THE CRESTON REVIEW

Scott Fruit Co. Opening, Creston

Arranging Lease Fruit Exchange Warehouse—Want Fruit and Vegetable Tonnage—Operate 19 Warehouses Prairie Points.

Shipping members of Creston Co-Operative Fruit Exchange were out in large numbers on Saturday afternoon for a special meeting of that organization, called for the purpose of discussing the 1930 marketing situation. President Jas. Compton was in charge and in businesslike terms placed before the meeting the situation which faces the Exchange, which finds that the volume of business in prospect for this year is too small to carry on with the same satisfaction as in other years.

A brighter side to the picture, however, was also submitted b the president who explained an offer the Exchange had received from the Scott Fruit Company, Limited, who were prepared to lease the Exchange's big warehouse at Creston for one year, and were willing to handle the fruit and vegetable production of Exchange shippers and all other growers.

More complete details of the offer were submitted by H. Harrison, manager of the Scott Fruit Company branch at Fernie, who was present and was asked to speak. Mr. Harrison discussed the terms on which the warehouse would be leased, but dwelt more especially on the service the company was prepared to give all who cared to ship through them the coming year.

Scott Fruit Company have operated their own warehouse at Erickson the past two years and, he believed, had given their growers satisfactory treatment. The firm would take all commodities grown and with such a close connection as between grower and retailer as the company provided quicker payments could be made the growers on everything, although payments on the winter varieties of apples might not be quite as prompt as on the soft fruits and earlier apples.

After speaking and answering questions asked of him, Mr. Harrison withdrew and the meeting was thrown open for a discussion of the whole situation, with the result that a motion was passed to notify the Associated Growers that the Exchange was cancelling its contract for 1931 with the big selling organization, and the directors were authorized to enter into negotiations with Scott Fruit Company for the one-year lease of the Creston warehouse.

Scott Fruit Company have been operating at Erickson, under the local management of J. E. VanAckeran, for the past two years. Starting in a modest way in 1929 the firm gave such satisfaction that in 1930 the number of orchardists shipping through them had increased to the point where their warehouse accommodation was inadequate, Returns to the Scott growers last year are reported to be good.

Scott Fruit Company is a subsidiary of the well known Consolidated Fruit Company and is also closely allied with the National Fruit Company, the trio accounting for the ownership and control of 19 wholesale fruit warehouses employing about 60 salesmen working the points in Manitoba, Sasketchewan, Alberta and part of British Columbia, along with a corps of salesmen who work the cities, with the score of distributing houses located in the principal wholesale centres of the four provinces mentioned.

Erickson

A very general interest is being shown regarding the new Massey-Harris 4 wheel drive tractor which will be demonstrated on April 6th at Frank Putnam's ranch. The balanced traction of four driving wheels gives wonderful results when hill climbing with a load, while the wide tread and low centre of gravity with the pulling power of all four wheels give great stability on hillsides too steep for operation of the standard type of wheeled tractor.

Wynndel

Mrs. Reg. Watson of Creston was a Wynndel visitor a few days last week.

Paul Ofner and Lloyd Williams left last week for Trail, where they hope to find employment.

A meeting of the Farmer's Educational Union was held in the hall on Friday evening to discuss labor and political questions.

The annual meeting of the Co-Operative Fruit Growers Association will be held in the hall on Tuesday evening, March 31st, at 8 o'clock.

The bridge across Duck Creek is now completed and work has commenced on a new bridge at the station.

The K.K. Klub dance on March 17th was a financial success, the door intake totalling about $130. The first prize went to Mrs. C. Davis of Rykerts, representing an Irish Lady, not Colonial Lady. The second spot dance was won by Mrs. W. Cooper and M. Wigen. The music was lively but for St Patrick's night Irish melodies were conspicuous by their absence There was a splendid lunch at midnight, and dancing continued until about 2.30 a.m.

Will Handle 1931 Crop

Rumors are being circulated that Creston Growers, Ltd., are discontinuing the handling of fruit for the 1931 season. We definitely contradict this rumor. Creston Growers, Limited, will be in a position to give the same service at the same charge during the season of 1931 as they have done during the past eight years. We submit that our service has averaged over a period of years a high percentage of satisfaction to the growers who have dealt with us and suggest that growers would be well advised to consider our record when planning this years sales connection. Full announcement of interest to all growers will appear in next weeks issue of the Review.

Miss Eileen Heap left on Tuesday for Nelson, where she has secured a position.

Mr. and Mrs Jim Pascuzzo returned home on Thursday from Trail from a visit with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Cooper.

Mrs. Cherbo is on a visit with friends in Cranbrook.

Improve Warehouse

With farm spring work well under way local fruit shipping houses are busy with preparations to handle the 1931 crop. Developments in this connection will include the double lining of the Long, Allan & Long, Ltd., warehouse at Erickson; work on which is scheduled to commence immediately. It is understood that this company have also placed orders for additional packing house equipment to enable them to more economically handle their increased tonnage.

Commencing business a little over a year ago this firm have been successful in establishing highly satisfactory marketing connections not only on the prairie but also in Eastern Canada, and possessing what can be regarded as one of the most up to date packing houses in the Valley, have placed themselves in the position of being able to handle the growers crops to the best advantage.

Kitchener

C. H. Robinson of Nelson, Dominion fishery inspector, was a business visitor here this week, planting 40,000 eastern brook trout, fry in Meadow Creek.

E. Driffle left on Saturday for Mission, where he will be employed inspecting ties for the C.P.R. which has shifted its tie buying headquarters to Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. LaPage and family have taken possession of the residence recently vacated by Chas. Anderson.

W. S. Culver of Metalline Falls left for Spokane on Monday after loading out several cars of poles for the Naugle Pole Company.

Mrs. Huson of the Goat River ranch was a patient at the Creston hospital a few days last week, taking treatment for injuries received in a runaway accident at Creston on Friday.

Ira Franks and W. Hale of Spokane were here on Monday last for a meeting of the directors of Leadville Mining Company, at which Mr Hale was elected president; C. F. Hayes is vice-president, and A. G. Strudwicke, secretary-treasurer.

Another acquisition to Kitchener's growing business circle is Mrs. Langlois, who has recently transformed her old-time store into an attractive ice cream parlor, which opened for business on March 17th.

Kitchener has been missing calls from several of the ambassadors of trade who are in the habit of making weekly visits. This is due to the poor shape the road is in between Kitchener and Cranbrook. Those who have struggled through tell some awful tales of the state of the highway.

Quite a large and representative delegation of valley citizens were here on St. Patrick's night to do honor to Ireland's patron saint and also to that distinguished son of Erin, the genial Jimmy McGovern, who for many years has welcomed the coming and sped the parting guests from the Kitchener Hotel. After a sumptuous repast had been done full justice to the balance of the evening passed pleasantly with song and story, an interesting feature of these proceedings being the presentation of a silver mounted pipe to the redoubtable James, who was congratulated on his good health, and best wishes extended for his presence at many more such enjoyable gatherings.

Institute Lodge Pythian Sisters

Grand Chief and Grand Junior Conduct Ceremonies — Starts with 52 Members—Mrs. Laithwaite First Presiding Officer.

British Columbia's youngest temple of the Pythian Sisters is at present located at Creston. It is officially known as Blossom Temple, No. 32, and was inaugurated under most auspicious circumstances on Tuesday, starting off with a membership of 52.

The institution of the new temple was in charge of Mrs. Ferguson of Rossland, the grand chief, assisted by Mrs. Downes of Trail, grand junior, and required sessions both afternoon and evening at Wild Rose Hall, headquarters of Creston Knights of Pythias.

In the afternoon the lady members to the number of 27 were obligated, following which officers were elected and installed, this feature being in charge of Mrs. Ferguson and Mrs. Downes, assisted by Mrs. Jas. Wilson of Sirdar. In the evening the newly-elected officers conducted the initiation exercises and at this communication 25 knights were received into membership.

At the close of lodge proceedings the Sisters served an excellent supper following which there were a number of timely talks, among those contributing to the speechmaking being Mrs. Ferguson and Mrs. Downes; who were followed by W. J. Trusco t, chancellor commander of Wild Rose Lodge; Sam Steenstrup, Dr. Henderson, R. H. Hassard, R. M. Telford, Dr. McKenzie, C. F. Armstrong, A. E. French and Jas. Wilson of Sirdar.

A pleasing feature of the supper hour was the presentation of appropriate gifts to Mrs. Ferguson and Mrs. Downes from the officers and members of Blossom Temple, the presentation address being by Mrs. Laithwaite, the recipuents suitably acknowledging the gifts. The officers elected are:

Most Excellent Chief—Mrs. John Laithwaite.
Sitting Excellent Chief—Mrs. E. E. Cartwright.
Excellent Junior—Mrs. R. M. Telford.
Excellent Senior—Mrs. R. H. Hassard.
Manager of Temple—Mrs. A. E. French.
Mistress of Records and Correspondence—Miss Beth Putnam.
Mistress of Finance—Mrs. W. G. Hendy.
Protector—Mrs. J. Romano.
Guard—Miss D. Payette.
Trustees—Mrs. Maxwell, Mrs. C. Senesael, Mrs. Vic. Mawson.

Complete regalia and equipment for the temple is here and it has been decided to meet twice a month, the first and third Thursdays. With so large and representative a membership and enthusiam running high, the Pythain Sisters are ikely to repeat the success of the Wild Rose Knights lodge, which has enjoyed a phenomenal growth in the three years since it was re-organized.

WE WISH TO THANK those growers who have signified their intention to ship through us the coming season for the confidence they have shown, and to assure them that it will be our earnest endeavor to merit a continuance of that confidence.

ANY GROWER who has not completed arrangements for the marketing of his crop, and wishing to discuss this matter, is invited to communicate with us.

Fourth Best Customer

Canada was Great Britain's fourth best customer in 1930, having advanced one place from the previous year, it was announced by the Department of Trade and Commerce after a report had been received from the British Board of Trade.

There is nothing repulsive in Miller's Worm Powders, and they are as pleasant to take as sugar, so that few children will refuse them. In some cases they cause vomiting through their action in an unsound stomach, but this is only a manifestation of their cleansing power, no indication that they are hurtful. They can be thoroughly depended upon to clear worms from the system.

Dr. Charles Camsell, deputy minister of mines, was re-elected president of the Canadian Geographical Society at the recent annual meeting, the first and second vice-presidents being, respectively, C. G. Gowan and Dr. J. Macintosh Bell.

Quick action saves trouble, worry. Keep Douglas' Egyptian Liniment always handy. Stops bleeding instantly. Cauterizes wounds. Hair comes back. No scar remains.

Altitude and Power

As an aeroplane increases its altitude, its motor loses much of its power, experiments conducted by the United States Bureau of Standards show. Tests conducted revealed that at an altitude of 25,000 feet a motor which developed 410 horsepower on the ground only developed 100 horsepower at that height.

New Baggage Device

A device by which baggage may be unloaded and taken on a 'plane in flight has been developed. Dropping a load into a chute, the 'plane's trail line is hooked onto the baggage which is automatically shot forward at the speed the 'plane is travelling.

New Giant Cunard Liner

Interior Decorations To Be Most Elaborate Of Any Vessel Afloat

Continued rapid progress is being made on the new giant Cunard liner of 73,000 tons which is at present under construction in the yards of John Brown & Company, at Cyldebank, Scotland.

Details have reached the local offices of the Cunard Line with reference to a number of the plans for the interior decoration of the liner which up to the present is without a name.

Mr. Eric Reford, vice-president of the Robert Reford Company, and general manager of the Cunard Line in Canada, in discussing some of the features which will be part of the new Cunarder, mentioned the fact that she will have an exceedingly beautiful church and that it will be decorated in accordance with the best traditions of English ecclesiastical art.

"The liner itself will have eight decks above the water line," he said, "and between the aft and the centre funnels will be built the largest dining room ever to be placed in an ocean liner."

"The boat deck itself will be 70 feet above the water line, and the tops of the funnels, which are forty feet across, about one hundred and thirty feet above. The boat deck is to be about 650 feet long and the promenade deck 720 feet long."

"I understand that the interior decoration of the Cunarder has not been settled, but I am sure that it will be the most elaborate that has ever been known on an ocean liner."

"It is fully expected that the construction of the hull will be well advanced by the spring," said Mr(Reford in closing.

"So you decided to quit being an atheist?"

"Yeah, there's no future to it."

AN EFFECTIVE TREATMENT DESCRIBED

Nearly every case of "Flu" starts with a simple cold. At first the throat is sore—often just a little hoarse—soon the infection goes lower—then the chest is affected. A safe plan is to gargle the throat three times daily with "Nerviline"—this will keep the throat free from germs. If there is any sign of tightness in the chest, rub on Nerviline—every drop penetrates deeply—congestion will be relieved—the cold will break up quickly. Many a dangerous case of "Flu" can be avoided by this simple home treatment.

Experienced mothers know how valuable Nerviline is for Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, and the little ailments that arise in every family. Nerviline in most homes is called "Mother's Best Friend." 35c at all dealers.

An increase of nine per cent. in the volume of product handled by the Saskatchewan Poultry Pool, Limited, for the year ended January 31, 1931, as compared with the previous year, was noted in the report of the president, Mrs. Bertha Holmes, submitted at the recent annual meeting of the Pool. CHAPTER XII.—Continued.

"You're an incurable day-dreamer," said Nick. "I'm glad you are; but — but somehow I can't just see Mrs. Halliday adopting a child. She's rather keen on the subject of inheritance, and all that. I had the feeling that day, that she thought I'd been foolish to try to save something that was, possibly, not worth saving. Was she right, Gay? I've been wondering ——"

"There!" broke in Gay indignantly, "I knew someone had put that idea into your head, because such thoughts aren't really yours. Just get rid of them, my dear. They don't belong to you. Why, Nick! even the least of us has the right to Life—and how can you or I, or Mrs. Halliday, know what that little girl may have to give the world?"

Her eyes met his, and in one glance swept away the seeds of Angela Halliday's careful sowing.

"You're right, of course, dear," he said quietly. "You always are right, Gay. I believe you see more true and straight than most of us; and yet—it's queer, but I felt as you do until she talked to me about it. Don't stay too long at that telephone. I want you."

"You're getting spoiled," she answered, brushing back his hair with a tender hand. "I'm neglecting everything."

"That doesn't matter," said Nick, smiling up at her, "so long as you don't neglect me. I shall continue to boss the roost while you keep me in this chair. I like being spoiled."

"I'm afraid," said Gay, with a quiet little laugh, "that I like spoiling you!"

CHAPTER XIII

The summer was waning, and after three weeks at "The Bird's Nest," where he regained the last of his diminished strength, Nick was back in the cage.

"Is seems good to have him there," said John Maxwell to Mary, at the close of Nick's first day, "and I believe the boy is happy to be back, possibly because we were all so glad to see him."

"I met Gay down town, too," said Mary Maxwell. "She looked rested, and pretty, and wore a smart little new gown that was tremendously becoming. I was surprised to see it. Their bills must have been overwhelming these last few months."

"Possibly the dress was a gift."

"From whom? There's not a soul who'd think of such a thing. The truth is, Johnny, I've sometimes longed to give her a gown or two myself, but I thought she might not like it. She and Janey were always so much together that I've hated to think that Gay was going without the pretties a young girl wants—and she's still a girl, you know, in spite of her little family."

"I think you might give her something now and then, Mary. Gay's not the sort who would take offense. Can't you pretend you got them for yourself and they were—well—too small or something?"

Mary Maxwell glanced down at her generous porportions, and smiled at her husband's naive suggestion.

"I fear, my dear, that Gay would see through a subterfuge like that. Johnny, do you suppose old Mr. Bartlett gives her anything?"

"It wouldn't surprise me; though clothes are the last item he would notice."

"I don't know. Those days he was here with the babies he noticed everything. He's a wonderful old man. I wish he'd give Gay an allowance."

"Well, I don't." John Maxwell spoke with decision. "There's nothing better for a man than having to scratch gravel to provide for his wife and children. In my opinion Nick's marriage has been the making of him. Not that he wasn't all right before; but he needed ballast, and Gay provides that in just the right amount. I shouldn't want Simeon Bartlett to do too much for them."

"Well," sighed Mary, with a thought for the days when she herself had longed for the unattainable, "I suppose you're right, and possibly Mr. Bartlett agrees with you. I feel sure there's nothing he wouldn't do for them if he thought best."

This was true. It sometimes tore Simeon's heart not to lift all Gay's financial burdens. Only his shrewd good sense kept him from doing it. He had, however, taken care of the bills incurred by Nick's illness, saying when Gay protested, "It's only a loan, dearie. Better owe me than the doctor. He needs it more'n I do; and Nick can pay me back any time it comes handy."

"But I've the hundred dollars you gave me, Uncle Sim. That'll pay some of it. I can't go into debt to anyone, you know, and spend the money for silly clothes."

"I ain't askin' you to spend it for silly clothes, dearie. Clothes ain't silly if they make a woman look right to her man. It ain't often I give a present and tell folks just what they got to do with it. That ain't no way to give; but this is different. Run along now; and do your shoppin'. If you don't, I'll do it for you, and there's n knowin' what outrageous flimflams I might buy."

Hence the smart little gown that had caught Mary Maxwell's approving eye, and which also caught Nick's when Gay appeared at the bank that afternoon.

"Where'd you get it?" he questioned through his little window, for once unmindful of the fact that Sonny was begging for admittance. "You look a peach. I bet you've overdrawn our account—and I don't care a darn if you have. If there weren't so many people round here I'd——"

"No love making allowed in banking hours," came from the next cage, as Johnny Symmes caught the drift of Nick's remarks. "How do you manage to get him going like that after all these years, Gay?"

Gay laughed.

"The recipe's simple. Get a new gown and spring it on your man unexpectedly. You tell that to Flora."

"Nothin' doin'," said Johnny, smiling broadly. "Flora doesn't need any urging to buy new gowns. Run along, Gay. We need the services of our paying teller, and he's still spellbound. Not that I blame him. You look a regular corker this afternoon."

"Thanks," said Gay. "You're getting gallant in your old age. I should never know you for the boy who used to pull my pigtails when the teacher wasn't looking."

Angela Halliday was still away from home. Her cruise had ended in a visit to another friend, and as she asked no questions, nor suggested that he join her, her husband said nothing about the small guest who was occupying her room, since it was the only one connecting with the sleeping porch. James Halliday himself had abandoned his hot bedroom in the ell, and was using the guest chamber; and his household had settled into a routine that revolved about the tiny creature who blossomed visibly under their tender care.

"You'd think she was royalty," said Julie, one evening when she ran over to get Gay's recipe for sponge cake. "Nothin's too good for her accordin' to Mr. Halliday. You see that lovely doll he sent clear to Boston for; and now it's a kitten—a live one. Gee! I wonder what Mis' Halliday would say if she could see her room! It's a regular nursery. I see the kitten on her toilet table this mornin', sittin' right beside a jar of imported facial cream. As for him—he just sits there and worships the little thing. Her name's Martha. It was his mother's name and that seemed to please him a lot. It's plain he thinks the world an' all of her; and she—well I ain't never seen anything queerer than the way she takes to him an' his long face. She won't go to sleep nights till he's been up and set with her a while."

"I think it's beautiful," said Gay. "I hope he'll never send her away."

"You do, do you?" asked Julie. "Well, I'll tell the world I don't think Mis' Halliday'd make no suitable mother. She ain't the kind. Maybe she'd be willin' to pick out the kid's clothes, but that's as far as she'd go or my name ain't Julia Amanda Nipps. I hope she'll give us plenty o' notice when she comes home. It'll take some hoppin' to get things back like they was before. For a lady that looks like an angel on a Christmas card, I'll say she makes things fly when they don't suit her. Lordy! I wouldn't want to answer for the consequence if she got home unexpected and found things like they is now."

If baby has COLIC

A CRY in the night. Colic! No cause for alarm if Castoria is handy. This pure vegetable preparation brings quick comfort, and can never harm. It is the sensible thing when children are ailing. Whether it's the stomach, or the little bowels; colic or constipation; or diarrhea. When tiny tongues are coated, or the breath is bad. Whenever there's need of gentle regulation. Children love the taste of Castoria, and its mildness makes it safe for frequent use.

And a more liberal dose of Castoria is always better for growing children than strong medicine meant only for adult use.

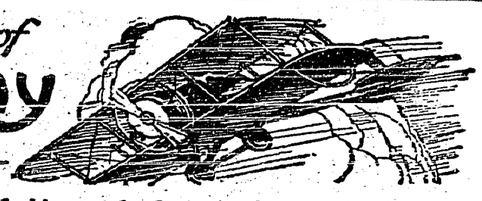
The ADVENTURES of CAPTAIN JIMMY and his Dog SCOTTIE



Yes, Sir, that bear just poked his face out from among the bushes and looked at us. We had no gun—not even a knife. It was a great brute of a grizzly, and with her came a half-grown cub. Probably you have never seen a grizzly loose in the mountains. If you haven't, you have no idea how big one looks. This one seemed to be as big as an elephant, and she looked as mean as poison. It was growing darker every moment and in that narrow valley, shut in by the mountains, almost anything might have happened. Mrs. Grizzly is a bad one to meet at any time, but when she has a cub with her, she is not the company one would choose to meet in a lonely spot.

Meanwhile the old bear was getting nervous — sort of sniffed around a bit — and then — well, she and her cub started down ot look us over.

Very likely we should have shouted and waved our arms and yelled "Shoot! Shoot.!." but I never saw a grizzly that one could talk out of an idea. No siree! We did no such thing —we cut and ran pell mell for the 'plane. It was less than a hundred feet away but it seemed as if we would never make it. And all the time the bear and her cub were ambling briskly toward us. I reached for the petcock of the gas tank, turned it on and held my helmet under it until it was full and soused it over the wings and body of the 'plane. Time and time I emptied the helmet of gasoline on the 'plane — and every time I looked up, there were those bears coming closer and closer.

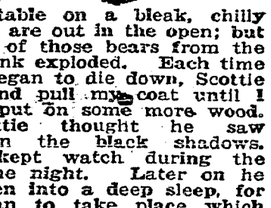
As I threw the last helmet of gasoline over the 'plane, I looked up, and there — just across the 'plane — were the bears. Believe me, girls and boys, those bears weren't sight-seeing — they were out hunting trouble — and that particular trouble was us. I tried to light a match, and did you ever try to strike a match in a hurry? The first one didn't light at all—the second broke—but the third one lighted.

I held it to the edge of the wing — and it seemed as if it would never catch fire. As it caught the old bear was scarcely a couple of jumps back of me. Suddenly the flame flared up. Scottie and I started to run — to get away from those bears and the 'plane, which I knew would shortly explode.

We had hardly gone a hundred feet, when Scottie got between my legs, and down we went in a heap. Scarcely had we struck the ground when the flames reached the gas tank, and WHAM!—it blew up. For a minute the air was full of burning debris. What a sight!

It seemed like as if those bears hadn't started to run until they heard all that noise. Then it was a case of every bear for himself and never mind your neighbor. They fairly flew. The cub's legs were so close together that they looked like one big bear.

Meanwhile the wreck of the old 'plane was burning brightly. Scottie and I hustled over to the edge of the wood and gathered up the driest wood we could find.



All night long we kept the fire burning brightly, for a good camp fire is mighty friendly and comfortable on a bleak, chilly night when you are out in the open; but we didn't hear of those bears from the time the gas tank exploded. Each time the red blaze began to die down, Scottie would whine and pull my coat until I awakened and put on some more wood. Probably Scottie thought he saw more bears in the black shadows. Certainly he kept watch during the first part of the night. Later on he must have fallen into a deep sleep, for something began to take place which might easily have ended all our adventures then and there.

Over at the edge of the clearing a little crimson tongue of flame gradually curled up and grew larger—crept forward and spread more little curling flames like an advancing army of redcoats. But we were sound asleep and saw nothing of it. Meanwhile the dangerous little flames grew larger and spread back of us through the woods, threatening to ring us around with a wall of fire.

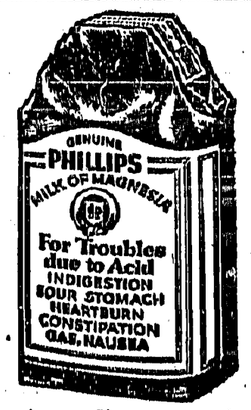
The Daily Round

Whatever we are, high or lowly, learned or unlearned, married or single, in a full house or alone, charged with many affairs or dwelling in quietness, we have our daily round of work, our duties of affection, obedience, love, mercy, industry and the like; and that which makes one man to differ from another is not so much what things he does as his manner of doing them.—H. E. Manning.

PAIN after eating



What many call "Indigestion" is very often nothing but excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes acids instantly. The best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained the standard anti-acid with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali will neutralize instantly many times as much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this more pleasant way. A small bottle is sufficient to show its merit.

Be sure to get genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for more than 50 years in correcting excess acid. 50c a bottle; any drugstore. Complete directions for its many uses are enclosed with every bottle.

The Genuine Milk of Magnesia is always a liquid—never a tablet. Look for the Phillips' name on bottle.

FEEL MEAN?

Don't be helpless when you suddenly get a headache. Reach in your pocket for immediate relief. If you haven't any Aspirin with you, get some at the first drugstore you come to. Take a tablet or two and be rid of the pain. Take promptly. Nothing is gained by waiting to see if the pain will leave of its own accord. It may grow worse! Why postpone relief?

There are many times when Aspirin tablets will "save the day." They will always ease a throbbing head. Quiet a grumbling tooth. Relieve nagging pains of neuralgia or neuritis. Or check a sudden cold. Even rheumatism has lost its terrors for those who have learned to depend on these tablets.

Gargle with Aspirin tablets at the first suspicion of sore throat, and reduce the infection. Look for Aspirin on the box—and the word Genuine in red. Genuine Aspirin tablets do not depress the heart.

Say "thank you" by telephone

You've received such wonderful gift from friends in a faraway city, and you're trying to write a letter of thanks. But it's so difficult to avoid a tone of stiff formality. How dull and cold your words look on paper. If you could only speak what your're trying to write, how differeut it would be! How easy it would be to express your true feelings!

There is a way—use the long-distance telephone.

The best way to acknowledge a gift or a courtesy is to respond with a courtesy. Telephone!

Bridge a Death Trap

Editor Review:

Sir,—Lost, in the vicinity of the new bridge at Wynndel, a pile of public money. There were two surveys for this bridge. One by a valley surveyor, but that was too straight. and would not cost enough money. But the one used is certainly a lemon.

It is a well built bridge, but when you say that you have said all that is good about it. When finished it will be a death trap at one approach. I should say the surveys must have cost over $500 and one thing sure $1000 will not cover damage done to effected property.

A well known resident of Wynndel, I hear, is seriously considering moving the old schoolhouse to the pole yard for a morgue, and would like to purchase the ranch behind the pole yard for a cemetery, so they will be handy. I feel certain in saying any schoolboy could have made a better job of placing the bridge in a better position

A word to the wise: To be forwarned is to be forearned. When I go through Wynndel again, if the new bridge is open for traffic, I will have a periscope through the roof of my car, and it will be the only safe way to approach the bridge, as the logging road will be graded so low (because the new bridge is so low) that one will never see what is coming before it is too late. But cheer up, I hear they are to have a local undertaker too.

A Presbytery Resolution

Editor Review:

Sir,—At a meeting of the Kootenay Presbytery held last month the following resolution was passed:

Resolved, "That this Presbytery expresses its fullest approval of the stand taken by the General Council in its condemnation of the present government liquor control system, by its failure to promote temperance, suppress the bootlegger and minimize the traffic.

The Presbytery further expresses disapproval on ethical and social grounds against the spending of almost $20,000,000 for liquor beverages during the past year. We also protest indignantly against our Province becoming a manufacturing centre for alcohalic beverages. As a first step towards reducing consumption, we would urge the government to close all beer saloons at the present time.

FOR SALE—Business lot, 25 x 110 feet, in heart of town—Canyon street, next to dentists. Cash or terms, $300. Chas. Moore, Creston.

Local Member Speaks

VICTORIA, March 18.—The government has leaned too far backwards in its desire for economy, in the opinion of Colonel Fred Lister, Conservative, Creston. He told the Legislature Monday that this year was a poor time to cut public works to a new minimum when numerous unemployed would require jobs.

"In these times, with other industries depressed, we must look more and more to the tourist business," Colonel Lister said. "We can not get tourists without roads. One of the best things we can do is to build roads. I fear that the minister of finance—the minister of economy, he is being called—may be too economical in road appropriations this year in view of the unemployment situation when many men will be looking for jobs. This would have been a good year to carry on public works quite extensively."

Colonel Lister regretted particularly the decision not to complete this year the new transprovincial highway route along Kootenay Lake, needed because of the impending abandonment of the old steamboat services. Instead, he said, the government intended to carry cars across the lake on a boat rented from the Canadian Pacific Railway until the new road route could be completed later. The decision not to finish the work this year he regarded as short-sighted as the road was an integral part of the transprovincial highway and would encourage tourists to journey from the eastern interior to the coast.—Province.

VICTORIA, March 18.—Government spokesmen who have taken credit for increasing the number of setters in the Creston colonization area were rebuffed in the Legislature Monday by Col. Fred Lister, Conservative member for Creston

He expressed regret at the admission to Camp Lister of some of the recent settlers who, he said, were similar in type to some who had recently gone into the Peace River. They had no money to clear their land or get ready for production.

"They are broke, and they always will be broke," he declared. "There is no work for them. No settlers at all would be better than such settlers." He said they would always be a charge on or worry to the government.—Sun.

A 1931 Seed Time Problem

Seeding time throughout Western Canada is at hand, and, as the farmer overhauls his ploughs, harrows, and seeders in preparation for the Spring work, he naturally is looking forward and planning just what he ought to do in the light, not only of his own individual circumstances, but of prevailing world conditions and prospects.

The prairie farmer is an optimist, as a rule. Indeed, to succeed, he can hardly be anything else. Unquestionably, however, there is less optimism prevalent as the season of 1931 opens than is usually the case throughout this western country, and many farmers are in somewhat of a quandary in reaching a decision just what is best for them to do this year.

Most of them have been growers of wheat. It has been their major article of production. Upon it they have depended for success. But for the past year and a half wheat has been a drug on the world's markets. The selling price has fallen well below the cost of production. There is a large surplus stock on hand in various countries. What, then, is the prospect for disposing of a new crop of wheat at profitable prices in 1931? Yet the vast majority of prairie farmers cannot turn from wheat growing to something else in one short season, even if it was advisable to do so.

Under these circumstances should the farmer proceed to seed the average number of acres he has been seeding in years past? If he does and all the great wheat growing countries, as well as Canada, harvest an average normal crop, will the price obtainable for the wheat yield him a profit, or will it again fail to cover the costs of production and leave him in a worse position than if he had grown no wheat?

Inasmuch as the farmer cannot rest from growing something,—his livelihood depends on his production,—and as the prevailing prices for coarse grains also are less than production costs, the farmer is confronted with a real problem, and one he must decide for himself. Another crop failure, or partial failure, would be a disaster. Equally, a large crop throughout the world would mean loss to the producer. It is a gamble either way. If the Western Canada wheat grower could be assured of a good crop, while below average crops were the rule in other great wheat producing countries, his course would be clear. But as to this no man can foretell.

Possibly many farmers will consider it wise to merely seed sufficient acreage to provide him with a livelihood if all goes well, and devote his time to the eradication of weeds and the more thorough cultivation of his land in preparation for future operations, coupled with the planting and expert care of a garden sufficient to supply the needs of his own family during the summer and next winter.

A goodly number of farmers will have to look to the Government to supply them with seed; many others will not be able this year to buy registered seed, but whatever acreage is sown, be it large or small, should be seeded with good, clean seed, the best it is possible to obtain under the circumstances.

Generally speaking, too, farmers will have to keep down all overhead expenses. Last year's plough, harrow and seed drill will have to do service another year. Therefore, careful overhauling of all present equipment will undoubtedly be one of the outstanding activities on farms at this time. The farmer and his family may have to work even harder than usual and possibly get along with one hired man where formerly two were employed, even though this may operate to continue or temporarily intensify the existing unemployment.

In a word, everybody must face and adapt themselves to the hard, unpleasant facts of the existing situation. Present problems cannot be solved and difficulties removed solely by Governmental action, the extension of credits, or any other external agency or aciton. These may help, but at best, they are only temporary palliatives. Each individual must, in the final analysis, face his own problem, decide upon his own line of operations this Spring, work out the basic needs essential to his own salvation.

This article is not a preachment at farmers; it is not an attempt to advise farmers, for if there is one individual for whom the writer has a contempt it is the arm-chair critic, the arm-chair farmer. The existing situation, as the writer sees it, is that each and every man must exercise his own best judgement in the light of his own particular circumstances, and proceed with all the ability and energy of which he is capable to work out the solution of his own problems, and thereby make his contribution towards finding a solution for the problems of all others and the country as a whole.

Mrs. Wm. Diotte, Glensandfield, Ont., writes:—"For a long period I suffered from heart trouble, and became very weak and run down. I tried various remedies, but they did me no good. One day I met a friend and told her of my trouble. She said she had had heart trouble for two years too, but after using Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills for a short time she had been relieved of her trouble, so I got two boxes and after taking them I was again feeling fine, and always recommend H. & N. The Value Of Carbon

No Form Of Life Can Exist Without This Atom

The most wonderful substance in the world is carbon. Soot, lamp black, and pencil leads are all forms of carbon—and so is the diamond. The carbon atom possesses one remarkable quality. It enables other atoms to combine into huge groups or families from which all kinds of substances are made. By themselves, the atoms oxygen, hydrogen, and nitrogen can produce nothing very startling, but add carbon and their combinations become amazing, giving rise to such substances as petrol, oil, medicines, bread, and meat. If it were not for carbon, life could never have existed upon this or any other world. All kinds of living things—fish, flesh, fruit, and fowl—owe their existence to the carbon atom. No one knows why this should be so, for the carbon atom differs from others only in having one electron more or less than they. But it is quite certain that it is the foundation-stone of all life.

German Invents New Mirror

A non-breakable mirror of wood has been invented by a German scientist. The wood is soaked in a caustic alkali after which it is put through a process of immersion into metals and chemicals. The wood then is dried and rubbed with a smooth piece of lead, tin or zinc, until it is brilliantly polished.

Growth Of Canadian Newspapers

The first issue of the Halifax Gazette, Canada's first newspaper, was printed on a half sheet of foolscap. Some of the Saturday and weekly editions of present-day Canadian newspapers require 60 to 100 pages, 8 columns wide and 28 inches deep, in which to give the desired information to the people.

Making Business Hum

A London, England, department store gave out $2,500,000 worth of orders to wholesale houses in one day. It then published big ads in the newspapers inviting the public to come and buy the lot up in one week. That's the way to make trade hum.

Excellent For Croupy Children. — When a child is suffering with croup it is a good plan to use Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. It reduces the inflammation and loosens the phlegm, giving speedy relief to the little sufferer. It is equally reliable for sore throat and chest, earache, rheumatic pains, cuts, bruises and sprains. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil is regarded by many thousands as an indispensable of the family medicine chest.

Canada's Highways

The total highway mileage of all classes of road open for traffic in the Dominion of Canada at the end of 1929 (latest official figures), amounted to 390,060, which was an increase of 8,083 miles during the year.

The safety-pin is said to have been used by the Romans and early Egyptians, and differed little from those in use today.

Escaped From Russian Prison

English Engineer Under Care Of British Embassy At Warsaw

M. Thompson, an English engineer, has been taken care of by the British Embassy at Warsaw, Poland, following his escape from Russia. The man was found hanging under a car when the Moscow-Warsaw express reached Warsaw. He said that he had been working in a Russian factory and had been arrested by the O.G.P.U., the Russian secret police, and taken to a prison in Tomsk. He escaped and reached Warsaw by walking and by beating his way under trains.

Samuel—Look out for that traffic light! Be careful now! Don't hit that truck! Why don't you watch where you're going! Will you never learn? And a lot more like that.

White Hunters Protest

The Indians' right to trap beaver is contested by the white hunters of Fort Smith, in the northern part of Alberta. At a protest meeting, held recently, a number of the white trappers declared it was unfair to deny the white man the privilege of trapping the beaver, while Indians and half-breeds were allowed 15 beaver each season.

SENATE HEARS ABOUT RELIEF WORK PROGRAM

Ottawa, Ont.—"I believe Canada should profit by the errors made by other countries," Hon. Gideon D. Robertson, Minister of Labor, told the senate in a reference to Great Britain's unemployed insurance scheme.

Along with many other people, both in Canada and Great Britain, Senator Robertson had been pleased when the scheme first was put in operation, he said. It soon was evident, however, that it was becoming a burden on the country as a whole and had not removed the basic causes of widespread unemployment. Canada, he suggested, might profit by the experiment.

As head of the department that administered the Dominion's share in the joint unemployment relief scheme with the provinces and the municipalities, Senator Robertson said he had received complete co-operation from all sides.

The scheme had resulted in $69,000,000 being subscribed by the Dominion, the provinces, municipalities and the two large railway companies, to provide work and relief.

"The situation has been substantially improved," the minister of labor declared. Not only had the government provided $20,000,000 toward creating employment opportunities, but it had raised the tariff to stimulate Canadian industry and had curtailed immigration to the country.

"I am convinced," Senator Robertson proceeded, "that if parliament had not met in September, and had not taken those steps to relieve distress, there would have arisen in Canada a condition very difficult to control. It is the desire of this government to give attention to a permanent solution. No one expected unemployment to be ended in a day or a week, but this government is doing all within its power to relieve conditions."

Hon. Robert Forke suggested the incorporation of a scheme whereby farmers' debts in Western Canada would be amortized over a 10-year period. In his 49 years' residence in the west, he had never seen conditions so acute and he believed something would have to be done to relieve the financial burdens of the farmers if they were to continue producing. For the first time, Mr. Forke had seen indications in the west of a lack of confidence in the future.

Senator Forke believed too much money had been loaned by the banks at too high a rate of interest and that mortgage companies were threatened with a loss of part of their equity in lands. A 10-year amortization scheme might be the means of solving this angle of the west's predicament.

Wheat growing was the only possible crop in some portions of the west, the former minister of immigration proceeded. He asked if times were hard in 1930, with wheat at an average price of 92 cents a bushel, what would they be in 1931 with 60-cent wheat? Senator Forke believed in the small-unit farm with diversified production, but he did not think this would materialize to any extent for some years.

Secession sentiment was not increasing in popularity in the west, Senator Forke declared. Expressions made in the past few months would not be taken seriously by other parts of the country, he said, but at the same time they could not be dismissed without consideration because they emanated from distress and discontent.

No Cattle For Export

If Canadians Consume Same Amount Of Meat As Last Year

Winnipeg, Man.—Canada will have no exportable surplus of cattle this year if Canadians consume the same amount of meat as last year, declared Roderick MacLeay, rancher of High River, Alberta. Mr. MacLeay arrived from Ottawa, where he conferred with Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture.

In Ottawa Mr. MacLeay, with George Ross, of Lethbridge, Alberta, represented the recently-formed council of Western Beef Producers at a conference with the Minister of Agriculture regarding cattle export situation.

Mr. MacLeay emphasized that the Canadian cattle industry was on a "decidedly home consumption basis." He deprecates reports of a "glut" on the export market for Canadian cattle." He pointed out that on January 1, 1931, there were 11,546,000 pounds of dressed beef in cold storage in the Dominion, as compared with 23,000,000 on the same date last year. The five-year average, he added, was 22,570,207 pounds.

No Expansion Of Air Service Expected

Appropriation Compared With Former Years Likely To Hold Their Own

Ottawa, Ont.—No expansion in the air services of Canada is contemplated for the present year and it will likely be found, when the air estimates are tabled, that appropriations for this purpose will do little more than hold their own in comparison with former years, it was stated here.

Steady increase in the air vote has been an annual feature for several years past. Rigid economy is now demanded of those who direct Canada's air operations, however, and no appropriation will be set aside for expansion of existing services.

At the same time it is not contemplated that any reduction of the existing duties performed by the Royal Canadian Air Force will ensue, or that the present air-mail services will be curtailed.

2. That judges should address the jury on questions of law only and not on fact.

3. That in Quebec province, presiding judge at such trials shall be a judge of the court of sessions of the peace.

Ottawa, Ont.—The two railway presidents, E. W. Wesley Gordon, Minister of Mines and Immigration.

The minister announced that the facts as submitted by the fuel representatives would be closely studied by the fuel board and himself and as far as feasible their request for the use of Nova Scotia coal farther west than the railways are now consuming it would be followed.

Former Manitoba Member Dead

Fred J. Dixon Resigned From Legislature In 1923

Winnipeg, Man.—Fred J. Dixon, 50, former member of the Manitoba legislature and for many years prominent in Labor affairs throughout the Dominion, died March 18, at his home here.

Mr. Dixon, who had been in ill-health for many years, resigned from the legislature in 1923. He was first elected in 1914 as a Liberal, but later became a representative of Labor, sitting as a member for Winnipeg.

Canadian Doctor Faces Death As Result Of Experiments

London, Ont.—Dr. Wray Lloyd, graduate of University of Western Ontario, and one of the most promising of the young scientists working under the wing of the Rockefeller Institute, is facing death for the second time as a result of experiments.

Dr. Lloyd contracted yellow fever from monkeys with which he was working in his New York laboratory.

His condition is not regarded as critical, but doctors point out that the tropical disease is always dangerous.

In 1928, while studying the heart at the University of Western Ontario Medical school, Dr. Lloyd created quite a sensation when he announced that by using calcium chloride as a stimulant he had caused hearts taken from dead rabbits to resume beating.

Desiring to find out the effect of the drug on the human heart, Dr. Lloyd had his assistant inject a small quantity into his arm. The young doctor became suddenly unconscious and death was close before he revived.

Winnipeg, Man. — The Canadian National Railways radio system has been officially authorized to broadcast, over a coast-to-coast network, the arrival of the Earl of Bessborough, governor-general designate, and his welcome to Canada by the prime minister. The new governor-general and his family will reach Halifax, Saturday, April 4, at 7 a.m., M.S.T. The addresses of welcome and Lord Bessborough's first speech in the Dominion will be carried on a chain that will stretch as far west as Vancouver, according to E. A. Weir, director of radio for the Canadian National system.

Duty On Fuel Oil

Ottawa, Ont.—An adequate duty on foreign fuel oil competing in the fuel market of British Columbia, was asked by a deputation from Vancouver Island, which waited on Premier R. B. Bennett. The prime minister gave a very sympathetic hearing to the representations of the delegation and promised the matter would receive full consideration by his government before the close of the session.

Cities Linked by Air

Inauguration of air service between Saint John and Halifax, February 28, when a Fairchild 'plane, of the Canadian Airways, left the former city for the Nova Scotia capital, marked the further extension of air travel in the Maritimes. In the cut Walter Bate, Saint John superintendent, Canadian Airways, is handing the pilot of the 'plane, Captain W. H. Irvine, a package of silk goods consigned by Canadian Pacific Express to a Halifax retail store. The trip was made in an hour and a half, a distance as the crow or an airplane flies, of about 125 miles.

U. S. ADHERES TO ITS POLICY OF ALOOFNESS

London, England.—United States policy of aloofness from purely European armament problems has been adhered to in a decision made public at the conclusion of two days of conversations between Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, British foreign minister; Rt. Hon. A. V. Alexander, first Lord of Admiralty; U. S. Senator Dwight W. Morrow, and Ambassador Charles G. Dawes.

It was declared that the United States would not participate in any way in the drafting of the new Anglo-French-Italian naval agreement at the foreign office. While the United States will not participate in framing of the pact, official U.S. opinion, echoed here, was that the tripartite agreement is an important and successful move toward settlement of European armament problems.

The only concern of the United States, it was said, is in regard to the world naval situation and the relation of the new accord to such existing naval agreements as the Washington Treaty and the Pact of London.

It was learned on high authority that U.S. experts on disarmament view the tripartite agreement as supplementing the London treaty of 1930 without conflicting with that pact or calling for any changes in it. It is now believed the Japanese government will also decide not to be represented.

Washington, D.C. — Secretary of State Stimson received assurances from Ambassador Charles G. Dawes, in London, England, that satisfactory progress was being made in Europe toward completing the Franco-Italian naval accord. The secretary said it appeared that U.S. participation on a committee to draft the Franco-Italian settlement would be necessary.

It was considered possible that the final draft might necessitate only the signatures of France and Italy. The question of British signatures is still one for determination.

To Employ Local Men

Manitoba Workers To Be Used On Construction Work At Churchill

Winnipeg, Man.—Labor's request that only Manitoba workers be employed in construction operations at Fort Churchill, Manitoba's northern seaport, will be acceded to as far as possible by the Dominion Government.

The Winnipeg Labor Council recently requested the government to employ only Manitoba labor at Fort Churchill and apply the Manitoba fair wage schedule.

Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways, informed the council that Manitoba "certainly will get a large proportion of the work." He added, however, that it was not possible "to give it all to one province as some men have to be hired from elsewhere because of special qualifications."

Ready For Delivery

Ottawa, Ont.—Delivery of the first of Canada's new destroyers, H.M.C.S. "Saguenay," will be made to this country on or about April 1. A number of tests have still to be made but it is expected that a Canadian crew will be put on board the warship around that date and will formally pass into the hands of the naval service of this court.

Just prior to his leaving for England, Rev. A. Garlick was suitably remembered by members and adherents of the local congregation, who presented him with a gentleman's dressing case. The presentation was informal and was made by the wardens and members of the vestry a few days before his departure.

To-night's attraction is the juvenile entertainment at Trinity United Church where the Chinese play "The Stolen Prince," is being presented, by a well trained company under the direction of Mrs. J. Miss Patsy Richards, who has had charge of the Full Gospel Mission since its opening almost two years ago, has been forced to give up the work, and returned to her home in Victoria on Monday. During her stay she was highly successful in attracting quite large audiences and was equally successful in the Sunday School and young people's work.

L. A. Campbell of Rossland, vice-president and manager for West Kootenay Power & Lignt Company, Limited, was a business visitor here on Thursday last, looking over the survey operations at Goat River canyon. On completion of the survey final plans for the development will be prepared and it is expected construction will commence just as quickly as high water in the river will permit.

Rev. A. Garlick, who has been in charge of Christ Church, Creston, for the past three years, and who resigned his pastoral charge some time ago, left at the end of the week on a visit to England, where he will remain for the present, at least. In addition to the esteem in which he was held by the Anglicans he was equally respected by other denominations and citizens generally, who regret his withdrawal from church work in Creston.

The special evangelistic services at the Full Gospel Tabernacle on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings are continuing to draw large audiences. The oldtime gospel is preached and the old time hymns are sung. Sunday evening saw a large gathering. Miss Richards gave a farewell message, and Evangelist Rita Elliott spoke on the "Wayside of Life," bringing to her hearers the interest of the Christ in the individual. The soloists of the evening were Miss Williams and W. J. Truscott.
