Mrs. Searle left on Monday for Hill Crest, Alberta, where she will spend the winter with Mr. Searle, who has a position there as engineer at one of the mines.

The rain of the past ten days has put the fields in great shape and most everyone is busy with fall ploughing at present.

The football team of the United Church Tuxis Square boys at Creston is due here on Saturday for a game with the Canyon aggregation.

Miss Minnie Strong is away at present on a visit with her brother, Norman, who is employed near Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, at present.

Mrs. Barnhardt of Glenlilly is here at present on a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Knott, arriving in time for the dramatic concert on Friday night.

Canyon football team had the best of the argument with the Lister team at Lister on Saturday afternoon, winning by a margin of one goal to nothing. George Niblow putting through the counter.

Geo. Davie has just completed the clearing of two acres on the ten acre tract he purchased opposite his own place from the L.S.B. a couple of years ago. Since purchasing the Hall ranch Mr. Davie has in five years twelve acres of clearing to his credit.

The United Church ladies' Aid had a packed house for their dramatic entertainment on Friday night, the feature of which was the domestic comedy, "A Matrimonial Agency," which was put on by a company of seven consisting of Mrs. Pochin, Mrs. Blair, Mrs. Ted Strong and Mrs. Roy Brownell.

and Messrs. F. Harback, Alf. Spencer and Mr. Jenks. Unusual ability was shown by all the characters with Mrs. Blair particularly capable in the humorous role of the family servant. Mr. Harback scored a hit with his comic song, "Ten Little Nigger Boys," and other appreciated vocal numbers were contributed by Jeff Knott, A. Spencer and Mr. and Mrs. Kolthammer, whilst pleasing variety was lent the affair in recitations by Miss Effie Littlejohn and Esther Staples. After meeting the expenses of the evening the aid will clear up at least $40.

Manford Samuelson, who is in charge of the United Church work at Yahk, Moyle and Lumberton, will take the service at Canyon on Sunday evening, in an exchange of work with Mr. Harback. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper was dispensed at the evening service on the 15th, at which Rev. J. Herdman presided.

Local and Personal

At the congregational meeting in connection with Christ Church at home in the Parish Hall on Friday night the church committee was asked to thoroughly canvass the situation and if the outlook was at all promising to at once ask the bishop to send a successor to Rev. H. Varley, who is leaving for Surrey in December.

A. McL. Fletcher, Dominion fruit inspector, Nelson, was here on an official visit a couple of days at the end of the week. He is now compiling the figures on the 1925 crop in the Valley and these go to show that at least 25,000 crates of strawberries were shipped this year, with Wynndel supplying more than four-fifths of the tonnage.

"A Matrimonial Agency," the comedy drama that made such a tremendous hit as presented by the Canyon dramatic club on Friday night at Canyon, will be repeated at Creston on Thursday evening, November 26th, at 8 p.m., in the United Church. There will also be some musical numbers to round out a very fine evening's entertainment. A silver collection will be taken.

The Alice Siding Musical Party had a fine turnout at their opening dance at the Grand Theatre ballroom on Wednesday night. All the favorite dances were on the programme with the orchestra supplying music that included the popular old numbers as well as the newest selections which were rendered faultlessly. The supper was excellent and everyone enjoyed the evening immensely.

Rev. G. Williams, a returned missionary from Formosa, spoke on the work in that country to a fair sized audience in the United Church on Wednesday night last. His trip through western Canada is part of the effort to arouse interest in the church's $4,000,000 budget of which amount it is now announced the congregations at Kitchener, Lister, Canyon, Creston and Wynndel are looked to to raise $850.

Skating Rink is Assured Creston

Opening the fair building as a skating and curling rink is a move that will meet with the approval of everyone in the district. The fact that there has been no place in the village where our young people could go for recreation during the winter months has been for some time recognized as a situation that is more or less serious, every public spirited citizen will be relieved to know that with the opening of the Creston Rink this situation will no longer exist.

Ever since its formation the fair board has worked whole heartedly for the good of the district and in making it possible to use the fair building this winter they have given just another example of the right kind of public spirit. The Goat Mountain Waterworks Company is also assisting the new enterprise by making water available. Doubtless the public will follow the example set by Major Mallandaine and the fair board and give the rink the support it deserves.

The citizens who are giving the necessary financial backing have been fortunate in securing the services of Fred Waylett as manager, which ensures that the rink will be properly conducted in every way.

The plans are to make the charges for skating as low as possible with free afternoons for the smaller children.

Work is already well under way. The interior of the building has been cleared out, the ground levelled and the water piped inside, ready to take advantage of the first frost.

Sirdar

G. Brown of Cranbrook is here with a crew of three men making repairs to the steam line that heats the boarding house and cars, and getting things in shape for the winter months.

Mr. Dill of Nelson, executor of the estate of the late Mrs. Jones, was at Kuskanoak at the weekend in connection with business affairs.

Dr. Henderson of Creston paid Sirdar a professional visit on Tuesday, being called here on account of the illness of Mrs. Tolericco, who is now recovering nicely.

Mrs. Jas. Cook of Creston is a visitor with Sirdar friends this week, the guest of Mrs. Loasby.

Sid McCabe arrived back on Tuesday with the B & B crew and plant, and is busy on repair work at this point.

John Tolericco, section foreman, who has been on the sick list for the past three weeks, is now coming around nicely, and will shortly be back at work. In his absence P. Lombardo is in charge of the crew.

Frank Simister of Creston was here last week with his team and made delivery of about 40 tons of Galt coal to Sirdar householders. The shipment was brought in by Mr. Simister.

P. Cherbo left a few days ago for Winnipeg, Man., where he is combining business with a pleasure trip. In his absence Mrs. Cherbo and son are visiting with her daughter at Hillcrest, Alberta.

S. Pascuzzo was a business visitor at Creston on Monday on the lookout for a work horse to replace the one burned in the fire that destroyed his barn on Saturday night.

There was a good turnout and most enjoyable time at the benefit dance at the schoolhouse on Saturday night in aid of the affairs of the late Frank Cherbo, who was drowned at the Landing about a month ago. The affair was cut short due to the fire alarm being sounded just about the time the crowd was preparing to sit down to lunch. The event was launched by Gus Oman, who was ably assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Cam and others.

The most disastrous fire Sirdar has had in many years occurred about midnight Saturday, when the barn on the S. Pascuzzo ranch was discovered on fire, with the flames spreading so rapidly that little or nothing could be saved, a horse and two cows being amongst the property destroyed, as well as hay and implements. About the only thing saved was a cow which in the excitement broke loose from the stall and managed to break through the barn siding and escape with considerable scorching, but able to get around. The fire is most likely due to combustion in the hay, and will entail a loss in the neighborhood of $1000, with no insurance.

Alice Siding

Clifford Seaver, who has been a visitor here with Mr. and Mrs. R. Stewart for the past week, has returned to his home at Three Pines, Idaho.

O. S. Hester was a business visitor in Nelson a few days the latter part of the week.

Mrs. Payne is spending a few days at Kitchener this week, the guest of Mrs. McGonegal.

H. H. Taylor is back into the fuel business again, setting up his Wee McGregor wood sawing outfit a few days ago.

Robert and Hector Stewart spent a few days at Wynndel last week, on chimney building work in that section.

Armistice Day was fittingly observed at the Alice Siding school on Wednesday last, the time honored two minutes silence being observed.

The rain of the past week put sufficient moisture into the soil for fall ploughing to start and the ranchers are busy at it these fine days.

Review advts. get results, according to R. Stewart, who recently advertised a number of young pigs for sale, selling the whole lot of them; some of the buyers being at Boswell.

The Alice Siding Musical Party were at Creston on Wednesday night for a dance in the Grand Theatre ballroom, and on the 27th are booked to assist at a concert at Wynndel.

The Coming General Election

The outstanding event of the week in which this article is written was the dissolution of Parliament and the calling of a general election to take place next month to choose a new House of Commons. This is a matter in which every citizen of Canada is vitally interested regardless of individual party views and affiliations or position occupied in the economic life of the Dominion.

The fortunes of political parties are not the concern of this particular column; what we are concerned about are the fortunes of the Dominion of Canada, and, in particular, of Western Canada because of a profound conviction that it will only be through the settlement, the development, the prosperity of this vast western land that permanent growth and prosperity will come to the Dominion as a whole. Support given, or opposition voiced, in this column to any given policy in the past, or that may be given or voiced in the future, is not because such policy may originate with any particular political party, but because of its bearing on Canada's progress and prosperity.

In the coming election, as in all elections, many conscientious voters will find themselves in somewhat of a quandary just how to mark their ballot paper. They not only will be called upon to choose from among the candidates offering for election the man or woman to be their representative at Ottawa, but, while making that choice, they must also render a verdict on the larger national issue of the policies and group of men they desire to rule at Ottawa.

Because of this double responsibility, many voters find themselves in difficulties. If it was merely a case of selecting their local representative, the task would be comparatively simple, namely, voting for the candidate who in their judgment was the most upright, the ablest, best informed and most intelligent, and therefore likely to prove the most capable representative. But it not infrequently happens that this particular candidate is standing in support of policies and leaders which the individual voter is not prepared to support, while a less capable man is the candidate supporting policies and leaders in which he has confidence. The problem is there, but in the final analysis it must be decided by the voter.

One thing the individual voter can do, and that is to use all his influence to secure the selection of a candidate in whom he has every confidence as a local representative by the party whose policies he supports and in whose leaders he has confidence. Such action on his part is one of the duties of citizenship which the individual voter owes to his country.

Another course of action on the part of the individual voter is to refrain from pledging his support to any one candidate until all the candidates are in the field, and the opposing policies of the contending parties are clearly outlined and understood. Nobody should pledge such a valuable thing as their vote "in the dark" and without full knowledge of all the facts which have a bearing in the election.

In the approaching election there is another and grave consideration which must influence the voter in the marking of his ballot. Since Confederation, with the exception of the last four years, the party in power at Ottawa, whether Liberal, Conservative or Unionist, has always commanded a substantial and working majority. It was able to govern, and if it was guilty of neglect and failure to grapple and deal with national problems, the responsibility rested squarely on its shoulders.

During the past four years the Government of the day did not possess such a majority. The House of Commons was divided into three distinct groups, each with policies of their own. The outstanding feature of Conservative policy was wholly unacceptable to the Progressive group and to the vast majority of the Government following; the principles and primary features of Progressive policy were equally unacceptable to the Conservatives and to a certain section of the Liberals. Inasmuch as the Government of the day had to depend upon the support of one group or the other, a deadlock usually resulted, and party considerations and manoeuvrings became paramount to the national welfare and progress.

As a result, Canada has drifted at a time when decisive action was urgently needed. Everybody recognizes the situation. The Opposition make it a charge against the Government; the Government admits the situation has existed but holds itself blameless in view of the conditions which confronted it.

Great Britain suffered from exactly the same situation until an election became imperative. Then the people put an end to an impossible situation by returning one party with an overwhelming majority and a clear mandate to govern. In the last United States election the voters were faced with a similar problem, and they, too, decided in the interests of good government to give one group a clear and substantial working majority.

In the election next month the voters of Canada must face this issue and decide it. Regardless of the outcome of the voting, it is important that decisive action one way or the other be taken, and an end put to present indecision and drifting leading to worse than stagnation in the development and carrying into effect of policies and reforms calculated to promote the national welfare.

Latest Triumph Of British Optical Industry

Make Better Lenses Than Any Other Country In World

A cinematograph machine which will take 4,800 pictures a second is one of the latest triumphs of British makers of optical instruments. It can be used to show, for example, the effect of the impact of projectiles on armored plate.

This is only one of the many remarkable results achieved since the war which have placed the British optical industry far ahead of foreign rivals. Before the war, lenses ground in Germany were believed to be the best; now, British lenses are being bought by the German Government for German state institutions.

Swollen Joints, Quickly Limbered Up Rub On Nerviline

You would be surprised at the wonderful action of "Nerviline" in just such cases. Being thin and not an oil preparation, it is able to penetrate quickly, and down it sinks into the tissues, carrying its healing, soothing action wherever it goes. For stopping muscular or nerve pain, for easing a stiff joint, Nerviline is a complete success. Pain, soreness, stiffness all vanish before the magic power of this wonderful liniment. Nearly fifty years of success proves the merit of Nerviline, which is sold everywhere in large 35 cent bottles.

Paper Made From African Grass
Paper made from esparto, an African wild grass, has been produced by the bureau of standards on a commercial basis and samples have been made available to American industry as a government test. The bureau's reports show that the imported grass pulp, after cleaning gave a 60 per cent. yield of papermaking fibre.

NEARING A BREAKDOWN

A Condition That Calls For a Reliable Tonic

Many women give so much of their time to the cares of their household that they neglect their own health and sometimes reach the verge of a breakdown before they realize that their health is shattered. Often the heart palpitates violently at slight exertion, the stomach fails to digest food and discomfort follows. The nerves become weak and headaches grow more frequent. The body grows weak and they are always depressed. This condition requires immediate treatment with such a reliable tonic as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which enrich and build up the blood, carrying renewed energy to every part of the body. The value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in a rundown condition is proved by the following statement from Mrs. Alex. McInnes, Bowman River, Man., who says: "About a year ago I had a serious illness which left me very anæmic. I was not able to get around to do my work; in fact I could scarcely walk. I was troubled with palpitation of the heart with the least exertion. One day a friend advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as they had done her much good. I followed this advice and took the pills for some weeks when I felt as well as ever. I have since been able to attend to all my household duties. The dizziness and palpitation have left me and I bless the day I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are just the medicine for those who are weak and rundown."

You can get these pills from any dealer or by mail at 50c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Rifians Are Good Fighters

Are Holding Their Own Against France and Spain

The Rifian tribesmen in Morocco will be able to maintain their independence against the French and Spaniards for some time, in the opinion of Sir Charles Hobhouse, former British army officer, and ex-postmaster-general, who has returned to London from inspecting the condition of the Rifian refugees at Tangier, on behalf of the League of Nations.

"Despite grandiose stories, the Rifians are holding their own against France and Spain," he told the newspapermen. "It will undoubtedly be a case of Europe against Africa, if the war is carried on, and it looks as if Africa will hold her own, and a little more."

"The Rifians are good fighters. They have up-to-date equipment, and their leader, Abd-el-Krim, is a man of remarkable military capacity."

Last of the Peace Pipes

Ancient Indian Curio Sent to New York From Saskatchewan

Swathed in its original wrappings, some of the inner materials being hundreds of years old, one of the oldest relics on the American continent is now on its way to New York to its long rest in the Museum of American History Foundation, an institution devoted exclusively to Indian relics.

D. A. Cadzow, curator of the museum, was in Regina recently after more than a month spent in the various reserves in Saskatchewan. He secured a mass of old knives, arrows, blankets, beads and other trinkets, but the prize he was after and secured was possibly the last of the peace pipes retained by the Crees.

Worms in children work havoc. These pests attack the tender lining of the intestines and, if left to pursue their ravages undisturbed, will ultimately perforate the wall, because these worms are of the hook variety that cling to and feed upon the interior surfaces. Miller's Worm Powders will not only exterminate these worms, of whatever variety, but will serve to repair the injury they have done.

Chinese Law Very Strict

Offenders All-Treated the Same in Their Courts

When Lord Palmerston, in 1838, tried to force a bill through the House of Commons to establish an extra territorial court in China in civil and criminal cases it was defeated through the opposition of Sir James Graham and other sound lawyers, who refused to be parties to the creation of a tribunal which would interfere with an "independent power" like China.

As a matter of fact, the objection made to Chinese law by countries whose nationals got into trouble there was that it was too strict and too well enforced.

For example, all murders looked alike to the Chinese courts, and so drunken sailors ashore who killed somebody for fun naturally wished to be tried by European judges who would consider the mitigating circumstances.

It is about time for people to wake up to the fact that Chinese legal ideas, like her arts, were very advanced when Europe was in a state of barbarism.—New York Telegram.

Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator will drive worms from the system without injury to the child, because its action, while fully effective, is mild.

Insects Bring Safety
All steel railway cars are now being used on Indian railways. The change was not made for safety reasons but because insects ate up the wooden cars rapidly.

Tourist Traffic Extending North

Northern Rockies Will Be Mecca of World Says Louis W. Hill

"World tourist traffic is tending north. This generation will see the time when the Northern Rockies will be the Mecca of the wealth and society of Europe and America. The next generation will see the development of Alaska as the centre of the world tourist traffic." This is the opinion expressed here by Louis W. Hill, president of the Great Northern Railway, and son of the famous founder of the road, James J. Hill.

Mr. Hill, who is motoring through the Canadian Rockies with William Kenny, vice-president of his road, expresses the hope that the United States will copy the superior park laws and highways which he has found north of the border.

As the one to whom credit is given for discovering and opening up Glacier National Park, Montana, Mr. Hill believes that good auto roads are now the strongest medium for developing the tourist possibilities of a country. Such roads as the Banff-Windermere highway will in the next generation stretch clear into the wilds of Alaska, he predicted.

Canada Must Hold Fast To Link That Welds Together Component Parts Of Empire

Severing of some of the old ties of the British Empire is natural and reasonable progress, but few in Canada think on that account that the empire is disintegrating, said Sir George Foster, in a public address at Victoria.

"Some people say it would not make any difference if the empire was a republic and headed by a president or a monarchy headed by a King," Sir George added.

"But the British Empire," scattered as it is over the surface of the world and composed of races and tribes of all colors and beliefs, is held together by that common sovereignty of ours.

"It is symbol of sovereignty that has made the British Empire what it is and we must hold fast to that link that welds into a whole all the scattered parts of the empire."

Market For Western Wheat

Norway Will Get Wheat In Canada Says Commissioner

Most of the wheat Norway requires this year will come from Canada, according to A. Johannessen, of the Norwegian food commission, Oslo, who visited Winnipeg, on his way through the west to study crop and marketing conditions here.

Many European millers and grain merchants suffered such heavy losses during the slump in wheat prices from February to May this year that they will be afraid of making large contracts for next year he said.

All the import trade of grains and flour to Norway is handled by the Norwegian Government, Mr. Johannessen explained. It is a provisional measure, adopted during the war, and which the government still finds advisable to keep in force owing to unfavorable agricultural conditions in the country. From 1914 to 1917 private importers as well as the government handled import trade of grains. In 1917 the government took it over entirely.

Alfalfa Is Good Horse Feed

Experiments Show Prejudice Against It Is Unfounded

An experiment conducted by the Michigan Agricultural College seems to show that, to some extent at least, the prejudice against alfalfa as a horse feed is not founded on fact. Horses which were fed alfalfa regularly for a year maintained their weight and good condition, and did just as much work at less feed cost than their team-mates.

Nine teams of horses, varying from 2½ to 14 years of age, were selected for the experiment. One horse of each team was fed corn and alfalfa and the other corn, oats and timothy.

The alfalfa-fed horses consumed an average of 12.2 pounds of corn and 17.91 of alfalfa per day, while the others ate 8 pounds of corn and 6.23 pounds of oats, with 19.59 pounds of timothy. It costs 31 cents a day for feed with the alfalfa-fed horses and 37 cents for the timothy-fed horses. The former gained an average of 21 pounds during the year, and their mates lost 17 pounds each.

British Boys For Alberta

Contingent of Boys for Training at Alberta Government Farm School

Arrangements are now being made for bringing over this year's contingent of British farm boys for training at the Alberta Government farm schools.

Hon. George Hoadley has asked that they be here by the middle of October as the schools will open October 27. There is to be a maximum limit of 100 boys, and they will be routed direct from England to the three schools at Vermilion, Olds and Charlestown.

Under the plan to followed this year, the British lads will pay their own way at the schools, and the overseas settlement board will remunerate the Provincial Government on a monthly per capita basis.

It is anticipated the full quota will be reached without difficulty.

Cultivation Of Drug Plants

Small Plot of Land Might be Used For This Purpose

Formerly, as Mr. John Adams, assistant dominion botanist, says in his bulletin on "Medicinal plants and Their Cultivation in Canada," certain drug plants growing wild in this country were to be had for the mere trouble of gathering. Excess of use of this privilege has led to their scarcity and in their wild state to such practical disappearance as now to require their cultivation. Particularly is this true of Seneca snake root and Golden Seal. Mr. Adams, in dealing with this subject, gives the commonsense advice that unless a farmer can convince himself that he can realize larger profits per acre from the growth of drug plants than from the usual farm products, he would be unwise to attempt it unless as a sort of subsidiary means of supplementing his income. However, he can run no risk by devoting a small plot of about an acre to drug plant culture as an experiment for a few years. He might grow at least ten different sorts of those best suited to his locality. The plants for which there is demand are: Golden Seal, which is collected in autumn after the seeds have ripened; white mustard, the seeds of which, and Black Mustard, when ground and mixed, constitute the mustard of commerce; Seneca Snake Root or Mountain Flax, is collected in autumn and can be grown on any soil suitable for field crops; Marsh Mallow, Sacred Bark or Bearberry, Anise, Caraway, Coriander, Fennel, Wintergreen or Checkerberry, Horehound, Peppermint and others, descriptions of all of which are given in the bulletin, which can be had by addressing the publication branch, Ottawa. Above everything farmers are warned against paying heed to flamboyant advertisements purporting to tell of big profits that can be made by growing medicinal plants.

One of the Mysteries

No One Has Ever Found the Nature of Light

Immortality awaits the research worker who can solve the mystery of the nature of light.

The theory that light consists of waves is apparently substantiated by such phenomena as reflection.

On the other hand, many experiments seem to uphold the quantum theory, the theory that light consists of definite particles of energy.

Physicists find themselves up against a real difficulty. One wit in the scientific world says that they are solving the problem by using the wave theory on Monday, Wednesday and Friday and the quantum theory on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

What Advertising Does

Advertising—published news of available goods, investments and services—enlarges the market and creates new wants. More advertising, more production, more consumption and more accumulation of wealth! Advertising is the fertilizer of business, making a poor soil good and a good soil better.

Buying More Canadian Goods

Germany is buying more Canadian goods. In the twelve months ended July, Canadian exports to Germany were $32,438,268, an increase of fourteen million dollars. Canadian purchases in Germany, on the other hand, were $6,935,265, an increase of less than one million dollars.

Dominions Need Population

Rapid Progress Depends On Strong Immigration Policy

Continued and rapid progress in the Dominions depends upon the continued and rapid increase of their population, says the London Morning Post. Such increase can only be accomplished by means of inter-imperial migration. There are in this country a great many more persons than the industries of the country can support. But before any large scheme of emigration can be carried into execution, it is necessary to ensure that new settlers in the Dominions shall be provided with a market for their produce. Great Britain is the best market in the world; and by means of a policy of preference the products of the Dominions may be given the advantage over foreign products. But, again, the possibility of emigration on a great scale depends upon the working together of the Dominions with this country. How essential it is to their populations with English stock the Dominions have not yet thoroughly understood. It appeared in the course of the parliamentary debate that, by reason of delay overseas, some 50,000 persons, approved by the authorities, are waiting to migrate.

Plenty Of Flowers In Canada

Many Cultivated In England That Grow Wild Here

Lady Byng, who is an enthusiastic flower lover, wishes to transplant some Canadian flowers to her English garden and to that end sent for her English gardener to make a special study of these wild things. Recently at Jasper lodge, before a little audience invited to meet her, she spoke informally on the subject. She commented on the number of flowers which she said over in England were only to be found in gardens, and there were frequently cultivated at considerable cost, but which out here in Canada people literally trod underfoot, they were so plentiful. She urged the members to cultivate rock gardens in Jasper. Her Excellency said it was astonishing how many people overseas thought that there were no flowers in Canada.

Saskatchewan Leads With Registered Seed

Has Three Hundred Growers Against Manitoba's Forty-eight

The field inspection of registered seed in the western provinces is now practically finished for the season. The number of fields is slightly increased from last year, although at first the applications were somewhat less. The number picked up on the way by inspectors has brought the total well up. Saskatchewan leads with about 300 growers of registered seed. Manitoba has 48 this year as against 31 last season.

In Saskatchewan the seed grain competitions were also judged and, as the provincial staff of district representatives was working on this, the Dominion seed branch staff joined forces and pooled the work to avoid duplication of routes.

Flowers that bloomed in ancient Egypt 20 centuries before Cleopatra, and wheat and barley, taken into the royal tombs to sustain Pharaohs on their post-mortem travels, have been brought to Chicago by Prof. James Henry Breasted, noted Egyptologist of the Chicago University.

Time For Best Work

New Profession For Women

Bird Hospital In New York Does Flourishing Business

Miss Emilia Steinacher, niece of the late Dr. J. J. Henna, one of the founders of the French Hospital in New York, and for many years chief surgeon there, has the unique profession of bird surgeon. Receiving her surgical training from her uncle, Miss Steinacher applied her skill to feathered pets and has restored hundreds of sick birds to health during the past twenty-three years. She was the only visiting physician on the staff of the late Miss Virginia Pope, well known bird doctor, who maintained a home for birds in New York for many years.

At Miss Steinacher's hospital and boarding home for feathered pets are birds suffering from various troubles. One bullfinch is slowly getting feathers again on his bald head, the baldness being due to an over-rich diet at the hands of a fond owner. A handsome green parrot that had been too weak to stand and had laid for days on a cushion, is now talking again with a return to his previous spirits. A troopier is recovering the use of a badly mended leg that Miss Steinacher reset. A once blind canary now sees, after the surgeon had removed three growths from its eye.

Miss Steinacher claims that a real love for birds is a necessary basis for all successful treatment and care of them. She operates on little canaries to remove tumors, mends broken legs and wings, prescribes special diets for upset digestions and intestinal disorders and trains birds in good habits, such as daily baths and neatness with their seed.

Ignorant Of Canada

Premier Ferguson Tells English Journalists He Was Amazed

The married farmer with sufficient money to establish himself and the boy from the middle classes who can be trained into a farmer are the kind of immigrants Ontario most desires, Premier G. H. Ferguson told a party of ten English journalists who were in Toronto in the course of a tour of the Dominion.

Mr. Ferguson told the journalists that when he was in England the thing that amazed him was the want of knowledge of Canada and conditions in Canada. "I found that people knew far more about Australia and New Zealand than they did of this country. We need men over there who really understand conditions in Canada."

Adjustable Water Wheel

Will Rise and Fall Any Height Up to 36 Feet

A water wheel has been invented which is designed to adjust itself automatically to the varying height of the propelling stream. As first constructed the wheel has eight V-shaped paddles about 13 feet long and 14 inches wide, and it is so mounted on an airtight tank that it rises and falls with the river's changes through any height up to 36 feet. It is used for pumping irrigating water from a distance of 280 feet to a height of 70 feet above the source. Pumps and gearings are placed on the river bank, and the wheel and tank are connected by a shaft having universal couplings at each end.

Canadian Finance, of Winnipeg, points out that we are too apt to cry out against what taxation takes from us, without reckoning up in the other column what taxation does for us. It is not so much the taxation that should be criticized as the way in which the taxes are spent. If there are things which can be dispensed with as needless luxuries, then taxes should not be raised in order to purchase them. But civilized men, in communities that are organized, demand so many services, that the chief question is to supply these services at reasonable cost to the taxpayer who wants them.

Citizens, says Canadian Finance, cannot expect to be considered consistent if they clamor for improvements in one breath and for lower taxes in the next, for no progress can be made in that way. What people get in the way of public improvement they must pay for, and they can't have everything they want and lower taxes too.

At the same time, while public spending in recent years has run away beyond all bounds, anybody who hopes to get back to the low taxes of 20 years ago, is indulging in an elusive dream. To get back to the lower tax levels would mean to get back to the inferior school systems and the bad roads and poorer lighting of those days.

Taxpayers are paying for more than they were and in many cases more than they should; but it should not be forgotten that they are getting more, too, and that in many instances what they are getting is worth the price they pay.

This is no argument for extravagance. Extravagance with taxes is a wicked injustice upon those whose hard won earnings contribute to the public treasury, and is not only directly burdensome, but is made indirectly pernicious by the poison of a demoralizing example.

Settlers From United States

Many American Farmers Taking Up Land In Western Canada

Returned from what he regards as a remarkably encouraging inspection of the various agencies in the mid-western, northwestern and southwestern states, J. Bruce Walker, superintendent of immigration in the United States, states that from April 1 to August 31, of this year the number of farmers sent up from these states to settle land in Western Canada shows an increase of 50 per cent. over the figures for the same period and from the same region last year.

He stated, too, that from March 1 to August 31 this year the Canadian National Railways, the Hudson's Bay Company and the Canadian Pacific Railway sold more land in Western Canada than in a similar period for the past ten years.

"All we have to do," said Mr. Walker, "is to get those Western American farmers to go and see Canada; Canada will do the rest. If Canada with her wonderful wheat fields cannot induce these people to stay no other agency can. They are going to Canada in steadily increasing numbers to see the country and steadily increasing numbers of those people are taking land and staying. Reports from agencies of the department wherever located in the United States all tell the same story."

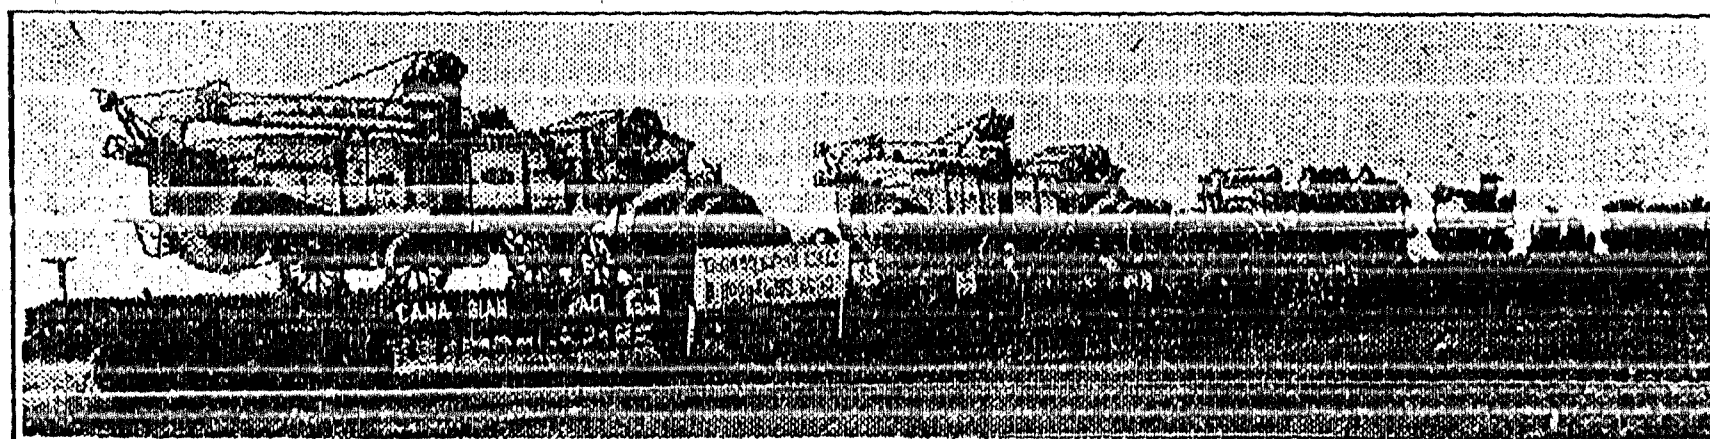

Borrowed Fashion

Indian girls on the Glacier National Park reservation bob their hair just like the pale face city misses. They use rouge, too, of a hue that blends with their copper colored complexion. And the wrinkled old squaws make it for them from herbs which they gather on the wooded slopes of the Rocky Mountains. Out in the west these Indians take it for granted that the pale face girls got the idea of cheek painting from the American Indian custom, just as the Indian girls took the hair bobbing habit from their "white sisters."

First Census Taken

Until two years ago no census of the population of Palestine had been taken since the time of Solomon. In 1923, there were 83,794 Jews in the country; today the total is estimated at 108,000.

K. Kleist had his annual shooting match on Wednesday afternoon at the Gobbett ranch when 13 geese were shot for with twelve entries on each bird. Frank Staples was the high gun with three birds. Ray McKelvey and R. B. Staples each got two, and Gerald Timmons, H. Christie, Joe Romano, L. Littlejohn and Geo. Lead-beater one each.

H. L. Crosthwait on Friday disposed of his fine five-acre ranch adjoining town to a Mr. Morley of Coleman, Alberta, who has been in the Valley

BAREE, SON OF KAZAN

James Oliver Curwood

A LOVE EPIC OF THE FAR NORTH

Copyright, 1917, by Doubleday, Page & Co.

"BAREE, SON OF KAZAN," a Vitaphone Picture, With Wolf, the War Dog, is an Adaptation of This Story

SYNOPSIS

Baree, wandering in the woods, came upon Wakayoo, the black bear, and, fascinated, watched him knock fish out of the pool. He learned where Wakayoo cached his provisions, a discovery that solved the food problem for the young wolf-dog. One day he suddenly found himself face to face with Pierrot, the trapper, and his daughter, Nepeese, the Willow, who a few days before had shot and slightly wounded Baree, thinking him a wolf. Nepeese now pursued Baree, who concealed himself beneath a great boulder.

From where he lay Baree could see what happened. Scarcely had he crawled under the rock when Nepeese and Pierrot appeared through the break in the dip and stopped. The fact that they stopped thrilled Baree. They were afraid of Wakayoo! The big bear was two-thirds of the way across the meadow. The sun fell on him, so that his coat shone like black satin. Pierrot stared at him for a moment. Pierrot did not kill for the love of killing. Necessity made him a conservationist. But he saw that in spite of the lateness of the season, Wakayoo's coat was splendid—and he raised his rifle.

Baree saw this action. He saw, a moment later, something spit from the end of the gun, and then he heard that deafening crash that had come with his own hurt, when the Willow's bullet had burned through his flesh. He turned his eyes swiftly to Wakayoo. The big bear had stumbled; he was on his knees; and then he struggled up and lumbered on.

The roar of the rifle came again, and a second time Wakayoo went down. Pierrot could not miss at that distance. Wakayoo made a splendid mark. It was slaughter; yet for Pierrot and Nepeese it was business—the business of life.

Baree was shivering. It was more from excitement than fear, for he had lost his own fear in the tragedy of these moments. A low whine rose in his throat as he looked at Wakayoo, who had risen again and faced his enemy.

DOCTOR ADVISED AN OPERATION

Read Alberta Woman's Experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Provost, Alberta.—"Perhaps you will remember sending me one of your books a year ago. I was in a bad condition and could not do anything. The doctor said I could not have children unless I went under an operation. I read testimonials of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the papers and a friend recommended me to take it. After taking three bottles I became much better and now I have a bonny baby girl four months old. I do my housework and help a little with the chores. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and am willing for you to use this testimonial letter."—Mrs. A. A. ADAMS, Box 51, Provost, Alberta.

Lachine, Quebec.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because I suffered with pains in my left side and back and with weakness and other troubles women so often have. I read the way about it in the papers and the Vegetable Compound advertised in the 'Montreal Standard,' and I have taken four bottles of it. I was a very sick woman and I feel so much better I would not be without it. I also use Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I recommend the medicines to my friends and I am willing for you to use my letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. M. W. ROSE, 590 Notre Dame St., Lachine, Quebec.

emies—his jaws gaping, his head swinging slowly, his legs weakening under him as the blood poured through his torn lungs. Baree whined—because Wakayoo had fished for him, because he had come to look on him as a friend, and because he knew it was death that Wakayoo was facing now. There was a third shot—the last. Wakayoo sank down in his tracks. His big head dropped between his forepaws. A racking cough or two came to Baree. And then there was silence.

CHAPTER VIII.

As Nepeese gazed about the rock-walled end of the canyon, the prison into which they had driven Wakayoo and Baree, Pierrot looked up again from his skinning of the big black bear, and he muttered something that no one but himself could have heard. "Non, it is not possible," he had said a moment before; but to Nepeese it was possible—the thought that was in her mind. It was a wonderful thought. It thrilled her to the depth of her wild, beautiful soul. It sent a glow into her eyes and a deeper flush of excitement into her cheeks and lips.

"She drew herself out and stood once more in the sunshine."

As she gazed the ragged edges of the little meadow for signs of the dog-pup, her thoughts flashed back swiftly. Two years ago they had buried her princess mother under the tall spruce near their cabin. That day Pierrot's sun had set for all time, and her own life was filled with a vast loneliness. There had been three at the graveside that afternoon as the sun went down—Pierrot, herself and a dog, a great, powerful hunk with a white star on his breast and a white-tipped ear. He had been her dead mother's pet from puppyhood—her bodyguard, with her always, even with his head resting on the side of her bed as she died. And that night the night of the day they buried her, the dog had disappeared. He had gone as quietly and as completely as her spirit. No one ever saw him after that. It was strange, and to Pierrot it was a miracle. Deep in his heart he was filled with the wonderful conviction that the dog had gone with his beloved Wyoko into heaven.

But Nepeese had spent three winters at the Missioner's school at Nelson House. She had learned a great deal about white people and the real God, and she knew that Pierrot's thought was impossible. The belief that her mother's hunk was either dead or had joined the wolves. Probably he had gone to the wolves. So was it not possible that this young man, who had been her father's pet, was one of the flesh and blood of her

HARD PIMPLES ALL OVER FACE

For About Three Years. Healed by Cuticura.

"I had trouble with pimples and blackheads for about three years. The pimples were scattered all over my face and were hard and red. They itched and burned a lot causing me to scratch and the scratching caused eruptions. My face looked so badly that I was ashamed to go out."

"I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and they helped me. I continued the treatment and in two months I was completely healed." (Signed) Miss Helen Budnik, R. 1, Box 11, Necedah, Wis., Sept. 27, 1924.

mother's pet? It was more than possible.

Baree had not moved an inch from under his rock. He lay like a thing stunned, his eyes fixed steadily on the scene of the tragedy out in the meadow.

Baree wanted to approach. It was like an invisible string tugging at his very heart. It was Kazan, and not Gray Wolf, calling to him back through the centuries, a "call" that was as old as the Egyptian pyramids and perhaps ten thousand years older. But against that desire Gray Wolf was pulling from out the black ages of the forests. The wolf held him quiet and motionless. Nepeese was looking about her. She was smiling. For a moment her face was turned toward him, and he saw the white shine of her teeth, and her beautiful eyes seemed glowing straight at him.

And then, suddenly, she dropped on her knees and peered under the rock. Their eyes met. For at least half a minute there was not a sound. Nepeese did not move, and her breath came so softly that Baree could not hear it.

Then she said, almost in a whisper: "Baree! Baree! Upi Baree!"

It was the first time Baree had heard his name, and there was something so soft and assuring in the sound of it that in spite of himself the dog in him responded to it in a whimper that just reached the Willow's ears. Slowly she stretched in an arm. It was bare and round and soft. He might have darted forward the length of his body and buried his fangs in it easily. But something held him back. He knew that it was not an enemy; he knew that the dark eyes shining at him so wonderfully were not filled with the desire to harm—and the voice that came to him softly was like a strange and thrilling music.

"Baree! Baree! Upi Baree!"

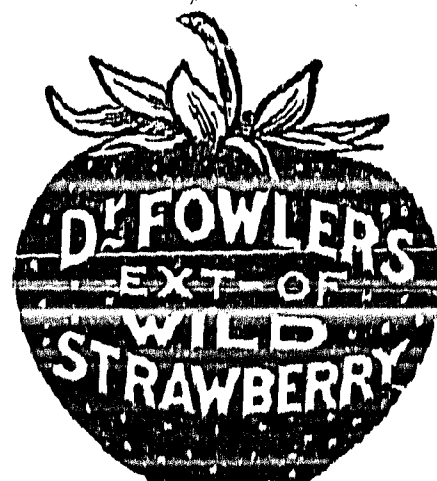

Over and over again the Willow called to him like that, while on her face she tried to draw herself a few inches farther under the rock. She could not reach him. There was still a foot between her hand and Baree, and she could not wedge herself in an inch more. And then she saw where on the other side of the rock there was a hollow, shut in by a stone. If she had removed the stone, and come in that way—

She drew herself out and stood once more in the sunshine. Her heart thrilled. Pierrot was busy over his bear—and she would not call him. She made an effort to move the stone which closed in the hollow under the big boulder, but it was wedged in tightly. Then she began digging with a stick.

Five minutes—and Nepeese could move the stone. She tugged at it. Inch by inch she dragged it out until at last it lay at her feet and the opening was ready for her body. She looked again toward Pierrot. He was still busy, and she laughed softly as she untied a big red-and-white Bay handkerchief from about her shoulders. With this she would secure Baree. She dropped on her hands and knees and then lowered herself flat on the ground and began crawling into the hollow under the boulder.

Baree had moved. With the back of his head flattened against the rock he heard something which Nepeese had not heard; he had felt a slow and growing pressure, and from this pressure he had dragged himself slowly—and the pressure still followed. The mass of rock was settling! Nepeese did not see or hear or understand. She was calling to him more and more pleadingly:

"Baree—Baree—Baree—"

Her head and shoulders and both arms were under the rock now. The glow of her eyes was very close to Baree. He whined. The thrill of a great and impending danger stirred in his blood. And then—

Woman's Profile On Cliffs Of Dover

Heavy Fall of Chalk Leaves Complete Clear Outline

The outlined profile of a woman's head has appeared on the face of a great white cliff between Dover and St. Margaret's Bay, near the sacred memorial to the Dover Patrol. It suddenly came into view after a heavy fall of chalk from the top of the cliff.

Boatmen who passed the cliff in their boats—the beach below cannot be reached on foot—saw one day that the chalk had fallen in such a way as to produce on the cliff the complete clear outline of a woman's face. The eye in profile is closed, the nose is straight and long, the lips are parted and the head is bowed as if in prayer or meditation. The face is turned towards Dover. It is easy to discern the shape of the skull and a sweep of hair over the forehead.

The face has caused no little comment among Dover boatmen. Some have christened it "The Lady." It is not considered a subject for jests or laughter. The profile is pointed out to one by the boatmen in tones closely resembling awe.

Scared the Passengers

A Hampstead tube train was leaving Belsize Park Station, London, when there was a loud bang. Several women screamed, the conductor looked uneasy, one housewife with a handful of parcels jumped up and made for the door.

A child sobbed—and looked reproachfully at her right hand, which held a piece of string and the fragments of a "toy balloon."

Doc—"Well, what's troubling you?" Patient—"Frequent pains in the back."

Doc—"Here are some pills; take one fifteen minutes before pains start."

Old-fashioned ideas may be the best at times, but you can't run an auto by feeding it oats.

Make your own Mustard Pickles

Home-made mustard pickles. How delicious—and how easy to put up. Here's the recipe—

MUSTARD PICKLES

1 qt. small onions 1 large cauliflower
1 qt. cucumbers 2 heads celery
2 red peppers

Peel onions, cut vegetables in small pieces, cover with weak brine and let stand overnight. In the morning bring to a boil and drain off.

Take 2 cups brown sugar, 1 cup flour, 6 tablespoonsful Keen's D.S.F. Mustard, 1 tablespoonful turmeric and 2 quarts vinegar. Boil this mixture for twenty minutes, stirring continually. Pour over vegetables hot. Let stand ten days, stirring every day, then bottle.

SUMMER COMPLAINTS KILL LITTLE ONES

At the first sign of illness during the hot weather give the little ones Baby's Own Tablets or in a few hours they may be beyond aid. These Tablets will prevent summer complaints if given occasionally to the well child, and will promptly relieve these troubles if they come on suddenly. Baby's Own Tablets should always be kept in every home where there are young children. There is no other medicine as good and the mother has the guarantee of a government analyst that they are absolutely safe. They are sold by all druggists or will be mailed on receipt of price, 25 cents per box, by The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont. A little booklet, "Care of the Baby in Health and Sickness," will be sent free to any mother on request.

Ontario Makes Drastic Laws For Motorists

Must Obtain Driving Permits and May Have to Pass Examination

Every man and woman who drives a motor car in Ontario next year will first have to obtain a driving permit, Hon. G. S. Henry, minister of public works and highways, told the annual meeting of the Canadian Automobile Association at Toronto.

The issuance of these permits would,
in all probability, in due course be followed by compulsory examination for all drivers, he said. Any conviction for traffic act infractions registered against a motorist would be entered upon his permit and could lead to the permanent revocation of license to drive.

Solving the Food Problem For Russia's Population

A newly discovered foodstuff, which may insure Soviet Russia against famine and enable the government to approach a solution of the food problem for millions of her population is occupying official attention in Moscow.
The new food is the product of a Budapest physiologist, Dr. Ladislaus Berczeller, who is conferring with the government regarding the production and distribution of Soya bean flour, a foodstuff which is said to possess great nutriment. Fifteen or twenty flour mills are in operation, but so far un-equipped with the proper machinery to provide food for ten million persons. In nutriment value, one pound of Soya bean flour equals two pounds of meat, plus a half pound of wheat flour and its usefulness above all is as a meat and egg substitute. It is estimated that the introduction of Soya bean flour on the scale now contemplated would enable the Soviet Government to release 600 tons of meat and eggs daily for export.

Find Graves Of Massacred Christians

Believed To Be Victims Of Jap
Revolution In 1637

Dr. Earl R. Bull, Methodist Episcopal missionary in charge of work in Loo Chow Islands, Japan, has discovered the burial ground of 11,000 Christians, believed to have been killed in an uprising during the revolution of 1637.

An inscription found near the grounds by Dr. Bull states that in all 33,000 Christians were slain, beheaded and buried.

The heads of the victims were buried in one spot and the bodies carried to another place, so there would be no chance of them uniting again, the inscription said.

The massacre practically wiped out all the Catholic converts in the country.

May Abandon Dirigibles

U. S. Government Virtually Decides to Concentrate on Aeroplanes

The Shenandoah disaster probably will result in temporary, if not complete abandonment by the government of its lighter than air activities.

The Los Angeles may be sold for what it will bring, the Lakehurst air-station probably closed, helium extraction will be curtailed and from now on appropriations and energies will be concentrated on aeroplanes.

The programme had virtually been decided for reasons of economy, before the loss of the Shenandoah, and with this new proof of the vulnerability of dirigibles seems more certain than ever to be adopted.

Uncomfortable Antiques

Old Furniture Not As Comfortable As Modern Kind

While very high prices are paid for antique furniture we know that such furniture is not always the most comfortable in which to recline. When Queen Alexandra was visiting York many years ago as Princess of Wales
she stayed at the treasurer's house, and dining one night at the Deanery as the guest of Dean Purey Cust, she dropped into a lounge chair and remarked: "How splendid to drop into a comfortable chair, after too much William and Mary." Our ancestors carried themselves well, but it must have been at the cost of many weary hours spent in straight-backed chairs.

Like a Grip at the Throat. For a disease that is not classed as fatal there is probably none which causes more terrible suffering than asthma.
Sleep is impossible, the sufferer becomes exhausted and finally, though the attack passes, is left in unceasing dread of its return. Dr. J. D.
Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is a wonderful remedial agent. It immediately relieves the restricted air passages as thousands can testify. It is sold by dealers everywhere.

Some men are so unlucky that if an earthquake should break out it wouldn't swallow the land until the day after they had paid the taxes on it.

Turks Abandoning Old Customs

Officials Must Wear Hats and Dress Like Europeans

More and more the newly-born Turkish Republic is abandoning old Turkish customs and substituting European methods, while the fez and turban as national headgear seem to be going into the discard. The council of commissairs has decreed that all officials must dress in European fashion and wear hats.

Only priests are to be permitted to wear turbans and they must uncover within government offices.

The Oil of the People.—Many oils have come and gone, but Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil continues to maintain its position and increase its sphere of usefulness each year. Its sterling qualities have brought it to the front and kept it there, and it can truly be called the oil of the people. Thousands have benefited by it and would use no other preparation.
