THE CRESTON REVIEW

VOL. XVIII. CRESTON, B. C., FRIDAY, MAY 7, 1926 No. 12

Alice Siding

Mrs. H. McDonald and young son of Calgary, Alberta, arrived on Friday, on a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Webster.

A. D. O'Grady, assistant mining engineer for the Kootenays, was here from Nelson at the end of the week, and made an inspection of the Alice mine.

Alice Siding still continues to rush the season. Wild strawberries and wild roses in full bloom were observed on May 3rd.

The picnic season opened on Sunday when a party of about ten young people had the initial outing at Bolder creek.

Dr. Henderson is making his official medical inspection of the Alice Siding school this week.

The fire set out by the indians to burn off last year's hay remains got out of hand at the end of the week and made its way into a stack owned by Fred Smith, who is the loser of two tons of feed.

Miss Alice Carr of the telephone staff at Fernie was a weekend visitor with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Carr.

Some fine sample showers were in evidence Monday and Tuesday mornings, and helped freshen things up a bit, but the district is sadly in need of an oldtime sod soaker to produce really satisfactory results.

Kitchener

Harvey Joyce of the Continental Lumber & Pole Company, Limited, was at Cranbrook for a weekend visit with friends, getting back on Sunday.

Charles Erickson, father of Mrs. B. Jahnson of the Kitchener Hotel, who has been spending a couple of weeks here, left for Kimberley, where he will visit with his daughter, Mrs. Cavanaugh.

Miss Doris Yerbury of Kimberley was visiting with her sister, Mrs. D. McKie, and renewing old acquaintances left on Saturday.

Cyril and Marcel Senesael have taken a contract from the lumber company at Lumberton, and will be away for the summer and part of the winter at the work.

Ed. Merritt, who has been employed at Hunt's camp for some time, left on Monday for Cranbrook.

A party of young men took in the dance at Porthill on Saturday night, making the trip by auto. They were Fritz Molander, Ed. Renstrom, Mac Brogan, Bill Gullician, Pervin Comeau and Canute Anderson.

Pervin Comeau, another employee at Hunt's camp for some time past, left on Sunday to work at Winlaw's.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Wickholm, of the Tourist restaurant, went to Canyon on a business visit on Thursday.

Miss Myrtle Wickholm was an auto visitor to Creston on Wednesday, returning the same day.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Ragette, Mrs. E. McGonegal and children, Vera and Hazel, motored to Creston on Saturday evening. Miss Louise Bevan of the Kitchener school staff was also a Creston visitor, syending the weekend at her home there.

Frank Pim, assistant district forester, was here on Monday from Cranbrook on an official visit.

E. J. Webster, the Swift Company representative, and Sam McCartney and son, motored here from Yahk on Saturday.

Harvey Redmile, N. K. Devlin, A. LePage, Fritz Molander and Andy Wickholm took in the show at Porthill on Sunday evening, going up by car.

Father Conan came here from Canyon on Tuesday, and celebrated mass on Wednesday morning.

Mr. McNair, employed with the Sash & Door Company, Limited, spent the weekend with Cranbrook friends.

Dan McDonald came up from Yahk on Saturday to spend Sunday with Mrs McDonald, who motored back with him on Sunday, getting back here on Monday.

Amongst the motor visitors from Creston the past week were Miss Verna Pendry, Mickey St.Denis, Charlie Botterrill, W. R. Long and Charlie Armstrong. Creston's genial assistant C.P.R. agent was getting the glad hand in all quarters after a somewhat extended absence.

Kitchener baseball team, accompanied by a large contingent of supporters journeyed to Yahk on Sunday, and although they put up a great game were defeated by Yahk by a score of 8 to 4. On the merits of the play the score should have been closer; a tie would about correctly disclose the teams' efforts—errors by Kitchener at critical times being responsible for the Yahk win. We trust the local team will get down to serious practice and very shortly electrify Kitchener with a win—and a decisive one at that. Next Sunday, we understand, Yahk will visit here, so here is your chance, Kitchener, to reverse Sunday's beating; we have the players—and here's good luck to them.

Wynndel

The C.P.R. had an extra gang here the early part of the week laying steel on the new siding that is being put in by the Co-Operative Fruit Growers's Association.

School inspector Manning was a business visitor here a couple of days last week, making his stay with W. J. Cooper, school board secretary.

Wynndel Girls' Club are taking part of their concert that they presented here on April 17th, to Canyon City on Friday, May 7th, and will be part of an entertainment to be put on at Canyon by the United Church.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Ure and family were motor visitors to Michel at the weekend, on a visit with Mrs. Ure's brother, Mr. Mosely.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken. Dewar and family of Rossland spent the weekend here at the home of the latter's father, John Bathie. They are on their way to Calgary, Alberta, by car, and broke the journey here for a couple of days. They will also make a return call on their trip home.

A party of tennis players from the United Church Club came down on Friday evening for a few sets with the Wynndel Club. Some fine sets were played and a very enjoyable evening was spent by both visitors and club members. The club hopes this will be the first of the many visits from outside clubs.

Wynndel Tennis Club will put on a big dance in the old schoolhouse shortly. Look out for notices. This will be a big affair.

Dr. Henderson had a hurried call here on Monday night to attend J. Ringheim who is on the sick list. He is now getting along fine and his friends hope to see him around again as good as ever very soon.

Rev. S. Newby will be here for Church of England services at the United Church at 8 and 11 a.m., May 9th.

Congratulations are extended Michael St. Denis who was quietly married at Creston, Wednesday night, to Miss Verola Pendry, of Creston. Rev. J. Herdman officiating. The Ceremony was performed at the residence of Mr. Lovestrom, a brother-in law of the bride's, and was attended by just the immediate friends of the contracting parties.

It will cost over seven hundred dollars to finance board of trade undertakings at Fernie this year.

The annual Easter Monday ball at Cranbrook netted almost $800 for St. Eugene hospital. The money will help defray the cost of an operating table.

Farm lands in the Cranbrook district are not excessively priced. Lyman Taylor has just purchased a quarter section on St. Mary's prairie at fifteen dollars an acre.

World Wide Reforms

All worth-while reforms are slow of accomplishment because the people of the world are essentially conservative in their thought and action. It is perhaps well that this should be so, otherwise nations might be stampeded into the acceptance of unsound theories and hastily conceived and ill-considered policies leaving loss, suffering and ruin in their wake.

But there is such a thing as being too ultra-conservative, and so bound by old-time precedent and usage that wise progress and sane advancement is made extremely difficult and for long years impossible. Such extreme conservatism is baneful. Danger there may be from the optimistic reformer who urges his pet theory or scheme as a "cure-all" for the ills from which mankind and the body politic may suffer, and as the key which will open the door to Utopia. But there is equal danger from the chronic pessimist who scoffs at everything new and declares "it won't work."

For a long time there have been advocates of a reform of the system of currency in Great Britain, and of the systems of weights and measures in Great Britain, Canada, United States and some other countries. These advocates have consistently and persistently urged the adoption of the decimal and metric systems. They have carried on a work of education which apparently is going to bear fruit. At all events, official cognizance is being taken, both in Britain and the United States, of the growing strength of the demand for reform in these matters.

Great Britain, with its world-wide trade and commerce, cannot afford in these days of rapid communication and transportation, and intense world competition, to cling to its present rather archaic system of pounds, shillings and pence, when all the other great trading nations have adopted the decimal system.

Nor should Canada and the United States continue to adhere to their equally out-of-date systems of weights and measures with twelve inches to a foot, three feet to a yard, 1,760 yards to a mile, two pints to a quart, four quarts to a gallon, not to mention grains, ounces, pounds, pecks, bushels, tons, etc., with avoirdupois and troy weights.

The adoption of the metric system of weights and measures would enormously simplify not only all international commerce but our own domestic business as well. Soldiers of all nations serving in France soon discovered how simple and easily understood is this metric system, and undoubtedly their experience and knowledge is having its effect in influencing the more pronounced agitation for this reform which is in evidence throughout the world.

Another question which is coming to the front is the reform of the calendar. Interested as it is in the removal of all causes of misunderstanding, and in promoting the most friendly internationalism, the League of Nations is taking an active part in connection with these reform movements, and at the present time one of its committees is giving consideration to numerous plans submitted to it, providing for a reform of the calendar. One of the few plans reserved for further study out of the large number submitted is by a Canadian, and provides for a year of thirteen months, each of 28 days. Under this plan the first day of each month would be a Sunday. The present names of the months would be continued, but a new month created out of the last half of June and the first half of July. In order to make up the full 365 days of the year, there would be one day at the end of the year to be known as "Year Day." The convenience of having all months of equal length, and of having the days of the week always falling on the same dates, can hardly be overstated.

There would naturally and inevitably be some confusion at first during the short period of readjustment from the present time-honored systems and customs to the new, but the admittedly great economic gains and conveniences which would result from these proposed changes would surely far out-weigh the temporary inconvenience.

Canada led the world in adopting the now universal system of standard time under which the globe is mapped out in zones within which the time is uniform. Canada, like the United States, has a decimal monetary system. Why should the Dominion not lead the way on this continent at least by adopting the metric system of weights and measures, and also throw the weight of its influence into the scale in favor of a reform of the calendar?

Date Not Yet Fixed

Correspondence in regard to the next imperial conference has been passing between the British and Dominion Governments. The date suggested for the conference, it is understood, is at the end of October, but so far as can be ascertained, there has not yet been a definite agreement.

New Steel Takes Razor Edge

Modern Product Developed By Ohio Man Is Hard, Yet Pliant

Many of the qualities of the celebrated Damascus steel are said to be found in a modern product which an Ohio man has developed by a secret process. He combines iron and carbon in such a way that the resulting steel will bend, keep an edge of razor sharpness, is tough and can be driven through other steels without breaking. A bar of the material, fifteen inches long, was tempered to five different degrees, one end of it being hard enough to cut glass, a section was sharpened like a razor and would cut dry hair without honing or stropping, while other parts in the same bar would cut off a spike under blows of a hammer, would spring or could be bent backward and forward with the thumb and forefinger without breaking. Vanadium is an important element used in the preparation of the steel.—Popular Mechanics.

Movement To Link Up The Various Wheat Pools Into A Close Association

An international wheat pool sounds like an exceedingly ambitious project. National wheat pools, themselves, are bold conceptions based on strong faith in the co-operative principle. Some, no doubt, will suggest that the success of the national pools should have been assured by a longer experience before there was any thought of an international pool. The organization which is being formed at the present meeting at St. Paul, however, is not, strictly speaking, an international pool. It is not proposed to actually put the wheat from the different counties into one pool, but rather to link up the various pools in a close association.

It is hoped to profit from one another's experience in pool management, and it is planned to secure complete and accurate information regarding crop prospects in different countries, available grain supplies and the demand from importing countries. Then the idea is, according to pool delegates at St. Paul, to feed the grain on to the market as it is required and in such away as to eliminate speculation and secure for the farmers in the various pools the full price which the actual condition of the world market warrants.

This is all quite intelligible and seems a natural development from the individual pools. The future of the international organization depends, of course, on the fortunes of the separate pools. Some will say that that is assured, while others consider them still in the experimental stage. The latter dwell on the fact that a wheat pool is a huge business proposition whose success depends on many different factors. They say that the prevailing high prices have enabled the pools to pay the farmers a good return, as a result of which they have been well satisfied, but that if there were a serious slump in the world market and a drop in prices, things would not run so smoothly and the pool might be severely tested.

The farmers of Western Canada have been encouraged to go into the pooling of their wheat by their success in other co-operative enterprises, and they are bent on giving it a good trial. It is the farmers's own business, and whatever is eventually found to be the best plan for marketing the grain will be in the best interest of the whole country.—Manitoba Free Press.

Farms In Hudson Bay Area

Demonstration Farms Operated Along the Hudson Bay Road

Further details of the experiments in growing agricultural products along the Hudson Bay Railway line, just issued, indicate that the policy is much broader than the recent announcement indicated.

The three demonstration farms are located at Hudson Bay Junction, Mile 137, and Mile 185. In addition to these, the department has arranged to have a full line of agricultural products grown at Mile 42, Mile 81 and at Port Nelson.

The products to be grown are wheat, oats, barley, peas, clover, grasses, turnips, carrots, mangle wurtzle, lettuce, radishes, beets and onions.

Adequate records of the progress of everything planted will be kept and in the course of a few years a large body of facts on production in the northern part of Manitoba will have been accumulated.

Salmon Travel Quickly

One Recently Covered Nearly 1,200 Miles In Less Than Month

That salmon travel amazing distances in short periods is indicated by the journey of one fish which was liberated at the southern end of Nova Scotia last June and was caught less than a month later in the Moisie River, Quebec. Identification was made by means of the silver tag which had been placed in one of the salmon's fins when it was first captured. Its journey was between 800 to 1,200 miles long. By means of the tags, valuable knowledge is being gained as to the habits of salmon and other fish.—Popular Mechanics.

Want To Keep Out Infected Plants

Canadian Council Orders Exhaustive Report On Horticultural Industry

An exhaustive report on all aspects of the horticultural industry in relation to the tariff question to be submitted at a future meeting of the council, was ordered at the closing session of the Canadian Horticultural Council, Ottawa.

Resolutions were passed asking that the Dominion department of agriculture include a practical horticulturist on its staff to prevent the importation of infected trees and plants into Canada, also that the customs authorities more rigidly enforce the customs regulations as affecting importation of horticultural products.

A special committee was appointed to protest to the government against the free importation of fruits and vegetables.

Overseas Settlement

Says British People Hold Too Low a View of Emigration

Presiding at a meeting of the Royal Society of Arts, Viscount Burnham, president o fthe Imperial Press conference, emphasized that the British people had never treated overseas settlement from a high enough standpoint. It had not been regarded so much as an act of patriotism as an act of necessity.

Viscount Burnham urged that propaganda should tell only the truth. He did not find fault with the Dominions for demanding a high standard of health, but pleaded that conditions should be thoroughly well-known and a standard fixed.

Canadians Eating Fewer Apples

Due to Lack of Advertising Says Dominion Fruit Commisisoner

Canadians are eating fewer appies than they used to, consumption having fallen to less than half an apple a day, Mr. G. E. McIntosh, Dominion fruit commissioner, says. At the same time, consumption of citrus fruits has increased. Mr. McIntosh says this is due to the advertising that oranges and lemons have been getting.

The moral should be obvious. Canada cannot raise citrus fruits. If we want our producers to benefit by the money we spend for fruit, we should advertise the apple.—Border Cities Star.

The deaths of passengers on British railway trains have averaged three yearly for the past 25 years. Travelling by railway seems to be safer than lying in bed.

Mining and Agriculture

Exploitation of Minerals Opens Up Country For Farming

"It is estimated we have used more of the earth's mineral resources in the last 75 years than in all preceding time," said Charles Camsell, deputy minister of mines, in his paper on the "Influence of Minerals on Canadian History and Development" before the twenty-eighth annual general meeting of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy at Montreal. Time and again throughout the last 75 years, Canadian development had received extraordinary impetus from mineral discoveries, Mr. Camsell declared.

Previous to the discovery of placer gold in British Columbia in 1858, that province was a wilderness occupied only by a few roving tribes of Indians. The Cariboo rush of 1860 brought the first flood of people to that country and effected a radical change in its history.

History was now repeating itself in Northern Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec on perhaps a less spectacular but probably a more effective scale.

Mr. Camsell said the colonizing and civilizing influence of metal deposits was well illustrated.

The exploitation of the country's mineral deposits was making it possible to open up the districts for the development of agriculture.

Farm Accounting Made Simple

Every Farmer Should Keep a Correct Record of His Affairs

Maintaining some form of accounting is absolutely necessary if the farmer is to be sure that he is farming in the most profitable way. It is the only way to ascertain what return his farm should yield in order to make a profit over production cost, and it is a guide to the farmer in deciding which particular lines of work are profitable and which are not. With the object of supplying a simple and efficient form of farm accounting which will take up little time yet will enable one to keep a correct record of his affairs, the department of agriculture at Ottawa has published a small account book designed to cover a year's work. It gives directions for the making of entries and the taking of inventories, and requires no special knowledge of accounting. It may be obtained for 10 cents from the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Council Must Pay Reward

An Old Country bylaw passed in 1367 when horse-thieving was much in vogue, offered a reward of $40 for securing the conviction of a horse thief, and as this measure had never been repealed, Constable R. J. Moore, of Lucknow, Ont., claimed the reward for capturing and convicting Elmer Daniels, a lad who recently stole a Lucknow liveryman's nag and was jailed for the offence. The county council had no other option but to pay the toll.—Tara Leader.

Manitoba Dairy Industry

Production of Creamery Butter Shows a Substantial Increase

Substantial progress was made by the dairy industry of Manitoba during 1925, as shown by the annual report of the provincial dairy branch. The production of creamery butter was 13,663,312 lbs., an increase of 1,030,508 lbs. over 1924, and in addition a conservative estimate places the butter fat shipments to the United States from Southern Manitoba at 1,000,000 lbs. for the twelve months. The total make of cheese last year amounted to 765,407 lbs., an increase of 264,774 lbs. over the previous year. Exports of creamery butter last year, mostly to Great Britain, amounted to 315 carloads, or 126,000 fifty-six pound boxes, valued at $2,416,680.

For Spring Work

Increased Amount of Land Ready For Cultivation In Manitoba and Alberta

According to the estimate of the general agricultural agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway, land prepared for spring work in Western Canada shows an increase of 756,700 acres in Manitoba, an increase of 293,797 acres in Alberta and a decrease of 1,106,698 acres in Saskatchewan. The decline in Saskatchewan is largely attributable to the smaller amount of fall ploughing accomplished which will be be remedied as soon as farmers get on the land in the spring.

Greater Butter Output

Saskatchewan Shows Increase in Production For Month of January

Creamery butter production in the province of Saskatchewan in January last amounted to 692,299 lbs., as compared with 690,309 lbs. in the corresponding month a year ago, according to a statement issued by the provincial dairy commissioner. While the increase is comparatively small, yet it is gratifying in view of the fact that the output for January, 1925, was unusually high and greatly in excess for the production of the same month in previous years.

Forbidden to Marry Christians

Moslem women are not allowed to marry Christians by the terms of the modified form of the Swiss Civil Code now before the Turkish National Assembly for ratification. The law which prohibits polygamy and divorce by the mere whim of the husband declares as null marriages contracted with Christians.

Modern civilization has, as yet, devised no efficient alternative for the influence of the home on children and that influence has been steadily on the decline. As the Bishop of Ely has said, the decay of family life is at once the cause and the outcome of the degeneracy of national character, and character, "infinitely more than the strength of its armaments, or the prosperity of its commerce, or the abundance of its wealth, is the security of a nation." The Roman Empire had its root in the once strong simplicity of the homes of its citizens. It fell, as the mordant pages of Juvenal tell us, with the atrophy of that home-life.

The motor car, the film, and even the press, have been blamed for their part in the social evil which is evidenced in a decay of home-life. There are undoubtedly agencies at work which, collectively, not singly, have a psychological influence of a sinister character. More than anything else, however, the decay of home-life has marched side by side with the decline of home-education and the taking over by the state of the care and culture of the young. The home could mould characters of the most virile kind. The state cannot. It has failed in a large measure to stimulate the juvenile imagination. It has not been a character-builder. It has, to an extent, alienated the children from their homes by performing duties which previously were the prerogative of parents alone.

There is another influence at work to destroy the discipline of home-life. Applied science is daily adding to the store of conveniences and luxuries, and with them the growing desire for pleasure and ease and luxury deeply affects the ordinary standard of parental duty. That desire has a tendency to make the individual, not the family, the unit of life and of society. It inculcates selfishness, and selfishness, as nothing else, dissolves home ties.

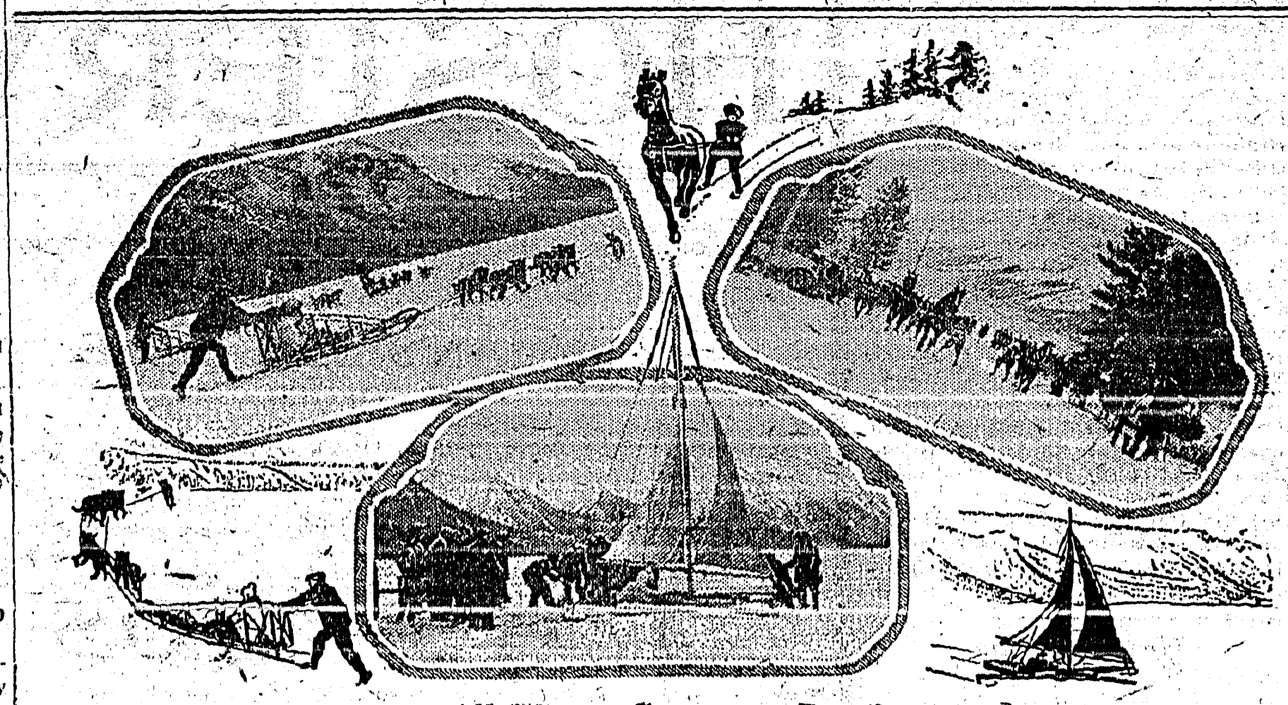
It is here that the parents themselves are largely to blame, for, with the increase in luxuries, they do not endure hardship for their children's sake to the extent that they did of old. They are less sensitive in this respect than they used to be. They do not take the trouble to study and to know their sons and daughters, for they realize that the welfare of the latter is being made more and more a matter for the state.

Thus, there are germs of evil at work, and it is difficult to say what the antidote should be, especially when the handicap of state-interference in so many walks of life continues to grow heavier. There is one sure antidote if it were applied and that is religion, but where parents are irreligious what may be expected of their off-spring? Religion has got to resume its place in the family life if there is to be a recasting of national character. It must be "pure religion breathing household laws." Earnest, careful thought and prayer on the part of the parent can solve the problem. Now hundreds, nay thousands of parents, are silent on the subject through indifference or indolence.

There are signs of evil, but that does not mean that the eyes should be closed to the evidences of good that may be set to work. It requires organized effort to fulfill parental duty and the task lies in the hands of the parents themselves. The state is impotent. The forces for good are only dormant, not dead. There are still countless homes in which they are seen at their purest and best. The symptoms of social disease are unmistakable and the remedies can be applied. Obsta principiis is the only wise and safe rule.—Daily Colonist.

Endows Monument To Eve

Robert Quillen, author and paragrapher, who recently attracted considerable attention by erecting in the front lawn of his home a monument to Eve, the first woman, has applied for a $10,000 endowment life insurance policy to be used as a trust fund in perpetuating the monument. Under the terms of the application flowers would be placed regularly against the monument, the lawn mowed, trees pruned and an annual bath with some cleansing material given the small marble obelisk.



All Winter Sports at Banff

Ice-yachting, dog-sledding, ski-ing were the high-lights of the Banff Winter Sports Carnival recently concluded at the Rockies resort and they were enjoyed within a setting that has not its equal in the wide world. Some of these majestic surroundings are shown in the above photographs with snow-mantled, fir-clad mountains and the rolling cliffs that encircle Lake Minnewanka. The dog derby for the Strongheart Trophy was another of the big thrills and the keen air made all those who foregathered for the sports look back on their termination with a sigh of delight. People came from Calgary and all over Alberta and from the other side of the Rockies, Vancouver and Victoria, while visitors from the United States were considerably in evidence. A great army of skiers assembled who enjoyed the glissades and ski-jorling, while hockey and fancy skating made its appeal to others. In addition to the big sporting events that were decided, there was always something for the spectators to do besides watching other people give exhibitions. The attractions of summer in winter time have a real rival here where the full glories of a Canadian winter can be enjoyed to the full. There is less need to flit to Florida or California when Canada has this to offer to its sons and daughters, and the younger generation are well aware of this.

Local Industries

It is to be hoped that last week's announcement by Mr. Strudwicke of the Leadville Mining Company that he will be visiting Creston in a few days in an effort to inerest local capital in the prorperty will have serious consideration.

Mr. Strudwicke is sufficently practical, and well acquainted locally, to not expect to sign up very many thousands of dollars, but what he does desire is to secure a representative lot of shareholders here to strengthen his hand when he goes further afield to iuterest capital in the project. If it can be shown that those living in the neighborhood have confidence enough in the management and the property itself to put their money into it, such a display of confidence materially strengthens the hands of the mine owners in securing outside capital.

That Leadville will ever be the dividend payer the ore assays taken to date would indicate cannot be guarnteed, but the months of work and money the present owners have put into the property, and the modest amount of new capital they are seeking to make the mine a real producer, should satisfy all that the undertaking has genuine merit.

As Mr. Strudwicke points out it is payrolls that make the district, and if industries are to be developed local capital must be forthcoming if financial backing is to be enlisted elsewhere, and in whatever prosperity comes Kitchener's way Creston is bound to share to some extent. Instead of buying doubtful Alberta coal and oil stocks why not invest in something nearer home. Leadville has a very attractive offer to make you. Be sure and give the company's representatives careful hearing when they call.

Hardy Chicks

That the Barred Rock baby chicks produced at the McAlpine poultry farm have vigor and constitution has just been demonstrated on a shipment of 100 of them sent to a customer at Headingly, near Winnipeg, Manitoba. Allowing approximately two days for the trip and delays in delivery, and the birds twelve hours old before shipping, this particular lot of chicks went four days without feed and suffered a loss of but four. Here is what the buyer has to say of the incident:

"We recieved your letter o k, and went to the city Monday morning to be in time for the 8.15 train, but there were no chicks. The next train was at 5.15 at night, but as we could not spend the whole day in town drove home again, asking them to let us know by long distance if they arrived. Also asked our people there to phone next morning. The Company did not phone, though they came on the 5.15, but the following morning my father, judging they were there, brought them to Headingly on the street car, twelve miles, and they came the other ten miles in an auto, through a real Manitoba blizzard. You will see the little things had a hard trip, but up to date we have lost only four: so consider that very good."

The garage firm of Archer & Stanway at Kaslo have already disposed of one carload of autos this season.

The concentrator that has been erected at Moyie to handle the ore on the dumps of the old St. Eugene mine, will start work this month.

The brass band at Nakusp plans to put down a cement dancing floor 60 x 100 feet and to conduct open air and moonlight dances as a revenue getter this year.

In the recent forestry examinations at Cranbrook Messrs. Hale and Huscroft passed the tests with high standings.

Delightful Version of the Two-Piece Sports Frock

Many points of interest centre in this sports frock. First, the material, leaf green and fawn tweed, is the smartest thing for these essential costumes, then there is the deep yoke front and back from which extends two box-plaits. The long sleeves are gathered into tight little wrist-bands of contrasting color silk, this harmonizing note being used for the convertible collar and all around belt. It is obvious the skirt, which is joined to a camisole top, gets its fullness by repeating the box-plait of the overblouse. The blouse, No. 1272, is in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust. Size 36 bust requires 2⅝ yards 36-inch, or 1⅞ yards 54-inch material. The skirt, No. 1266, is in sizes 24, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust. Size 36 bust requires 1¾ yards 36 or 40-inch material, with 1¼ yards lining for the camisole top. Price 20 cents each pattern.

TOO LITTLE BLOOD

The Cause Of Nearly All The Everyday Ailments Of Life

Too little blood—that is what makes men and women look pale and sallow and feel languid. That is what makes them drag along, always tired, never real hungry, unable to digest their food, breathless after even slight exertion, and often feeling that life is scarcely worth living. The doctors tell them they are anaemic—the plain English being too little blood.

More weak, anaemic people have been made strong, energetic and cheerful by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills than by any other means. The case of Mrs. A. P. Foster, Bowden, Alta., is excellent proof of this statement. Mrs. Foster says:—"Some years ago I was very badly run-down. My doctor attended me for several months and then told me I had better go South to spend the winter as my blood was so poor that he feared I would not stand the cold of our winter. I took his advice and went to my mother's, and as soon as she saw me she said, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are what you need." She got the pills for me and I began taking them. I had intended staying three months, but at the end of the second month I came home a well woman. When the doctor saw me he said, "You are all right now, but don't let yourself get run-down again or nothing will save you." Then last winter I had the influenza, which left me as weak and pale and miserable as before. Again I took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and again they made me well and strong. I can gratefully recommend the pills for I feel that they have saved my life."

Weak, ailing men and women should begin taknig Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to-day and note the speedy improvement that follows. You can get these pills from medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box by writing The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

She Couldn't Sleep Heart Was So Bad

Mrs. J. D. McClintock, Charlottetown, P.E.I., writes:—"About a year ago I was greatly troubled with my heart.

I could not sleep at night, and was so nervous I imagined that I could see everything in the room moving, and would have to turn on the lights before I could get to sleep.

After having read of your

MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS

I took several boxes of them, and can now get a full night's sleep without any trouble, and feel fine in every way."

H. & N. Pills have been on the market for the past 32 years; all dealers sell them; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Satisfied With Canada

Scottish Settler Says He Is Not Sorry He Left His Native Heath

In a recent letter written to the Canadian Government emigration agent at Glasgow, Scotland, R. H. Chisholm, of Killam, Alberta, who came to Canada last summer under the British assisted family farm settlement plan, writes in part: "We are getting along all right in Canada, enjoying farm life and being in the best of health. We have settled among some very nice neighbors, most of whom are Scotch. We had a very nice trip coming out from Scotland. We landed at Quebec on the 13th June and from there went to Montreal where we had four hours to wait. From Montreal we went to Winnipeg, which impressed me as being a very nice city. There I was told that we were to go on to Sedgewick, Alberta. We arrived there at three o'clock on the Thursday morning. We stayed in the hotel until daylight when we were taken to a farm. I started to work the next week on a place ten miles from home and worked there until the 1st November. I went home every weekend and always found my wife and children getting along fine. I got good wages all the time. In November I got a transfer to another place. I am now ready to start on my own in the spring. I have five horses, three cows, two heifer calves, a number of hens, etc., so we are doing well. We are making butter and selling it at forty cents per pound and the revenue from this helps to keep the house going. I think if a man makes up his mind to work and tries to adapt himself to conditions, he will get along all right in Canada, at least I can say that I have not been sorry for coming. One can get here what it is not possible to get in the Old Country, with very little money, and that is a funny. It seems to me that those who would like a farm should come to Canada with as little delay as possible."

Corns are painful growths. Holloway's Corn Remover will remove them.

Doctors Warn U. S. Women

Twenty-five leading American medical men are meeting in New York to point out to American women the danger of the current craze for boyish figures. They have criticized the desire for slim bodies as a "nation-wide fad" without relation to national health," and warned the women that their attempts drastically to reduce their weight are endangering the health of the future generation.

Rumors About Kitchener Revived

First Lord of Admiralty Again Denies Fantastic Stories

The suggestion by a Liberal member in the British House of Commons that the boat in which Lord Kitchener left the cruiser Hampshire after she was sunk by a mine in 1916 should be acquired for the nation as a relic, evoked an explicit denial from the first lord of the admiralty of fantastic rumors about Kitchener's death which recently have been revived in England.

Lord Kitchener, said the first lord, certainly did not leave the Hampshire in that boat, and probably not at all. Only a dozen men survived the loss of the Hampshire, and their evidence, which was taken by the admiralty, had cast no light on the disaster.

For a moment Nepeese did not answer. She, too, was looking into the fire. Then she said:

"Tuboa meant to kill him when the spring came, and he could travel. When Tuboa died I knew that it was I who must kill him. So I came, with Tuboa's gun. It was fresh loaded—yesterday. And—M'sieu Jeem"—she looked up at him, a triumphant glow in her eyes as she added, almost in a whisper—"You will not get to Lac Bain. I have sent a messenger."

"A messenger?"

"Yes, Ookimow Jeem—a messenger. Two days ago. I sent word that I had not died, but was here—waiting for him—and that I would be Iskwao now, his wife. Oo-oo, he will come, Ookimow Jeem—he will come fast. And you shall not kill him. Non!" She smiled into his face, and the throb of Carvel's heart was like a drum. "The gun is loaded," she said softly. "I will shoot."

"Two days ago," said Carvel. "And from Lac Bain it is——"

"He will be here to-morrow," Nepeese answered him. "To-morrow, as the sun goes down, he will enter the clearing. I know. My blood has been singing it all day. To-morrow—to-morrow—for he will travel fast, Ookimow Jeem. Yes, he will come fast."

Carvel had bent his head. The soft tresses gripped in his fingers were crushed to his lips. The Willow, looking again into the fire, did not see. But she felt—and her soul was beating like the wings of a bird.

"Ookimow Jeem," she whispered—a breath, a flutter of the lips so soft that Carvel heard no sound.

If old Tuboa had been there that night it is possible he would have read strange warnings in the winds that whispered now and then softly in the treetops. It was such a night; a night when the Red Gods whisper low among themselves, a carnival of glory in which even the dipping shadows and the high stars seemed to quiver with the life a potent language. It is barely possible that old Tuboa, with his ninety years behind him, would have learned something, or that at least he would have suspected a thing which Carvel in his youth and confidence did not see. To-morrow—he will come to-morrow! The Willow, exultant, had said that. But to old Tuboa the trees might have whispered, why not to-night?

To-morrow I will go to Lac Bain."

It was midnight when the big moon stood full above the little open in the forest. In the tepee the Willow was sleeping. In a balsam shadow back from the fire slept Baree, and still farther back in the edge of a spruce thicket slept Carvel. Dog and man were tired. They had travelled far and fast that day, and they heard no sound.

But they had travelled neither so far nor so fast as Bush McTaggart. Between sunrise and midnight he had come forty miles when he strode out into the clearing where Pierrot's cabin had stood. Twice from the edge of the forest he had called; and now, when he found no answer, he stood under the light of the moon and listened. Nepeese was to be here—waiting. He was tired, but exhaustion could not still the fire that burned in his blood, and now—so near its realization and its triumph—the old passion was like a drunkening wine in his veins. Somewhere, near where he stood, Nepeese was waiting for him, waiting for him. Once again he called, his heart beating in a fierce anticipation as he listened. There was no answer. And then for a thrilling instant his breath stopped. He sniffed the air—and there came to him faintly the smell of smoke.

With the first instinct of the forest man he fronted the wind that was but a faint breath under the starlit skies. He did not call again, but hastened across the clearing. Nepeese was off there—somewhere—sleeping beside her fire, and out of him ther rose a low cry of exultation. He came to the edge of the forest; chance directed his steps to the overgrown trail; he followed it, and the smoke smell came stronger to his nostrils.

It was the forest man's instinct, too, that added the element of caution to his advance. That, and the utter stillness of the night. He broke no sticks under his feet. He disturbed the brush so quietly that it made no sound. When he came at last to the little open where Carvel's fire was still sending a spiral of spruce-scented smoke up into the air it was with a stealth that failed even to rouse Baree. Perhaps, deep down in him, there smouldered an old suspicion; perhaps it was because he wanted to come to her while she was sleeping. The sight of the tepee made his heart throb faster. It was light as day where it stood in moonlight, and he saw hanging outside it a few bits of woman's apparel. He advanced soft-footed as a fox and stood a moment later with his hand on the cloth flap at the wigwam door, his head bent forward to catch the merest breath of sound. He could hear the breathing. For an instant his face turned so that the moonlight struck his eyes. They were aflame with a mad fire. Then, still very quietly, he drew aside the flap at the door.

It could not have been sound that roused Baree, hidden in the black balsam shadow a dozen paces away. Perhaps it was scent. His nostrils twitched first; then he awoke. For a few seconds his eyes glared at the bent figure in the tepee door. He knew that it was not Carvel. The old smell—the man-beast's smell, filled his nostrils like a hated poison. He sprang to his feet and stood with his lips snarling back slowly from his long fangs. McTaggart had disappeared. From inside the tepee there came a sound; a sudden movement of bodies, a startled ejaculation of one awakening from sleep—and then a cry, a low, half-smothered, frightened cry, and in response to that cry Baree shot out from under the balsam with a sound in his throat that had in it the note of death.

In the edge of the spruce thicket Carvel rolled uneasily. Strange sounds were rousing him, cries that in his exhaustion came to him as if in a dream. At last he sat up, and then in sudden horror leaped to his feet and rushed toward the tepee. Nepeese was in the open, crying the name she had given him—"Ookimow Jeem—Ookimow — Jeem — Ookimow Jeem——" She was standing there white and slim, her eyes with the blaze of the stars in them, and when she saw Carvel she flung out her arms to him, still crying:

"Ookimow Jeem—Oo-oo, Ookimow Jeem——"

In the tepee he heard the rage of a beast, the moaning cries of a man. He forgot that it was only last night he had come, and with a cry he swept the Willow to his breast, and the Willow's arms tightened round his neck as she moaned:

"Ookimow Jeem—it is the man-beast—is there! It is the man-beast from Lac Bain—and Baree——"

Truth flashed upon Carvel, and he caught Nepeese up in his arms and ran away with her from the sounds that had grown sickening and horrible. In the spruce thicket he put her feet once more to the ground. Her arms were still tight around his neck; he felt the wild terror of her body as it throbbed against him; her breath was sobbing, and her eyes were on his face. He drew her closer, and suddenly he crushed his face down close against hers and felt for an instant the warm thrill of her lips against his own.

"He is dead, Nepeese."

"Dead, Ookimow Jeem?"

"Yes. Baree killed him."

She did not seem to breathe. Gently, with his lips in her hair, Carvel whispered his plans for their paradise.

"No one will know, my sweetheart. To-night I will bury him and burn the tepee. To-morrow we will start for Nelson House, where there is a Missioner. And after that—we will come back—and I will build a new cabin where the old one burned. Do you love me, ka sakahet?"

"Out—yes—Ookimow Jeem—I love you——"

Suddenly there came an interruption. Baree at last was giving his cry of triumph. It rose to the stars; it wailed over the roofs of the forests and filled the quiet skies—a wolfish howl of exultation, of achievement, of vengeance fulfilled. Its echoes died slowly away, and silence came again. A great peace whispered in the soft breath of the treetops. Out of the north came the mating call of a loon. About Carvel's shoulders the Willow's arms crept closer. And Carvel, out of his heart, thanked God.

The End.

Baby's Own Tablets Are Effective and Easy to Give

You do not have to coax and threaten to get the little ones to take Baby's Own Tablets. The ease with which they are given, as compared with liquid medicines, will appeal to every mother. None is spilled or wasted; you know just how big a dose has reached the little stomach. As a remedy for the ills of childhood arising from derangements of the stomach and bowels they are most satisfactory.

Mrs. Rose Voyer, Willimantic, Conn., says: "I used Baby's Own Tablets in the Canadian Northwest and found them a wonderful medicine for children's troubles, especially indigestion and constipation. I have also given them to my children for simple fever and the restlessness accompanying teething and they always gave relief. I can recommend Baby's Own Tablets to all mothers."

Can Determine Power Of Pneumonia Germs

Electrical Instruments Will Reveal Virulence of Killing Power

The discovery of methods for measuring with electrical instruments the virulence of killing power of pneumonia germs from which it is possible to determine how much chance the patient has of recovery, is announced by University of Chicago investigators.

It is hoped the experiments will be useful in developing a serum for the cure and prevention of pneumonia and in determining how the serum works.

Dr. I. S. Falk, assistant professor of hygiene and bacteriology, conducted the experiments.

The investigator also said he had found methods to increase or decrease the virulence of pneumonia germs almost at will.

It will Prevent Ulcerated Throat.—At the first symptoms of sore throat, which presages ulceration and inflammation takes a teaspoonful of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Add a little sugar to it to make it palatable. It will allay the irritation and prevent the ulceration and swelling that are so painful. Those who were periodically subject to quinsy have thus made themselves immune to attack.

Tribute To King George

As a practical way of expressing gratitude to the King for his "noble work in the war and peace," a colonial visitor to England has made an anonymous gift of 2,500 pounds towards the cost of restoring Durham Castle.

Rub it in for Lame Back.—A brisk rubbing with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil will relieve lame back. The skin will immediately absorb the oil and it will penetrate the tissues and bring speedy relief. Try it and be convinced. As the liniment sinks in, the pain comes out and there are ample grounds for saying that it is an excellent article.

SICK ABED EIGHT MONTHS

After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Could Do All Her Work and Gained in Weight

Melfort, Saskatchewan. — "I had inward troubles, headaches and severe pains in my back and sides. I was so sick generally that I could not sit up and I was in bed most of the time for eight months. An aunt came to visit and help me as I was unable to attend to my baby and could not do my work. She told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and after taking two bottles I could get up and dress myself. I also took Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine. When I first took the medicine I only weighed seventy-eight pounds. Now I weigh twice as much. If I get out of sorts or weary and can't sleep I always take another bottle of the Vegetable Compound. I find it wonderfully good for female troubles, and have recommended it to my neighbors. I will be only too glad to answer any letters I receive asking about it." — Mrs. WILLIAM RITCHIE, Box 486, Melfort, Saskatchewan.
