On teachers' salaries the discussion centered almost completely on the conduct of the high school. No one was quite satisfied with the discipline that had been maintained, particularly by the vice-principal, but Principal Levers had some backers who were of the opinion that his services had been satisfactory and that a proposed raise of $200 per annum for him was justified. In the discussion an advance of $50 to public school principal Stallwood received no attention whatever and he suffered the same fate as Mr. Levers in a motion that carried by a narrow margin that stated that no teachers' salary raises shall be given for this term.

The good work of the janitor, W. E. Barner, however was recognized with a raise of $100, and later in the meeting a motion got by authorizing the trustees to pay $2000 for a high school principal if a lower-priced high school head was unobtainable—always provided that the bigger salaried principal must have had previous experience.

The statement showing but $140 collected for high school tuition fees provided considerable discussion whieh elicited the information that since the books closed at July 1st. possibly another $150 of fees had come in, but which still left a sizable balance unpaid. The matter was disposed of by a resolution that in future high school fees must be paid at least monthly in advance.

As the attendance at the high school has now reached the point where students from the Creston school district will probably occupy all the seating space available, the meeting endorsed a resolution requesting the board to send out an invitatlon to all the other school districts from Kitchener to Sirdar asking them to sit in at a conference to discuss the establishment of a consolidated high school at Creston.

After secretary Geo. Nickel had very briefly outlined the manual training situation, which was estimated to cost $1000 for equipment and $250 per annum as Creston's share of the salary for two-days a week instruction, the proposition was quickly disposed of with a motion that it not be considered at the present time.

Plans for the proposed new heating plant had been submitted firms in Vancouver, Nelson and Cranbrook, and tentative prices obtained running from $3200 to $3700. This is a steam system, and provides radiators in the basement as well as two or three in each room. Everyone was agreed the new system must be installed and the trustees were authorized to spend up to $4000 if necessary to secnre plant. Repayment of this amount will be spread over a number of years, and the trustees were favored with a specific resolution authorizing them to do the neeessary borrowing. It is assumed that the department will bear part of the cost of the new plant.

Dr. Henderson was unanimously re-elected auditor, and in acknowledging the vote of thanks accorded him took occasion to compliment secretary Geo. Nickel on the very comprehensive system he has adopted in keeping the school accounts.

Geo. Nickel and Frank H. Jackson were nominated for the vacancy on the trustee board and the ballot was in favor of Mr. Nickel. A vote of thanks to the old board was carried unanimously, and about 10.30 the meeting closed in peace harmony.

Supply Reading Railway Camps

Magazines to be Supplied Work Crews on C.P.R. Construction —Buy Tools for Cemetery— Bible Reading Resolution Fails

Transaction of routine business, with a demonstration of making novelty cookies occupied most of the time of the July session of Creston and District Women's Institute on Friday afternoon, which was in charge of the president, Mrs. R. Stevens.

Information has reached the institute that magazines and like reading matter would be appreciated by the hundreds of men that are employed on the C.P.R. construction between Sirdar and Proctor. Institutes at other points are doing work of this sort and Creston will help out at this end. Anyone who has magazines to contribute are asked to leave them at the public library at S. A. Speers' store.

Money was voted to purchase some tools which will be at the disposal of those who wish to work on their plots in the cemetery. The implements will be stored in the tool box in the new building erected last year at the cemetery.

Hike For Health!

Automobile laziness is stated to be the cause of one hundred times as many deaths annually as are caused by automobile accidents. The automobile has made it possible for us to get through life with hardly any exercise unless we are fortunate enough to be employed in some variety of of manual labour. This has completely changed our mode of living but not our diet; we still eat the same quantities of rich heavy food customary many years ago.

Easy and quick transportation at any time by automobile should be one of our chief blessings; to many it appears to be far from that. The medical profession has been aware for some time of the great increase of disease among the well-to-do. The situation has become so marked that our great insurance companies are becoming seriously alarmed. Investigation has shown that fully 90 per cent. of the well-to-do members of our population have either undergone an operation or are suffering from some kind of disease, and the number of sudden deaths of apparently healthy people is increasing alarmingly.

The blame for all this is placed unhesitatingly upon the thoughtless use of the automobile. To preserve his health man must exercise. The languid game of golf after sitting all day either in his office or automobile has proved but a poor substitute. Even less effective is the modern method of enjoying our sports by sitting on a grand stand and watching others play baseball, football, or horses run a race. Many try to replace exercise by fad foods and patent medicines, and thereby enrich many charlatans but benefit themselves very little. We are clamouring for larger hospitals and more operating rooms; we would be wiser to clamour for more parks and recreational areas where we may pleasantly indulge in natural exercise.

It has become the fashion among the motoring public to drive through our parks and along our highways as fast as the law allows, and to agitate for extended roads hither and yon, so that they may drive further from the beaten path. The motoring public of tomorrow will undoubtedly have different ideals; they will appreciate motor roads located through attractive districts with numerous parking places from which they may explore on foot the beauties not to be seen from the road. They will be anxious to learn what is behind the hill. Now, the average motorist has but little to tell of his trip except his daily mileage record; then, the subject of his motor trips will be treated by his friends with the discretion now used towards a postage stamp collector. When once started on a description of the trip, photos, mineral specimens, and curios of many kinds will be produced, and the story of the trip will be a long one full of plans for the exploration of other districts in the future.

There is no more delightful nor healthful way to spend a week-end than on a new trail. Popular books, plays and amusements are usually "different." National parks provide something different every few minutes; the scenery, both in relation to light and shade and relative position, is always changing; there is always the lure of the unexpected just around the corner. Many and varied are the objects to interest the observant which will never be noticed by the long-distance hiker who, like the present day motorist, takes his pleasure from his mileage records. Some of the world's richest mines have been passed unnoticed by hundreds before the man with the seeing eye came along to see, investigate, and become the envy of his less observant fellows.

An elderly clergyman was found wandering alone in the mountains. He said that during a serious illness he realized that in his lifelong study of the word to come he had seen very little of the world in which he lived. His enjoyment of his surroundings was almost pathetic; he realized too late how much of the beautiful in this life he had missed.

Various foreign governments carefully foster physical culture either in the form of citizens' military training camps, great athletic meets, or Olympic games, in which thousands of athletes annually take part.

Walking has become very popular in many European countries. In Germany they were quick to grasp the significance of this, and shelters have been established at suitable points of interest throughout that country which were patronised by over twenty million hikers last year. Not only university students to whom a hike was a college week worth weeks of college, but hosts of wage earners from the large cities made up their own parties of from half a dozen to a hundred or more, and had a most enjoyable holiday at slight expense.

Obviously the scheme is of national benefit. National health is improved and patriotism fostered by broadening the vision and familiarizing the people with their own country.

The most robust employee usually commands the best wages, but during slack times the weak ones are often discharged, to possibly become a charge on he community. National prosperity is based on national health. Strong robust manhood and womanhood is the foundation on which a strong nation must rest. Canada has much beautiful scenery, and it is not restricted to any one section of the Dominion. Why not familiarize ourselves with our own country by walking through it? Why not set aside, each year, a hiking week, preferably in the late summer or early fall months, and go on a hike of thanksgiving for our present health and gather a harvest of health for the future?

Makes a Difference

Simkins, who was house-hunting, and had just arrived at a station, said to a boy standing near, "My boy, I am looking for Mr. Johnson's new block of semi-detached houses. How far are they from here?" "About twenty minutes' walk" said the boy. "Twenty minutes!" exclaimed Simkins. "Nonsense! The advertisement said five." "Well," replied the boy, "you can believe me or the advertisement, whichever you like. But I ain't tryin' to sell a house!"

Tribute To General Booth

Aged Commander Died Penniless Although He Controlled Millions

Appreciation of General Bramwell Booth was high during his lifetime—he was the main builder of a world-wide organization dedicated to the service of humanity; it was perhaps even higher at his death, when came opportunity to review his works; it will be higher than ever as the result of an examination of his "estate."

The fact of the matter is there is no estate. It is revealed that the aged General died absolutely penniless. He owned not one cent, and he left no property other than his uniform and a few books. He controlled millions in money and property but never drew a cent from the Army. He subsisted on a trust fund of $2,500 a year, did not own the house in which he lived, and looked to relatives to pay his children's fees at educational institutions.

There are various elements which enter into true greatness. One is capacity; others are service to one's fellows, unselfishness, sacrifice. General Booth had all these. To die penniless is sometimes accounted an object for pity or scorn. In the case of Bramwell Booth it is yet another tribute to the man and his works.—Regina Daily Post.

WEAK, WATERY BLOOD

Is the Cause Of Much Distress and General Weakness

Anaemia — which really means weak, watery blood is responsible for the pale faces, thin cheeks, dull eyes and drooping figures one sees so frequently. It is the chief cause of headaches, weak backs, aching limbs and uncertain health. Every weak, anaemic person should win the right to be well by refreshing thin, weary bodies with the new, rich, red blood so promptly supplied by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. This new blood reaches every organ and nerve in the body and quickly banishes all those troubles that have their origin in watery blood. Among those who have found new health and strength through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is Mrs. Elizabeh Evans, Amherst, N.S., who says: "When I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I was so weak and rundown that I could scarcely go about the house, and found housework almost impossible. I was taking doctor's medicine, but with no apparent benefit. I had often read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and decided to try them. Soon I found they were helping me, and under their continued use I regained good health. The pills also completely relieved my son of St. Vitus Dance, so that I have every reason to praise them."

You can get the pills from your druggist, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville ,Ont.

Expensive Airplane

Probably the most expensive aeroplane ever constructed was recently built in England. It has a ceiling hand decorated, that cost $5,000. Accommodations are for eight passengers and include a lounge and bridge tables, electric kitchen and electric refrigerator. The total cost of the 'plane was $150,000.

LAXATIVE FOR BABY THAT "STAYS DOWN"

Baby's tiny system rebels against castor oil and strong purgatives; but here's a medicine that just suits him. And it does the work quickly and so gently that Baby doesn't feel it. Fletcher's Castoria is soothing cross, fretful babies and children to sleep and making the feverish, constipated, upset ones well and happy, in millions of homes today. Castoria is purely-vegetable, harmless and endorsed by the medical profession. Avoid imitations. The Chas. H. Fletcher signature marks genuine Castoria.

Made Fortune By Accident

Proprietor Of Roundabout Had Unusual Luck In Australia

Fortunes are not always the result of hard work and good judgment, but are sometimes made by accident, says Jack McLaren in writing upon the subject in the London Daily Chronicle. One such case occurred when a roundabout was landed at Thursday Island—a cosmopolitan pearling centre off the north coast of Australia—for transhipment to Japan. Finding there were a few days to wait, the proprieor descided to erect his apparatus and employ the interval by making it earn a little. Instead of a few days he stayed three years.

For the island was completely lacking in entertainments, and the colored population rushed the roundabout as they would have rushed nothing else, riding it twenty hours a day, men, women and children, often three to a horse. Fare-collectors had to be put on in relays.

So many were the repairs necessitated by the excessive working that before the end of the second year the whole affair had been twice completely rebuilt. Those three years gave the owner far more money than he had thought to earn in the whole of his life.

Honor Foundation Of Rhodes Scholarships

Great Gathering Of Scholars Celebrated Twenty-Fifth Anniversary

A great gathering of scholars from the British Empire, the United States and Germany, recently assembled in the new Rhodes house to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the famous Rhodes scholarships at Oxford University.

The Prince of Wales, former Premier Stanley Baldwin and many prominent persons were present at a dinner in honor of the occasion.

Mr. Baldwin, who is one of the Rhodes trustees, made the important announcement that for the first time since Germans were excluded from the scholarships during the Great War, German scholars would again be admitted as Rhodes scholars. He said the trustees, subject to the consent of the university authorities, would establish two German scholarships annually, tenable for two years only.

Telephone Operator Sounds Fire Siren When Bandit Invades Office

Although bound and gagged by a bandit who had invaded the office of the Unitah Telephone Company at Vernal, Utah, recently, Mrs. Hazel Hackler, the night operator, succeeded in frustrating the holdup. It was about 3.30 o'clock on a Sunday morning that the bandit appeared, and as the operator reached for the switchboard to call the night marshal, he grabbed her by the throat and choked her and then bound and gagged her. Turning to the desk nearby, he picked up the cash box, but the operator succeeded in reaching with her foot the switch which sounds the fire siren, with the result that the bandit became frightened and made his escape. — Telephone Press Service.

GRAIN GROWERS WITHDRAW FROM CO-OP. UNION

Winnipeg.—One of the largest produce marketing corporations in western Canada has indicated definitely that it would withdraw its affiliation from the Co-operative Union of Canada, at the congress of that body here, when Hon. T. A. Crerar, president of the United Grain Growers, Limited, Winnipeg, replied to charges levelled against the United Grain Growers by delegates from Saskatchewan, that the company "no longer retained its co-operative spirit among the farmers of the western provinces."

A resolution presented by H. W. Ketcheson, Davidson, Sask., chairman of the Resolutions Committee, asking the resignation of the United Grain Growers, Limited, received the support of several delegates before Hon. Mr. Crerar announced the intention of serving notice of his company's withdrawal from the Co-Operative Union.

In speaking of the statement that the United Grain Growers had forsaken the co-operative method of doing business, Mr. Crerar strongly denied that the company had ever swerved from its original plan to work for the benefit of the western farmer.

"Our business details have not changed in any detail since 1906 when we started business," Mr. Crerar stated. "The company has always felt a strong co-operative spirit, still does and always will."

The annual congress was denied the privilege of voting on the resolution to ask for the resignation of the United Grain Growers when Mr. Crerar made his declaration that the firm would withdraw. J. G. Mohl, Edenwold, Sask., while admitting that the Grain Growers had done a great pioneer work in the co-operative methods throughout Western Canada, was of the opinion that no longer could they term themselves a co-operative concern.

In some districts of Saskatchewan, he said, the United Grain Growers is in direct opposition to local co-operative societies.

The only point on which the congress was concerned, said Mr. Ketcheson, in suppoting his resolution, was whether the United Grain Growers could be rated a co-operative organization at present. He thought not.

"The people of the west who trade with the U.G.G. are not collecting profits, which, by their trade, they make for the company," he declared. "Huge money reserves have been built up but this mass of money is for the shareholders—and the shareholders only, not the farmers," he added.

Victoria.—The American salmon trolling boat number 557-G.A. was condemened, and declared forefeited to His Majesty by Hon. Mr. Justice Archer Martin, in the Admiralty Court here. The vessel will be put up for sale by Herbert Goggin, Admiraly Court Marshal.

The number 557-G.A. was seized May 18, off Pachena Point on the west coast of Vancouver Island by the Canadian Government Fisheries Protection cruiser, Givenchy, and was charged with illegal fishing in British Columbian waters.

H. A. MacLean, K.C., counsel for the owners of the tug 557-G.A., who withdrew from the court proceedings against the boat made a re-appearance in Admiraly Court and entered a consent on behalf of the owners of the vessel to an order for its condemnation.

In the action of the Crown versus the Jeannette, Captain Olaf Hansen, master of the American vessel which was seized by the Canadian Government Fisheries Protection cruiser, Malaspina, on May 6, last, in Goose Harbor, about 100 miles north of Alert Bay, told the court that engine trouble experienced, May 4, had caused him to seek anchorage in Goose Harbor the following day to make temporary repairs to the ship's enginess.

Broadening Conditions Under Which Visitors To Canada May Bring In Motor Cars

Ottawa.—A memorandum is going forward to the collectors of the national revenue broadening the conditions under which visitors to Canada may bring in their motor cars. The memorandum has been issued by Robert Breadner, commissioner of customs.

In the past a tourist from the United States could bring his car under a tourists permit and go where he wished. However, if visitors desired to combine business with pleasure in this country they were prevented from using their cars.

The new memorandum will give these persons the same privileges as tourists with respect to the free use of their cars while in this country. It is especially provided, however, that the cars cannot be employed in such commercial uses as carrying passengers, or in any other commercial pursuits in competition with Canadians.

Would Abolish Bank Guard

Labor Member Brings Up Question In British House

London, Eng.—A suggestion has been made in the House of Commons. For the past 150 years one of the sights of London has been the nightly march along the Thames Embankment of what is known as the "bank guard," one officer and about 50 men from one of the Guards regiments, which goes to the Bank of England and says all night as a guard to the bank.

When Oliver Baldwin, Laborite, son of the former premier, asked how much the bank paid for this service, Tom Shaw, secretary for war, replied that the bank paid nothing, as under the statute it acts as banker for the government and has custody of the gold reserves. In the discussion which followed, Ernest Thurtle, Laborite, suggested the guard be abolished.

There the matter rests, Secretary Shaw having promised to take the matter under advisement.

HIGH GRADE WHEAT IS STILL BOAST OF CANADA

Fort William, Ont.—Wheat was and still is the boast of Canada and never was there a time when it had been chased off the high seas, declared Dean Rutherford, member of the Saskatchewan Royal Grain Commission, at a session of the commission. Dean Rutherford was replying to an editorial which appeared in a local newspaper and which criticized the quality of Canadian wheat.

Canadian wheat has a quality of its own, he declared.

"Even our number five wheat was quoted at equal and a little better than other export wheat from other countries," he speaker stated.

While Britain will buy American wheat when it is cheaper, Britain always wants Canadian wheat, Dean Rutherford continued. A report issued recently by the United States government quoted the price of the best exportable Argentine wheat at 16 cents less than Canadian No. 3 Northern, and the best United States export wheat at 14 cents under the same grade.

The commissioner said that lack of rain in the fall of 1926 and 1927 had damaged the crop. The same condition prevailed this year. The farmer cannot be blamed for this, he stated.

"Our wheat holds its place in the markets of the world with any wheat in any country of the world," Dean Rutherford concluded.

A representative of the local newspaper whose editorial was under discussion, declared that it could not be denied that Manitoba No. 1 hard wheat on which the reputation of western Canadian wheat was based had vanished from the market.. In no place in the west was No. 1 hard raised today, he declared. He drew attention to the report of the seed branch on the seed sown by the western farmers.

This report showed that in a large number of casea seed taken from the hopper of the drills showed that the farmer was actually sowing fifty thousand weed seeds per acre. The condition of western fields in some sections were such that it was impossible to say whether a stooked field contained stooks of grain or of weeds. He claimed that these conditions were under the control of the farmer.

For these reasons, he believed there was justification for most of the statements in the editorial in question. It was possible that No. 3 wheat was all that was claimed but the farmer no longer has even No. 3 to sell.

The commission brought its session at the head of the lakes to a close with today's meeting. The commissioners departed by lake steamer to continue their investigations at the lower lake ports and the Atlantic seaboard ports.

Poor Teaching is Costly

At Grand Forks the school trustees have found it necessary to insist on having the resignations of some of the teachers, and seeing that some of these instruetors of the young idea are home town product the incident has become so prominent in the community life that the Gazette has come to the rescue of the trustees with a front page editorial, an interesting angle to which is the figures Editor Love submits setting forth the cost to parents and pupils when a scholar is compelled to spend an extra year in any one grade.

The Gazette illustrates this with an actual Grand Forks class of 25, and reckons that $1875 was required to pay the teacher and operating expenses for that class. To the parents who paid for the upkeep of those chilren for that extra year the cost is set down at $13,500, while the delay of twelve months to the scholars in getting out to shift for themselves is reckoned at $1000 loss per pupil; a total wastage of $40,000.

The figures are submitted for what they may be worth, but even to the most casual it must be patent that inefficient teachers cost considerably more than the mere salary expenditure.

Publicity Might Help

While the Gazette editor reviews the Grand Forks situation with considerable skill, it is unfortunate that he has no remedy to put forward to prevent a recurrence of much the same state of affairs.

While certainly not a cureall, the Review believes trustees could avoid a whole lot of trouble of this nature if they could muster sufficient backbone to publi h the semi-annual inspector's reports on all the teachers.

Inspectors are employed not only for the purpose of making a checkup of ability, but also to point out to less capable teachers ways and means of improving their services, and if after reasonable time has been given to exhibit betterment the teacher fails to respond, and an unfavorable report has to be turned in, surely it woule not be unfair to all concerned to have the public so informed.

By adopting some such principle the adjusting of salary increases would be simplified. If when teachers are engaged these facts are embodied in the contract or explained to them before commencing their first term, both teachers and trustees will be spared much greif, and interested ratepayers be the better able to size up a situation that the altogether too meagre reports emanating from school boards help but very little to clarify.

This Must Stop

And right now while we are sort of specialiling on effort for the good and welfare af the juvenile and adult population alike, it will be opportune to direct attention to complaint that we have just had from a mother in the village complaining bitterly of the vandalism of some one or more of the younger generation who have been guilty of seriously disfiguring one of the headstones in Creston cemetery.

Stealing flowers from graves is bad enough, but when it comes to young people using, apparently, a hammer or some like instrument to destroy the ornamentation on a monument erectee to the memory of a widow's son, such wilful desecration of almost sacred property should give us all pause.

It were well, perhaps, to be kind and charge such a deplorable act to the thoughtlessness of young minds. But even the very young can be taught to respect other people's property, and more especially the sanctity of God's Acre. And the time to instil such a lesson is now.

Get the Money

Having had opportunity by ballot to say whether irrigation was wanted, and having declared in the affirmative by a vote of 53 to 5, there is no room for argument as to the desirability of irrigation in the Erickson and East Creston sections, and it is to be hoped the trustees will lose no time in having the $150,090 loan transferred for deposit in one of ths local banks.

It is also to be hoped that the trustees who have been elected by the Lister Waterworks District will speed up matters and have their prospective loan deposited to their credit at Creston at the earliest possible moment.

Under the Liberal government relief for existing irrigation districts up to 25 per cent. was assured, but the new administration at Victoria has secured authority to give whatever relief is deemed necessary.

Recently this irrigation relief question has been discussed with the cabinet aud the solid Tory representation from the Okanagau and Grand Forks has made it quite clear that a sum very close to $3,000,000.00 will have to be written off if the irrigated land owners in those districts are to be pacified.

If such generous consideration is to be shown the orchardists in the districts aforementioned irrigation projects in these parts should get their money while the getting is good—and if need be, not a bit bashful in demanding equally generous consideration when the time for re-payment comes around.

If all the people in this province have got to help pay for irrigation the local contribution of some part of $210,000 just about represents our pro rata share of previous and prospective considerations shown irrigationist elsewhere in British Colmbia.

South Africa's Problem

White Man Incapable Of Skilled Work Is Classed As Kaffir

By the Colour Bar Act, it is an offence for a native to undertake skilled work. Unskilled jobs are, therefore, regarded as "Kaffirs' work," and no white man would dream of undertaking them. The result is that, if the European is incapable of skilled work, he cannot enter the ranks and becomes a "poor white," a social parasite, a loafer hanging on to the skirts of white society, a decadent slowly sinking lower into the morass of degradation, a feckless, hopeless figure. One white man in every twelve in South Africa is in this category today! It is the greatest social problem with which the country has to deal. This is the price they are paying for the introduction of slavery two centuries ago, and for the maintenance ever since of the slave-owners' attitude towards manual toil. So long as manual labour is regarded as degrading and as "Kaffirs' work" with which no white man must soil his hands, just so long will industrial prosperity delay its coming.

RED HOT JULY DAYS HARD ON THE BABY

July—the month of oppressive heat; red-hot days and sweltering nights; is extremely hard on little ones. Diarrhoea, dysentery, colic and cholera infantum carry off thousands of precious little lives every summer. The mother must be constantly on her guard to prevent these troubles, or, if they come on suddenly, to fight them. No other medicine is of such aid to mothers during the hot summer as is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels and stomach, and an occasional dose given to the well child will prevent summer complaint, or if the trouble does come on suddenly, will banish it. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Rubber From Weeds

Edison Experimented With Many Varieties Before He Was Successful

Mr. Thomas A. Edison has discovered a substitute for rubber. He long ago found that there could be no substitute for the rubber tree as the source of rubber, but he has discoved a weed—after experimenting with 15,000 varieties—which will produce a latex fluid from which a workable substitute for rubber can be extracted. The weed can be mowed like wheat, it was asserted by Mr. Edison's representative, and does not require planting anew every year, being a perennial. Mr. Edison has of late been engaged in experiments with the object of making a machine which will separate the rubber substitute from other components of the fluid, but he has so far not been successful in this direction.

Appreciation Of Spain

Officers Of British Aircraft Carrier "Eagle" Decorated By Spanish Premier

Premier De Rivera, of Spain, summoned the officers of British aircraft carrier "Eagle," to be decorated with the Spanish Cross of Merit for saving Commander Ramon Franco and his three companions from the mid-Atlantic. The ceremony took place at Madrid.

It was Spain's crowning gesture of appreciation for the great service the Britishers had done to the Spanish government in rescuing the fliers. As soon as the full list of the members of the crew of the "Eagle" is received from the British admiralty the sailors and marines of the rescuing ship also will be awarded medals.

The "Eagle" itself will be decorated with the aerial medal. This ceremony will take place either at Algeciras or Gibraltar, as soon as the British admiralty finds it convenient to send the ship there for that purpose.

The Family Physician.—The good doctor is always worth his fee. But it is not always possible to get a doctor just when you want him. In such cases, common sense suggests the use of reliable home remedies, such as Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, which is wonderfully effective in easing inflammatory pains and healing cuts, scratches, bruises and sprains. The presence of this remedy in the family medicine chest saves many a fee.

EZEKIEL'S VISION OF HOPE

Golden Text: "Of the increase of his government and of peace there shall be no end."—Isaiah 9.7.

Lesson: Ezekiel 47.1-12.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 100.

Explanations and Comments

The Source Of the River, verses 1, 2.—The prophet Ezekiel is describing his great vision. He has finished his view of the temple, its courts and its worship as they are to be in the new Jerusalem, and now his supernatural guide brings him once again to the door of the temple. There he beholds a miracle. From underneath the threshold waters issue.

The river starts from the sanctuary: from every church today influencs should stream that quicken and bless the life of all around. The river sought the most direct course to the desert and the Dead Sea; the Church should carry the water of life to the waste places, the dreary, barren, thirsty places of the world. Is the life of our church limited to its own outer and inner courts?

The Deepening Of The Stream, verses 3-5.—He follows the river with his guide, who measures with a line the distance they travel. A quarter of a mile (one thousand cubits) away from the temple, Ezekiel finds the water up to his ankles. (A cubit varied in length from eighteen to twenty-one inches.) The waters rapidly deepen as they continue their way, and when a half mile is measured the waters reach his knees; three-quarters of a mile, and it is up to his waist; and at the end of a mile the waters have become a river too deep for them to ford, deep enough to swim in.

"Ezekiel's pictures may seem to us, in part, mechanical and fantastic, if not grotesque; but it is not difficult for a sympathetic imagination to appreciate the thing Ezekiel would be at, or to share his hopeful and eager wonder at the possibilities of the future time when the Church has secured her true place in the land and in the hearts of the people.

COMES WITH A MESSAGE OF HEALTH

THE sun is the all-powerful life producer, Nature's universal disinfectant and germ destroyer, as well as stimulant and tonic. WINDOLITE is the sun's most important ally.

Medical research has definitely proved that from the point of view of Health and Hygiene, the most effective among the sun's rays are the Ultra-Violet rays, which possess the greatest power for the prevention and cure of disease and debility.

Science has further established that ordinary window glass does not allow the passage of Ultra-Violet rays, so that by using glass we are artificially excluding these vital health-giving rays. Therefore, the invention of WINDOLITE has completely satisfied the long-felt want. Exhaustive experiments have conclusively proved that it is a most effective substitute for glass, that it freely admits the Ultra-Violet rays, and that its use has a most beneficial effect on the growth and development of plants and chickens and on the well-being of cattle, enabled for the first time to have healthy light instead of darkness in their sheds.

Indeed, the discovery of WINDOLITE has during the last six years completely revolutionized gardening, given a new stimulus to poultry breeding, increasing the egg-laying capacity and fertility of chickens, has greatly improved the health of cattle and is now being used in domestic and household requirements.

The Singing Fool

SYNOPSIS

Marcus, the famous Broadway producer, heads a party of four that visits Blackie Joe's night club in downtown New York. Al Stone, Blackie's chief comedian and singing waiter, takes the order for beer. Grace, the cigarette girl, is in love with Al, but he doesn't know it. As he returns with the beer he encounters Molly, the ballad singer, whom he loves ardently. He begs her to sing a song he has just written. Molly is disdainful toward him. Blackie Joe tells Molly that the great Marcus is outside and she makes him promise to introduce her. When Al rushes back to her dressing room she refuses even to read his song. He sees it on the floor under her feet!

CHAPTER IV.

Al could scarcely believe his eyes—his song, the heart-throb ballad he had poured forth from the depths of his soul, lying on the floor unnoticed, under Molly's sharp and careless heel!

He raised his gaze as he felt Molly about to sweep by him. Scarcely knowing what he was doing, he seized the angry girl in his arms, pulling her close to him, staring beseechingly into her eyes. She tried to pull away, but his grip of steel held her.

"Molly!" he pleaded. "Didn't you even read it?"

Again Molly tried to escape, succeeding this time. If she had been angry before she was blazing now.

"How dare you try to stop me? I told you I had important business out in front tonight! You bothersome idiot—you've almost ruined my make-up!"

She returned to her dressing table and began dusting her arms and shoulders with powder. On the lapels and sleeves of Al's coat were the heavy white marks of the powder. But he did not notice them, nor did he hear her words. Slowly he stooped over, like a man in a dream, picking up his song. He saw the sharp print of Molly's steel-rimmed heel across the music. It had almost cut through the paper, and he stared at it for a long moment. It was as if that little heel had cut into his heart.

Again she headed for the door, reaching the corridor. Then she realized that Al was following her and she turned about, determined to settle him once and for all. Her blue eyes were glittering and her voice had a rasping, harsh quality.

"Al Stone, get this through your head. I won't have anything to do with you. I'm not going to marry you or any other waiter!

With vitriolic sarcasm she emphasized the word "waiter." Then with a flirt of her skirts she disappeared down the corridor. A moment later she was in the main room and had forgotten Al entirely, for she saw the figure of Marcus, czar of the Broadway revues, with his party at the ringside table across the dance floor.

At once her manner and expression changed. The calculating gleam in her eyes was masked by a soft, bright, friendly look; her body, which had been rigid with anger a moment before, relaxed so that she moved toward the Marcus table with an easy, sensuous walk. She was a very pretty girl at that moment. No one would have believed her features had been distorted by rage just a moment before; no one would have thought that she could treat a man as cruelly as she had just treated Al. But Molly was burning with ambition and she saw in Al only a love-lorn man who would be a hindrance to her in her climb toward fame. So she treated him ruthlessly, not because she disliked him, but because he got in her way. Her feeling toward him was neither love nor hate, it was just indifference. If he had been rich, powerful or socially distinguished, Molly would have played up to him like a soft and affectionate kitten. But—he wasn't.

Meanwhile, there sat Marcus, fifty feet away, chatting amiably with his companions and occasionally sending a bored glance toward the cabaret show that was in progress on the rectangular floor a few feet from his table. Molly studied his face and began to plan her course of action.

"What shall I do to make him like me," she whispered softly to herself, "baby stuff or a more sophisticated line? He looks so sophisticated himself, so maybe the baby stuff will go better. Remember, Molly darlin', that man can make you famous on Braodway if he likes you. But where—"

She cut short her unspoken soliloquy to look about for Blackie Joe, who had promised to introduce her to Marcus. Finally, she located him talking to some customers. She moved over to his side.

"Blackie."

He looked up.

"You know—" she said significantly. "I'd like to meet him before I do my songs. Then he'll be more interested in watching my stuff."

"Wise little girl," said Blackie, patting her on the arm. "Yes, I know. I'll give you a knockdown right now."

He took her by the hand and led her toward the Marcus table. She saw Marcus's eyes rise to meet hers, then Marcus himself was standing in response to Blackie's genial introduction. As if from a distance she heard Blackie's voice:

"Mr. Marcus, this is one of my most talented performers. Molly, may I present the most celebrated producer and picker of pretty girls on Broadway?"

Marcus smiled and courteously made way for Molly to sit down beside him. He knew that was what the girl wanted and he was willing to be polite about it for Blackie's sake. But to say that he was interested in Molly would be rank exaggeration. He had too many superbly beautiful girls in his revues to be impressed by one who was merely pretty.

Nevertheless, he addressed a few well-bred remarks to Blackie's singer and Molly, priding herself on her conversational gifts, came back in the most animated manner. But in a moment Marcus turned from her as the young actress on the other side of him engaged his attenion.

Molly studied this girl closely, her gleaminng jewels, her lovely little baby-doll face.

"There is a girl," thought Molly, "that Marcus is making famous. I'll say she looks like money, yet she's no prettier than I am. This man can put me on the map, too."

But at the moment it certainly appeared as if Marcus hadn't the slightest intention of helping Molly. In fact it seemed as if he had forgotten her presence entirely.

Meanwhile, the singing waiter, whose love she had flouted, paced the corridor leading to Molly's dressing room. For a moment he stopped and stared at the crumpled song-sheet he held in his hand, his face the picture of dejection. Outside were the syncopated rhythms from the jazz band and the staccato beats of a pair of tap dancers in action, but the only sound that echoed in Al's ears came from Molly's parting words. They seemed to reverberate through his whole body, like the dirge to his hopes and love. At last he realized completely that his chance of winning Molly was an utterly lost cause.

Dull despair crept over him and the sheet of music slipped from his unresisting hands. Mechanically, and without knowing what he was doing, he stooped and picked it up. Then the title of the song across the top caught his eye—"Always."

"Always"—what a fool he was to write a song like that, fondly believing it would touch her heart and that she would share his enthusiasm for it! Swiftly he crumpled the song-sheet in his fist, as if to wipe the memory of its creation.

In the distance, from a corner of the main room, Grace, the cigarette girl, was watching him sympathetically and intently. She had seen him talking to Molly. Vaguely she sensed the cause of his despair.

But Grace, loving him generously, thought not of herself nor of Molly, but only of some way to help Al in this time of trouble. Al, the gay, wise-cracking, singing waiter, had lost his pep and energy; Al, of the kindly, handsome mouth, of the deep, warm, glowing brown eyes; Al, who had been her best friend at Blackie Joe's—was suffeering. She knew he didn't love her and considered her only a sweet child, but that didn't matter.

Giving a quick glance around, Grace stepped into the corridor and approached him on tiptoe. Al felt a light touch on his sleeve and heard a soft, sympathetic voice at his shoulder. He gave a start, thinking, in a mad burst of hope that it might be Molly. Then he looked down into Grace's eyes.

"What's the matter, Al?"

From man return of any kindness done.
Do naught but good; for such the noble strife
If virtue is, 'Gainst wrong to venture love,

Official Altitude Record Of 20,000 Feet Made By Special Pilot

Captain J. D. Parkinson, special pilot of the Curtiss-Reid Flying Services, Ltd., Montreal, established an official Canadian altitude record of 20,000 feet in a cabin monoplane. He carried a sealed barograph.

The previous Canadian record was 18,000 feet, established by Captain Leigh Caperol in a Moth plane.

Captain Parkinson's flight occupied one hour and 28 minutes, of which one hour and two minutes was occupied in the climb upwards.

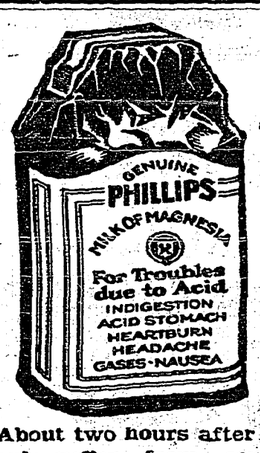
The Value Of Power

Lower the Price and It Becomes More Valuable

Paradoxical as it may seem the measure of the value of power is its cheapness. Low priced power diminishes the cost of production of manufactured goods both for home consumptino and export and in some industries, such as pulp and paper, electro-chemical, mining, smelting, etc., it is the controlling factor in location. A conspicuous example is the erection of the world's largest aluminium works at the great water powers of the Saguenay river in Quebec.



When Food Sours

About two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been overstimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient, and harmless. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

It is the quick method. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore.

Don't Let Foods Stale

Foods that ordinarily stale quickly will stay fresh and tempting a surprisingly long time if you cover them with Para-Sani Heavy Waxed Paper.

Your grocer, druggist or stationer has Para-Sani in the handy, sanitary knife-edged carton. For those who prefer a lighter paper put up in sheet form ask for Appleford's "Centre Pull" Packs.
