Creston Shippers Sign Apreement

Preliminary Pledge Made by All Concerned to Participate in Apple Cartel — Prices Established on Firm F.O.B. Basis.

Creston and district fruit shipping organizations have lined up one hundred per cent. behind the apple "Cartel" and as evidence of good faith a meeting of representatives of all concerned was held here on 21st inst., and a preliminary agreement signed to that effect. The preliminary is short and to the point and is as follows:

"We, the undersigned, hereby agree to sign the agreement known as the "Cartel" immediately same is presented to us, and in surety affix our signatures hereto.

"In the meantime we agree to make no sales except on a firm F.O.B. basis.

"(Signed): Frank Putnam; Crestland Fruit Co., Ltd., (Scott Fruit Co.), per H. H. Harrison; Long, Allan & Long, Ltd., per C. W. Allan, secretary; Aassociated Growers of B. C. Ltd., per W. McL. Cooper, local manager Witness to all above signatures, F. J. Hale."

It has been arranged that a committee from each of the local packing houses will meet from time to time and set F.O.B. prices. The arrangement is that absolutely no shipments are to go from here except on a firm F.O.B. basis; this became effective last Monday and the arrangement applies to everything in this district.

With regard to the Nelson, Kaslo and main lake sections it is understood that most of the output from there is handled by the Associated, with some through Scott Frnit Co., but as these organizations are most active in support of the "Cartel" in all other sections, the same 100 per cent. lineup is assured from the main lake.

The first committee meeting was held after signing of the preliminary agreement and the following price list, F.O.B. Creston became at once effective and remains so until further notice:

Tomato—Lugs, 30 lbs. net, 85c; 4 basket, 60c; green pear boxes, 65c.

Corn—Golden Bantam, 23c dozen sugar, 20c dozen.

Peppers, green, 10 lb.

Cucumbers, table, peach crates, 35c; dills, peach crates, 70c; picklers, peach crates, 75.

Plums—No. 1, 4-basket, $1; No. 2 4-basket, 85c; No. 2, suitcases, 75c.

Pears—Clapps Favorite, fancy, $1.75; Clapps Favorite, Cee, $1.50.

Apples—Transparent, household, 75c; Duchess, household, 75c.

Crabapples — Transcendents, pear boxes, $1.

Blackberries— Monday (Wednesday and Friday, $1.50 (F.O.B. Boswell.)

While Empire preference will be no particular aid this season, there is actually quite a bit of expectation from export to Great Britain. In the case of Creston apples, quite a movement may materialize, as shippers realize that the more apples are moved overseas, the better will be the possibilities for some improvement in the domestic market.

Where there is a lack of suitable storage here, experience has shown that there is ample available in the larger prairie centers, where apples may be stacked up for the winter at a relatively low cost per box, and subsequently moved in accordance with release as the Cartel heads designate or export call demands.

To some degree, at least, more especially in the export markets, the apple marketing situation should be helped by the short crop in the United States and a less than average crop in Eastern Canada. While the eastern and northwestern states will produce a fair to good apple crop the Middle West group, which contributes heavily to the total production, will show a heavy shortage as compared with last season. Estimates on the United States market crop run are around 28,000,000 barrels, or approximately the same as the 1929 crop

Creston Becoming a Big Saturday Shopping Center

Cranbrook and Bonners papers have been doing a great deal of enthusiastic crowing lately regarding the merits of their respective cities as shopping centres on Saturday nights. Creston is commencing to cut some figure in that connection also. On Saturday evening it is getting difficult to elbow one's way along Canyon road between 7 and 8 o'clock. With several hundred autos lined up, parking space is at a premium with a range of visitors from Crawford Bay on the west to Yahk on the east.

Reclamation Plan Up at Victoria

Ten Thousand Acres Involved In Negotiations Between Representatives of Company and the Provincial Government.

C. O. Rodgers, Frank Staples and Col. Lister, M.P.P., have been at Victoria for several days past in connection with affairs of the Creston Reclamation Co., Ltd., and more particulary with regard to reaching agreement with the provincial lands department as to the Creston Flats. They have been in frequent conference with government officials during the past few days.

They made the trip to the capital the latter part of last week upon advice that the matter would be taken up in an effort to reach a satisfactory arrangement.

It is understood here that tentatively 10,000 acres are involved in the negotiations.

A night letter received a couple of days ago stated that an effort was made to straighten out various matters with regard to which there was some difference of opinion.

In the event of an agreement being reached, a big step forward will have been made in advancing the plans of the company. It may mean that a start can be made this fall at commencement of dyking the Flats.

If the Victoria negotiations are successfully concluded the succeeding step will be arranging with the Department at Ottawa with regard to embracing certain Indian lands that come under the reclamation project.

Plans in this connection have been under consideration for several years and the scheme is considered of the greatest possible importance to Creston and the Valley. The company has already expended upwards of some $6000 in securing data and reports.

Sun Eclipse Wednesday

Providing it is clear, an interesting phenomenon is scheduled to be observed next Wednesday, the 31st inst. This will be a partial eclipse of the sun, with about 40 per cent. of Sol's face to be obscured at this point. The schedule provides for the moon commencing to be visible against the sun's background here at 29 minutes and one half seconds past eleven, local time. At about 12:25 the maximum obscuration is to be reached, while at 1:21 the phenomena ends. The eclipse will be total in a band 30 miles wide extending downwards across the St. Lawrence valley, through some of the New England and into the southern states of the Atlantic seaboard.

The owners each holding one-fifth, are: E. W. Stoner, Porthill; John and Cora Kingston, Jas. Gulberson and Harry McCullough, Priest River, Idaho.

Frothblowers and Canyon to Battle

Thirty Bucks to be Fought For In Series of Three Games Scheduled to Start Here Next Sunday.

An interesting ball game is scheduled to be played here next Sunday, the contending teams being Canyon and the Creston Frothblowers. This is the first of the series of three final games between Canyon and the Frothblowers. The winner of two will get the long end of a $30 pot, i.e., twenty bucks. The other team will get ten.

Canyon heads the local league this season, topping the list with seven games won and three lost or a 700% showing. As the tally stands, teams have come out in the following order:

	Won	Lost	Per Cent
Canyon	7	3	700
Frothblowers	6	4	600
Kitchener	6	4	600
Port Hill	6	4	600
Intermediates	4	6	400
Eastport	1	9	100

With the Frothblowers, Kitchener and Port Hill standing even, it became necessary for the three to battle it out to determine which should play against Canyon. The last of these games was played here Sunday, when the Frothblowers got the best of Kitchener by a three to one score.

Reports of Start on Pole Line Construction Denied

Persistent reports of commencement of pole line construction by Canyon Power Co. to the Goat river power site have been common the past few days. Inquiry at the company's office here brought a denial that such work had been started.

It is known that last week inquiry was made regarding poles and other construction material. It is also known that negotiations have been conducted recently with regard to the acquisition of the power site.

Pretty Pussy's Purring Problem for Sound Engineers

The purring of a cat was successfully recorded for a sound moving picture during the filming of "Silence," the Saturday attraction at the Grand, in which Clive Brook, Marjorie Rambeau, Peggy Shannon and Charles Starrett play the featured roles. A three-months-old kitten was used for the experiment. Brook and Peggy Shannon petted the kitten while the microphone was brought close to it. The sound was too strong the first time, sounding like the low-toned motor of an airplane. Reduced in volume, it sounded like the clicking of a moving picture camera. Other adjustments brought the purring in like a waterfall, an outboard motor, the exhaust of an automobile, the snoring of a man. Eventually proper amplification reproduced perfectly the purring of the kitten.

A nugget worth $51.30, one of the largest found on Wild Horse creek during this season's gold placering excitement, was picked up a few days ago,

Motor Insurance Effective Sept. 1

New Legislation Designed to Protect Public Against Irresponsible and Incompetent Car Drivers.

On September 1 the "Financial Responsibility Law," as passed at the 1932 session of the British Columbia Legislature, will be effective.

Similar legislation has been adopted by New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island, Manitoba, Nova Scotia, and Ontario, and applies to all automobiles, motor-trucks, trailers, motorcycles, and tractors.

It is not a compulsory insurance law, applying penalties only to those who bring themselves under it, and is intended to encourage safe and careful driving.

Under this law the driver's license of a person and every owner's licence held by him will be suspended if he fails to satisfy within 30 days a final judgment against him for damages on account of bodily injury to another person, or on account of damage to another's property in excess of $100. The licenses will also be suspended if a driver is convicted on such charges as driving to the common danger or exceeding the speed limit, if any injury to anybody or to property in excess of $15 occurs in connection therewith; failing to remain at or return to the scene of an accident; driving with a license; any criminal offence involving the use of a motor-vehicle which includes any conviction for driving a motor-vehicle while intoxicated.

Every license suspended for such reasons will remain suspended until the holder has given proof of financial responsibility.

Proof of financial responsibility may be given by filing a policy of an authorized insurance company, the filing of a bond of an authorized guarantee or surety company, or the deposit of cash or securities to the amount of $11,000.

When such proof of financial responsibility has been required it must be continued for three years.

Huge Bear Bites the Dust!

Local residents who have been desirous of visiting the Idaho-Continental mine region, west of Port Hill, but who have been deterred by tales of a huge grizzly bear stamping in that vicinity, will now be able to go up that way without apprehension of being chased out by the monster. It seems that this particular bear is notorious throughout northern Idaho for annoying tourists; more than that he got a great kick out of raiding camps, destroying food he could not eat, tearing down tents or cabins and bending frying pans into double bow knots. This disturber of the peace is no more, as, according to reports, W. H. Rideout, manager of the International Molybdenum Co., set out a trap into which Bruin walked, with disastrous results to himself, as he fell an easy prey to the Rideout blunderbuss. Weight of the animal is given as 1000 pounds with a length of 7½ feet from tip to tip.

Rotary Clubs Hold Session

Members of the Trail, Nelson and Cranbrook Rotary clubs held a joint session here on Wednesday, the visitors arriving about noon and leaving before evening. A luncheon was served in the basement of the United church, a number of local residents joining at that function.

A very successful and enjoyable picnic was held on the Flats Wednesday afternoon by the Presbyterian Sunday school There was a large attendance with plenty of good things to eat. A little excitement was occasioned by Gordon Martin, son of W. B. Martin, getting an extra mouthful of water but with plenty of kids around he was soon landed safely on shore and is reported none the worse for the experience. Good work was done in this connection by Lloyd and Herbert Couling, Don Bolton and Bill Bourdon.

Help Our Youth Now.

Within recent weeks daily newspapers throughout the Dominion have printed columns, and sometimes solid pages, of names of young men and women who have graduated from universities and colleges or passed the final examinations of their Normal, technical, collegiate, high school or business college courses. The total number of these young people in Canada runs away up in the thousands every year, and last year and again this year has been no exception.

In the case of the University and college graduates they have, with a few exceptions who will go on with post-graduate work, come to the end of one phase of life. The same is true of the vast majority of those who have completed Normal, technical, collegiate, high school, and business college courses. A certain number of these will go to university, or take up some special course of further training, but, generally speaking, these students have ended the days of their scholastic preparation for life.

In a word, this great army of youth, who in their teens and early twenties have been studying and undergoing training, has completed this first stage in life's journey. They have been preparing for work. Thy are now ready to go to work, and are eager to begin, bubbling over with enthusiasm and keyed up with energy for the work ahead, and stirred with ideas and ambitions of what they expect and desire to accomplish.

And right at the outset they are met with rebuff, with crushing disappointment. In an overwhelming majority of cases there is no work for them to do, no positions open for them to fill, no opportunities knocking at the door to which they can respond. True, there is the odd case where through family or other influence a position is made available, but, by and large, inability to secure work is the experience of this army of today's youth, trained, eager and ready to work. They find themselves in a world which offers them little or no opportunity to use their hard won knowledge and training.

Herein lies the greatest tragedy of present day conditions, herein is to be found the greatest menace not only to the future lives and usefulness of these young people, but to the future of our country. At the close of one period in their lives, they are confronted with a blank wall; thy cannot retrace their steps, they cannot go forward. What are they to do except "mark time" for the present, and, while marking time, what is to be effect on their enthusiams, their energy and initiative, their ambitions,—in a word, on their character? They must fill in the time in some fashion. During this trying period of enforced idleness, are they going to develop habits of shiftlessness, slip into evil ways, weaken morally? Is the clear, straight thinking developed in their student days to become twisted, and the strong anchorages deeply imbedded in the wisdom and experience of the past which have been instilled in them to be uprooted?

These are questions to be answered not only by present-day youth, but by the more adult generation. The elders of today have survived other depressions, other panics and crises, and they know that the evils of today will be overcome and pass away. They have confidence that there are just as good, even better days ahead; that the future holds just as great opportunities, greater in fact, than the past, and that these opportunities will come to the youth of today as they came to them. But youth, lacking the experience, is not sure of this. It has had its golden visions of immediate activity and usefulness in the world of work dimmed, if not shattered. They are hurt and bewildered. They are not at all sure of the future, and are in a questioning state of mind. They do not know where to turn. Parents and friends are absorbed in their own difficulties, worried and apt to be impatient.

The elders of this generation require to develop an understanding of their children's problems and present outlook on life, to reveal to them a deep sympathy, and to cultivate a divine patience with them. Parents can, perhaps, do more in these days to make or break the future lives of their children than was possibly the case in other years.

And what is true of the parents is likewise true of those who are the leaders of and responsible for the life and activities of the communities in which they live. Youth must be served, and if active remunerative employment for a time cannot be provided as an outlet for their energies and enthusiasms, then other provision must be made.

Students of the problem confronting youth at present suggest two forms of activity for them in the absence of other employment. One, that in each and every community adequate means and forms of recreation be provided to engage the interest of and provide an outlet for the energies of youth,—in all departments of sport, in properly supervised dances, in the organization of orchestras, glee clubs, amateur theatricals, debating societies, in libraries containing books on inventions, explorations, science, etc.

Second, in the arousing and developing of an interest among young people in the welfare of the community in which they live. If remunerative occupation cannot be provided for the youth of the community, give them the opportunity to serve themselves through some form of recreation and to serve others and the community at large until the opportunity to realize their ambitions returns. The elders of the community can develop such programmes,—there is always a need, and probably more so now than ever before,—and by the application of the enthusiasm and energy of youth they can be carried through. It will keep them out of mischief, and give them something to think about besides their own problems. Instead of becoming narrow, selfish and bitter, such an interest will broaden their outlook and such activities will sweeten their lives. They will discover much to be thankful for; that in many ways they are not so badly off after all; hope will be revived, confidence restored, new, and possibly better conditions aroused.

Suffered A Severe Attack Of Dysentery

Mr. P. L. D. Moullard, Vernon, B.C., writes:—"Last Summer I suffered from a severe attack of dysentery. I tried nearly everything on the market, without getting any relief, until a friend told me to use Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, which I did, and I got immediate relief. Now I am making it a rule to always keep a bottle of it in my medicine chest.

"Wild Strawberry is sure relief for dysentery, colic and diarrhoea, but I always see I get the genuine 'Dr. Fowler's'."

Food Prices Decline

Cost Of Food Half Of What It Was In 1921

Cost of food today over the store counter is considerably less than half what it was in 1921, and has shown a marked decline since 1929, a report issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics shows.

The index numbers of the Dominion Bureau of the retail prices of food 11 years ago stood at 141.1; in 1929 it was 101, slightly over the base of 100 in 1926, and in July this year it was 61.4, a drop of 39.6 points in three years.

The index number of clothing, fuel and rents has also declined, and on the whole the change in the cost of living is shown by a drop in the total index from 99.9 in 1929 to 80.8 last month.

Practically every item of food shows reductions, including meats, butter, milk, bread, sugar, coffee and tea. Vinegar is a lone standout, showing little change. It was 7.8 cents per pint in 1929. Today it is 7.5 cents.

WHOLE FAMILY WITH INDIGESTION

A mother of four writes:—"Myself and family of four all seemed to suffer from acidity, pains in the back, and other forms of indigestion. I suffered whatever I ate. But since we have been taking Kruschen (for the last three months) we can eat anything, and all enjoy our food much better. We never have a trace of acidity or pain now. I think it is wonderful—it has no upsetting results. Whatever we may have to go without, we could not give up Kruschen."—(Mrs.) M.K.

Kruschen Salts swiftly neutralizes acid, takes all the torment out of it, and gently expels it from the system. And by stimulating your organs of elimination to perfect regular action, Kruschen will prevent this harmful acid from ever accumulating again. After that you'll experience no more misery after meals. Kruschen will keep your inside clean and serene. Pure and invigorated blood will be sent coursing to every part of your body. You'll feel wonderfully energetic and well. As healthy and hearty as it is humanly possible to feel.

Revenue From Radio

Receipts From Radio Licenses Exceed One Million Dollars

Receipts from radio receiving licenses this fiscal year already exceed $1,000,000. This means 500,000 owners of sets have taken out licenses. This is said to be about half of those owning sets. It had been planned to prosecute those who did not take out licenses voluntarily but it has been decided to first make a house to house canvas. Commander C. P. Edwards will have charge of organizing this Canada-wide undertaking.

A Corrector Of Pulmonary Troubles.—Many testimonials could be presented showing the great efficacy of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil in correcting disorders of the respiratory processes, but the best testimonial is experience and the Oil is recommended to all who suffer from these disorders with the certainty that they will find relief. It will allay inflammation in the bronchial tubes.

Old Coin Survives Fire

Was Imbedded In Silver Of Others That Melted

A coin 1,133 years old, dated A.D. 799, has been found at Corning, Illinois, among the possessions of Jake Bittner. Mrs. Bittner's father was a coin collector, but when his home burned the coins were melted. The metal was thrown in a trunk. Dug out recently with an eye toward selling the silver metal, the mass revealed one coin imbedded in the silver. Made of copper, it had not melted.

Will Not Reveal Secret

J. D. Ames, retired marine engineer, of Houston, Texas, has turned his hobby into a money-making industry, in spite of present economic difficulties. Ames makes small ships and inserts them in quart bottles. He will not reveal his secret of constructing the models in the bottles, but he is able to sell all he can build.

Out in the cattle country according to a Western paper, it is not unusual to see a $50 saddle on a $15 broncho. Huh! Around here we're always running into—or being run into by—$5 cars wearing $15 licenses.

An Important Industry

Demand For Lobsters From Canadian Waters Is Growing

The lowly lobster has climbed to a high place of importance among Canadian industries and offers one of the brightest spots on the Dominion's business horizon, according to a bulletin just released by the Department of Immigration and Colonization of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

"Both in the United States and Great Britain, demand for lobsters from Canadian waters has been growing and the industry is in a healthy state," the bulletin stated. "Lobsters now are second only to salmon as the most important fishing enterprise in Canada, the salmon industry being centered largely in British Columbia and the lobsters coming chiefly from the Atlantic coast near Halifax, N.S."

The bulletin told of a new record for a single shipment of canned lobsters which recently was made to Great Britain. The shipment contained 10,000 cases and was valued at $200,000.

A Token Of Gratitude

German Soldier Pays Tribute To Humanity Of American Doughboy

A little silver coin bracelet to commemorate the humanity of an unknown "doughboy" who saved the life of his enemy was recently deposited in America's war museum at West Point.

August Ullrich, late of the Kaiser's armies, sent the trinket from his death-bed and with it this note:

"Before I will have to depart, I intend to fulfill the promise I gave to a soldier of the American army, who saved my life in 1918.

"I therefore lay in your hands a bracelet made out of old German coins as a sign of appreciation for a nation whose soldiers even in war treated their enemies with great consideration."

Erect Higher Buildings

Permission Granted To Construct Buildings In London To Height Of 100 Feet

An upward advance in the height of bulidings permitted to be constructed in London has been allowed by the County Council. Henceforth structures may rise to a height of 100 feet. The previous limit was 80 feet. Risk of fire has been the principal factor in limiting the upward extent of London's buildings, but under present methods of steel construction the risk is considerably lessened. It is doubtful, however, whether the subsoil would bear structures of skyscraper proportions, though heights of 200 feet are anticipated.

Many infants are infested by worms which cause great suffering, and if not promptly dealt with may cause constitutional weaknesses difficult to remedy. Miller's Worm Powders will clear the stomach and bowels of worms and will so act upon the system that there will be no recurrence of the trouble. And not only this, but they will repair the injuries to the organs that worms cause and restore them to soundness.

Novel Use For 'Planes

Japanese Army Machines Search For Active Volcano

Japanese army 'planes were put to the novel use of scouting for an active volcano. Reports came to Harbin that an extinct volcano in the Hingang range to the west had suddenly become active. Rumblings were reported as heard in a place 25 miles away from Harbin. The 'planes failed to locate any evidence of eruption. Russian scientists reported 13 volcanoes in the Hingang range back in the 18th century.

Using Canadian Ports

Canadian ports are being used by Canadian shippers to a greater extent than possibly ever before, and the routing of the Dominion's grain to the United Kingdom via the all-Canada route is increasing. Formerly, United States ports got the bulk of Canadian grain for shipment overseas, but this situation has been changed in the past year.

CONSIDER PLANS FOR FINANCING DIRECT RELIEF

Winnipeg, Man.—Special sessions of the three prairie legislatures may be called this fall to consider a plan to finance direct unemployment relief if the Federal Government does not continue arrangements made last fall, according to reports in official circles here.

Under an agreement the Federal Government, province, and municipalities each were to pay one-third, the Dominion Government in addition agreeing to assist the province to finance its share. The Dominion Government later notified the province that it did not propose to continue this arrangement after April 1.

Each of the prairie governments now is confronted with the situation of being unable to borrow for relief purposes except on bank overdraft, and under the circumstances this is not possible.

Calgary, Alberta.—Representatives of the four western provinces and cities may meet Premier R. B. Bennett to discuss unemployment relief, when the Prime Minister comes to Calgary about the end of August.

Provincial delegates had planned to meet the Prime Minister at Ottawa, but following a report that Mr. Bennett would be in the city in less than two weeks, it is expected representatives will seek an appointment here.

Mutual Preferences

Committee On Foreign Relations Makes Recommendations

Ottawa, Ont.—The Imperial Conference committee on foreign relations is understood to include in its report recommendations that:

(1) No treaty obligations into which the empire countries might enter in the future should be allowed to interfere with any mutual preferences which the governments of the commonwealth might agree upon.

(2) The empire countries will free themselves from any existing treaties as might interfere with mutual preferences which may be agreed upon.

The United Kingdom has trade pacts giving most favored nation treatment to Soviet Russia and Argentine. No treaties, though, are specified in the report.

New Shotgun Device

Youthful Inventor Claims Weapon Can Fire 400 Shots o Minute

Chicago.—A 20-year-old junior college student is inventor of a device which he claims will convert an ordinary shotgun into a death-dealing device capable of shooting its customary ammunition at the rate of 400 shots a minute—and has pledged himself to keep it from gangsters and criminals.

The inventor, Charles A. Michal of suburban Elmedale, said the device can easily be attached to any shotgun. It has been submitted to local police departments for thorough tests.

Britain Would Tax Road Users Heavily

Railway and Highway Authorities Propose Higher Levy

London, England.—Heavy additional taxation on users of the public highway is proposed in the report of a joint conference between railway and highway authorities in Great Britain, issued recently.

"Mechanically propelled vehicles" should pay $240,000,000 a year toward the cost of roads, the report recommends. Of this commercial vehicles should pay $94,000,000 and others $146,000,000. The report urges a much heavier tax on commercial vehicles, particularly the larger type.

African Explorer Dead

New York.—A special cable to the New York Times, reported the death at Bournemouth, England, of Capt. Poulet Weatherby, geographer and African explorer, who discovered the source of the Congo at the age of 72.

Braving Ocean In Canoe

Two Scandinavian Sailors Leave Montreal For Vancouver

Montreal, Que.—Braving the dangers of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, two experienced Scandinavian sailors left here August 16 in an 18-foot canoe en route to Vancouver via Cape Horn. The navigators, Helge Borup, 42, Danish sailor and newspaper editor, and Harold T. Jensen, 38, a veteran ship's officer, expect to complete the journey in about two years.

The craft, an Ontario product, is equipped with a sail, outrigger and rudder and will carry the two men, who weigh about 200 pounds each, together with 800 pounds of equipment made up of a tent, clothing, fishing lines, camping utensils and modern navigation instruments.

The two plan to sail down the St. Lawrence River, through the gulf and along the coast of the Maritime provinces and New England states to Boston and New York, where stops will be made. Their itinerary will then take them to Key West and thence to Havana, Cuba.

From the Pacific Coast they intend entraining to the Thunder Bay district for an inland water voyage back to Montreal.

Jensen navigated the Amazon River alone from its source to the sea in 1924.

For National Bank

Native Sons Of Canada Want Revision Of Canadian System

Quebec, Que.—The Native Sons of Canada want revision of the Canadian banking system.

After lengthy discussion, the organization in convention here adopted a resolution embodying the following points.

(1) Creation of a national banking commission having discretionary powers over all matters pertaining to all Canadian banks:

(2) Creation of a Canadian national bank, to serve as a reserve bank:

(3) Greater protection for bank depositors together with stricter governmental surveillance of banking practices.

Lack of interest shown by Canadians in Dominion Day, and refusal of some industrial and business firms to declare a holiday on that day was deplored in another resolution adopted by the convention.

Estate Will Be Auctioned

Large Property Of Earl Of Egmont To Be Sold

London, England.—Calverton estate, a property in Buckinghamshire belonging to the Earl of Egmont, is to be sold by auction, it was announced recently.

The youthful "Rancher Earl," who succeeded to the title on the death of his father four months ago, has returned to Canada and is living on the Alberta ranch at Priddis, where "Mr. Percival" farmed until he became the 10th earl in 1929.

Calverton estate covers about 461 acres, with a small residence, three farms, 32 country cottages and some valuable building land.

Grant Provided For

Money For Grain Show Will Be Available As Required

Ottawa, Ont.—The balance of $140,000, which remains of the Dominion grant for the world grain show, to be held in Regina next year, will be made available as required.

A vote was put in the estimates last year for $150,000, and $10,000 of this has been paid over. This has been announced at the Department of Agriculture.

The management of the fair is in the hands of an executive committee headed by Hon. W. C. Buckle, Minister of Agriculture in Saskatchewan.

To Test New Airplane

Berlin, Germany.—An aeroplane which will retrace the steps of aviation to study the flight of birds is awaiting a trial at Tempelhof Aerodrome. It has a wing construction approximating the wings of a seagull and its aim is to secure greater stability in the air. Hans Richter, pioneer glider flyer, is the designer.

CALLS FOR MORE TREES

Hon. James F. Bryant, as Chairman of the Saskatchewan Commission on Conservation, is advising the farmers of that province that the present is the time to go in for a tree planting campaign. He lays particular stress upon the use of Caragana hedges to stop soil drifting.

Mounties May Police B.C.

Would Bring Whole Of Western Canada Under Federal Force

Victoria, B.C.—Consideration of turning over to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police the policing of British Columbia is under consideration of the department of the attorney-general, it was definitely learned here. The development is one of the results of the Kidd report on British Columbia finances, it was stated.

The arrangement proposed provides the abolition of the British Columbia Provincial police and 39 municipal police forces, all of which cost $1,700,000 annually. City police forces of Vancouver and Victoria would be continued as at present.

Completion of an agreement for policing British Columbia by the Royal Canadian Mounted would bring the whole of western Canada under the federal force. Saskatchewan turned over its policing to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police almost four years ago, while Alberta and Manitoba provincial forces were absorbed this spring.

Irish Tariff War

President De Valera Showing Little Interest In Question

Dublin, Ireland.—If fresh overtures are made for negotiations to end the tariff war between the Irish Free State and the United Kingdom, they must come from London. This is the general understanding in official circles here.

Concentrating on internal problems, President Eamon de Valera has shown little interest so far in the question of reopening negotiations. He is said to be well aware of the difficulties confronting his new policy, now that retaliatory tariffs on both sides have dislocated trade across the Irish Sea. Default of Free State land annuities to Britain started the difficulties.

Retrenchment Programme

Manitoba Government Plans Drastic Cut In Expenditures

Winnipeg, Man.—Government members of the Manitoba legislature met in the first caucus since the election, to pass on a retrenchment programme planned by the government of Premier John Bracken, involving a saving of somewhere between $500,000 and $1,000,000.

Previously, Hon. D. G. McKenzie, Minister of Agriculture and Hydro, had announced for purposes of economy his department will not send an exhibit to the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto this winter, this move will result in a saving of some $5,000.

Falling revenues since the estimates were submitted in the legislature last spring have made necessary drastic curtailments in Manitoba government expenditures. For instance, more than 3,000 fewer passenger cars are being operated in Greater Winnipeg this year, and 12,600 fewer passenger cars for the whole province, according to figures on motor vehicle licenses obtained by the Manitoba tax commission.

Lancaster Is Acquitted

British Flyer Is Freed On a Charge Of Murder

Miami, Fla.—Captain W. N. Lancaster, British flyer, was freed on a charge of murdering Haden Clarke, young writer and his rival in love, Wednesday, August 17, by a verdict which precipitated a court room demonstration that threatened to go beyond the control of bailiffs.

The 12-man jury deliberated four hours and 48 minutes before acquitting him on one complete ballot.

He had been on trial since August 2 in one of the most sensational hearings in the history of South Florida—a trial that brought out the secret love lives of himself, Haden Clarke, and Mrs. Jessie M. Keith-Miller, Australian aviatrix in full detail.

S.S. Pennyworth Arrives

Docks At Churchill With Miscellaneous Cargo

Churchill, Man.—With a miscellaneous cargo in her holds consigned to western Canada points, the British steamship "Pennyworth" docked here after an uneventful voyage from Liverpool. Unloading operations are already under way. Later she will be loaded with 250,000 bushels of grain for the return voyage to the old country.

Six freight steamers will call at Churchill, the new Canadian ocean port nf Hudson Bay, during the present season of navigation, it was announced Wednesday, August 17, by Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals.

The Russian Method

Chelavinsk, Russia.—The first sentences of death under a new decree providing the extreme penalty for persons who steal goods in shipment on the railroads were meted out on two gang leaders by the transport court here. They must die before a firing squad.

ITALY PLANNING TO SCRAP THIRD OF ENTIRE FLEET

Rome, Italy.—One hundred and thirty thousand tons of Italy's fighting ships—practically one-third of the entire navy—will be retired under a programme beginning August 25. The purpose is to save money.

When the programme has been completed, Italy will be without a single battleship. The "Andrea Doria," 22,700 tons, and her sister ship, the "Duillo," which were rushed to completion in 1915 when Italy entered the world war, will be placed out of commission. Under the Washington treaty, Italy has the right to 170,000 tons of battleships, but she has elected to disregard this category in favor of heavy and light cruisers.

A report presented to the disarmament conference showed that the whole Italian navy totals 404,005 tons, including 20 ships still under construction.

The need for economy was indicated by the fact that some new ships are intended for retirement. These are four of the 12 2,000-ton destroyers of the newest Italian type.

German Political Situation

Hitler Says He Will Not Use Storm Troops To Gain Power

Berlin, Germany.—Chancellor Franz von Papen has received assurances Adolf Hitler will not use his storm troops to seize political power, but in any event he will not hesitate to suppress any revolt by force of arms.

The chancellor made this assertion in an interview in which he vigorously reiterated Germany's demand for equality in armaments with other nations, declaring the fatherland no longer could submit to being treated a second-class nation.

Although the cabinet situation still is in a state of flux and there is no telling who will rule Germany after the new Reichstag has been called into session late this month, the chancellor appeared serenely confident his government would stay in power.

Asked whether he expected to be chancellor next Christmas he said: "We shall be in office for a long time."

Export Flour Unloaded

First Shipment Arrives At Churchill For Overseas

Churchill, Man.—In the presence of several Canadian National Railway officials the first Canadian flour ever shipped out of the north was unloaded from a special train in the new freight shed.

The shipment comprised 31 cars from Robin Hood Mills, Saskatoon and Moose Jaw, destined overseas.

Explorer Will Be Honored

Toronto, Ont.—Etienne Brule, French explorer, who came down the Humber River here in September, 1613, the first white man to look upon Lake Ontario, will be remembered in a memorial to be unveiled here September 17. Plans have been completed for the unveiling, which will be under the auspices of the Women's Canadian Historical Society.

Not Afraid Of Weight

Toronto, Ont.—Life guard Tom McGarry is not afraid of size when called on to rescue some one in distress. Hearing cries for help as he patrolled his section of the lakefront here, McGarry responded and brought to shore William Cuppy, 47, whose estimated weight in his bathing suit was 315 pounds.

Faithful To Duty

Toronto, Ont.—Faithful to the last minute of a quarter century's service, Engineer Dave Martin fought off a heart attack as he brought his fast Canadian National freight train into Toronto from South Parry Sound. As the locomotive pulled into the Union Station, Martin fell dead on the floor of his cab.

The Greek Government has ordered that after October first, all canned goods sold in the country must bear the date of packing.

THE APPLE CARTEL

Members of fruit shippers and marketing organizations appear in the main to be well satisfied with the Okanagan Apple "Cartel," and the plans providing for marketing in an orderly way of this season's apple crop. Growers are not so optimistic. They feel the plan provides some solution of a difficult problem; that the retailer, commission man or wholesaler will at least get all that's coming to them out of the deal; as to what the producer of apples will get, well, that's something else again.

But the apple producers, can draw such meagre consolation as they can from the fact that producers of any commodity always get the short end of the stick, except during those rare intervals when it happens that a seller's market exists.

Editorially, if any criticism can be leveled at the plan at this time, and in view of lack of experience as to its practicability under the strain of actual operation, a justified kick seems to be due the name. Something more appropriate than "cartel" might have been selected; the word is too reminiscent of Germans or some of the other lousy tribes of Central Europe.

No doubt many people in this vicinity or through the Crow and on the prairies, and who happen to be equipped with trucks, will be encouraged to go into the fruit distribution business in a small way by loading up with Creston apples, then moving them to points east of here and cutting prices to some extent. Fortunately, the Creston area is the only one available for a base of operations of this kind, so that this movement will be limited.

This has been done already with cherries, Early Transparents and Duchess apples. It offers possibility of some annoyance to marketing agencies who desire to see fair price levels maintained. Experience has been that truck distributors work on a shoestring, and whenever it so happens that their money gives out and they have to get some dough for a meal or a gallon of gas, the tendency is to dump the entire cargo on any small town retailer for whatever is offered. Expectation of picking up an occasional windfall of this sort will cause such dealers to refrain from buying at a figure affording some profit to shippers and growers.

Kitchener

Mrs. John Renzie returned from the St. Eugene hospital, Cranbrook, much improved in health.

The baseball game played between Kitchener and the Creston Frothblowers at Creston Sunday was won by the latter with a 1-3 score. No runs were scored until the 6th inning when Kitchener scored their only run. It was a good game to the finish and the Kitchener nine gave their opponents a run for their money. Batteries: Kitchener—Louis Anderson, pitcher; Claude Simpson, catcher; Frothblowers—W. Fortin, pitcher; C. Schade, catcher.

Mrs. E. Blair and family and Dennis and Charles Bush left last Sunday morning by car for Robsart, Sask., for a visit with relatives.

A Hurov, Calgary, who passed through Creston on Saturday en route to the coast, lost his car, a new sedan, three miles the other side of Fraser's Landing, the same day. It appears that an old piece of cribbing along the side of the road in that locality gave way under weight of the car; the latter turned over on its top on the lower side of the road, burst into flames and was a total loss. There was no insurance. The driver and two lady passengers were badly cut and bruised.

J. L. Handley is holding first place in the trout prize contest sponsored by V. Mawson. He entered an eastern brook trout weighing two pounds, two ounces, with a length of seventeen and three-quarter inches and a girth of ten and a half inches. This is one of the largest trout of this species caught in the Kitchener country. It came from Meadow creek.

A great deal of automobile traffic between the prairies and the coast comes through Creston and Port Hill in preference to a somewhat more direct route via Eastport, this being due to the poor condition of the road between Yahk and Bonners Ferry. Following some strong representations made through the Crow, Bonners Ferry and other communities on the American side of the line got busy and the result is definite announcement of contract to be let for 15½ miles of standard highway between the Gaudbaur place and Eastport. Another contract provides for construction of a bridge across the Moyie river, the structure to be 200 feet long with a 140-foot span.

No telephone --no invitation

Nowdays most invitations come by telephone. When the Thompsons decide to have some friends in for the evening, one of them reaches for the telephone and calls a few. The arrangements are made in that way. Friends without a telephone are not likely to be asked. It's so much easier to call someone else.

The telephone is very important in providing social contacts. Think of the many pleasant evenings you'd miss if you hadn't one.

Mrs. W. Martin and younger children returned a few days ago from a several weeks' trip to Vancouver. Russell Martin returned with her from Nelson, where he was visiting his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Coats. Mrs. Martin reports an interesting trip, but states she is glad to come back home again to Creston, where conditions are relatively better than at the coast. She found the weather exceptionally foggy and unpleasant. While there she was visiting her son Eric, who was formerly in the drug store here but who is doing very well, having a splendid position in a drug store at Kitsalino. Mrs. Martin had an opportunity of inspecting H.M. light cruiser, Delhi, which was anchored for several days in Burrard Inlet and was greatly thrilled observing a church parade of bluejackets and marines. The most important improvement noted in Vancouver was the appearance of Kitsalino, English Bay and other beaches, which are much better than formerly.

GIFTS FOR BUILDING THE TABERNACLE

Golden Text: "Honor Jehovah with thy substance, and with the first-fruits of all thine increase." — Proverbs 3.9.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 84.1, 2, 8-12.

Explanations and Comments

The Call For Contributions For the Sanctuary, Exodus 35.3-20.—Moses assembled the people and addressed them, probably from a raised platform. He reminded them that it was God's desire to have a sanctuary where He might meet them and they might offer Him their worship. He called for voluntary contributions of materials and labor for the sanctuary and its equipment and for the vestments of the priests. There was one restriction; the givers of gifts must be "willing-hearted," and the laborers "wise-hearted." The people listened and quietly went back to their tents.

"You might have wondered whether they would return, since so little had been said to touch their emotions and arouse their enthusiasm. How different this seems to the methods in use today to extract money from reluctant hands!"

"An Old Subscription List," verses 21-29.—This heading is the happy title which Dr. Alexander Maclaren gives to his exposition of this chapter. "Let each man do according as he hath prospered in his heart," wrote Paul to the Corinthians; "not grudgingly or of necessity, for God loveth a cheerful giver." The men and women on this old subscription list fulfilled that injunction of Paul's. They came—a great crowd of willing givers, "every one whose heart stirred him up, and every one whom his spirit made willing," laden with gifts needed for the building of God's house and for "the holy garments," the garments consecrated for use in the sanctuary.

"The world asks, 'How much does he give?' Christ asks, "Why does he give?"—John R. Mott.

They were refugees. They were living in the wilderness, where there were no stores or workshops. Materials for the tabernacle must come from their private hoards. From Exodus 12.35, 36 we learn that the children of Israel on leaving Egypt asked of the Egyptians "jewels of silver and jewels of gold, and raiment; and Jehovah gave the people favor in sight of the Egyptians, so that they let them have what they asked. And they despoiled the Egyptians." These treasures now the people poured out for Jehovah's use. Every gift was a sacrifice. It could not be replaced.

Utilize White Whales

Hides May Be Used For Manufacture Of Fancy Leather Goods

The two white whales brought to Winnipeg from Hudson Bay by the Industrial Development Board of Manitoba have been rendered at the St. Boniface abattoirs and they provided 35 per cent. of their total weight in excellent quality oil, bearing a slight odor, and being only slightly stronger than olive oil. The board hopes to develop a new industry on the northern water body.

The hides are now in process of tanning which will take some time, but leather workers believe it will prove suitable for the manufacture of ladies' handbags, and other fancy leather goods. Minute study of the outer skin reveals a mottled effect with alternating patches of smooth and rough skin. Blubber almost two inches thick adheres to the hide, but comes off readily.

Some authorities on illumination contend that the office buildings of the future will be built without windows and will employ artificial ventilation, also artificial lighting throughout, in an effort to secure a uniform glow which will not tire the eyes. NEW DEEP WATER ROUTE FOR WESTERN WHEAT OPENED BY WORLD'S GREATEST GRAIN VESSEL

Most fittingly, the vital new link in the Great Lakes' system, Canada's $128,000,000 new Welland Canal, was opened, officially, by sending the greatest grain-carrier afloat, S.S. Lemoyne of Canada Steamship Lines, through the eight locks to Kingston with the biggest cargo of western wheat moved in two years, a load of grain over 150,000 bushels greater than had ever been shipped through the lower lakes in history. The Governor-General, delegates to the Imperial Conference, Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett and members of the Cabinet all attended the opening ceremonies at Thorold.

Bottom: "The practical consummation" of the ceremonies,—S.S. CANADIAN WOMEN FIND DUSTING DISTASTEFUL

Dust cloths going into discard; Unpleasant to use; a bother to Wash

APPLEFORD WONDER PAPER HAS GREAT VOGUE

Of all household tasks, that of dusting is the least appealing to the majority of women.

However, this condition, like many another connected with housework, is undergoing radical change. In a great many Canadian homes the women are discarding dust cloths entirely, and are using Appleford Wonder Paper instead, because it actually dusts—as it cleans—as it polishes, doing a better and much quicker job than the old dust cloth ever did.

This new, and extremely modern Wonder Paper, is made from clean rags, and soft paper pulp, treated in a scientific way with a high-grade furniture polish; and absorbs dirt instead of spreading it.

Appleford Wonder Paper comes in handy-size packages, twenty-five large sheets for twenty-five cents. You crumple a sheet into a soft wad and go over the surfaces requiring attention. Then when one side is soiled or worn, turn the Wonder Paper inside out. After you have given a quick and lasting finish to furniture and woodwork, you can still use Wonder Paper on the floors, if you wish.

And when you are through, there's no old duster to shake out or wash. Throw the soiled Wonder Paper away and you've completed the most tiresome part of housework in half the time and with half the effort.

Wonder Paper is made by the makers of the famous PARA-SANI Heavy Waxed Paper in the Green Box.

THE HOUSE OF DREAMS-COME-TRUE

— BY —

MARGARET PEDLER

Author Of "The Splendid Folly," "The Hermit Of Far End."

Hodder & Stoughton, Ltd., London.

And then Jean found herself resting against the curve of Blaise's arm, with the roan's powerful shoulders, firm and solid as a rock beneath her.

"All right?" queried Blaise, gathering up the reins in his left hand. "Lean well back against my shoulder. There, how's that?"

"It's like an arm-chair."

He laughed.

"I am afraid you won't say the same by the end of the journey," he commented ruefully.

But by the end of the journey Jean was fast asleep. She had "leant well back" as directed, conscious, as she felt the firm clasp of Blaise's arm, of a supreme sense of security and well-being. The reaction from the strain of the afternoon, the exhaustion consequent upon her flight through the mist and the fall which had so suddenly ended it, and the rhythmic beat of Orion's hoofs all combined to lull her into a state of delicious drowsiness. It was so good to feel that she need fight, and scheme, and plan no longer, to feel utterly safe . . . . to know that Blaise was holding her. . . . .

Her head fell back against his shoulder, her eyes closed, and the next thing of which she was conscious was of being lifted down by a pair of strong arms and of a confused murmur of voices from amongst which she hazily distinguished Lady Anne's heartfelt: "Thank God you've found her!" And then, characteristically practical, "I'll have her in bed in five minutes. Blankets and hot-water bottles are all in readiness."

It was the evening of the following day, Jean, tucked up on a couch and with her strained ankle comfortably bandaged, had been reluctantly furnishing Blaise with the particulars of her experience at the bungalow. She had been very unwilling to confide the whole story to him, fearing the consequence of the Tormarin temper as applied to Burke. A violent quarrel between the two men could no good, she reflected, and would only be fraught with unpleasant results to all concerned—probably, in the end, securing a painful publicity for the whole affair.

Fortunately Blaise had been out when Judith had rung up earlier in the day to enquire if Jean had returned to Staple, or he might have fired off a few candid expressions of opinion through the telephone. But now there was no evading his searching questions, and he had quietly but determinedly insisted upon hearing the entire story. Once or twice an ejaculation of intense anger broke from him as he listened, but, beyond that he made little comment.

"And—and that was all," wound up Jean. "And anyway, Blaise"—a little anxiously—"it's over now, and I'm none the worse except for the acquisition of a little more worldly wisdom and a strained ankle."

"Yea, it's over now," he said, standing looking down at her with a curious gleam in his eyes. "But that sort of thing shan't happen twice. You'll have to marry me—do you hear?"—imperiously. "You shall never run such a risk again. We'll get married at once!"

And Jean with a quiver of amusement at the corners of her mouth, responded meekly:

Yes, Blaise."

The next minute his arms were around her and their lips met in the first supreme kiss of love at last acknowledged—of love given and returned.

There is no gauge by which those first moments when two who love confess that they are lovers may be measured. It is the golden, timeless span when "unborn tomorrow and dead yesterday" cease to hem us round about and only love, and love's ecstasy, remain.

To Blaise and Jean it might have been an hour—a commonplace period ticked off by the little silver clock upon the chimneypiece—or half eternity before they came back to the recollection of things mundane. When they did, it was across the kindly bridge of humour.

Blaise laughed out suddenly and boyishly.

"It's preposterous-" he exclaimed. "I quite forgot to propose."

"So you did! Suppose"—smiling up at him impertinently—"suppose you do it now?"

"Not I! I won't waste my breath when I might put it to so much better use in calling you belovedest."

Jean was silent, but her eyes answered him. She had made room for him beside her, and now he was seated upon the edge of the Chesterfield, holding her in his arms. She did not want to talk much. That still, serene happiness which lies deep within the heart is not provocative of garrulity.

At last a question—the question that had tormented her through all the long months since she had first realized whither love was leading her, found its way to her lips.

"Why didn't you tell me before, Blaise?"

His face clouded.

"Because of all that had happened in the past. You know—you have been told about Nesta——"

"Ah, yes! Don't talk about it, Blaise," she broke in hastily, sensing his distasteful recoil from the topic.

"I think we must a little, dear," he responded gravely. "You see, Nesta was not all to blame—nor even very much, as I'm sure"—with a little half-tender smile—"my mother tried hard to make you believe."

Jean nooded vigorously.

"She did. And I expect she was perfectly right."

He shook his head.

"No," he answered. "The fault was really mine. My initial mistake was in confusing the false fire with the true. It—was not love I had for Nesta. And I found it out when it was too late. We were poles apart in everything, and instead of trying to make it easier for her, trying to understand her and to lead her into our ways of looking at things, I only stormed at her. It roused all that was worst in me to see her trailing our name in the dust, throwing her dignity to the winds, craving for nothing other than amusement and excitement. I'm not trying to excuse myself. There was no excuse for me. In my way, I was as culpable and foolish as she. And when the crash came—when I found her deliberately entertaining in my house against my express orders, a man who ought to have been kicked out of any decent society, why, I let go. The Tormarin temper had its way with me. I shall never forgive myself for that. I frightened her, terrified her. I think I must have been half mad. And then well, you know what followed. She rushed away and, before anyone could find her or help her, she had killed herself—thrown herself into the Seine. Quite what happened between leaving here and her death we were never able to find out. Apparently since her marriage with me, her sister had gone to Paris, unknown to her, and had taken a situation as "dame de compagnie" to some Frenchwoman, and Nesta, though she followed from Italy to Paris, failed to find her there. At least that is what Margherita Valdi told me in the letter announcing Nesta's death. Then she must have lost heart. So you see, morally I am responsible for that poor, reckless child's death."

"Oh, no, no, Blaise! I don't see that"—pitifully.

"Don't you? I do—very clearly. And that was why, when I found myself caring for you, I tried to keep away."

He felt in his pocket and produced a plain gold wedding-ring. On the inside were engraved the initials "B. T. and N. F.," and a date.

"That was my talisman. Margherita sent it back to me when she wrote telling me of Nesta's death. Whenever I felt my resolution weakening, I used to take it out and have a look at it. It was always quite effective in thrusting me back into my proper place in the scheme of things—that is, outside any other woman's life." There was an inexpressible bitterness in his tones, and Jean drew a little nearer to him, her heart overflowing with compassion. He looked down at at her and smiled a thought ironically. But now—you've beaten me." His lips brushed her hair. "I'm glad to be beaten, belovedst. . . . I knew, that day at Montavan, what you might come to mean to me. And I intended never to see you again, but just to take that one day for remembrance. I felt that, having made such an utter hash of things, having spoiled one woman's life and been, indirectly, the cause of her death, I was not fit to hold another woman's happiness in my hands."

Jean rubbed her cheek against his shoulder.

"I'm glad you thought better of it," she observed.

"I don't know, even now, that I'm right in letting you love me——"

"You can't stop me," she abjected.

He smiled.

"I don't think I would if I could—now."

Jean leaned up and, with a slender, dictatorial finger on the side of his face, turned his head towards her.

"Quite sure?" she demanded saucily. Then, without waiting for his answer: "Blaise, I do love your chin—it's such a nice, square, your-money-or-your-life sort of chin."

Something light as a butterfly, warm as a woman's lips, just brushed the feature in question.

He drew her into his arms, folding them closely about her.

"And I—I love every bit of you," he said hoarsely. "Body and soul, I love you! Oh! Heart's beloved! Nothing—no one in the whole world shall come between us two ever again!"

CHAPTER XXX.

The Gateway

August seemed determined to justify her claim to be numbered amongst the summer months before making her exit. Apparently she had repented her of having recently veiled the country in a mist that might have been regarded as a very creditable effort even on the part of November, for today the sun was blazing down out of a cloudless sky and scarcely a breath of wind swayed the nodding cornstalks, heavy with golden grain.

Jean, her strained ankle now practically recovered, was tramping along the narrow footpath through the cornfield, following in Blaise's footsteps, while Nick brought up the rear of the procession. She had not seen Claire since her engagement had become an actual fact, though a characteristically warm-hearted little note from the latter had found its way to Staple, and this morning Jean had declared her inability to exist another day 'without a 'heart-to-heart' talk with Claire."

Hence the afternoon's pilgrimage across the cornfield which formed part of a short cut between Staple and Charnwood.

At first Jean had feared lest her new-found happiness might raise a barrier of sorts betwixt herself and Claire. The contrast between the respective hands that Fate had dealt them was so glaring, and the rose and gold with which love had suddenly decked Jean's own life seemed to make the bleak tragedy which enveloped Claire's appear even darker than before.

But Claire's letter, full of a quiet, unselfish rejoicing in the happiness which had fallen to the lot of her friend, had somehow smoothed away the little uncomfortable feeling of comparison which, to anyone as sensitive as Jean, had been a very real embarrassment. Nick's felicitations, too, had been tendered with frank cordiality and affection, and with a delicate perception that had successfully concealed the sting of individual pain which the contrast could hardly failed to have induced.

So it was with a considerably lightened heart that Jean, with her escort of two, passed between the gates of Charnwood and, avoiding the lengthy walk entailed by following the windings of the drive, struck off across the velvety lawns—smooth stretches of close-cropped sward which, broken only by branching trees and shrubbery, and undefaced by the dreadful formality of symmetrical flower-beds, swept right up to the gravelled terrace fronting the windows of the house itself.

The two men loitered to discuss the points of a couple of young spaniels rollicking together on the grass, but Jean, eager to see Claire, smilingly declined to wait for them, and, speeding on ahead, she mounted the short flight of steps leading to the terrace from the lower level of the lawns.

KICKS AND HALFPENCE

By Ye Guest Editor

Enthusiasm shown and proclaimed by a number of visitors from across the line upon the occasion of a recent visit here regarding the scenic attractions of Creston is amply justified. Possibly residents here, through long familarity with their surroundings, are not as fully cognizant of the fact as they should be; they have come to accept for granted the blessings they enjoy in this connection.

The beauty of the local situation can perhaps best be emphasized by comparison of the average prairie town's location with that of our own; or most places anywhere in the Pacific Northwest, including British Columbia and Alaska, for that matter. Local scenery is unique, combining as it does an extensive panorama of impressive mountain ranges, meandering river, distant lake and immediately contigent pastoral vistas.

o o o

Other places in British Columbia may be well able to put on a superior specialized show in one of these particulars; none can show the four features so wonderfully blended into a harmonious whole. Uuquestionably half the charm of this pictorial composition is the wide stretch of flats and meadow flanked by wooded mountain ramparts of an enticing softness, breaking here and there into the verge of Alpine ruggedness. Were the distant mountains closer their mysterious charm would depart; replace the expanse of meadows with water and make it a lake (as it is for a few weeks in the spring by way of variety) and much of the beauty would be lost.

Nowhere else is such brilliant green observable at this time of year as down on the flats; here and there it is relieved by the sparkle of water. At one point appears the lordly Kootenay, a hint of its presence as it were, but not enough to be too obtrusive.

The flats are literally sprinkled with obviously contented cows, whose presence adds the final touch to pastoral values. It is easy to visualize changes that will soon be manifest. With autumn will come alterations of coloring; in places the green will be replaced by rich gold; flaming bands of scarlet and vermilion will march across the landscape and beat most of the greens into an ignominous retreat, even as the purples of early fall are now chasing the greens back on the flanking hillsides. These changes sound the knell of real summer and herald approach of the Indian variety and bear warning that it is time to give consideration to such details as replenishing the family woodpile, airing heavy underwear and shooing festive moths out of winter overcoats.

ARE YOU MAKING YOUR OWN PICKLES ?

EVERY HOUSEWIFE prides herself on the quality and variety of pickles she makes each season. She knows too well that no matter how careful she is in making those pickles, unless the SPICES and VINEGAR used are the best, satisfactory results cannot be secured.

H. J. Heinz Company prepares several varieties of good vinegar; but for pickling purposes especially recommends White Pickling Vinegar—distilled from grains—full strength, pure and wholesome.
