ARCHITECTS INTERESTED IN VICTORIA DECISION

VICTORIA (Special)—Of particular interest to the architectural profession and building trade is the case just concluded in the county court at Victoria under Judge Lampman. The case is a complicated one in which the contractor sued the owner for breach of contract, and also the architect for conspiracy with the owner to force him to break the contract himself. Four other cases are pending in Victoria hinging directly on the result of this case which is regarded as a test case by the architects and contractors of the province.

The chief points are as follows: Amos Atherton, contractor, received and signed the contract to build a residence for A. W. Payn Le Sueur on the Uplands Estate, from plans by Archt. H. Bryant Newbold of the Jones bldg.

The contract called for a proper sufficiency of workmen to carry out the contract in a prompt and efficient manner. Mr. Atherton started the work without employing any skilled men at all and never as many men as are usually expected on a residence under contract. He was not able to finance the work from the start, but was assisted as far as necessary to enable him to go on.

It was found, however, that erection was not proceeding according to the plans, nor even symetrically. The stair well was 18 inches out of the square and the drawing room was 8 inches longer on one side than the other and one bedroom had no space left for a door, yet the building was supposed to be one-third finished when the architect, Mr. Newbold, stepped in and prevented Mr. Atherton doing any more. It took four skilled workmen a month to get things in shape, and now Mr. Wicks, contractor, is finishing the construction according to the original plans.

It was held that no evidence had been given to substantiate the case against the architect who was accordingly awarded costs without having to give evidence at all. Experts were then heard to prove that the work was not being carried out according to plans, and the defects mentioned above and many others were proved to have existed. It was shown conclusively that the contractor was not carrying out the contract and that the architect was exercising his proper authority in stopping the work.

It was also held that the contractor was unable to read plans, and that in giving a figure in his tender for the contract below all the other contractors he was below the actual value of the work required.
