FROM ONE MAN'S POINT OF VIEW

IT is a mistake to say that man is cursed by his sins; he is cursed by his fears. Fear is the worst enemy man has. He is enslaved by it. The God spirit in him—the I Am—the spirit that moves the world onward and upward,—is deadened by Fear and the man lives and dies without knowing the joy of one hour of freedom. He is afraid of himself,—afraid to be known as an individual of any marked characteristic, with the result that ninety-nine out of a hundred never while they live recognize in the faintest measure the possibilities lying within. In politics we brand a man a Conservative or a Liberal; Democrat or Republican, and we know the calibre of his thinking at once. In religion he is a Baptist, a Methodist, a Presbyterian, or a Something Else, and when we have named him we know pretty much what we are going to hear from him when he opens his mouth. Of these things we need not complain; we are, as a people, wandering in the wilderness, and we like to go in bands, being afraid to go alone. The shadows of the Real scare us. Here and there a lightened soul holds his head high and looks Fear in the eye. She quakes before him and flees. He calmly moves on and up, fearing nothing, and knowing well that he carries within him that which maketh no honest man afraid. The man who is ever ready to match all frightful forms of bigotry, intolerance and sham, with the simple courage and confidence of a man unafraid and unabashed, will carry within him that which gives courage and confidence to others.

Communities are the result of individuals pooling their interests, and sacrificing greed that all may gain. The notion that a community is built up by the exercise of personal greed at the expense of the community is entirely fallacious. When public spirit has saddled upon it other considerations, such as fraternalism, churchanity and political affiliations, it is forced to carry more of a load than it can move. Until we can understand that a man may be a first-class citizen and at the same time differ from us in politics, religion and fraternalism we are not fully civilized. When we permit fear to give birth within us to her foul brood of negative thoughts, we damn ourselves and the community in which we live. From Fear's womb come Bigotry, Intolerance, Envy, Malice, Hate, Jealousy, Uncharitableness, Worry, Condemnation, Faintheart, Anger, Hypocrisy and the numerous family of Can't-do-its from Povertyburg. Fear and the dead but unburied brood of Once Wasers have damned the race, so far as any human agency can damn it. They will damn any community.

Let anyone advance a new idea, one calculated to benefit the community, or let him speak honestly and without favor about an idea or custom prevailing, and at once the Can't-be-diders and Once Wasers will turn loose their batteries of dry rot. Do a thing in a new way—suggest an improvement—tear the mask from the fraud behind which Fear has hidden Truth—and see what you will get.

Just now Canada is in the throes of another political mud fight. I do not believe there is an honest man in the Dominion but what will admit that politics in Canada is rotton, and yet, touch a man's party and you will hear him howl. We see good Liberals defending the rankest political trick ever perpetrated upon a patient people,—the deferring of voting day—and they are men who are honest in all things where Fear has not a neck-hold upon them. They argue that the elections here are deferred because the time between nomination and polling days is too short to permit the arrival of supplies at some of the polling places. Why was the time intervening made so short?

NEWS IN AND ABOUT THE TOWN AND DISTRICT

Poultrymen Organize

A meeting of the poultrymen of Enderby and vicinity was held in the sample rooms of the King Edward Saturday afternoon, and the organization of the Northern Okanagan Poultry Association was the result. H. E. Waby was called to the chair. He stated that he had visited Salmon Arm and Armstrong, and interviewed the men interested in fine poultry at these places with the object of forming an association of the poultrymen of Enderby, Armstrong and Salmon Arm. He met with encouragement at all points and a readiness was shown by those interested to bring about immediate organization.

E. T. Petar was present from Armstrong. He felt certain that the association would meet with success from the start, and strongly favored holding the first show this winter.

J. Johnston, of Salmon Arm, is taking the initiative there. It was deemed advisable at this time to organize with one head, and have two members from each of the towns named to act as directors, the members to represent Armstrong and Salmon Arm to be elected at the meetings to be held at these places this week or next.

On motion of G. S. Salt, seconded by Thos. Pound, H. E. Waby was made president; Mr. Waby left the chair to place in nomination for secretary-treasurer Herbert Teece, who was elected unanimously. S. Teece and H. M. Walker were elected as directors for Enderby.

The membership fee was made $1 per year.

It was moved and carried that membership lists be circulated among ths poultrymen of the district, and later, when the matter of winter show has been definitely decided, the merchants and citizens of the town will be asked to contribute toward the prizes to be given. A poultry judge of national reputation will be engaged to judge the entries, and every decision will be given by regular score-card regulations.

The association will put up a valuable cup to be competed for by members only. The special prizes will be open to all.

Another meeting of the association will be held Saturday, Oct. 17, at 2 p. m., when it is hoped to have Armstrong and Salmon Arm represented so as to decide the matter of winter poultry show.

Are You Entitled to Vote?

When the time comes round to vote for mayor and aldermen, it is invariably found that there are names not on the voter's list which should have been there. This undesirable state of things is due to neglect, not on the part of the city officials, but on the part of the persons concerned. It should be understood by all that the only names placed on the voter's list as a matter of course, and without action on the part of the voter himself, are those appearing on the last revised assessment roll; and inasmuch as properties are continually changing hands, and there is no regular channel by which these changes reach the knowledge of the officials, it is advisable that all persons who have purchased property since the roll was revised should report the fact at the city office, in order to ensure that their names will be included in the voters' list for 1909, which is now about to be prepared.

Rev. Walter Russell, B.A.,
Leader of the evangelistic services now in progress at Enderby

City Clerk Rosoman states that license holders and householders are required to make and deliver to the city clerk, during the month of October a statutory declaration, form for which is to be had at the city office. The term "householder" is defined by the Municipal Elections Act as follows:

"'Householder' shall extend to and include any person of the full age of 21 years who occupies a dwelling, tenement, hotel or boarding house, or any portion of a dwelling-house, tenement, hotel or boarding house, who has been a resident in the municipality from the first day of January of the current year, and who shall, unless exempted by the provisions of the proviso at the end of sub-section (117) of section 50 of chapter 32 (being the Municipal Clauses Act) have paid directly to the municipality all rates, taxes or assessments which are not chargeable on land, which rates, taxes or assessments so paid shall amount to not less than $2, due to the municipality for the current year, other than water rates or taxes, or license fees for dogs."

The proviso referred to reads thus: "Provided always that no officer, non-commissioned officer, gunner, private or member of any corps in the Province of British Columbia of the active militia force of Canada, certified by the officer commanding the corps, to which such militiaman belongs or is attached, as being efficient, shall be liable to pay such road tax."

Friends of Long Standing

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Fortune are enjoying a visit from their friend of early days, Mrs. A. Schubert. Forty-six years ago Mrs. Schubert crossed the plains with her husband and three children. She was the only woman in the party of 145 men, of which Mr. Fortune was a member. They joined the party at Fort Garry, leaving their farm, upon which a portion of Winnipeg is now built, to escape the Indians, then threatening them. Reeve Schubert, of Spallumcheen Municipality, is one of the three children.

A Political Trick

Deferring the date of the election is a mere political trick, of which no high-minded political party would take advantage; but seeing that the people of Kootenay ceased to look for high-minded politicians after Hewitt Bostock ceased to represent the district, they must not expect a change until they cease to support political tricksters in and out of office.—Prince Rupert Empire.

How D. T. Did It.

D. T. Forbes is the happy parent of twins. They came to Mrs. Forbes Monday morning. Mr. Forbes wouldn't believe the telegraph operator when the news was flashed over the wire from Vernon. And now D. T. tells the following story on himself:

"Little Bob, who for some months past had invariably ended his evening prayer with "Please send me a baby brother," announced to his mother that he was tired of praying for what he did not get, and that he did not believe God had any more little boys to send. Not long afterward he was carried into his mother's room very early in the morning to see twin boys who had arrived during the night. Bob looked at the two babies critically, and then remarked, "It's a good thing I stopped praying or there'd been three of them."

How It Happened.

An Episcopal rector, travelling in the south, met with a native, also by his own profession an Episcopalian. "Who confirmed you?" asked the rector. "Nobody!" "What's that? But didn't you tell me you were an Episcopalian?" "Oh, yes," said the old man, "and I'll tell you how it is. Last spring I went down to New Orleans visitin'. While I was there I went to Church and I heard 'em say they left undone them things which they's oughter done, and done them things which they hadn't oughter done, and I said to myself: 'That's just my fix too.' I found out that was an Episcopal church and so I've been an Episcopal ever since."

Reasons Why

In adding a Special Order Department to our Fit Reform Clothing business, and meeting the certain demand for clothing-to-measure, we urge the following reasons why our system of custom tailoring is in advance of anything previously attempted:

First---

We affiliate with the largest and finest tailoring organization in Canada, and send all orders to where they have every facility for doing things right.

Second---

This establishment controls the very best tailoring skill, the best designers and cutters naturally preferring regular employment at high wages to the uncertain income of a small town.

Third---

The range of fabrics is much larger and more exclusive than we could possibly afford in the ordinary way, and allows the best possible selection at no greater expense.

Fourth---

Each particular garment is tailored by a specialist, insuring absolute perfection in fit and finish, and such concentration of effect as is only possible where they have experts for each line.

Fifth---

We give an absolute guarantee with every Tailor-made FIT-REFORM Suit or Overcoat, and such measure of satisfaction as will bring you again, and encourage you to send us your friends.

Sixth---

We give you Montreal-Made Clothing, made to order, and deliver it to you at Enderby at the same price you would pay for it in Montreal.

NEWS IN AND ABOUT THE TOWN AND DISTRICT

The annual Harvest Festival services will be held at St. George's church on Sunday.

When you want to use the telephone, you will find Central in the office of Jas. Mowat, Bell block.

The last of the Enderby contingent attending the Fair returned from New Westminster Wednesday morning.

Logan McPhee and wife, of Silverton, were visiting the Valley last week, with the object of buying a home in the land of sunshine and red apples.

A well-attended and enthusiastic meeting of the Liberal-Conservative Association was held in Orange Hall, Tuesday evening, for preliminary organization purposes.

Notices have been issued from the City Office calling up the balance of the road taxes for the current year. Pay up quick, boys, or you'll be too late to get your names on the voters' list.

The Enderby Trading Co. is showing at its dry goods counter a skirt-fastening device that will save a host of hasty exclamations of the ladies. For neatness and despatch it beats anything ever invented. Ask to see it.

In the Small Debts Court on Saturday afternoon, before Magistrate Rosoman, A. Fulton sued R. Waddell for $20.17, being the amount of a disputed account. W. E. Banton, barrister, appeared for plaintiff. Judgment for the amount claimed, with costs.

Miss S. G. Walker, who has been visiting Enderby for the past six weeks, leaves today on her return to California. She leaves with the beauties of Enderby, and its magnificent possibilities, strongly impressed upon her, and returns to the Land of Big Things believing that some day we shall have at Enderby a city of flowers and trees and magnificent homes.

Mrs. Peter Burnet left on Monday for Vancouver, where she goes to be with her husband, who is slowly recovering from a six-weeks' illness.

The shipments of lumber last month by the A. R. Rogers Company, from Enderby, fell some short of the previous month, footing up three-quarters of a million.

Thos. Pound put through a deal this week on the property of Fraser & Boman, situated on the river, a mile and a quarter north of town. G. T. Huse made the purchase.

G. A. Henderson, manager of the Okanagan branches of the Bank of Montreal, accompanied by A. E. Taylor, agent at Enderby, spent Saturday last in town looking over the town and district, with the object in view, it is understood, of establishing a branch of that institution at Salmon Arm.—Observer.

If this paragraph should be seen by Charles Anderson, who came to Prince Rupert from Vernon, B. C., in July last, he will do his mother a great service by writing to her promptly. Or should it be read by any person who knows Mr. Anderson's whereabouts, a service will be rendered by sending him word. —The Empire.

A meeting of the parishioners of St. George's church will be held in the room above the City Office this (Thursday) evening, at 8 o'clock, to discuss the question of building a parish room. The Vicar trusts that all members of the congregation who are able to attend will make a point of doing so.

Harvey & Dobson have posted a notice in their store, to the effect that they will not handle butter that is not wrapped in parchment bearing the maker's name. This is not done to help the printer. It is a step in the right direction, however. It will encourage our butter makers to take pride in their product.

Elsewhere in this issue we give information as to the method by which the municipal voters' list is compiled. It is supposed by many people that the regulations governing this matter are made by the Council, and the question is often asked, "why does not the Council make simpler regulations, and see that all who are entitled to vote are on the list?" The fact is, municipal councils have nothing to do with the matter, the whole of the procedure being clearly laid down in the statutes regulating municipalities and it is the duty of the officials to see that no names appear on the list except in accordance with the conditions laid down by law.

B. C. Fruit Exhibit

The arrangements for the shipment of British Columbia fruit to the fall fairs of the Old Country have been completed, and the special car will leave Sicamous for Quebec, en route for England, tomorrow. It will be in every sense of the word a provincial exhibit, as shipments are being collected and forwarded from every part of the province.

R. H. Palmer, deputy minister of agriculture, will have charge of the exhibit.

The C. P. R. has shown every disposition to assist the government in all possible ways in putting the resources of the Province before the British public. It has provided a cold storage car free of charge, which will be hitched on to the express and taken across the continent in fast time.

Will Centralize at Enderby

A meeting of the directors of the Enderby Fruit & Produce Association was held last Friday to look over the books of the Association. Under the excellent system of bookkeeping adopted by the Central and practiced by all its branches, including Enderby, it was an easy matter to trace every box of fruit and pound of produce from the producer to the buyer. Collections have been slow, but there have been few disputes and no bad debts. Mr. Strickland has handled the business entirely satisfactorily. Somethings had to be learned by practical experience in the work, which, had they been known when the season opened, would have prevented some misunderstanding, but on the whole, the business has been successful.

It is proposed next year to make Enderby the assembling station for this end of the Okanagan. A cold storage plant will be erected here by the Central.

Prize Minorcas

Harry Smedley showed his pure bred Black Minorcas at Armstrong fair and brought home first and second prize. Mr. Smedley has a fine lot of birds, but he isn't satisfied He wants to make them better. He purchased the first-prize cock at Victoria last week and has added him to his pens. Mr. Smedley is an enthusiastic bird fancier and has great faith in the the poultry association just formed.

Distress in England

Distress funds are being raised throughout England. The army of the unemployed numbers more than a hundred thousand. In Glasgow 22,000 men are seeking work; Sunderland has 13,000 unemployed; Birmingham, 10,000; Liverpool, 14,000; Manchester, 8,000, and other cities from 1,000 to 5,000 each. These figures do not include the great army of strikers in the Lancashire cotton trade.

Enderby Apples for Australia

Geo. R. Lawes has packed most of his apples this year for shipment to Australia. The Fruit & Produce Exchange of B. C., is opening a market in Australia for our apples, making their shipments in carload lots. Mr. Lawes was asked to prepare his apples for this market.

A False Alarm

Editor Walker's Weekly:

Dear Sir: With reference to an item in your last issue regarding notices from Vernon registrar, a glance at the voters' list will dispel the mystery that has placed Mr. Rosoman in such a quandry. His name appears twice, with different descriptions and addresses; hence the notice to show cause why one of them should not be struck off. This has been instanced as an attempt by the wicked Liberal party to disfranchise a voter, a statement with as much truth in it as it would be unfair. H. WORTHINGTON

New Regulations

A new set of rules in connection with timber licenses on Dominion lands is published. They provide for the prevention of forest fires, and order that all debris left in taking off timber be gathered together and burned within a suitable safeguard. Every operator is also to have an efficient safeguard round his works. There are other regulations which the lessee will be bound over to perform in a sum to be determined by the Minister of the Interior.—Mail-Herald.

FORM THAT FITS ALL.

Long Waists or Short Waists, It Makes No Difference.

Through the ingenuity of a New York man shopkeepers and dressmakers will be able to get along hereafter with one kind of dress form. Long waists and short waists look alike on this body portion, which can be adjusted to fit anything the human form can wear. The form is made similar to those now in use, except that the model can be moved up and down on the upright rod that runs through the center and affixed at any height over the hip line that may be desired. In the old style form a short waisted waist did not fit on a long waisted model, and vice versa, and both for window display and dressmaking a number of different forms were required, each for a different type of figure. Either for fitting or display this invention is expected to be of value both in the saving of money and time, for not only will one take the place of several of the old designs, but it will not be necessary to scour about for the suitable form for each occasion.

IN THE KITCHEN.

Sunshine Cake.—For sunshine cake sift the flour and sugar the same as for angel cake, only lessening the flour to three-fourths of a cup. Add a pinch of salt to the whites of seven eggs and beat until stiff and dry. Beat the yolks of five eggs until lemon colored and thick, add the sugar and flour to the yolks, stir in lightly the white of the eggs and half a teaspoonful of cream of tartar, flavor with orange extract and bake the same as angel cake. Frost with yellow icing, flavored with orange, and decorate with bits of candied orange peel and leaves cut from angelica.

Lemon Ginger Beer.—This beverage should be made a couple of days before using. Pour two gallons cold water over a half dozen lemons sliced thin, add a pound and a half sugar and a scant ounce ginger root. Let this come to a boil, then add a tablespoonful cream of tartar. Strain and set in a cool place. When nearly cold add a yeast cake dissolved in a little lukewarm water, stir thoroughly, then set in a cold place overnight. In the morning mix well and bottle, corking air tight, and lay the bottles on their sides in a cool place. A small bottle of Jamaica ginger extract may be used in place of the whole ginger if preferred.

Lemonade.—For every quart of lemonade desired allow three lemons. Scrub the lemons thoroughly, as their rough skins hold many particles of dust and grime. Clip off the thin outer skins of part of the lemons and steep for a few minutes in a little water. Cut two thin slices from the center of each of the remaining lemons and lay one side. Press the juice from the lemons, using a corrugated glass or a lemon squeezer. Add enough sugar to the juice to make as sweet as desired, then pour on the proper amount of boiling water, together with the strained water from the chipped yellow peel. Let stand until cold and if not ready to use put in the icebox until needed. Serve a couple of slices of lemon in each glass and a little chipped ice if you are assured of its purity.

"Where is he now?" queried the busy editor.

bands of inexpensive machine braiding to the superb wide bands, in which hand embroidery and hand braidings are combined.

The new shirt waist is distinctive on account of its width of the shoulders. This effect is not gained by cutting the shoulders longer. The width is given in the proper cut at the very start.

Fashion decrees just now that the veil does not necessarily match the hat in color, which is an economy, as one veil may thus do duty with a number of different hats. A veil in a pale shade of lobster red was the adornment of a hat composed of violets and trimmed with a bow of pale blue ribbon.

Straw trimmings are a feature of many of the smartest hats, and the disciples of Audubon may safely rejoice that madam has found a substitute for the aigret. However, the straw imitations are pretty, airy and practical, while they may be made up in every imaginable color and shade.

The eleven gored skirt seen in the cut is made round length and is finished in the back with an inverted box plait. This is one of the new models and a very popular one.

What a blessing it is not to be a "dub." No matter what the undertaking, it pays to do it up just right. If we all could do some one thing as artistically as Mrs. Geo. R. Sharpe can handle the needle, and would place our work on exhibition, Enderby would soon be known far and wide.

At Vernon, Mrs. Sharpe was awarded eight prizes—six firsts and two seconds—on her fancy work. At Armstrong she won 19 prizes and a $10 special; and now Mr. Wright, who returned Tuesday from New Westminster, tells us that she was awarded the big $20 special, and $8.75 in individual prizes.

Mrs. H. McCormick arranged the exhibit for Mrs. Sharpe, and to the exquisite taste displayed in the arrangement, Mrs. Sharpe attributes much of the credit for her flattering success.

When the Leaves Turn

The world has never produced an artist whose imagination could produce a picture with even a shadow of the beauty that is presented by Nature in the woods and hills all about Enderby. We do not wonder that the great masters with the brush have shed tears on looking upon their masterpieces and seeing how far short of the handiwork of Nature they come.

The hills and woods are clothed in their gaudiest October colors. The golden yellows of the birch, the green yellows of the ash; the scarlet and amber and luminous saffron of the maples and alders and spiræa; the maroons of the hardier plants, all are here—a veritable forest full of loveliness. Over and above all, calm and serene in their stateliness, stand the pines, and cedars, their dark, rich greens intermingling with the yellows and browns and reds. The soul that is not ravished by these autumnal forest glows has missed the divine touch which gives to existence life plus.

Kelowna the Beautiful

If Kelowna were wiped off the map to-night, it would still be remembered as the place where Jim Bowes fed the hungry, quenched the thirsty and gave rest to the weary, on the shore of the Okanagan. An Enderbyite writes of this beautiful home city: "The city is being built up on modern principles, with wide streets and boulevards. Handsome stores, chiefly of the cement block type, are being erected, and cement sidewalks ten feet wide are being laid in the main street. All around one sees evidences of business energy, progress and prosperity."

Hold on!

It is not so that I have joined the trust. I did raise the price of tobacco, because I can't sell it for less than cost and make up the difference on dry goods. My policy: let each line make its own profit.

Hello; this is Noodles.

Who? Noodles---Noodles; who's Noodles? Oh, yes, yes; Noodles, Salmon Arm. How are you, Noodles? What can we do for you?

Want some information, eh? Along what line? A what! What is a---what? A whiffle-dig? Yes, we can tell you. "Bruce" says it's the Observer. A whiffle-dig proper is a new kind of a fish. It is caught in a circular lake. You sail round and round the edge of the lake until you make the whiffle-dig dizzy, then you go out to the centre of the lake and bore a hole to the bottom. This done, you place a piece of cheese on the edge of the hole. The whiffle-dig comes out of the hole and eats the cheese; he eats so much and gets so fat that he can't get back into the hole again, and there you sit and laugh him to death.

Bang ! o-o-h! ! buz-z-z-!!!

Hello! Is this the farmer's exchange? I want you to send me a ton of hay? This is---what's that! Is it for me! No, you blithering idiot, it's for the horse!

Yes, this is the council chamber. Smells? We do not smell any smells! Don't smell them. Look for smelley smells as we do!

Finest in the Country

"Enderby is a charming villiage with city airs. When Paddy Murphy shook the snow of Sandon off his feet he came here, and now owns one of finest brick hotels in the country. Although Paddy is an Irishman from Michigan, he calls his hotel the King Edward. In addition to the excellence of the meals, breakfast is served up to 10 o'clock, which is an added attraction for tourists."
