Trustees Discuss New High School

Four-Room, Three-Teacher Institution Proposed — Annual Charge is $7000.00 for Building and All Operating Expenses.

Facts and figures and all the other necessary information in connection with a consolidated high school to serve all the school districts in Creston Valley were presented and pretty thoroughly discussed at a meeting called for that purpose at Creston school on Tuesday night last, at which Inspector Manning was present, and a representative lot of trustees on hand from Huscroft, Lister, Canyon, Erickson, Alice Siding, Wynndel, Sirdar and Creston schools, with Geo Nickel occupying the chair.

Inspector Manning was first called upon to state the departmental regulations regarding constituting and operating a consolidated high school. He quoted from the School Act to show that in 1931 the law was changed so that on application from two or more school districts a high school area may be formed, if the Council of Public Instruction deems it wise, without consulting the ratepayers in the districts effected.

The amended act provides that the trustees of such a high school area figure out what the yearly cost with be and each district must vote its quota, based on the assessment of each particular district, and the ratepayers have no say whatever in determining whether the amount asked for is too high or t o low.

Each district going into a high school area will from its board of elected public school trustees name a trustee to serve on the high school board, and every high school trustee will serve for one year only. The high school money is to be voted at the annual ratepayers meeting in July for public school purposes.

Trustees Cook and Nickel made it quite clear to the visiting trustees that for the next term Creston will not have room for any outside pupils. This is largely due the fact that regulations become effective this year that spread the former three-year high school course over four years, so there will be no pupils leaving school due to promotion, and with an expected heavy graduation from Grade 8 to be taken care of the local high school attendance is sure to be about all the present staff can handle.

At this meeting, too, announcement was made that in future parents residing outside Creston school district will have to pay either a tuition fee of $50 per pupil or $50 in school taxes. In the past some parents have evaded this by purchasing a town lot costing a couple of hundred dollars or less, and yielding less than $5 in school taxes, but those days of evasion are gone forever.

With what assessment figures were available it was assumed all school districts in the Valley combined have a a total assessment of around $1,750,000, and in order to erect the proposed 4-room high school and paying running expenses, including two busses to bring in students, the yearly cost would be no less than $7000. This amount would be raised on in the usual way and each district would pay identically the same mill rate.

Erickson trustees were the only ones present that showed concern about the high school situation. The others all appeared to think the consolidated high school would be beneficial but refused to show much feeling until such time as they discussed it with their ratepayers.

Track Meet Finances

The financial statement in connection with the Valley Schools' Track Meet on May 16th has just been issued, and shows the affair to have cleared a little over $10, after paying all expenses to date, including the expenses of four athletes who compoted in the Kootenay-Boundary championships at Nelson a week later.

Total receipts were $157.85, made up as follows: Donations from school boards, Sirdar $5, Canyon City $10, Lister $5, Huscroft $10, Erickson $10, Alice Siding $5, Wynndel $10, Creston $25; Legion $10, High School Athletic Association $5, Women's Institute $5, Lister Trading & Supply Company, Limited, $10; Lister-Huscroft Farmers' Institute $5; Teachers Association $14; Admissions and sale of programmes $28.85. The Masonic and Knights of Pythias Lodges donated cups.

The expenditures were $147, made up as follows: Medals cups, $81.25; Baseball and liniment, $3; Pegs and crossbars, $3.50; Binder twine for track, $1.35; Printing, $8; paint and brush, $1.05; Ribbon, tape, pins, blank cartridges, $4.75; stamps, stationery, etc., $2.50; expenses of students to track meet at Nelson, $42.

Out of this surplus will have to come sufficient to pay for the engraving of the cups. Everyone interested is asked to be at the fall fair building on Saturd y afternoon, June 6th, at 3 o'clock, for the presentationof the cups, medals, etc.

June Wedding at Canyon Church

Miss Emma Samuelson and Mr. Grover Kifer are Contracting Parties — Motor Honeymoon Trip — Live at Canal Flats.

Canyon United Church was the scene of a pretty June wedding on Wednesday afternoon, when Miss Emma Christine, eldest daughter of Mr. and the late Mrs. Aron G. She carried a boquet of pink rosebuds and maiden hair ferns. The bride was attended by Miss Nissie McRobb, who wore mauve flat crepe with picture hat to match, and carried a boquet of sweet peas and ferns. The groom was supported by Otto Johnson. After the ceremony the invited guests motored to the home of the bri e's father, where the reception was held About 40 guests sat down to a buffet supper which was served on small tables on the lawn. The bride's table was centered by a three-tier wedding cake, prettily decorated in the bridal colors.

The groom's gift to the bride was a white gold brooch with two small pearls and sapphire setting. To the bridesmaid he gave an amethyst pendant, and to the best man a pair of gold cuff links. The usher, W. H. Kolthammer, was remembered with a cigarette case. The bride's gift to the groom was a signet ring.

Dokkies Initiate Big Class Tyros

Degree Tean and Officers from El Maharraz Temple, Spokane, in Charge — 40 Candidates — 130 Sit Down to Banquet at Close.

Members and prospective members of the Dramatic Order of the Knights of Khorassan, better known as the "Dokkies," had the right of way in the business section during the early hours of Saturday evening, on the occa ion of their ceremonial, when tyros to the number of about 40—two dozen of whom were from Creston—were received into the order in due and ancient form.

Proceedings started on Canyon street at Barton Avenue about 7 o'clock. After the initiates had been branded they were rounded up for a roped-in parade along Canyon street, and after this inspection the Patrol from El Maharraz Temple, N . 92, Spokane, in gorgeous Arab attire of gold and purple had a march out along the same thoroughfare and retired to the monument where Patrol Commander Geo. Drewer put them through a fifteen minute session of drill movements that were executed faultlessly and given very hearty applause by the large crowd of spectators.

Shortly after eight votaries to the number of at least a hundred, and hailing from Blairmore, Alberta; Michel, Kimberley, Cranbrook, Bonners Ferry, Coeur d'Alene, Sandpoint and Spokane, assembled in the Grand theatre ballroom, where the Eighth Order was conferred in very realistic fashion by El Maharraz degree team under the direction of Mr. Drewer. Then came the ritualistic work by the officers of the temple in charge of Royal Vizer Henry Swaboda, who showed unusual proficiency.

The concluding feature of the ceremonial was the banquet in the former Creston Meat Market building, the serving of which was handled by the Pythian Sisters, and at which 130 Dokkies were seated and expeditiously served with a handsome spread of good things to eat. Dué to the late hour at which the degree work was completed at the ballroom speechmaking had to be omitted from the banquet agenda.

On Sunday morning a baseball team selected from the Dokkies attending from south of the line played a friendly game with the Creston team at which Creston was winner by a score of 15 to 3.

Amongst the tyros who were here for initiation were two from Blairmore and Michel, three from Bonners Ferry and one from Sandpoint, and amongst those assisting with the work were Gus Messe, a past Imperial Prince.

Canada's Railway Milestones

Fifty years ago, on May 2, 1881, to be exact, the first sod for the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway was turned, thus commencing one of the great engineering undertakings in the world's history and marking the beginning of the world's greatest transportation system. Enthusiasm for and confidence in this great work was mingled with grave doubts and misgivings, and especially in financial circles in the old world were grey heads shaken in doubt over the wisdom of a young country of small population and no accumulated wealth embarking on such a gigantic enterprise.

The contract for the building of the C.P.R. called for the completion of the project in ten years. It is a matter of history that the last spike of the original main line was driven on November 7, 1885. In other words, construction was completed in four and a half years, and on June 28, 1886, the first C.P.R. train to the Pacific coast left Montreal, arriving at Port Moodie, B.C., five and one-half days later.

The building of the C.P.R. was in fact the building of Canada. Without it Confederation could not have been achieved nor continued. It is the steel link which bound all of British North America together. The successful carrying through of this huge undertaking not only gave the people of Canada courage, but it established confidence in the new Dominion throughout the world. It was a visible object lesson, an ever present encouragement to the Canadian people in dark days and in undertaking other great enterprises.

With the completion of the C.P.R. possibly many people of that day thought that Canada's transportation problems were solved. Yet within fifteen years of the driving of that last C.P.R. main line spike, Messrs. Mackenzie and Mann were engaged in building a second transcontinental railway across Canada, and within the brief space of another ten years a third transcontinental was under construction from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Looking back over the years, and in the light of experience, Canada probably overdid the building of transcontinental main lines, but at the time these works appeared to be necessary and essential to the national well-being and development. Possibly, too, had the Great War not plunged the world into confusion and years of wholesale destruction, the story of Canada's railways would be different. However, to speculate on this is idle. The fact remains that, with that same courage which promoted and successfully carried through the C.P.R., the people of Canada faced and grappled with the problem which confronted them when war broke and the Canadian Northern, Grand Trunk Pacific, National Transcontinental and the old Grand Trunk were plunged into financial difficulties.

Turning back another page in history, we find that it was only eleven years ago, May 26, 1920, that responsibility for the operation of the Grand Trunk passed to the Government of Canada. Thus several main line systems and a conglomeration of badly co-ordinated branch lines, with a top-heavy financial structure, were left on the hands of the Government. Within a decade these have been amalgamated into a mighty and highly efficient transportation machine, with the largest mileage of any railway under one management in the world. An operating deficit of $32,000,000 in 1920 was transformed into an operating surplus of $20,884,000 in 1930, and this wonderful achievement is but symptomatic of improvements and advances made in every department of service, until today the Canadian National Railways are a source of pride to every Canadian.

In a previous article it was stated that the people of Canada are an impatient people; that they demand results almost over night; that they insist on having all those services and conveniences which the people of other lands have devoted centuries to creating and developing. And it is true, but possibly what Canadians have accomplished in the life of one or two generations is responsible for this national trait; perhaps their accomplishments are the result of this impatience. Nevertheless, such a national characteristic has its dangers. With all the advantages of our great transportation systems, we are of necessity paying heavily for past mistakes, —mistakes attributable to our impatience.

And the real danger lies in the fact that we do not appear to have learned the lesson, costly as it has been. We are still vehemently demanding other things which, in our own best interests, it would be wise to defer for a time until we get our feet a bit more solidly on the ground, and secure for ourselves a stronger position where we can the better stand the strain which these additional and admittedly desirable things will impose upon us as a people.

Nerves Were All Gone

Miss Rose Griffin, Ashern, Man., writes: — "About five years ago I was troubled with palpitation of the heart, caused by a shock, and my nerves were all gone, and I could not sleep. I read about Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and decided to try them. After I had taken three boxes I was feeling fine again. I think they are a wonderful remedy, and wish all others who suffered as I did would give them a trial."

Calgary Exhibition

Poultry Association Endeavoring To Have An Interesting Exhibit

Entry forms to prospective exhibitors in the poultry classes at the Calgary Exhibition and Stampede, to be held July 6 to 11, are being sent out by the exhibition board. Entries close on June 20. A covering letter from Dr. D. S. Macnab, president of the Calgary Poultry Association, urged that some entries be made by all breeders, even though only one or two birds. "Shows and exhibitions are necessary if we are to continue to breed birds true to type," he says. "The value of the opportunity of placing your birds alongside those of other breeders of the variety and comparing them far outweighs the value of any money prizes you may be awarded—welcome as those undoubtedly are."

Japanese Going Into Poultry

Five Thousand Eggs From B.C. Shipped To Japan In One Week

Five thousand British Columbia eggs were shipped in one week to Japan. Japanese experts visited British Columbia poultry farms and selected, almost to an egg, the hatching stock they required. Then they went to the Record of Performance officials, Winch Building, Vancouver, and placed large orders. These eggs sold at prices ranging from $5 for each egg to $10, $20 and $30 a dozen. T. J. Smith of the R.O.P. organization, Vancouver, says that the Japanese, formerly buyers of B.C. hens and cockerels, are now getting well into the poultry business and are learning scientific hatchery management. "They are using British Columbia stock for the foundation of their poultry industry," Mr. Smith said.

Religious sculptures nearly 4,000 years old have been brought to London, England, by C. Leonard Woolley, who just returned from Ur of the Chaldees. There are important inscriptions and tablets which throw new light on the history and religion of people who lived at the time of Abraham, about 2000 B.C.

Crime In United States

Statistics Show Homicides Doubled In Past 30 Years

Statisticians have completed their annual study of homicide in the United States, and have produced figures that should appall proportionately with the effect of the compilation of a year ago. These researchers have collected data from thirty-one cities with a collective population of twenty-five million people.

In a generation — thirty years — the average homicide rate for these thirty-one cities has doubled. And in one year the rate has gone up from 8.5 to the hundred thousand population in 1929, to 10.9 in 1930.

There were seventeen times as many homicides to the 100,000 as in England and Wales.

Then the statisticians add one significant statement; The number of convictions in murder cases in the United States is decreasing steadily. The number of murders is rapidly increasing throughout the country. — Minneapolis Journal.

SOVIET POLICY OF GOVERNMENT MEETS CRITICISM

Ottawa, Ont.—A protest against the action of the Dominion Government in banning imports of coal, pulpwood, furs and other commodities from Russia by order-in-council, was voiced in the House of Commons by Henri Bourassa, Independent member for Labelle. He failed to see where the government had secured a mandate to take such action. If there was to be a protest against conditions in Russia, such protest should have been made by the parliament of Canada.

Mr. Bourassa found some inconsistency in the attitude of the Government toward Russia. Our sense of social order and justice stood "aghast" at the idea of purchasing coal and pulpwood from Russia, but why had the Soviets been invited to attend the London conference of wheat-exporting countries, presided over by Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Canadian High Commissioner to Great Britain. He presented a motion that "the House regards the growing practice of deciding by order-in-council important matters of public policy, as an encroachment upon the duties and privileges of parliament and a violation of the principle of responsible government."

The Russian situation was excellent to use as an example because in the last ten years every step in diplomatic and trade relations between Canada and Russia had been taken by order-in-council, he said.

Mr. Bourassa wondered if private interests were not an influence in the banning of Russian products. Senator Webster, he said, had a monopoly of the sale of Welsh coal in this country, and Sir Herbert Holt, with the International Paper Company, monopolized the pulpwood situation.

If Canada was not going to trade with Russia on religious grounds because that country was atheistic, was this country going to stop trading with the United States where capitalistic and materialistic beliefs ruled?

Enlargement Of Investigation Is Urged In Senate

Ottawa, Ont.—Enlargement of the Quebec-St. Pierre-Miquelon rum ring probe to include the Maritime provinces was suggested in the Senate by Senator J. J. Hughes. He was informed, he said, the government intended passing an order-in-council within a short time, fixing the powers and scope of the investigation.

Short-circuiting of liquor cargoes from the islands of St. Pierre and Miquelon to isolated spots in Quebec was charged against the rum ring, Senator Hughes declared. The Federal Treasury, he was convinced, had been mulcted out of millions of dollars in excise duties, but he did not believe the activities of the ring were limited to Quebec province.

Faster Freight Service

C.N.R. Carries Short-Haul Package Freight In Baggage Cars

Winnipeg, Man.—Faster and more frequent delivery of package freight to short-haul points along certain lines of the Canadian National is stated by Vice-President A. E. Warren to be the object of an experiment which is now in effect in the Winnipeg region. The experiment is the carrying of less-than-carload lots by baggage car of the regular run of passenger trains. The new service went into effect May 22, between Winnipeg, Belmont, Brandon and Virden, and a similar baggage freight service has been established between Saskatoon and Edmonton by way of North Battleford, and between Calgary and Edmonton, by way of Mirror.

Cattle Shipments To Britain

First Of Several Weekly Shipments From Saskatchewan

Saskatoon, Sask.—One hundred head of Saskatchewan cattle went forward to the British markets recently, 30 of which were taken from a feed lot within half a mile of Saskatoon. This is the first of several weekly shipments that will be made by the Saskatchewan Co-Operative Livestock Producers Limited.

The cattle were taken from the J. H. Langham farm situated one and a half miles out on Avenue "B" North, and were purchased by Mr. Langham under the government feeder scheme.

They were Hereford steers and averaged between 11 and 12 hundred pounds.

Protection Of Copyright

Winnipeg, Man.—Authors who wish complete protection of Canadian copyright for their stories must register them at Ottawa, or indicate in the articles that they are "copyright," according to judgment of Mr. Justice Donovan. Otherwise, if a newspaper had no reasonable grounds for suspecting that "copyright subsisted in the work," it was entitled to publish it.

Meeting For Farm Women

Saskatoon, Sask.—Women members of the farming population of Saskatchewan will gather at Saskatoon during the second week in June. At the farm women's university week, June 9 to 12, subjects of interest and importance to women on the land will be discussed in detail. The attendance is expected to be large.

Remembrance Day

Bill Passed To Fix Permanently November 11 As the Date

Ottawa, Ont.—After a prolonged discussion, a senate committee passed the bill to fix permanently the celebration of "Remembrance Day" upon November 11. It would separate the observance of "Thanksgiving Day" and "Armistice Day," fixing the latter upon November 11, and leaving the former to be proclaimed upon any day chosen by the Dominion cabinet. The bill will go back to the senate for final consideration.

During the committee discussion, some criticism was made of the plan of having two distinct holidays.

On behalf of the various veterans' associations, J. R. Bowler, general secretary of the Canadian Legion, pressed for separate celebrations of "Thanksgiving Day" and "Remembance Day."

Loss Of Russian Submarine

Craft Goes Down After Explosion With All Hands On Board

London, England.—Russian aeroplanes and warships circled above the spot where Soviet submarine No. 9 of the Baltic fleet sank, Friday, May 22, 1931, in a pool of oil.

Although the Soviet Government remains silent on the tragedy, despatches from Riga, Latvia, said it was understood the craft went down after an explosion presumably with all hands, about 100 miles from Helsingfors, Finland.

Moscow despatches said the submersible failed to rise after making a dive during manoeuvres with other vessels of the fleet.

The number of the crew or the extent of the casualties was unknown.

Russia is believed to maintain a fleet of about eight submarines, 12 destroyers and three battleships in Baltic waters.

Swedish Flier Promoted

Stockholm, Sweden.—Captain Albin Ahrenberg, Swedish flier who participated in the removal of Augustine Courtauld, British meteorologist, from the Greenland ice plateau, has been promoted to the rank of a captain in the navy in recognition of his feat. His direct rise from a non-commissioned officer was considered an unprecedented distinction in Sweden.

Canadians Lose Credit

Contributions To Cultural and Economic Development Frequently Ignored

Ottawa, Ont.—Canadian contributions to the cultural, social and economic development of North America are often ignored, Professor J. Bartlett Brebner, head of the Canadian History Department of Columbia University, New York, told the Canadian Historical Association here.

"Canadian inventors, scientists, artists and professional men have naturally carried their ideas to the largest North American markets, and, once there, no one has been concerned to separate their contributions from the general pattern of living."

Gold Seekers Are Busy

Many Claims Staked Along Sheep Creek At Okotoks, Alberta

Okotoks, Alberta. — Search for placer gold has gripped this oil town during the holiday week-end, and many claims have been staked along Sheep Creek, within a stone's throw of the town boundaries. One report said a fair-sized nugget had been found.

Operations have been carried on by the handful of prospectors at a rapid pace and with the creek being quite shallow much of the bed is being explored.

Whether the search is bringing paying returns has not been ascertained.

Wins Story Contest

Ontario Boy Is Winner Of $5,000 Prize Offered By Chicago Publication

Espanola, Ont.—Albert Leblanc, who lives near here, is the winner of the $5,000 prize story contest of a magazine published in Chicago. This is the second story Mr. Leblanc has sold. The first he wrote three years ago, when he was only 16, for which he was awarded a prize of $1,500.

The young prize-winner is working on road work as a teamster. The prize-winning story, entitled "Lonely Boy," is based on experiences in his own life while a taxi driver in Sudbury for seven months last year.

No Cause For Damage Claim

United States Claims "I'm Alone" Was American-Owned

New York.—A special despatch to the New York Times from Washington says:

"The demand of Canada for damages for the sinking by the coast-guard of the rum-running schooner, "I'm Alone," 200 miles off the Louisiana coast on March 22, 1929, will be met by the United States with the contention that the vessel was in reality American-owned and that no no just cause lies for a damage claim.

Would Not Bear Arms

Oakland, California.—In line with a decision of the United States Supreme Court denying citizenship to applicants refusing to take oath to bear arms for the country in time of war, Superior Judge Fred V. Wood postponed granting final papers to Miss Minnie E. Dauphinee, of Oakland. Miss Dauphinee, who came from Canada, said she would nurse during a war but would never take human life.

DAIRY GRANT UP FOR DEBATE IN COMMONS

Ottawa, Ont.—In a brief but somewhat heated discussion of agriculture department estimates, in the House of Commons, low butter prices bulked large. An appropriation of $295,000 for dairying, of which $5,000 is for a grant to the National Dairy Council, furnished the basis for the discussion. Almost at the outset came a motion to cut down the total amount by $5,000. E. J. Young, Liberal member for Weyburn, who moved the reduction, asserted that the council had become an organization to "propagate Tory policies," and that through unfortunate choice in its officers had produced nothing better than recommendations for higher duties on agricultural products.

The grant had been voted for several years, rejoined Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture. If he discovered at the end of the present financial year that the National Dairy Council had done nothing to earn it, he would be willing to see it dropped from next year's estimates.

Regret at the decline in butter prices was voiced by Mr. Weir. He spoke of an agreement which he had made with Hon. Parker Moloney, Australian Minister of Markets, that no butter should enter Canada from that country at less than 32 cents a pound "except by mutual agreement" if entry at a lower price would injure Canadian farmers. Subsequently, the minister said, price cutting among Canadian organizations had materially reduced the price until it was thought that "rock bottom" had been reached. He had then released Mr. Moloney from the agreement.

Complaints were voiced by Liberal members that the Conservatives, during the last campaign, had declared that butter prices would rise as soon as Mr. Bennett was returned to power.

If the National Dairy Council did as much for agriculture as it had when he was minister, said Hon. W. R. Motherwell, former minister of agriculture, it would get his support. He asked Mr. Weir if the total figure of $9,929,000 for agricultural estimates included the supplementary estimates of last year. When the minister said it did not, Mr. Motherwell declared the amount to be spent in the coming year was not $400,000 higher, but was actually about $100,000 lower than last year. Mr. Weir agreed that if the supplementary vote were taken into account, that appeared to be correct.

Butter had been a prolific course of discussion during the election, Mr. Motherwell proceeded. The true criterion of the progress of dairying was in milk production. During the 10 years of Liberal government the production of milk had advanced from 10 billion pounds to 14 billion pounds, an increase of 40 per cent.

Twister Wrecks Train

Tornado Lifts Twelve Steel Coaches From Track Near Fargo

Fargo, N.D.—A tornado wrecked the Great Northern's passenger train, "Empire Builder," about eight miles southeast of here, killing one person and injuring a number of others. The twister lifted the train from the tracks.

Twelve steel coaches comprising the train were turned over on their sides. The engine and tender alone remained on the track. The man killed was believed to have been a section worker. He was pitched through a window as the coaches were blown from the rails.

PRINCIPALS IN BEAUHARNOIS DISCUSSION

A 7,500-mile business journey by telephone

Voices travelled some 7,500 miles, by way of New York, London and Paris, in the course of recent business negotiations by telephone between Vancouver and Berlin, Germany.

Several cablegrams had been exchanged without an understanding being reached, so the Vancouver business man involved suggested that a member of the German firm call him by trans-Atlantic telephone.

The call was put through, and the business matter was disposed of, after a brief exchange of words.

CRESTON, B.C., FRIDAY, JUNE 5

The Next Move

Creston board of trade accomplished something when it got the endorsation of the Associated Boards of Trade to a resolution requesting the Dominion inland revenue department to decline to open a sub customs office two miles south of Rykerts, where the proposed new link of the North and South Highway in Idaho has been built to meet the new B.C. link being constructed across from a starting point near the Geo. Hurry ranch.

To make their effort one hundred per cent. effective, the local board should see to it that the resolution and endorsation accorded it is immediately wired W. K. Esling, M.P.

The case against providing this unnecessary customs accommodation is strengthened by a letter to hand at the end of the week from H. T. Evans, engineer in charge of northern Idaho highways, which informs that work will commence immediately gravelling the old highway from the new cutoff into Porthill, and that within a few weeks work will commence on a route, already surveyed, that will eliminate the heavy grade on the old road south out of Porthill.

With the gravelling complete travel over the present highway will be all that could be desired, and when the new route is available an autoist will be able to travel on high the entire distance from Creston to Spokane.

Under the circumstances there is no excuse whatsoever of incurring the expense of another official, even for three or four months.

There is no time to lose. A fairly definate report has it that the protested service is to be provided at the end of the month.

Serious Interest Lacking

In connection with the 1931 convention of the Associated Boards of Trade convention, one attending for the first time could not help but come to the conclusion that boards affiliated with the central organization are not giving it the serious attention accorded in former days.

Not so long ago it took two full days to dispose of the busiuess coming before it; this year the order paper was cleared in two leisurely sessions—and at a time when economic conditions both in the province and dominion are demanding attention from just this sort of organization.

Rossland board did not submit a single resolution, while the best Trail could do was to re-submit one that had been passed a year ago, and Nelson's chief concern had to do with date stamping letters and establishing daylight saving—something that has been effective all through East Kootenay even before the Associated Boards came into being.

The Strawberry Duty

In connection with a recent announcement that for this year the dump duty on strawberries has been fixed at twelve cents a pound, the impression is rather general that these berries are to enter Canada at a duty of that amount, or about $2.40, placing the weight of the fruit at 20 pounds per crate.

This, however, is erroneous. What the new order does is to provide that all berries coming into Canada must be invoiced at twelve cents a pound, or $2.40 per crate, on top of which there is the regular duty of two cents, bringing the actual f.o.b. shipping point price up to $2.80, which should be ample to give British Columbia berries the preference in the financial depression all prairie points are experiencing at this time.

It is well that growers should bear this in mind and not be too optimistic as to prospective berry prices, and not overlooking the fact that while American berries may be correctly invoiced, conform to the "dump" and regular duty charges, in these days of secret rebates and expert invoicing, it will still be possible for the Canadian wholesaler to get American berries at less than the arbitarily fixed $2.80 f.o.b. Notwithstanding substantial protection, Friday's Nelson News tells of the prairie market being already flooded with Texas field tomatoes.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JUNE 7

JESUS CRUCIFIED

Golden Text: "He was wounded for our transgressions, He was bruised for our iniquities; the chastisement of our peace was upon Him; and with His stripes we are healed."—Isaiah 53.5.

Lesson: Luke 23.

Devotional Reading: Isaiah 53.7-12.

Explanations and Comments

The Crucifixion, verses 33, 34.—We call the knoll where Jesus was crucified Calvary, from the Latin word "calvaris," a skull. There He was nailed to a cross, and on either side of Him a malefactor was hung to intensify the ignominy of His crucifixion. The four soldiers who crucified Him, after dividing His garments among them (the headdress, the shoes, the outer robe and the girdle was distributed "to every soldier a part," John 19.23, 24), cast lots for the possession of the seamless inner robe. And then they sat and watched Him there (Matthew 27.36), to make sure that He was not rescued. There is a remarkable picture by William Blake, which depicts the three crosses from behind. No form of Christ can be seen. The soldiers are casting the dice for His garments, but they have gone behind the cross to do this. Light emanating from the central cross illuminates the other crosses and the soldiers. Thus the artist has sought to depict the victory of the tragedy.

And sitting down, they watched
Him there,
The soldiers did,
There, while they played with dice,
He made His sacrifice,
And died upon the cross to rid
God's world of sin.
He was a gambler, too, my Christ,
He took His life and threw
It for a world redeemed.
And ere His agony was done.
Before the westering sun went down,
Crowning that day with Crimson
crown,
He knew that He had won.
—G. A. Studdert Kennedy.

"Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do," were the beautiful words of the Saviour spoken not only for the soldiers who had merely obeyed orders, but seemingly also of the Jews who had brought about His crucifixion but had not realized the enormity of their guilt. His prayer exemplifies the spirit which He had tried to inculcate in His followers when He bade them love their enemies, and do good to them that despitefully used them. 'Think of the generous heart of the dying Saviour who could actually try to find an excuse—not merely forgive—not merely pray for—but actually try to find something to say in their favor. There was very little that could be said, but He looked for it and said it. Their prejudices, their upbringing, their ignorance about Him. They did not know what they were doing. If they realized it, they would not do it. Father, forgive!"—J Paterson-Smyth.

The Death, verses 44-46—For three hours there was darkness and the veil of the temple—the curtain between the Holy Place and the Holy of Holies—was torn in two. "The darkened skies were a fit symbol of the blackest crime in all history of man. The rending of the temple veil was a type of the 'new and living way' opened into the presence of God for all believers. Thus these two signs vine aspects of this atoning death, and indicate the heinousness of sin and the purpose of redeeming grace." —Charles R. Erdman.

"Through His life and triumphant death, and through the living energy of the Spirit, we share in the redeeming love which overcomes evil, and find forgiveness, freedom and eternal life."

An authority claims that a goose can live 50 years. Quite a number of humans just begin to realize it at that age.

Advocates Mixed Marriages

Union Of White and Yellow Races To Prevent Race War

Intermixing and marriage between the Japanese and Chinese and white races in British Columbia would not only settle the so-called racial problem, but the resultant race probably would be superior to both the present white and yellow races, in the opinion of Dr. Charles Hill-Tout, noted Vancouver anthropologist, expressed in an interview in Toronto.

In ten generations, if racial and cultural prejudice would be broken down and cross-breeding continued, the characteristics of the new race would be fixed, said Dr. Hill-Tout, who is attending the sessions of the Royal Society of Canada.

Only by intermarriage to the fullest degree could Dr. Hill-Tout see any solution to the possibility of an ultimate race war, with the coloured peoples against the whites. "I think such a conflict is a possibility," he said, "if we don't check up on our air of superiority in dealing with the Asiatic peoples and give India self-government. That seems the only way to me of preventing India from aligning itself with some enemy of Europe.

"All this foolish prejudice of race—just as strong on the part of the Japanese—should be broken down," he continued. Denying emphatically the common belief that a mixture of the races usually retains the vices of both and the virtues of neither, Dr. Hill-Tout said that was simply because, "with our cultural prejudice, the resultant product is forced back into the lower of the two races culturally." It was that way with the half-breeds of Western Canada, he said, who on account of the race pride of the white were forced back to live with the Indians.

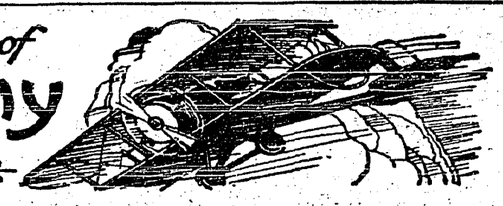
Russia Keeps It Up

Country Steadily Forging Ahead To Reach Its Goal

Russia keeps it up. Her wheat crop is past a billion bushels, away ahead of any other country, and she has now reached her five-year goal in oil production in two and a half years. She has displaced Venezuela as the second largest oil-producing country. The United States is easily first. Elsewhere in this matter is published the statement of the British Secretary for War that Russia's expenditure for war preparation has increased 184 per cent. since 1924, and now Russia has ordered 100 tanks from a British firm. Russia's army is steadily becoming more formidable.

Nearly one-fourth of Poland's 1930 steel production went to Soviet Russia.

The ADVENTURES of CAPTAIN JIMMY and his Dog SCOTTIE



WHAT CAME BEFORE: Captain Jimmy and Scottie become lost in the darkness while flying over the Chinese war zone. On landing, they are captured by Chinese bandits. Captain Jimmy escapes and plans to set free the remainder of his party.

Cautiously I moved toward the camp. The fires had burned to embers and now and then flamed up fitfully. Certainly the outlaws wouldn't be looking for an escaped prisoner prowling around their tents at that hour.

Rolled near the largest of the fires, lay the figure of a man. Carefully I crawled nearer. A small twig broke under my knee, and I stopped, motionless not even breathing for a minute or two.

As I wiggled closer I could make out his features. Sure enough, it was poor old Fu Hsu (Foo Soo) the interpreter. He was cramped and so cold and scared. I held up a finger in warning, and worked myself along to a point where I could cut his bonds with a jack knife.

"All asleep?" I whispered.

He nodded. Quietly we crept away toward the cool spring. The fresh, cold water revived him wonderfully. He drank as though he never intended to stop. Then I questioned him.

"What happened to Scottie? the dog. Bow-wow?"

"Blandit hit him on the head—dog he bite blandit. Tie dog to tree. No idea where doggie."

"And the Colonel?" I asked.

"Colonel, he blandit, now. He cook," whispered the interpreter.

"He'll probably make a better bandit than a Colonel."

Meanwhile, a plan had been forming in my mind. Quietly we picked our way to where the Burros were hitched. We tied a dozen of them together so they would lead in a line. The other burros we cut loose, so it would take time for the bandits to catch them and get on our trail.

Taking the halter of the lead burro, I headed down the valley that led through the cleft in the mountains. Fu brought up the rear with two more burros—their lead rope tied around his waist for fear he might drop it! He was the most hopeless Chinese I ever saw.

Loose stones began rolling, and the burros instead of walking on their tip toes, seemed to stamp along on their heels. You know how loud everything sounds when you want to be quiet, and it certainly seemed as if the noise we were making must wake the whole camp.

Finally we came to the narrow defile. Beyond that notch there was a bit of a plateau. It was here that the bandit guard would be.

The bandits had just risen to their feet at the sound of our burros coming through the pass. Plainly they were puzzled. Had we come riding out into them like a whirlwind, they would have understood, and started firing on us. But here was a string of burros peacefully wending their way into the light of their camp fire.

Leaning forward from the neck of my burro, I pricked the last of the string with my jack-knife. With a shrill cry he jumped against the next one ahead, who in turn rushed the next. In a moment they were in headlong flight.

They scattered right and left among the bandits, and when a burro failed to bowl one over, the rope caught his feet and tripped him. Then, in the midst of the uproar, we dashed out yelling. The rout was complete. We just waited long enough to grab a rifle and went on a mad scramble down the mountain side.

Mile after mile we rode at break-neck pace. Far back up the valley the whole bandit camp were in hot pursuit. When my burro showed signs of slackening speed, I thumped him in the ribs and off he went again amid a shower of dust and loose stones.

Rounding a corner we came suddenly to a railroad track, where five or six decrepit ... freight cars stood, and a rickety old engine. We could hear the hoofs of the outlaws' burros pounding down the valley as we reached the cars. I leaned over and grabbed Fu by the slack of his pants. As I heaved to pull him in, a dark body came hurtling in, caught me amidships, and over we all went in a pile on the floor.

CHAPTER XIX.

During the next week Nick had no time for introspection. The days were crowded with the winding up of his business—the mailing of his report and certain important papers—a letter to John Maxwell, accepting his generous offer to "take more time," and a long and loving explanation to Gay, telling the whole story, and how his decision to come back to her at once had been changed by this unexpected, almost incredible good fortune. He wrote:

Just imagine, dear girl, cruising around these tropic waters in a private yacht! Of course you'd tell me to go! If I weren't so sure of that I wouldn't consider it for a minute. I gather from your last letter that everything's all right at home; and though I'll admit that at night I get homesick, and wish I'd stuck to my first plan, still, I think if I did we'd regret it, both you and I.

So I'm going. It will mean only a month dear. They're to drop me where I can get a boat—probably some point in Cuba. Anyhow, send a letter to Havana. And of course I'll write if I get a chance to mail anything, though that's unlikely. However, I understand that the yacht's equipped with wireless, which makes me feel nearer home. Can't you hold back the apple blossoms till I come? I don't want to miss 'em!

This was but a small part of that letter. Knowing Gay's feeling about Angela, Nick explained her part in the invitation with almost too much caution. He laid great stress on the kindness that had made her take the journey to Kingston for the sole purpose of giving him this chance. He said, as he had said so often in the past, that he felt sure Gay was unjust to her, and that she was an unhappy woman. If he could help her to forget things for a while, it might repay her a little for her thoughtfulness in asking him to go.

On the day this letter reached Bakersville, Gay was not well. She was resting in her bedroom when Sonny brought in the mail, which consisted of her letter, and the usual postcards for the little boys. Gay read them aloud to Sonny, and as he descended to share them with Uncle Sim, she turned to her own letter with a sense of overwhelming gladness. It would doubtless tell when Nick was coming. His last note had hinted that the work was reaching completion, and that she could look for him before many weeks.

Gay had missed her husband more than she would let herself admit. If, as Nick said, he felt when away from her like a man minus an arm or leg, Gay herself felt a sense of oppression, as if the very heart in her breast was incomplete with Nick so far away. And for the last few days a weakness she did not understand had come upon her. It frightened her. Was she perhaps, to go through all she had suffered for little Nick, again? She would not let herself face the thought. There was no reason to think that the same experience would be hers twice. The doctor had reassured her firmly. When Nick came home everything would be all right again; and if the baby were the little girl he wanted (and deep in her heart Gay knew it must be that little girl), how gallantly she could endure the suffering! It was the courage Nick always gave her that she missed now. She couldn't stand having him away much longer.

Gay read her letter.

An hour later, wondering at her long silence, Uncle Sim went quietly upstairs. Gay had said nothing about not feeling well, but the old man had detected an unaccustomed listlessness in her manner, and understood that things were not quite right. Fearful of waking her should she be asleep, he stood for a moment on the threshold. Then, at a sudden convulsive movement of her shoulders, he crossed the room and touched her gently. She turned, and with consternation he saw the tears.

"What's the trouble, dearie?"

She sat up, wiping her eyes; trying to smile; ashamed that he should find her weeping.

"I'm just a—silly. All along I've urged Nick not to hurry, but—but somehow I thought he would. That's like a woman, isn't it, Uncle Sim?"

"I don't just rightly get it," said patient Simeon. "Isn't Nick comin' pretty quick?"

"He—he was." She swallowed a sob, and went on quietly: "He'd made up his mind to start as soon as his business with that stupid lawyer was finished, and then—you—you know, Uncle Sim, that Mrs. Halliday was on the boat going down?"

Simeon nodded. Daylight was breaking through, and his jaw settled into a straight, unyielding line. Gay, twisting her wet handkerchief into a ball, did not notice.

"It seems," she continued slowly, "that some friends of Mrs. Halliday's—some people who visited here last summer, have asked Nick to go on a cruise in their yacht. Mrs. Halliday went clear to Kingston to give the invitation. It—it was very kind of her, of course, and it's a wonderful chance for Nick. I suppose I'm selfish even to feel disappointed. He says it's for only a month longer, and they're to go into out-of-the-way places, and see marvelous things. It's ridiculous of me to cry, but—but I'd made up my mind he was coming, and——"

"There! There!" Simeon comforted. "A month'll slip by in no time now the warm weather's come, and they's so much pretty to look at. When does he sail? Look-a-here Gay! If you feel like you couldn't spare him I'll send a message. Nick wouldn't want to go if he knew you needed him."

For a perceptible moment her eyes brightened; then she said: "No, it's too late; and anyway I wouldn't be so selfish as to spoil his plans. They must have sailed yesterday or the day before, and there's no way to reach them. He doesn't even mention the name of the yacht—probably didn't know when he wrote. Don't worry about it, Uncle Sim. I wouldn't have cried if I'd been well."

She hadn't meant to confess even as much as that, but Simeon said anxiously: "What's the matter, dearie? Have you seen the doctor?"

"No; but I will. I shan't economize on doctors now, Uncle Sim—not after what I went through before."

Simeon walked to the window—looked out at the children, and called: "Sonny, you let little Marthy be. Don't you know she's a lady and you got to be polite? That's it. Now, Marthy, you give that spoon to the baby. He's littler'n you, and you got to learn to give up yer own way. There comes your daddy. You ask him if Uncle Sim ain't right."

Gay had joined him, and was watching Halliday bend down to settle the small dispute. Simeon put an arm about her.

"Look-a-here," he said, "how's Nick to get back if they're cruisin' off in them out-o'-the-way places?"

"They'll drop him somewhere—some part of Cuba, probably. Perhaps he'll write more definitely before they start. You can read the letter, Uncle Sim. It's a darling letter, and of course I understand; only—only, Uncle Sim, I—I don't like Mrs. Halliday."

"M—m," grunted Simeon; then: "Nick'll find her out, honey. Nothin' like boat travel to show up people's failin's."

"But Nick's so—trusting. He thinks everyone's as splendid as he is himself. And she's clever, and older than he, for all she looks so girlish. I shouldn't want her to make a fool of him."

"Don't you trust him, Gay?"

She flushed hotly.

"Of course I trust him! I don't trust her, that's the trouble. Oh, I'm not jealous. I'm not. I'd trust my husband on a desert island with the prettiest woman in the world; but I have a feeling that Mrs. Halliday has some reason for her interest in Nick. Why should she have taken that journey to invite him, when she could have written? Don't you see? She knew the influence of her personality. She knew it would count. It's what she wants of Nick that troubles me—not what he may want of her."

"She wants his scalp most likely," mused Simeon wisely, "but if I know Nick she'll have some little trouble pryin' it loose. Now you go wash yer face, dearie, and come down to dinner. That hired girl Julie Nipps found for us is some cook. I think maybe I'll take over the housekeepin' from now on, so you won't know what you're goin' to set down to. Maybe some surpises'll give you more relish for your victuals. My old woman used to say she got sick to death o' knowin' what was comin' on the table, even if she didn't cook it herself."

Gay pressed her cheek lovingly against the old man's arm.

A Unique Industry

Town Of Norway, Maine, Has Large Snowshoe Plant

Snowshoes and skis may be out of season, but not in the small town of Norway, Maine, on the Norway branch of the Grand Trunk Railway, branch of the Canadian National Railways.

One of its largest industries is the manufacturing of snowshoes and skis and it boasts the largest ski and snowshoe factory in the new world. Improved machinery now being installed will greatly increase the present annual output of 10,000 pairs of snowshoes and 60,000 pairs of skis.

Each year the hides of 3,000 steers are cut up for snowshoes filling or strings, and 200,000 feet of white ash are used for the frames. Snowshoes varying in size from a child's model measuring 9 inches by 32 inches to a 6-foot Peary model are made in Norway as well as skis from 3 to 9 feet in length.

Mellie Dunham, of fiddling fame, who lives in Norway, designed and made the snowshoes used by Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary on his successful dash to the North Pole.

Cattle Shipments To Britain

Livestock Shipments In 1930 From August To End Of Season Reached 3,581 Head

Following the revival last summer, after an absence of some years, of Canadian live cattle shipments to the British market, 3,581 cattle reached the port of Manchester from the Dominion between the initial shipment made in August and the end of 1930, writes Harry A. Scott, Canadian Trade Commissioner, at Liverpool, in the Commercial Intelligence Journal.

MINARD'S "KING OF PAIN" LINIMENT

Number Of People Afraid Of Lightning

And Still Will Risk Their Lives In Many Ways

It is surprising to find the number of people who are terrified of lightning, in spite of the fact that the records go to prove that very few persons have ever been struck by lightning.

As a matter of fact there is no reason for terror, but when nature starts her fireworks it is useless to point this out to many people.

It really is surprising. There are men—we are not talking about women—who will shiver at a flash of lightning, even rush for cover.

Yet these same men are not afraid to try and beat a train over a level crossing, or not afraid to cut in and out of traffic on a crowded highway, even if they have the family with them in the car.

And there are men who think nothing of trying to pass a car on the face of a hill, or of driving at a rate of sixty and seventy miles an hour, who will not drive at all in a thunder storm, because they are afraid of lightning.

There are men who are afraid of lightning, who are not afraid to rock a boat; to lie, to steal, even to be high pressure salesmen. The list, in fact, is long, if not endless.

True, lightning has proved fatal, but even if it chose all its victims from the class of birds we have mentioned, scarcely a gap would be made in the ranks, we would still have them with us, a pest on the land.

Effective Fog Horn

Toronto Professors Working On An Entirely New Type

The most effective fog-horn in the world was perfected by John Northey of Toronto, and is now being used by many foreign countries, Prof. Louis V. King, of McGill University, told the physics section of the Royal Society of Canada recently.

Prof. King and Prof. C. U. Vessot are now working on an entirely new type of fog-horn, it was announced. This horn would enable a ship to determine its exact distance from the danger point. Simultaneous warnings would be sent out by sound and by radio, and picked up by a delicate mechanism on shipboard. Using the difference in time between the arrival of the sound warning and the arrival of the radio warning the ship's crew would then be able to calculate the distance over which the message had come.

Soviets Make Rubber By Secret Process

Cost Of Manufacture Said To Be Very Low

The Leningrad rubber trust factory produced more than a half metric ton (more than 1,100 pounds) of commercial rubber from oil in one day by means of an unrevealed process.

The work was done under direction of a Professor Byzou, crowning experiments begun in 1918, the announcement said. It was reported the production cost was extremely low and that the new process accordingly presents tremendous commercial possibilities.

Rubber goods are being manufactured from this batch at the "Red Triangle" factory in Moscow.

Adds Value To Home

Shrubbery Which Is Carefully Planted Is Real Asset

Carefully planted shrubbery adds charm and value to the home. Authorities agree that best effects are secured by confining the shrubs to the border and to the base of the dewlling, leaving an open lawn. In foundation planting shrubs of different heights should be chosen and the planting arranged irregularly and so placed as to conceal the alignment without completely covering the foundation.

Suitable shrubs are described by the Dominion horticulturist in the federal department of agriculture bulletin No. 89, which also tells how to go about the planting.

April Fools day originated with the Hindus, who celebrated it on March 31, but the Romans' Feast of the Fools was held on February 17.

There Should Be No Ugly Women!

There are 2 classes of women.

(1) The beautiful, healthy and attractive creatures.

(2) Those pitiful ones who don't know how to make themselves beautiful—rather those who don't know the vital importance of Kruschen Salts to physical perfection and attraction!

Kruschen Salts are a perfect blend of the six vital minerals which Nature ordained, glands, blood, nerves and body organs should daily receive from food if they're to function correctly—and which are impossible to obtain in this age of modern cooking.

Get a bottle of Kruschen—and before the bottle is half empty your complexion should be gloriously smooth and clear. Kruschen clears blood of harmful acids and poisonous waste matter which cause blemishes, blackheads and pimples. Your wonderful new energy will surprise you—mind feels so keen and alert—no more washed-out feeling getting up in the mornings.

Little Helps For This Week

"Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature; old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new."—2 Corinthians v. 17.

Whatever hath been written shall remain,
Nor be erased, nor written o'er again;
The unwritten only still belongs to thee,
Take heed and ponder well what that should be.
—Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

We cannot undo the past and begin afresh. We have to take the past as the starting point and determining element of the future. But the gospel reminds us that what cannot be obliterated may be transmuted by divine grace. In Christ Jesus we may become new creatures; and in the eternal life that we begin in union with Him all old things, so far as there is any condemning power in them, pass away, and all things in the transfiguring light of heavenly love become new.—Hugh McMillan.

The Many-Purpose Oil.—Both in the house and stable there are scores of uses for Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Use it for cuts, bruises, burns, scalds, the pains of rheumatism and sciatica, sore throat and chest. Horses are liable very largely to similar ailments and mishaps as afflict mankind, and are equally amenable to the healing influence of this fine old remedy which has made thousands of firm friends during the past fifty years.

Turkish City Dwindling

Constantinople Is Rapidly Losing Place As World City

Constantinople, once the proud capital of the sultans, is gradually dwindling into insignificance as a world city. In 1924 a rough census of Istanbul, as Turks call the city, showed a population of 1,065,000, of which about 656,000 were Moslems, 297,000 Greeks, 73,000 Armenians and 12,000 Jews. Three years later a more accurate census was taken and the city had then a population of only 673,000. Recently the municipal electoral committee, while taking a census in preparation for the elections, found that the population of Istabul has slipped downward 119,000 since 1927. Evidences of commercial stagnation are apparent on every hand.
