FOOTBALL NOTES

The replay for the Cumberland and District Cup took place on the Recreation Grounds, on Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 9th, in the presence of a large crowd of spectators. When the teams lined up it was seen that there was a charge in both teams from the teams that played two weeks ago Crawthorn displacing Walker in the Mixtures, and D. James for Latham in No. 5. The day proved an ideal one for football and the people took advantage of the fine weather. Referee Stewart started the game on time, the Mixtures kicking down hill, having won the toss. From the start it was seen that the game was going to be hard and fast, but some good chances were lost on both sides by over-excitement on the part of the players. The first half finished with honors about even, the teams crossing over without a goal being scored. The second half was full of excitement, first one goal and then another being visited; No. 5 scoring the first goal of the game. This reverse seemed to put sting into the Mixtures, and they were not long until they equalized the game. At the end of an hour and a half's play the scores stood two goals each. The teams commenced again to play half an hour extra time. Most of the players were by this time beginning to show signs of the wear and tear of the game. Excitement reached fever heat when the Mixtures scored the leading goal. But No. 5 replied gamely, and in the last five minutes of the game the scores were equal again. The game finished a draw, three goals each. The result was a fair verdict of the day's play. It would have been hard lines on either teams to have lost after putting up such a hard fight. For the Mixtures Walker in goal, played a splendid game and time and again saved his goal when he seemed beat. The sooner some of the players learn to obey the ruling of the referee the better it will be for themselves and the game.

His decision is final on the field of play, and they have no right to dispute it. The collection amounted to $21.00.

There is likely to be a cup put up for competition among the school children.

At a meeting of the Association after the game, The referee handed in his report and the Association agreed to uphold the referee in his decisions on the field of play.

The Raffle for the Runabout Motor Car will take place at the Cumberland Hotel on Wednesday evening Nov. 18th at 8, o'clock p. m.

In Stoddart the Jeweler's window, is a French Clock and pair of Candleabra, they are valued at $50.00; the price is reduced $1.00 each day until sold, from Nov. 5th Christmas Day, if not sold before, the price will have been reduced to $1.00 this is a new style of selling; if you wait long enough you might get Goods for nothing.

T. Chalmers, of Donnan Island, arrived by Wednesday's boat and returned Saturday.

W. Baikie of Donnan Island was a passenger by Wednesday's boat.

Union Bay, Nov. 5.—James Godfrey a logger at Donne's camp, Union Bay, was fatally wounded yesterday by accidental discharge of a rifle in the hands of a companion named Burroughs. The latter had been out hunting and upon his return to camp was engaged in pumping the cartridges out of his rifle.

Believing that the shells were all out, Burroughs raised the rifle and pulled the trigger, the ball striking Godfrey, who was sitting on the edge of his bunk, and penetrating his abdomen. He was taken to the hospital at Cumberland, where he died this evening.

An inquest was held by Coroner Abrams; the Jury bringing in a verdict of accidental death.

TUESDAY, Nov. 20, 1908

During the past week two enthusiastic and largely attended meetings have been held of men who took part in the South African War, and who are not entitled to participate in the land grant under the Volunteer Bounty Act of 1908.
 An Association has been formed to be called the "Imperial South African Veterans' Association." The object of the Association is to seek to have the above Act extended so that all men of the Anglo-Saxon race who took part in the South African war, and who are not already entitled to participate in the land grant, and who were residing in Canada at the time the said Act came into force, shall be included in its provisions. Lord Milner and Lord Northcliffe, who have been staying here, and the newly elected members of the Dominion Government for this city, have expressed their sympathy with the proposed amendment. Mr. Sheford Grimwood, 3-Metcalf-Street, Toronto, has been appointed President of the above Association, and is also acting as Organizing Secretary for the Dominion, and as soon as all the names of the men living in Canada are to hand, a deputation will wait on the Government at Ottawa.
 From Toronto Correspondent,
 S. Grimwood.

This is a pretty topey turvey old world. One man is struggling for justice, another man fleeing from it; one man saving his money to buy a home and another is trying to sell his for less than it cost him; one man is going in debt to get married, and another is spending a hundred thousand dollars to get a divorce; one man escapes all the diseases that flesh is heir to and gets killed on the railroad, while another goes on the cars every day of his life and dies of whooping cough. Such is life.—Ex.

Chapped Hands
 and Cold Sore

Zam-Buk Gives Speedy Relief.

Few women entirely escape the pain and annoyance of rough or chapped hands during the winter season, and most outdoor workers suffer more or less. If your hands are chapped, wash them at night in warm water; cleanse them thoroughly —using Zam-Buk soap if possible—and then anoint them well with Zam-Buk balm. By next morning you will be pleased with the result. Zam-Buk gives almost instant ease, and speedily closes the cracks.

Mrs. Walker of 14 Manufacturer Street Montreal, says: "My son Henry works with his shirt sleeves rolled up above his elbow, and passing from a warm room to the biting cold, as he was obliged to go he got the worst case of chapped hands and arms I have ever seen. From his fingers to his elbows was one mass of raw flesh, with bad cracks here and there.
 Whenever he washed, it brought tears to his eyes; the pain was so acute.

"He tried several kinds of salve, but nothing relieved him really until he tried Zam-Buk. This took away the burning and smarting almost at once. The cracks began to heal, and a few applications of the balm cured him. His hands and arms are now smooth and soft.

"We have also used Zam-Buk for other emergencies. I sustained a burn on one of my fingers, Zam-Buk took the fire out and healed up the sore.

It really is a wonderful household preparation.
 Everybody says so who has tried Zam-Buk. Purely herbal, it is nature's own remedy. Eczema, ulcers, and chronic sores it heals and closes. Same with cuts, burns, and lacerated wounds. For children's injuries it is without equal. Rubbed on the chest it ends the aching and tightness due to cold. All druggists and stores sell at 50c a box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

Hard Lines For Bachelors.
 "Korea's the wrong place for bachelors," said a traveler. "Bachelors in Korea are considered as children and have only children's privileges. You, a Korean bachelor, get thirsty. You enter a rest house and call for palm wine. The pretty little amber colored waitress says:
 "'Married?'"
 "'No,' says you."
 "'Hereaus then,' says she, and out you go, unslaked."
 "'You want to vote, but they won't let you if you are not married."
 "'You apply for a job somewhere."
 "'How many children have you?' is the first question you're asked. And as soon as you say you're unmarried they laugh in your face to think that you should presume to apply for work anywhere."

The Ita Palm.
 In the moonlit garden overlooking the sea no sound was to be heard save the petulant plaint of the mosquitoes, angry at being disturbed at their food.
 "Come," said the host, "let us go and sit under the Ita palm. They won't bother us there."
 In comfort under the Ita, he went out:
 "This tree is from the Orinoco delta, the home of the Warau tribe. The Orinoco delta is infested with mosquitoes to an incredible degree. The Waraus, to escape them, live in a palm whose odor the mosquito can't put up with.

"This is the palm—the Ita—which makes the naked Warau's mosquito proof bed. A handy thing it is among these salt marshes to have in a garden too."

A TALE OF PORTO RICO

Curious Story of the Haunted Sentry Box.

LIGHT ON THE OLD LEGEND.

One of the Many Mysterious Disappearances From Fort San Cristobal Accounted For by the Revelation of the Last One Himself.

Writing in the Journal of the Military Service Institution, Captain Arthur P. S. Hyde of the coast artillery tells this curious story of "the haunted sentry box" of Fort San Cristobal, the ancient Spanish built fortress which guards the entrance to San Juan, Porto Rico:

"A number of picturesque sentry boxes built of masonry and appearing like minarets are placed at points of vantage in and around the fort. One of these on the sea front, and reached only through a long and dark tunnel from the interior of the fort, is popularly known as La Garita del Diablo, or the devil's sentry box, usually, although incorrectly, translated the haunted sentry box. This name was given to it by the Spanish soldiers for the reason that a number of sentries stationed there disappeared in a most mysterious manner and were never again heard from.

"An American officer was once on duty that took him into the remote interior of the island, and while spending one night in a small settlement he engaged in conversation with a number of the inhabitants of the place. One old man, on learning that the officer was stationed at Fort San Cristobal, became especially interested and in the course of the conversation told the following story:

"I used to be a soldier in the Spanish army and was stationed at Fort San Cristobal. A number of soldiers while on sentry duty had mysteriously disappeared from the sentry box down by the sea, and we had all become convinced that it was haunted by the devil, who, we thought, used to come and steal the soldiers away.

"One stormy night it fell to my lot to go on duty in the devil's sentry box, as we called it, at midnight, and it was with some doubts and misgivings that I went with the corporal of the guard and relieved the former sentry. When they left me I listened to the sound of their footsteps reverberating from the walls and ceiling of the dark and narrow passage, ever growing fainter and fainter as they receded, until finally the noise of the storm and the sea completely drowned it, and I was left alone with the mad elements.

"It was a mad night and one well calculated to add to the feeling of awe that the devil's sentry box always instilled into the man on duty there at night.

"Presently my attention was attracted by some lights in a small tavern on the shore below the fort, where many of us were wont to go when off duty for a glass of rum. Then I began to think that I might be able to climb down over the rocks to the shore, get a glass of rum at the tavern and return to my post.

"The more I thought of it the more determined I was to go, so finally, leaving my rifle and belt in the sentry box, I climbed over the wall and down on to the rocks and so made my way with great labor and difficulty and no little danger to the little house, where the occupants were making merry with dancing and drinking. I soon fell to and enjoyed myself with them.

"When one is dancing with a fair woman he sometimes forgets the passage of time, as I did on that fatal night, and not until long after 1 o'clock did I begin to think of returning to my post. Then, realising that the corporal had made his inspection and had found me gone from my post and with my rifle and belt left behind, I saw only a court martial and the garrote staring me in the face, for in those days for a sentinel in the Spanish army to quit his post meant sure death, even in peace.

"To go back was out of the question. There was only one thing left for me to do, and that was to desert. My heart sank within me. If I should be captured, the same fate would be meted out to me; but, I reasoned, if I were to go back the fate would be certain, whereas, if I deserted at least I had a chance of keeping out of sight of the authorities. I deserted and before morning was out of the city and on the way to the mountains.

"I have lived in the little mountain town for years and have never been back to the capital since that day, nor have I ever told my story to a single soul, not all tonight, but now that the soldiers are gone I no longer care for my life.

"Thus we have the story of the devil's sentry box, one of the many mysterious disappearances from it, and it would seem to be probable that the other disappearances could be accounted for in a similar manner were the truth known. Quite, isn't it?"

Captain Hyde mentions an interesting fact that, although for centuries Porto Rico was considered the legitimate prey of buccanneries and was attacked at various times by regular organized expeditions of the English and the Dutch during times of war, with none of her numerous Forts or Bunkers having been captured by an enemy, and the only surrender was to the Americans in 1898. A further wonder of the island.

Greatly interested in the story, but it grows late, and I must close.

An Election Euchre

For a large card party try an Election Euchre instead of a regular Military Euchre. Instead of a card, each table will represent a political party, as Republican, Democratic, Labor, Woman's Suffrage, Prohibition, etc., and posters hung around the rooms will give the names of the candidates, and perhaps a campaign motto or saying.

Each table has a ballot box for the votes won, and also a supply of colored slips to give out as votes when it loses; four people are at the table, and play for the party represented by their table. As in Military Euchre, one of the one couple from each table goes to play each game at another table, and the remaining couple stays at their own table to play their own visitors. Arrange so that the same couples do not play against each other more than once.

Regular bid euchre is played, and the losing couple must give out their votes to the winners, and the better will place in the better bid on their own table. The length of time for each game is specified, but ought not to be more than ten or fifteen minutes. A regular bid euchre should be made for each table, which will tell the table to be visited each game, so that there will be no conflicts. Any one who has played at a Military Euchre can do this.

Quiet play cards can be made which will assign the guests to the party for which they will play during the evening. Simple prizes, consistent with the election idea, such as horns, drums, etc., will prove the funniest. Have these assignments carry out the idea of free lunches, such as cider, and waffles, cheese doughnuts, etc.

Score cards, posters, ballot boxes, etc., can all be easily made, and a great deal of fun will lie in their originality. — Mary A. Monahan, Vancouver Woman's Home.

Westward Ho!

The November number of this Magazine presents that variety of subjects which makes its contents so piquant. The fiction ranges over nearly all the themes with which it is very interestedly concerned; and the style of the contributions is of the most commendable order.

"The Expiation of John Reedham" is a serial story by Annie S. Swan which notwithstanding its sadness and sorrow, is fraught with rapt interest; and each new transition of it is more and more thrilling until its final culmination. Patrick Vaux gives another of his rapid sketches of the arts and intrigues of war, under the title "Where the Eagle Flies Seaward," and the prowess of those who ride the main is illumined by the portly which the author shows often to exist among recruits there. "She tested Him" forms the subject of a variegated domestic story by Mrs. J. H. Skinner; "Fox and Hound," by L. Harward; and "A Guilty Conscience," by H. A. Black. All of these are high in their class and sure to be appreciated.

The number is particularly strong in articles. Donnycastle Dale is fresh as usual in his description "Following game with camera, rod and gun." Captain G. Colson takes us on a tour in an ant mobile through the Transvaal, the Free State, and Cape Colony, and his fine Photographs enhance the value and interest of his descriptions. Under the head of "Potential Canada" there are three articles: one on "High River Alberta," another on "Summerland, B. C., and another on "The Neelies Valley." All these are intensely interesting as exemplifications of Potential Canada. The whole number is, in fact, an entirely Canadian in the higher sense of an enlarged horizon.
