Pa says: "Things done in violence have to be done over again."

FROM ONE MAN'S POINT OF VIEW

WHEN a lawyer has a poor case he invariably tries to influence the jury by a shower of oratorical pyrotechnics instead of reason. Newspaper editors occasionally fall into the same evil habit. A case in point comes from Vernon.

Two weeks ago Walker's Weekly briefly criticised the management of the Vernon bonspiel. A local player, in an unsigned communication published in the Vernon Okanagan, emphasized the fact that the aforesaid criticism "did not emanate from the members of the Enderby Curling Club," which was quite correct. If the matter were allowed to rest here all would be well, for it was quite the proper thing for the Enderby players who took part in the bonspiel to repudiate the article, it being one of the cardinal principles of all plucky players to cheerfully take any kind of treatment in a game and say nothing. But in its issue of Feb. 13, the Okanagan, in a thirteen-hundred word editorial, tries to explain away the imputation credited to Walker's Weekly. It is words, words, all words.

As a matter of fact, Walker's Weekly did not put as much into its criticism as the Okanagan takes out of it. What we did say, we said candidly, and without any desire to create a disturbance in the ranks of so sedate an organization as the Okanagan Curling Association. We addressed ourselves to the business men of Vernon. The businessmen of Vernon are big enough to recognize a plain statement of fact without placing upon it such childish strictures as "very nasty." What Walker's Weekly said two weeks ago, it sees no reason for withdrawing now. Its position today is the same as was its position then. If harmony is to prevail in the friendly contests between the various teams of the Okanagan towns the contests will have to be conducted differently from the Vernon bonspiel. To say that everything was lovely at Vernon is sheer nonsense. Nobody knows this better than the Vernon people.

The Okanagan says: "With regard to the number of rinks entered by Vernon. It was understood right up to the day of the 'spiel that Enderby would bring down four rinks; Kelowna four or five, and at least two each from Armstrong and the other lake towns." According to this, Vernon was looking for 23 or 25 rinks—and they prepared only two sheets of ice for them to play on! Aye, even so, alas, alack!

RESOLUTIONS asking the Provincial Government to appropriate a sufficient sum to complete the wagon road to Mabel Lake, were passed last week by the Enderby Conservative Association and the Board of Trade. The outlook for the appropriation is very favorable. The Government looks with favor upon the project, and will undoubtedly give the full amount required. It is most important that the work should be done. A vast territory will be opened to traffic. All the lands tributary to Mabel Lake will be brought into easy reach of Enderby, for the A. R. Rogers Lumber Co. will this summer put two traffic boats on Mabel Lake, to handle the business promising.

BRUCE, in Saturday Sunset, is one of the few Canadian newspaper men to outgrow the bugaboo Fear. He does not go mincingly along Life's sidepath, stopping at every turn to enquire the way, and what he should say and how to say it. He takes the broad, open road; speaks true of the things as he finds them and asks no man for the privilege. His criticism of the Comox-Atlin political deal by which Mike Manson was sold out to Templeman is one of the few good things we have read on the subject. Concluding his remarks, he says: "About the principle involved! Why discuss such trifles? No party in British Columbia has any. This deal has exposed the utter cant and hypocrisy of both Liberals and Conservatives."

Watch for the grand street parade to the masquerade ball on the 26th.

The Baptist church will be dedicated Sunday, Feb. 28th. The finishing touches are now being put on it.

The Police Magistrate informs us that in future all persons entering suit in the small debts court will be required to hand in their statements of claim in duplicate, to enable him to comply with the requirements of the Government.

J. A. Dake has the correct idea of business. Finding Enderby somewhat slow in the jewelry line, he at once began to reach out after business. He now as a man on the road and a splendid line of work coming in from the Provincial field.

There was a big rush to the Harvey & Dobson assignee sale Monday morning, but, so great was the task of re-marking the goods, that Manager Wilson discovered he was not ready for the rush and the doors were closed until Wednesday.

In offering congratulations to an Enderby lady on the birth of a daughter, a friend wished her "a long life of peace, joy and service: until she could say as another had said, 'arise, daughter, and go to your daughter, for your daughter's daughter has a daughter.'" How old would she be?

The annual meeting of the Northern Okanagan Poultry Association, for the election of officers and receiving financial statement of the secretary-treasurer, will be held in K. of P. hall, Enderby, Feb. 27, at 2:30 p. m.

A. E. Sharpe, who has taken the C.P.R. station, has moved his family into the rooms over the office. Mr. and Mrs. Sharpe have had the sympathy of the community in the serious illness of their little babe, and all will be pleased to learn of its recovery.

I will be pleased to give you prices on watches, chains and rings. Dake, Enderby.

Bill Long Sent Up

There are few men in this district who do not know Bill Long, of Mara. He was up before Magistrate Rosoman last week, charged with beating his wife. Mr. Long is 74 years old, and is hale and hearty, rough and ready; a bad man in liquor. It appears that on Sunday, the 6th, Long spent the day cruelly beating his aged helpmate. When their cabin was visited the following day it presented a sickening sight, and the aged woman was lying, bruised and uncared for, upon a disordered bed. Her condition was pitiable in the extreme, and the case was at once reported to the authorities. Constable Gardom took the case in hand, laid the complaint and prosecuted the case. Attorney Banton was retained by Long, but when he learned the shocking cruelty of the prisoner, withdrew from the case, and the man threw himself on the mercy of the court. He was sentenced to six months' imprisonment with hard labor.

The Way to Please

Thos. Pound took occasion to send to Dr. A. W. Bell a photo of Enderby as a momento of his recent visit as poultry judge. Dr. Bell is secretary-manager of the Winnipeg Industrial Exhibition Association. In a letter acknowledging receipt of the photograph Dr. Bell says: "The photo of your thriving town will be preserved by me as a momento of my first trip down the Okanagan Valley. Kindly extend to the rest of the boys my good wishes for their success. I hope the weather in the Valley is considerably milder than it is in Winnipeg."

Card of Appreciation

Words failed me when I would have expressed my appreciation, and conveyed my thanks, to the pastor and congregation of St. Andrews church on the occasion of their presentation to me, last week; and I take this means of expressing my gratitude, and conveying to all my kindest thoughts.

MRS. J. E. CRANE.

To the Public

We are very sorry to have been obliged to close our doors to the public last Monday afternoon, but our stock was in such shape that we could not satisfy the many visitors who so kindly called. In order to give purchasers every opportunity to see our wonderful bargains, we closed the store on Tuesday and devoted our time to re-marking the stock. We are again open for business and solicit your patronage.

A. R. ROGERS CO. PLANNING FOR A BUSY SEASON

Always in the lead in matters of town improvement, the A. R. Rogers Lumber Co. is planning extensive work in Enderby this season. The Company believes that by affording better housing facilities for its workmen it will gather about it a better class of men. With this object in view Manager Stevens, immediately on his return from the East, gave orders for the overhauling of the Company's boarding house. Ira C. Jones has the work in hand. He is partitioning off into rooms the large sleeping ward heretofore used by the men, and these rooms are to be provided with every convenience looking to the comfort of the men and the betterment of their condition.

The Company will further add to its Enderby property, by erecting several handsome cottages for the use of its employees. These will be of similar architecture as those erected two years ago.

The Company is shipping large consignments of lumber—larger, by far, than its shipments last season at this time, and Mr. Stevens states the outlook for extensive business this season is very encouraging. It is his intention to further improve the blower system at the mill. This he hopes to complete and have in readiness to start the mill by the 1st of April. The Company has a splendid lot of logs for the season's run.

In view of the great need of transportation facilities on Mabel Lake, and as much for the convenience of the settlers of that district as for its own, the Company proposes to put two tugs on the lake this season, large enough to handle the traffic of the district. The Company will this season release several quarter-sections from which it has cut the merchantable timber. This land will go back to the government and immediately become available to settlers. It is the purpose of the A. R. Rogers Co. to release its Mabel Lake limits as fast as the timber is taken off, its purpose being to assist in every practical way to get the land into the hands of the actual settler.

The completion of the Enderby road to Mabel Lake will bring the settlers of that district within a few hours' drive of Enderby. It is almost certain the government will undertake the work this season. A petition is also before the government from the settlers of Trinity Valley asking for a short wagon road and bridge to give that valley connection with the road to Enderby. All of which adds importance to this road, and makes it certain that that district will be very active this year.

Hall Opening at Hullcar

A free public dance will be given at the Hullcar-Deep Creek Hall, Friday evening, Feb. 19th, to celebrate its opening. The men of that district are to be congratulated on the early completion of the hall. They went to work on the proposition with the faith and firmness that always wins confidence, and soon had the assistance required to make the hall an assured thing. The Armstrong orchestra has gratuitously tendered its services for the opening dance.

Splendid, Neighbor!

Commenting on the splendid achievement of Armstrong in quickly disposing of its $25,000 electric light bonds at par, the Advertiser says: "When outsiders tell us so plainly that we have a magnificent future, is it not time that a different spirit prevailed amongst those who are opposed to progress at the expense of improvements? A spirit of buoyancy should prevail, one of faith in ourselves and our municipality. The old proverb, 'The Lord helps them who help themselves,' would quickly bear fruit."

The lesson of this short sermon can be applied in other localities; and with particular force in localities where public spirit has been buried in the shallow grave of selfish dogmatism.

WANTED—At Enderby, a resident DENTIST. A good field for a man capable of doing the right kind of work.

Our B. C. Members

"C. F. H.," the Ottawa correspondent of the Toronto News, in a recent issue of that paper, said: "A reference must be made to these new British Columbians. Three of them spoke and all above the average. Mr. Barnard, the third of his family to occupy a seat in the House of Commons, contributed a brief, neatly-put and business-like discussion of a special feature of the debate which concerned himself. Mr. Cowan spoke vigorously, and advanced considerations which demand serious attention in Eastern and Central Canada. Mr. Martin Burrel, who abolished Duncan Ross in Yale-Cariboo, made an exceptionally good speech, which took the fancy of the House immensely; a new member seldom catches the Parliamentary style so completely in his first effort. On the Japanese question Mr. Burrell rested the case on national and Imperial grounds. Great Britain is coming to realize that it is "the duty of the Home Government and the Imperial authorities, no matter what they have in other parts of the world, to stand by even the most distant and smallest portions of the British Empire to build up a nation that should be Anglo-Saxon in race and tradition."

"He dealt with a good deal of frankness with the countercharge that the Conservatives in the House allowed the convention to slip through. In part that was due to the misrepresentations of the Government, and to the ideas—which he regarded as exaggerated—of the importance of the trade with Japan. But, further, "I can quite understand that no man who has lived altogether in the East, and has not come into daily contact with the conditions that face the people of the West, can possibly grasp the true significance of this Oriental question to the people of the Pacific Coast. I am sorry to add also that hon. gentlemen opposite, and Eastern members generally, do not avail themselves of their privileges, as they ought to do, to gain a more intimate acquaintance at first hand with the great Western country which, after all, is going to be the backbone of Canada."

TESTS IN THE DAIRY.

The best judges of stock will sometimes make mistakes when buying cows to add to their herds, but there is no excuse in these days of the milk scales and the Babcock tester for keeping a cow that does not leave a balance after paying for her feed and care.

Milk scales are not expensive, and it is very little trouble to weigh and record the amount of milk from each cow. It will take more time to add up the long columns, but an adding machine would pay for its cost in a short time. A Babcock tester can be bought for less than $10, and any man who can run a mowing machine ought to be able to test milk. It requires care to test milk accurately, but a man who is not equal to it has no business to be in charge of a dairy farm.

In some sections cow testing associations have been formed, and special agents do the testing, and much good work is being done along these lines by the New Hampshire Agricultural college. The dairy division of the college has taken much interest in the matter of encouraging farmers to test the product of their herds For some time Professor Rasmussen has been sending out sample boxes to interested dairymen. The box carries fifteen sample bottles. These have the preservative already added, so all the farmer needs to do is take the samples according to directions and then return the box to the college. The sampling dipper is an ingenious device made by fastening a wire to a cartridge. Full directions accompany each box, so a farmer will be able to take samples accurately. The box is returned to the college and the samples carefully analyzed and report made back to the dairyman. Then if the farmer has kept account of the number of pounds of milk the animals gave he can figure out what his animals are doing

Board of Trade Meeting

A splendid meeting of the Enderby Board of Trade was held in the City Office last Friday evening, President Peel in the chair, and twenty members present.

The report of the Executive was received to the effect that it had duly gone into and adopted the resolutions, etc., submitted by the Associated Boards. The action was concurred in by the full Board.

The advertising committee submitted a plan of immediate advertising, which was finally adopted by the Board and power given to proceed with the work. The matter of sign-boards was referred back to the committee for further information.

The roads, river and streams committee suggested that some action be taken to preserve so far as possible the natural beauty of the river shores, by encouraging the leaving of the natural trees along the banks.

A resolution was adopted setting forth the great need of the completion of the road to Mabel Lake, and endorsing the representation made to the Government by the Conservative Association.

Similar action was taken in the matter of a City Hall and Court House for Enderby, and both resolutions were placed in Mayor Bell's hands to be carried before the Government.

It was decided to secure office room for the Board in the office of Jas. Mowat, at a rental of $2 per month, where the meetings of the Board will in future be held.

It Saves Wear and Tear on One's Nerves.

It is a big boon to be born orderly. It means such a saving in wear and tear on one's nerves.

There are some people who have the desire for neatness, but lack in its execution. They can put to rights, but not keep it up.

It is easier to be a born sloven than one with a wish for orderliness allied to the habit of misplacing.

That place for everything rule is a good one—if you don't forget the place.

The woman who can find her belongings even in the dark is the one to tie to, provided she doesn't achieve her neatness by nagging and everlasting primpness.

That some girls' bureau drawers have a cyclone struck look may not argue a lack of orderliness so much as an overpressure of affairs. It is not easy when every minute counts to put things back in the exact spot where they should go.

As the bump of order is the greatest time saver known, it is well, however, for the busy girl to make strenuous efforts to acquire it. It may take an extra minute to put things where they belong, but time is often reckoned by hours when it comes to hunting them where they don't belong.

Orderliness is a good business asset. The girl who can put her fingers on notebook at an instant's notice, who is not on a perpetual hunt for pencil, eraser and other daily necessities, who has learned to classify her papers for easy finding, rarely makes a failure of her career.

NEW CANDLE SHADES.

Very new and pretty candle shades are made in the simplest possible way. The frame is merely two wire circles—an umbrella shaped affair, with no angles whatever. The cover is a circle of cretonne about six inches bigger in diameter than is the frame. Around the edge of this cretonne is sewed a fringe of glass beads, which is heavy enough to hold down the cover and to cause it to fall in graceful folds. Another circle is cut from the center of the cover just the size to fit around the frame. The cover is then fastened at the inside circle to the frame by a binding of gold braid. The mica shade, of course, fits on the stand entirely independent of the candle shade.

The great advantage of the shade lies in the fact that, unlike most of its kind, it need not be fitted to the frame, nor are there seams to be finished on the underside. Bead fringe may be bought by the yard, and wire frames are extremely inexpensive.

Should handsomer shades than cretonne be desired the cover may be of brocaded silk or a heavy silk of a solid light color. The fringe might then be either gold or silver, while the braid at the top would, of course, match it.

PLAYING HAVOC WITH PATENT MEDICINES

An Old-fashioned, Home-Made Mixture which Cures Kidney and Liver Troubles.

A prominent local druggist states that since the celebrated prescription of a distinguished specialist has become more or less known it is interfering with the sale of secret medicines. The prescription, which first appeared in a leading health journal, is reproduced here, just exactly as originally written: Fluid Extract Cascara, ½ oz.; Fluid Extract Carriana Compound, 1 oz.; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, 6 oz. Directions: One teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

Any good druggist can dispense this, or, even better, a person can buy the items separately and mix them at home by shaking them well together in a bottle. It is stated that the ingredients being vegetable, are harmless and simple. It has a gentle and natural action, and gradually tones up the eliminative tissues, leaving the kidneys in a perfectly healthy condition.

A merchant well known in public affairs states that this recipe cured his rheumatism. Save the prescription.

Finest in the Country

"Enderby is a charming villiage with city airs. When Paddy Murphy shook the snow of Sandon off his feet he came here, and now owns one of finest brick hotels in the country. Although Paddy is an Irishman from Michigan, he calls his hotel the King Edward. In addition to the excellence of the meals, breakfast is served up to 10 o'clock, which is an added attraction for tourists."

Hank's Aphorisms

Men never fight so hard for anything as for a mistaken creed or custom. And no matter what they fight for they couldn't gain less should they win.

To understand the motives of a noble minded man or woman we must be noble minded. Otherwise his or her actions will appear like trickery or folly to us.

Have you ever spent one whole day in mental (soul) growth? Glory! what a lift it gives you; and how you sleep when your happy head takes your glad heart to bed!

Get into the swim! The world will come to you if you have anything to offer to make it think or do. It offers wealth and work to the man who can make it laugh. It is waiting for you. Do not give up. Plod on—patiently plod on.

As I write a fly follows the pen and sticks his ugly little sucker on the lines and drinks up the ink. He likes it apparently. Wonder if it makes him black on the inside.

Somebody has said something like this: "When a man prates about the good blood of his ancestors, he is like a potato—the best thing about him is underground."

Faults are so common it doesn't require any kind of intelligence to see them. It is the good in those about us that ought to command our attention and commend our praise.

A man may not have great power of speech, nor a deep, penetrating intellect, but if he has only one talent and he turns that talent to help another he has served his day well.

Goodby! God Bless You!

I like the Anglo-Saxon speech
So straight in all its dealings,
It takes a hold and seems to reach
Way down into your feelings.
That some folks deem it rude I know,
And therefore they abuse it,
But I have never found it so:
Before all else I choose it.
I don't object that men should air
The Gallic they have paid for,
With "Au revoir," "Adieu, ma chere,"
For that's what French was made for;
But when a crony takes your hand
At parting to address you
He drops all foreign lingo and
He says: "Goodby! God bless you!"

I love the words perhaps because
When I was leaving mother
Standing at last in solemn pause
We looked at one another,
And I—I saw in mother's eyes
The love she could not tell me—
A love eternal as the skies,
Whatever fate befel me.
She put her arms about my neck
And soothed the pain of leaving
And though her heart was like to break,
She spoke no word of grieving;
She let no tears bedim her eyes,
For fear that might distress me;
But, kissing me, she said goodby
And asked our God to bless me.
