of Israel, and my family the least of all the families of Israel? Wherefore then speakest thou to me after this manner?" This extravagant expression of humility was in accordance with Eastern custom, but, as Alexander Whyte thinks, it seems to be the language of a man whose heart is really touched for the time being with divine grace. It is real humility.

The Anointing Of Saul, 9.27 to 10.1.—As they were leaving the city's precincts, Samuel bade Saul send his servant on ahead. Then Samuel poured oil upon Saul's head and kissed him. Before this, priests had been anointed by their office, and when Saul was consecrated as king by anointing, "the monarchy was inaugurated as a divine institution standing on a par with the priesthood."

'Is it not that Jehovah hath anointed thee to be prince over his inheritance?" questioned Samuel. Thus he impressed Saul with the fact that it was God who had chosen him to rule, and to God, therefore, he was responsible for the way he ruled.

The new service, according to the Department of Trade and Commerce, will consist of special motorships, equipped for cargo and accommodation for 10 or 12 passengers. CHAPTER XXIV.—Continued.

So, alone at the window, Grandma watched her old friend carried by to his last resting place, followed, it seemed to her, by all those to whom he had ever ministered. Wickfield's elite in shining automobiles; shabby flivvers from the country with sad faces peering from behind torn side-curtains; farm horses harnessed to well loaded carry-alls or buggies; a long, long line on foot following the others. And last, straggling behind them all, hurrying breathlessly, a woman trundling a baby in a dilapidated go-cart—a baby whom the old doctor had helped into the world only a few months before. . . . . Yes, all Wickfield was there, thought Grandma. . . . . No one had forgotten. . . . .

"'And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes,'" she murmured softly "'And there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying. . . . . '"

CHAPTER XXV.

April, month of laughter and tears, had come and gone. Spring was "early," according to the old inhabitants and weather prophets. With May the red had left the maples, lilacs were a purple glory, and wee pink buds adorned the orchards.

"What a thrilling, beautiful world it is!" mused Charmian, as she walked home from school one afternoon. It's a crime not to feel light-hearted every minute. I believe I should if it wasn't that John is leaving us. Grandma will miss him terribly; and so will I."

Yes, in another week the little office would be closed again, and the ell bedroom crying for an occupant. John Carter had stayed until a furnace fire was no longer necessary. On that he had insisted. He had been surprised and infinitely touched when Gam Garfield told him that all the doctor's worldly goods were now his own.

"He was quite bowled over," the little lawyer said to Grandma. "He hadn't the least suspicion of what was in the doctor's will."

"Did Edward leave him everything?" she queried.

"About everything there was—the house and furnishings. All bills were to be settled (there weren't any to speak of), and any unpaid accounts on his books were to be cancelled. Two hundred dollars to Charmian, 'for a keepsake,' and the rest to John Carter. Yes, the young man was bowled over. Not a great legacy, but it showed that our old doctor loved and trusted him. And of course we all know how he loved Charmian. Wickfield will never be the same without him, will it, Grandma?"

Grandma sighed and answered: "Not to some of us; and yet, Gam, it's a wonderful thing to live a long life and then die in the harness before you get to be a burden, as Edward Howe did. I couldn't wish him back. Just look at me!" she said, exasperated. "Here I sit all day long just watching the passing,—don't even get out o' my chair when some one comes in for a spool o' cotton — no earthly use except to keep Charmian company, or—"

"No use!" exploded Gamaliel indignantly. "I donno any one 'round Wickfield who's any more use! You've listened to and sympathized with all our troubles for twenty years, Grandma Davis, to say nothing of all the years before when you were always ready to lend a helping hand in time of trouble. Many's the time I've heard my father say, 'Polly Davis is a good friend.' And you're a good friend still. I haven't got one I value any more, and there's mank a Wickfielder who'd say the same."

"You're a good friend, too, Gam," smiled the old lady, patting his hand affectionately. "I'll never forget how you persuaded Deacon Purdie to give up that law suit, just so's I wouldn't get into trouble about those beads. There's times when I get thinking over that transaction, that I'm the least mite worried."

The lawyer grinned.

"You can rest easy if that's the worst sin you're got on your conscience! Once I bought a horse of the deacon—ought to have known better, of course; but I was a young sprig then and thought I knew the world—likewise a horse. But I was mistaken in both cases. I wouldn't worry about those beads, Grandma. Well, I must trot along. I wanted to see Charmian and tell her she'd fallen heir to a legacy. but you can break the news instead. What'll she do with it, do you think?"

Grandma's face clouded as she replied: "Most likely she'll shingle the roof, and fix the leaks in the back hall. I wish we were more commonsensible, Charmian and I. But there! 'twould break our hearts to leave it, so what's the use? And if Charmian wants to use the doctor's legacy to keep us here a little longer, I'm sure Edward Howe would be the last one to think her foolish."

It was on this very subject that Charmian was meditating that May afternoon as she walked home from school.

"It's too lovely a day to spoil with worry," she told herself, "and I've got to face things sometime. It's not just John himself that we're going to miss, but the money he pays for board and rent. Summer's coming, and we can weather that, thanks to the dear old doctor for helping me to do some of the repairs; but next fall—Well, 'sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.' I won't worry—yet. Somehow this day makes me think of Jim. He was rather inarticulate about it, but he said once when he was a little boy, that the smell of apple blossoms made him feel 'funny all over,' and it's my private opinion that it has the same effect on him now. I wonder if May is half as lovely in California as it is in Wickfield. I'm inclined to doubt it. I wonder if Jim is ever coming back—even for a visit. I wonder. . . . ."

A sharp rap on a window pane informed the girl that she was passing her own front door. She looked up laughing, and said as she went in to Grandma; "I was in a trance. I'd have walked into a river if there'd been one handy. It's such a beautiful day, Grandma, that I got to dreaming. What's been happening to you?"

"Not much, childy. The doctor couldn't stop to do the dishes, but Lizzie Baker found 'em in the sink when she came after some flour, and did 'em up. She forgot to rinse out the dish towel, but she was real kind to help anyway, and I told her not to return the flour.—it was only half a cupful. She's had another letter from Sarah Bennett, and what do you think has happened? That Darling girl, the one that set Wickfield on end with her green hat, has been out to California on a trip with a girl friend. They stopped to call, and Sophie invited 'em to stay a day or so. Jim's been escorting 'em around, showing 'em the sights, and I guess he's been too busy to write to you. My stars! that reminds me a letter came this morning. I was crazy to open it, but that's one crime I've never committed—opening other folks' mail. If a letter isn't private, I'd like to know what is."

"You could have opened it, of course, Grandma," said Charmian, bringing the letter and seating herself in the old rocker. "Jim wouldn't say anthing you couldn't see. I'll read it aloud: 'Dear—'" Charmian paused, then looked up at her grandmother with a puzzled frown. "He says, 'Dear playmate.' He never called me that before."

"You've been playmates all your lives, haven't you?" replied Grandma literally. "I think he just means to be friendly.

"Friendly!" echoed Charmian. "Well, I guess you're right, Grandma, as usual." Her voice was the least bit hard, and the color had sprung into her face. It was still there when she finished reading. "He's evidently enjoying the fair Clara's visit," she said coldly. "And he's got the California fever, too. I wonder if he's forgotten a New England spring.

He doesn't say a single word about coming back. Well, if Jim Bennett wants to spend his life in a stucco bungalow with a palm tree for shade, he's welcome."

She tossed the letter onto the table contemptuously and went upstairs, while the old lady's eyes followed her retreating figure with a blending of amusement and distress.

"I donno what's in that letter to upset her so," she mused; then reached for the despised missive and read it through. "Charmian," she called when she heard the girl's step upon the stairs, "come here. I guess maybe you overlooked Jim's postscript."

"Postscript?" said Charmian, a note of hope in her voice, though her eyes were cold. "Well, what is it?"

"Here," said Grandma, and handed the letter to her irate granddaughter, who, going closer to the window, read:

"Charmian, when our old crab-apple tree is white with blossom, will you pick an armful and carry them to the cemetery for Doctor Howe? He told me once that something about those blossoms always reminded him of his Kate—they were so pure and exquisite; and after that I took him a big bunch each spring — used to put 'em in a bowl on the desk in his office, where he'd find them when he came in. I don't want him to miss them now; and you're the only one I can ask who would understand. You do, don't you? Jim."

"Well," said Grandma, as the girl's hand holding the letter, dropped limply to her side. "I donno but I'd rather a boy would think of doing a thing like that, than to have him appreciate small-paned windows. I donno but—"

She paused, looked up, and her lips broke into a knowing smile. She was talking to an empty room!

Italy and Volcanoes

Italian Peninsula Subject To Frequent Seismic Disturbances

Another earthquake has visited Southern Italy, destroying towns and leaving several hundred dead in its wake. The disaster is not so severe as others which have occurred in this area, but it is none the less a blow to those whose homes have been destroyed, or who have been bereft of kin and friends.

The lower portion of the Italian peninsula is of volcanic origin and subject to frequent seismic disturbances, but no part of the country is exempt. Last year the City of Bologna, in the north, experienced twenty-two earthquakes in a single month. Rome was badly shaken about two and a half years ago. No serious damage resulted in these instances, but in March, 1928, a number lost their lives in a disturbance of unusual violence in Lombardy. No recent earthquake, however, compares with that of Dec. 28, 1908, which virtually destroyed the important City of Messina and many towns in Sicily and Calabria (the toe of the Italian boot). The number of lives lost in that disaster was officially estimated at over 77,000. Only the Japanese earthquake of 1923, which resulted in approximately 100,000 deaths, compares with it in destructiveness. — New York World.

Will Preserve Historic Objects

Dinosaur Tracks Are Found In Canyon Of Peace River Country

The remains of British Columbia's earliest inhabitants, who died several hundred thousand years ago, are to be preserved by official decree. Under an order-in-council the government declares dinosaur tracks and fossil bones of ichtyosaurus found in the canyon of the Peace River last year to be historic objects. To remove or deface them in any way is a serious offence. These relics, discovered by railway engineers during a survey last summer, are regarded by scientists as highly important since they show the prehistoric monsters of the prairies had penetrated into British Columbia by following the course of the Peace River. No such remains had been found in British Columbia before, though the Alberta foothills are rich in such material.

Sinking In the Sea

Ireland In Danger Of Disappearing Say Scientists

The Royal Irish Academy, Ireland's most learned body, has been debating the suggestion that Ireland is gradually sinking into the sea.

The marine erosion especially on the East coast has become serious. A learned engineer pointed out that during the past winter at many points there has been a marked lowering of the beach level.

The director of the State's geological survey said this coast depression was not merely local, but part of a depression affecting Western Europe. The land is sinking at present because, while both land and sea are rising, the sea is rising the more rapidly. The sinking is a few centimeters per century.

London Health Records

London expects 1930 to be one of its healthiest years ever known. In the first four months deaths numbered 20,358, a decrease of 12,000 from the same period of 1929. Deaths from influenza decreased from 2,863 to 208. The exceptionally mild winter is given credit for the improvement.

Will Destroy Porpoises

Porpoises have become such pests in the Gulf of St. Lawrence that the Canadian Government recently expended $5,000 for the purchase of an aeroplane, bombs, and the hiring of a pilot to kill off these fish. The porpoises were destroying all marine life in the gulf.

The highest and lowest point in the United States are within 100 miles of each other in southeastern California. Death Valley is 276 feet below sea level and Mt. Whitney is 14,522 feet above.

Little Helps For This Week

"For He hath said, I will never leave thee nor forsake thee."—Heb. xiii. 5.

O Love Divine, whose constant beam
Shines on the eyes that will not see,
And waits to bless us while we dream
Thou leavest us, because we turn from Thee.

Nor bounds, nor climes, nor creed Thou knowest;
Wide as our need Thy favors fall;
The white wings of the Holy Ghost
Stoop seen or unseen o'er the heads of all.

—John Greenleaf Whittier.

Miller's Worm Powders, being in demand everywhere, can be got at any chemist's or drug shop, at very small cost. Although Badly Wounded Makes Epic Flight To Home Loft

Making a tough flight from Moose Lake to Cormorant Lake, base of the Royal Canadian Air Force, Mile 42, Hudson Bay Railway, a homing pigeon badly chewed to pieces managed to get to home loft before it collapsed. The bird, along with two others, was in a hamper aboard one of the patrol 'planes which stopped at Moose Lake. The hamper was removed for a moment, and some husky dogs made a raid on it. They killed two birds and bit through the neck of the third one, which managed to get away. It reached the loft 24 hours afterwards, a flight that should normally take less than an hour. Frank Bradley, pigeoneer of the Air Force, sewed up the wounds. The carrier will live.

Restless CHILDREN

CHILDREN will fret, often for no apparent reason. But there's always Castoria! Harmless as the recipe on the wrapper; mild and bland as it tastes. But its gentle action soothes a youngster more surely than a more powerful medicine.

That's the beauty of this special children's remedy! It may be given the tiniest infant—as often as there is need. In cases of colic, diarrhea or similar disturbance, it is invaluable. A coated tongue calls for just a few drops to ward off constipation; so does any suggestion of bad breath. Whenever children don't eat well, don't rest well, or have any little upset—this pure vegetable preparation is usually all that's needed.
