Canyon Annexes Baseball Honors

Takes Second Straight Game by 5-4 Margin to Take the Valley Baseball Championship—Finish is Real Thrilling.

By winning two straight games in the playoff, the 1934 valley baseball championship has been annexed by the Canyon City club, which trimmed Creston Intermediates in final game at Canyon, Sunday afternoon by a margin of 5-4. The game had a hairraising finish, Creston having all the sacks occupied with two men out in the ninth only to have MacDonald strike out.

The game was a pitchers' battle, which might have ended differently if Fillinger had not tired so badly as to have to leave the box at the end of the fifth, at which time the Intermediates had a one-run lead, thanks to collecting three tallies in the fifth on some timely hitting and fast work on the bases. Before Couling got steadied down Canyon collected two more, which gave them just enough surplus to pull out a victory.

George Niblow showed good form throughout, his lapse in the fifth being the only weak spot in the afternoon's performance. He was accorded uniformly good support both in the infield and outfield, with Jack Hale turning in the best batting performance for the winners.

There was litttle to choose amongst the Intermediates, with Herb Couling doing slightly the best work with the bat. Canyon supporters held their breath in the ninth after two had been retired, two hits and a pass filling the sacks. However, Niblow rose to the occasion, getting MacDonald by the strikeout route. The teams:

Packing House Shipping Light

Occasional Mixed Car Rolling—Movement will be Slow Until Wealthys Available—Tomato Receipts Lighter than Usual.

Until Wealthy apples are ready, and that will be another ten days or two weeks, things are very quiet in shipping circles. The occasional mixed car is rolling, with Long, Allan & Long, Limited, establishing an all time record for early outgo with a car made up of apples, crabapples, plums, apricots, cucumbers, peppers and ripe tomatoes out of Erickson on August 1st. Ordinarily it is the middle of August before these commence moving in mixed cars.

Peach plums and Transparent appies are cleaned up for this year. Bradshaw plums will be coming in before the week is out. Duchess apples are nearing the finish and Clapp's Favorite pears are now at their peak.

Up to the present both shipping houses report light receipts of ripe tomatoes. It is quite apparent local ranchers have not planted these as heavily as other years, although the Chinese growers are heavier to them than ever, and their product is now in control of the Crow market.

And B.C. is not the only point that has had an early season. Advices were to hand late last week that at Medicine Hat, Alberta, field tomatoes, cucumbers and Bantam corn was available in commercihl quantities and at least one jobber in that city was offering it to the trade at Calgary.

On Monday the Exchange shipped its first mixed car, which was destined for Lethbridge. It was heavy to Duchess apples, with a quantity of Clapp's pears, apricots, Transcendant crabs, peach plums, and some cucumbers.

In connection with its loading the Exchange tried out the new grader that has been constructed during the off season. It is an all belt, continuous flow, 4-section machine which performed well up to expecations. But one section was used on a run of Duchess and no dimculty was encountered in handling 100 boxes per hour.

In the Okanagan the same difficulties Creston is experiencing in marketing are being encountered. Up to the first of August 300 carloads had moved in excess of the total movement at the same date in 1933. According to the Vernon News there is indication that much of the prune crop will move tree ripened and if it does the prediction is made that a market will be opened up which there will not be sufficient prunes to supply in other years.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. H. Seppala wishes to express her sincere thanks to the doctor and nurses of Creston Valley Hospital for their care and attention, and also to Wynndel neighbors for their sympathetic enquiries and flowers.

Mrs. J. T. Vance and family take this means of expressing a full appreciation of the flowers, the sympathy and all the kindnesses shown them in their recent bereavement.

To Stimulate Objective Thinking

The topsy-turvy condition in which the world finds itself to-day, naturally leads to serious thought on the part of everyone. Why should there be so much penury and want in the midst of a surplus of commodities. What are the real causes of stagnation of trade the world over. One hears that the capitalistic system is doomed, and out of the present chaotic conditions a new order is bound to be established. Many theories are being continually advanced, designed to produce a new Utopia. The history of the world establishes the fact that all reforms necessarily come slowly. There can be no rapid realization of many obviously needed changes in our social system. But the world does not stand still, a forward and not a backward movement is inevitable. The encouragement and not the suppression of constructive thinking and expression of thought would be of material assistance. In the annual address of Principal Fyfe of Queen's University, reference was made to the stimulation of thought by means of discussions in the class rooms. He is reported in part as follows:

"In our academic seclusion we sometimes catch from a busier world the echoes of an accusation that the Universities of Canada are becoming 'nurseries of anarchy and revolution'. So far as such charges have any basis except hysteria, they may serve to encourage us, for they seem to indicate that students are in some measure acquiring the art of looking at both sides of disputed questions, an art in which it is our duty to encourage them. The ideal of suppressing enquiry and free speech, which has for the moment established a tragic dominance in many parts of the world, is nowhere more absurd than in a University, where men and women gather to exercise their faculties of curiosity and logic. Those faculties in them are necessarily immature; their utterances are often crudely dogmatic. But to stifle thought and utterance would be in a University the basest treason. As Penn said, 'Whoever is right, the persecutor must be wrong'.

"If we are to stimulate in our pupils objective thinking, we must be equally free in speech and thought ourselves—but not equally rash. Propaganda is no part of a teacher's proper function. He is not concerned to produce opinion, a temporary state of conviction which can be quickly changed by counter-propaganda. His aim is to stimulate the growth of intelligence, the power of detached judgment. To that end he may exercise in the class-room every art of sophistry, but if he blinks his way into the outer world, where opinions clash unanchored both from fact and reason, it behoves him to remember what astonishing weight that world attaches to a professorial pronouncement. The dignity of the University stalks beside him on the platform, sternly demanding judicial sobriety. A University teacher should certainly be clever: he needs to be wise; and of the factors of wisdom not the least are self-restraint and kindliness and patience."

Denver Man Still Driving Roadster Bought In 1910

C. C. Dill, a Denver roofing contractor, estimates that he has got 400,000 miles out of his 1908 roadster. He bought the machine in 1910, after it had been driven about 2,000 miles. In 1915 the speedometer gave up and stopped at 240,000 miles. Since then he has been driving it steadily, from coast to coast and from the Great Lakes to Alabama. Not once has it been involved in an accident or brought its owner into difficulties with the law.

Chinese Form Of Torture

Used Skin Of Rhinoceros To Crush Political Prisoners

The ancient Chinese had some strange uses for the rhinoceros, according to a report by an American archaeologist. One form of torture was to wrap a political prisoner in the hide of a freshly killed rhinoceros. As the hide dried it contracted and slowly crushed the victim. Another use the ancient Chinese had for rhinoceros skins was for covering funeral cars. Also the armour of the bronze-age warriors was made of it.

The movement of sheep and lambs in Canada from farms to livestock yards and packers showed a substantial increase during 1933 and was well above the five-year average, 1929-1933.

Education In Russia

Stalin Orders Secondary Schools To Raise Standards Again

Stalin's latest decree that the secondary schools of the Soviet Union must, in some degree at least, return to the standards and methods of the rest of Europe adds another paragraph to a new and more hopeful chapter in an old and rather sorry story. The story is that of the failure of an experiment, which, like so many other things in modern Russia, looked very handsome on paper, but which has proved to be quite beyond realization in actual practice.—Glasgow Herald.

Nineteen Galleons Sunk In 1702 To Be Searched For Gold

The 19 galleons of the Franco-Spanish fleet sunk in the Bay of Vigo in September, 1702, by the combined British and Dutch fleets under Sir George Rooke and the Duke of Ormonde, will be searched for gold this summer, the Madrid newspaper El Debate reported.

Several previous attempts to salvage the treasure brought by the fleet from the West Indies were fruitless.

Gold Pouring Into London

Great Increase In Foreign Deposits Of Precious Metal

The gloden tide, unexampled in the history of the world's monetary movements, continues to pour into London.

It began a year ago with a gold influx at the rate of $25,000,000 weekly, then it increased early this year to $62,000,000 weekly, and now it averages 45 millions weekly and shows no indication of declining. As soon as gold arrives in England from South Africa, Canada and other producing countries, it is bought by French, German, Dutch and American buyers, nervous about the financial state of affairs in their own countries, and stored away uselessly in the vaults of London banks, where they know it cannot be touched. Already in the square mile that constitutes the city of London more precious metal has accumulated than ever King Solomon's legendary mines contained. The latest figures, covering a period of nine months, show gold importations valued at $1,000,200,000. Exports reached less than $500,000,000. Altogether, at the moment one billion and a quarter of foreign gold is stored in the city banks—a figure which exceeds any previous records in peace time.

Bankers do not want this gold; they cannot use it either to provide credits for industry or work for Britain's unemployed. Moreover, any fresh financial upheaval in Europe might cause its flight from London, with disastrous effects on sterling's international stability. Its uselessness is further emphasized by the fact that, although London's vaults are bursting with it, the official government figures reveal that the British people's purchasing power in the way of wages and salaries has been decreased through an economy campaign by $310,000,000 since the gold crisis of 1931.

Wonder Of Modern Surgery

Doctors Can Renovate Faces Eaten Away By Disease

Persons whose faces are disfigured by disease or accidents no longer need live the remainder of their lives in horror of being seen in public.

Almost entirely new faces can now be "manufactured" by surgeons, according to Drs. Gordon B. New and Frederick A. Figi, of Rochester, Minn. The doctors described the operations to members of the American Medical Association during the annual session of that group in Cleveland.

Operations to renovate faces are now performed after disease eats away bone, cartilage and mucous membrane, or following the removal of tumors, the doctors said.

Artificial plates are inserted in the cheek-bones, jaw-bones and nose; noses are "lifted" by means of props, and skin and bone are borrowed from other parts of the body to be grafted to the face.

And when these things are accomplished, the doctors asserted, the person again can face the world with something akin to confidence.

Making History

Great Seal And Royal Signet Given To South Africa

British Empire history was made recently when King George handed to Charles te Water, South African high commissioner to the United Kingdom, the great seal and royal signet of the union. The king's act made South Africa the only Dominion to possess a great seal of its own.

The South African seal, struck at the royal mint, bears the king's head on one side and the South African coat of arms on the other.

Annual pasture crops are important in many parts of Canada. In the prairie provinces, perennial grasses and legumes cannot be depended upon to supply grazing during the periods of dry weather which occur almost every season. This is the case also, though not to the same extent, in Ontario and Quebec. The most feasible method of overcoming this difficulty is to seed one of the grain crops to provide pasturage when the perennial grasses are unproductive. The cereals used as annual pasture crops are oats, barley, wheat, and spring rye, oats being by far the most important for this purpose.—Scientific Agriculture.

Announcement of the appointment was officially published recently. Mr. Justice Dysart is chairman.

With the exception of Mr. Justice Tweedie the commission is the same as that which investigated similar claims on the part of Saskatchewan recently. On the completion of the Alberta report the commission will render to the federal government joint recommendations on behalf of both provinces.

Secret Method Revealed

How Scotland Yard Determines Age Of Finger Prints

Scotland Yard's secret method of telling the age of finger prints was revealed in Sessions Court in London during the trial recently of John C. O'Connor, charged with breaking into the Lady Margaret Day Nursery. Evidence against him was a thumb-print found on a clock, but O'Connor said he had only handled the timepiece in 1932. Detective-Sergeant Jack Livings, of New Scotland Yard, said he had no doubt the fingerprint was that of O'Connor. He added: "The powder we apply to latent impressions to bring them out will stick to the ridges of a new print, but an old one is dry and the powder will not adhere to it. A fresh print can easily be removed by a duster, but a stale one can only be removed by a damp cloth."

The principal European countries, notably France, Italy, and Germany, have stringently controlled the imports of dairy products during the past few years by tariffs, quotas, and other means. This has resulted in a steady increase in the quantities of butter and cheese exported to the United Kingdom.

Both the production and consumption of oats in Canada have followed a downward trend since 1920.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

MAY CALL ON WEALTHY FOR MORE TAXATION

Toronto.—Premier Mitchell Hepburn promised full consideration for the demands of the Ontario hunger marchers but refused to give an answer to any one set of definite questions submitted to him as to the government's policy on unemployment.

He described the questions as involved and unfair and declared the government was agreed conditions in Ontario were bad. At the same time he served notice on "men of wealth and affluence" that they might be called upon through taxation to contribute a larger amount to the public treasury.

For more than three hours Mr. Hepburn, Hon. Arthur Roebuck, attorney-general, and Hon. David Croll, minister of welfare, listened to spokesmen for the hunger marchers who came to Toronto from many scattered points. At the end they each spoke briefly and the marchers declared they are wholly satisfied with the interview.

A group of about 200 met the ministers and there were half a dozen speakers. At the end of the meeting they went out into Queen's Park to join a gathring of 2,000 or more and denounce the Hepburn government as an agency of the capitalist class.

Absolute freedom of speech and organization was promised in the province by Mr. Roebuck who declared the day of tyranny had gone. He heard complaints about the refusal of a permit to the marchers to meet in city parks and told them to meet on government property. That was not enough, a speaker said. They wanted the definite right to meet in any park.

"What do you want us to do," asked Mr. Roebuck, "go out and conquer Queen's Park?"

"The workers will conquer Ontario shortly," was the retort.

Mr. Roebuck said he had fought the battles of the workers for years and had not changed his views. He could picture himself in the shoes of any one of them making the same demands.

"Go on with your organization," he said, "and God bless you. No one will interfere with you. Make yourselves so strong you can enforce your demands on any government no matter what its politics."

Scheme Well Advanced

Imperial Airways Have Received Tenders For Flying Boats

London.—Tenders for a fleet of 20 multi-engined flying boats to be used in the projected England-Canada air service have been submitted to Imperial Airways, according to the air correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, who says the scheme is well advanced."

The flying boats would accommodate from 30 to 50 persons.

In the winter, the correspondent says, the route will be by Bermuda and in the summer by Iceland and Greenland.

Aviation Program Reduction

United States Naval Aviation Construction To Be Reduced

Washington. — The United States naval high command was disclosed authoritatively to have determined on a sharp reduction in naval aviation construction.

Present plans, which may be altered, call for 274 fewer planes than the 2,184 which the navy had decided would be necessary under the Vinson bill authorizing a treaty strength navy by 1942. A thousand planes now comprise the naval air force, and plans had evolved to build the other 1,184 in annual installments.

Secure Low Interest Rate

Two Per Cent. Has Been Obtained For Ottawa Loan

Ottawa.—Securing what is believed to be the lowest interest rate in the history of Dominion financing, a loan of $50,000,000 has been negotiated with the Chase National Bank of New York and a group associated with it, bearing interest at two per cent. and maturing in one year. Announcement of the loan was made by Hon. E. N. Rhodes, minister of finance.

With $10,000,000 from the cash balances held by the government the loan will refund a $60,000,000 treasury note issue bearing interest at four per cent. and maturing on Oct. 1, payable in New York City. These notes will be called on Sept. 1, and the saving in interest rates over the year will amount to $1,000,000. The issue being redeemed was sold for a 15-month period.

The new issue will not involve any public offer and may be called on the first business day of June, July or August, 1935. It was taken by the Chase National Bank, associated with the National City Bank of New York, the Bankers' Trust Company, the Guaranty Trust Company, the Chemical Bank and Trust Company, the Central Hanover Bank and Trust Company and the New York Trust Company.

Wants Small Navies

Absolute Minimum Is Idea Of New Japanese Premier

Tokyo.—Keisuke Okada, new premier of Japan, whose viewpoint on naval questions was awaited eagerly by the world, said he believes navies should be reduced to the smallest proportions possible.

But he added that Japan is dissatisfied with the arbitrary 5-5-3 ratio fixed by the Washington treaty of 1922 as Japan's proportion of capital ships in relation to Great Britain and the United States. Whether the Washington treaty is to be abolished has not yet been decided, he said.

"I cannot favor the present ratio principle in naval limitation, which hurts the self respect of certain nations," said the premier who was called to the head of the government from a long career as a naval officer. His observations were made at his first meeting with foreign newspaper correspondents.

To End Abuses

Relief Is Promised For Industrial Workers In Ontario

Toronto.—Attorney-General Arthur Roebuck promised Ontario's hunger marchers there would be legislation by the government to definitely end gross industrial abuses. Legislation would be enacted at the next legislature session, he said, to bring industrial workers and employers together for the purpose of evolving a code to govern industry.

"It will be an act with more teeth in it than is contained in existing legislation," he said. "We are going to bring both sides together to work out a code. We are going to put the shyster employer out of business altogether in Ontario. There are other gross abuses which we will abolish."

High Roads To Reading

Uniform Readers To Be Used In Schools Of Western Provinces

Victoria. — New uniform readers and teachers' manuals will be used in grade schools and correspondence courses of the four Western Canadian provinces next term, starting in September, Hon. G. M. Weir, British Columbia minister of education, announced here.

The series will include a set of six readers and a supporting set of teachers' manuals and work books. The series is called "High Roads To Reading" and contains many notable features not present in the works it will replace. They have already been tried at the B.C. summer school for teachers and heartily endorsed.

Peasants Digging Free Gold

Rich Field Uncovered By Torrential Rains In China

Canton, China.—The national government despatched troops armed with machine guns to the Yanking district near Kongmoon to drive off the villagers from the local gold diggings. During recent torrential rains the hillside was washed out revealing free gold.

Peasants rushed to the spot from miles around and are reported to have extracted 10,000 ounces, worth about $380,000, in the last two weeks. The government then claimed the area as "crown land" but the peasants refused to quit.

Pressesky wrote a treatise on the "Autonomy of Canada." His essay was selected as the best of 15 winners from a like number of cities in the Dominion by V. L. Denton, principal of the British Columbia Normal school here.

Plane Will Be Repaired

Grierson Hopes To Resume His Flight To Canada

Reykjavik, Iceland. — John Grierson, British flyer whose seaplane crashed here during an attempted flight from Rochester, England, to Ottawa, left here for Leith, Scotland, aboard an Icelandic steamer with the damaged parts of his machine. The parts will be repaired in England and Grierson said he hoped to return within two weeks and resume his flight to Canada.

Need More Relief

Native Sons Of Canada Ask For More Generous Policy

Winnipeg. — Relief matters predominated at discussions as the Native Sons of Canada, in convention here, adopted a resolution urging the Dominion government to pursue a more generous policy to districts unable to assume a greater share of unemployment relief costs.

The convention received the reply of Prime Minister R. B. Bennett in answer to the organization's telegraphed protest against the new Dominion relief policy. The convention, in its wire to Mr. Bennett, had urged the government change its attitude toward unemployment relief.

Mr. Bennett's telegram read: "Conditions necessitated placing provincial governments in position to exercise their constitutional functions with respect to relief. Federal contributions in aid are based upon experience of the past few years."

E. Hansford, St. Boniface delegate, sponsored the relief resolution. He expressed alarm at the government's attitude on relief. A resolution appealing to the government to have the words "Dominion of" deleted from the present title of "Dominion of Canada" also was passed by the convention.

Advertising Canada

Premier Bennett Moves Switch To Light Electric Sign In London

Ottawa.—Moving a switch in Ottawa, Prime Minister R. B. Bennett illuminated a giant electric sign placed on the grand building opposite Canada House in London, advertising the excellence of Canadian products. Mr. Bennett's words of dedication were, at the same time, written against the London sky-line in electric letters.

The sign, a part of the advertising program conducted through the office of Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Canadian high commissioner, bears a green maple leaf superimposed against a red triangle, the new "Canadian quality" mark recently registered in the United Kingdom. Beneath the mark appears the words—"Canada—The Empire's Larder," and in the next line, "Ask Your Grocer."

British House Adjourns

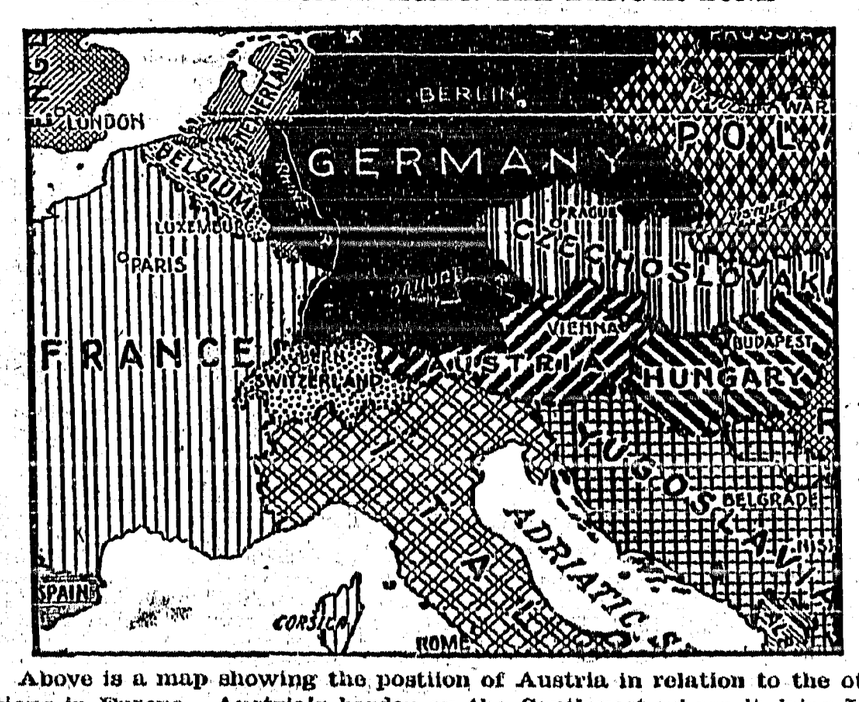
Date Of Next Session Set For October 10

London.—Both houses of parliament have adjourned until Oct. 10, unless the lord chancellor and the speaker decide the public interest requires an earlier re-assembly.

During the part of the session just over parliament passed almost 50 public bills. Those left for the autumn include the betting and lotteries bill and a measure designed to curb and punish persons inciting disaffection among His Majesty's forces.

The chief issue before the next session will be that of a new constitution for India.

THE AREA WHICH IS AGAIN THE DANGER ZONE



Above is a map showing the position of Austria in relation to the other nations in Europe. Austria's border on the Southwest where it joins Italy is literally covered with 48,000 Italian troops; sent by Mussolini to be ready to defend Austria's independence if necessary. Across the small area which once was the great Hapsburg empire there is flashing an undercurrent of revolution which may break out at any moment. Although the Nazis failed in their efforts to take over control, even though they went to the extent of murdering Chancellor Dollfuss, the situation is still fraught with factional unrest.

RECOVERY IN BRITAIN SUFFERS FROM RECESSION

London.—Parliament has adjourned with economic recovery at a crisis.

For the first time since 1932, when Britain began her steady climb out of the depression, business activity has slumped.

The drop is a slight one, but it is the first, and the dominant economic question is whether it is merely temporary or the initial sign of a serious recession in the near future.

Whichever it turns out to be, observers say, the limits to Britain's recovery will be reached at a point well below her pre-depression prosperity unless there is an upward trend in world trade.

The reason is that the recovery to date has been fashioned largely out of internal, not external, demand.

Belief that there are limits to such a prosperity has been voiced by Rupert E. Beckett, chairman of the Westminster Bank, who said: "The British people can never gain real prosperity merely by taking in each other's washing."

Experts ascribe Britain's present recovery to two factors: That the country has been able to get its "nerve" back and that, behind the tariff walls erected in 1931, she has been able to gain a large share of her domestic market.

Opening Of Bay Route

Prospects For A Record Shipping Season Seem Good

Churchill, Man. — Warm winds whistled down Hudson strait as harbor crews at this northern seaport prepared to open the navigation season of 1934 on Aug. 10.

With 10 steamers definitely chartered and more bookings in the offing, port officials were enthused over prospects for a record shipping season. A complete crew always is on hand to swing machinery into action at the huge elevator filled with 2,500,000 bushels of wheat.

First of the fleet of vessels to trade here this season, the S.S. Dalworth, will bring a general cargo from Newcastle and Antwerp.

In addition to taking her fill of grain for the outward journey, she will load 1,250 tons of flour, oatmeal and other commodities.

Cattle from the prairies and lumber will find their way to markets of the world through northern shipping lanes this season.

Spies Are Sentenced

Seventeen Convictions On Charges Of Espionage In France

Paris.—The number of convictions in the 1934 spy round-up in France has reached 17 with the sentencing of a naturalized German, who formerly belonged to the Foreign Legion, and a 19-year-old girl.

Frederick Pasquay was convicted of spying for Germany and sentenced to 18 months in prison at Metz, and Jeanne Dieudonne to year in Nancy on a charge of attempting to pry secrets from officers stationed at an aviation field.

Thirty-three arrests have been made since January, and there are more than 100 persons, arrested prior to 1934, awaiting trial on espionage charges.

French Millers Defy Law

Paris.—The millers of France have openly defied the government's efforts to regulate the price of wheat. In a letter to Premier Gaston Doumergue, the National Association of Millers said it will refuse to abide by the law which fixes the price of harvested wheat at $2.35 a bushel and the coming crop at $1.95.

First Wheat Shipped

Winnipeg.—The first car of 1934 wheat from the Manitoba district was shipped July 31 over Canadian National lines from St. Jean, Man., to Fort William, Ont. The shipper was Eugene Brunet and the wheat was graded No. 2 Northern. It was consigned to the N. M. Paterson Company.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Sirdar School's Success

Editor Review:

Sir,—We noticed in your last issue mention being made of several schools whose principals had made 100 per cent. passes in their entrance pupils. As, no doubt, you are not familiar with our school we feel it is only fair to the teacher that we draw attention to the oversight, Mr. Martello passed three Grade 7 pupils out of four writing the entrance as well as one Grade 8 and one on recommendation—all of the Grade 8. For a small school we feel that teacher and pupils should be given credit for good work done.

The K.V. Highway

Editor Review:

Sir,—We have good reason to believe that, in the near future, this section of the K.V. road from Creston t Porthill will be widened and resurfaced thereby linking up with the main American highway into the States, over which a very large tourist travel may be expected.

Needless to say that the tourist trade means much to all business men interested in Creston. The route intended from the K.V. road into Creston is along Fifth Street and then turn north to pass the public works building, up a very steep grade, across the Railway tracks and south into the business section of Creston.

The question of a subway was gone into some years ago and was found to be out of the question owing to railway requirements in the construction and heavy gradients in a congested space and distance.

Cseston is making very rapid progress and along this line and at this opportune time, look into the following suggested line into the heart of the village: Let the K.V. highway continue as outlined along Fifth street and cross the railway south of the water tank, through the coal shed on the right of way and on up through the 50-foot Young and Smith lot.

I trust all those interested in the welfare of the village will look into this practical and much needed connecting link.

At a meeting of the school trustees on August 4th the question of instituting a first year high school was taken under consideration, and it was decided, providing Mr. Martello, principal, undertakes to take over the duties at a salary of $1100 a year, high school work would be carried on. The yearly assessment was fixed the same as last year.

Trinity Boys' Camp

Despite the pall of smoke from the forest fires the spirit of the boys of Trinity United Church who are in camp at LaFrance Creek remains as ever. Kootenay Lake shows all it's moods; clear, placid morning following stormy night, or vice versa; perhaps half a gale coming along in a few minutes, creating a turmoil along the shore only to be turned to a good purpose by the boys as they face the whitecaps and, yelling with glee, go through them. Nor are the fish undisturned. Fishing parties go up the creek and return with quite respectable catches all over the legal length Hiking has its attractions and hungry lads with unsatiable appetites return to do justice to their meals. Sunday was visitors day. Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Dodd, with Mrs. H. Truscott, motored down and spent the major part of the day in camp, much enjoying the idyllic surroundings. Unfortunately they had to leave before the beach campfire lit up the dusky evening with its cheering glow and showers of sparks rising as fresh armloads of driftwood from the unlimited supply close at hand is used unsparingly. Leaving town on August 1st, and due to return on the 10th, under the leadership of Geo. Connell and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Truscott, a band of bronzed and happy boys will face anew the life of civilization with somewhat mixed feelings—regretting the camping is at an end but, still, home's best.

Crop Report

C. B. Twigg's fortnightly crop report, issued as at July 20th, follows:

Weather conditions at present are very hot, with no indication of a sudden change. Shipping circles are quieter as this district does not produce many early stone fruits such as apricots and peaches. Prices are low; in fact shippers are reluctant to ship u nless to fill orders, with the result that growers with late raspberry patches are feeling the loss more keenly.

Tomatoes are coming in more rapidly, but on account of low prices the last two seasons, the same quantity is not grown as formerly. The amount allowed to go to waste has increased,

Early plums have made their appearance, but until carload shipments begin, the amount forwarded to the market by express will be small.

Pears and crab apples will soon be making their appearance as this hot wave will hasten maturity. Early apples are still coming in, and the size, color and quality are showing some improvements as the season advances.

FIRE

Do not throw away burning matches or smoking materials.

Little Journeys In Science

WATER

(By Gordon H. Guest, M.A.)

Water is the most familiar of all chemical compounds. It covers about three-fourths of the earth's surface, the greatest depth of the ocean being about six miles. It is an important component of the air, and even "dry" land contains considerable quantities of water. It constitutes about 62% of beef, 87% of milk, 92% of watermelons, and 95% of cucumbers. Thus, when we buy normal milk we pay for about 87% water.

Living things, both plants and animals, cannot exist without it. Enormous shipping, fishing, and other industries result from the fact that three quarters of the earth's surface consists of sea water, and in addition, there is a great volume of fresh river and lake water so necessary to human beings and other creatures not inhabiting the sea.

Steam power is derived from water, and other mechanical power is obtained from falling water, as at Niagara where electricity is generated on a very large scale.

Pure water is odorless and tasteless. In thin layers it has no color that can be detected, but it has a bluish tint when observed through considerable thickness. When sufficiently cooled it solidifies to a colorless solid commonly known as ice. When heated it boils and changes rapidly into water vapor, commonly called steam.

There is a general law of nature that substances expand when heated and contract when cooled. Fortunately for man and other living creatures water does not always follow this law. When warm water is cooled it contracts according to the law of expansion and contraction, until it reaches four degrees centigrade. For some reason which scientists cannot explain, from four degrees down as far as you wish to go water expands instead of contracting. Now, if it expands it will be lighter than it was above four degrees, and hence the cold water will rise to the surface. When the temperature drops to zero ice forms at the surface first, and then layer after layer is formed from the surface down as the temperature remains below zero.

All would be different if water followed the law of expansion and contraction rigidly. The water would become heavier as the temperature approached zero and this heavy cold water would drop to the bottom of lake or river. Ice would form first at the bottom and as the winter progressed the lake would freeze from the bottom up, until it was converted into a solid mass of ice. All water animals would be destroyed and the warmth of summer would not be sufficient to thaw it out.

LIVE AT HOME

By JACK MINER

There is no human power that can convince me that our loving God is to blame for this present crisis. The fact is for over four years we have allowed ourselves to go blood thirsty mad, right from the bar-room to the pulpit, and God did not settle all this world's affairs on November 11, 1918, for since that we have gone extravagantly crazy. Yes we have a vast throng of ten cent millionaires and have allowed ourselves to drift away out and plunge head first into imaginary happenings, as someone has said, "Like a blind man in a dark room looking for a black cat that is not there."

Now, we are beginning to wake up and find we have been fishing on the wrong side of the boat. Yes, we begin to realize we have missed a golden opportunity and are dissatisfied with ourselves and everybody else, but here we are a thousand miles from home and nothing to show for it.

Now to those of you who have no home of your own, please let me advise you to try the "live-at-home" remedy. Take ten per cent. of the money you have extravagantly spent the last five years and buy at least five acres of Canada's cheap land.

Remember, Canada has the very best helpful forestry department; get in touch with them and watch for wild flowering shrubs, such as hawthorns that you can plant yourself to make this little spot nearer and dearer to your heart. Grow your own potatoes, cabbage, and other vegetables. Oh, yes, and if far enough south, plant a dozen mulberry trees. If in the north, plant Mountain Ash.

Watch for people who have nice flowers and kindly ask hem for a few plants such as Iris, ask them for some hollyhocks, delphiniums, or Oriental poppy seeds. Yes, and a few sprouts from their lilac and snow-ball bushes, and a hundred and one plants and shrubs that I am absolutely sure will make your little home dearer to your heart. Now, don't let any landscape gardener or florist unload his services upon you, but plan it and plant it yourself. I tell you, a tree planted by your own hands can become a dear tree to you. My dissatisfied brother, try this plan and in less than five years you will be giving flowers to the other fellow. Personally, the little trifles I have been able to give away have brought me greater dividends than the few thousand dollars I have made in my brick and drain tile business.

Now I don't care who you are, for it is the thoughts you allow your heart to entertain that give you desires and cause you to act, and I know you can enjoy the sunrise in your own garden with a hoe in your hands, and even though you have to live in a tent for a season, you will enjoy it more and sleep sounder than when you are paying rent for four brick walls. And oh, what a blessed change. In a few short years you will find yourself living in your own little planned and built cottage, perfectly surrounded with a little bit of heaven and the fragrance, keyed up by the songs of a variety of birds, that come floating through upon your open window.

My dear friend, this is a dream, but it can be done and you can do it if you will only cultivate the desire. My grey hairs and scars of experience have compelled me to believe that a man can accomplish most anything he concentrates on. Let us all thank God that things are as well as they are with us and help ourselves by entertaining more "live-at-home" desires.

Ernest Hutcherson, 81, who was the first horticulturist at the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, Ont., and who gave instruction in 1879 to Hon. W. R. Motherwell, former Dominion minister of agriculture, is dead at Ladner, B.C., where he had resided 52 years.

Mr. Hutcherson resigned from the Guelph college in 1880. With the late Thomas McNeely, he set out probably the first commercial orchard in British Columbia.

He was one of the founders and charter members of the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association and was appointed the first fruit pest inspector in the province. In 1908, Western Australia applied to the B.C. government for a man to frame and enforce a fruit pest act for the state and Mr. Hutcherson was loaned. He remained on the government staff in Western Australia for 10 years.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

AUGUST 12

AMOS PLEADS FOR JUSTICE

Golden text: "Love worketh no ill to his neighbor: love therefore is the fulfilment of the law." Romans 13:10.

Lesson: Amos, Chapters 5 and 7.

Devotional Reading: Proverbs 21: 1-7.

Explanations And Comments

A Lament over Israel, 5:1-3. Amos has been called "the first doomster of Israel." Hear ye this word which I take up for a lamentation over you, O house of Israel: thus Amos begins our message. A "lamentation" is a technical term applied to poetry of a mournful tone, a dirge such as was chanted over the dead, as in David's lamentation over Saul and Jonathan (2 Samuel 1:17), or in the face of any calamity, such as Ezekiel uttered in Ezekiel 19. "The virgin of Israel is fallen; she is cast down upon the land." Although Amos wrote many decades before the destruction of Samaria, the consequences which he saw and of which he was so sure that he used the present tense, came to pass in 722 B.C. when Assyria conquered the city and carried its people off into exile.

Injustice and Oppression Denounced, 5:10-13. The gate, as we learned in an earlier lesson, is the broad, open space before a city gate where claims were adjusted. "They hate him that reproveth in the gate," cried Amos, "and they abhor him that speaketh uprightly." Amos knew only too well how he was hated in Israel. He was accused of blasphemy and high treason, and told by the priest Amaziah to "Go, flee to the land of Judah, and eat there thy bread, and prophesy there: but prophesy not again any more at Bethel." And he had obeyed and there he wrote down the substance of the addresses he had given..

Amos next addressed the judges and accused them of trampling on the poor, demanding a portion of their scanty harvest of wheat, for in no other way could they obtain justice except by thus buying it.. Retribution would overtake them; they would not dwell long in their fine houses of hewn stone, nor drink the wine from their pleasant vineyards.

Your transgressions are many, your sins mighty. You take a bribe from the rich and let them escape the penalty due, and withhold a man's rights who is too poor to pay a bribe. Moffatt translates: "I know your countless crimes, browbeating honest men, accepting bribes, defrauding the poor of justice."

A Way Of Escape From Penalty, 5:14, 15. Professor Kent paraphrases these verses in these words: "To whomsoever my words appeal, I repeat: persevere in your efforts to do that which is right in the sight of God, and he, the all-powerful and just, will not fail you. Undauntedly strive to put down public evil, and to purify the law courts; perchance a faithful few may yet survive the approaching destruction to enjoy Jehovah's blessing and favor."

Justice, Not Mere Ritual, Pleasing to God, 5:21-24. The prophet now represents God as saying, "I hate, I despise your feasts, and I will take no delight in your solemn assemblies." But let justice roll down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream.

OCCASIONAL WIFE

SYNOPSIS

Camilla Hoyt and Peter Anson, young and in love, marry secretly, deciding to live their own lives apart until Peter is able to provide for her. Peter is a young, struggling sculptor trying to win a competition for a scholarship abroad and Camilla is the adopted daughter of a wealthy family. She is not to inherit money when she comes of age and so is studying commercial art in the hope of landing an agency job. Others in the story are Avis Werth, another wealthy girl who is trying to win Peter, Sylvia Todd, Peter's model, and Gus Matson, his former roommate with whom he has quarrelled. After a party at an exclusive club, when the rest of the members of the party go to a cabaret to continue the gaiety, Peter and Camilla slip off to the beach by themselves and fall asleep on the sand. When they awake it is early morning and Avis and another boy are standing near them. This makes it necessary for Camilla to announce before the party that she and Peter are married. Camilla urges Peter to accept some of her earnings to help him along, but Peter refuses and they quarrel. After Camilla has gone from the studio, Avis Werth calls and persuades Peter to accept a loan of $1,000. Peter finishes his exhibit and asks Avis and Camilla for suggestions as to a name for it. Camilla suggests "Eager Youth," and Avis "Inspiration", Peter adopts the latter title and Camilla, heartsick, goes to Peter's studio for quiet and to think. Peter and Avis follow later, and as the lights are turned on, see the statue has been shattered to pieces. Avis accuses Camilla of doing this, and Camilla, stunned by the disaster, and hurt and horrified by the accusation, faints.

At Camilla's suggestion, Peter enters as his exhibit a statue he had sculptured especially for her as a wedding gift. They named it "Land of Hope".

Camilla's advertising campaign was a success from the beginning, and it was arranged to have radio broadcasts, in addition to newspaper advertising, Camilla to both write the Tiny Tots stories and to deliver them over the radio.

Peter's exhibit was awarded the Paris scholarship, and he prepares for his journey to France.

(Now Go On With The Story)

CHAPTER LV.

Camilla powdered her nose and drew her hat over her head at a pert angle, but her movements were mechanical. She was thinking neither about her nose nor the angle of her hat. Her hands trembled a little, with excitement and apprehension. In another half hour, she would be speaking into the microphone to—thousands, perhaps. There also was a possibility that she would be speaking to no one, except Peter. She laughed shakily at the thought. All that effort and anxiety and expense, just to speak to Peter!

But she knew that would not be true. The response to her Tiny Tots had been too convincing of her public's interest, and the advertising of her radio programs too thorough to deny her an audience. She visioned that audience now, vaguely, reaching far out into limitless space, instead of her own chic figure in the dressing room mirror at the office. Her new autumn ensemble of transparent black velvet was set off by a smartly tailored white satin blouse, a white-trim purse and a perky white bow on the snug black velvet hat perched jauntily on the back of her black curls.

She joined Mr. Bowman in the outer office, who was going with her to the studio to introduce her to that important client of the firm, Mr. Alexander Hoyt.

Even in her trepidation, she had to smile a little to herself when she anticipated that formal meeting with the man whom she had known as "dad" all her life. It might not be quite fair of her to surprise him like this, but she thought she deserved the right to make of it an important event. The circumstances had warranted it, she believed.

Mr. Bowman's car was waiting at the curb to whisk them away with a sense of importance. It had been a long time since Camilla had ridden behind a liveried chauffeur. She would never have supposed that last time, that the next event would be a manifestation of her success in her beloved work, and so soon.

Arrived at the towering building on the top of which was the broadcasting station, an elevator whisked them upward and deposited them in a large, handsomely appointed reception room where a girl at the switchboard announced them. The program manager, Mr. Ritchie, appeared presently and greeted Camilla with deferent graciousness.

"You must get acquainted around here and make yourself at home, if you are going to be one of our regular visitors," he told her pleasantly. "You will broadcast from studio A, so we'll go right in now. Mr. Hoyt has not yet arrived, but I expect him any minute."

They passed through several rooms into a spacious, high-ceilinged room, soft-carpeted, heavy velvet hangings at the high arched windows. Two concert grand pianos made little impression in the room's size, other musical instruments stood about, including a little old-fashioned organ; a few chairs.

A half dozen microphones were suspended from the ceiling. Camilla had been there before, to try out her voice; at that she had been surprised that the "mikes" were not like those one saw erected before public speakers outside the studio. They were long, black tube-like cylinders with a small porous circular pendant into which one spoke directly. She had learned then that papers rustled or slipped together caused "lightning" over the air, and various other facts concerning the marvel of radio broadcasting.

They had just been seated when a studio attendant ushered in Mr. Hoyt. Even before he crossed the room to them, he recognized Camilla, and his reserved smile of greeting was puzzled.

"Hello, Camilla.. I didn't expect to see you here. Did you come to watch the broadcasting?"

Mr. Ritchie looked from one to the other, as puzzled as was Alexander Hoyt.

"You know Mrs. Anson, Mr. Hoyt? She is here to do the broadcasting. She is your very capable advertising artist, the creator of the Tiny Tots."

Camilla's smile appealed to her foster father for all that she could not express in words: her forgiveness for this secrecy and the importance of her responsibility to his venture.

"Why—of course, I know Mrs. Anson—my Camilla—can it be possible?" He was speechless, but that twinkle of pleasure that she remembered so well gleamed in his eyes before a suspicious mistiness clouded them. He took her hand quietly. "My heartiest congratulations, Camilla," was all he said, but to Camilla it was like an oration of commendation, knowing the man as she did.

There were a few moments of comment and explanation and then the room began to stir with other arrivals, people coming and going, orchestra instruments being tuned, an atmosphere of waiting expectation. A huge clock on one side of the room, with a long, impatient second hand, measured off the passing time rapidly.

Lights flashed on a signal board. Finally, double sound-proof doors were closed, everyone was in his place to avoid the least fractional second of delay. Camilla thrilled to this new experience of being a part of that vast organization of education and amusement that flooded the air all over the world from these perfectly regulated units.

A red light flashed above the letter A on the signal board, and the voice of the station announcer began his introduction to the Wheatheart Cereal program. The orchestra followed instantly with a gay selection. Mr. Ritchie introduced Mr. Hoyt briefly and he, in turn, presented Camilla. His audience and the occupants of that room could have been no more astonished than was Camilla herself when he said:

"Boys and girls, I am not only going to introduce to you the creator of the Tiny Tots, but I am going to pass on to you a lovely surprise which I had just a few minutes ago when I met Miss Camilla Anson. You have not known who first thought of the Tiny Tots and neither have I, before this afternoon. Imagine my surprise to discover that it was my own little girl, grown up and working for me and for you, and all the time I did not know it. I knew that she was working somewhere with art work, but I never knew until now that she was bringing Tiny Tots to life for your entertainment and happiness. I wish I might tell all of you what a splendid and beautiful little girl she is, for I know you would love her as much as I do. And now, I am going to let her tell you the first adventure of her little people over the radio. Miss Anson."

Camilla never knew quite how she managed to control her voice after that comment. Fortunately, she had written out her story so that she could refer to it in emergency, which gave her a sense of security, and she managed to get through the ordeal somehow. Her voice gained confidence and clarity as she continued, and her story proved to be timed to the second for the eighteen minutes alloted her. She returned to her chair with a feeling of weak exhaustion, wondering if she had been a failure. But Mr. Ritchie smiled reassuringly and whispered, "Splendid," under cover of the music which followed.

Finally, then, it was over and Camilla passed through the opened doors, feeling as if she had been on a strange journey to another world. Mr. Hoyt took her arm affectionately.

"I can't tell you how proud I am, Camilla, nor how much I appreciate what you have done for me. Your mother will be immensely pleased, too. Can't you come out to dinner with us to-night? We haven't seen much of you these days. And, no wonder," he added with a shy twisted smile.

"Sorry, but I can't to-night, dad. You know, Peter leaves day after to-morrow for New York to sail on the sixteenth. But I shall be seeing you more often when he is gone, I promise. I've been terribly busy and it doesn't look like I am going to be less busy very soon. I do want to talk with you about—everything, and I'd like to have some co-operation on some of my ideas hereafter. It's been—" she stopped a little breathlessly, "rather a struggle, to make it go all alone."

"You are wonderful," he said simply, "and we are proud of Peter, also. So glad that he won the scholarship, but I wonder what you are going to do without him."

"Just work—and wait for him," she laughed.

A boy interrupted them. "Telephone for Miss Anson, please. Over here, he directed.

Camilla wondered who could be calling her there, excused herself from the group.

"Dear, you were marvelous," Peter's voice replied to her hesitant, "Hello".

"Who in the world but you, darling, would think of calling me before I left here?" she exclaimed joyously.

"Thought I better catch you while I could. How do I know where you may be going next? A famous wife is the most elusive thing I can imagine, and I'm going to have to speed myself up to keep up with her."

"Honestly, Peter, did my voice sound—all right?"

"Perfect—wonderful. I'll bet your fan mail day after to-morrow snows you under."

She laughed happily. "Thanks, dearest, I'll meet you in an hour, then, as I promised."

"I called because I was afraid you would forget."

"As if I could!" Camilla reprimanded him fondly.

Little Helps For This Week

"The shadow of a great rock in a weary land." Isaiah 32:2.

"In returning and rest shall ye be saved; in quietness and confidence shall be your strength." Isaiah 30:15.

O shadow in a sultry land
We gather to Thy breast,
Whose love enfolding like the night,
Brings quietude and rest,
Glimpse of the fairer life to be,
In foretaste here possessed.

Strive to see God in all things and acquiesce in His will with absolute submission. Do everything for God, uniting yourself with Him by a mere upward glance, or by the overflowing of your heart toward Him. Never be in a hurry, do everything quietly and in a calm spirit. Do not lose your inward peace for anything whatsoever, even if your whole world seems to be upset. Commend all to God, and whatever happens abide steadfast in a determination to cling closely to Him, trusting to His eternal love for you, and if you find you have wandered forth from this shelter recall your heart quietly and simply. Do not smother yourself with a host of cares, wishes or longings, under any pretext.—Francis De Sales.

Safety Minded

Organization For The Prevention Of Accidents In Industry

The fact that there is an organization set up and operated solely for the prevention of accidents in industry should be sufficient to emphasize in the public mind the importance of the work it has undertaken, and should encourage all individuals to co-operate in achieving the aims to which it aspires. When one realizes, as has been pointed out, that at least 85 per cent. of all industrial accidents are preventable, it is easy to conclude that the painful toll could be quickly and drastically reduced if the people as a whole were to become safety-minded.—St. John Telegraph-Journal.

Largest Motor Coach

Travels From Baghdad To Damascus In One Day

The largest motor coach in the world has just been made and put on the road. It is well over 70 feet long, and has been designed for service on the road from Baghdad to Damascus, which passes through the Syrian desert. Formerly the journey by road took about 24 days. The new coach, it is said, will reduce this to as many hours. The vehicle, the motive force of which is a 385 horsepower Diesel engine, provides accommodation for 38 passengers, and carries a crew of 10. It has two storeys, the sleeping bunks being "upstairs."
