A Story of Fifty Years

"Montreal, February 16—Fifty years ago today incorporation of the Canadian Pacific Railway took place. George Stephen, afterwards Lord Mount Stephen, was the company's first president. The company deposited with the Dominion Government, at Ottawa, a cheque for $1,000,000 as a guarantee that it would fulfill its contract to complete the railway to the Pacific Coast. This pledge was completed in five years instead of the ten the contract called for."

This brief but significant news despatch appeared in the daily newspapers of Canada on February 16 last. It recalls an historic incident, a milestone in the history not only of Canada but of the world. It not only carries the mind back, but, because of all that backward glance discloses, it inevitably forces the mind forward to a contemplation of what the next fifty years may unfold. It impresses one with the tremendous developments and possibilities of a span of only fifty years.

Fifty years ago the project of a transcontinental railway across Canada was viewed with scepticism by thousands in Canada, and was regarded as the maddest kind of a venture in Great Britain. Men prominent in public affairs declared it would never earn its axle grease. The country it was to traverse was described as a wilderness, partly desert, incapable of successful cultivation and settlement by white men, followed by miles of snow capped mountain peaks and ranges.

That success rather than failure followed the great undertaking can be credited to a few stout-hearted, far-seeing men who were veritable giants in energy, resource, and grim, unbeatable determination. In some respects they were ruthless; their methods were not always above suspicion, but they had a vision and a driving force to achieve their goal regardless of any and all obstacles. Individually they staked their all on the success of the enterprise, obliterated the word "failure" from their lexicon, and won. Canada, the world, knows the result.

The railway made a new nation. It opened up an empire. It altered the trade routes of the world. It brought the Orient to the Occident, and the Occident to the Orient. The enterprise initiated fifty years ago by a new-born Dominion of a few millions of people, has amazed the world. It has become the greatest transportation system in the world, with its fixed bands of steel not only crossing and criss-crossing Canada, and extending well into the United States, but with its vessels navigating the seven seas, calling at the ports of all nations, and circumnavigating the globe.

The Canadian Pacific Railway has helped to make Canada what it is. It has made and unmade Canadian Governments. The history of the Canadian Pacific is in part the history of modern Canada. The success of the railway has been bound up in the development, the prosperity, the success of this Dominion. The management of the railway has always recognized that fact, and it has been pro-Canadian at all times and in all its policies. It has made mistakes, of course; it has been selfish, even dictatorial at times, but it has always been magnificent.

The Canadian Pacific has been created and developed under the presidency of four men, Sir George Stephen (later, Lord Mount Stephen), Sir William Van Horne, Sir Thomas (later Lord) Shaughnessy, and Mr. Edward W. Beatty. The history of the railway may likewise be divided into four periods, or possibly three as the first two merge into one. First the period of organization of the company, early financing, and actual construction under Stephen and Van Horne; second, the period of well organized, highly efficient operation under Shaughnessy, with well defined policies of branch line construction as feeders, opening new territory, and the establishment of mercantile fleets and overseas services; third, and coupled with a vigorous continuation of the Shaughnessy policies, what may be termed, in the absence of a better word, the diplomatic period under Beatty wherein up-to-date railroading has been strengthened by securing the goodwill, the admiration, the co-operation of the public generally, and the elimination of those feelings of suspicion and antagonism which undoubtedly marked the relations of the people and the railway in the earlier days.

And in the story of these fifty years is there not a lesson and an inspiration for the people of Canada? The railway had its periods of difficulty and depression, just as individuals and nations experience them, but it surmounted them. The makers of the Canadian Pacific did not shorten their vision to a year or two, or five or ten years; they looked into the future and planned and built with courage and confidence. They have had their reward. So, too, should the Canadian people maintain the forward look, act with courage and decision, remain confident. Canada has done great things in the past; it can do greater things in the years to come.

From present indications the next Congress will fully equal the success of last year at London, England.

Telephones In Canada

The estimated number of conversations by telephone in Canada during 1929 was 2,525,500,000, including 37,851,000 long distance calls. For every 100 of the population in that year there was an average of 15 telephones.

A Scientific Mystery

Source Of Cosmic Rays Has Not Been Discovered

Discovery of cosmic rays in sunshine—the same rays that penetrate about 700 feet into earth—is described in advices received at New York from Vienna.

The communication is from Prof. E. Spath, president of the Chemical and Physical Society, and is sent to clear a misunderstanding about the report made recently to the society of Prof. Victor F. Hess, of the University of Graz.

Vienna despatches had it that Professor Hess announced the discovery of cosmic rays and that his talk created a sensation among scientists.

But Prof. Spath points out that Dr. Hess did not claim to have discovered cosmic rays, which were found 18 years ago, but that he had evidence that a small percentage of these rays come from the sun.

Their origin has been one of the great scientific mysteries. The fact that most electroscopes used to detect them showed as many at night as in the day was held by some scientists to eliminate the sun as a source.

BREAKS UP GAS IN THE STOMACH

Don't suffer from dangerous gas pressing around your heart, from sourness, acidity, bloating or pain of indigestion. Stop worrying. Whenever you need quick stomach relief, take a little Bisurated Magnesia—powder or tablets. It breaks up gas, neutralizes acids and keeps the stomach sweet and strong, and indigestion perfect. At all good drug stores.

Cancer Research

Ontario To Supply Free Treatment To Sufferers

Within the next two months, possibly before the present legislature prorogues, the Ontario cabinet will make public the nature of the investigation into the cancer question to which it has committed itself. The cancer treatment, whatever it may be and whenever adopted, will be supplied free to sufferers, Premier George S. Henry stated.

Ontario led the way in the distribution of free insulin for diabetes treatment. It followed this with the manufacture of a free serum for combatting infantile paralysis, and several other treatments for diseases are also available to the general public at cost. Now the government will make available, free, the cancer treatment that will eventually be adopted.

Should the government decide on investigation by commission, it will have, it is believed, the assistance of the Ontario Research foundation. At the present time the foundation is understood to be making further investigation into the value of radium ore from Haliburton township.

One of the most effective vermifuges on the market is Miller's Worm Powders. They will not only clear the stomach and bowels of worms, but will prove a very serviceable medicine for children in regulating the infantile system and maintaining it in a healthy condition. There is nothing in their composition that will injure the most delicate stomach when directions are followed, and they can be given to children in the full assurance that they will utterly destroy all worms.

It may be mixing metaphors, but the man who puts his shoulder to the wheel seldom has to put his nose to the grindstone.

Protect the child from the ravages of worms by using Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator. It is a standard remedy, and years of use have enhanced its reputation.

To Test Hudson Bay Route

Would Increase Initial Grain Movement To Not Less Than 5,000,000 Bushels

Asking that Federal Government through Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals, give due consideration to the advisability of increasing the initial grain movement to not less than 5,000,000 bushels in order to adequately demonstrate the Hudson Bay route as a "valuable and necessary trade outlet for export farm products," the Saskatchewan traffic council unanimously passed a resolution to that effect.

Engineer Says Five-Year Idea Has Entirely Collapsed

Philip Harty and Mrs. Harty, of Newark, N.J., stepped down the gang-plank of the liner New York and heaved hearty sighs of relief. They were back where shoes cost less than $60 a pair, and butter not quite $6 a pound. They had come back from Russia.

Harty, mechanical engineer, who went to Russia last August to investigate rolling mills in Siberia, had much to say, and little of it was complimentary to the Soviet or the so-called five-year plan of social and industrial rehabilitation.

"The five-year plan is not collapsing," Harty remarked. "It has collapsed. The people are in rags. There is depression everywhere."

PRAIRIE ISSUES TO LOOM LARGE IN PARLIAMENT

Ottawa, Ont.—Questions affecting the grain-growing districts of western Canada will loom large in the coming session of parliament which opens March 12. Western members are beginning to arrive in Ottawa. They prophesy a very spirited debate and that prairie members will take a conspicuous part in it. They see no probability of the debate on the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne being wound up in a day, as has been the practice in recent sessions.

Behind the arguments for emergency relief, such as criticism of the credit policies of the banks in relation to the needs of western Canada, special freight rates, in view of the low price of wheat, and suggestions for bonuses on wheat, is the fundamental question of how to carry on in the future, in the opinion of the westerners. Can Canada successfully raise wheat in competition with the Russian five-year plan of big publicly managed farms?

"I see no reason why Russia will not be able to carry out its five-year project," said Hon. W. R. Motherwell, former minister of agriculture, one of the early arrivals. "The Russian people are deeply in earnest about this and are willing to wear their knuckles bare to see it through. I can see no silver lining to the cloud. Whether the efficiency they are showing in their five-year wheat growing plan can be kept up indefinitely is doubtful. I have had some pretty direct information from Russia, however, and I am convinced they will put through the five-year plan."

"We have come out of every other depression and no doubt we will come out of this one," Mr. Motherwell added, but he could not see just how. "Of course it is up to the government," he declared. "The people of Canada called in a new doctor last July."

Many westerners have expressed the opinion that if Canada is successfully to compete with Russia in wheat growing, it will have to be by big farms, privately owned. H. E. Spencer, United Farmers of Alberta, member for Battle River, who was in Ottawa this week, expressed the view that the day of the small farmer in the West would soon be over. He forecast an active session, with the U.F.A. group leading a vigorous attack on the government. He emphasized that large sections of the west were not suitable for livestock.

Mr. Motherwell, on the other hand, thought the small farmer would stand a good show in the future. "Large farms have not been a great success as a rule in the West," he said. "The alternative plan of a number of farmers co-operating in the ownership of combines and their expensive farm machinery has never been a success. Friction always develops. In fact you cannot standardize the size of farms any more than you can standardize the capacity of men to manage them. Some men have only the capacity to manage small farms and some make a success of 50,000-bushel farms."

"The West will have to go on raising wheat and take its chances" Mr. Motherwell continued. "You cannot close up a farm like a theatre. Some way will have to be found. This should be an interesting session of parliament."

Questions Traffic Law

Montreal, Quebec.—When a prominent lawyer drives past a "stop" sign and is hailed into court, he may make unexpected moves. J. A. E. Dion, K.C., summoned, challenged the city's right to enforce the by-law, saying it was authorized neither by city charter nor provincial motor vehicle act. He applied for a writ of certiorari and in Superior Court will seek to prove the by-law null, illegal and ultra-vires.

Federal Radio Rights

Rights Of Dominion and Provinces To Be Referred To Supreme Court

Ottawa, Ont.—The respective rights of the Dominion and the provinces on radio broadcasting will be the subject of a reference to the Supreme Court of Canada, it was officially stated recently. Preparation of the questions to be contained in the reference is under way.

No decision has been made by the Dominion Government as to whether or not it will be represented at the hearings being initiated in the Quebec courts by the Taschereau government on radio broadcasting. It is quite possible that the Dominion will not be represented at the proceedings started by the Quebec government, but will proceed to bring its own reference before the courts.

From all indications the matter of introducing legislation at the coming session of parliament will be dependent on the date on which the proposed Dominion reference is argued before the courts and a decision has been rendered. The probability, however, at the moment is that the judgment of the court may not be secured in time to bring down legislation next session.

The whole subject of radio broadcasting, involving the question of nationalization, has been under government consideration. Premier Taschereau of Quebec, though, raised the question of Dominion control within that province; and early this month the Quebec premier announced that his government was submitting a series of questions to the superior court of Quebec. The controversy over Dominion and provincial control has recently been the subject of public utterances by Mr. Taschereau and members of the Dominion government.

Grain Growing Countries May Hold Conference

Might Be Advantageous Says Retiring Chairman Of U.S. Farm Loans Board

Ottawa, Ontario.—Representations have been made to the Dominion Government, it was stated here, that a conference be held in which Russia, Australia, Argentina and Canada would participate to discuss the wheat situation. It is understood that so far the government does not take kindly to such a conference.

Despatches from Washington quote Alexander Legge, retiring chairman of the United States Farm Loan Board, as stating a conference of wheat producing countries might be advantageous. It might disclose on Russia's part a readiness to agree to more orderly marketing that would give better prices to all producing countries.

The Sunshine City

Calgary, Alberta.—Calgary claims the undisputed title of the sunshine city of Canada, as a result of the monthly report of the Dominion meteorological service for January. During that month this city enjoyed 188 hours of sunshine. The nearest figure to this was St. John with a total of 131 hours. Fredericton was third with 129 hours, while a few cities, particularly in the prairie provinces and Quebec, averaged between 110 and 115 hours.

Higher Duty On Beans

Ottawa, Ont.—Exercising power delegated to him at the last session of Parliament, Hon. E. B. Ryckman, Minister of National Revenue, has set a value of three and a half cents a pound for duty purposes on dried beans. This would not apply to imports under the British preference, the departmental order specifying that it had to do only with the intermediate and general tariff.

No Secession Movement

Toronto, Ont.—"There is no secession movement in Western Canada," said F. W. Turnbull, M.P., Regina, in the course of an interview here. What you hear about is merely the agitation of a very small few, noisy individuals anxious to attract attention to themselves and succeeded in attracting that attention everywhere but where they are. The West pays no real attention to them."

FOR REVISION OF WAR DEBTS

Duty Is Remitted

Old Clothes From England For Saskatchewan Farmers Escape Duty Payment

Ottawa, Ont.—Northern Saskatchewan farmers have applied to relatives in the Old Country for old clothes. The appeal having been heard the customs officials in Canada, however, have been holding up the shipments for payment of duty of 25 per cent. In some cases the officials made the duty higher than the value of the clothing in London.

A farmer at Clondonald, north of Lloydminster, has appealed to Ottawa, claiming the farmers were penniless and too poor just now to pay even the duty on secondhand clothing. It has been ascertained that there is a clause in the Customs Act providing for the remission of duties on secondhand clothing when an affidavit is made that the recipients were not in a position to pay. Customs officials at Lloydminster, where the clothing has been held up, have been notified of the regulation and ordered to deliver the clothing on receipt of the affidavits.

Asking Amendments To Criminal Code

Several Changes Requested By Chief Constables' Association

Winnipeg, Manitoba.—Numerous changes, additions and amendments to the Criminal Code of Canada were asked when the legislative committee of the Chief Constables' Association met the minister of justice and other law enforcement officials at Ottawa.

Chief of Police Chris. H. Newton, of Winnipeg, who is secretary of the association, attended.

The legislative committee urged the use of telegraphic warrants, amendments to the Vagrancy Act, and discussed deportation of undesirable and problems of handling unlawful gatherings.

New Ministry For Spain

New Regime Expected To Restore Legal and Political Stability

Madrid, Spain.—Spain now has a new government, peacefully formed, and is looking forward to at least a period of calm after the political turmoil of the last few days.

Admiral Juan Bautista Aznar, staunch Royalist and political neutral, heads the ministry formed by King Alfonso in a successful effort to head off another military dictatorship like that of Miguel Primo de Rivera.

The King called for no participation on the part of Left, Socialist and Republican elements, and their attitude remained problematic. The public generally, however, seemed to be waiting quietly until the program and policies of the new government could be formulated and put into effect.

The cabinet that replaces that of Damaso Berenguer, which resigned because of widespread opposition to Premier Berenguer's plans for parliamentary elections in March, includes Berenguer himself, and the Count of Romanones and the Marquis of Albuemas, the men most responsible for his overthrow.

It is formed of Right Monarchists with Liberal, Conservative and Catalan Independents' party representation and according to its chief the heart of its program will be the restoration of legal and political stability.

To Open Parliament

Justice Duff Will Officiate At Ceremony On March Twelfth

Ottawa, Ont.—Parliament will be opened on March 12 by Mr. Justice Duff, of the Supreme Court of Canada. The ceremony will be performed, it is officially stated, by Mr. Justice Duff in his capacity as administrator.

Canada's new governor-general, the Earl of Bessborough, will not arrive in Canada until April 3 or 4. Chief Justice Anglin, who is now in the West Indies, will not return to this country until April 23. The chief justice will join the official party to the Buenos Aires exhibition when they reach Trinidad on March 2 to proceed to Buenos Aires.

Aid For Unemployed

More Than $15,000,000 Has Been Spent In Ontario

Toronto, Ont.—More than $15,000,000 has been spent in the province of Ontario in providing employment and relief since the Dominion Unemployment Relief Act came into force, and 43,000 men were given employment up to the end of January, Premier George S. Henry told the legislature in moving second reading of his Unemployment Relief bill.

At a brief sitting the House approved the bill, which authorizes the expenditure of $4,000,000 by the province on unemployment relief and validates certain debentures floated by municipalities to finance their share of the relief programme.

SETS NEW WORLD'S RECORD

Capt. Malcolm Campbell, British speed driver, who set up a new world's speed record on land of 245 miles an hour.

RELIEF PAYMENTS TO PENSIONERS WILL CONTINUE

Ottawa, Ont.—Relief payments to pensioners will be continued by the Dominion Government at the same rate as heretofore. Official announcement to this effect by Premier R. B. Bennett will be received with widespread approval by pensioners affected throughout the Dominion.

"Payments already made for relief purposes to pensioners had exhausted the appropriation by parliament," the prime minister declared, "and, in addition, a substantial sum secured through governor-general's warrants. The law provides that governor-general's warrants can only be issued in cases of urgent necessity."

"The minister of pensions and national health has been investigating the situation and, being now satisfied of the great urgency of the case, an additional warrant has been issued by the administration and relief payments to pensioners will be continued at the same rate as heretofore. There was no desire, much less intention to cause hardship to those who had been receiving relief."

Schedule of monthly allowances for unemployed pensioners, which Premier Bennett announced will be continued, is as follows: Single men, $30; married men with no children, $45; married men with one child, $57; married men with two or more children $67.

Maximum of pension obtainable for unemployed pensioners has been $67 monthly. From this amount is deducted the pension the man was receiving and the difference is paid in the form of a voucher to be used in the purchase of the necessities of life.

Questions Cost Money

Many Queries Regarding Russia Come Up In British Parliament

London, England.—"Out of 1,680 questions addressed to me since I took office, 562 or approximately one-third, have related to Soviet Russia," said Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, secretary for foreign affairs, in reply to a question from Miss Ellen Wilkinson, Labor, East Middlesbrough, in parliament.

The foreign secretary said he was unable to give any estimate of the cost of ascertaining the information that had been given, but the cost of issuing three official statements on Soviet legislation, religion, and labor was about $700.

Miss Wilkinson quoted the estimate of a member of the previous Conservative government, that average cost of ascertaining a reply to an official question was $10, and suggested the opposition might make a move in the direction of national economy in this respect.

School Act Amendment

Use Of French Language For First Year In Saskatchewan Public Schools To Be Abolished

Moose Jaw, Sask.—A School Act amendment which will abolish the use of the French language in public schools will be brought down before the present session of the legislature, Premier Anderson announced before the Saskatchewan School Trustees' convention.

It had been the practice, he said, as minister of education, to allow a French child in the province of Saskatchewan to receive instruction in the schools during the first year in French, and this meant that at the end of 10 months a child might know no English. This innovation is planned, he said, not because he did not respect the French or their culture, but because the system as at present was not pedagogically sound.

Train Wreck In China

Hankow, China.—Thirty were killed and 72 injured in a train wreck, near Shiyang, 100 miles north of here on the Peiping-Hankow Railway. Because of heavy snowfall, which crippled wire and rail communications, the report reached here February 13.

How is it Done?

Continuing our observations along the line of feeling good because the other fellow is less fortunate than ourselves, it would appear that in the newspaper realm there are worse places than Creston. Just listen to this from Editor Grier of the New Denver Leaser:

"If any of the critics would like to try running a newspaper here The Leaser is for sale on easy terms. We have spent five dollars in the town for every dollar received from it. It is the only village in the province having a newspaper where the school trustees do their advertising on a fence, the only one where the churches and sporting clubs do their advertising on a bulletin board. It is socially a live village, but Lord, how cheap! The man who would offer the editor a complimentary would either pull it back or have heart failure."

Just for the good and welfare of the fraternity the Leaser pilot ought to tell his less informed brethren how he comes to be able to expend "five dollars in the town for every dollar received from it." The Leaser's government patronage must, indeed, be substantial.

Why Not Go Further

Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, minister of education, has rather startled the province with a recent announcement that he will curtail the cost of higher education in the province by denying normal school and university training to all except those who are able to score high marks in the departmental examinations in the high schools of British Columbia.

Without entering into any discussion of the merits of this somewhat radical move, the Review cannot refrain from expressing surprise that the minister has not gone further in this direction with a view to giving his long promised and long wanted relief from high education costs generally.

If it is good business to thus close the doors to the higher seats of learning, why not be equally practical a little further down the line and legislate that only those who take high standings in Grade 8 departmental examinations shall be admitted to our high schools.

Some such regulation would not be displeasing to more than a few ratepayers in the Creston school district, where there is every prospect of this year having to provide an extra teacher and an extra classroom to assure adequate high school accommodation.

If there is an average lot of graduates at midsummer in Grade 11, and an average decline in attendance in the other grades due to students not continuing their high school course, by setting up a high standard for admission from Grade 8 Creston might be able to get along with its present high school facilities until financial conditions in the Valley are somewhat improved.

If there is any merit to the Hinchliffe proposal as affecting the university and normal schools, surely the idea is just as applicable in the high schools, and with the latter the saving will be much more apparent than in the case of the institutions the minister seems determined to interfere with.

Has Confidence in Creston

Some ten years ago when the Grand theatre was opened to the public the Review took occasion to commend C. O. Rodgers on his vision in providing a structure that, in all its appointments, in very practical fashion testified to his conviction that the best is none too good for Creston.

This week it is equally gratifying to be able to again congratulate him on a similar display of confidence, in the providing of the popular "talkie movies" on a scale that has won the unstinted praise of the large audiences that that were present for the inauguration of sound films.

"What is worth doing is worth doing well" has surely been his slogan, and he has lived up to it 100 per cent. in every direction. Along with the "Talkitone" machine that provides all the new sound features, in a way that has excited the admiration of all, has come a renovation of the Grand interior that is even more pleasing.

And still more gratifying is the announcement that, notwithstanding the higher class entertainment provided and the additional expense incurred, there is to be no raise in admission prices to the children, and but a nominal increase in the charge made adults.

A good word is also due the management in the splendid judgment shown in the choice of the new style of films. A great variety of entertainment was provided in dialogue, song, music and dancing, but nowhere could objection be raised to any of it while very high praise is due it both for quantity and quality.

Since 1920 one of the things Creston could boast about was a theatre not equalled in any town of the size in the province. In the new equipment and interior renovation this fact can be more strongly be emphasized, and when it comes to creating a lasting impression as to a place being worth while a theatre of the class of the Grand is an asset of much value—to both town and district.

Everyone hopes the bringing of the Grand up to the fullest requirements of the changing movie theatre public will prove a satisfactory investment, and with careful attention to providing future entertainment much on a par with that afforded this week, the Grand is sure to attract the patronage such enterprise may rightly expect.

"I am always very well pleased with a country Sunday, and think if keeping holy the seventh day were only a human institution it would be the best method that could have been thought of for the polishing and civilizing of mankind. It is certain the country people would degenerate into a kind of savages and barbarians were there not such frequent returns of a stated time in which the whole village meet together with their best faces, and in their cleanest habits, to converse with one another on indifferent subjects, hear their duties explained to them and join together in the adoration of the Supreme Being. Payrolls build communities; increasing payrolls increase the prosperity of a community. Demand B.C. products. The beers listed below are the products of a 100 per cent. 110,456 Fruit
Trees in Valley

1590 Acres Planted to Orchard—
1306 Acres in Apples—91,468
Apple Trees—28,205 McIntosh
Red—133 Acres in Pears.

Figures have just been made available in connection with the 1930 fruit tree census in Creston Valley. This checkup is made every five years, which makes the present statement particularly interesting, as it is the first reliable orchard survey made since the very disastrous blizzard in December, 1924, which took a heavy toll particularly of the winter variety of apples.

The tabulated statement plainly indicates that orchardists have been so fully occupied in making replacements after the blizzard that the increase in orchard acreage is negligible. In apples the gain in five years is from 1275 acres in 1925, to but 1306 acres in 1930. In total trees the gain is from 89,251 of all varieties in 1925; to 91,468 trees of all varieties in 1930.

In pears there is a shrinkage of ten acres, from 143 as at 1925, to 133 acres last year, and in trees planted the decline in the five-year period is from 10,039 to 9352 last year.

Stone fruits show a gain of 23 acres, the jump being from 126 acres in 1925 to 149 acres in 1930. In total trees the increase is from 9865 in 1925 to 10,285 in 1930.

According to the latest returns the Creston Valley has a total of 1590 acres planted to tree fruits of all varieties and accounting for a grand total of 110,456 trees, as compared with a total acreage of 1545 in 1925, with a grand total of 108,053 trees.

In replacements following the blizzard, and in what new acreage has been set out, the McIntosh Red has been a prime favorite, the census showing a total of 28,206 last year, as compared with 19,326 five years ago. Delicious has been another favorite with a gain from 14,067 to 18,544 in the five year span.

A better increase than the latter is shown in the Rome Beauty, which has risen from 3269 to 5387 in the same time.

Other varieties that show a gain are Ontario, Yellow-Newton, Snow, Stayman, Winesap, Yellow Transparent, Duchess and Grimes Golden.

The Wagener, which was a very heavy sufferer in the blizzard, has not been favored in replantings, as the falling off in this variety is from 14,401 in 1925 to 11,915 last year. Part of this slump, however, is attributable to some of the blizzard-hit Wagens showing growth in 1925 but dying off since that time.

The Jonathan, which was another sufferer in the blizzard, has fallen by the way to the extent of almost 50 per cent., from 6082 in 1925 to 3789 last year. The Wealthy has slumped from 12,938 to 9666 last year. Others that have fallen into disrepute are the Northern Spy, Spitzenberg, and Cox Orange. The odd varieties seem to have been thinned out as the figures show but 1479 "other varieties" in 1930, as compared with 6170 in 1925. Crabapples have gone down from 1075 to about 800 last year.

In pears the "other varieties" have been disposed of in much the same fashion, the decrease in five years being from 6515 to 2136. The D'Anjou is the big favorite in new plantings, although the Bartletts lead with a total of 2384, with Flemish Beauty close up at 2207.

In the five years outlined the valley has scaled down its plums and prunes from 2982 trees to 2581. The district now has 1004 Italian prune trees, 858 peach plums, 440 Bradshaws and 779 "other" varieties.

The 1930 census on cherries is a big improvement over the tabulated statement of 1925 in which latter year the figures showed 4780 "other sweet" varieties, while this year the total in this class is 587. The present census shows Creston with 2775 Lamberts, 3170 Bings, 435 Royal Annes.

The census figures just to hand indicate that the Valley is not taking kindly to apricots, but is increasing its preference for peaches. With the former the slip is from 270 to 202 trees all told, but with the latter the gain is from 198 to 401.

In any attempt to figure up the per-tree production in Creston Valley, which in 1930 totalled 128,059 boxes of apples, 4129 boxes of pears, 7043 crates of cherries, with plum shipments of 1992 crates, it should be remembered that with apples 30 per cent. of the trees are from one to five years old, and 20 per cent are from six to ten years. In pears 30 per cent are from one to five years, and 15 per cent. from six to ten years. In cherries the trees are 50 per cent. from one to five years, and 35 per cent. six to ten years.

4 Years without HEADACHE

How do you deal with headaches? Do you just take something to deaden the pain without getting rid of the trouble which causes the pain? Thousands do, despite the medical profession's warning cry of "DON'T!"

Such makeshift methods simply suppress the symptoms of headaches. They merely numb the nerves and leave the underlying cause to look after itself. And it only obtains a firmer grip. Headaches can generally be traced to a disordered stomach and to the unsuspected retention in the system of stagnating waste material which poisons the blood. Remove these poisons—prevent them forming again—and you'll never have to worry any more. And that is just how Kruschen Salts bring swift and lasting relief from headaches. Kruschen Salts aid Nature to cleanse your body completely of all clogging waste matter.

"For many years I suffered from severe headaches almost daily. I started taking the small dose (of Kruschen) a matter of four years ago, and I can honestly say I have never had a headache since."—Mrs. M. W.)

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JESUS SENDING FORTH MISSIONARIES

Golden Text: "The harvest indeed is plenteous, but the laborers are few; pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that He send forth laborers into His harvest."—Luke 10.2.

Lesson: Luke 9.1 to 10.24.

Devotional Reading: Romans 10.8b-15.

Explanations and Comments

The Seventy Sent On a Mission, 10.1-3.—As Jesus had sent out the twelve on a special mission tour (9.1-6), so He now sent out seventy others. The text reads, "Now the Lord appointed seventy others"; but the appointment was for a special service, not as in the case of the Twelve, for permanent work. Jesus sent these men out in companies of two, for mutual help and companionship, and bade them go into the cities which He Himself was planning to visit after their preliminary work.

The Counsels Given the Seventy, 10.4-11.—These men were to travel light; they were to take with them no purse, no wallet, no shoes. They were to have no money in their girdles, which answered the purpose of a purse, and no provisions in their wallet, which was their provision basket (the Greek word translated "wallet" may also mean "begging-bag"; Jesus did not want His messengers to beg their way from "outsiders"), and no shoes in addition to the sandals which they wore. Their message was vital, they must hasten, hence they could not stop to salute any one on the way, for Oriental salutations consume much time.

On entering a house, they were to utter the familiar "salaam," or friendly greeting, of "Peace be to this house"—a prayer that the household might be blessed in every respect. "And if a son of peace [a beautiful phrase for one inclined to peace] be there," Jesus added, "your peace shall rest upon him."

"But what were they to do when their friendly salutation was met with scorn, and the hospitality that was due a stranger was denied them? Often men who are great and noble in situations where popular favor surrounds them, lose their self-mastery under the irritation of little rebuffs and slight personal opposition. Jesus understood this, and so He told the men who were to represent Him in the villages: If your good-will is repulsed, you, at least, shall not lose it, but it shall turn to you again, and you shall keep calm, and sweet, and dignified under the irritation and the defeat."—Ozora S. Davis.

"What a beautiful idea, that the unheeded Peace comes back and blesses the heart that wished it, as if courteous and kind words never went unrewarded."—T. R. Glover.

The Mission Of the Seventy Crowned With Success, 10.17-20.—The Seventy returned with joy, and reported that even the demons had been subject to them in the name of Jesus. By a figure of speech (verses 18 and 19), Jesus declared that in their success He saw a prophesy of the ultimate conquest of His Kingdom over the whole world, but He gently rebuked their self-satisfaction by adding, "In this rejoice, not that the spirits are subject unto you; but rejoice that your names are written in heaven." "Do not rejoice in your command of a gift, but rejoice in your relation to your God."—J. H. Jowett.

The Joy Of Jesus, 10.21-24.—Jesus Himself rejoiced in the success of His followers and gave thanks to the Father that He had hidden these things from the wise and understanding (the scribes and Pharisees who thought themselves such), and revealed them to babes, the simple, unlearned Seventy.

Police In Canada Efficient

Law Enforcement In Canada Is Worthy Of Pride

It would appear from a survey of a report recently issued by the Canadian Government Bureau of Statistics for the calendar year 1929, that the police and law enforcement officials in Canada are on to their jobs.

Statistics collected from cities and towns having a population of 4,000 and over show that in 138 such centres with a total population of 3,859,703 the number of police officers employed was 5,004; one officer to every 671 persons. Summonses issued for infractions of the laws during the year numbered 168,932; and 127,027 arrests were made, an average of 25 arrests per officer. Offences reported to the police numbered 329,496; there were 233,532 prosecutions, 213,324 or about 81 per cent. of which resulted in convictions. Of the 11,160 automobiles reported stolen, all but 10 or over 99.9 per cent. were recovered. The value of other goods stolen was $2,200,972, and the value of goods recovered was $1,525,089.

Canada's Electric Railways
Electric railways in Canada carried 330,720,651 passengers in 1929.

Praises Irish Linen

His Majesty King George Makes Purchases In Belfast

"I prefer Irish linen and every shirt I have comes from Belfast," said His Majesty, when, with Queen Mary, he visited an exhibition of the Linen Industry Research Association in London, England.

Examining table linen that had been washed in various laundries, the king remarked: "Some laundries do use up linen, but I suppose when it comes back with holes it is good for trade."

His Majesty has just placed several acres of the royal estate at Sandringham, Norfolk, under cultivation for flax, though most English land-owners say that flax takes more out of the earth than it yields.

Persian Balm — There is nothing like it for creating and preserving a lovely complexion. Cooling, caressing—it soothes and dispels all roughness or chafe caused by weather conditions. Delicately fragrant, it adds exquisite charm to the most finished appearance. Dainty women inevitably choose Persian Balm. A velvety smooth lotion, it makes the skin rose-leaf in texture. Recommended also to soften and whiten the hands. Truly a peerless toilet requisite for every woman.

American Films In Britain

Eighty-Five Per Cent. Of Motion Picture Films Shown In England Are Of American Origin

Eighty-five per cent. of the motion picture films shown in England are of American origin, and only 7½ per cent. British, Colonel John A. Cooper, president of the Motion Picture Distributors of Canada, testified before the investigation into affairs of the motion picture industry in Canada at Toronto. Investigation is centered around affairs of the Famous Players Canadian Corporation and its subsidiary companies.

Only about 30 Canadian pictures had been made since 1918, Col. Cooper stated.

Yellow birch is commercially the most important hardwood in Canada, forming more than one-third of the hardwood lumber produced in the Dominion.

Leprosy Being Cured

Eleven Patients Recently Released From U.S. Institution

Quietly, as ships long docked slip out into a strange sea, nine men and two women have left the government leprosarium at Carville, Louisiana, to face a world which some of them have not seen for two decades.

Each carried a treasure which money could not buy—a certificate attesting they have been cured of leprosy, a disease dreaded and shunned since Biblical times.

Some will take new names and make new lives—the government will ask no questions. Their departure—brightening the hope of 330 other patients—will bring the total number to be released in the last few years to 83.

Increase In Oil Production

Alberta Oil Production Is Decidedly On the Up Grade

Oil production in the Province of Alberta is decidedly on the up grade, according to the figures for 1930 recently compiled by the Provincial Government. The total output in 1930 was 1,433,844 barrels, compared with 999,152 in 1929.

The production for the month of December, 1930, was the largest for a single month that has yet been made in Alberta, 175,572 barrels, a gain of 81,318 over the corresponding month of the previous year. Most of the oil produced in Canada comes from Alberta. The Province of Ontario accounts for 125,000 barrels of the total production.

Canadian Printers and Publishers
Out of the 753 printing and publishing plants reported in Canada in the 1928 census of industry, 206 were located in Ontario; 135 in Saskatchewan; 76 in Alberta; 67 in Manitoba; 62 in Quebec; 61 in British Columbia; 31 in Nova Scotia; 21 in New Brunswick, and 4 in Prince Edward Island.

When Food SOURS

About two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been over-stimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless liquid; pleasant, efficient and harmless. But it kills excess acids. It has remained the standard with physicians for more than 50 years.

It is the quick method. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know.

Be sure to get genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for over fifty years in correcting excess acids. 50c bottles—any drugstore—The genuine is always a liquid—it is never made in tablet form. So look for the name Phillips' on wrapper and bottle.

Halliday's clenched hands trembled. He was remembering a time when he could not have gazed upon her thus without a longing to lay his cheek against her own. No such desire stirred him now. Her beauty seemed, almost, a repellent thing. His face quivered as he looked at her; but at last, with a sigh of weariness, he turned away and went to his own room.

For a week Nick's life hung in the balance. The fearful chill of the cold ride—the strain on his nerves—the terrible fatigue, had done their worst; and had it not been for the clean young strength of him, pneumonia would have claimed him for a victim.

"He's got only a fighting chance, Gay," said the old doctor honestly, while the look in his eyes nearly broke her heart. "but Nick won't go under without a fight. Now's the time, my dear, when he'll be repaid a thousandfold for leaving his wild oats un-sown. He's sound and strong, and he has a lot to live for. We'll pull him through if it's a human possibility."

Gay hardly saw her babies in those days. With Julie's help she dressed them every morning, and after breakfast Janey Garnett (John Maxwell's youngest daughter and Gay's girlhood chum) home on a visit with her own baby, took them in charge, keeping them happy through the long days, and returning them at night, ready for bed.

"To keep them nights and all, Gay, if I didn't know you'd be happier to have them here," said Janey understandingly. "Mother says not to worry about dinner for tomorrow. She'll send down enough for everyone. Oh, Gay, I wish we could do more!"

Gay couldn't speak. This was the third day, when things looked very black indeed. A second nurse was installed now, and Uncle Sim was staying at the Bakersville Hotel, spending his time between Gay's garden, where he paced back and forth like a caged beast, and John Maxwell's house, where he took a sad pleasure in helping to keep the babies happy.

An atmosphere of gloom pervaded the First National Bank.

"Gosh!" exclaimed Johnny Symmes, whose cage joined Nick's, "what if he don't get well? I saw Doc Bennett this morning, and he said—"

He broke off suddenly, and began an attempt at whistling that deceived no one; while two stenographers openly wiped their eyes. The First National Bank was about as cheerful as a mausoleum.

Gloom also pervaded the house of Halliday. After five days Angela said she could stand it no longer.

"I believe I'll go to the shore. Between hearing you at the telephone calling up the hospital about that child—and the sight of that horrible old man pacing up and down that garden, I'll go crazy. I think I'll go to Narragansett for a month."

"You will do no such thing."

James Halliday spoke quietly, but with decision.

"You may be heartless, Angela, but for the sake of decency you shall not behave so, when, because of your own actions, the man is at death's door."

She drew an angry breath.

"You blame me for everything. It wasn't my fault that that stupid child ran in front of the automobile."

"No; but you shouldn't have been there, Angela. Considering the errand I had gone on, would it have hurt you to stay quietly at home?"

"What good would it have done me to be bored all day? No one in Bakersville knew your mother."

He turned away, then said, his back still to her: "Who were the friends whom you expected to join you on your trip?"

"Friends?"

Her voice was a little breathless, and her eyes dropped as he wheeled and faced her.

"What do you mean?"

"I mean that Hastings understood you expected company to take this trip; and that you didn't wish to drive the new car yourself."

She shrugged.

"Where did you get all that?"

"That's neither here nor there, but—"

"You got it from that stupid little woman," she said scornfully. "Probably he concocted the story so she'd let him go. I didn't suppose he was so clever."

"Hastings is not a liar," said her husband quietly.

"And am I?"

Her eyes narrowed; but Halliday merely turned and left the room.

Slowly, doggedly, Nick fought his way through "the valley of the shadow."

"He'll pull through now," said the doctor quietly, "provided he has no set-backs, and we'll see that he doesn't. He's sleeping quietly and naturally. When he wakes, Gay, you can sit with him a while; but you mustn't talk. There, child! cry if you want to. It's been a hard week—hard on all of us. Gay, I'm going to stop at the bank on my way home, and let 'em know the worst is over."

But the doctor's progress down Main Street was very slow. People hailed him from many a doorstep, and went more happily about their tasks at the good news.

"Everyone loves Nick," he mused as he started his car for the fifth time in a half mile. "He's a good boy; but I can't help wondering why he was off that day with Mrs. Halliday. Don't understand it. Hope people won't get wind of it. Halliday won't talk, but somehow I don't trust his wife. She's a mischief-maker or I don't know women. Her eyes are too innocent for truth. But she's mighty pretty! Don't know when I've seen such a pretty face; though I wouldn't mind if she'd take it away from Bakersville for good and all."

She did take it away, for a time. Two days later, when James Halliday returned from a trip to a distant hospital, he found a violet-scented note in his wife's place:

"Now that our neighbor is out of danger, I suppose I may get the change I need. You gave me little enough sympathy after that terrible experience; but then, I didn't expect sympathy from you. I'm going to Rye. Don't look for me for a fortnight, or longer, but send a check first mail."

"It's just as well," said Halliday to himself, as he dropped the missive in the waste basket. "It may be a relief to Mrs. Hastings to know she's gone."

But in truth, Gay had no thoughts, unkind or otherwise, of Angela Halliday. In those days of anxiety and dread she had forgotten her. Now, in the joy of seeing Nick come back to life, nothing else mattered.

"There's a lot to explain," he said on the first day he was allowed a word or two, "but I haven't the strength for it now. If you'll just keep on trusting me—"

"I'll trust you forever and ever," she interrupted, and he said:

"I know, dear. I've known it all the time; but there's something I've got to ask or I can't rest. A terrible thing happened on that trip, Gay. I must find out—"

"It's all right, Nick," she broke in quietly. "The child is living. Mr. Halliday told me. He's been to see the little thing. Oh, my dear, everyone has been so wonderful! Now that you're getting better I—I feel that these terrible days have been paid for, almost, in human kindness."

He smiled, and would have spoken, but she said: "Wait, Nick. I haven't finished. I've been finding out that what your mother told you is true as truth. When the way seems hardest we do seem to reach a hill-top, a place where we can breathe again, and see life and—and everything, with a new vision. I can't say just what I mean, perhaps, but I feel that I've reached one of those hill-tops now. Life will lead us into the valley again, I know; there'll be suffering, and trouble, and doubts, and anxieties to live through; but I shall always be richer for the dearthness of those who tried to make this hard time easier. Don't you believe that, Nick?"

"Oh, Gay," he answered, "if I could only keep you on the hill-tops! But—but as I look back at things, I see that all your troubles come through me!"

She retorted, the first care-free smile in days lighting her eyes: "Have you thought where I find my joys?"

Carbon Monoxide May Have Killed Explorer

Stefansson Believes Andree Overcome By Fumes From Stove

Viljalmar Stefansson, writing in the "Spectator," lifts a corner of the curtain which enshrouds the death of Salomin August Andree, who never came back from his polar balloon expedition of 1897.

Andree and K. Fraenkel, whose bodies were found in the Arctic wastes last August, were overcome by the subtle fumes of carbon monoxide as they sat about a kerosene stove in their virtually air-tight tent, Stefansson believes.

He developed his theory from evidence discovered on White Island, where the bodies of the explorers and the remains of N. Strindberg, another member of the expedition, were found. He almost died himself of the cause, Stefansson writes, in an Eskimo snowhouse on Coronation Gulf 20 years ago.

Where the Plums Are

"After all, the city government is just like a tree—we officials are merely the branches, but you people are the roots and the trunk."

"Aye, true," spoke up one son of Erin, "but ye must admit that all the plums grow on the branches."

"I know where you can get a chicken dinner for 15 cents."

"Where?"

"At the feed store."

Libraries In Canada

Hundreds Of Libraries Give Readers Free Access To Good Literature

Supplementing the work of the various educational institutions of Canada are hundreds of libraries in different parts of the country. In a list of 1,025 for which statistics have been collected, 623 are free public and association libraries, 126 are university, college or normal school, 52 are Dominion or Provincial Government libraries, and 224 are otherwise classified. Legislation making some provision for public library accommodation exists in each of the provinces, as well as in the Yukon; and all of the larger centres of population have libraries free to all. Smaller settlements, especially those in frontier places, such as mining and lumber camps, are reached by travelling libraries under the management of the Provincial Governments, or universities. In each of the provinces legislation is in existence to facilitate the establishment or expansion of libraries in the public schools, and many of these institutions have very considerable collections.

Diver Likes Synthetic Air

Increases Efficiency Says Well Known Submarine Engineer

"Synthetic air," composed of helium and oxygen, as a means of sustaining the respiration of deep sea divers, has received the O.K. of Captain Sloan Danenhower, widely known submarine and salvage engineer.

Captain Danenhower, who will command the Wilkins submarine "Nautilus" on its undersea dash to the North Pole this summer, made a diving test at the Philadelphia navy yard in which "synthetic air" was used instead of Mother Nature's atmosphere.

"The advantage of using helium-oxygen," he explained, "will increase the efficiency of divers as to the depth they can go, the time they can work under the surface and the speed with which they can go through the decompression process."

After 10 Years Of Asthma Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy proved the only relief for one grateful user, and this is but one case among many. Little wonder that it has now become the one recognized remedy on the market. It has earned its fame by its never failing effectiveness. It is earning it today, as it has done for years. It is the greatest asthma specific within the reach of suffering humanity.

A Real Celebration

James, 78, both of Weybridge, went to Lewiston, N.Y., to help their fourth sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Jewett Scovell, celebrate her 100th birthday. All four sisters are in excellent health.

CHILDREN CRY FOR IT—

CHILDREN hate to take medicine as a rule, but every child loves the taste of Castoria. And this pure vegetable preparation is just as good as it tastes; just as bland and just as harmless as the recipe reads.

When Baby's cry warns of colic, a few drops of Castoria has him soothed, asleep again in a jiffy. Nothing is more valuable in diarrhea. When coated tongue or bad breath tell of constipation, invoke its gentle aid to cleanse and regulate a child's bowels. In colds or children's diseases, you should use it to keep the system from clogging.

Castoria is sold in every drugstore; the genuine always bears Chas. H. Fletcher's signature.

Little Helps For This Week

"He healeth the broken in heart, and bindeth up their wounds." — Psalm cxlvii. 3.

Then sorrow, touched by Thee, grows bright
With more than rapture's ray,
As darkness shows us worlds of light
We never see by day.
—Thomas Moore.

Wherein is the blessedness of those that mourn? Christ says, in being comforted, in the victory of their faith, in the endurance of love, trust and patience. Remember until we are thus comforted in our hours of sorrow, we are not one with our Leader, nor in communion with our Father's Spirit. No one will suppose that the blessing of affliction consists in the suffering it brings. It consists in the spiritual response to suffering of one whose confidence is in the source of love.—John Hamilton Thorn.

HEAD HURT?

WORK won't wait for a headache to wear off. Don't look for sympathy at such times, but get some Aspirin. It never fails.

Don't be a chronic sufferer from headaches, or any other pain. See a doctor and get at the cause. Meantime, don't play martyr. There's always quick comfort in Aspirin. It never does any harm. Isn't it foolish to suffer any needless pain? It may be only a simple headache, or it may be neuralgia or neuritis. Rheumatism. Lumbago. Aspirin is still the sensible thing to take. There is hardly any ache or pain these tablets can't relieve; they are a great comfort to women who suffer periodically; they are always to be relied on for breaking up colds.

Buy the box that says Aspirin and has Genuine printed in red. Genuine Aspirin tablets do not depress the heart. All druggists.
