Football Notes.

The Mixtures and No. 5 faced each other for the third time in the final for the Cumberland and District Cup, on Saturday.

The Mixtures played the same eleven as did duty for them in the last game. No. 5 had one change, by Reese displacing G. Brown in the forward rank. There was quite a large crowd of spectators present when the teams lined up. No. 5 again lost the toss and kicked off toward the top goal. The Mixtures soon took the game in hand and held the upper hand throughout the first half. The Mixtures defense played a splendid game and seldom let No. 5 out of their own half, but the forwards lost several good chances by bad shooting, or hanging too long on the ball. The first half ended with the Mixtures leading by one goal to nil. On play they were value for a bigger lead and had the forwards played up to the standard of the defense they would have had a three goal lead After a few minutes' rest the teams began again and give and take play was the run of the game for the first fifteen minutes of the second half. No. 5 then began to take a bigger share of the game, and their forward rank played a pretty game, their forwards combining well together. During the last fifteen minutes No. 5 were all over the Mixtures and it was seen that it was only a case of could the defense hold out. Freeburn and McNeil were having a busy time and kept No. 5 forwards out until the last two minutes of the game, when Sutherland pulled the game out of the fire by putting the ball out of Walker's reach. The game ended with the score equal, one goal each. No. 6 were a trifle lucky to make a draw, when it takes a team an hour to get into their stride, they can't always expect to get off so easy. They were certainly handicapped by W. Sutherland their captain, having been on the sick list and only taking the field under pressure. Their defense was very slow and indulged in some wild kicking. Their forwards took a long time to get into the game, but they play pretty football when they do get set agoing. For the Mixtures, the defense as usual played a round game and there is not a weak spot in that part of the team. The front rank was at times very slack, and had they taken advantage of the chances offered them the game might have ended with a different result. Referee Stewart held the game well in hand throughout; some of the players were inclined to show a little bit of temper occasionally, but on a whole the game was very clean.

The collections amounted to $35.00

BIRTH—On Thursday, Nov. 12th, to the wife of F. J. Dalby, a daughter.

Vancouver, Nov. 10.—Lieutenant-Governor Dunsmuir is a visitor here today. He arrived this morning from Victoria. He will officiate at the opening of the sanitarium at Tranquille tomorrow.

Benefit Concert

The benefit concert given in aid of the Union & Comox District Hospital on Monday evening, under the auspices of Benevolence Temple, No. 9, Pythian Sisters, drew a large audience, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather. An excellent programme was provided and was highly entertaining it being principally composed of new talent. Mr. Jas. Abrams officiated as chairman. The ladies who had charge are to be congratulated in making it the success it was. A very enjoyable dance followed, bringing a most successful evenings entertainment to a close.

Dastardly attempt to set fire to the Post-Office.

Sometime nearing the hour of six o'clock, Saturday morning, an attempt was made to set fire to the Post-Office by throwing matches or other lighted material into the receptacle for papers and letters kept inside the front door. Postmaster Nunns coming down for the purpose of sending off Saturday morning's mail discovered the front part of the building in flames and burning quite fiercely; he was fortunately able to extinguish the blaze without the aid of the fire department. The fire could not have been started for more than ten or fifteen minutes before being discovered by Mr. Nunns. The building is a wooden two story one, the lower part used as a Post Office, and the upper portion by P. P. Harrison, barrister, and owned by Mayor Willard. Quite a number of papers and letters were destroyed. The fire must have been of an incendiary nature, as no fire was inside of the building when Mr. Nunns left the night before, no suspicion rests upon anyone up to the present time.

The B. C. Telephone Company, as will be seen by an advertisement elsewhere, is calling for tenders for poles to be used between here and Parksville. The company intend giving a first-class telephone service between here and Parksville, and between Parksville and Comox. A central exchange will be established at Parksville and courtenay.

This is an entirely new line and it is one that under proper management will be well patronized. The service will be of great benefit to Nanaimo and intermediate points and will also be of convenience to people living along the line who will connect up with it. That the B. C. Telephone Company has seen fit to open a new line on the Island is evedence that the corporations are looking forward to much development in this section of the Island in the near future.—Free Press.

TUESDAY, Nov. 17, 1908

Canadian Forestry Association.

There are few subjects of greater importance to-day in Canada than the preservation of the country's forest wealth.

Never, probably, has the question been brought home to the people at large more emphatically than during the present Season, marked as it unfortunately has been by a series of most destructive forest fires which have wrought so many millions of dollars' worth of damage. How to prevent such devastation in future, how to preserve this great asset to the country and improve it for future generation are questions of paramount importance. It is timely, therefore, that the study of the science and art of forestry should be encouraged and developed.

To this end a school of forestry was inaugurated a year ago in the University of Toronto under the principalship of Dr. B. E. Fernow, who is now assisted by a staff of two lecturers and one assistant.

Dr. Fernow is well equipped for his work, being a graduate of the Forest Academy at Muenden and having received additional training at the University of Konigsberg, Germany, of which country he is a native. For 12 years [1886-1898] he held the position of chief of the Division of Forestry in the United States Department of Agriculture, which he left to become head of the College of Forestry connected with Cornell University. Later, after several years passed as consulting forest engineer, he organized the forestry department of the Pennsylvania State College, leaving there last year to undertake the organization of the Faculty of Forestry at Toronto.

The University of Toronto confers the degree of Bachelor of Science in Forestry (B. S. F.), obtainable after a four years' course, and there is a post-graduate degree of Forest Engineer of F. E., to obtain which a graduate of the forestry course must have two years' practical experience and submit an approved thesis to the faculty.

This fall the University of New Brunswick has inagurated a four years' course in forestry, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Forestry B. S. F. The department has at its head Prof. B. Miller, M. A., M. F., a graduate of the Yale Forest School one of the foremost schools of forestry in the United States.

A third school is about to be established in the Province of Quebec, and courses in forestry or preparatory thereto are offered in other universities and agricultural colleges.

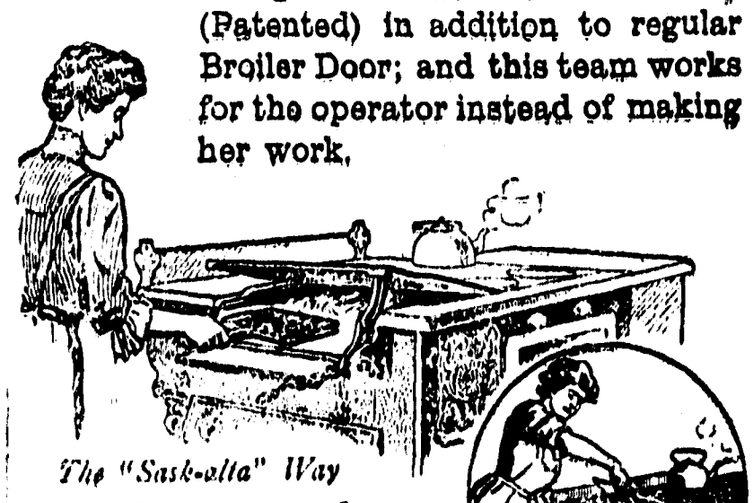
Sask-alta Steel Range

BROILING MEAT & TOASTING BREAD.

One way produces evenly broiled meat and evenly toasted bread without taxing the patience of the housewife. This way is represented by "Sask-alta" Range. The reason: "Sask-alta" Range has an Automatic Lift Top (Patented) in addition to regular Broiler Door; and this team works for the operator instead of making her work.



The "Sask-alta" Way

Another Way

Another way produces unevenly broiled meat and unevenly toasted bread and taxes the patience of the housewife. This way is represented by most Ranges. The reason: Some Ranges have "only" a Broiler Door, others have a contrivance like that illustrated in top small drawing; both of which enjoy the distinction of tiring the arm that holds the broiler and tiring the eye that directs the arm.

PILES FOR FOUR YEARS

Only those who suffer from piles can know the agony, the burning, throbbing, shooting, stabbing pains which this ailment causes and the way it wrecks the sufferer's life!

Zam-Buk is blessed by thousands who used to suffer from piles, but whom it has cured. One such grateful person is Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor of Greenwood Avenue, Toronto. She says: "For four long years I suffered acutely from bleeding piles. During that time I spent an immense amount of money on 'remedies' and doctor's prescriptions but I got no ease. Zam-Buk was different to everything else I had tried and it cured me. I am grateful for the cure, and as I have never had piles once since, I know the cure is permanent."

Another thankful woman is Mrs. A. E. Gardiner, of Catelina, Trinity Bay. She says: "In my case Zam-Buk effected a wonderful cure. For 12 years I had been troubled with blind, bleeding and protruding piles. I had been using various kinds of ointments, etc., but never came across anything to do me good until I tried Zam-Buk which cured me! That this may be the means of helping some sufferers from piles to try Zam-Buk is the wish of one who has found great relief."

Zam-Buk is a purely herbal balm and should be in every home! Cures cuts, burns, bruises, eczema, ulcers, blood-poisoning, itch, cold-sores, chapped hands and all diseases and injuries of the skin, etc. All druggists and stores at 50c box, or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

RECKLESS AARON BURR.

The Dramatic Story of His Marriage in Old Age.

The story of Aaron Burr's marriage in his old age to the widow of Stephen Jumel, who was well known in the early history of New York city, is a dramatic one.

Conceive, if you will, the picture of Burr, gifted adventurer that he was, broken in health, branded in the popular mind as the murderer of Alexander Hamilton and returning from a long exile to find himself an outcast in the city where he had once been the political monarch of all he surveyed and a distinguished figure in society and at the bar. Conceive, if you can, this lamentable old man, smirking through his wrinkles, bowing and prancing rather stiffly because of his rheumatic joints and with his mouth full of pretty platitudes, paying court to the widow of Stephen Jumel, herself in the prime of years and health. Remove from the picture its surface incongruities, and you have a bit of pure pathos unequaled in the annals of foolish great men.

But something of his old time power to charm the gentler sex must have stood by him in his years of mental and physical misery, for in his suit for the widow Jumel's hand and fortune he won gloriously, dramatically. Rebuffed repeatedly, Burr finally declared in passionate rage that on a given day he would arrive at the Jumel mansion accompanied by a clergyman, who should marry them on the spot. He would give his prospective bride no quarter, no chance of escape from the inevitable.

She was amused at the threat and dismissed the old man with more than her usual coldness of demeanor. Burr stuck to his avowal and one July day rolled up in a carriage, and with him was a minister, the same who fifty years before performed the marriage ceremony for Burr and the mother of his daughter, the beautiful Theodosia. There was something of a scene in the old house on this day. There were tears of anger on the part of Burr. Relatives remonstrated; Burr remained immovable. All feared a scandal. The minister, book in hand, stood unobtrusively in the background. There were more tears, more declarations of undying love, and the widow Jumel became Mrs. Aaron Burr.

They were married in the great drawing room of the Jumel mansion. Burr squandered with reckless hand the wealth acquired by Stephen Jumel and left for the enjoyment of his marital partner. There were many bitter quarrels between the ill mated pair, and they were soon divorced. Burr died in 1836, but madam lived until 1865, dying a recluse and a miser, the money received from the Jumel estate hoarded in an unused chamber.

Stones and Glass Houses.

The origin of the saying, "Those who live in glass houses should not throw stones," is as follows: At the time of the union of England and Scotland London was inundated with Scotchmen, and the London roughs used to go about at night breaking their windows. Buckingham being considered the chief instigator of the mischief, a party of Scotchmen smashed the windows of the duke's mansion, known as the Glass House. The court favorite appealed to the king, who replied, "Steenie, Steenie, those who live in glass houses should be careful how they fling stones!"

Mathematics at Oxford.

There is an interesting story which shows the disposition of Oxford toward mathematics. A venerable don who had bought half a dozen books at 3s. 6d. each requested the bookseller to give him a piece of paper for the purpose of arriving at the amount. He then wrote down 3s. 6d. six times, one under the other, and was slowly adding them up when the shopman ventured to point out the shorter method of multiplying one 3s. 6d. by 6. "Dear me!" exclaimed the don. "Really, that is most ingenious, most ingenious."—London Globe.

Anticipating Him.

Night after night the exceedingly quiet and backward youth had called on a neighboring farmer's daughter, sitting perfectly mute beside her while she did all the entertaining. This night, however, the youth, wishing for a glass of water, suddenly surprised her by blurting out, "Say, Sal, will you"—

"Don't exert yourself, Reuben," she interrupted. "I understand. Yes. Have you brought the ring?"

The Toast of an Irishman.

Michael Meyers Shoemaker wrote "Reminiscences in Ireland." An old Irishman read a fragment of it that related to the reader's neighborhood. He asked the name of the author. "Mr. Shoemaker, is it?" he commented. "A nice gentleman I'll no doubt. 'Tis a fine country he chose to travel in too. May the heavens be his bed for choosing it, and may every hair in his head be a mold candle to light his soul to glory!"

Logical Conclusion.

First Burglar—Hark! I hear some one talking. Second Burglar—What's he saying? First Burglar—That he never will bet on another horse as long as he lives. Second Burglar—Let's get out of this. No money here. He's lost every cent.—London Tit-Bits.

At Last.

"Ah, ha," exclaimed the great explorer joyfully, "at last I have found the missing link!"

And crawling from under his bed, he proceeded to put the small gold affair in his watch fob.—New York Journal.
