Valley Notes

Mr. John McKenzie is on the sick list and is unable to attend to business.

Miss McPhee and Miss McKenzie started out for a mornings walk and before they knew where they were they found themselves in Cumberland.

The bees seem to think the cold weather is hanging on too long for them so they are swarming in April pretty early.

Urquhart Brothers are putting in their new boiler and expect to do a large business this summer.

Mr. Neal Pollock is filling the position of Mr. Wallace McPhee who is away on his holidays.

Automobiles are becoming very common on our valley roads.

A party of men passed through the valley last week taking views of different places and they claim they are going to write a book on the valley's possibilites and charge us for the privilege of reading about our own district. I think we should charge them for coming here to see our beautiful valley.

Mr. Bristow has become head loader at the Little Riyer logging camp.

The beautiful weather we are enjoying is tempting the folks to think seriously of the picnic season. We noticed whilst at Courtenay several pleasure seekers. Two ladies actually walked out from Cumberland to this district and enjoyed the walk immensely, Though somewhat fatigued. Mr. S. Piercy, with whose family they took afternoon tea, gave them a lift home, which they appreciated very much. Several of our angling friends were out this way. 'Liga said he had a big catch.

Mrs. J. McLennon of Field is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Alex Urquhart.

Mrs. McLennon of Vancouver is stopping a few days with Mrs. Walter McPhee.

Richard Plows is erecting a dwelling house on Wall Street extension.

WANTED—A girl to do general house work: apply to Mrs. R. Grant, Cumberland, B. C.

ODDFELLOWS' CONCERT

The Oddfellows celebrated their 89th Anniversary by giving a concert and dance in the Cumberland Hall, on Monday evening The attendance was good and nearly all those who took part in the programme responded to an encore One special feature of the evening were the phonograph selections of Harry Lauder, the Scotch comedian, which were supplied by Wm Potter for the evening; the concert was quite a sussess and also the dance, and we regret to say that owing to not having sufficient space in this issue we are unable to give a lengthy account of the entertainment.

Vancouver April 27th,—Robertson & Hackett's sash and door factory was destroyed by fire tonight loss $70,000 Insurance 30,000

The Oddfellows Lodge turned out in a body and attended Divine Worship at Holy Trinity Church, on last Sunday Evening. They were escorted by the City Band.

The Cumberland Livery Stable have reduced their prices for buggies and coal hauling.

Obituary.

Died at Union, April 23rd Carresa, infant daughter of G. Pironi She was buried on Saturday morning from the Roman Catholic Church, Rev. H. Mertens officiated with High Mass. A large attendance of friends were present. The clergyman delivered a beautiful address at the grave. Mr. and Mrs. Pironi have the sympathy of the community and they wish to thank the friends who so kindly sent flowers and sympathized with them in their bereavement.

DIED

Dr. Dixon, retired Surgeon of the British Army, died yesterday at his home on Denman Island. Deceased left a wife and family to mourn his loss. Dr. Dixon was popular amongst Victoria sportsmen. He was 74 years of age

LACK OF INTEREST.

Mayor Willard has twice called a public meeting of the citizens to consider the having or not having a 24th of May celebration and has failed each time The attendance being very meager, not more than half a dozen attending each meeting. Please don't howl if we are without one, as it is only by the combined efforts of the citezens that a celebration can be made a success.

POLICE COURT

Rex vs. Dallos—After the hearing of both sides in the case the same was sojourned to 28 inst. when judgement will be delivered Mr. P. P. Harrison appearing for the prosecution. Mr. E. M. Yarwood for the defence.

Atlanta, Ga, April 27—

A tornado swept over this section of country today and caused many deaths. First report indicated four fifths of victims were negroes but later reports show increasing number of whites. It now seems total deaths of whites will number 75. Number of injured may reach 900.

The tornado lasted 12 hours after striking town before day-light Friday until mid afternoon.

A CHALLENGE.

A nine composed entirely of R. Grant & Co's employees are anxious to meet either the Clerks Professionals or Merchants in a friendly game of base ball.

F. Ramsay manager and secretary.

AN ARCHITECTS GOOD STORY.

Mr. Ernest Runtz, the well known architect, who designed the Gaiety Restaurant and many other prominent London buildings, told an interesting story during his lecture on ancient and modern hostelries at the Auctioneers' Institute the other night. It was about a builder showing a prospective buyer over a semi-detached villa. There was some talk about the dining room walls, so the builder sent his foreman into the next villa, and the following conversation took place: Builder: 'Are you there, Bill?' Foreman: 'Yuss, guv'nor.' Builder: 'Can you hear me?' Foreman: 'Yuss, guv'nor.' Builder: 'Can you see me?' Foreman: 'No' guv'nor.' Builder (to client): 'There's walls for you!'.—Westminster Gazette.

SIGN OF A GOOD SHOE STORE.

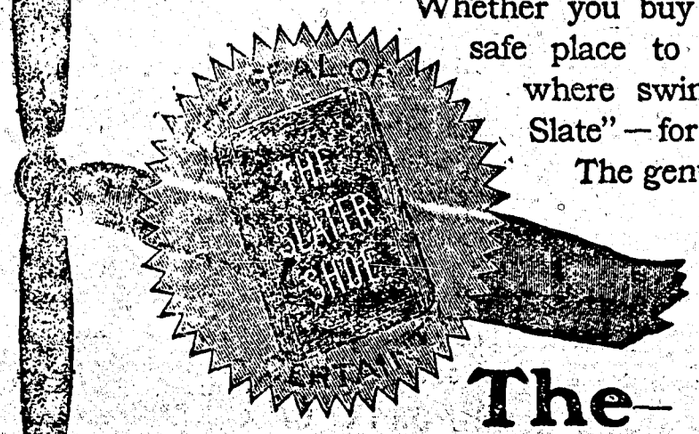
THE "Sign of the Slate," hung in front of any Shoe Store is sure testimony to four significant facts.

1st—that store is the most reliable in that town or it couldn't get the agency for "The Slater Shoe."

2nd—that it pays its bills promptly, in cash every thirty days, or it couldn't hold "The Slater Shoe" Agency.

3d—that it is satisfied with a reasonable profit on goods or it wouldn't be selling "The Slater Shoe," which is price-controlled by the Makers.

4th—that it sincerely intends to give the best value possible, and to deal "squarely" with its customers every time, or it wouldn't have signed such a contract as must be signed to control "The Slater Shoe."



Whether you buy Slater Shoes or not, a safe place to trade is at the store where swings "The Sign of the Slate"—for the four reasons given. The genuine Stater Shoe has the slate frame brand stamped, with the Makers' price ($4.00 or $5.00) on the lining.

The old darky was suing the railroad company for damages. The man contended that, not being warned by the whistle or engine bell, he had started to drive his rig across the company's track, when a shunted box car of said company crashed into his outfit, causing the death of his horse, loss of wagon, and minor injuries to himself. After the prosecution had closed its side of the case, the company's lawyer called the old darky to the stand and went to him.

'Mr. Lawson,' he began, 'your rig was struck by the box car in full day light, was it not?'

'I fink dar was some clouds overhead, suh answered the cavilling witness.

'Never mind the clouds. And only a few days before this accident the railroad company had put a new sign at the crossing?' 'Dar was a sign dar, ya'as, suh.'

'And didn't that sign say, "Stop! Look! Listen!"?'

'Now, dar am de whol' accusation ob de trouble,' declared the darky, with amination, 'If dat stop sign hadn't caught dis chile's eye jes' 's Ah was squar' on dat track, dar wouldn't 'a' been no smash up!'

The minister was addressing the Sunday School Children, I want to talk to you for a few moments about one of the most wonderful, one of the most important organs in the World,' he said. What is it that throds away never stopping, never ceasing, whether you wake or sleep, night or day, week in and week out, year in and year out within any volition on your part, hidden away in the depths, unseen by you, throbbing' throbbing, throbbing rhythmically all your life long.' During the pause for oratorical effort a small voice was heard: 'I know; it's the gas meter!'

TIMBER LIMIT SCANDALS.

We quote the following from the Ottawa Free Press of April 7, 1908:—

The alleged timber limit scandals is exploded. The conservatives set out, at the opening of the present session of Parliament to show that the Government's policy in connection with the disposal of the timber limits was was wrong and wasteful; and, further, that the Department of the Interior had corruptly manipulated the tenders so as to enable Mr. T. A. Burrows, M. P. and the Imperial Pulp Company to secure limits that ought to have gone to rival tenderers. The first contention was completely answered in the debates in the House of Commons; the second was proved to the unfounded by the invetigation before the Public Accounts Committee.

The policy of the present Government is merely a continuation of that of its predecessors; and the ontery that it had been practically giving away the public resources was answered by the statement that the Mackenzie Government, from 1873 to 1878, realized an average bonus of over $23 per square mile on a total of 310 square miles; the Conservatives, from 1879 to 1895, an average bonus of $4.3 per square mile on an area of 29,322 square miles; and the present administration an average bonus of $81 92 on an area of 6,456. These figures speak for themselves. If the alienation of timber lands under the present administration has been excessive, the argument is a boomerang that flies back upon the conservatives with five-fold force; and, if the amount of the bonus has been too small, how much too small was the $4.3 per square mile?

The policy of the Government, like that of its predecessors, was not primarily to get a revenue out of the sale of timber limits; but to get the timber resources of the country opened up; and that limits have enhanced in value is the consequense of that policy coupled with an active immigration campaign. It is the mistake of friendly, as well as hostile critics to consider the the value of limits to-day, after much capital has been spent on the industry and values have appreciated all around, rather than the actual value of the limits when they were acquired, say in 1902, 1903 and 1904. No doubt, sales in the future will have to be regarded more in the light of good business transactions; but it should not be forgotten that, in the past; the industry in the West undeveloped and has to be encouraged, much the same as immigration had to be.

Walter Thomson and party of Nanaimo visited Cumberland, in an automobile last week Thursday and returned Saturday morning. The above Auto made a very fast trip a short time ago from Nanaimo to Alberni in two hours and twenty minutes 55 miles.
