MESSENGER & PARKER PROPS

In the Stores.

Never before in the history of Cumberland were the stores so well prepared to serve the public than they are at the present season. Below are a list of the stores the prospective customer may visit if in search of Christmas or New Year gifts:—

At Simon Leiser & Co's., store there is a beautiful display of all the good things suitable for Xmas and New Year gifts. The large space inside the windows on one side is taken up with groceries nuts, fruit and candies and on the other side with fancy dry goods, dolls etc., while the inside is profusely decorated with toys and other things. Call and see the fine display.

Mrs. J. H. Piket's candy store presents a very pretty appearance, the decorative display being arranged by Miss Carrie Piket, reflects great credit on the artist. Here will be found everything suitable for Xmas in choice candies, fruit, nuts, cigars, cigarettes, tobaccos and pipes. Give the store a call.

At A. H. Peacey's drug store are to be found hand mirrors, shaving sets and travelling sets, view books, cards, perfumes, and everything kept in a drug store at holiday times. Have a look at the window and we believe you will go in.

T. D. McLean has a fine assortment of jewelry in new lockets napkin rings, brooches, souvenir spoons, bracelets; also post cards, Christmas and New Year cards in endless variety. Give him a call when selecting your presents.

For fine Japanese Oriental goods call on K. Shibata, he has a well selected stock suitable for gifts.

When buying your Christmas candies and fruit don't forget D. Hunden, as he has a fine stock to choose from; also pipes, cigars, cigarettes and tobacco.

Miss Nash has everything in hats of all styles, veiling and ribbons at most reasonable prices.

J. N. McLeod has a fine line of boots, shoes and fancy slippers; also an excellent display of gent's furnishings. Give him a call when selecting your Xmas gifts. Also will be found at his other store a most choice assortment of candies, bons-bons, candies and chocolates in fancy boxes, fruits tobaccos, pipes, cigars and cigarettes in endless variety.

W. W. Willard has a fine lot of new buggy whips and rugs, also some excellent sets of buggy harness, which would make most acceptable presents for Christmas.

J. McPhee & Sons have a splendid assortment of Christmas goods both in groceries and dry goods, candies, fruit, etc. It will pay you to give them a call when selecting your Xmas presents.

At Campbell Bros., are to be found the good things enjoyed alike by old and young; everything to make fruit and other cakes; also in the dry goods department they have nice warm furs for ladies, clothing and fancy neckwear for gentlemen. Any of these would make suitable Christmas presents.

P. Stoddart, the jeweler, has a magnificent display of silverware, oak goods, rings, watches, lockets, charms, in fact jewelry of every description most appropriate for holiday gifts. Call and inspect his stock.

C. H. Tarbell is well prepared for the Christmas trade. He carries a splendid line of cooking and heating stoves, guns and ammunition, nickel kettles and teapots, cutlery, etc. Here you will will find something suitable for a Christmas or New Year gift.

T. E. Bate, of the Magnet Cash Store has his store fully stocked with everything in the line of Xmas goods. We doubt if his stock of toys can be excelled in the city. A call will convince you.

The Right Price Furniture Store, under the able management of Mr. Alex. McKinnon, is an establishment which should not be overlooked when in search of something to buy for a Christmas present. Here you will find almost everything in the furniture line, such as Morris chairs, rocking chairs, settees, writing desks arm chairs, bedsteads, etc.

F. Scavarda is well supplied in the line of groceries, liquors, wines and beer etc., for the Xmas trade. Give him a call.

C. Musatto who has lately purchased the business of P. Dallos, is also fully stocked for the Christmas trade.

The Cumberland News

Published Every Tuesday by the Cumberland Publishing Company

The Free Press romancer had a fish tale in a recent issue of Thetis Island hunter, who last year shipped eleven hundred seal pelts taken on Seal Island, a little island at the upper end of Thetis Island. What a stampede there would be up the Coast if it were possible that one man could kill eleven hundred seals of the kind whose pelts are marketable. Judge Haliburton's famous character, Sam Slick, would leave his grave if he thought there was such easy money on the Pacific Coast.

As a matter of fact the man whom the Free Press complains of for indiscriminately shooting seals does not reside on Thetis Island, but on Denman Island, and it is brant (young geese) he is accused of killing and not seals. Mr. Thos. Hudson of Union Bay, is authority for Denman Island story, and says interesting developments are promised if the practice is not stopped.—Herald.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that application will be made to the Legislative Assembly of the Province of British Columbia at its next session for an Act to incorporate a company with power to construct, equip, maintain and operate a line or lines of railway of standard or other guage, with any kind of motive power for the conveyance of passengers and freight commencing at or near Hardy Bay and proceeding in a westerly direction to Quatsino Sound to a point approximately opposite Coal Harbor, and with power to construct, operate and maintain all necessary bridges, roads, ways, and ferries, and to build, acquire, own and maintain wharves and docks in connection therewith, and to build, acquire, own, equip and maintain steam and other vessels and boats, and to operate the same on any navigable waters; and with power to build, equip, operate and maintain telegraph and telephone lines in connection with the said railway and branches, and to transmit messages for commercial purposes, and to charge tolls therefor, and to generate and sell electricity for the supply of light, heat and power; and with power to expropiate lands for the purposes of the Company; and to acquire lands, money, bonuses, privileges or other aids from any Government, municipal corporation or other persons or bodies, and to levy and collect tolls from all persons using and on all freight passing over any of such roads, railways, ferries, wharves and vessels built by the Company; and with power to connect with and make traffic or other arrangements with railway, steamboat, or other companies; and to exercise such powers as are granted by parts 4 and 5 of the "Water Clauses Consolidation Act" and for all other necessary or incidental rights, powers and privileges in that behalf

MILKING CUTTLEFISH.

Strange Farming Carried on Along the British Coast.

It is not known generally that cuttlefish are cultivated on some farms in order to be "milked." These cuttlefish farms are located on parts of the British coast, and the cuttlefish are kept in tanks or ponds to be milked of their ink.

The pond or tank is connected with the sea by a pipe, and a thousand or more cuttlefish are kept in a single one. They form a most curious sight as they move about trailing their long arms and staring out of their bulging eyes.

They are guarded by screens, which prevent them from being scared, for if they are suddenly frightened the cuttlefish will squirt their milk into the water, and it would therefore be lost. This fluid, or milk, is very valuable, and each cuttlefish will yield about $4 worth a year. It is secreted in a bag, which can be opened and closed at will, the cuttlefish ejecting the fluid to darken the water so that it may escape unseen when attacked. The best cuttlefish are procured in China, where for some reason or other they produce the best quality of milk.

When the farmer considers it opportune to milk the cuttlefish he proceeds by opening the sluices of the pond and gently agitating the water. The cuttles then swim around the pond, and as soon as one passes through the sluice is closed. The cuttle passes down a small channel into a basin or metal receptacle, and as soon as it is securely there the water is drained off. It is then frightened and at once squirts the fluid from the bag. When it is exhausted it is lifted out, the milk is collected, and the basin is prepared for another.

WAGING WAR ON RATS.

Measures Taken In England to Exterminate the Pest.

The war against rats is being waged vigorously in Great Britain, where the annual damage they cause is variously estimated at amounts ranging from $50,000,000 to $75,000,000. Potatoes infected with a tasteless germ are placed within reach, and this germ—harmless to man—is expected to cause a rapid decrease of the rodents by spreading a fatal disease among them. As a further step the Society For the Destruction of Vermin seeks to set a price on the animals' heads, having offered a prize of 10 guineas and a diploma for the best method of making ratskins commercially useful. Taking the London and India docks as examples of the seriousness of the plague, it is stated that each of the twenty-seven sheds stands on an acre of ground and is estimated to harbor 2,000 rats under its floors, making a total rodent population of 54,000 for these docks. Each rat is charged with damage of "at least a farthing a day, giving a total yearly loss of more than $50,000.

Law Against Teeth and Hair.

"There was a law once against false teeth," said the antiquary, flashing his superb set in a wide smile. "Yes, and if your wife wore false teeth or hair you could divorce her."

He took down a curious old book to prove his statement and read the following from a British act of Parliament of 1670:

"That all women, of whatever age, rank, profession or degree, whether virgins, maids or widows, that shall from after the passing of this act impose upon, seduce and betray into matrimony any of his majesty's male subjects by scents, paints, cosmetics, washes, artificial teeth, false hair, Spanish wool, iron stays, hoops or high heeled shoes shall incur the penalty of the laws now in force against witchcraft, sorcery and such like misdemeanors, and the marriage, upon conviction, shall stand null and void."

Brusque Brahms.

A young Hungarian violinist, who was continually talking about his wonderful skill and great fame, had his flatteries addressed to Brahms cut short with the brusque remark, "More finger exercise and fewer phrases, young man!"

A young woman who played the pianoforte asked the composer as to the advisability of giving a concert in Vienna.

"Are you all ready?" inquired Brahms.

"Certainly, dear master! May I play something for you?"

"Oh, no, no! I meant only have you a new gown and gloves?"

"Yes, sir."

"Pity; otherwise I should have advised you not to give the concert."

Sumatra.

Sumatra is the westernmost of the Dutch Indian possessions and one of the largest islands in the world. It is separated from Java in the south by the strait of Sunda, memorable for its volcanic occurrences. The northern portion embraces the sultanate of Achc, and in the days of Queen Elizabeth and James I., when England sent ambassadors to its court, Achc was a great kingdom, occupying more than half the island. The Achenese have never acknowledged the supremacy of the Dutch, and over £20,000,000 has been spent in endeavors to subdue this race of warriors. South of Achc is a large district occupied by the Battaks, a tribe that has practised cannibalism for centuries.

Ready Reasoning.

They stood before a reproduction of the Venus of Melos.

"Her hands must have been beautiful," said one.

"Very," assented the other. "I wonder what position they were in?"

"I have a theory that she was represented as seated at her toilet. One hand probably held a small mirror."

"And the other a powder puff, eh? But that theory won't work."

"And why not?"

"Had she been at her toilet her mouth would have been full of hairpins."

Bedridden with Piles

MRS WM HUGHES

If you suffer from Piles the experience of thousands leads to one definite conclusion—that the surest way to relief is The Zam-Buk way! Surely you believe that nature provides somewhere, a cure for all nature's ills? Zam-Buk is the refined and concentrated essences of healing herbs—nature's balm. Theoretically it should be good. Analysts and doctors agree on this. Practically as well as theoretically it is good. Thousands of people in four continents bear testimony. Read these cases:—

Mrs. Wm. Hughes, of 253, Hochelaga street, Hochelaga, Montreal, says:—"I suffered from blind, itching, and protruding piles for years. Sometimes they were so bad that I could hardly bear to move about. The inflammation, the burning smarting pain, the throbbing, the aching, the over-powering feelings of dullness and dark despair which this ailment brings, the shooting spasms of agony—all were so terrible that only sufferers from this awful ailment can understand!"

Bad as this case was, Zam-Buk triumphed, and Mrs. Hughes suffers no longer.

Mrs. E. Boxall, of Scott Street, St. Thomas, says:—"For months without cessation I endured great pain from bleeding piles. For as many months I tried everything which I thought would give me ease, but in the end, dispirited and still suffering I gave in."

Then it was she heard of Zam-Buk, and she adds:—"Although I feared Zam-Buk would be like the ordinary remedies—useless—I am glad it was not. It soon proved itself to be very different. It rapidly gave me relief, and after a time cured me completely. I would like to let all sufferers from piles know what a grand thing Zam-Buk is."

Mr. Thos. Carr, of Ellesmere Street, Runcorn, says:—"I first began to suffer from piles through sitting on damp grass one summer, and for years I endured agony from this terrible complaint. Sometimes I would be bedridden for a long as a month at a stretch. Yet, to-day, I never suffer from piles! Zam-Buk cured me, to stay cured, and I bless the day I first tried it!"

So one could go on quoting case after case and it is by working such cures that Zam-Buk has earned for itself its great reputation.

Now if you suffer from this terribly painful ailment just be guided by the foregoing cases! Don't delay! Don't waste time on things said to be "just as good." Get the real genuine Zam-Buk and start out on the way to health!

Zam-Buk is a cure also for cold-sores, and chapped cracked hands, ulcers, festering sores, blood-poisoning, eczema, bad leg, ringworm, scalp sores, burns, scalds, and all skin diseases and injuries.

All druggists and stores at 50c. a box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price; 3 boxes for $1.25.

Cut out attached coupon and mail with 1c. stamp (to pay return postage) to Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, together with name and date of this paper and a Free Sample box will be sent you.

Protection of Steel.

A process for protecting iron and steel from rust has been invented and patented by T. W. Coslett of Temple Row, Birmingham, England. This consists in immersing the article in a hot phosphorized solution containing an iron compound. The surface of the iron is converted into a mixture of ferrous and ferric phosphates and presents a pleasing dull black appearance. This process makes the iron highly resistant to corrosion and is being applied to all kinds of light engineering work, such as cycle frames, gun barrels, stampings and press work.

The Charlemagne Rose Tree.

The most venerable rose tree in existence is said to bloom against the ancient church of Hildesheim in Germany. Notwithstanding the many parties which at different times have been in the ascendancy, they all seem to have respected and tended the rose tree, which, it is said, was planted by Charlemagne. The trunk is now almost as big as a man's body. There are five principal limbs trained against the church, the tree being protected by iron railings inclosing an area of about twenty-six square feet. The rude German soldiers in early ages [illegible] and Protestants, in turn masters of the town, drained the ground, the soldiers of Turenne fastened up the branches with clamps, and those of Napoleon, a century and a half later, erected the railings.

Dreams and Nightmares.

Many of our commonest dreams are occasioned by bodily conditions or surroundings. Loosened sheets at the foot of the bed on a cold night soon deposit a sleeper's feet in river or snow banks, just as a second helping at dinner or a tendency to lie on one's back in bed really conjure up whole legions of spooks. Certain evidences on this point was collected in Dr. G. Stanley Hall's psychological laboratory at Clark University from personal testimony. From this it would appear that children prefer animals for their nightmares, whereas adults incline toward burglars, jailers and the like.

A. McKinnon, clerk.

B. R. Allen, J. Palmer, the Misses Wall, Mr. and Mrs. Theobald, Mrs. H. Murdock, Mr. and Mrs. T. McMillan, were among the passengers by the outgoing steamer Cowichan on Sunday last.

The concert given on Monday evening last, was a most successful one. The hall being crowded to the doors; every number on the programme was well rendered, a good many of those taking part having to respond to an encore. Dr Gillespie acted as chairman, while Mrs Gillespie presented the cup to No. 5, the winning team, and also the medals to both the Mixtures and No. 5, Dr. McNaughton after a few well chosen remarks presented the other cup to the winning junior team; after which he stated that "the town boys would have to take warning" if they wanted to hold the cup a second time, as the camp team was going to take it from them next year."

There will be a shooting match for geese and turkeys on Christmas Day, at the back of the sawmill. The shoot will commence at about 10 a. m.

We are pleased to learn that Mrs. Shaw is recovering from her injuries.

Master Leland Monroe has returned home from Victoria to spend his Xmas vacation.

Hurrah!! for the football match on the Recreation Ground Christmas Day.

Last Thursday evening the friends of Miss Carrie Piket came in on her unawares, and took possession of the Cumberland Hall, the occasion being a surprise party. A large number assembled in the hall; the ladies bringing refreshments which were served at midnight. Dancing was indulged in till a late hour, after which everyone dispersed, having had one of the most enjoyable evenings ever spent in Cumberland.

POLICE COURT.

Rex vs. Bowen—The accused in the above mentioned prosecution was charged committing an assault and battery on Thos. Dwyer, and being found guilty was fined $30.00 and costs. Mr. J. Abrams, the presiding magistrate, gave the accused a severe lecture and stated, that as assault cases were becoming so nnmerous, he intended in this ihstance and in future, to severely punish those guilty of that offence.

Rex vs. McGimpsey et al.—H. McGimpsey and two others were charged with having stolen a keg of beer belonging to Thomas Dwyer, the charge of theft was dismissed. on the grounds of unsufficient evidence on the part of the prosecution. Mr. P. P. Harrison, barrister appearing for the prosecution. We are pleased to say that criminal cases of any consequence are practicaly unknown in Cumberland.

WOMAN'S HOME COMPANION FOR CHRISTMAS.

For the Christmas Woman's Home companion, Edwin Markham has written a most beautiful poem, "Before the Gospels Were" It tells the story of the gathering of the materials for the gospels by the decipies after Christ's ascension. "Before the Were," is greater than "The man with the Hoe." It is perhaps the greatest poem of the generation.

It is seldom that a magazine—even a Christmas magazine—offers stories by such an array of great writers as will be found in the December Companion—Josephine Daskam Bacon, Anna Catharine Green, Mary Wilkins Freeman, Floocnce Morse Kingsley, Juliet Wilbor Tompkins.

Above all else, the woman reader will find here a magazine of Christmas helps—hundreds of suggestions for the making of attractive and unique gifts; ideas for the table; for making delicious candies; new neckwear; embroidery; fashions—and almost bewildering array of practical Christmas suggestions.

The Anti-Tuberculosis Society of B.C. have forwarded to Dr. Gillespie 1000 Xmas stamps, these are complimentary stamps to be attached to letters or parcels and are on sale in the different stores for 1c. a piece. The proceeds of the sale of these stamps go to the sanitarium fund. By the purchase of these stamps you help on the good work.

There will be a special Christmas song-service in the Methodist church next Sunday evening, several selections of Christmas music will be rendered by the choir. Don't forget the Christmas cantata in the Methodist church on Christmas night.

COMOX NOTES.

F. L. Anderton, was a passenger on the outgoing steamer City of Nanaimo. He is about to start in business in Victoria.

Mr. T. Bickensell is able to be about again. He miraculously escaping a broken leg while working on his farm the other day.

COURTENAY NOTES.

The people of Courtenay regret to see the C.P.R., surveyors leave the valley. The staff during their stay in the valley made many friends, many of which it would try the strength of the heart strings to separate; also the business men will miss their trade which amounted to a good deal.

Don't forget the entertainment Xmas Eve, conducted by the Sunday School.

Members, don't forget the debate given on New Year's night by the C. T. & M.I.S. It is resolved that wood is more useful to mankind than iron or steel.
