Two B.C. Teams Baseball League

Definitely Stated Kimberley Will be Fourth Team in International League—Bonners Ferry
Assembling Classy Outfit.

BONNERS FERRY, April 16—At a baseball meeting held at the city hall Monday, an international league was tentatively formed. Dr. W. S. Severns was elected president and Grover C. Leach secretary-treasurer. A committee composed of W. H. Heathershaw, Bonners Ferry; Chas. Petty, Troy; and L. Krissler of Creston, B.C., was appointed to draw up a constitution and by-laws.

Towns represented were Creston, Kimberley, Troy, Libby, and Bonners Ferry. Visitors were Ray (Red) Flaherty, former first baseman for the Boston Braves, and Wm. Hatch, both of Spokane.

Arrangements have already been made for the first local game to be played on Sunday, April 26, between Bonners Ferry and the Troy-Libby team. Creston, the third town to definitely join the league, will be matched with the fourth team, which will probably be Kimberley. In the event that Kimberley fails to come in, it is reported that Coeur d'Alene will join the league.

At the meeting Monday evening it was decided that each team should place $25 in trust as a guarantee of good faith in signing the season's schedule.

It is reported that Bonners Ferry has an excellent chance for a winning team this year. Arrangements are now being made to secure Jack Allen, Sandpoint pitcher, and Archie Campbell, Sandpoint catcher, as the battery. Sandpoint, it is reported, will not have a ball club this year and both Allen and Campbell are foot-loose and reported to be anxious to play with the local boys.

Crestwood

Spring work is well under way with the farmers at the north end of the Reclamation Farm. Dudley Rogers commenced wheat seeding this week, and Messrs. Christensen, Holben and Jared Rogers are all ploughing.

Farmers south of the Dutch Ridge are building a dyke across French's slough, at a point near the Couch Rock, about half a mile north of Johnston's Point. The work is progressing favorably under the management of J. E. Garretson, one of the south end owners.

M. Hughes is planting seven acres of potatoes on Dudley Rogers' island.

A number of bass fishermen were out on Sunday. Due to lowness of water the catches were light.

The French slough is the lowest it has been in years. This is due to the removal of the jam at the cross dykes. It is practically dry in places.

the Jas. Davis ranch, Creston, has moved on to his farm on Block 281.

Rod Cherette, Art Hurry and Ron Stewart, who have been operating rat lines in this neighborhood this spring, closed operations on the 15th. Art is reported to have had the best rat catch in the Valley this year.

Wynndel

J. Benedetti was combining business with pleasure on a visit at Cranbrook last week.

Alex. Cameron, who has been at Coleman, Alberta, for the winter, returned to the ranch at Wynndel last week.

Mrs. E. Williams, who spent the winter at Blairmore, Alberta, has just returned to take charge of the ranch for this season.

Mrs. J. J. Grady was a Spokane visitor with her daughter, Mrs. Hook.

Mrs. Jas. Wood, who has been holidaying at Rossland, returned home on Friday.

The first shipment of flowers was sent from the W. J. Cooper ranch on the 17th.

The heavy winds the latter part of the week did much damage to the mulching on the strawberry fields. Many of the growers will have to respread the mulching.

The wind also worked havoc at the Winlaw sawmill, where one smokestack was blown down and the other left leaning at a dangerous angle.

The Athletic Club dance on Friday evening was quite a success, the door receipts being $85. Mrs. M. Hagen and T. Watson won the prizes for "hardest" costumes.

A ladies' softball team has been formed and the first practice match will be at Creston Tuesday night.

The closing meeting of the K. K. Club on Wednesday evening last was very lively. A six-piece orchestra of Creston residents furnished the dance music. Balloon dance was won by Miss A. Davis and Paul Ofner. Spot dance by Mrs. C. Ogilvie and D. Butterfield. A tree contest was won by Miss D. Payette and D. Butterfield. It was decided to have a meeting in May to discuss business and financial standing. Motion was passed to have a dance on June 3rd in aid of Creston Valley Hospital. This date is to be taken annually for this good cause.

Canyon City

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Langston and children of Coalhurst, Alberta, motored in at the end of the week, on a visit with Mr. and Mrs. A. Halstead. Mr. Langston, however, returned to the prairie on Monday.

W. Ridd was in from Antross, Alberta, for a couple of days work on the ranch, leaving at the middle of the week for Heatherdown, Alberta, where he will be employed again this summer.

Miss Elsie Clayton is a visitor with Kimberley friends this week.

Ten degrees of frost was the average here on Saturday, Sunday and Monday mornings. It is feared damage has been done to the pear crop.

Word has just arrived of an addition to the family of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Filmer of Nanaimo, former residents of Canyon, It is a girl and arrived late in March.

Close to 100 tickets have been sold for the Farmers' Institute St. George's night banquet at the hall this (Thursday) evening. T. Goodwin of Creston is to be master of ceremonies.

At the inaugural meeting of the directors of Creston Valley Co-operative Association last week, L. T. Loveque was named president, and T. R. Mawson re-elected secretary and treasurer—a position he has filled ever since the association was formed.

A dance orchestra, to be known as the Canyon Stoppers, has just been organized. It is five pieces, Mrs. Kotthammer, piano; Miss Holly Bond, T. R. Mawson and George Wickholm, violins, and Alf Bond, drums. They will make their initial appearance at Canyon at a dance at the hall on May, 8th.

Creston Pythians Awarded Honors

Local Lodge's Membership Gain for Last Half 1930 is Best in Whole Province—Shield Presented by Grand Prelate Hill

About sixty local Knights of Pythias turned out Wednesday evening for a special meeting at which Bro. E. A. Hill, grand prelate of the Domain of British Columbia, presented Wild Rose Lodge with the Grand Lodge Membership Shield. This shield was won during the last term of 1930 by Wild Rose Lodge, No. 39, under past chancellor C. F. Armstrong, and his officers, for showing the greatest gain in membership in the domain of British Columbia for the last six months of 1930, the greatest amount of credit going to Bro. Sam Steenstrup, K.R.S., who was fittingly decorated with the Dozen Club Button.

The first part of the evening was spent in Rank work, and the Third Rank team knighted one candidate. The manner in which work was put on drew much applause from the visitors. The knights were then joined by the members of Blossom Temple No. 32, Pythian Sisters, Creston, who witnessed the presentation.

After the presentation exercises the knights and ladies sat down to a sumptuous banquet which had been prepared by the Pythian Sisters, and the usual round of speechmaking closed a very pleasant evening.

Bro. Hill was supported by Bro. Harry Collier of Cranbrook, D.D.G.C., and several of the members of the lodges at

AT THE HOSPITAL

Frank Huson of Kitchener, and Miss June Wigen of Wynndel had their tonsils removed last week.

C. F. Hayes was a weekend patient after having quite a number of teeth extracted.

Mrs. W. M. Hintz has been a patient for several days.

Mrs. Kanakin of Wynndel is undergoing treatment for a few days.

Mrs. H. Connatty sustained rather severe injuries on Friday evening, falling off a loose plank in the sidewalk. An X-ray revealed no bones broken but her condition necessitated her admission to hospital where she will have to remain several days.

Thos. Simpkins was admitted to the hospital Saturday afternoon suffering from pneumonia. His condition, although improved, is still critical.

Donald McGregor, principal of Wynndel school, was operated upon by the specialist and spent the weekend in the hospital.

Mrs. W. L. Barner has been admitted to the hospital. Although still very ill, she shows improvement.

Harry Lucas, secretary of Dokkies, who was here to make final arrangements for the Dokkie ceremonial which will be held at Creston on May 30th.

Erickson

Ben Leadbetter, who has spent the winter here, left on Sunday for Cranbrook, where he expects to spend the summer.

Miss Theo Tompkins of Creston was here for the weekend, a guest of Miss Helen Dodds.

At the April meeting of the Erickson Guild of Christ Church on Tuesday, Mrs. F. Putnam was made president, succeeding the late Mrs. R. J. Long. Mrs. R. Dodds is the new vice-president, succeeding Mrs. Putnam.

Erickson juniors were out in full force at the school grounds on Sunday afternoon for a match with a Creston baseball aggregation.

Ray McKelvey and Ray Crisier were weekend visitors at Cranbrook.

Mrs. C. B. Twigg of Creston was guest at an informal farewell reception at the home of Mrs. Thurston Tuesday afternoon, given by the W.A. of Creston. Bridge was the feature of the gathering with the prize scores made by Mrs. Collis and Mrs. E. W. Payne. Just before lunch was served Mrs. Twigg was presented with a silver cake plate as a souvenir of several years active membership in Christ Church ladies' organizations. The Twiggs are leaving at the first of the week to reside in Cranbrook.

Alice Siding

Gordon Smith, who has been working at Copper Mountain for some time past, arrived home at the end of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Calmais are here from Washington on a visit with the latter's mother, Mrs. Stace Smith.

Joe Miller and George Willis left on Tuesday for Trail, where they are hoping to secure work for the year.

Dick Smith had the bad luck to lose his stack of hay on the flats in a prairie fire on Wednesday.

Dick Smith, who has been operating a trap line all season got through on Wednesday last when the rat season closed.

Guy Constable was a Nelson visitor a couple of days last week.

Ron. Stewart has just closed trapping operations in the West Creston area. He made a name for himself a few weeks ago by taking the first white skunk ever trapped in the district.

This district had another cold dip on Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights last and fears are entertained that the cherries and apricots have suffered.

Track Meet, May 16th

The first annual track meet of the schools of Creston Valley is to be held on Saturday, May 16th. The meet is being sponsored by Creston Valley Teachers' Association, backed by various local organizations. Silver medals are being awarded the winners in each event, and trophies for the championship of each senior and intermediate division. The following school boards and organizations have made donations for the meet: Wynndel and Huscroft school boards $10 each; Lister school board, Women's Institute and High School Athletic Club, $5 each. Knights of Pythias Lodge, two cups, and Creston Valley Teachers' Association $15 towards up. Other organizations and school boards have promised their support.

Tennis Club Reorganized

Creston Tennis Club was reorganized for the season at a fairly well attended meeting at the town hall on Wednesday evening, which was in charge of the retiring president, E. Whitfield. The chief business of the session was the election of officers, the following being chosen:

Present Comedy Canyon, Wynndel

Trinity United Church Dramatic Club Presenting "Are You a Mason?"—Canyon Wednesday
—Wynndel Friday Evening

The three-act comedy, "Are you a Mason," will be presented to the public next week under the auspices of the Stewards Board of the United Church. It will be played on Wednesday, April 29th, at Canyon Hall and on Friday, May 1st, at the new Wynndel Hall.

"Are you a Mason?" is a hilarious comedy that has recently been used extensively at the coast, by the Little Theatre Associations. It was described by the New York Herald, "The play is an example of remarkable ingenuity and the difficulties that arise from the plot are varied and very humorous." The outstanding success offered last year in "Nothing but the Truth" will be repeated beyond a doubt in this year's offering "Are you a Mason?"

Mr. Sostad is the leading man, taking the part Mr. Perry. The leading lady is Mrs. Perry, played by Miss Meldrum. Mrs. Wm. Fraser takes the part of Mrs. Bloodgood, mother-in-law to Perry. She upholds the usual traditions of her position and has very exalted opinions of the value of Masonry.

Ted Staples, as her husband Mr. Bloodgood, has a weakness for the fair sex and has sought relief from wifely arrogance by posing as a Mason of long standing. But circumstances are beginning to envelop him in some difficult and humorous positions. Two charming unmarried daughters, the Misses Annie and Lulu Bloodgood, acted by Miss Hazel Hobden and Miss Marguerite Crawford, are gallantly courted by Geo. Fisher, in the person of Frank Levirs, and by Ernest Morrison, played by E. Whitfield, the latter being a real Mason.

It is Mr. Halton, acted by R. E. Cribb, who, as a persistent applicant for Masonry, creates the first disturbing factor. Mrs. Halton, played by Mrs. Alf. Palmer, who was partner in an earlier romance of Bloodgood's, appears at an embarrassing moment.

Mrs. F. Levirs, as Lottie, is a spirited Irish maid, who has her own ideas about Masonry. Earl Marriot, as Mr. Ham Travers, sustains the part of a down-at-the-heel actor, is a frequent source of difficulty to the leading man. Miss Eva Holmes appears as Fanchon, a French milliner.

President Dr. G. G. McKenzie; vice-president, R. J. Forbes; secretary-treasurer, H. Cornwall; executive, Mrs. Wilks, Miss M. Hamilton, R. Crawford and O. Sostad. The membership fee was fixed at $10 for men and $7.50 for ladies, and a special rate of 2.50 for school children.

Developments In Transportation

It is obvious to even the most casual observer of current happenings that we live in an age of rapid changes and revolutionary developments. Hardly a year passes that does not record some new invention, or the application of some hitherto known force to an entirely new purpose. The world makes progress, and progress cannot and must not be stopped, but in this onward march there is always a lurking danger that we may be weakening, possibly destroying, something which, in our own interests, we can ill afford to injure or destroy.

Does the general public, for example, fully realize the true meaning of the situation which has arisen in the realm of public transportation owing to the introduction and rapid increase in the use of motor busses for passengers and huge trucks for freight haulage upon our highways, and the effect which this development is having upon our railways? Without giving the matter much consideration many people may say: "We are not concerned as to the effect on the railways; they can look out for themselves." But this is a short-sighted view, because what affects the railways affects every producer, every taxpayer, every citizen in this country.

Let us briefly examine this new development, not from the standpoint of the railways, or of the passenger busses and freight trucks, but from the standpoint of the farmer-producer, the merchant, the ranks of labor, and the individual taxpayer.

The people of Canada have invested hundreds of millions of dollars in railways. They are paying heavy taxes today because of land grants, tax exemptions, cash subsidies, bonuses, guarantees of bonds and the payment of deficits in years past, in order to provide these essential services. Today the people of Canada are the owners outright of more than one-half the railway mileage in Canada, while thousands of Canadians, as individuals, are financially interested in the second great railway system of this Dominion. It is in the interests of every citizen, therefore, that our railways be operated efficiently, financially as in all other respects.

During recent years the taxpayers of Canada, Federally, Provincially, and Municipally, have been investing tens of millions of dollars annually in the provision of good roads. Thousands of miles of all-weather highways have been built, and the constant demand is for still more and better highways. The tax burden is mounting higher and higher as a result. The advent of the automobile forced this newer development. It could not be prevented; it is not to be regretted; it is progress.

But these improved highways have created a new situation, namely, the development of motor transportation services over these highways for both passengers and freight haulage. The outcome is that the competition which the privately owned and operated automobile offered to the railway passenger service, has been intensified, with the result that railway freight earnings,—the most profitable department in railway operation,—are suffering.

Briefly stated, that's the situation. Having taxed ourselves to create the railways, we have now taxed ourselves to create the means whereby rival services are made possible to cripple the institutions in which we are so heavily interested, financially and otherwise.

What does this mean, say to the farmer-producer of Western Canada? Everywhere the demand is being voiced that railway freight rates should be reduced; that in view of the present low price of all farm products, existing freight charges on these products to the markets of the world are too high, and altogether out of proportion to the price of the commodities transported. Granting this to be true, the fact remains that it costs the railways just as much to move a bushel of 50 cent wheat as it does to move a bushel of $1.50 or $2.00 wheat.

So far as the farmer-producer is concerned he must rely upon the railways to transport his product. He may move it from his farm to the nearby elevator in a truck, but he cannot so transport it to the head of the lakes ports or to the seaboard. The railways must do that. Neither can he depend upon motor truck services to bring to him all the heavy machinery and equipment from far distant points; the railways must do that, too.

Therefore, the question for the farmer-producer, and for the merchant who depends upon the success of farming for his livelihood, to face and answer is: How can freight rates be reduced; how in fact can they be maintained even at present figures, if the railways lose the revenues accruing to them from short hauls, and the lighter classes of freight?

This article, and a second one to follow, is not written as an apologist for, nor as propaganda in behalf of the railways, but solely in order to direct attention to some factors now entering into the transportation problems of this present age.—Editor.

A MILLION FAT FOLKS CAN'T BE WRONG

And that's a low estimate of the number taking Kruschen to keep down superfluous fat.
When you take vitalizing Kruschen Salts for a few days that old indolent arm—chair feeling deserts you—it doesn't matter how fat you are—the urge for activity has got you—and you're "stepping lively."
And best of all you like this activity—you walk a couple of miles and enjoy it—you thought you'd never dance again, but you find you're getting as spry as ever—the old tingling, active feeling reaches even your feet.
Kruschen is a combination of the six salts Nature has already put into your body to keep you alive—if it were not for these vital salts you could not live.
One bottle is enough to prove to you that Kruschen will make you feel younger—spryer—more energetic—you'll enjoy life—every minute of it.
A half teaspoonful in a glass of hot water every morning is all you need to keep healthy—keep your stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys in splendid condition—free your system from harmful toxins and acids.

The indications of worms are restlessness, grinding of the teeth, picking of the nose, extreme peevishness, often convulsions. Under these conditions one of the best remedies that can be got is Miller's Worm Powders. They will attack the worms as soon as administered, and they pass away in the evacuations. The little sufferer will be immediately eased and a return of the attack will not be likely.

ASK STATEMENT OF POLICY ON UNEMPLOYMENT

Ottawa.—A demand from different parts of the House of Commons that the government state its policy on unemployment, and a declaration from the prime minister that such a statement would be forthcoming when estimates were discussed, featured a hectic session in parliament.

The practice in British parliament, Premier R. B. Bennett declared, was to pass the address in reply to the speech from the Throne before the government stated its policies. He proposed to continue that practice. After the address was passed, the government would state its policies on several questions, particularly unemployment.

From East and West came complaints of unemployment conditions, warnings of possible riots, and demands for government action. In a spirited brush with the prime minister, Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King, opposition leader, asked for a statement of the government's unemployment policy. What had the prime minister meant during the last election campaign when he said he would end unemployment?

"I do not propose at this moment to answer hon. gentlemen opposite other than to say this: I never expected to undo in a day, by remedial legislation, the wrongs that have been done to this country in the past 10 years," retorted the prime minister. He claimed no government had done more to implement its promises than had this one.

J. S. Woodsworth, Labor member for Winnipeg North Centre, asked for a statement from the government on unemployment insurance. He did not regard it as a cure for unemployment—what was needed was work—but it would be of some assistance in alleviating conditions.

A prediction by Mr. Woodsworth that there would be riots unless remedies were offered to unemployment conditions precipitated a heated exchange between the Labor member and Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways.

The latter said a member who stood in the House and said there might be riots was "consciously or unconsciously inciting to riots."

The deputy speaker intervened to say that Mr. Woodsworth must express his own opinion, and the member for North Winnipeg Centre retorted he was expressing just that.

Finally, after further discussion, in the interim supply bill as introduced was put through all stages and passed by the House.

May Meet In Arctic

Rendezvous Arranged Between Dr. Hugo Eckener and Sir Hubert Wilkins.

Friedrichshafen, Germany.—A possible rendezvous in the polar regions between the Graf Zeppelin and Sir Hubert Wilkins' submarine "Nautilus" was forecast to the Associated Press by Dr. Hugo Eckener.

"It is quite possible that a flight into the Arctic regions may eventuate this year," said the commander of the dirigible. "It all depends on whether we can finance the proposed expedition. If so, I expect to personally command the Graf. In New York Wilkins and I agreed to try to meet in the polar wastes."

To Reside In Montreal

Montreal.—The Montreal Star says it is reliably informed that Col. William Avery Bishop, V.C., the Allies' greatest war ace, will take up business in Montreal, where he will be associated with an oil company. The colonel has lived abroad practically since the war ended, returning to Canada this year. The Star says he will work here and commute by aeroplane to his home in Muskoka.

Ahmedabad, India.—Apprehension was caused in government circles by the statement of friends of Mahatma Gandhi, that he was contemplating marshaling his non-violent crusaders again for a new assault on British rule in India. The Nationalist leader was said to be dissatisfied with the present delay.

Red Demonstration

Six Thousand Unemployed Battle With Police In Winnipeg

Winnipeg, Man.—Six thousand unemployed disrupted the usual orderliness on city streets recently, when they clashed with officers of the law in one of the most serious demonstrations witnessed in the Manitoba capital in years.

Six demonstrators are in hospital as the result of the battle. More than a score of others are suffering from injuries, caused by the policemen's batons and flying missiles that broke store windows and damaged automobiles and street cars.

The struggle with the police occurred following a demonstration in front of the Legislative buildings as heads of the unemployed interviewed Premier John Bracken and placed their appeals before him. The 6,000 men attempted to parade homeward. Jeering of police started and several of the unemployed attempted to block street car and automobile traffic.

Suddenly, one demonstrator picked up a stone and hurled it at a policeman. It was the signal for battle.

Huge rocks, pieces of cement taken from a road under repair, flew fast and thick. Policemen swung their batons on the bodies of the unruly as the missiles whizzed around them, crashing into store windows and automobiles. As the struggle waged, the demonstrators kept up a roar of booing.

Men, bleeding around the head, rushed from the scene. Many others continued the struggle until the officers arrested several. Then the turmoil ended and the struggling mass of humanity drifted homewards in groups, singing the "Red Anthem" and cheering the Soviet regime.

Fast Telegraph Service

New Canadian National Wire Carries 9,600 Words Per Minute

Winnipeg, Man.—The world's greatest telegraph capacity for one pair of wires has been placed in service between Toronto and Winnipeg with the conclusion of experiments by the Canadian National Telegraphs and the installation of a 24-channel carrier current system between Toronto and Winnipeg.

Giving a theoretical maximum telegraphic speed of about 9,600 words per minute the system is designed to take care of transmission needs between east and west for a number of years to come. It makes use of a double modulation principle by working two types of carrier system, one superimposed on the other. One pair of wires between Toronto and Winnipeg is made, by the new system, to provide 24 trunk telegraph circuits.

Accidents On Streets In Britain Increasing

Records Show Daily Average Of Twenty Deaths During 1930

London, England.—Life on the streets of Great Britain is becoming increasingly dangerous. A daily average of more than 20 street deaths is recorded during 1930 by the home office.

Accidents caused by vehicles and horses during the year totalled 156,793, an increase of 4,992 over the previous year. There were 7,805 persons killed, 609 more than in 1929, and 177,895 injured, an increase of 6,978.

Would Deport Canadians

Reported Alien Drive In New England States Will Affect Many Quebec French

Montreal.—The Gazette publishes a despatch from Manchester, N.H., in part as follows:

"With 35 additional Federal officers at her command, Mrs. Anna C. M. Tillinghast, commissioner of immigration in the New England district, which includes all of the New England states except Maine, is completing extensive plans for a wholesale round-up and deportation of many thousands of aliens illegally residing in this section.

"At least 30,000 French-Canadians will either be deported or returned to their native province of Quebec before the middle of next month, it is estimated. The drive is instituted to protect native labor.

"The immigration officials point out that the coming drive against aliens is not directed in any sense at any particular nationality or class."

Tariff Advisory Board Promised

To Replace Old Board Which Was Abolished Last August

Ottawa, Ont.—Establishment by the government of a commission to replace the old tariff advisory board which was abolished by order-in-council last August would seem to assume more definite shape in the light of promised legislation, by the inclusion of $120,000 in the estimates "to provide for salaries and expenses of the tariff board."

This is an amount similar to that voted last year for the maintenance of the now defunct body.

In the Speech from the Throne the establishment by legislation of a board which would investigate matters relating to tariffs was promised.

Advocates Deflated Coin

Alberta Member Thinks Monetary Policy Of Canada Needs Change

Ottawa, Ont.—Business in Canada would improve materially if the Canadian dollar were allowed to depreciate to the level it reached at the close of the Great War, is the belief of George G. Coote, member of parliament for Macleod, Alberta.

Addressing an Ottawa service club, Mr. Coote expounded the theory that the monetary policy of the Dominion is in need of a change. "Deflation has been practiced in practically all gold countries, resulting," he said, "in a disastrous fall in the price level of commodities. All industries in Canada are suffering today and it would be just to reasonably inflate prices now as a corrective to excessive deflation of values."

Mr. Coote contended that a 30 per cent. depreciation of the dollar in the Argentine and Uruguay had resulted in those countries taking the Canadian wheat market in Great Britain.

Russian Coal

Statements Attributed To Canadian High Commissioner Are Questioned

Ottawa, Ont.—Statements attributed to Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Canadian High Commissioner in Great Britain, were read to the House of Commons by Thomas Reid, Liberal member for New Westminster, who wanted to know if they were official and bore governmental approval.

The former Ontario premier was quoted as saying that Canada placed a ban on Russian imports of coal because it had been found that country was competing with Wales in the Dominion market.

Mr. Reid understood Canada had refused to trade with Russia for this country's own goods and not for the benefit of Wales or Great Britain. No answer came from the government benches and the incident closed.

Australia's War Payments

Amount Of Payment Of Australia To Britain To Be Reduced

London, England.—In response to a request from the Australian government to recognize the commonwealth's financial difficulties, His Majesty's government has agreed to reduce the payments of Australia to Great Britain under the war debt funding agreement of 1921. The payments amount to approximately $26,250,000 yearly, and under the new agreement may be reduced by more than $3,000,000 yearly during the next two financial years, commencing October 30 next. In addition, the period of repayment of the principal debt may also be extended two years.

This announcement was made in the House of Commons by Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, secretary of state. Australia's war debt under the agreement of 1931, was shown at $464,200,000.

CRACK ENGLISH TRAIN WRECKED

The photograph reproduced above shows a view taken from the air of the heap of amouldering matchwood and twisted steel, all that was left of the "Royal Scot," world's fastest train, after it had jumped the rails at seventy miles an hour while en-route from Euston to Glasgow and Edinburgh recently. The crash occurred at Leighton Buzzard, near Leicester, England, and six persons were killed and more than eighty injured.

CLAIM IS MADE ALFONSO DID NOT ABDICATE

Madrid, Spain.—Members of the former monarchical government said that Alfonso did not sign an actual document of abdication.

They still, however, will not reveal precisely what he did sign. The idea was gaining ground in Madrid that Alfonso still claims the throne of Spain and may plan to return if future developments should seem to warrant it.

It was said that his exile was not likely to be embittered by poverty. If current reports are true he is one of the richest men in Europe, and foreseeing the possibility of loss of the throne, he had laid his plans accordingly. The story goes that he not only inherited an immense fortune from his mother, Queen Christina, but himself possessed financial genius which led him to make many shrewd investments. It was also said that he had withdrawn most of his funds from Spain and reinvested them in British and other foreign securities.

Although there was no authoritative announcement that King Alfonso was headed for Great Britain, the present supposition is that he will go to London, England, and probably reside with his family at Kensington Palace, where his wife's mother, Princess Beatrice, lives.

Western Cattle Arrive At Eastern Market

First Shipment Made By Newly Organized Producers Reaches Montreal

Regina, Sask.—The first trainload of cattle shipped from the western provinces to eastern markets by the newly organized Council of Western Beef Producers, has arrived in Montreal, according to a wire received by the secretary, Jack Byers, former Dominion livestock promoter in Western Canada.

Mr. Byers has gone to Calgary to open up the organization's offices in Calgary, which will become headquarters.

Mr. Byers said that the council was organized to market cattle from Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia with a minimum of overhead. Its purpose is to get as close to the producers as possible, he declared.

Britain Buys Russian Wheat

Report Shows Imports Increase For First Three Months Of Year

New York.—The New York Times publishes the following special cable from London:

"Evidence that Britain is buying more wheat from Russia, and about the same from Empire sources, is contained in the board of trade figures for March, which fail to show signs of the anxiously awaited trade revival. The amount paid to Russia for wheat was almost ten times as great in the first three months of this year as in the corresponding period of 1930. The first quarter's import of Russian wheat this year totalled 5,788,947 hundred-weight, valued at $7,318,995, while in the first quarter last year Great Britain took only 321,912 hundredweight of Russian wheat, with a value of $778,500.

New Lieut.-Governor Of Alberta

Edmonton, Alberta.—Swearing in Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta, will of Mr. Justice W. L. Walsh as new take place on May 3, according to reports current in Edmonton, Wednesday, April 15. Mr. Justice Walsh will retire from his present post on the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court of Alberta before taking over his new office. He succeeds Lieutenant-Governor Dr. W. E. Egbert.

Gift For Canadian Author

Toronto, Ont.—Miss Marshall Saunders, Canadian author, was last night the recipient of a birthday hoop bearing contributions from scores of writers and artists, and messages from public men of Canada, when literary clubs here joined to pay tribute to Miss Saunders on the occasion of her 70th birthday.

Like talking with a next door neighbor

Mrs. Brown was surprised—agreeably so!

She had heard of how simple it was to converse over the long-distance telephone with a person hundreds of miles away but frankly, she had been skeptical. Then one day, to put it to a test, she placed a call for her sister in a far-away city.

Delight and amazement mingled a few moments later, when her sister's voice came to her clearly and distinctly, over the wires.

"I never dreamed it was so easy," she confessed. "Why it was just like chatting with a next-door neighbor!"

Esling Must Act

If Creston village is to have 100 per cent. benefit from the north and south auto traffic it begins to look as if W. K. Esling, M.P., will have a chance to show that his heart is in the right place in this important matter.

From a source that has been quite reliable in the past comes word that at July 1st the new cutoff from the Idaho boundary through by the Geo. Hurry ranch and Lister and Canyon will be thrown open and if a Canadian auto clearing office is placed at the new diversion the U. S. customs office at Porthill will be shifted, with a gate put on at the Porthill end of the road to prevent cars coming into Canada over the K.V. roadbed. This move by the U.S. officials seems only natural as it will keep down the expense to the present day level of one officer.

Very definite assurance has been given that the Canadian customs will always be retained at Rykerts, but so far as the Review can learn there is no guarantee that an auto clearing official will not be placed at the new diversion.

At a time when Creston needs all the trade that can be attracted this way and at a time when the Dominion government should be in the humor to lessen rather than increase its staff of paid officials, it seems incredible that anything will be done.

However, salvation can only come by way of Ottawa and no time should be lost in acquainting Mr. Esling with the fact that both in the interest of satisfactory travelling as well as promoting better business present day customs accommodation is all that is required.

The Best Place to Talk

The haymakers are reminded of the annual meeting of the Stockbreeders' Association tomorrow afternoon. Now that cutting feed on shares on the Reclamation Farm is no longer possible and the present day trend is towards keeping a little more stock, the problem of giving everyone about all the hay they require is becoming quite a serious one for the grazing commissioner and the executive of the Stockbreeders organization.

If everyone is dissatisfied with his hay cut, or has some better system to offer for allocating these cuts, the annual meeting is the place to come forward with the complaints or the new ideas.

It is the only meeting where there will be a chance to iron out troubles and submit proposed new regulations, and at this season work is not that pressing that an afternoon cannot be taken off to go into the matter.

You will fare much better in safeguarding your interests by attending this meeting than by seeking changes when the cutting permits are being issued.

East Kootenay had its musical festival at Cranbrook early this month, and early in May the West Kootenay festival is to be held at Trail. Possibly there will have to be a couple of three years of this friendly rivalry, but the Review cannot see that the territory involved warrants two such gatherings. Why not a Kootenay festival alternating between Cranbrook and Nelson or Trail.

Last week's announcement that the international baseball league this year will be made up of teams from Troy, Bonners Ferry, Creston, and either Nelson or Kimberley, doesn't sound so good. Airplanes are the only mode of transport that would suffice as between Troy and Nelson or Kimberley. If Sandpoint is not available Priest River looks a safer guess.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Road Foreman Replies

Editor Review:

Sir,—My attention has been called to a letter in the last issue of the Review under the heading "No British need apply?" in which Mr. Leslie McInnis stated that I had said my orders from the Government were to give foreigners work and to none other. In normal times no one would have the hardihood to publish so absurd a statement and one so contrary to fact and hope to get away with it. But under the conditions of business depression Governments all over the world are being fiercely criticized and attacked as if they had endless supplies of money to keep everyone working all the time, and the Tolmie Government is getting its share of panning with the rest.

As far as I am aware no man has lost a job because he stopped off to attend a neighbor's funeral. The reason certain men get fairly steady work is because they are efficient in their several capacities and attend to the job they are paid to attend to. The suggestion that these men are foreigners is, to say the least, startling.

That reasonable people may have some facts on which to base their opinions I would state that from the 31st. December, 1930 to the 31st. March, 1931, a total of 217 men in the Creston Valley have been given work. All these men were Canadians or bona fide settlers and every returned man that has made application for a job has been put on. A total of $26,484.00 has been paid out for labor and $3721.69 has been spent locally for lumber, the manufacture of which gives employment to labor. Also a considerable sum has been expended locally for merchandize, all of which puts money into circulation.

The weather of the past week has been unusually windy and a great deal of the excellent moisture has disappeared in the high, drying winds. Quite heavy frosts were encountered Saturday, Sunday and Monday mornings and in some quarters fear is expressed that the pears have been damaged.

The meetings at the Full Gospel Tabernacle have been progressing favorably, the Sunday morning service being very encouraging in its attendance. Special efforts are being put forth in connection with the young people's activity, preparation being made for a special Sunday School rally the first Sunday in May. Special object lessons and children's talks given are expected to be of interest to parents and children alike.

A girls' softball club has organized at a meeting at the Craston Hotel with a good turnout of those interested. The officers chosen are: President, Pearl Spencer; secretary-treasurer, Ena Christie; Captain, Lyda Christie; manager, Geo. Gareau. The team will be known as the Wildcats. The first game of the season was on Sunday afternoon where they were beaten by the juniors by a score of 20 to 15. The next game will be on Sunday afternoon when Wynndel will be their opponents.

At the meeting of Creston board of school trustees on Monday night a vote of $25 was made to help defray the expense of the track meet on May 16th. The secretary was instructed to again write the department to ascertain what financial assistance may be looked for in connection with building the new high school, and also to find out who is to deduct the one per cent. from the teachers' salaries in connection with the new income tax. In connection with the softball game on Sunday, April 12th, of which complaint has reached the board that a high school team participated, the trustees state they had nothing whatever to do with the game or the so-called high school aggregation.

The annual meeting on Wednesday afternoon of Creston Co-Operative Fruit Exchange set up a new record for speed in completing all the business usually in evidence on such occasions. The session lasted hardly more than half an hour, with President Jas. Compton in the chair. The retiring directors, L. T. Leveque, H. A. Dodd and E. W. Klingensmith, were reelected for a three-year term, and with Messrs. J. Compton, H. Young, J. M. Craigie and John Hall comprise the board for 1931. Full co-operation with Scott Fruit Company, Ltd., who have leased the Exchange warehouse at Creston, will be given, and a committee of Messrs. Craigie, Young, Compton, Hall and Leveque was named to function in this capacity.

The annual meeting of Creston Valley Agricultural Association was held in the town hall on Tuesday evening. There was a disappointing attendance, and after the routine business had been attended to it was decided to adjourn until Monday, April 27, at 8 p.m., when officers will be elected and plans made for the 1931 fair. The financial report showed a balance of $75.00 on hand. It is hoped that all those interested in having a fair will be present. It seems that it is the initial effect to get started that is the difficulty every year but it is hoped that the fair will not be allowed to drop. While being of value to the community, it is also the only real Valley Day we have, and it is to be hoped that the fair will not be passed up. The ladies section, under the Womens Institute, is already to go, and there is no reason why similar enthusiasm cannot be shown by the fruit growers, the stockbreeders association and the poultrymen.

Had Successful Year

Standard Brands Limited Reports Record Business—W. C. Leckie Appointed Vice-President

At the annual meeting of Standard Brands Limited, held in Montreal on March 31st, Mr. Corwin Wickersham, president, announced that the year just closed has been a remarkably successful one, particularly in view of general conditions throughout Canada.

Sales of the majority of Standard Brands' products have shown steady gains in the past twelve months, and an indication of the future is seen in the fact that, for the first three months of 1931, sales of all major products have eclipsed the record peaks reached in the corresponding period a year ago.

Mr. Wickersham also announced the appointment of Mr. W. C. Leckie, Toronto, as vice-president in charge of Gillett Products Division of Standard Brands Limited. The new list of officers is now as follows: Corwin Wickersham, president; J. W. Horsey, vice-president, in charge of Fleischmann Products Division; John Anderson, vice-president, in charge of Chase & Sanborn Products Division; W. C. Leckie, vice-president, in charge of Gillett Products Division.

Mr. Leckie has been actively connected with the marketing of Gillett Products: Magic Baking Powder, Gillett's Lye, Royal Yeast Cakes, etc. for many years, having served, previous to the merging of E. W. Gillett Company, Limited, into Standard Brands Limited, as vice-president and general manager of the former organization.

NEIGHBORS TALK

"I am employed in a theatre and it is a problem to make ends meet, as I help support my mother and sisters. I like to dress well but haven't very much to spend on clothes. To give the appearance of variety to my slender wardrobe I change the color of a dress or stockings as soon as the things become faded. I always use Diamond Dyes for the work—using them as dyes for dresses and as tints for stockings. I have always gotten such perfect results that our neighbors talk about the great number of new things I have."

"I learned about Diamond Dyes from our wardrobe mistress. She says she has tried all the dyes on the market but none do such splendid work and are so easy to use as Diamond Dyes. I understand they are the world's most popular dyes—and they deserve to be."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

APRIL 26

HOW TO PRAY

Golden Text: "Lord, teach us how to pray."—Luke 11.1.
Lesson: Luke 18.
Devotional Reading: Psalm 61.

Explanations and Comments

Prayer Should Be Earnest, verses 1-8.—For the purpose of teaching His disciples that they should always pray, and should pray without discouragement, Jesus gave them a parable. The word "always" should be taken literally, for "the whole lives of the faithful should be, in Origen's words, 'one great connected prayer.'"

Men ought always to pray and not to faint; suppose we turn the counsel into a promise: "Men ought always to pray and they will not faint," Dr. J. H. Jowett suggests. "When a man faints in the day of adversity it is because a line of communication has somehow been cut, and he has lost touch with his base of supplies. He has become separated from his spiritual resources, and in the heavy demands of the campaign he has begun to lose heart."

There was in a city a judge, so ran the parable, who feared not God and regarded not man. It is thought that such a judge must stand for a heathen judge, since, in the time of Christ, of Jewish judges were required "prudence, gentleness, piety, hatred of mammon, love of truth, that they may be beloved and of good report." To such a judge there came often a widow beseeching him to avenge her of her adversary, to give her justice. "Her adversary was probably a rich neighbor who, taking advantage of the death of her husband, had stolen her land. The offence of violently appropriating the property of widows and orphans is often alluded to in the Old Testament and forbidden with threats of divine vengeance, Ex. 22.22-24, etc."—Dummelow.

For a long time the judge would not listen to her claim, but finally he became aware that she might wear him out with her continual coming (literally, give him a black eye), and he then yielded to her entreaty and gave her justice.

"And shall not God avenge His elect?" His chosen people (first used of Israelites and then of Christians), questioned Jesus. The argument is, if a man who is so unjust by nature will thus yield to importunity, will not God, who is Justice, heed the prayers of His people? "They cry to Him day and night and yet He is long suffering over them."

"Nevertheless [here Jesus dips into the future], when the Son of Man cometh, shall He find faith on the earth?" The note of encouragement is followed by one of warning. "It is not enough to pray for the 'Coming'; see that you are ready for it. There is no doubt about the 'Coming'; there is grave doubt about the state of the world at the 'Coming.'"—A. S. Peake.

Fresh Supplies In Demand.—Wherever Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil has been introduced increased supplies have been ordered, showing that wherever it goes this excellent Oil impresses its power on the people. No matter in what latitude it may be found its potency is never impaired. It is put up in most portable shape in bottles and can be carried without fear of breakage.

The Wrong Outlook

"Don't you love me any more?" demanded the recent bride, apparently on the verge of tears.

"Certainly darling," cried the young husband.

"Then," demanded the bride, "why are you looking out of the window?"

The ADVENTURES of CAPTAIN JIMMY and his Dog SCOTTIE

There we were! Standing on the edge of that little mountain lake. Fire to the right of us, fire to the left and behind us. Then we heard that strange crashing through the underbrush.

Scottie stood bristling and growling—then to our relief, a deer and a fawn burst through the bush and rushed along the edge of the lake. They passed so close I could have touched them as they dashed along.

Then the woods seemed to be alive with scurrying squirrels, and all animals all rushing down to the shore. Ancient enemies ran together and grudges and racial fears forgotten—and a score of little furry things one never sees by day came out of their hiding places and made for the water line.

It was quite useless to try and go around the fire in either direction—we must have a raft. There was plenty of time now for would take the fire some time to reach us from any direction. I casually set about getting some logs to build one.

Of a sudden Scottie cocked his ear. I listened too—and sure enough it was the drone of a motor. Before long we could see the "plane," and in a few minutes it was spiraling down to make a landing in the lake. You see, it was an amphibian "plane" that lands either on the ground or on the water.

It hit the water with a "splash-splash" and taxied slowly up to us. There was good old Bob from the airplane—and he didn't look good to me. But what a rattletrap of a machine he had! "Bob, where did you get that old crate—it sounded like a Vickers' plane that lands either on the ground or on the water."

"Well," said Bob, "you don't look unlike one, and speaking of old crates, where did you get that swell suit of clothes?"

Sure enough—I was black from head to foot from soot and cinders. My leather coat had been cut up to make a rope, my shirt to make a sling to lower Scottie over the falls, and the legs of my pants had been torn into strips to bind the raft together.

But seriously, Bob, wherever did you get that floating wreck?"

"The motor is a hummer—it's a real Vickers," answered Bob, "but whoever hung that scarecrow of a 'plane on that good motor I cannot imagine. It would make a good wagon for the wheels are sound, or a good boat for it doesn't leak, but it acts like a flying rooster in the air, lots of noise but no lift."

"I don't like it any better than you do," continued Bob "but when I heard that you and Scottie were lost there wasn't much time to go around looking for a good machine. It was a question of getting hold of some kind of plane and getting started. In fact, I didn't even stop to enquire who owned this craft, just as long as the propeller went around, that was all I asked of it."

"Anyway, here's your life preserver," said Bob, "and you'd better strap it on. If this bunch of misfit parts doesn't hang together—you may have to walk home."

By the time the parachute was strapped on, we were ready to go. Bob gave her gas carefully, we moved out into the lake and headed into the wind.

If we did have to jump, I must find some way of strapping Scottie so he could not possibly fall out of my arms. I found a piece of strong canvas in the bottom of the cockpit and in the middle of this I cut four holes, just big enough to slide Scottie's legs through.

This sling I fastened securely to one of the parachute straps. Scottie was now well tied to the parachute, and if I had to jump his chances were about 50-50 with me, and with all these auto. around, that's a dog's chance anywhere.

After a while I settled down, and somehow it seemed so secure drifting along up there far above the ground that I forgot all about the possibility of having to jump.

Suddenly I received a sharp reminder. We ran into an air pocket and dropped like a lead shot. Only for an instant—then we were out of it, but that instant was a death blow to the old "plane. It just seemed as if every nut and bolt were ready to fall apart. Bob turned and motioned me with his hand. Up to the edge of the cockpit I stepped—then jumped.

Quite comfortably we floated down. Off to the west a wisp of smoke was moving rapidly down through the hills, it proved to be a fast freight going east. The engineer sighted us and brought his train to a grinding stop. What luck!

While one can guide a parachute somewhat by pulling on the ropes, it is not easy to steer exactly.

Down, down, we came. Right into some scrub spruce we landed on the hillside above the track. Up came the train crew and took us into the caboose to ride out into civilization.

Well, it should have been enough adventuring for every one concerned, but now that it was over, it was not. It was before we found ourselves off again, out on a more dangerous journey in an older and stranger land.

New Queen Of the Seas

Construction Work On Giant Cunard Liner Is Proceeding Rapidly

Work on the new 73,000-ton Cunard liner has progressed so rapidly that word was received at the local offices of the Cunard Line to the effect that it is highly probable that the date of the launching will be advanced from June, of 1932, to February, of next year.

The yards of John Brown and Company, who are building this giant liner, have been the scene of feverish activity ever since the order for the vessel was first given and the clang of the riveting machines has been incessant for twenty-four hours every day for weeks.

Factories and foundries all over Great Britain are also to be found working on a twenty-four hour schedule in an effort to speed up the work as much as possible. No little effort has been made to ensure that all the component parts that will go to make up this vessel and all her equipment, will be of the very best and hundreds of the finest craftsmen that the British Isles can produce are at present "doing their bit" in producing this new "Queen of the Seas."

It was only last Sunday that the rudder for the new ship left the factory in Darlington on board a steamer that required special fitting out for the job of transporting it to the yards of John Brown at Clydebank. This gigantic piece of metal weighs over one hundred and fifty tons and is the largest that has ever been constructed. Skilled mechanics have been working for weeks in the building of this rudder.

In comparing the size of this vessel to any other liner that has ever been built, an astounding comparison has been disclosed. If it were possible to take the hulls of the first four vessels of the original Cunard fleet and place them in the inside of any of the funnels which will grace the new Cunarder, there would still be room to spare.

While work has been proceeding apace at Clydebank, there has also been considerable activity at Southampton, where the new graving dock is in the course of construction. Each year the Cunard Line gives every one of their fleet a complete overhauling and placed back in the service. This

British Columbia Industry Will Be Maintained For All Time

The salmon supply in British Columbia will be maintained for all time and the salmon canning industry should increase in value in the future, Major J. A. Motherwell, Dominion Superintendent of Fisheries for British Columbia, states in his annual report. The record 1930 pack was 2,221,783 cases, which exceeded the previous record of 1926 by 156,585 cases.

Restless CHILDREN

CHILDREN will fret, often for no apparent reason. But there's always Castoria Harmless as the recipe on the wrapper; mild and bland as it tastes. But its gentle action soothes a youngster more surely than a more powerful medicine.

That's the beauty of this special children's remedy! It may be given to the tiniest infant—as often as there is need. In cases of colic, diarrhea or similar disturbance, it is invaluable. A coated tongue calls for just a few drops to ward off constipation; so does any suggestion of bad breath. Whenever children don't eat well, don't rest well, or have any little upset—this pure vegetable preparation is usually all that's needed.

"I don't know what a ramsum is, Mis' Maxwell, and you don't need to tell me anything about Nick. Most ways he's good as gold, but he always did like a change now and then, and when a cold-blooded vamp like Mis' Halliday gets hold of him, there's no knowin' what'll happen. Why at the movies last Saturday I see a young feller with a wife and baby just led round by the nose by a woman no wickeder than her. And he set a lot o' store by his wife too. The best o'

Here is a Delightful Dessert!

BREAD PUDDING

- 2 cups St. Charles Milk
- 2 cups water
- 1 1/2 cups soft, fine bread crumbs
- 2 eggs, slightly beaten
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 tablespoon melted butter
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- Grated rind of one lemon or 1 teaspoon vanilla

Dilute the milk with water and bring to scalding point. Remove from fire. Add bread crumbs and let stand until cool. Stir in the eggs, sugar, butter, salt and flavoring. Pour into a buttered pudding dish, set in a pan of hot water, and bake in a moderate oven about forty-five minutes.

This and over a hundred other delightful recipes are to be found in the new Recipe Book we have just issued. Send us your name and address and a copy will be mailed you, free of charge.

men is children in the hands of us women, you can bank on that. Of course, I ain't meanin' anything personal about Mr. Maxwell."

Mary smiled. She tried to switch her off onto another subject by mentioning little Martha, but, as Gay once told Nick, no one could stop Julie when she got started. In fact, Mary's choice of subject was unfortunate, for Julie said:

"That's another thing. I suppose Nick was tryin' to be polite, for he said somethin' about how good Mis' Halliday was to do so much for—"

Julie paused, and jerked her elbow toward the little girl who had slipped from Mary's lap and was amusing herself with a picture book. Julie lowered her voice. "Now I hope to die, Mis' Maxwell, if this ain't the truth: If Mis' Halliday had her way that child would go to the poor farm. I got ears in my head as well as eyes, and what I don't hear ain't worth hearin'; but she said to Nick, so sweet soundin' it would ha' made honey taste like vinegar: 'I look upon it as a privilege, Mr. Hastings—this chance to do something for a little child.'"

John Maxwell once said that Julie Nipps was a loss to the stage. His wife thought of it now, as her caller raised innocently trustful eyes to an imaginary Nick. Then she straightened up and her lips tightened as she added: "And there sat Nick, takin' it all in as innocent as a baby takes its bottle which like as not the wicked nursemaid's poisoned. Nick's awful trustin'. His uncle's the only ugly thing he ever run up against, I guess, and he don't know women. I don't remember what he answered, but she begun again and said somethin' kind o' high soundin' about the child makin' up to her for other disappointments. It sounded kind o' like a back-handed slap at Mr. Halliday.

"Disappointments! That woman never had no worse disappointment than gettin' stuck with a coat that didn't match her eyes!

"Then she begun to sing. It sounded awful pretty. I moved the curtain a mite and peeked out. Nick was sittin' there on the steps below her lookin' for all the world like he'd been handed a first class ticket to Paradise. Nick's real handsome, and he looked handsomer'n ever just then. I couldn't blame Mis' Halliday for fallin' for him. Then I thought of Gay, and I had half a mind to throw one o' them pumps at him to break the spell. But I didn't need to. Just that minute little Nick set up an awful howl. It was like things happen in the movies, Mis' Maxwell—the child rousin' the father to his stern duty. Nick rose all right. He sprinted through that hole in the hedge like he'd been fired out of a shot gun; and now I'll tell you somethin' real interestin': Mis' Halliday looked after him for a minute, and then she sort o' shook her fist at Gay's nursery window where Nick switched on a light, and what do you think she said? She said 'Damn!' or my name ain't Julia Amanda Nipps! Now what do you think o' that?"

Mary Maxwell smothered an hysterical laugh.

"Yet I was awfully ashamed," she said that evening, when relating the scene to John. "It was terrible of me to listen to all that gossip; but you know Julie—it's like trying to dam a flood to shut her off. And besides, I was worried about Nick. All our old fears for him came back when she began her story."

"You must remember," replied John Maxwell quietly, "that in the days before the movies our friend Julie would have been a devotee of the dime novel. She craves excitement, and invents it where none exists. She can smell a scandal long before it's born; but if she took Nick to task for hob-nobbing with Mrs. Halliday, I think she'd meet her match."

He chuckled; but Mary said soberly: "Just the same, Johnny, I think Mrs. Halliday is a dangerous woman. I'm glad she's going back to Boston."

Mary Maxwell was not the only one who felt a sense of relief on the day that Angela Halliday and her numerous trunks, departed from Bakersville. Her husband, who was to stay a day or two longer in order to perfect certain plans for little Martha, was distinctly glad of her absence, a feeling that was shared in good measure by Gay, who watched the departure from her front window, and, as the car drove off, surprised her small son with an ardent hug.

"It'll seem strange not to see Mrs. Halliday fussing around the garden," said Nick that night at supper. "I wonder that anyone so fond of growing things can endure a winter in the city. I thought she looked tired when she left."

"When she left?"

"I mean at the station. I ran down to see her off. In fact, she suggested it herself. She thought Halliday wouldn't have time to go with her, and there were a lot of trunks to check. She's rather used to being waited on, you know."

Had Nick been looking at his wife he would have noticed an unfamiliar expression in her eyes.

"Of course, if one is willing to beg for help one usually gets it," she responded, "but there are some of us who'd rather check our own trunks than ask a man to leave his business to do it for us."

"But I didn't leave my business. I wasn't coming home this noon anyway, you know, and I had lunch later in order to take in her train. However, as far as the trunks were concerned, I needn't have gone. Halliday saw to them herself."

"While his wife was bidding you a lingering farewell? It would have taken some time to check those trunks. They filled a whole express wagon. How can one woman have such a wardrobe?"

Nick threw an amused glance across the table.

"What's the matter, old girl? Upset about anything? Your remarks sound just the least bit feline."

"Yes, I am upset," Gay confessed honestly, her color rising. "I don't think Mrs. Halliday should have asked you to see her off, nor do I think you should have gone. If she were a different woman I wouldn't care; but she's the sort people notice and speak about. Most of our friends knew you were out all night with her the time you came down with pneumonia—and you know how Bakersville can gossip. I don't care for their gossip, but if we're to live here—"

"Why, my dear girl," Nick interrupted, "what do you mean? I never thought—"

"You don't think enough, Nick. That's the trouble. Because you love me you can't imagine that anyone could misconstrue your actions. But they do. Why even Julie—"

"Julie Nipps is a confirmed scandal monger!" Nick was angry. "I'm ashamed that my wife should listen to anything she says. I believe it's she who's responsible for your unwarranted attitude toward Mrs. Halliday. The woman feels it, too. She said last night she wished you'd let her get nearer to you."

Gay lowered her eyes.

"I'm sorry you're ashamed of me," she said coldly, and at her voice Nick's good-humor, never long absent, returned. He arose, and going around the table, sat down on the arm of her chair.

"Oh, come on. Let's not get ruffled over a thing like this. Of course I'm not ashamed of you. That was just temper. You're all I have to be proud of, Gay—you and the kiddies. If I'd known you'd mind my going to the station I wouldn't have gone, of course. Personally I don't care what people say; but if you do, I'll be more careful. Here, kiss me. I believe we almost quarrelled. It's ridiculous. Don't you know that 'there's only one girl in the world for me?'"

He sang the last words, and Gay had to smile, even though the tears were not far off. It was seldom that they came even as near as this to having words, and such things hurt her. Nick would forget, but Gay, woman-like, would feel the scars for a long time. She winked back the tears, but the eyes she lifted were very bright, and Nick understood. He put an arm about her, and said, missing her gentily: "There! that's better. Not mad, are you?"

To his surprise she didn't smile, but arose quickly, as if to clear the table.

"Not mad," she answered. "Just—just a wee bit frightened—that's all."

"Frightened? At what?"

His tone was fraught with astonishment; but Gay, managing something that was an excellent imitation of a laugh, refused an answer.

Lots Of Room For Jews In Palestine Says Lloyd George

Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George told the Jewish agency at a dinner in his honor in London, England, that there is plenty of room in Palestine for the Jewish national home without rendering homeless any of its present inhabitants.

The mandatory power of Great Britain in Palestine, he said, "must discharge its functions with fidelity and resolution."

The dinner marked the opening of a campaign for funds to establish a colony in Palestine named for Mr. Lloyd George.

When Food SOURS

About two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been over-stimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless liquid; pleasant, efficient and harmless.

But it kills excess acids. It has remained the standard with physicians for more than 50 years.

It is the quick method. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know.

Be sure to get genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for over fifty years in correcting excess acids. 50c bottles—any drugstore. So look for the name Phillips' on wrapper and bottle. (Made in Canada.)
