Review, Ex-High Wynndel, Win

Berry Pickers Make Successful Basketball Debut — Expected Happens in Ladies' Games—Two Men's Games Tonight

The second night of the season showed that basketball is the popular winter sport of Creston, when over a hundred fans braved the elements to watch their teams battle in the regular league play. Creston Review definitely established themselves at the top of the heap when they defeated Creston Motors, 17-6. Ex-High handed Pharmacy their second set-back by the slim score of 10-9. Wynndel doubled the tally on Loallos, 22-11.

Motors maintained a slim lead of 2-0 throughout the first quarter, but soon fell victims to the Bourdon Payne Levirs combination of the champs. Time after time the first two named drew out the defense and then passed to Marje Levirs who scored six field baskets. Kate Payne and Liz. Armitage starred for the losers. The teams:

Review—Levirs 12, Lewis, Payne 4, Bourdon, Jorde, Couling, Palmer 1. Total 17.

Creston Motors—Payne 3, Wightman, M. Armitage 1, E. Armitage 2, Avery, Clark, McCreath. Total 6.

Pharmacy led until the third quarter against the Ex-High, but their speed proved a poor substitute for shooting ability and they failed to measure up in the pinches. Nell Payne was easily the ontstanding player of the game, with worth-while support from Theo Tompkins and Ruth Hare. Yvonne LaBelle and Marj. Learmonth stood out on the Pharmacy squad The teams:

Ex-High—Payne 8, Speers 2, Tompkins, Abbott, Hare, Crane, Lewis. Total 10.

Pharmacy—O. LaBelle 1, Tompkins, Learmonth 2, Moore, Olivier 2, E. LaBelle, Y. LaBelle 4. Total 9.

Wynndel and Loalo gave a nice exhibition for their first appearance on the local floor. The fruit-packers were obviously handicapped by the superior height of their opponents Young Campbell Payette did some nice intercepting for Wynndel, with Buster and Joe Martell sharing the scoring honors. For Loalo, Buff Nastasi, played a cool game at guard, with Lance Maddess starring on the forwrd line. Howard Corrie efficiently refereed all three games. The teams:

Wynndel—O. Payette 4, J. Martell 8, Hagen 2, C. Payette. B. Martell 8: Total 22.

Loalo—Maddess 6 LaBell, Morabito, S. Nastasi 2, A. Nastasi, Gopiin 2, Truscott, Bourdon 1: Total 11.

O. M. Samuelson of Canyon and John Murrell of Creston were also nominated but were defeated by quite a large vote by the successful nominee.

The non-party meeting at the hall on Saturday evening was fairly well attended. Chas. Pipe gave a short talk outlining the purpose of the gathering after which F. Knott was named chairman with H. Yerbury named secretary. A number present spoke of the unemployment situation and at the close of the meeting three resolutions were adopted and will be sent on to the proper authorities. One of these apposed the cut recently made in the relief allowance. The second asked that money earned when not on relief work be not taken into account when making up he monthly allotment, and the third resolution asked for an explanation as to why relief payments were greater in some districts than here A committee of eight was named to handle complaints, as follows: Lister—J. Demchuk and Mr. Rylan. Canyon—W. Hook, J. Nygaard. Arrow Creek—F. Bunce, J. Babish. Kitchener—C. Foisy, N. Nowlin. A collection was taken to defray expenses.

There were eight tables of bridge at which the winners were Miss Webster and Waddy Huscroft. After cards there was a programme which included vocal numbers by Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Ross and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baker. Mrs. Lister favored with a violin solo with gramaphone accompaniment. During the evening the club's winter programme was outlined by he president. Refreshments were served after cards Those in charge of t e lunch were Mrs. Abbott, Mrs. R. Andestad, Mrs. Hackett, Mrs. Ogilvie and Mrs. E. Uri.

Wynndel league basketball team was seen in action for the first time at Creston on Thursday night when they stacked up against Loallo and brought home a 22-11 victory. Although Wynndel quint has not yet received their league uniforms they cut quite a nice figure on the floor. They were somewhat handicapped by the beams in the pavil ion, also by a strange crowd, neither of which had been in evidence previously. At the beginning of the game the ball was sloppily handled and play was marked by to much rough stuff by the Wynndel talent. However, as the winners got accustomed to their surroundings they gained their customary form. Joe and Buster Martell did some spectacular shooting and had no difficulty in working in on the basket. Oswald Payette at centre was fortunate in taking practically all the tipoffs, giving Wynndel an advantage over their midget opponents. Campbell Payette had a gala night at guard, scattering the Loallo forward line in great style. Andy Hagen, the other guard, got in some nice defence play and helped to break up more than a few of the rallies of the losers' forwards. For Loallo a great night's work was done by Buff Nastasi, guard, and Wilfred LaBelle and Lance Maddess on the forward line, the latter accounting for most of the losers' tallies. After Thursday night's game with its score of 22-11 Wynndel should have no ocassion to be ashamed of the squad's showing in its first year in league company. They expect to be in full uniform on their next appearance in the colors of Wynndel Co-Operative Fruit Growers Association.

800 patrons of the creamery at Vernon received cheques for cream supplied in September. Butterfat price was eight cents a pound higher than in Alberta.

Little Journeys In Science

DYES

(By Gordon H. Guest, M.A.)

Recently a French silk manufacturer displayed eighty-six different shades of the color green, showing to what perfection the art of dyeing has been brought. Thought to have originated in India many centuries ago, dyeing was at first confined to the production of just three colors, red, obtained from the madder plant; blue from indigo, and purple, from shellfish. These early dyes were of fine quality and are still to be seen in the mummy cloths in archaic collections. These cloths glow with rich colourings of purple and red.

In the city of Florence, Italy, a method of preparing purple dye from certain lichens, was discovered in the thirteenth century, and in 1472 the first dye company was incorporated in London. It was not, however, until the eighteenth century, when scientists interested themselves in the perfection of dyeing processes, that the industry became the important one that it is to-day. Coal-tar products were introduced into the process in 1856 by a young British chemist, William Henry Perkins. Perkins was working with aniline, a substance taken from coal tar, in an effort to find quinine. Instead, he discovered amazing coloring properties of certain aniline compounds, which led to a broader field, revealing dye properties in a large number of coal tar products. His work, which resulted in cheaper and more versatile dyes, brought him a fortune and a knighthood, while industry was further revolutionized by the utilization of coal tar, which had hitherto been considered useless.

Artificial dyes are superior to those found in nature, because of their much greater variety and adaptability, qualities which are continually being further developed in chemical laboratories.

He was taking his girl friend to the opera for the first time, but he thought it would be the correct thing to act like an every-week attendant.

"Have you ever tried listening to the opera with your eyes shut?" he asked his fair companion, as a particularly fine aria was sung.

A voice from over his shoulder boomed out: "Young man, have you ever tried listening to the opera with your mouth shut?"

Your liver's a very small organ, but it certainly can put your digestive and eliminative organs out of kilter, by refusing to pour out its daily two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels

You won't completely correct such a condition by taking salts, oil, mineral water, laxative candy or chewing gum, or roughage. When they've moved your bowels they're through—and you need a liver stimulant.

CHRISTIAN GROWTH

Golden text: "But grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ." 2 Peter 3:18.

Lesson: Luke 2:42-52; 2 Peter 1: 5-8.

Devotional reading: Proverbs 4:10-19.

Explanations And Comments

How Jesus Grew, Luke 2:42-52. For thirty years the life of Jesus was uneventful. He lived in Nazareth among the hills of Lower Galilee, and wrought at Joseph's bench as a carpenter. The only event in all that time that has been recorded is his going to Jerusalem, eighty miles southward, to keep the Passover with Mary and Joseph. The story of that Passover we have studied four times in the last six years, and explanations are not needed.

The account closes with these words: And Jesus advanced in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and men. God chose to send his Son into the world as a helpless Babe to attain a perfect Manhood through all the natural stages of human growth, physical, mental, and spiritual. He was larger and wiser at twelve than at two, and at thirty than at twelve; he had a glimpse of his high calling at twelve which he did not have at two, and a realization of it at thirty which he did not have at twelve.

Exhortation to Growth in Righteousness, 2 Peter 1:5-8. God hath granted unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, through the knowledge of him that called us by his own glory and virtue; whereby he hath granted unto us his precious and exceeding great promises; that through them ye may become partakers of the divine nature: these are the words that precede our text. Now we read that for this very cause, because God has granted all this, there is much to be done on our part.

What shall I render unto Jehovah For all his benefits toward me? the Psalmist questions. There is much that I must render. They call for diligent endeavor on my part; first, in my faith to supply virtue. The Authorized Version exhorts us to add one virtue to another, but the Greek means "to develop one virtue in the exercise of another." Each grace here mentioned is contained in the next, "as a series of Chinese boxes". "As we address ourselves to the acquisition of one grace, it becomes a source out of which we can develop another. Everything in Christian experience is orderly and progressive. 'Each quality is a kind of soil or atmosphere in which its successor is nourished'." (John Gardner).

"But you've never seen a shark," said the R.A.

"That's true, sir," the man agreed; "but then, don't some of those Academy chaps paint angels?"

THE TENDERFOOT

By

GEORGE B. RODNEY

Author of "The Coronado Trail", "The Canyon Trail", Etc.

SNYPOSIS

"You've fallen heir to a half-share in plenty of trouble," the lawyer told Gerad Keene. "The Broken Spur has been systematically looting the ranch, and old Joe Carr, your partner, is drinking himself into ruin."

But Keene decided to go see what was happening for himself—not as Gerald Keene, half owner of the Hour-Glass Ranch, but as Duro Stone, tenderfoot in a Montgomery Ward wildwest outfit.

Dad Kane, desert rat and luckless prospector till now, is returning to tell Dustin and Spike Goddard, owners of the Broken Spur ranch, who had grubstaked him, of his discovery of a rich gold mine, and shows samples of the ore. He sees Broken Spur men rustling Hour-glass cattle and protests against it.

Joe Carr's daughter, Edith, repulses Dustin when he wished to make her acquaintance, saying when she walked with a man, it would not be with a squaw man. He plans revenge, but has had no opportunity so far. Affairs on the ranch going from bad to worse, Joe Carr takes to drink.

(Now Go On With The Story)

Spike gaped at him. Then very slowly realization came. His eyes gleamed and his red face got redder and his wire-stiff beard seemed to bristle like the mane of an angry hound.

". . . You know how these damned old fools of prospectors talk. They matters worse old Kane can square himself with Joe Carr by lettin' him in on what he found on the Hour-glass land. See now?"

never see any one to talk to in six months. When they do get a chance the dam gives way and there's a flood. If old Dad Kane goes in to Seco he'll tell about his gold-find just as sure as God made li'l apples. He can't help it. The matter of Gray and Corse is bound to come out. . ."

Still Spike stared at him. The full import of what Dustin said had not yet sunk in.

"They'll hardly dare tell what they done," he growled. "It'll mean jail for them, too."

"They'll turn State's evidence and get exemption. That's the way Burke, the Prosecutin' Attorney, wins his cases. You poor fool! Can't you see? You'll look good in a striped suit . . . if it gets that far."

"What do you mean by that? If it get that far'?"

"Huh. That's easy. We're none too popular in the Valley. There ain't a Dry Farmer in thirty miles that don't want our holdin's. If we win that suit over Soda Springs it'll throw 'em on public lands. They'll be open to all the Dry Farmers. They can water their sheep there, too. That'll ruin 'em for cattle. Even you know that. . . ."

Spike nodded at that truth; the real reason for the constant feud between sheep and cattle-men.

"It will make no difference to you an' me," said Dustin hotely. "We'll be tucked away where nobody can hurt us. . . . I tell you . . . We're in a hell of a mess. Old Dad Kane know now just what our men have been doin'. Those men will swear, to clear themselves, that they were only carryin' out orders from us. It'll all come out. . . . To make

Spike Goddard licked his lips in silence and stared at his partner with a feral glare that promised ill to his enemy. He was not a particularly strong man but like most men of his kidney, when driven to bay he could fight desperately.

"Well," he croaked, "what's the answer?"

"That's easy. . . ." Dustin drew a breath of relief. To plan as he had planned in the last ten minutes was one thing. But man planning devilment needs help. He knew now that he could count on Spike as never before. Dustin went on:

". . . You and me, Spike, have made too much off the Hour-glass to let it ever get into court. Even old man Carr with all his drunken suspicions, don't know what we've milked him for. Thank the Lord we've been too careful to show the source of our income but . . . We've got a nice wad of cash right now in the office safe. Too dangerous to put it in the Seco bank. I figured we might need it for a get-away if some one spills the beans. . . Like old Dad Kane. He can do it any minute he chooses to open his mouth and talk. The matter boils down to this. . . . Old Dad Kan has come in here with the finest ore we've ever seen. It was found on the Hour-glass lands and old man Carr doesn't know of it. While he was lookin' for that ore, old Kane found some of our men at work and can send us to jail for what he saw 'em doin'. Get me? You know what's got to be done. I needn't name it. What's the answer?"

Spike Goddard knew that answer but like his partner he dared not put it in speech. Dustin finally dared it.

"Old Kane has got to show us where he found the stuff and then he's got to disappear," he said.

For a long moment silence fell; a silence in which a cricket in the wall chirped loudly and the ticking of the cheap clock on the table sounded like the crack of doom. Spike poured himself another drink. He needed it badly. He knew what was meant.

"How?" he asked hoarsely.

"The less you know personally about it the better for us both," said Dustin. "It's a one-man job and I trust no other man where my own life is at stake. All I say is that I'm not goin' to jail to please old man Kane or Carr either. Suit you?"

"It sure does. . . ." Spike had sudden visions of himself in a striped suit and he did not admire it. "I'll help you. . . ."

"Help me hell," said Dustin fiercely. "I tell you it's a one-man job . . . One-and-a-half that is. First I'm goin' in to Seco on business. Be sure you keep old Dad Kane here. Don't let him leave on any excuse. Tell him I've gone to make arrangements for him to go back to open the mine. Keep him here till I get back. I want to find out all I can about old man Carr's finances."

"Huh. From all I hear he ain't got any. How'll you find out?"

"I've got ways you never thought of. . . ." Dustin grinned as a coyote grins at sight of game. "The really big thing for us just now is to make Kane show us exactly where his location is. It'd be right bright to have him disappear and then find out we don't know where he found the gold."

He poured himself another drink and picked up his hat.

"I'll be on my way," he said. "Be sure you ride herd on Kane."

Spike watched the departing car and when its following dust-cloud was swallowed up turned away to the kitchen.

He was under no illusions as to what Dustin meant when he said that Kane must disappear. During the many years of their partnership he had seen some curious things. Sometimes he though that that very partnership was the only reason for their mutual safety. Either could hang the other by too much talk. He knew Dustin was cautious and ruthless and he knew suddenly that his "find" of old man Kane would put them both beyond any further need of more money. Dustin was right.

"He'll probably bring home the bacon," he muttered. "Even if he has to kill somebody else's hog to git it."

That was exactly what Sam Dustin proposed to do. He knew that the conscienceless suit over Soda Springs had cost Carr more than he had. He knew that the Broken Spur depredations on the herds of the Hour-glass had put that ranch in the red. He was sure that Joe Carr must owe a lot of money and he meant to find out to whom he owed it. Dustin believed in the strong hand and he knew that Solomon was right when he said: "The borrower is servant to the lender." It was dark when he parked his car before the sheet-iron-fronted saloon in Seco. He strode down the main street, turned off at a dark alley and stopped at a little frame bungalow set well back in a clump of dusty Chinaberry trees. The door flew open at his knock and, almost instantly, an old woman holding a stinking kerosene lamp above her head, stood facing him.

"Evenin', Mis' Peters," he said civilly enough, "Sim in?"

"He went for the mail," said Mrs. Peters. "He ought to be back in a minute. Come in, Mist' Dustin. There comes Sim now," she added.

Something To Know

If you want to revive wilted lettuce or other salad greens, put them in a pan of ice water to which has been added a cupful of vinegar. Let them set for half an hour and they'll be quite crisp. Incidentally, if you wrap lettuce in a damp towel and stick the ends of the towel in a dish of water, it will keep fresh for days.

Free Samples at Druggists of the Remarkable New Aid in the Prevention of Colds

Local Druggists Are Now Offering A Free Trial Of Vicks Va-tro-nol For Nose and Throat—Also Of Its Ideal Companion, Vicks VapoRub

NEW PREVENTION IDEA

This Discovery Introduces Unique Vicks Plan For Better Colds-Control

HOW VICKS PLAN WORKS

Following years of research on the problem of colds, Vick Chemists have developed a new aid in preventing colds—Vicks Va-tro-nol, for nose and throat. This new Vicks preparation is the ideal companion to Vicks VapoRub, the modern method of treating colds.

These two Vick preparations, together with a few simple rules of health, form the unique Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds. The helpfulness of the Plan in reducing the number and duration of colds has been clinically tested by physicians. (Full details of the Plan are in each package of Vicks Va-tro-nol and of Vicks VapoRub.)

Briefly, here is how Vicks Plan works:

To Help Prevent Colds

Watch yourself and children after exposure to any condition that you know is apt to be followed by a cold, such as—

Contact with others having fresh colds,—crowds, stuffy ill-ventilated rooms, public places—sudden changes in temperature—excesses in living, such as over-eating, smoking or drinking, which reduce body resistance.

Then—at the slightest irritation in the nasal passages, where most colds start—use Vicks Va-tro-nol at once. Just a few drops up each nostril. Repeat every hour or so if needed. Va-tro-nol aids Nature's functions—in the nose—to prevent colds, and to throw off colds in their early stages. Used in time, Va-tro-nol aids in preventing many colds.

To Help Shorten a Cold

If a cold has developed, rub Vicks VapoRub well over throat and chest at bedtime. Through the night, VapoRub attacks the cold direct—two ways at once—by Stimulation, direct through the skin, like a poultice or plaster—and by Inhalation of its medicated vapors direct to the inflamed air-passages. This long-continued double action loosens phlegm, soothes irritated membranes, eases difficult breathing, and helps break congestion.

During the day—any time, any place—use Vicks Va-tro-nol every few hours as needed. This gives you full 24-hour treatment without the risks of constant internal dosing, which so often upsets the digestion—especially of children.

Trial Packages Free

Your druggist has free combination packages containing trial sizes of Va-tro-nol and VapoRub—also folder telling how these twin aids to fewer colds and shorter colds are used in Vicks Plan for Better Control of Colds. Ask for yours today, as your druggist's supply is limited.

Little Helps For This Week

"Wherefore beloved be diligent that ye may be found of Him in peace, without spot, and blameless." 2 Peter 3:14.

His conscience knows no secret stings,
While grace and joy combine
To form a life whose holy springs
Are hidden and divine.
—Isaac Watts.

Even the smallest discontent of conscience may render turbid the whole temper of the mind; but only produce the effort that restores its peace, and over the whole atmosphere a breath of unexpected purity is spread, doubt and irritability pass as clouds away, the withered sympathies of earth and home open their leaves and live, and through the clearest blue the deep is seen of the heaven where God resides.—J. Martineau.

The state of mind that is described as meekness, or quietness of spirit, is characterized in a high degree by inward harmony. There is not as formerly that inward jarring of thought contending with thought, and conscience asserting rights which it could not maintain.

Plant For Production Of Sodium Sulphate May Come To Saskatchewan

Establishment of a new industry in Saskatchewan, believed to be for the production of sodium sulphate, is being contemplated by a firm of manufacturing chemists with head office in New Jersey, and branch offices in Montreal and Toronto.

Government officials received a communication recently from officials of the firm asking for detailed information concerning labor and coal costs, and other particulars.

The location of the plant, according to the letter, would be in southern Saskatchewan, near the United States border, some 12 miles from the nearest railway.

HOME BREW

In the old days the philosopher was wont to remark that of the "making of many books there is no end." In these labor saving days there is no time to wait for books, so a short cut to saving the day has been found in the passing of resolutions. This is particularly true in connection with unemployment on which subject there has been no end to the "Whereas" and "Therefore be it resolved's" reaching both the provincial and federal governments, a likely sample of which comes from Revelstoke city council "urging that federal and provincial governments enact legislation to provide productive employment so that all may have the right to work and create purchasing ability for themselves." This continual pestering the government to do something must make the thoughtful ask can it be that a larger part of our population than formerly lacks initiative individualism; can it be they are losing that pioneer chartcteristic of our forefathers, the desire to stand on one's own feet; can it be that fewer Canadians believe in being their own boss, but desire to be bossed.

Local and Personal

The Imperial orchestra, Cranbrook, has been booked to supply music for the Legion dance at Park pavilion, Monday November 12th, with an admission of 50 cents. The cafeteria supper will be 15 cents extra.

R. B. Swailes, M P.P., from Delta, addressed a well attended meeting in Trinity Church hall, Tuesday evening, under the auspices of Creston C.C.F. Club. He spoke at Canyon the evening previous.

The ladies are reminded of the annual fruit shower in aid of Creston Hospital to be held in the United Church hall tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon. There will be a postoffice booth, and tea will served free to all attending.

J. W. Smiley of Nelson, unemployment relief inspector for the Kootenays, was here on an official visit at the end of the week. For the past month there has been a slight decrease in the numbers drawing relief in this district.

This week's meeting of the Presbyterian young people's society was a hallowe'en masquerade party at the Parish Hall which was well attended. The prizes for best costumes went to Margaret Henderson and Hubert Beninger.

The new federal voters list which has just been posted shows a total of 1727 names in the seven polling places in the valley. 830 of these are in Creston village poll. Lister has 98, Kitchener 121, Canyou 160, Erickson 212, Wynndel 210, and Sirdar 96.

According to the October issue of Telephone Talk, put out by the B.C. Telephone Company, there are now 152 phones connected to the Creston switchboard, which is the largest list of phone users known here. At the first of the year 135 phones were in use.

Orchardists are reminded of an importa t meeting in Trinity Church basement Wednesday afternoon, November 7th, at 2.30, at which a delegate will be named to attend the meeting at Kelowna at which the three growers will be named to constitute the B.C Tree Fruit Board.

"Dear Sirs:"

ONE disadvantage of selling by mail is that you have no opportunity of seeing and getting to know, as individuals, the people whom you are serving.

In our great City stores, our salespeople meet their customers face to face. They talk to them—get to know them—learn their likes and dislikes—are able to help them in their little problems of buying. Gradually, there is built up between the customer and ourselves a personal, friendly relationship that we value more than "much fine gold." But in the Mail Order end of things, such contact is almost impossible. Dealing with customers often thousands of miles away, we have little opportunity of cultivating that personal relationship which we value so highly, and which can be so greatly helpful to the customer.

That is why we are always so happy to receive—as we so often do—"personal" letters from our Western friends. Such messages help us to know you better—and because of that, to serve you better. We appreciate beyond words the friendly spirit that prompts the writing of such letters—we value the feeling they express. An enquiry about some little question of dress, or furnishing, or equipment—a suggestion regarding our Catalogues or Service—or just a "friendly word" of remembrance—all these are as welcome to us as Dollar Wheat.

Drop us a Line!

EATON'S

The annual dance given by the employees of the fruit packing houses at Wynndel, Creston and Erickson, was staged in Park Pavilion on Friday night and, from all accounts, was the best yet, with more than 400 in attendance. Music was supplied by a Nelson orchestra.

Two draglines are at work on south end dyke of Creston Dyking Company operations on the flats, filling in the gap between the Dow ranch an the new dyke near the crooked bridge. The two big wheel scrapers have just about completed the dyke as far as the Kootenay Riverbank.

W. Hurack, C.P.R. section foreman, has just been advised that he has won first prize for the best old garden visible from tracks, and everyone will agree that the prize is well deserved as Mr. and Mrs. Hurack have had on display all season an array of blooms that has attracted much attention.

Wynndel basketball team was seen in action at Park pavilion for the first time Thursday night last in a league fixture. They gave a good account of themselves by trimming Loallo 22-11. In the other games the Review trimmed Creston Motors 28 18 and the Ex-High girls nosed out Pharmacy 9-8.

Father Choinel of Cranbrook was visiting in the district on Tuesday. Mass was said at the home of Mrs. Grady. Wednesday morning.

Mrs. R. Uri was at home to a number of friends on Friday, the occasion being her birthday anniversary. A pleasant social hour was spent after which refreshments were served by the hostesses' daughter, Miss E Uri, assisted by Miss E. Dubar. During the tea hour an interesting and amusing letter, from Mrs. H. A. Bathie, who was absent on account of illness, was read by Mrs. A. Martell. The guests included Mrs Grady, Mrs. A. Martell, Mrs. Lachat, Mrs. L. Davis, Mrs. Hess, Miss Annie Hook of Spokane, Miss Eileen Dubar of Nakusp, Misses O. Uri and Margaret Bathie and the little Misses Lois Martell add Hazel May Davis.

There are 401 names on the new federal voters list at Kaslo.

According to the Courier the ratio of dog to man population in Cranbrook seems to be getting out of balance.

According to the News the creameries at Vernon and Enderby are unable to make enough butter to supply the demand.

At Kaslo a number of people supplying milk in the town have been put out of business by the dairy inspector until such times as they comply with the law.

The People's Responsibility

No apology need be offered to the readers of this column, we feel sure, for again discussing the same subject that formed the topic of last week's comment, namely, the ever mounting toll of deaths and serious injuries attributable to automobile accidents. The most effective way of minimizing as far as possible these tragedies is, it will be admitted, the arousing of public opinion because, unless public opinion is aroused, all the preventive laws in the world will not prove effective.

In conversation with the writer the other day a mother of a family, careful, conscientious, intelligent and of the very best type of Canadian citizenship, one who takes a keen and active interest in all movements for the betterment of the community and province in which she lives, stated that only recently she and her husband had had the narrowest of escapes from a serious and probably fatal car accident. Let us recite the simple circumstances.

Driving at a moderate rate, her husband at the wheel came to a point where the making of a left turn was necessary. He proceeded to make it. At the same moment the driver of a car behind them speeding at forty miles an hour decided to pass ahead. Without slackening speed and without sounding his horn in warning to the car ahead, he shot past, thus violating the rules of the road in at least two respects. He side-swiped the car in which the lady and her husband were driving, smashed a headlight to smithereens, tore off the front bumper, and all but wrecked the car. But, added the lady, we too, were to blame because my husband had neglected to put out his hand indicating his intention to make the left turn. Fortunately no person was hurt.

All simple things,—failure to sound a horn before attempting to pass the car ahead, failure to reduce speed when overtaking and passing the car ahead, failure of the car ahead to indicate its proposed change of direction, and three lives endangered, several children narrowly escaped being orphaned, two families barely saved from lasting sorrow and much suffering. The laws were sound enough, a policeman right on the spot could not have enforced those laws in time to prevent a tragedy. Two individuals were alone responsible for placing their own lives and that of others in jeopardy. Either one of them could have avoided this near calamity.

It is probable that as these lines are being written other near-accidents of a more or less similar nature are taking place, and possibly serious injuries and even death are the result. Who is to blame? The people themselves. Nobody else. And such accidents will continue and will multiply until people by observing all laws and regulations, and through the exercise of proper caution at all times, put an end to such accidents.

In this article, too, emphasis may well be placed upon the terrible menace of "glaring headlights". They are prohibited by law, yet are to be found upon practically every road and highway every night. Glaring headlights—which blind the driver of any approaching car, making it impossible for him to judge his distance from the approaching car which has blinded him or to see what is ahead of him. And because one car has such lights burning, the other driver refuses to dim his lights, and two high powered cars rush at each other,—sometimes they pass safely, sometimes they do not, and all too frequently even when a head-on crash does not result, one or both cars ends up in the ditch, or meets some other adverse fate.

The owner of the "glaring lights" is apparently quite reckless and indifferent to the fact that by blinding the driver of approaching cars he may be inviting his own death, because the blinded driver may smash into him; and when driver No. 2 refuses to dim his lights because the other fellow did not, he is only multiplying his own risks because he is blinding the other fellow. Again, who is to blame for the catastrophes which so frequently follow? Not the law, because the actions of these car drivers is unlawful. Nor can any army of policemen be maintained along every highway to enforce the law. The best that is possible is to make examples of people when they can be caught.

It is people themselves who are to blame, and it is well nigh impossible to identify the culprits because the glaring lights renders the taking of car license number extremely difficult. It is public opinion that must first be aroused and educated to put a stop to these violations. It is not legislators, governments and police forces which alone have responsibility in this matter; the greatest responsibility rests with the individual citizen. And until individual citizens in far greater numbers than at present discharge that responsibility, humanity must pay the price, and this terrible blot rest upon our much vaunted civilization.

Way to Ease Headaches, Pain Almost Instantly

METHOD OFTEN RELIEVES NEURALGIA AND RHEUMATIC PAINS IN MINUTES!

Remember the pictures below when you want fast relief from pain. Demand and get the method doctors prescribe—Aspirin.

Millions have found that Aspirin eases even a bad headache, neuritis or rheumatic pain often in a few minutes!

In the stomach as in the glass here, an Aspirin tablet starts to dissolve, or disintegrate, almost the instant it touches moisture. It begins "taking hold" of your pain practically as soon as you swallow it.

Equally important, Aspirin is safe. For scientific tests show this: Aspirin does not harm the heart.

Remember these two points: Aspirin Speed and Aspirin Safety. And, see that you get ASPIRIN. It is made in Canada, and all druggists have it. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every Aspirin tablet.

Get tin of 12 tablets or economical bottle of 24 or 100 at any druggist's.

Why Aspirin Works So Fast

Drop an Aspirin tablet in a glass of water. Note that BEFORE it touches the bottom, it is disintegrating.

IN 2 SECONDS BY STOP WATCH

An Aspirin tablet starts to disintegrate and go to work.

What happens in these glasses happens in your stomach—ASPIRIN tablets start "taking hold" of pain a few minutes after taking.

In Seventeenth Century Tea Was Supposed To Be Slimming

Tea, in the seventeenth century, was recommended as a means of slimming. In an exhibition now in the Victoria and Albert Museum, London, of English silversmiths' work is quoted an old advertisement which says that China Tcha, or Tay, alias Tee ,is "of great avail to men of corpulent bodies and to such as eat meat." Apparently the ladies were not so keen on slimming in those days. Tea-drinking, anyhow, must have been rather a trial when it was first introduced into this country, for the small bowls out of which the liquid was drunk had no handles, and people were compelled to hold them by the lip or poised in their fingers.

Try KRUSCHEN NOW!

After using the Trial bottle, continue with the Regular bottle—unless you are not completely convinced that Kruschen will do everything claimed for it, in which event your druggist will return your money if you take back the regular package unopened.

But millions of people testify as to Kruschen's effectiveness, for in 119 different countries nothing else has been found that gives the same results as Kruschen. Get your package without delay. The supply of Free Trial bottles is limited.

A Wonderful Machine

A scientist in Sweden claims to have invented a machine, somewhat similar in appearance and action to a typewriter, which can produce and transcribe coded messages many times faster than by hand. These messages cannot be deciphered other than through the use of a similar machine identically adjusted.

Census Taker Turns Dentist

Extracted Teeth For Indians During Tour Of James Bay Area

When Rev. J. Emile Saindon went to work for the Dominion bureau of statistics, he was a competent census taker, but to-day, as a result of his official labors, he is a first-rate amateur dentist.

He was engaged by the bureau to take a census of the Indians living along the eastern shore of James Bay. But he found that wherever he went in pursuit of figures, he was met by appeals from redskins to extract their aching teeth.

At one remote spot he sat down and solemnly pulled out Indians' teeth for several hours. Altogether he made more than 100 extractions during his tour.

Making It Clear

K. C. Banks proposed to post himself to British Columbia, and thought it advisable that he should be marked: "This way up." In the event of his deciding on air mail, and yet wishing to wear a hat, the following note on past history may be useful. Toward the end of the war a gadget was obtained for the R.A.F. which the makers marked: "To be stored upside down." The air minstry added the instruction: "To avoid confusion, the bottom should be called the top."

Exhibition Of Inventors

Rubber Collar Stud One Of New Gadgets Shown

A humane collar button guaranteed not to torture the wearer by digging into his neck, was among hundreds of newly patented devices displayed at the Exhibition of Inventors, which was opened in London recently.

Made of rubber, the new stud is attached to the shirt to make dressing easier, and its inventor says it can withstand laundering.

Most of the exhibits were gadgets to make housekeeping simpler. There was a combination brush and pan that lifts dust by pressure on the handle, an automatic window cleaner that does away with the use of a stepladder, and a self-emptying bread box.

One ambitious entrant exhibited double-sided neckties, and another showed an egg-opener that lifts the top of a boiled egg neatly off without cutting the yolk.

But there were more pretentious exhibits, too. One was a four-legged frame on wheels for teaching the baby to walk. Another was a "visual piano" with apparatus that produces color corresponding to the notes and rhythm of the music.

A hopeful inventor from Somerset exhibited a new device for trepanning, which he said was already being used in several hospitals.

The British building boom was reflected in an unusually large number of simple locks for doors, sink filters, adjustable draught excluders and new compositions for making bricks.

Old Reliable Remedy Still Best For Chapped Skin

Rough, chapped hands are irritating and ugly. They are also a source of danger from infection, when the skin becomes very raw and cracked from exposure.

The old reliable remedy—Hinds Honey and Almond Cream—is still a favorite remedy after being on the market for over 50 years. Ever since 1875 this soothing, healing lotion has been the choice of men and women in every walk of life, for its instant relief from suffering, rapid healing and remarkable protective qualities.

In cold weather, hands, neck and face need protection to keep them free from chapping and danger of infection. Hinds Honey and Almond Cream is easy to use—quickly absorbed by the skin and leaves no trace of stickiness. Men like it after shaving. Any druggist can supply you. HB

TO ESTABLISH AN OPEN LONDON GRAIN AGENCY

Winnipeg. — Establishment of a grain agency at London will be entirely independent of Canadian wheat pools and other export agencies, David L. Smith, former foreign representative of the pools' central selling agency, said here. He will sail for England early in November.

Mr. Smith will operate as an independent private trader. At London he will establish a sample market where Canadian grains can be inspected and their qualities discussed with European buyers. Through this medium he is hopeful of establishing a contact that will assist materially in the sale of Canadian wheat and other grains abroad.

In England Mr. Smith acts as the accredited representative of a number of Canadian export houses, including the Alberta and Saskatchewan wheat pools. He believed earlier report which said the agency had been decided upon as a joint effort of several Canadian export houses and the two pools, carried a wrong impression. He will act as salesman on his own account.

Calgary.—Establishment of David L. Smith, of Winnipeg, as a grain agent in London to increase sales of Canadian grains will be entirely independent of the Alberta wheat pool, R. D. Purdy, manager of the pool, said. Anything Mr. Smtih may accomplish will be separate from the pools' efforts in the export field.

"Mr. Smith is going to London as a salesman on his own account, I understand," Mr. Purdy said. "If he succeeds he may be able to do some business with us. But I would like to make it clear that he is entirely independent of the Alberta wheat pool."

Taxes On Range Lands

New Base For Levy Urged Before Alberta Board

Calgary.—A plea that taxes on range lands be levied according to productive, rather than fictitious value of land was made by Jack Byers, of the Western Stockgrowers' Association, when he appeared before the Alberta tax inquiry board which was holding sessions in Calgary.

Mr. Byers also urged that arrears of taxes be worked out in forms of range improvements which would promote more efficient land utilization, and that there be a flat rate of taxation that stockmen can afford to pay, with proper provision for collection.

Millions For Air Force

Italy Has Authorized Expenditure For 'Planes And Material

Rome.—New efficiency in the air for Italy was provided for by Premier Mussolini, acting as minister of aviation, and Guido Jung, minister of finance, in a bill they presented to the chamber of deputies.

Th bill authorizes the expenditure of 1,200,000,000 lire ($100,000,000) for "the complete renewal of aeroplanes and accessory material."

Regulate Potato Marketing

Ottawa.—A decision to apply for the setting up of a scheme under the Natural Products Marketing Act to regulate the marketing of potatoes in eastern Canada was practically reached at a session of the potato conference, representing growers, dealers and governments in Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick. The conference is attempting to work out plans of orderly marketing for the present bumper potato crop in order to ensure the farmers as good as possible a return.

Flight Was A Success

Trip Into Stratosphere Quite Satisfactory Stated Mrs. Piccard

Cadiz, Ohio. — The stratosphere flight of the Jean Piccards came to an end in a tree-top. The bag of their balloon was badly torn, but the gondola and valuable instruments were undamaged and the Piccards themselves were unhurt.

The Piccards, saying they believed the purpose of their flight had been accomplished, brought the huge bag down after a flight that started from Detroit and carried them an estimated 10 miles into the air.

"The flight was a success," said Mrs. Piccard soon after she climbed from the gondola which settled amid trees near an old logging road on the John Fulton farm, four and one-half miles southwest of here.

Glen Cope, a farmer, made a valiant attempt to halt the balloon as it drifted slowly a short distance above the ground, its ropes dragging.

He grabbed a rope and attempted to tie it to a tractor. The floating balloon pulled the rope from his hands and the balloon then scraped the top of a 75-foot elm, the branches tearing the bag badly but not damaging the gondola. The landing, while rough, merely shook up the Swiss scientist and his wife.

For Naval Equality

Japanese Present Their Claim To U.S. Representatives

London.—The Japanese presented their claim for naval equality to representatives of the United States, as they had done in meetings with the British. No action was taken and no official statements were issued, but it seemed obvious that a long and knotty discussion faced the representatives of the world's three leading naval powers.

British and Americans feel that the existing treaties already contain sufficient guarantees for equality in security. Japan would sweep away the existing treaties and replace them with an entirely new structure.

In a nutshell, Japan is firm in its determination to remove the existing ratio basis, on which naval categories of Britain, the United States and Japan are fixed on a 5-5-3 ratio respectively. If the other powers will not join her in abrogating the Washington treaty, then she will abrogate it unilaterally—independently.

Community Chest Campaign

Relief For Families That Might Otherwise Be Destroyed

Vancouver.—"There are families today who are in danger of complete disruption," G. G. McGeer, K.C., M.L.A., declared in a public address in behalf of Community Chest campaigns now in progress in various cities of Canada. "In their homes the health of children is being imperilled.

"Now," Mr. McGeer continued, "whether this condition arises from lack of income or from other cause, wise private social service not forced upon the family by the government can often bring relief that means the rehabilitation of a family that might otherwise be destroyed."

United Farm Women

Mrs. Goodale Heads Organization In Manitoba

Brandon, Man.—Mrs. M. J. Goodale, Portage la Prairie, was re-elected president of the United Farm Women of Manitoba at its annual convention here. Mrs. E. L. Johnson, Arbor, was re-elected vice-president.

Discussions on naturalizations, sterilization of mentally defective persons and problems of the farm occupied the delegates. Resolutions of the organization will be submitted to the general session with the United Farmers of Manitoba for consideration.

Another Air Race

Paris.—The air ministry announced a great international air race will be organized by France to give the industry of the country, unrepresented in the Melbourne air derby, an opportunity to demonstrate that it "holds a place in the forefront of progress."

Win Air Derby

England's Brilliant Airmen Finished First In Handicap As Well As Speed Race

Melbourne, Australia. — An unofficial check indicated England's brilliant airmen, C. W. A. Scott and T. Campbell Black, finished first in the handicap as well as the speed race in the Engand-Melbourne derby. Their official time was 70 hours, 59 minutes, 50 seconds.

But the Dutch entry, which came in 19 hours and 18 minutes behind Scott and Black, and two hours and 42 minutes ahead of the American team of Col. Roscoe Turner and Clyde Pangborn, stands an excellent chance of getting the handicap first prize of $10,000.

Under the rules for the derby a pilot cannot win prizes in both races, but must choose between them.

Should Paramener and Moll get the $10,000 handicap prize, the second prize of $7,500 in the speed race would go to Turner and Pangborn. At any rate the Americans are assured of the $2,500 third prize in the speed race.

Washington. — Japan is preparing to demand an agreement under which the three leading naval powers would build no more "offensive" vessels. This became known in an authoritative source as details of the Japanese position at the naval conversations in London were disclosed.

Drouth In China

Damage Is Expected To Reach Amount Exceeding $1,200,000,000

Shanghai, China.—The losses to the Chinese farmers and peasants occasioned by the prolonged drouth and record heat wave of the past spring and summer are expected to exceed $1,200,000,000, according to a report issued by the national famine relief commission, which is based on reports received from the stricken districts.

In the 10 provinces, 263 districts have sent in reports declaring a total of approximately 26,750,000 acres of cultivated lands have been affected by the drouth.

When all surveys are completed it is expected the drouth losses will reach a more appalling total than even the very pessimistic estimate of the national famine relief commission.

A survey conducted by the department of agricultural economics of the national agricultural research bureau of the ministry of industries reveals the damage caused by the drouth in the two provinces of Kiangsu and Chekiang alone is in excess of $528,800,000. The area affected in these two provinces is only about one-third of the total area of the 10 provinces hit by the drouth.

Reduce Liquor Prices

Manitoba Commission Faced With Competition From Bootleggers

Winnipeg. — As intensive police drive on bootleggers is under way as the Manitoba government liquor control commission, faced with severe competition from this source, announced reduced prices on Canadian gin sold in liquor stores.

The commission announced Canadian-made gin would be reduced 35 cents per 26-ounce bottle to $2.50, and 40-ounce size to $3.80, a cut of 50 cents. Small variations in prices according to quality will be set.

Purchase Land In Alberta

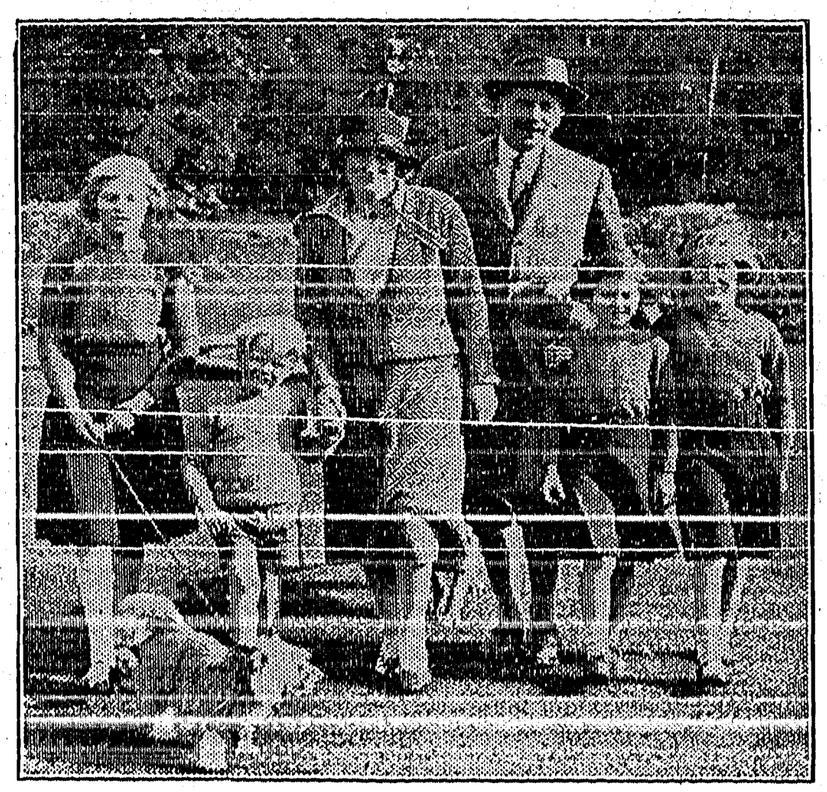
Two Colonies Of Hutterites Have Settled Near Lethbridge

Lethbridge, Alta. — Purchase of 11,000 acres of farm lands in the Chin district, near Lethbridge, at a cost of $110,000 by the Hutterite brethren was confirmed. Two colonies of Hutterites will occupy the land of which 5,500 acres are ready for crop next spring. One block was formerly owned by R. C. Harvey, Lethbridge sheep rancher. The other was sold by the Canadian Pacific Railway lands department.

Praise For Ferguson

Montreal. — Admiration for the vigor in which Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Canadian high commissioner in London, is pressing Canada's case for a larger share of the lumber market in Great Britain was expressed by C. E. Denny, head of a large London timber firm, who arrived here in the liner Ascania.

NEW ZEALAND'S GOVERNOR-GENERAL AT HOME



Here is a picture of Viscount and Viscountess Galway with their children in the grounds of their home, Scriby Hall, Bawtrey, Yorkshire. The King has approved the appointment of Viscount Galway to be Governor-General of New Zealand in succession to Lord Bledisloe, whose term of office expires shortly.

CODES FOR LABOR TO BE DISCUSSED AT CONFERENCE

Montreal.—Governmental codes for industry in Canada patterned after the N.R.A. codes of the United States insofar as minimum wages and hours of labor are concerned will be discussed at the forthcoming conference of representatives of all the provincial governments at Toronto, the Gazette says.

"Hon. C. J. Arcand, Quebec minister of labor, will attend," the paper continues, and it may be that he will challenge the worth of governmental codes fixing minimum wages and hours of labor for male workers as against that of juridicial extension of collective labor agreements, as existing at present in this province.

"In other words, it may be held that so far as the fixing of labor conditions for men, it is better that employers and employees be permitted to come to an agreement among themselves, and juridicially extend such agreements, than have governmental interference."

This procedure, the Gazette states, was held by Quebec authorities to be a better solution of present-day labor problems than that of governmental interference.

King George Sends Approval

Praises Work In Canada In Spreading Ideals Of League

Ottawa.—Warm approval by the King of the second national study project of the League of Nations Society in Canada was expressed in a cablegram received from His Majesty by Hon. Ernest LaPointe, president of the society.

"I have learned with pleasure and approval of the work of the League of Nations Society in Canada in spreading a knowledge of the ideals and work of the League of Nations," said His Majesty. "It is vitally necessary for the promotion of peace and co-operation between peoples that public opinion in all countries should thoroughly understand and appreciate the activities of the league in the task of maintaining, through collective international action, peace and good order in the world. The peoples of the British Empire have borne and will continue to bear a heavy share of this work and I wish every success to the League of Nations Society in Canada in the execution of their plans for the coming winter."

Wins Provincial Honors

Edmonton.—Junior calf club teams from Lacombe and Olds won provincial honors in stock judging competitions here and will get free trips to the Royal Winter Fair at Toronto, where they will represent Alberta in the Dominion finals. Wylie Thomson and Walter Dunkley of Olds won the junior Dairy Calf Club section. Henry Magilton and Edward Chessor of Lacombe were victors in the Beef Calf Club finals.

Remembrance Day

Ottawa.—The "great silence" between 11 a.m. and 11:02 a.m. on November 11 will be observed in Canada, and the government has issued instructions to provincial and municipal authorities to arrange for suspension of all vehicular traffic during these two minutes. Railway and water transport will not be suspended.

Plan To Tattoo Soldiers

Defends Beauty Operations

Chicago.—A defence of the use of the surgeon's knife for the sake of beauty alone when the psychological benefit to be derived by the patient is great, was voiced by Sir Harold Gillis, noted London surgeon. He pleaded for recognition of "esthetic surgery" and referred to plastic surgery as "the Cinderella of surgery."
