Slow Movement Mixed Carloads

This is Due to Shortage Tomatoes and Wealthy Apples—Tomatoes Slow in Maturing—Wealthys Require Color.

An oldtime sod soaker of a rain is very much in demand by orchardists and selling agencies alike. Wealthy apples and tomatoes are badly needed for mixed car shipments, and a fairly generous supply of the wet goods is what will save the day. It will do away with the heavy smoke pall which seems to be preventing the sun from ripening up the tomatoes in desired quantities, and it is just what is needed to start coloring up the Wealthys, which are splendid as to size and are coming in a week earlier than in 1930.

This week the demand for tomatoes is away beyond the supply and the market is also ready for Wealthys. The cars that are rolling are made up of Wealthys, Clapp's Favorite pears, Transcendent crows and Maynard plums. Both firms are beginning to receive Bartlett pears and Bradshaw plums will be coming in before the week is out. Peppers are also on the move.

With pears available Long, Allan & Long, Limited, commenced a bench pack on these early in the week at Erickson, and at their Creston warehouse Crestland Fruit Company have also two or three girls at work wrapping pears. The latter firm have opened their Erickson warehouse where Harold Langston, who will be foreman this year, is getting the graders in shape for the year's operations.

The shortage in tomatoes is most unfortunate as the demand at Crows Nest points as well as the prairie is exceptionally good. Cucumbers however, are in poor demand. With the Wealthys selling agencies are only picking just what is needed to meet a fairly insistent demand.

Even from unirrigated land the early varieties of apples have shown good size, but unirrigated pears are not so attractive. In all tree fruits, the crop is unusually clean, and the quantity available for Fancy and Extra Fancy pack will be much larger than last season.

Jas. McGovern Oldtimer, Dead

Well Known Figure on Crows Nest Line Building—Joined C.P.R. in 1882—Pensioned in 1924—Lived Kitchener Since.

In the death of James McGovern, of Kitchener, which took place at St. Eugene Hospital, Cranbrook, on August 12th, a well known figure in railway construction work in the Crows Nest Pass has disappeared. Deceased, who was in his 73rd year, was a native of County Mayo, Ireland. As a boy he went to Liverpool, England, where he was educated, and in 1882, he came to Canada, and immediately entered the employ of the Canadian Pacific Railway, coming west on main line construction and coming into the Kootenay country about 1897, and from that time on until 1924, when he was pensioned, he was with the railway company in various capacities, but chiefly as timekeeper. Since 1920 he has made his home at Kitchener.

Deceased's health has been failing for some time past but it was only early June that his condition had become serious and it was deemed wise to take him to Cranbrook hospital where he passed away on Wednesday morning last. The funeral was on Friday morning from St. Mary's Church, with burial in Cranbrook cemetery. Six Kitchener friends acted as pallbearers, G. A. Hunt, A. G. Strudwick, B. Johnson, N. K. Devlin, A. LePage and Harry Redmile, and the floral remembrances and the large turnout of Kitchener people at the funeral bespoke a well deserved popularity. The funeral arrangements were in charge of J. A. Kennedy of Cranbrook, a long-time acquaintance of deceased.

"Jimmy" McGovern, as he is familiarly known, was the true type of Irish Genial, with a ready but kindly wit coupled with ability to interestingly discuss his travels and current events, earned for him a wide friendship, which was strengthened by a big heartedness for the unfortunate very many of whom were made to find life a little easier by the cheer so happily extended by the deceased.

Amongst those sending flowers were Dr. McKenzie, R. J. Forbes, Creston; Long family, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Allan, Erickson; Mount Baker Hotel, Cranbrook; Mr. and Mrs. Hunt and Clara, Mr. and Mrs. B. Johnson and family, Mr. and Mrs. N. K. Devlin, A. Howard; Harry Redmile, Thos. Thorson, Mr. and Mrs. A. LePage, Laura and Mildred Andeen, Mr. and Mrs. E. Drifill.

Demonstration Farm, Creston

Will be Supervised from Experimental Farm, Windermere—Cover Crop for Irrigated Land to Have Prominent Attention.

A demonstration farm, under the supervision of the Dominion Experimental Farm at Windermere, will be established in Creston Valley if favorable consideration is given recommendations that have been made to the department of agriculture at Ottawa by R. G. Newton, superintendent of the Windermere farm, and his assistant, L. M. Godfrey, who were here last week, and made a thorough investigation of the valley in this connection.

Not less than ten acres will be required for this work, which will be directly in charge of the owner of the land, who will work on a plan prepared and supervised by Mr. Godfrey, who has recently been transferred to Windermere to take charge of demonstration farm work in Kootenay, Boundary and the Okanagan.

At present there is only one such farm in Kootenay, and it is at Fernie. The proposal is to establish others at Creston, and on the Kootenay and Arrow Lakes, which would give a chain of them as they are already in operation at Salmon Arm, Armstrong, Lumby and Grand Forks.

At Creston special attention will be given to finding out what cover crop is best adapted to this area. Now that irrigation is available it is felt the irrigated land should produce a crop that would provide a first cutting for feed and still develop sufficiently well to be turned under later in the season for building up the land.

Some of the grain crops will be tried out in rotation, and alfalfa will receive full consideration. Being a fruit district it is the intention to give attention to berries as well as some of the tree fruits. If possible, vegetables will also receive attention.

The main idea of these illustration stations is, as the name suggests, an illustration or demonstration for the districts in which they are located. It is a forward step in linking the districts up with the Experimental Stations, in taking results obtained on those stations and applying them, with modifications if necessary, to suit the various districts. The close co-operation of all in the various districts is anticipated.

Mr. Godfrey has had previous experimental farm experience. He is a graduate of the agriculture branch of the B.C. University, and since leaving school has been at the experimental farm at Indian Head, Sask., as well as the federal experimental farm at Beaver Lodge, Alberta.

Relief Expenditures

It is now an assured fact that a very large sum of money will be expended by the Federal, Provincial and Municipal authorities throughout Canada in the provision of relief to people in need of such assistance during the next eight, ten or twelve months. Premier Bennett told Parliament that the situation in the Western Provinces, because of drouth and consequent crop failures, constituted a national emergency, while the unemployment situation, aggravated by the loss of purchasing power in the west, was more acute than ever.

As a result of this condition Mr. Bennett informed Parliament that a huge sum of money would be necessary in order to provide the relief required. How large a sum he did not attempt to estimate, but took the unusual step of asking for a "blank cheque"; in other words, any amount considered necessary with no limit whatever imposed. Parliament authorized the issue of such a cheque.

Unquestionably there is dire need for large expenditures for relief. They must be provided. No Canadian is prepared to see a fellow citizen suffer for lack of food, clothing, shelter or fuel, not to mention the possibility of dying from starvation or freezing to death. But while there are thousands of such wholly deserving cases, there are many people who can get along without relief assistance who will look upon the expenditure of large amounts of public money as just so much "easy" money and will be out to get their share of it.

Right at the outset it would be well if each and every Canadian taxpayer would get the fact firmly established in his mind that this is not "easy" money; that it is in reality the hardest kind of money,—borrowed money on which he will have to pay interest probably to the end of his days. It is his money and it is in his own interest, therefore, to see that not one dollar is wasted or unnecessarily expended.

It perhaps cannot be too often stressed that there is no magic source of money supply for governments, and, further, that governments are but committees of management administering what belongs to the people. Every dollar of this relief money must be borrowed; upon every dollar borrowed interest must be paid every year; every dollar of interest must be provided by the imposition of taxation upon the people; every dollar of taxation imposed constitutes a drag, a handicap, upon a rapid and complete return to better times, an overhead expense to be carried and paid for throughout the coming years by every business man, every farmer, every workman.

Therefore, every person unnecessarily demanding and unjustly receiving relief he can get along without, is prolonging the period during which the extension of relief to some will be necessary. Such persons may even be accentuating conditions which, in the long run, may force him into the position where he himself cannot exist without relief.

It is in the interests of one and all that relief expenditures be kept within bounds, held down to the actual needs of the situation, rigidly restricted to those who cannot possibly exist without some help.

Communities, as well as individuals, should not be cut to get as large an amount as they possibly can, but rather should be seeking out ways and means whereby they can get along with as little as possible in the way of relief expenditures. There are hundreds, yes, thousands of people, who by a little thought and self-sacrifice could help other people in this time of stress and emergency and thus appreciably reduce the number requiring public assistance. Many people who can afford to do so, and even some who can ill afford to do so, have in a sense "adopted" some out-of-work individual or family in need and, in many little ways, are making it possible for them to maintain themselves, with added confidence and self-reliance, thus reducing the demand upon public funds and checking the spread of "the spirit of the dole."

It is to be hoped for the sake of Canada of today and of the future that individuals, communities and municipalities alike will, for the most part, not be found boasting of how much they got in the way of relief, but rather will be pointing with pride to the fact that they were able to get along with so much less than others.

Gandhi As Social Reformer

Makes Plea On Behalf Of Millions Of Untouchables

Mahatma Gandhi, dedicating a new Hindu temple, described himself as neither saint nor politician but as social reformer.

"I take a thousand times greater interest in my work as a reformer than in politics," he said. "If I dabble in politics it is only to stimulate my social activities."

He pleaded that all Hindu temples should be thrown open to the country's 70,000,000 "untouchables," declaring that the sins, committed against these social outcasts by high caste Hindus had been responsible for India's failure to achieve self-government.

Brief Winter Cruises

Cunard Steamship "Mauretania" To Visit Mediterranean Ports

The largest passenger ship charter ever made by a steamship agency, which will send the giant trans-Atlantic Cunard liner "Mauretania" on five important cruises to the Mediterranean next winter, was announced by Ralph Dellevie, president of the National Tours. This enterprise, which surprises the steamship world by the daring and novelty of its programme, will involve financial transactions of a little less than $2,000,000.

The five cruises to the Mediterranean will be made in the extraordinarily short time of seventeen days. Previously for cruises of moderate length, the West Indies had been generally considered the only possible objective. Questioned on this point, Mr. Dellevie said yesterday:

The "Mauretania" is one of only three ships that can make this cruise. Because of her tremendous speed she will be able to cross the Atlantic and divide five full days among the exceptionally fascinating ports of the Mediterranean.

"These cruises are arranged for business men and women, including week-ends, the seventeen days occupied on any one of the trips is just about equivalent to the usual two weeks' vacation. There is no time wasted. The passengers will get to the sapphire blue waters of the greatest inland sea in a hurry, but they will have plenty of time to enjoy new climates and scenes before this great ship brings them back again to this side. They will cover three continents and four countries."

Minimum rates for the five Mediterranean cruises to be made by the big Cunarder will be $245.00 for the round trip. All passengers will be First Class and have the full run of the ship. The regular trans-Atlantic service, including a la carte menu in the dining room without extra charge, will be used on these cruises. A series of shore excursions will also be included in the stated price of the cruises.

Ports which the "Mauretania" will visit on her Mediterranean cruises will be Cadiz in Spain, Gibraltar, Algiers in North Africa and Villefranche on the French Riviera. A day will be spent at each port with the exception of Villefranche, where the "Mauretania" will anchor for two days to allow her passengers to visit the most fashionable of the famous Riviera resorts, including Monte Carlo, Nice and Cannes. The cruises will leave New York December 17th (Christmas and New Year's Cruise), January 8th, January 27th, February 15th, and March 6th.

Testing New Type Glider

Fitted with windmill vanes, made familiar by autogyros, a glider is being tested in Germany, with first reports indicating that the idea is successful. On a vertical post before the pilot's cockpit the vanes, like a large four-bladed propeller, all horizontal, are mounted. The craft's wings are slightly smaller than those of the ordinary motorless plane. The vanes are said to enable the glider to stay aloft in lighter winds than craft of this style.

Sells Cattle In England

Saskatchewan Farmer Makes Good Profit On Sale Of 55 Head

William "Bill" Porter, farmer of Wakaw, Sask., arrived recently at Ottawa from England, where he sold 55 head of cattle raised and fattened upon his own farm.

Mr. Porter brought along $1,300 in hard cash, being the difference between the British price for beef and the price at Winnipeg. By exporting to the Old Country he made just that much more money than he would have done if he had stayed at home and sold through the Winnipeg stockyards.

Hon. Robert Weir, Minister of Agriculture, referring to the Porter shipment, said that these cattle had arrived in England at a time when the market was flooded with Irish cattle. Otherwise Mr. Porter would have netted $2,000 instead of $1,300 above Winnipeg prices.

These cattle averaged 1,070 lbs., fifteen of the lightest animals brought a peak price of £26 3s. per head. The Minister remarked that Porter's was one of the best finished shipments to leave this country. The gain of $1,300, he said, was calculated after all expenses of the trip to England had been deducted.

"There is no market in the Old Country," said Mr. Weir, "for our really poor cattle. If cattle are below the two top grades the British people prefer to buy Argentine beef."

Famed Indian Scientist

Einstein Of the East Lives In Poverty Among His Own People

Sir Chandrasekhara Raman, "Einstein of the East," whom the west sought out as the recipient of the Nobel prize in physics, has been deluged with invitations from all over the world to lecture, and recently another came from California. But the Indian scientist is too poor to travel.

He has no laboratory and only the most limited library. The man who has been honoured by a dozen foreign countries with medals and degrees lives in relative obscurity and comparative poverty among his own people.

His home is a small dark flat in the poorest quarter of Calcutta. The room in which he made his discoveries concerning the nature of light has a stone floor, a leaky ceiling and bare walls, but visitors forget the shabby surroundings in his vivid personality.

Sir Chandrasekhara is only 43, tall and broad-shouldered, with a slight stoop. He dresses in the European style, with a white turban his only concession to the native custom.

"I have little or no means of continuing my own studies," he said, "and unhappily there is little realization in my country of the importance of research, although it is remarkable that the greatest contributions to science in India have been made by Indians who had no foreign training."

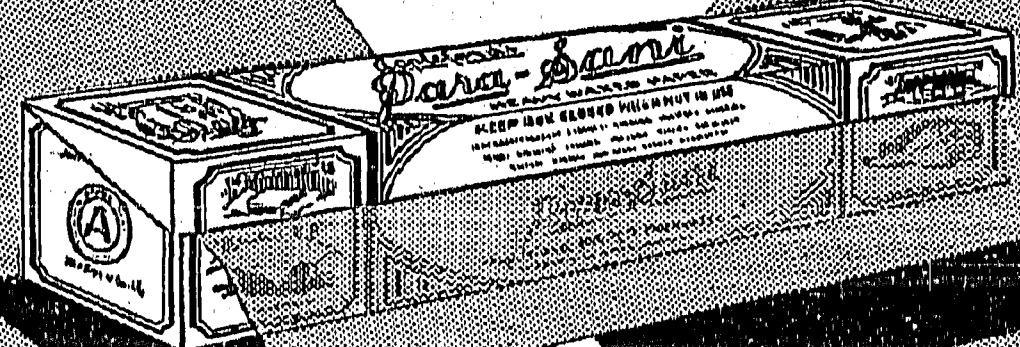

Like Einstein, to whom he often is compared, this Indian physicist is a master of the violin, on the technique of which he has written several books.

The Mother of Seven Children Used It for Diarrhoea

Mrs. Ray Drinkwater, R.R. No. 2, Hagersville, Ont., writes:—"I am the mother of seven children, and last summer one of them, 17 months old, was taken very sick with diarrhoea, and I thought she was going to die."

"My husband went 7 miles to see what my sister had given her baby, and he came home with a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. I gave the child a few doses and she was soon well again."

"My other children also had diarrhoea at that time and I gave them 'Dr. Fowler's' with the same results."

TWO VESSELS ARE CHARTERED FOR H. B. TEST

Montreal, Que.—Two tramp steamers will load approximately half a million bushels of heavy grain, probably wheat, at Churchill, Man., between September 15 and 25, 1931. Arrangements have been completed by the Dominion Government for a trial shipment from the Hudson Bay port to Europe this year and a charter certificate has been prepared by Thomas Harling and Son, Montreal, who carried out negotiations.

The S.S. Warkworth, Wentworth and Farnworth, owned by the Dalgliesh Steam Shipping Co., Ltd., have been selected, though no decision has been made as to which two of these three will actually make the trip. The Warkworth has a net register of 4,944 tons, the Farnworth, 4,941, and the Wentworth, 5,212. They have been chartered to load 5,800 tons of grain, with an allowance of five per cent. either way, and will probably take on approximately 7,000 tons each, or a little more than 500,000 bushels. The first steamer will load between September 15 and 20 and the second between September 20 and 25.

In making the arrangements it was recognized that an experiment was being carried out and an experimental rate quoted accordingly. As there was no precedent on which to base any quotation, it was decided that the through rate from Fort William to London via Montreal should be applied to the northern route. The charter between shipper and ship-owner was fixed at three shillings, nine pence a quarter of 480 pounds, which compares with a rate of one shilling, six pence prevailing at present from Montreal to London. The rate from Fort William to Montreal is approximately six cents a bushel, or seven cents, with insurance and storage.

The rate of 3s. 9d. per quarter takes into consideration the hull insurance to be paid by the ship-owner to his underwriters, which is expected to work out at approximately 3½ per cent., or 50 shilling per hundred pounds sterling on the value of the ship and two shillings a ton on the gross registered tonnage. This compares with ¼ of one per cent. or one shilling, six pence per £100 and 1s. 6d. on the gross registered tonnage for vessels using the St. Lawrence route.

Should these two shipments prove successful it is probable that a definite competitive rate will be arranged for next season, when the elevator at Churchill is expected to be in full operation.

The charter certificate stipulates that the vessels to be used this year shall be completely filled on their arrival at Churchill and ready to load, as no facilities for such a purpose are yet available there.

Rich Gold Discovery

Spectacular Gold Strike Made At Red Lake, Ont.

Stouffville, Ont.—Discovery of a rich vein of gold, said to be one of the most spectacular gold strikes ever made in Ontario, is reported here. The strike was made at Red Lake on an island four miles from the Howey gold mines.

News of the discovery was confirmed by J. A. Munroe, who made the find himself, and who flew out from Red Lake by aeroplane. Although its extent has not yet been discovered, progress to date gives indications of a valuable strike.

One wall of the vein has been uncovered for a distance of 750 feet, and six pits have been sunk, varying from six feet to 15 feet in depth. Visible gold exists in each pit. Prospectors are heading a rush to the surrounding district to stake available land.

Canada Will Observe Fish Week

Montreal, Que.—Canada's fish week will be observed from September 13 to 19, it was announced by A. H. Brittain, president of the Canadian Fisheries Association. This year, as in the past, the co-operation of both Federal and Provincial Governments would be secured, said Mr. Brittain.

Long Motor Trip

Italians Plan Trip From New York To Rome By Car

Ottawa, Ont.—Bound from New York to Rome by automobile, via Nome, Alaska and across the icy stretches of Bering Strait, three New York Italians have left Ottawa for Toronto. From there they plan to drive to Sault Ste. Marie, Duluth, Winnipeg and across the prairies to Nome. If accomplished, the trip will be the longest ever made by automobile.

The intrepid motorists are Giuseppe Vada, the leader of the expedition; Emilio Miani and Antonio David. At Nome they will pick up specially constructed wheels to use later on the rails of the Trans-Siberian Railway.

One of the most difficult parts of their journey will be the drive across the ice of the Bering Strait. When they reach East Cape, Siberia, they will go to Irkutsk, covering some 2,500 miles of unexplored trackless waste lands. From Irkutsk they will proceed to Khabarovsk, where they will change the wheels of their car, travelling on rails as far as Moscow. From Moscow they will go to Rome by way of Germany and Switzerland. They expect to take 18 months to complete the journey.

Cattle Shipped North

Shortage Of Hay On Indian Reserves In Qu'Appelle Valley

Regina, Sask.—Owing to the shortage of hay on the Qu'Appelle Valley Indian reserves, northeast of Regina, Indian cattle will be shipped to reserves in the vicinity of Battleford to spend the winter, according to W. M. Graham, Indian Commissioner.

Reserves in the Battleford area have an abundance of hay, Mr. Graham said, and about 25 Indians of the Regina district have been sent north to assist in the cutting.

Three cars of horses and one car of mowers and other implements have also been sent to the Battleford area.

It is the intention of the Indian officials, Mr. Graham said, owing to the shortage of hay on reserves near Regina, to ship the cattle to the Mosquito and Red Pasant reserves, in the northern part of the province, where they will be wintered.

Early Navigation Of Straits

Season Of Navigation In H.B. Straits Three Weeks Earlier This Year

Ottawa, Ont.—The season of navigation in Hudson Straits this year is at least three weeks ahead of any of the preceding five years that the Marine Department have been undertaking detailed observations on navigation conditions in those waters. This information is contained in a report from Captain Balcom, of the C.G.S. "N. B. McLean," Hudson Straits breaker, to Hon. A. Durand, Minister of Marine.

The "N. B. McLean" entered Hudson Straits on July 13, and at this moment is engaged in landing supplies at the radio direction finding station at Nottingham Island at the Hudson Bay end of the Straits. She will remain in the straits until the close of navigation.

Average Yield Less

Government Report Estimates Average Spring Wheat Yield

Ottawa, Ont.—The crop report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics estimates the average yield per acre for spring wheat at 54 as compared with 100, the long term average since records were first collected. The report is based on conditions as of July 31 last. In a former report, based on conditions on June 30, the average yield was placed at 56 so that conditions have fallen off two points during the month. Last year on July 31 the condition was estimated as 65. In the prairie provinces the percentage in Manitoba for spring wheat is placed at 56, in Saskatchewan at 42, and in Alberta at 17, all based on conditions as of July 1.

German Invited To Conference

Basel, Switzerland.—A conference at which the entire problem of credits to Germany can be clarified was decided upon by the committee of experts presided over by Albert H. Wiggin, of New York, and invitations were sent to the Reichbank president, Hans Luther, and to interested German and foreign banks to come to Basel.

RETURNS TO PREMIERSHIP

Hon. J. D. Stewart, Conservative leader in Prince Edward Island, who returns to the Premiership after four years in opposition. His party won 18 seats and the Liberals 12.

High Protein Content

Manitoba Wheat Has Higher Than Usual Percentage This Year

Winnipeg, Man.—A higher than usual percentage of protein content in the wheat crop of Manitoba is indicated by Dr. F. J. Birchard at the research laboratory of the Board of Grain Commissioners here.

The tests record 18.3 per cent. maximum as compared with 14.5 last year, and the average 12.25 as compared with 11.15 in 1930.

Drouth conditions, states Dr. Birchard, have doubtless been the main factor in producing this very strong wheat.

Tests of Saskatchewan and Alberta wheat have not been made yet.

Good Wishes For Exhibition

Prince Of Wales Expresses Hope That Toronto Exhibition Will Be Success

London, England.—The Prince of Wales has expressed the hope that despite the depression the forthcoming Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto would prove a great success. The Prince, who is honorary patron of the exhibition, sent a wire to Earl Jellicoe, admiral of the fleet and head of the British Service League, who is to formally open the 1931 exhibition.

Earl Jellicoe read the message from the Prince at a luncheon at which the earl was guest of honor.

Market For Canadian Malt

Ottawa, Ont.—Successful experiments conducted by breweries in the republics of Panama and Colombia, with Canadian barley malt makes possible the development of an extensive market in those countries for Canadian barley. J. A. Strong, Canadian Trade Commissioner at Panama City, reports that similar experiments are to be undertaken by breweries in Venezuela.

Drive Against Communism

Five Alleged Leaders Of Communist Organization Are In Custody

Toronto, Ont.—With the arrest by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in Vancouver, B.C., of Malcolm L. Bruce and Samuel Cohen, alias Samuel Carr, five alleged leaders, or "key men," of the Communist organization in Canada are in custody of the authorities.

Bruce is a former editor of "The Worker," a Communist paper. He is 54 years of age and was born in Prince Edward Island. He is a carpenter and has lived in Los Angeles, Cal., and various cities of Canada. In May, 1923, he was charged with sedition in connection with the Besco disturbance in Cape Breton.

Cohen is 24 years of age, an accomplished linguist and platform speaker. He has recently been engaged in an extensive tour of western Canada.

Other leaders under arrest in the present campaign against Communism and Communist literature by the Ontario Provincial Government are Tim Buck of Toronto, political secretary of the organization in Canada, John Boychuk, Toronto organizer among Ukrainians and Mike Golinsky of Calgary. All three appeared in the Toronto police court and were remanded. Substantial bail was demanded.

Pawnshop Authorized

By Montreal Officials

Percentage Of Profits Will Be Donated To Charity

Montreal, Ont.—Establishment of a pawnshop under civic patronage has been authorized by the municipal authorities here. The city entered upon a contract with an incorporated firm, authorizing this company to open one or more pawnshops for one year. The company agreed to give the city 10 per cent. of the proceeds of its business.

The money given to the city, fixed at a minimum of $1,200 a year, will be donated to charity.

The reason behind the move, it was explained, was that many people were in need of money but were hesitant about approaching an ordinary pawnshop. With civic protection and guarantees, these people would be assured of fair treatment and security.

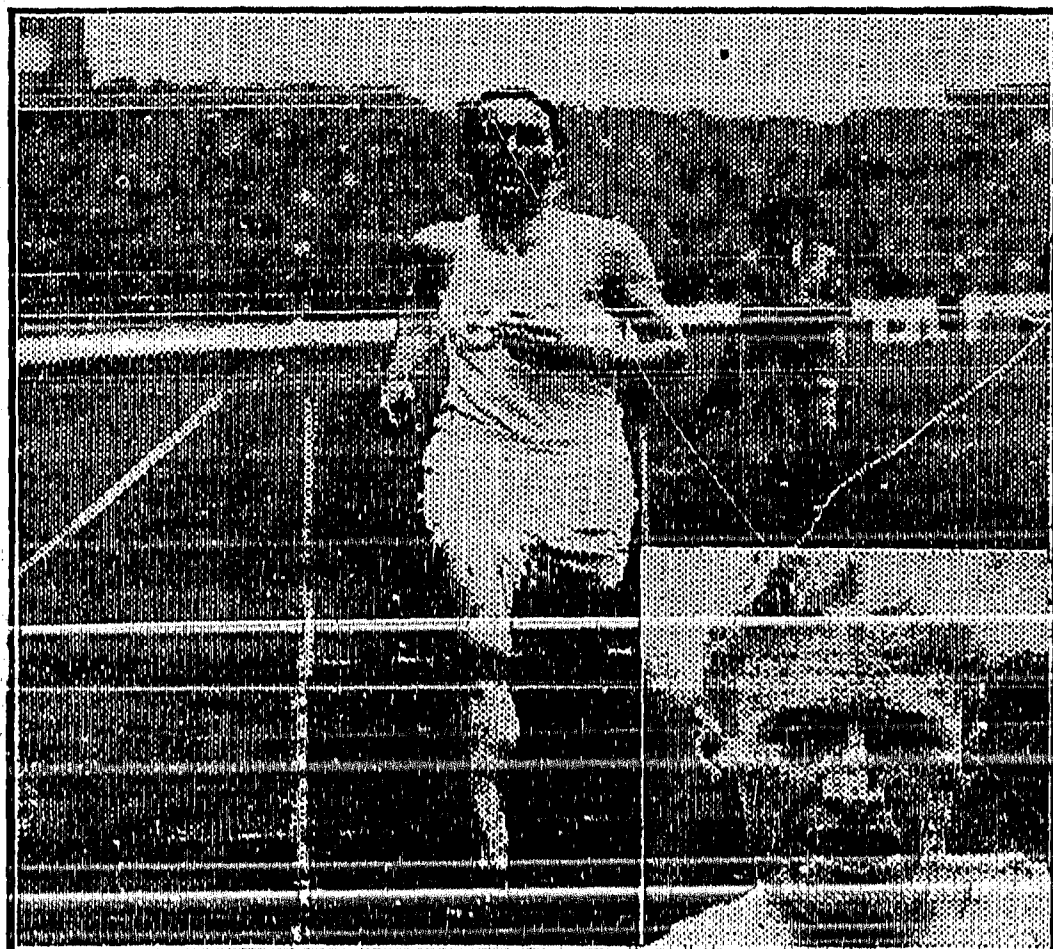

Aviators Are Held

Pangborn and Herndon In Difficulties At Tokyo

London, England.—A Reuter's dispatch from Tokyo said the public prosecutor there had decided to order the confinement of Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon, Jr., United States aviators, pending the outcome of an investigation of charges that they flew over fortified areas in Japan without permission.

The two flyers, who failed in an attempt to set a new speed record around the world, have been undergoing questioning by Japanese officials for several days.

BRITISH ATHLETES GIVE GOOD DISPLAY

Although the Oxford and Cambridge athletes went down to defeat in the international meet with Harvard and Yale Universities of the United States, above are two Englishmen who gave a good account of themselves. Above is W. Denison, of Cambridge, breaking the tape at the end of the three-mile race which he won, while below is Goodwillie, of Oxford, who turned back strong opposition to win both the 100 and 220 yard events, a remarkable feat.

WHEAT EXPORTS PROVE GREATER THAN LAST YEAR

Fort William, Ont.—The unrevised estimate of export clearances of Canadian wheat for the crop year ending July 31, 1931, places the amount at 235,898,747 bushels, according to the report for July issued by E. A. Ursell, statistician to the Board of Grain Commissioners. "When final figures are available it will be seen that the past year's exports of wheat and wheat flour will be around 75,000,000 bushels more than during the previous year, the report states.

The report states that the amount of wheat in store, afloat and in transit, not including amounts in farmers' hands, is 119,279,545 bushels, compared with 115,524,660 at the end of the 1930 crop year. "The last month," the report continues, "appears to have been generally unfavorable to the Canadian grain trade and produce."

The report remarks that final figures for the crop year on wheat in store will not differ greatly to those in the previous year "unless quantities in farmers' hands are largely in excess of last year's total."

Refuse To Register Orientals

Will Not Qualify Under Relief Plan In British Columbia

Vancouver, B.C.—Destitute Orientals must fend for themselves this winter, it was stated here.

Reports that the Federal and Provincial Governments have refused to contribute toward their keep were verified by J. H. McVety, superintendent of the employment service of Canada, and City Relief Officer H. W. Cooper. They stated they had been ordered to refuse to register all Orientals presenting themselves for listing under government unemployment relief schemes.

Mr. McVety said that the employment service had already registered a few. Col. Cooper reported that his officials had been obliged to refuse registration of five Japanese.

A third interest in the proposed flight, which will take place "within two weeks," is included.

The flight is to be made in a cabin plane flown by an experienced pilot, the advertisement states, giving no details of the identity of the sponsors of the flight.

Cardinal To Resign

Cardinal Pacelli May Resign As Papal Secretary Of State

Vatican City.—Semi-official confirmation of reports that Cardinal Pacelli is to resign as papal secretary of state came from the Vatican.

He has sought the Pope's permission it was said, but the Pontiff asked him to wait until the difficulties with Italy over the Catholic Action organization are settled.

It is believed that some sort of accord on that issue will have been reached by autumn and that the cardinal will retire from his office in November or December.

Must Defer Western Trip

Ottawa, Ont.—Owing to the intensity of the parliamentary session, Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Fisheries, has found it necessary to defer until next summer his journey to Pacific Coast Fisheries. A GOSPEL FOR ALL MEN

Golden Text: "There is no distinction between Jew and Greek: for the same Lord is Lord of all, and is rich unto all that call upon Him."—Romans 10:12.

Lesson: Acts 10.1 to 11.18; Corinthians 1.23-25.

Devotional Reading: Isaiah 11.1-5.

Explanations and Comments

The Church At Jerusalem Disapproves Of Peter's Deed, 11.1-4.—The apostles and the brethren at Jerusalem heard that Peter had preached to Gentiles in Caesarea, and on his return to Jerusalem they rebuked him, not for the preaching, but for having gone into the house of Gentiles and eaten with them—the scandal of it! "You went into men uncircumcised and ate with them!" they exclaimed with horror. Up to this time Peter's authority had been unquestioned. It must have cut him to the quick to have his actions challenged. He did not quail, but justified his conduct, explaining the occurrences to them just as they had happened.

Peter's Account Of His Vision and Its Lesson, 11.5-10.—Webster defines the trance as "a state in which the soul seems to have passed out of the body into another state of being, or to be wrapped in visions; an ecstasy." It was while Peter was praying in the City of Joppa that he fell into a trance and had a vision by which God taught him a great truth.

In his vision Peter saw a receptacle somewhat resembling a great sheet held up by the four corners, which was let down from heaven toward him. "The vision was evidently in its form and in its direction the result of previous natural circumstances. The death of Stephen must have had its effect on the apostle's mind. That truth for which he died, the transient character of Judaism, must have suggested strange new thoughts to be pondered on and doubted.

In the receptacle Peter saw all manner of beasts and creeping things and birds, and he heard a voice bidding him rise, kill and eat. ("In the East the flesh-meat, which is never hung for days, like ours, is put in a great iron cooking-pot whilst the carcass is still warm, as indicated in this command.")

A voice spoke a second time out of heaven, and the message was: "What God hath cleansed make not thou common." "The vision might have been taken simply to mean that the Mosaic regulations as to meats were to be abolished in order that Jews and Gentiles might associate and eat together; but it had a deeper and wider significance—that no human creature was to be regarded as common or unclean, for God is no respecter of persons, 10.34. And this was done thrice; and all were drawn up again into heaven.

Peter's Account Of His Putting the Vision Into Practice, 11.11, 12.—Just at this juncture three men stood before the house and the Spirit bade Peter go with them.

"One of the great secrets of spiritual progress is to discern what the Holy Spirit's errand is for us in the immediate task. We must submit the present moment to His counsels. We must not dwell in some remote morrow and overlook the privilege that is near. As God gives us daily bread He also confers upon us a daily mission."—J. H. Jowett.

Peter's Account Of His Reception, 11.13, 14.—Cornelius explained to Peter how he, a proud Roman, had sent for a Jew to enlighten him. An angel had come to him and bade him send to Joppa for Peter, who would tell him how he and all his house might be saved. Cornelius was a God-fearing proselyte who observed the Jewish hours of prayer, and whose prayers and alms were acceptable to God, 10.1-4. He was living in the best way he knew; he was not far from the kingdom.

"God's angels wait for an open door. They find it when the soul becomes devout, the life charitable, and the spirit prayerful."—Samuel King.

The Holy Spirit Given To the Gentiles and They are Baptized, verses 15-17.—Peter preached unto them Jesus (read Acts 10.34-43), and God's approval marked his words: "The Holy Spirit fell on them, even as on us at the beginning" [at Pentecost].

The ADVENTURES of CAPTAIN JIMMY and his Dog SCOTTIE

WHAT CAME BEFORE:—Captain Jimmy and his friend, Lieut. Jed Stone, plan to rescue Guy Stone, Jed's younger brother from the cruel Chinese bandits. Disguising their plane as a dragon, they raid the bandits' camp.

I searched hurriedly through the deserted tents for Guy. A few hundred feet away Lieut. Jed Stone stood guard with his terrible dragon plane gleaming like lightning in the darkness. From the rim of the dark forest the bandits rifles flashed and stray bullets rained about the camp. Jed returned their fire with bursts from his machine gun.

Tat-tat-tat. Tat-tat-tat. And the echoes resounded a hundred times from the black mountain cliffs. Adding to the terror of the situation the thunder which rumbled in the distance now rolled up overhead with a muffled roar.

Flashlight in hand I searched. The tents were in the utmost confusion. Dirty cooking utensils, fragments of cooked food were all strewn about in helter skelter fashion. The air was close and hot. Scottie sniffed and sneezed, with disapproval.

No sign of Guy Stone in the first tent. We ducked under the back wall and made for the next one. As we ran across the open space a rifle went "Crack!" and I was whipped by my arm. Those bandits were better shots than most Chinese.

From tent to tent we went, and each time we showed ourselves, a sniper's bullet went. The air was close and hot. I had searched the last tent without success, and turned to go, heartbroken.

Scottie was sniffing at a heap of rags. He wouldn't budge away, and continued pawing at the rags and howling to himself. I turned my flashlight on the tent, and there at the very bottom, more dead than alive, was Guy Stone.

Cutting his bonds, I shook him well to bring back circulation into his numb arms and legs. Then I helped him from tent to tent. Each time we showed ourselves, we were greeted with a regular fusillade of shots. The bandits, enraged at losing their captives were growing bolder and creeping closer. Jed rushed to meet us, and in a moment we lifted Guy into the plane. Boosting Scottie over into the cockpit I followed the two brothers, and in another moment we were rushing down the field.

A group of bandits, headed by the Chief, broke from the cover of the woods, firing as they came. Realizing that they had been duped by our dragon, their rage knew no bounds. They planned to riddle our plane as we passed.

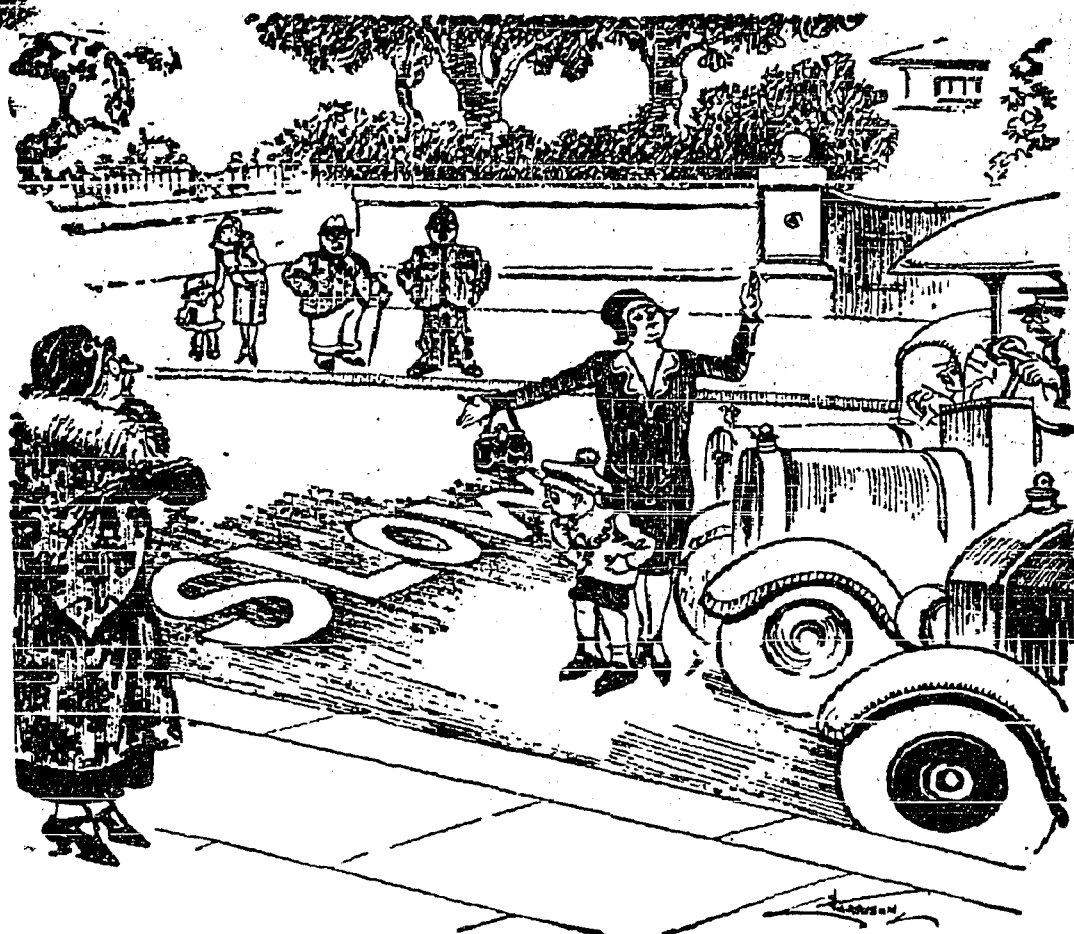

The storm which had held in check, now broke. Amid the crash of thunder, the rain came down in sheets. Then Jed turned loose his machine gun.

Stopping in their tracks, the bandits turned and made for the woods as fast as they could run.

Give her the gas," said Stone. And I did. Whirr—bump—bump—bump. It wasn't the smoothest place in the world to take off, but we weren't spending much time picking and choosing that night.

Off the ground we went. Higher and higher. Soon we sailed far above the valley, and passed through the storm out into bright, clear moonlight. We were soaking wet, but happy. After midnight. We landed in a banana grove. General Lee sent for us in haste. What had happened? (To Be Continued.)

Prince Albert National Park

Proposal To Build Telephone Line To Saskatchewan Summer Resort

Erection of 22 miles of telephone line to connect Paddockwood with the boundary of Prince Albert National Park will be undertaken by the Department of Telephones, thus making telephone facilities available to the permanent residents and tourists registered in the park, said Hon. J. F. Bryant, Minister of Public Works and Minister of Telephones, who returned recently from a tour of the northern part of the province.

This development will be made contingent upon the decision of the federal government to build a connecting line from the boundary of the park to Waskasieu camp, and turn it over to the provincial government for operation, free of charge, Mr. Bryant said.

Important Mineral Discovery

Extensive Find Of Gold, Silver and Lead Outcroppings In Saskatchewan

An extensive find of gold, silver and lead outcroppings has been made by G. W. Seeley, of Flat Valley, in the Lac des Isles district, Saskatchewan, which is considered to be of great potential wealth. Samples of the ore were brought to Saskatoon by Mr. Seeley, and have been submitted to the University of Saskatchewan for assay. Lac des Isles is in section 63 near the Alberta boundary.

Great interest is being taken in the find by the Department of Natural Resources officials at Regina. While in Saskatoon Premier Anderson took the opportunity of looking over Mr. Seeley's samples.

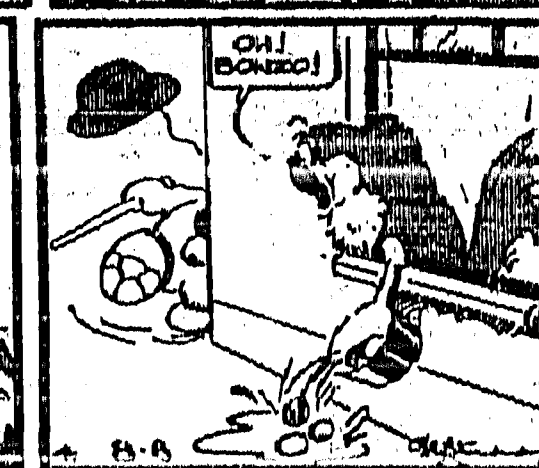

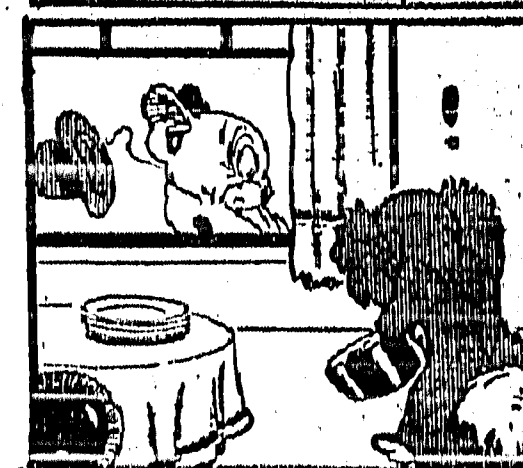

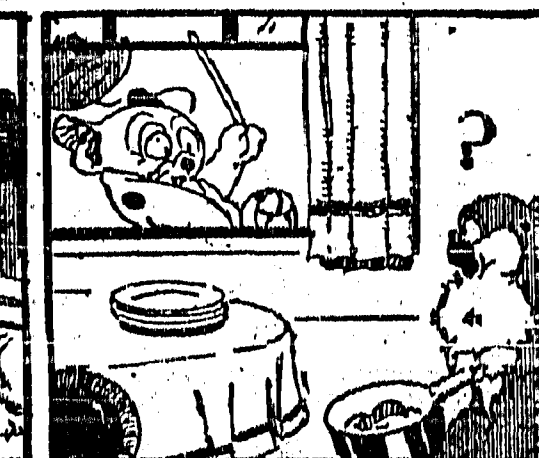

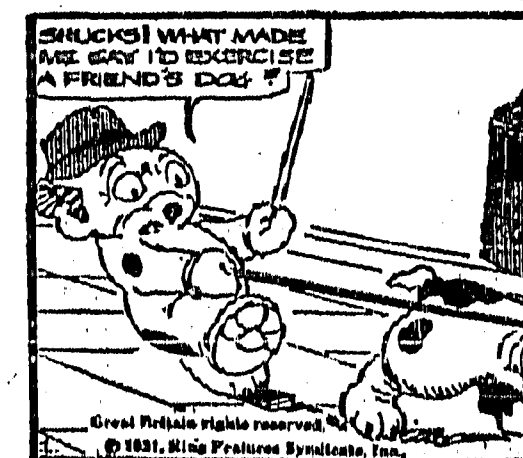

Mr. Seeley, who has been prospecting in this district for several years, is confident that the find is an important one. He said the outcroppings show considerable gold-bearing qualities, and that from tests he made on a cross-cut section of the ore-bearing rock that it is a deep seam.

The ore-bearing lode runs for a distance of twenty by six or seven miles, and the outcroppings throughout the area all show a uniform ore-bearing content.

He moved away, while Angela threw her husband a look of dread. He put a hand on her shoulder.

"Steady," he said quietly. "That's over. Everything's all right."

He might have been reassuring a frightened child. With a sense of rebellion Angela realized it, and realized also that he could calm her as could no one else. It made her suddenly furious that she should be dependent on James Halliday for anything.

She glanced at Nick, who, gazing across the water, was apparently oblivious of the storm that was brewing behind him. How tall, and straight, and handsome he was, she thought. And how impossible she had found it to make the sort of impression on him that she had made so easily on others. What was the thing that kept kept her at arm's length from him? That kiss should have finished him! Never before had Angela offered her lips without an invitation.

She breathed deeply, so deeply that her husband glanced at her. She was thinking: "It was the hurricane that made the trouble. It drove me out of his mind, just as I was making an impression. Everything is against me—always has been. Why on earth did those silly-Ashleys need to kill themselves? It wasn't my fault; yet Jim blames me—holds it over me like a whip whenever I look at another man. I can see his eyes now—the way they looked when that horrid maid rushed in with the news of the suicides. They burned me like hot coals. Is he so perfect that he should look at me like that? Oh, if I could make him suffer a small part of what I suffered then, but—"

Nick turned. He had evidently been thinking to some purpose as he gazed out to sea. "Angela," he said quietly, "there's something I want to ask you before I leave the boat tomorrow morning. This is a good time as any, I suppose. Would you mind telling me if you had this letter before you came to Kingston to ask me to go on the cruise?"

He had taken a sheet of crumpled paper from his pocket and handed it to her.

Halliday's glance was puzzled.

Angela took the paper and smoothed it out. She was thinking: "It must have dropped out of my pocket when I was walking." She said, a trifle scornfully: "Are you in the habit of reading other people's mail?"

If she expected the taunt to hurt, she was disappointed. Nick met her eyes unflinching.

"When a man finds an open letter on an uninhabited island, and at first glance sees his wife's name, he would, I think, be superhuman if he didn't read it. Remember too, that the letter had no beginning and no end. Until I read it I could hardly return it to the owner. After I read it, I knew, of course, who the owner was. What I ask you is—did you know it was my duty to go home when you urged me to take this trip?"

"Duty?"

She shrugged in a way that stirred Nick's anger, but he said quietly: "I think duty's the right word, though I shouldn't have thought of it as a duty, had I known I was needed."

"Needed?" She raised her eyebrows. Her tone was tantalizing. "Needed in what way?"

"If it's not in you to understand,—"
— Nick began hotly; but she interrupted him.

"Perhaps it's not. I never had a child. My husband, you see, prefers to pick his children out of the gutter."

"Angela!" warned Halliday, his voice like steel.

"Did you have that letter before you urged me to go?" Nick persisted doggedly, unmindful of Halliday's warning glance.

Angela arose, and faced him. Halliday too, arose, as if fearful of some explosion, his anxious eyes on her face.

"Angela," he said again, "be careful. This is no place for a scene. Don't lose your temper."

"Temper!" The warning came too late. "Be careful what you say, and how you catechise me, you virtuous married men. Look here, Nick Hastings, you act like a prosecuting attorney but if you'd stop and ask yourself a few questions—ask why your wife kept that secret from you as if it were something shameful—you'll have other things to think of besides that ridiculous letter from Julie Nipps. You're innocent as a baby; but you won't be innocent when I'm through with you. I—"

"Stop!" commanded Halliday sternly. "Do you want the whole ship to hear? Stop at once, and think what your temper has cost before. Remember the Ashleys. It was because you were angry with me that you kept him out all night. Think—"

She turned on him furiously.

"Oh, I've thought, and thought, and thought, and I've seen things you never meant me to see. You'll confess now, you hypocrite. You'll tell Nick Hastings why you've been sneaking back to Bakersville every week, pretending that you went to see that little gutter-snipe. You'll tell him why you went at a time of day when he'd be busy at the bank. You'll tell him how crazy you are about his precious wife—and you'll tell who's the father of that baby that's coming in September. You—"

"Take that back!"

Nick was facing her—his eyes ablaze—one finger pointing straight at her in a way that looked, to her suddenly terrified eyes, as deadly as the barrel of an automatic. In one sickening moment she realized that her temper had run away with her again—that she had gone too far. Panic was already seizing her, as Nick repeated, with a deadly quietness that was more stirring than her own anger:

"Take that back! If you weren't a woman I'd throw you to the sharks. Go below. Go now. And stay there—until I've left this boat."

For a moment Angela paused, literally frozen with surprise. Then, strangely, she who had never obeyed anything but her own will, turned and fled. One look she cast behind, only to meet Nick's furious eyes, and that terrible finger pointing its scorn. Halliday stood like statue, not seeming to move an eyelash till the sound of his wife's feet on the stairs had ceased. Then Nick said, and his voice shook: "Perhaps—I owe you an apology—for speaking to your wife like that; but—"

"No, my friend—she gave you the right."

Halliday's voice was queer, and cracked, and lifeless. He had to clear his throat before he added: "Sit down, Hastings, I can't stand up. These scenes—they take something out of me that I can't get back; and this—there isn't never been anything like this. As to that hideous accusation of Mrs. Halliday's—"

"Don't speak of it—ever again."

Nick's voice was hoarse. He was shivering from head to foot.

"Do you think I don't trust my wife? Do you think I'd demean her by listening to an explanation? Do you think that I don't trust you, Halliday—that I've forgotten that you asked me no questions that dreadful time when Mrs. Halliday and I were out all night? And do you think for a minute that even should you tell me it were true, I would believe you? If you do—you don't know Gay."

His eyes met Halliday's, and the older man saw there something he had seen but once before, on the night when Gay had said, lifting her own wonderful eyes to his: "No harm will ever come to your wife through Nick, Mr. Halliday. Whatever's happened—it won't be—that."

Trust—that was it. Complete and abiding trust. To few is it given, perhaps. To James Halliday the sight of it—the knowledge that such a thing existed, had changed and beautified a world that was becoming a place of bitterness and gall. For a moment he closed his eyes, seeing Gay's face in the moonlight, as he had seen it the night before he came away—feeling again the soft touch of her hands against his lips. He arose wearily, drawing a deep breath. He seemed suddenly to have aged, and his voice shook.

"We have brought you nothing but trouble, Hastings. We bring trouble to everyone we touch."

He turned with dragging step and went below, looking down at Angela, who lay huddled in her berth. Her back was toward him, and she made no sign to show her knowledge of his presence; but Halliday knew, from her relaxed attitude, that the storm was over.

He stooped, laying a hand upon her shoulder—that steady hand which, unknown to herself, she had grown to depend on in times like this. When he spoke, his words brought to the listening woman a sense of intolerable desolation.

"Angela," he said, so gently that she knew there was no anger—only sorrow behind the words, "I have had, I think, a fair measure of patience all these years; but there's a limit, you know, to the things one can forget, and—and forgive—and go on living with. You overstepped that limit when, knowing me as you do, you accused me of any such dastardly affair. I think—I fear—that we have reached the parting of the ways."

She sprang up, for once unmindful of her rumpled gown—her disheveled hair. She grasped his hand, clutching it in fear—holding it against her breast with trembling fingers.

"No—no! You don't mean that, Jim. You can't mean that! What—what should I do alone?"

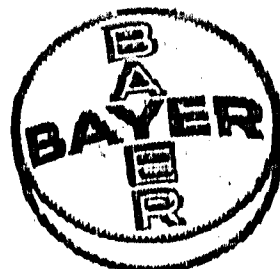

It was the first time she had ever voiced her need of him, yet it left him cold. Quietly, gently, Halliday unclasped the fingers that held his hand, and turning, went out and closed the door.

Made in Canada

Never Too Old To Learn

Anyone In Reasonably Sound Health Competent To Fly Airplane

Captain J. W. C. Martyr, a retired officer of the British Navy, took lessons in flying recently and his instructor told him he was proficient to attempt the test for a class "A" pilot's license. Captain Martyr tried and passed. He is 76 years of age.

There are many British pilots between the ages of 17 and 70. One of the 17 years old pilots was a competent airman at 14, but 17 is the age limit for obtaining a certificate so far as youth is concerned. But apparently there is no limit to the age at the other end of the scale.

It would seem that any man or woman in reasonably sound health is competent to fly an airplane.

There are many people today who never dreamed they would ever drive an automobile. When cars came out they seemed difficult things to manage, and they were really a job for competent engineers. But cars have been so simplified that any child or old person is able to handle them.

And although there are many people, even among the young generation, who never dream that they will pilot an airplane, engineers are making these machines so simple to handle, and almost fool-proof so far as accidents from faulty handling are concerned, that the time may come when they will drive airplanes with as much nonchalance as they drive automobiles today.

One of the wonders of engineering science is the way highly complicated and powerful machines are made to be the toy of anyone who learns how to manipulate a few levers and wheels.

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

THE PROMISE

I am so sure of joys
Which some day must be mine.
I do not doubt them any more
Than that the sun will shine.

A still voice sings within,
Sings on and will not cease,
And something in its measures brings
A surety of peace.

The bridge of care leads on
To meadows of delight;
Though straight the way I journey
now,
My wings are preened for flight.

I know the spring returns
When surly winter goes,
And so my soul denies defeat
Through its December snows.

The Last Asthma Attack may really be the last one if prompt measures are taken. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy will safeguard you. It will penetrate to the smallest bronchial passage and bring about a healthy condition. It always relieves and its continued use often has a permanent effect. Why not get this long-famous remedy to-day and commence its use? Inhaled as smoke or vapour it is equally effective.

Prince Selling New Line

Now Interested In Disposal Of Airplanes In South America

The Prince of Wales is busy in an after-sales campaign with Latin America, and Britain is cheering him and aiding him in his determined efforts.

His latest move is to boost and help demonstrate British aeroplanes to Colonel Don Arthur Merino, assistant air minister of Chile.

Speaking Spanish and handling the controls, Britain's crack salesman impresses prospective buyers with his personality which in turn inspires confidence in his product.

During the weeks since his return from his Latin-American tour the Prince has held numerous conferences with South American diplomats and prominent business men. Almost weekly he entertains some official stationed in London.

Had Their Own

"Yes," said the boastful young man, "my family can trace its ancestry back to William the Conqueror."

"I suppose," sneered his friend, "you'll be telling us that your ancestors were in the Ark with Noah."

"Certainly not," said the boaster. "My people had a boat of their own."

HE COULDN'T READ FOR INDIGESTION

"For some years previous to 1922 I was subject to indigestion, with headaches and thousands of stars sparkling in my eyes, which prevented me from reading. I decided to try Kruschen Salts. That was August, 1922, and I have taken a little in my first morning cup of tea ever since. I now eat anything, and am entirely free from indigestion or 'stars.'—F. C."

Now let it be said quite definitely, that what Kruschen did for him, it will do for everybody else who suffers from indigestion as he did. The fact is that "the little daily dose" first stimulates the flow of gastric juices to aid digestion, and then ensures complete, regular, and unfailing elimination of all waste matter every day.

Soon after you start on Kruschen you will begin to feel the benefit. You will find to your satisfaction that you are able to enjoy your food without any distressing after-effects. And, as you persevere, you will see that the relief which Kruschen brings is lasting relief.

Little Helps For This Week

"Faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen."—Hebrews xi. 1.

Strong Son of God, immortal Love,
Whom we that have not seen Thy face,

By faith and faith alone, embrace,
Believing where we cannot prove.

We have but faith; we cannot know,
For knowledge is of things we see;
And yet we trust it comes from Thee,

A beam in darkness; let it grow.—Alfred Tennyson.

Without faith a man's future is dark and gloomy. The man of true faith never desponds. Faith is, as it were, the eye through which he sees the all-merciful Providence taking care of the least and the most significant of His creatures. And hence, in the midst of the severest trials, the believer in God does not lose his heart.—The Bidhanbadi.

Miller's Worm Powders were devised to promptly relieve children who suffer from the ravages of worms. It is a simple preparation to destroy stomachic and intestinal worms without shock or injury to the most sensitive system. They act thoroughly and painlessly, and though in some cases they may cause vomiting, that is an indication of their powerful action and not of any nauseating property.

Swims Across Niagara

Young Girl Makes Crossing Just Below Falls In Ten Minutes

Dared by the crew of the river boat, "Maid of the Mist," little 14-year-old Mary Bell of Port Dalhousie, Ont., recently swam the Niagara River just below Niagara Falls, in ten minutes, and set up a record for the crossing. The old record of 11 minutes was held by William "Red" Hill, veteran river man.

She entered the water from the United States side and swam across to the boat landing on the Canadian shore. She was accompanied by a ticket agent on the "Maid of the Mist" and a cabin boy in a small row-boat.

Never before has a woman attempted the treacherous swim. Miss Bell's father is engineer of the "Maid of the Mist."

The village was entirely deserted by the local Indians at the weekend. All of them were away at Bonners Ferry for a big pow wow on the fair grounds on Saturday and Sunday. Some of them will be migrating to Golden for a similar celebration at this weekend.

T. Austin of Cranbrook was a business visitor here at the end of the week. He has recently sold out his dairy farm to Mr. McCrindle and is looking for a new location. He was much taken with the wheat crop and possibilities for a dairy farm on the Reclamation Farm.

F. Loveday, who in 1920 and 1921 was in charge of the old Creston Fruit Growers' union, and since then employed as a fruit inspector at Penticton, has just been transferred to the Niagara district in Ontario, where he is to instruct growers how to pack soft fruits in the western manner.

Creston and District Women's Institute have entries in all sections open to B. C. Institutes at the Vancouver and Victoria exhibitions being held this and next week. Entries this year are much superior to those of 1930 and the local institute is quite confident of again winning the championship cup, which they carried off last year.

A wedding of interest to many Creston people was solemnized in St. Paul's United Church, Nelson, on Wednesday evening last when Euphemia, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fisher, former residents of Creston, was united in marriage with Thomas Nutter of Trail, in which city they are to reside. Miss Jean Fisher was bridesmaid, and a number from here were guests at the wedding, including Mrs. Lister who assisted with the musical features at the reception.

A six-passenger plane from Spokane was a visitor at the local airport on Friday afternoon. It carried Harry Goetz, Nick Mamer and E. French of that city, coming here from trail. The party called at Trail, Creston and Cranbrook on a goodwill mission and doing some boasting for the Spokane fair next month. At Creston the official welcome was given by Col. Mallandaine, president of Creston board of trade, who was supported by a number of citizens who accompanied him to the air field. A very brief stop was made as the party had still to visit Cranbrook and return to Spokane the same evening.
