Fine Lot Trophies 1932 Track Meet

School Field Day Saturday, May 14th, with Preliminary Events at 11 a.m.—Silver and Bronze Medals for Individual Winners

The committee in charge of the school track meet, to be held at the fair grounds on May 14, commencing at 11 a.m., have decided to hold only one relay race each for boys and girls, and that in the intermediate disision. This was decided on in view of the fact that last year the identical contestants ran in both divisions, necessarily entailing a hardship on them.

It is hoped that a complete programme of the meet will be ready by the next issue of the Review. The list of tropies is a splendid one, due to the generosity of the organizaions of the Valley. A complete list follows:

The Masonic Trophy for Senior Boys' championship.
The Creston Valley Teachers' Association Trophy for Senior Girls' championship.
The Camp Lister Trophy for Rural Schools.
The Knights of Pythias Trophy for Intermediate Boys' championship.
The Knights of Pythias Trophy for Intermediate Girls' championship.
The Canadian Legion Trophy for Senior Boys'—100 yard Dash.
The Creston High School Athletic Trophy for Senior Girls'—100 yard dash.
The Creston Valley Teachers' Trophy for Intermediate Boys'—100 yard dash.
The Creston Valley Teachers' Trophy for Intermediate Girls'—100 yard dash.
The Track Committee's Trophy for Junior Boys' championship.
The Track Committee's Trophy for Junior Girls' championship.

All of these are for annual competition unless won three times by the same contestant, except for the Knights of Pythias trophies and the cups given for the Junior championships.

As well as the trophies, silver medals are to be given for first place in the Senior and Intermediate events and bronze medals in Junior events.

The present holders of the Senior trophies are Minnie Huscroft nd Herbert Couling. The latter will not be able to compete this year as he completed his matriculation last year, but the former will again enter the Senior events. The Rural Schools' trophy is at present held by Huscroft school.

K.K. Dramatic Offering Pleases

Hilarious Comedy Presentation Packs Community Hall—Cast Uniformly Good Throughout —Excellent Scenic Effects.

The Kill Kare Klub dramatic society presented their play, "That's One on Bill," to a full house in Wynndel's community hall on Wednesday evening last. All present voted this production one of the best ever staged in Wynndel. Every member of the cast was well chosen for the part allotted them, and carried the joke on "Bill" to the desired climax. All the players were so well up to the standard that it would be unfair to single any one of them for special mention.

The stage setting, which was a garden scene, was well carried out, and the electric lighting on the stage added greatly to the play. The offstage effects were also well carried out.

A. E. Towson, as Bill Bailey," who had a leading part in the play, was good throughout. After his flirtation with Patrica he awoke to the fact that Mab wasn't so dumb after all and decided she was the only girl for him. The role of "Patricia," was taken by Miss Dorothy Payette, who was cast as a movie star and was very much at home in the part. She made quite a game of ensnaring the hearts of all the boys in the neighborhood, but when it came to marrying "Battling Benny," (Fred Hagen) it wasn't so funny to him, who happened to be a woman hater. However, Uncle Jimmy (Jim Hulme) relieved him of hi worries by taking Patricia as his own, which seemed to have been pre-arranged.

Oscar Hagen, cast as "Puffy Collins," took his part as professional eater, sleeper and story teller quite naturally, and his love affair with Mab, the quiet sweet maid, soon vanished with a heavy meal of frog legs and one of his favorite stories. "Mab," portrayed by Miss Ethel Towson, apparently in love for a short time with "Puffy," was certainly playing up to the plot in arousing the jealousy of Bill Bailey, her real lover.

Bill's sister, "Lil," Mrs. B. Murgatroyd, handled one of the longest and most difficult parts very effectively, in leading the rest in her plot, of arranging to marry her brother, Bill, to Mab, which was the wish of Uncle Jimmy. A. Martell, jr., as 'Harry," who was engaged to Lil, made good in his role of a devoted lover.

Miss Betty Hulme as "Rosie," the German maid, certainly made the best of her part, and there was quite a commotion when Patrica came in with her roadster to run over Rosie's pet rooster, John Henry, who was named after her lover in Germany. Miss Olga Hagen was both capable and devoted in the role of mother of Lil and Bill.

Before the curtain and between acts music was supplied by Mr. and Mrs. W. Greig, jr., and G. Lunt, violins and piano, which was much appreciated. After the play there was a couple of hours' dancing to music by Miss J. Pedersen, Fred Wilson and Bob Marshall. Supper was supplied by the K.K. Klub committee.

Arrangements were made to send another member to Cranbrook to see her husband, who is critically ill in the hospital there. $6.50 was sent the Otha Scott fund, and this is the last payment on the pledge given three years ago to pay $100 to this fund. The public health and child welfare committee gave a report of visits to the sick and needy cases. A start was made on community chest of infants' clothing. Ways and means committee reported on holding a bridge contest at which $18 was added to the institute's funds. Committee on legislation gave a short report. It was decided that the institute would ho e a fall fair, date to be arranged later. At the close refreshments were served by the tea committee. —Com.

Porthill Scores Second Victory

Trim Local Intermediate Baseball Squad 16-6—Visitors Have Well Balanced Team Make Strong Finish to Win.

The baseball season at Creston opened inauspiciously on Sunday afternoon when the local intermediate nine took a 16 to 6 beating at the hands of Porthill, which town fielded a somewhat older and more experienced nine. Rut at that, Creston had the better of the argument for the first half dozen innings, opening the seventh with 5-4 lead. The final frames however, were most disastrous, the visitors connecting for a total of a dozen scores while Creston could do no better than put one additional tally cross

Andy Miller did the pitching, and with a little better infield support in the final frames would have come through with a win. Connatty played a fine game at third base and in the outfield Couling and Miller made a good showing. With the exception of "Bud" Miller all the locals were light in hitting.

Porthill had a well balanced team. The players are all good batsmen, and both the infield and outfield worked well on Sunday, and with steady pitching and good support in the field King's showing in the box was great. Hawks. the visitor's catcher, t ok a fast one on the middle fingers of the right hand in the seventh innings and had to retire in favor of Lengrudon. The lineup.

Arrow Creek

The water in O'Kell Creek has been higher this season than for some years past.

There are now 19 children of school age in this district, and plans are being made for the erection of a suitable schoolhouse, which it is hoped will be in readiness for the school term commencing at the first of September.

E. Cardinal has just finished planting another acre of strawberries, and with plenty of moisture the new plants are assured of a good first year growth.

B. R. Bohmer and family, who have recently moved from Sirdar to their Arrow Creek property, are getting the land ready for the planting of a garden.

Joe Cardinal has commenced operations on his property and assures that he will run strong opposition to Kellogg in experimental farm effort.

King George Refused Stamps For Collection

Royal Family Does Not Accept Gifts From Public

American admirers of George V. and his stamp collection, who have been sending His Majesty specimens of American issues, are advised through the Associated Press that he does not accept gifts of stamps. The Royal Family of Great Britain makes a practice of not accepting gifts from the public at home or abroad. What is more, with respect to proffered gifts of American stamps, George V.'s world famous collection includes only stamps of the British Empire. This explanation is timely. An American sent His Majesty specimens of a recent issue of commemorative stamps from this country and was peevish because they were not accepted. The story got into the newspapers and tended to convey the wholly erroneous idea that King George was unappreciative of the compliment paid him by the offer of the stamps. A statement of the Royal Family's practice in such matters should be sufficient to remove any such misunderstanding.—Detroit Free Press.

The Fanning Mill

Valuable Information Regarding Its Use and Operation

(By H. G. L. Strange)

Seed drill surveys that have been made by the Dominion Seed Branch show without a doubt that a vast amount of weed seeds and other impurities are seeded into the ground each year with seed grain. Investigation further shows that most of this grain had been cleaned through fanning mills. The reason for these impurities being present in the seed is unquestionably due to the fact that it is very difficult to clean grain properly with the average fanning mill.

Based on the experience of many years of cleaning Registered Seed to the high standard of perfection required by the Seeds Act, the writer has worked out a method of cleaning seed with a simple farming mill that will be found to be simple and effective.

In the first place only two screens are really needed for a fanning mill—a top screen that will scalp off large grains, pieces of straw and parts of unthreshed heads, and a smaller screen underneath that will allow the weed seeds, small cracked grains, etc., to pass through, leaving on top of the bottom screen only the large plump kernels required for seed. A fanning mill, using two good screens as described, will do just as good work as will those fitted with banks of screens—perhaps better. Some of the large kernels, however, will be light, so that a strong air blast is necessary to blow them out. The mill should be turned at such a speed that will produce such a blast of air as will blow over at least 10 per cent. of the grain, then it is certain that all light kernels are being separated.

If a fanning mill would continue to operate in this manner no weed seeds or other impurities would be present in the final cleaned seed. Unfirtunately the average fanning mill will not continue to work in this fashion for more than a few moments, the reason being that the screen, both top and bottom, particularly the bottom screen, very quickly plug up with small kernels, and so allow the weed seeds and impurities to pass over with the good grain.

Some fanning mills are fitted with devices that keep the screen clean, such as tapping hammers or travelling brushes. These devices, however, are very expensive and very few can afford them. A fanning mill without these extras can be made to do good work providing the operator will stop the machine at least every five minutes, remove the screens and carefully clean them with a stiff brush. If this is not done it is quite certain that most of the work of fanning grain will be wasted and that the seed will contain many weeds and other impurities.

Besides cleaning the screens frequently it is, of course, necessary to see that the grain is fed very slowly and evenly on to the screens and that the machine is also turned evenly, but fast enough to produce, as mentioned above, a strong blast of air.

All grain should be put at least twice through the fanning mill in this manner, feeding slowly each time. It is the writer's experience that the capacity of most fanning mills is estimated by the manufacturers on a basis of grain cleaning for market rather than for seed cleaning. Most machines, for instance, that are listed at 25 bushels an hour, will do a good job on seed at about eight bushels per hour only, and if more is forced through it is at the expense of good work. The machine of course must be set level and should be spliced or fastened solidly to a good stout floor and facilities should be provided to see that there is no chance scalpings or screenings from either the screens or the wind becoming mixed with the good cleaned seed.

Fanning mills with screens only separate according to the difference in width of kernel. To separate kernels of different lengths, that is to say, wheat from oats, etc., it is necessary to use what is called an indentation machine such as a Carter Disc or an indent cylinder. The most perfect job of seed cleaning is offered by travelling or stationery plants in which the grain is first passed through a good fanning mill with a strong blast of air, then through either an indent cylinder or a Carter Disc. The average fanning mill, using screens alone will not separate wheat from oats or vice versa.

ESAU SELLS HIS BIRTHRIGHT

Lesson: Genesis 25.27-34.

Devotional Reading: Hebrews 12. 14-17.

Explanations and Comments

Isaac's Sons Contrasted, verses 27, 28.—Esau and Jacob, twin sons of Isaac and Rebekah, were wholly different in appearance and character. Esau, the first-born, was rough and hairy; he loved the outdoor life, and was a skilful hunter. He was the favorite of his father, who, as is often the case, preferred the son who was so unlike him in every way. Jacob was smooth-faced, and handsome, a quiet stay-at-home, and he was the favorite of his mother. From these statements of parental favoritism any one could foretell future trouble.

Jacob's Craftiness, verses 29-31. — One day Jacob boiled some pottage, a dish made of lentils or small beans and is to this day much liked in Syria; and when Esau came in from the field weary and faint, he asked Jacob for it. Notice that the word "pottage" in Esau's request is in italics in our text, showing that it is supplied from the context and is lacking in the Hebrew. Literally, the translation is "Feed me with the red," this red, and it strikingly shows Esau's hunger and impatient eagerness for the savory dish. Therefore was his name called Edom, we are told. Edom means "Red." Esau had red hair and complexion, and it was red pottage for which he sold his birthright: all these things combined to give him this name. He is the reputed ancestor of the Edomites.

"Sell me first thy birthright," was Jacob's answer to Esau. By the birthright he meant the rights and privileges of the firstborn which later, at least, included succession to the father as head of the family, who exercised a kind of priesthood, and a double portion of the father's property (Deuteronomy 21.17). The father's chief blessing was given to the firstborn son. It included the covenant blessing first given to Abraham—the promise of a great posterity, of the inheritance of the land of Canaan, and the special blessing of Jehovah. It was a sharp bargain that Jacob drove, taking a mean advantage of Esau in his exhaustion and hunger, but he appreciated the value of the birthright as Esau could not, for Esau cared only for the gratification of the present moment. Enjoy the present and let the future take care of itself, was his rule of life.

"Amid all the craft and duplicity of Jacob's nature, there was immense capacity for religious fervor and religious faith. He could draw aside the veil of the unseen, and weigh its promises, and compare its treasures with the shows of earth. He could dream angel-haunted dreams, that threw a mystic ladder over the abyss of space, linking all worlds. And while Esau was occupied with pleasure, Jacob could feel within him the strange stirrings of a nature which could not be satisfied with anything within the narrow limits of his tents; but which yearned for that spiritual heritage which was summed in the word 'birthright'."—F. B. Meyer.

Esau's Folly, verses 32-34.—"I am tired to death," is an expression we often hear and Esau gave utterance to the same feeling with the same amount of meaning: "Behold, I am about to die," he exclaimed, "and what profit shall the birthright do to me?" What did he care about something of use only in the distant future? All he cared for now was the satisfying of his present hunger.

"We barter life for pottage! sell true bliss
For wealth, or power, for pleasure or renown!
Thus, Esau-like, our Father's blessing miss,
Then wash with fruitless tears our faded crown."—(Keble).

Salada Reduces Tea Prices

Salada Tea Company Makes Important Announcement

An announcement of a price reduction has just been made by Salada Tea Company of Canada, Limited, amounting to 10 cents a pound. Mr. A. M. Wilson, manager of the Company, who has been in Winnipeg for the past few days conferring with Mr. R. M. Gibson of Messrs. Gibson, Paterson, Limited, the Company's western representatives, has this comment to make on the new prices announced by his Company:

"Teas are cheaper in the primary markets in London, England; Colombo, Ceylon, and Calcutta, India, although best quality teas have not declined in price to nearly the same extent as the lower grades. Nevertheless, the Salada Company, while rigidly maintaining the quality of its product, has reduced prices twice within the last two years, so that today the consumer is paying 25 per cent. less for this well-known product than he did in 1930. The price reduction had been contemplated for several weeks, but was postponed until after the announcement of the Dominion budget proposals in the House of Commons. Tea merchants expected a further tax on tea, but, as there was no additional impost announced, they were able to make a downward revision of 10 cents on the pound, or 5 cents on the half-pound."

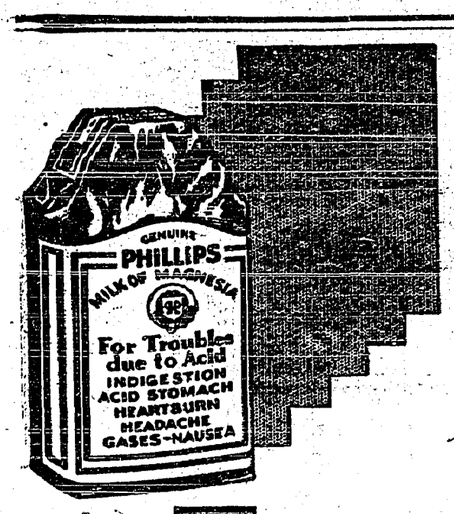
Gas in the Stomach Is Dangerous

Recommends Daily Use Of Bisurated Magnesia To Overcome Trouble Caused By Acid Indigestion

Gas in the stomach accompanied by a full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a little Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful or four tablets in water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never in liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.



Reduce the Acid

SICK stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated.

Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour. Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. For 50 years the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go, prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians in correcting excess acids.

CHAPTER XX.

The Shadow Of the Future

Gold of gorse and purple of heather, a shimmering haze of heat quivering above the undulating green of the Moor, and somewhere, high up in the cloud-flecked blue above, the exultant, piercingly sweet carol of a lark.

"Oh! How utterly perfect this is!" sighed Jean.

She was lying at full length on the springy turf, her chin cupped in her hands, her elbows denting little cosy hollows of darkness in the close mesh of green moss.

Tormarin, equally prone, was beside her, his eyes absorbing, not the open vista of rolling moor, hummocked with jagged tors of brown-grey stone, but the sun as it rioted through a glory of red-brown hair and touched changeful gleams of gold into topaz eyes.

There was a queer little throb in Jean's voice, the low note of almost passionate delight which sheer beauty never failed to draw from her. It plucked at the chords of memory, and Tormarin's thoughts leaped back suddenly to that day they had spent together in the mountains, when, as they emerged from the pinewood's gloom to the revelation of the great white-pinnacled Alps, she had turned to him with the rapt cry: "It's so beautiful that it makes one's heart ache!"

"Do you remember——" he began involuntarily, then checked himself.

"'M-m?" she queried. The little interrogative murmur was tantalising in its soft note of intimacy.

The Jean of the last few days—the days immediately following their quarrel—had temporarily vanished. The beauty of the Moor had taken hold of her, and all the mockery and bitter-sweetness which she had latterly reserved for Tormarin's benefit was absent from her manner. She was just her natural sweet and wholesome self.

"'M-m? Do I remember—what?"

"I was thinking what a pagan little beauty-lover you are! You worshipped the Alps. Now you are worshipping Dartmoor."

She nodded.

"I don't see why you should call it 'pagan,' though. I should say it was equally Christian. I think we were meant to love beauty. Otherwise there wouldn't have been such a lot of it about. God didn't put it around just by accident."

"Quite probably you're right," agreed Blaise. "In which case you must be"—he smiled—"an excellent Christian."

"Positively I believe they're talking theology!"

Claire's voice, girlishly gay and free from the nervous restraint which normally dulled its cadence of youth, broke suddenly on their ears, as she and Nick, rounding the corner of a big granite boulder, discovered the two recumbent forms.

"You disgustingly lazy people!" she pursued indignantly. "Everybody's dashing wildly to and fro unpacking the lunch baskets, while you two are just lounging here in blissful idleness!"

"It's chronic with me," murmured Tormarin lazily. "And anyway, Claire, neither you nor Nick appear to be precisely overtaxing yourselves bearing nectar and ambrosia."

"I carried some of the drinks up this confounded hill," submitted Nick. "And damned heavy they were, too! I can't think"—plaintively—"why people should be so thirsty at a picnic. I'm sure Baines has shoved in enough liquid refreshment to float a ship."

"Praise be!" interpolated Blaise piously.

"Oh, we've done our share," supplemented Claire. "And now we're going to the gipsy who lives here to have our fortunes told."

"Before lunch," subjoined Nick, "so that in case they're depressingly bad you can stay us with flagons afterwards."

Jean sat up suddenly, her face alight with interest.

"Do you mean that there is a real gypsy who tells real fortunes?" she demanded.

"Yes—quite real. She's supposed to be extraordinarily good," replied Nick. "She is a lady of property, too, since she has acquired a few square yards of the Moor from the Duchy and built herself a little shanty there. She rejoices in the name of Keturah Stanley."

"I should like to have my fortune told," murmured Jean meditatively.

"I'll take you," volunteered Blaise.

There was a suddenly alert look in his face, as though he, too, would like to hear Jean's fortune told.

"We'll all go, then," said Claire. "You must let Keturah tell yours as well, Blaise."

He shook his head.

"Thanks, no," he answered briefly. "I know my fortune quite as well as I have any wish to."

Tormarin's curt refusal somewhat quenched the gaiety of the moment, and rather soberly they all four made their way down the slope to where, in a little sheltered hollow at the foot of the tor, the sunlight glinted on the corrugated iron roofing of a tiny two-roomed hut, built of wood.

Outside, sitting on an inverted pail and composedly puffing away at a clay pipe, they discovered a small shrivelled old woman, sunning herself, like a cat, in the midday warmth.

She lifted her head as they approached, revealing an immensely old, delicately-featured face, which which might have been carved out of yellow ivory. It was a network of wrinkles, colourless save for the piercing black eyes that sparkled beneath arched black brows, while the fine-cut nostrils and beautifully moulded mouth spoke unmistakably of race—of the old untainted blood which in some gypsy families has run clear, unmixed and undiluted, through countless generations.

There was an odd dignity about the shrunken, still upright figure as she rose from her seat—the freedom of one whose neck has never bowed to the yoke of established custom, whose kingdom is the sun and sea and earth and air as God gave them to Adam—and when the visitors had explained their errand, and she proceeded to answer them in the soft, slurred accents of the Devon dialect, the illiterate speech seemed to convey a strange sense of unfitness.

Claire and Nick were the first to dare the oracle. The old woman beckoned to them to follow her into the cottage, while Tormarin and Jean waited outside, and when they emerged once more, both were laughing, their faces eager and half excited like the faces of children promised some indefinite treat.

"She's given you luck, then?" asked Jean, smiling in sympathy.

The gipsy interposed quickly.

"Tezn't for me to give nor take away the luck. But I knaw that, back o' they gert black clouds the young lady's so mortal feared of, the zun's shinin' butivul. I tell 'ee, me dear"—nodding encouragingly to Claire, while her keen old eyes narrowed to mere pin-points of light—"you'll zee it, yourself—and afore another year's crep' by. 'Ess, fay! You'll knaw then as I telled 'ee trew."

Then, with a sudden gesture that summoned Jean to follow her, she disappeared once more into the interior of the hut.

Jean hesitated nervously in the doorway. For a moment she was conscious of an acute feeling of distaste for the impending interview—a dread of what this woman, whose eyes seemed the only live thing in her old, old face, might have to tell her.

"Come with me," she appealed to Blaise. And he nodded and followed her across the threshold.

The scent of a peat fire came warm and fragrant to her nostrils as she stepped out of the sunlight into the comparative dusk of the little shanty, mingling curiously with an aroma of savoury stew which issued from a black pot hung above the fire, bubbling and chuckling as it simmered.

The gipsy, as though by force of habit, gave a stir to its contents and then, settling herself on a three-legged stool, she took Jean's hand in her wrinkled, claw-like fingers and peered at its palm in silence.

"Your way baint so plain tu zee as t'other young lady's," she muttered at last, in an odd, sing-song tone. "There's life an' death an' fire an' flame afore yu zee the sun shinin' clear. . . . . And if so be yu take the wrong turnin', you'll niver zee it. And there'll be no postes to guide 'ee. Tez your awn sawl must tell 'ee how to walk through the darkness. For there's darkness comin' . . . . black darkness."

Good Reason For Economy

A bond salesman went into a drug store the other day and ordered a plate of crackers and a glass of water. A friend who happened to be in the same store, asked him: "What's the matter, Mac? On a diet?"

"No," snapped the other. "On commission."

"No repairs in 22 years," says home owner

"Visitors are delighted with the noiseless operation of my doors," says a home owner of Monongah, West Virginia. "The locks and hinges have been in active service 22 years, and during this time I haven't spent a cent for repairs. I've never used anything but 3-in-One Oil."

Many housewives who pride themselves on the spotless appearance of their homes are careless about the lubrication of hinges and locks. Try a few drops of 3-in-One Oil today and see how quickly it brings out rust, dirt and squeaks. For 3-in-One, a blend of animal, mineral and vegetable oils, is distinctly different from ordinary oil; it cleans and protects as well as lubricates.

For 35 years 3-in-One has been recognized as the best oil for sewing machines, vacuum cleaners, lawn mowers, hinges and general household lubrication. Insist on 3-in-One Oil. At good stores everywhere. For your protection look for the trade mark "3-in-One" printed in Red on every package.

Inventors Keep Busy

Automatic Oyster Opener Prize Of This Year's Exhibition

Double-action fly swatter—non-skidable soap—bell-ringing fishing rods—toothpaste tube collapsers—automatic oyster openers—adjustable baby feeders.

These are among the 5,000 inventions arriving at Grand Central Palace for the fourth international patent exposition.

The new fly-swatter operates with a scissors movement and eliminates the possibility of spots on walls or furnishings.

The soap turns out to be a sponge-rubber mitten with a ventilated palm in which liquid is enclosed. The suds force their way through. The toothpaste tube collapser is two rollers turned by a small crank and forces out every last drop of the paste.

One fishing rod has a bell attached and can be stuck in the ground while the angler drowses. When the fish bites the bell rings.

The automatic oyster opener is really the prize of the show. Its inventor is Oscar Abbatte, of Baltimore, Md. The device is operated by means of a crank which forces a flat, spear-shaped knife between the shells of the oyster, opening 25 a minute.

The baby feeder is merely an adjustable bottle which can be attached to the crib and never eludes the reach of the occupant.

Nights Of Agony come in the train of asthma. The victim cannot lie down, and sleep is driven from his brain. What grateful relief is the immediate effect of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. It banishes the frightful conditions, clears the passages, and enables the afflicted one to again sleep as soundly and restfully as a child. Insist on the genuine at your nearby druggist.

Britain's Youthful Peers

Thirty-Two Are Not Old Enough For House Of Lords

Britain has 32 peers who cannot take their seats in the House of Lords because they are not of age. Many bearers of old titles are still playing with their blocks, among them being Lord Wraxhall, three, and Lord Montagu, of Beaulieu, five. Lord Gainsborough is eight, Lord Haig, son of the late British Commander, is 13. The Earl of Shrewsbury and Talbot, who is premier earl in the peerages of both Lord England and Scotland, is 17, as is Lord Gormanstan, premier viscount of Scotland.

ACIDITY FOR 10 YEARS

Before he Found the Remedy

Many people endure suffering unnecessarily. This man did. If he had known ten years ago what he knows to-day, he would have been spared a great deal of suffering.

"I feel I must write a few lines in appreciation of your Kruschen Salts. I have suffered for 10 years from chronic acidity of the stomach. I tried nearly everything, until I was advised by a friend to try Kruschen, which I have taken for the last two months, and I am pleased to say I have had no return of the acidity."—W. B.

Kruschen Salts swiftly neutralises acid, takes all the torment out of it, and gently expels it from the system. And by stimulating your organs of elimination to perfect regular action, Kruschen will prevent this harmful acid from ever accumulating again. After that you'll experience no more misery after meals. Kruschen will keep your inside clean and serene. Pure and invigorated blood will be sent coursing to every part of your body. You'll feel wonderfully energetic and well. As healthy and hearty as it is humanly possible to feel.

Little Helps For This Week

"Thou hast put gladness in my heart."—Psalm iv. 7.

Cheerfulnesse
Doth expresse
A settled, pious mynde,
Which is not prone to grudging,
From murmuring refined.
—Anne Collins.

What indeed does not that word cheerfulness imply? It means a contented spirit; it means a pure heart; it means a kind loving disposition; it means humility and charity; it means a generous appreciation of others, and a modest opinion of self. —William Makepeace Thackeray.

It is a Dutch proverb that "paint costs nothing," such are its preserving qualities in damp climates. Well, sunshine costs less, yet is finer pigment; and so of cheerfulness, the more it is spent, the more of it remains.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

Persian Balm—Invaluable to the whole family. To the mother, a flawless aid to loveliness. To the child a soothing, healing balm. And to the father, a splendid hair fixative and cooling shaving lotion. Persian Balm tones and refreshes the skin. Makes hands delightfully soft and white. Indispensable to dainty women. A little gentle rubbing and it is absorbed by the tissues, making the skin truly rose-leaf in texture.

She—Why did the land agent speak of that property as a parcel?

He—Because it is tied up, I suppose.

CRESTON, B.C., FRIDAY, MAY 6

Apple Blossom Week

While it will likely be found too late to get very far with apple blossom day this year, it is to be hoped that the special board of trade committee that is working on the idea will proceed with the developmet of every possible preliminary in the nature of ways and means so that in 1933 this very desirable undertaking may be launched.

That the idea has merit to it may be gleaned from an editorial paragraph in the Lethbridge Daily Herald of Friday last. Says that paper: "We can imagine no finer annual community event than that being considered by the people of the Creston, B.C., district, an apple blossom day. The City of Portland has advertised itself the coutinent over by its rose festival, Spokane talks about its "Apple Way." There is a call to the imagination by a valley filled with apple blossoms as Creston Valley is in the Spring. It may be that it comes at the wrong time of the year to attract as many prairie people as would like to attend. But to hold such a day and to tell the world about it would be fine advertising for the fruit growers of Southeastern British Columbia."

Why Not Apply at Ottawa

Smiles of considerable proportions surely must have adorned the countenances of many of our readers as they perused "K.W.'s" letter in our last issue, "What's Wrong with B.C." And notwithstanding the grin, everyone will agree with him that the patronage system has had something to do with bringing about the sorry state of affairs now in evidence in the province. But why confine the demand for the removal of patronage to British Columbia.

If "K.W." is sincere in his desire for its removal why not some of the same sort of zeal concerning the doing away with it at Ottawa, where its baleful influence is felt by a population of about eleven million, as compared with less than 700,000 in British Columbia.

If the federal administration has not been as objectionable in this regard as their friends at Victoria it is most likely due the fact that the reins of government at Ottawa were assumed when the pinch of adversity was being too seriously felt to permit them developing the incompetency and extravagances of the Tolmietes at their inception in the highly prosperous times of 1928 and 1929.

Speed Up Sewer Committee

It is to be hoped that the committee named by the board of trade to report on the installation of a sewer system at Creston will take the work seriously and that it will have the full support of the village council.

From complaints that have reached the council and the somewhat general dissatisfaction that is expressed with regard to sanitary conditions it is quite safe to say citizens are becoming alarmed as to the future good health of the village, along with which the idea is rapidly spreading that if the place is to grow it must modernize, and a sewer system is certainly one of the necessities of any modern community.

The Review believes there would be no objection to a sufficient expenditure from the village treasury to secure a preliminary report on the cost of sewer installation, and that no time should be lost in securing this information.

To cope with the unemployment situation the coming fall and winter, particularly, it is quite certain both the federal and provincial governments will be forced to deal generously with municipalities and with such financial consideration available Creston ought to have full information concerning sewer construction so as to be in a position to take advatage of whatever aid that may be going to meet the anticipated unemployment situation.

U.S. Legion Here June 4th

There was a large and enthuriastic turnout at the May meeting of Creston Valley Pose Canadian Legion, which was held at the schoolhouse at Lister, Tuesday night, with president W. F. Jackson in charge. The chief item of business was making preliminary arrangements for the visit of the Idaho division of the American Legion which will be on Saturday, June 4tn, an official invitation to visit Creston for the annual reunion having been forwarded the Legion authorities at Bonners Ferry.

The exercises this year will have an entirely new feature, which will be the presentation of a plaque by the visitors on which will be inscribed the names of all mothers living in the area between Yahk and Boswell, who lost sons in the great war. In order that no one shall be overlooked it is asked that everyone knowing such a mother (in addition to those of the men whose names appear on the memorial) send them in to the secretary of the Canadian Legion, Erickson, at once, as all names are to be in on or before May 14th.

The presentation of the plaque will be an added feature to this year's exercises at the monument, which will follow along the usual lines, and will be followed by the lunch at Creston View tourist camp, and the evening dance at Park pavilion.

Businessmen and all other residents are asked to lend a hand in making this occasion the more attractive by leaving decorations, which will be placed for June 3rd (King's birthday) in place for June 4th.

Graham - McPhee Nuptials

KASLO, B.C, May 3—A pretty wedding of wide and unusual interest in the district, took place in Kaslo, Saturday afternoon. at 2 o'clock, when Ethel May, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Graham of Perry, was united in marriage with Donald Page MacPhee, only son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. MacPhee of this city. The ceremony took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. MacPhee and was solemnized by Rev. E. Leslie Best, pastor of the Kaslo United church, in the presence of immediate relatives of the contracting parties. The bride's only attendant was Miss Georgie McKeown of Nelson, while Douglas Burt of Trail supported the groom.

The bride was attired in a heavy silk crepe gown fashioned on the long modish lines, with long sleeves. She wore the conventional bridal veil wreathed with orange blossoms and carried a shower boquet of Ophelia roses, pink sweet peas and white carnations. her only ornament being a rope of pearls, the gift of the groom. After the ceremony a dainty luncheon was served

To make this wedding a particularly interesting and unique was the fact that Mr. MacPhee with his best man, flew in about 11 o'clock Saturday morning and he and his bride left at about 4 p.m. for Creston, taking the air route. Mr. MacPhee has been in the aviation service of the C. M. & S. Co. for several years and the p ane used for the honeymoon is the private plane of W. M. Archibald, of the C. M. & S. Co's mining department, which he loaned for the occassion.

Mr. and Mrs. MacPhee are occupying the Anderson cottage on Barton Avenue and on Tuesday evening were given the usual serenade by the can and cowbell symphonic orchestra whose moonlight sonatas provoked the customary generous response by the newlyweds. Mr. and Mrs McPhee have the best wishes of all for a happy and successful wedded life.

Balancing Life's Budget.

With the problem of balancing budgets occupying the minds of all people entrusted with the duties and responsibilities of government whether in the Federal, Provincial or municipal fields: with the same problem uppermost in the minds of the executives of all our large transportation systems, industrial enterprises and financial institutions; with every business man, big and little, every head of a family on salary or earning wages, even men and women out of employment, all engaged with the same problem, the thought intrudes itself: "Are people, individually and collectively, more concerned with the dollar-and-cents balancing of their material budgets than they are with the much more important balancing of their lives?"

It is important, of course, vitally necessary in fact, that people should balance their material budgets. If they do not, bankruptcy in business and financial disaster lies ahead. No individual, no corporation, no government, no nation, can go on indefinitely spending more money than they receive or have. Monetary budgets must be balanced; trade budgets must be balanced, that is, inasmuch as every import is likewise an export, and every export an import, these must balance, and if every nation insists on developing exports while refusing to receive imports, the world's economic structure is thrown out of balance and bankruptcy leading to disaster and ruin is inevitable.

But it is equally true, and a law of nature that cannot be ignored and dare not be defied without loss and suffering, that the budget of our very lives must be balanced. But inasmuch as disaster may not follow quite so quickly, and the payment of the penalty may be longer deferred, than is true in the financial world, most people neglect to properly balance their lives until it is too late.

In the struggle for material wealth, for success in business, for supremacy in political life, for victory in the field of sport, even to reach the top of the social ladder, what a vast number of people overlook and neglect the all-important asset of maintaining their physical health. Failing to do so, their lives are sadly out of balance, for of what avail is the accomplishment of their desires if the price to be paid is impairment in health, bodily vigor and strength undermined? Achievement at such a price is too costly, and is, in fact, not achievement at all, but failure, because one cannot enjoy or long retain that which has seemingly been achieved.

How frequently has it happened that a brilliant student aiming at high marks and scholastic honors through too close application to his or her studies, and the burning of the midnight oil, has so sapped both mental and physical strength that in the crowning hour of learning achieved, and apparently with a life of great promise just beginning, collapse has come.

Others in the race for material things utterly fail to balance the budget of their lives by any intellectual studies or pursuits. They fail to balance their lives with the beauties of nature, or music, or good literature. They even neglect the taking of proper exercise and recreation. As a result of their unbalanced lives they become gross, self-centred, utterly selfish, and largely lost to all the finer things of life.

Man is a dual personality,—a combination of body and spirit. If his life's budget is to balance, he must devote attention both to his body and its needs and to the development of mind and spirit. He cannot afford to neglect either the one or the other; neglect of one means not only that it will suffer but the other will also suffer.

The balancing of life's budget calls for an all-round development of body and of spirit, and of the mind which is partly of the body and partly of the spirit. A man may scoff at religion, he may profess to have no religion, but in so doing he merely advertises the unbalanced character of his life. He is less than a complete man. A man may be perfect physically, but if he neglects his mind and his spirit, he is merely a high type of animal. On the other hand, one who neglects his body and develops his mental powers to the exclusion of all else, is a freak, and even his mental powers become distorted and unreliable because he lacks the necessary contact with and appreciation of natural human forces.

It is only through a true balancing of life's budget that man can possibly reach his highest destiny of happiness, achievement and usefulness in this world.

Would Train Nurses For Mental Hospital Work

Alberta Psychiatrist Speaks Of Success In Treating Mental Cases

Combined training courses for graduate nurses, which would include as well as general hospital work a considerable amount of mental training was suggested by Dr. N. Barager, Alberta psychiatrist, as one of the solutions to the present mental health problem at the recent session of the Alberta Association of Registered Nurses Convention.

The mental hospital nurse needs general training plus tact and good judgment to the 'nth degree, he declared.

Readjustment of the public viewpoint to the mental case, which is gradually taking place, is one of the greatest needs in dealing with the care of such patients, he said. It must be understood the patient is ill, as is the patient in the general hospital.

Dr. Barager spoke of the 25,000 patients in mental hospitals and 6,000 in mentally defective institutions in Canada. The age-old idea of an insane person entering the hospital and remaining behind closed doors for the remainder of his life is an untrue picture today. Sixty-one per cent. of the number admitted were discharged last year.

The day is not far distant when criminals will be treated as mentally ill persons and dealt with by psychological measures, the doctor believed.

Plenty Of British Capital

Is Available In Canada For Sound Investment Purposes

Millions of dollars of British investment for the development of empire enterprises where fair returns can be shown for bonafide industrial projects, Major Gordon C. Home, official of the Empire Development Association, of London, England, stated at Victoria.

"There is plenty of capital in Great Britain, despite the difficult nature of times, looking for ordinary returns through investments in industrial and other undertakings, within the empire. Our great difficulty has been that worthwhile projects in the British dominions have not been drawn as closely to the attention of the mottherland as might be desirable. One purpose of the Empire Development Association is to secure information of investment opportunities to lay before those having the capital to encourage and develop such undertakings," said Major Home.

Garnet Wheat

Mixture As Much As Seven Per Cent. Allowed In No. 1 Northern

Since 1926 the grain inspection department has permitted as much as seven per cent. of Garnet wheat in No. 1 Northern, James D. Fraser, chief grain inspector, told the House of Commons Committee on Agriculture. That proportion would not affect the grade. In general, however, Garnet had been kept fairly well separated from other varieties.

Mr. Fraser had no opinion to offer as to whether Garnet should or should not be graded separately. In his experience he had never received any complaint against No. 1 Northern on account of Garnet being contained therein.

Tax Duplication

Premier Brownlee, Of Alberta, Deplores Double Taxation System

Duplication of income taxes by federal and provincial governments was deplored by Premier John E. Brownlee, of Alberta, addressing the annual meeting of the Winnipeg Board of Trade. He said steps should be taken to revise the constitution of Canada to meet modern requirements and eliminate the duplication of taxation.

Appealing for confidence, clear thinking and sanity in the face of economic depression, Mr. Brownlee urged business men to co-operate with governments and farmers in the solution of the west's problems. The most pressing problem was that of agriculture. Some means must be found of enabling the farmer to overcome the burden of debts accumulated in the last two years.

Another problem was markets. Research in this field was needed. There were many untouched markets for western Canadian products. All should be sought out and explored.

The problem of governmental finance was also a serious one, but there could be no thought of inflation or public repudiation of debts. Mr. Brownlee criticized those who pressed for government economy at all costs. Saving in expenditure could only be pressed a certain distance, and after that it resulted in a curtailment of essential service.

Churchill Development

Preparing Facilities For Both Inward and Outbound Cargoes

Construction of a freight shed for imports coming into western Canada by the Churchill route will be one of the featrues of work at the Bay port this year. Tenders for the shed will be let very soon, it is expected. Only about 250 men will be employed at Churchill by the Department of Railways and Canals instead of the 750 that were engaged last year. Dredging will be done by one dredge this summer, instead of the two that worked last year. The dredging programme will be completed this summer and will leave the harbor ready for the next twenty years, according to port authorities.

Construction of the extension to the conveyor system is underway now and will be completed about the middle of the summer. Only a small portion remains to be completed on the dock. Efforts are under way to obtain livestock facilities at Churchill for the summer, and equipment for unloading coal from inbound boats.

Large Economies Will Be Effected Through New Flashing Device

A new electrical flashing device, by means of which a wave of light is sent along a row of lamps without the need of any costly mechanically moving parts, is expected to effect large economies in railroad signalling systems, moving street signs, traffic lights and in other fields. It was demonstrated for the first time in public by William A. Gleusing of the General Electric Research Laboratories, before the Science Forum of the New York Electrical Society.

"Come along, sir," said the box-office man impatiently to the Jew, how many seats do you want for 'The Miracle'?" "None," he replied. "I've just seen it."

Death Toll Among Deer

Strange Malady Plays Havoc With Deer In Northern Saskatchewan

Reports that bear evidence of widespread death toll among the deer of Saskatchewan's northland, have been reaching here. Starvation, or some strange malady which may be a form of "sleeping sickness" is believed the cause of the animals' deaths.

Travellers from the Jack Pine lands of the Big River country tell of "scores" and "hundreds" of deer lying dead in the woods.

A game warden instructed by A. H. Etter, provincial game commissioner, to trace down the reports, tells that on one's day's journey while patrolling south of the Beaver River he came across the bodies of twelve deer. There was no apparent cause of death. The animals looked as if they had just laid down and died.

The lungs and liver of these deer were removed and have been sent to the veterinary pathologist at the University of Saskatchewan, who will examine the organs in an endeavor to determine the cause of death. The report is the first official one to be made, but the belief that the condition is general in the northland, is to be investigated as soon as weather conditions permit travel.

CANADIAN WOMEN FIND DUSTING DISTASTEFUL

Dust cloths going into discard; Unpleasant to use; a bother to Wash

APPLEFORD WONDER PAPER HAS GREAT VOGUE

Of all household tasks, that of dusting is the least appealing to the majority of women.

However, this condition, like many another connected with housework, is undergoing radical change. In a great many Canadian homes the women are discarding dust cloths entirely, and are using Appleford Wonder Paper instead, because it actually dusts—as it cleans—as it polishes, doing a better and much quicker job than the old dust cloth ever did.

This new, and extremely modern Wonder Paper, is made from clean rags, and soft paper pulp, treated in a scientific way with a high-grade furniture polish; and absorbs dirt instead of spreading it.

Appleford Wonder Paper comes in handy-size packages, twenty-five large sheets for twenty-five cents. You crumple a sheet into a soft wad and go over the surfaces requiring attention. Then when one side is soiled or worn, turn the Wonder Paper inside out. After you have given a quick and lasting finish to furniture and woodwork, you can still use Wonder Paper on the floors, if you wish.

And when you are through, there's no old duster to shake out or wash. Throw the soiled Wonder Paper away and you've completed the most tiresome part of housework in half the time and with half the effort.

Wonder Paper is made by the makers of the famous PARA-SANI Heavy Waxed Paper in the Green Box.

VALERA POLICY IS TO REMAIN WITHIN EMPIRE

Dublin, Irish Free State.—President Eamon de Valera, during debate in the Dail Eireann on his bill to abolish the oath of allegiance to the British crown, made it clear this intention was to get rid of the oath without withdrawing the Irish Free State from the British Commonwealth of Nations.

As a prelude to the president's motion for second reading of the bill, the government was unexpectedly defeated on a side issue connected with the problem of unemployment. The vote, 76 to 66, brought shouts of "Resign!" from the opposition benches, but Mr. de Valera ignored them, and went on to the debate on the oath.

In quiet, unimpassioned tones, he made this assertion:

"We propose to honor scrupulously the pledge we gave the electors, we hold there is no obligation on us to consult the British Government with respect to the action we are taking. Deletion of the oath is quite consistent with the position of the Free State as one of the co-equal partners in the British Commonwealth.

Turning to the proposal to delete the section of the constitution which makes that constitution subject to terms of the Anglo-Irish treaty, a provision which the bill also seeks to remove, the president said his purpose was to put the treaty in the same position as other countries put their treaties.

It should not be possible, he maintained, for the courts to say municipal law was subject to the terms of the treaty.

Mr. de Valera's pronouncement brought former Premier William T. Cosgrave to his feet to attack the bill as "the greatest piece of political chicanery in history." Its very simplicity, he said, was its own condemnation.

"One clause of the treaty is as binding as any other," Mr. Cosgrave declared. "Destroy one and you destroy all."

The bill, he contended, was a breach of the treaty; and the only way to alter that document was by mutual agreement between the Free State and Great Britain.

New Trade Treaty

Canada-New Zealand Agreement May Increase Our Exports To Antipodes

Ottawa, Ont.—Canada receives the full British preferential tariff on all exports to New Zealand, with the exception of six items, under the Canada-New Zealand trade agreement made public in the House of Commons by Hon. H. E. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce. The pact is for one year—by reason of the coming Imperial Economic Conference—and will come into effect by proclamation following parliamentary approval by the sister dominion.

The potential normal market in New Zealand is $200,000,000 annually. Canada's normal yearly share in this Antipodean market has been $19,000,000 approximately, although in 1930 exports to New Zealand showed a value of $15,000,000. Mr. Stevens expressed the highest hope of increasing very considerably Canadian exports to the Antipodes.

Effect Economies

Directors Of C.N.R. Have Worked Hard In This Direction

Ottawa, Ont.—The directors of the Canadian National Railways worked hard in the interests of the system, W. A. Boys, K.C., a member of the C.N.R. board told the House of Commons committee on railways and shipping here. Many economies have been effected, and the personnel of the board had at heart the success of the railways, Mr. Boys cited the report of the sub-committee, of which he was chairman, as indicating the extent to which expenditures had been reduced.

On Speaking Terms

Prime Minister and Leader Of the Opposition Have No Personal Differences

Ottawa, Ont.—Mr. King speaks to Mr. Bennett, and Mr. Bennett speaks to Mr. King. Prompted by an editorial in the Ottawa Journal, the two political leaders solemnly assured the House of Commons they were on speaking terms.

"So far as I am concerned," said the Liberal leader, after reading the editorial, "I was not aware that I had ceased to be on speaking terms with the prime minister. It is true that I have not felt free to accept some of the invitations he kindly extended, but beyond that I have not been aware of any personal differences between us.

The prime minister said he was glad Mr. King had made this statement. "The last occasion," Mr. Bennett continued, "I had the opportunity of speaking to him (Mr. King), I did not observe anything in his conduct which would indicate that he was unwilling to speak to me. Perhaps I spoke to him first on that occasion, but inasmuch as there have been many acute differences between us in which he said he would not accept any statement made by me, I assume the newspapers concluded that, as a matter of intelligent discrimination, I might decline to make any statement to him."

Expresses Sympathy

Prince Of Wales Is Moved By Plight Of Unemployed

Newcastle, England.—The Prince of Wales expressed sympathy for the workless and made a plea to social workers for voluntary personal service to better what he termed "deplorable conditions" during a tour of this distressed industrial district of England.

Moved by the plight of the unemployed, he made a little impromptu speech of sympathy to 300 of the jobless at an unemployment centre at South Shields.

"Let me wish you the best of luck," he said. "My sympathy is with you all. I sincerely hope the employment that used to be here will come back and hard times will not continue very much longer."

The uncheduled speech surprised and pleased the hearers, who acknowledged it with cheers.

Reward Is Offered

B.C. Government Making Determined Efforts To Discover Bombers

Victoria, B.C.—Determined efforts to identify miscreants responsible for a long series of bombings of school buildings and other structures, and tampering with railway tracks in the interior of British Columbia, have been launched by the government with the announcement of a reward of $2,000 for information leading to the discovery and arrest of those responsible for sabotage in the Doukhobor areas.

R. H. Pooley, Attorney-General, made the announcement following special efforts to trace those responsible for attempted train wrecking and bombings. In addition to the usual police stationed in the Doukhobor districts, 16 special constables have been sworn in under an intensive system of patrols. Guards have been stationed on public buildings.

Premier S. F. Tolmie announced that negotiations were being conducted with the federal authorities in connection with protection of public property on the main transportation system of the province.

A Troublesome Side Line

Sir Henry Thornton Wishes C.N.R Did Not Own Any Hotels

Ottawa, Ont.—"I would be delighted if we did not own hotels anywhere. They give me more trouble than all the rest of the railways put together," Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, told the House of Commons committee on railways and shipping here Wednesday, April 27. Many of these had been in existence before he became president of the system, while others had been built in order to equalize competition with the Canadian Pacific.

Bank Closing Not Intended

Premier Bracken Expected To Get Assistance From Government

Winnipeg, Man.—Premier John Bracken told the Manitoba Legislature's committee inquiring into closing of the Provincial Savings Office that he had never negotiated with Prime Minister R. B. Bennett with a view to closing the office. He had hoped to get financial aid from the Dominion Government with which to meet heavy withdrawals but was turned down, he said, and only then was closing of the institution considered.

The Savings Office was closed in February after the federal government and banks had refused to grant Manitoba a loan which would have permitted continuance of business, remarked the premier.

C. W. Scott, British Flyer, Makes Journey In Less Than Nine Days

Port Darwin, Australia.—C. W. A. Scott, British flyer, landed his aeroplane here after a flight from Lympne, England, beating the former record for an air trip between the two countries by seven hours and 36 minutes.

Scott's time for the 13,188 miles was eight days, 13 hours and 53 minutes, and regained for him the record he lost last year when C. A. Butler made the flight in nine days, two hours and 29 minutes, one hour and 42 minutes faster than Scott's previous time.

The flyer took off from Lympne at 5 o'clock on the morning of April 19, and flew by way of Brindisi, Italy, across Persia and India to Sourabaya, Java.

Banning Use Of Highways

Government Of Alberta Saved Huge Sum By Protecting Gravelled Roads

Edmonton, Alberta.—The Government of Alberta saved $500,000 through banning the use of certain highways owing to recent heavy snowfalls and rains, said Premier J. E. Brownlee, Wednesday, April 27. Mr. Brownlee was referring to protests of Edmonton transport companies who claimed the ban prevented them from doing business.

If heavy trucks or buses had been allowed on the highways during the excessive snow and rain, the highways would have been seriously damaged and the cost of repair would have been nearly half a million, said Mr. Brownlee.

Steamship "Keewatin," when he received the ceremonial silk "topper" for being the first skipper to bring his vessel into Fort William when navigation opened on the Great Lakes this season. The lucky captain is seen being congratulated by G. R. Duncan, president of the Fort William Chamber of Commerce, who also presented him with an illuminated address.

BACK TO LAND PLAN IS HELPED BY RELIEF FUNDS

Ottawa, Ont.—Decision of the Federal Government to apply a portion of relief expenditures now being used in supporting unemployed families in enabling such families to gain a subsistence on the land was announced by Hon. W. A. Gordon, Minister of Labor, subject to equal contributions by the province and the municipality concerned. It is proposed to assist families, physically fit and otherwise qualified to undertake settlement, to put themselves on a self-supporting basis. The joint contribution will be sufficient to cover the cost of modest establishment in the way of livestock and equipment in addition to necessary subsistence while the families are getting a start.

"This is in no sense a government-aided land settlement scheme," said Mr. Gordon, "but an application of relief expenditure to enable families receiving relief to contribute to their own maintenance by labor on the land, where they may eventually establish themselves on a self-supporting basis."

Administration of the scheme will be under provincial jurisdiction with respect to the selection of families, location of suitable farms and settlement of families thereon. While responsibility for administration will rest upon the provinces it is intended that advisory committees, consisting of representatives of province, municipality, federal land settlement branch, Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways, will co-operate.

Aviator Says Eskimos In Alaska Suffering

Many In Villages Destroyed By Tidal Wave Without Food

Fairbanks, Alaska.—A picture of human misery "so dire as to be almost unbelievable," was drawn by Pilot Art Woodley, upon his return here from a flight over the country between the mouth of the Yukon River and the Hooper Bay region.

The region was struck by a tidal wave last December and several native villages destroyed. Woodley was accompanied on his trip by the Very Rev. Francis Menager, superior of Jesuit Missions in Alaska.

Several hundred Eskimos in a number of the villages visited, Woodley and Father Menager said, were virtually without food. The ice cakes, which rode on the tidal wave, were carried inland as far as 20 miles, they said, and destroyed the Eskimos' winter supply of fish.

Missionaries have given aid, but their resources were reported by Father Menager to be limited. Sickness is growing among the natives and there is a fear of floods as a result of the melting of heavy snows.

Jury Was Lenient

Did Not Blame Accused For Kissing Pretty Girl

Warren, Ont.—Lips of Warren maidens are so alluring that man can't be blamed for trying to kiss them, a jury of five Warren burghers decided in Judge Edmond Proulx' division court. Papa Honore Dabiens sued neighbor Giroux Ovila for trying to kiss his daughter, Elizabeth, but the jury took a look at Elizabeth and decided that man is weak and Ovila was not to blame.

Though the case was a civil action for $100, the jury brought in a verdict of "not guilty."

"Not guilty of what?" demanded Judge Proulx.

"Not guilty of anything," the jury replied.
