STATE HEALTH INSURANCE PLAN

Social Welfare Commission Created to Assist Those in Urgent Need of Medical Attention

While the people of Grand Forks will have an opportunity of posting themselves upon the various subjects into which the newly appointed social welfare commission will inquire, at a meeting of the commission in the court house in this city next Wednesday evening, the more general phases of its investigation are explained in a memoranda now issued by Hon. J. D. MacLean, minister of education and provincial ecretary, whose department assumes urisdiction. As already announced in the press of the province, the scope of the inquiry will include state health insurance, mothers' and widows' pensions, and public health nursing.

The present workman's compensation act is a species of state health insurance unto itself, inasmuch as it provides for surgical and hospital treatment in all cases of accident. The act, therefore, creates a basis from which the larger provision might be made. That is to say, its machinery would lend itself to meet the cost of treatment of medical ailments not only of the workmen, but also of his family. Under such a plan, in the event of its feasibility being established, both the family and the workman would be given the choice of a medical practitioner whose fees would be fixed by an administrative board in consultation with doctors, nurses and hospitals.

It will be observed, of course, that the underlying principle is one of cooperation and the pooling of monies with which the cost of medical, nursing and hospital attention would be met. It is believed, too, that in operation there would be created a community sentiment bent upon its own self-preservation. For instance, there would be a direct incentive to be more careful in matters of sanitation because of the knowledge that upon the amount of sickness prevalent to the cost to contributors would depend.

To the medical profession it is expected to appeal by reason of the automatic removal of bad debts. Popularly termed "good pay" for some patients well provided for with this world's goods would not be made to pay for "bad pay" patients who usually omit payment altogether.

It is realized that lack of provision for the mother or the widow with a family to support fastens an obligation on all governments. Unless the natural association of mother and child can be safeguarded the state runs the risk of reducing the value of the citizen of tomorrow. Take, for instance, the case of a mother with three children and the breadwinner incapable of earning a livelihood. She is obliged to eke out a miserable existence for herself and her family by her own labor, place her children in a "home," at a cost to the state, by the way, or otherwise add to honest wages such revenue as may be derived from questionable pursuits. In the absence of federal legislation, therefore, the government of this province contends that it cannot afford to neglect either from a humanitarian or an economic standpoint such action as may lead to the establishment of mothers' pensions.

A system of public nursing would contemplate the stationing of a nurse at strategic points, whose duty it would be to carry out emergency work, sanitary work and school inspection and generally to act as an educational medium for the furtherance of health and child welfare work.

While it must be understood these matters are to form the subject of a carefnl survey on the part of the social welfare commission, Dr. MacLean authorizes the publication of the foregoing details so that the general pubiic may become acquainted with an eventuating policy should its feasibility be demonstrated by the information gleaned.

RUSSIAN PEASANTS CAPITALISTIC

Stockholm, Dec 10.—Premier Lenine, addressing the all-Russian soviet congress at Moscow, complained that communistic principles were utterly disregarded by the Russian peasantry.

"The peasants," he said, "have become landowners and now side with capitalists against bolshevism. The peasants must not be treated with violence, which might cause rebellion, but by better organization and propaganda they must be converted to the communistic idea."

Our Royal Visitor

The Prince of Wales has captured the hearts of all Canada. Rich and poor, old and young, are enraptured with his easy manner and happy expression. He is so different to what many expected.

No wonder a great demand has been created for a real life-like portrait of our popular future king. Photographers and artists have failed to secure a satisfactory snapshot of the royal visitor. He was not here to pose for them. It remained for The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal to secure a portrait that would be satisfactory, and they have succeeded. Just before leaving for Canada the prince gave a special sitting to the celebrated London, England, photographer, VanDyke. The agents of The Family Herald were instructed to secure the right to reproduce it in Canada, and that great weekly is now offering it to its readers

The Sun has succeeded in making an arrangement with The Family Herald and Weekly Star by which our readers may have The Sun, The Family Herald and Weekly Star for one year and a copy of the portrait for $2.00. The demand for this portrait in Canada will be enormous, and we advise our readers to take advantage of this opportunity without delay.

DISTRICT POULTRY SHOW GOOD

Exhibits Were Numerous and the Qaulity of the Birds Excellent--Many Outside Exhibits

The district poultry show, which opened in this city yesterday morning and closed this evening, was a very successful affair in spite of the inhospitable weather that has prevailed during the past week.

On the whole the show was a credit to the district both in number of birds entered and in quality. All the local poultrymen made big exhibits, and they all captured their usual quota of prizes. There were, besides, many exhibits from Nelson and other towns in the district. They all carried prizes home with them.

Judge Floyd stated that the competion and the quality of the birds were such that his task of placing the ribbons was no easy one. He adviced the prize winners to go after the ribbons at the coast in January.

A. E. Atkinson, A. Wallach, T. Wright, Leslie Steel, H. Bush, F. J. Harbinson, E. S. Smythe and R. H. Maber, of Nelson, had exhibits at the poultry show, and all of them won some prizes.

COAL STRIKE HAS COME TO AN END

Indianapolis, Dec. 10.—The most far-reaching industrial struggle in American history ended today with the miners accepting President Wilson's proposal for ending the coal strike. Acceptance of the president's plan was announced by the president of the U.M.W.A.

"SCHOOL FOR SCANDAL" IN COURT

The "School for Scandal" was reenacted in the local provincial police court last Saturday.

This society drama originated between Mrs Gad Lewis and Mrs. Klenoski, who held a difference of opinion along certain lines, which resulted in Geo. Stanfield, of the provincial police, being called to Lynch Creek, where the parties reside.

Mrs Gad Lewis is said to have taken up an axe for the purpose of proving her side of the argument. Mrs. Klenoski did not think it worth while to remain any longer to argue the case. A certain young gallant also left hurriedly, and telephoned the provincial police to look after the ladies.

The argument was settled by the parties appearing before Neil McCallum, S.M., in this city on Saturday. Mrs. Gad Lewis was found guilty of assault, and was fined $5 and costs.

M. D. Hamilton, general inspector for the Canadian Bank of Commerce in British Columbia, was a recent visitor in this city.

The new Pass Creek public school, twelve miles north of this city, will be opened after the Christmas holidays.

The weather is now propitious for the annual ice harvest. This may be your only opportunity this winter.

The people are gradually forgetting the name of the Granby company, and those who depended on it for a livelihood are embracing other pursuits.

A Western Favorite

It is said The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal reaches over ninety thousand homes in the four western provinces each week. There must be a reason for this The reason is not hard to find. To farmers in this Western County The Family Herald and Weekly Star is regarded as almost indispensable and each issue is worth to them more than the whole year's subscription price. It is a most wonderful production of a weekly newspaper, family magazine and agricultural journal. It costs only $1.25 a year (after December 31st the price, we understand, will be $1 50) and each subscriber receives free a large handsome portrait of the Prince of Wales, 16x22 inches It is wonderful value and no home in the West should be without it.

Little Jimmy went with his mother to stay with an aunt in the country, and his mother was very worried as to how he would behave

But to her surprise he was angelic during the whole visit—always did as he was told, and never misbehaved.

As soon as he got home, however, he was his own self again.

"Oh, Jimmy!" she said, "you were so good while you were away, why do you start behaving badly now?"

"What's home for?" asked Jimmy in pained surprise.

HORTICULTURIST FOR THIS VALLEY

An Interesting Address on "Dairying" Given by A. S. McKim at Last Institute Meeting

At the Farmers' Institute meeting last Saturday evening those present were greatly pleased that the department of agriculture is acceding to the request made by the Institute a few weeks ago, and will shortly appoint a horticulturist to be stationed here.

It was decided to hold the annual meeting for the election of officers, etc., on Saturday, December 20th, at 2 p.m. It is hoped that every one at all interested in agriculture or horticulture, who possibly can do so, will attend this meeting.

A. S. McKim gave an address on "Dairying" which was full of interest to tqose present.

A woman went into a Scotch railroad office to buy a ticket for her son, who was about to emigrate to Canada, and while the man was looking up the particulars she chanced to look around and noticed in a glass case a stuffed Canadian moose.

"What kind of an animal is that?" she inquired.

"Oh," said the man, "that's a Canadian moose."

"Well, if that's the case," she said, "I'll have my money back. I wouldn't let my son go out there. What must the rats be like?"

They were entertaining the minister at dinner, and after dessert little Johnny pressed the minister to have another piece of pie

The minister laughed. "Well, Johnny," he said, "since you are so polite, I will have another."

"Good!" said Johnny. "Now, ma, remember your promise. Yes, said if you had to cut into the second pie I could have another piece."

Prohibition has been blamed for a number of unpleasant things besides an occasional costly jag. First the sugar shortage was attributed to the knockout blow given John Barleycorn, because so much of the sweet stuff now goes into the manufacture of temperance beverages. Now the charge is made that prohibition is the direct cause of curtailed production, which is, of course, responsible for the high cost of living and many other evils. Those who make this assertion have some facts back of their contention. They say that after a laborer has made a "stake" he becomes so independent that he won't work; he simply takes it easy until the money is spent. Neither love nor money, they claim, can induce him take up his customary occupation until he becomes financially embarrassed. In pre-temperance times, they point out, the workman used to go out to accumulate a roll, come into town and spend it in a few days, and then be compelled to return to his work. There seems to be some logic to this line of argument. But whether intemperance or underproduction is the greater evil, we leave to the moralist and the economist to wrangle over. We simply started out to show a condition as it exists, and our object has been accomplished.

There is a great scarcity of eggs these days. Now, it is customary to blame prohibitien for all the unpleasant and inconvenient things that man has fallen heir to. We therefore take it for granted that the hens have gone on a strike for their morning toddy.

Whoever has journeyed to Cairo and from there desires to go on to Jerusalem may now buy his ticket in the Cairo railway station and look out of the windows of the train at the scenery of the Plain of Sharon as he makes his trip. The rail connection has been completed by a new line from Ludi to Haifa, passing the ruins of Athlit, where the Templars long ago had their last stronghold in Palestine. The journey from Egypt to the Holy Land is greatly simplified; one need no longer land at Jaffa, nor wonder how much one's plans will be interfered with by bad conditions of wind and sea. More than that, Jerusalem is a much less dubious place for the tourist to visit, and its points of interest may be much more conveniently inspected than they used to be. Good order is maintained; the city is under British discipline; the chance of "falling among thieves," more or less an accepted risk under the Turkish regime, need hardly be considered. One may visit the Mosque of Omar without the undesired companionship of a Turkish soldier. A good deal of regret has been heard that "Europe would never be the same again" for tourists to look at; but in some respects at least it will be much changed for the better.

A correspondent in the New York Evening Post, attracted by the charm of the names of ships which Kipling uses so effectively in the refrain, "Send up Unity, Claribel, Assyrian, Stormcock and Golden Gain," calls attention to the interesting names of the small craft that frequent New York harbor. They range from the grotesque Ha Ha and Candy Kid to the idealistic Harmony, Fidelity and Justice. They touch all climes and all times. There are Twilight, Morning Star and Southern Cross; Venus, and Mars and Victory and Liberty; Enterprise, Dauntless, Serenity and Haven; Pilgrim, Puritan and Pioneer. They are so many and so diverse that it is almost impossible to number them.

The mining industry in Alaska, which began in 1880 when the gold placers at Juneau were first exploited, has produced more $418,000,000 worth of gold, silver, copper, tin, tungsten, antimony, coal, petroleum, marble, gypsum, chromite, platinum and palladium. But in recent years foreign competition in certain industries, the scarcity of labor and ships and the cost of material have forced production below normal. In 1918 the output of Alaskan mines, the smallest since 1914, was worth only $28,253,961.

In spite of the fact that the World Trade club of San Francisco has offered a prize of $1000 to the person first suggesting the best name word denoting U. S. America and Britannia, the old words are not likely to wane in popularity. However, it is interesting to note that the rules of the contest, which is open to all mankind, have just been announced. Words to be considered must be received before May 1, 1920. One thousand dollars has been deposited with the Wells-Fargo-Nevada National Bank of San Francisco, and the amount will be paid in the currency of the nation from which the best word is suggested, to the person first suggesting the best name. So far names have come from all quarters of the globe—particularly from the United States, Australia, New Zealand, Tasmania, British Isles, Canada, the Philippines, Eurasia, Africa, China, Japan, Oceania. Names are pouring in from all parts of the world, including France and the Scandinavian countries. "Unitania" is the best word received thus far. The question now is, will someone devise a better name than Unitania before May 1, 1920, and thus earn the World Trade club's award of $1000?

Germany has refused to sign the peace treaty, and the allies are taking steps to compel her to do so. Following a conference between Field Marshal Wilson of Britain and Marshal Foch, military plans to enforce the terms of the armistice have been completed. These are substantially the same as those made last June, when it was uncertain whether would accept the treaty.

The coal mines of the United States will be worked out in 2000 years, provided the coal miners do not go on any more strikes.

This issue of The Sun may be either a little ahead of time or a little behind time. As our office clock today decided to strike for an eight-hour day, we really have no time at all at present.

Looking After the Children's Eyes

Several weeks of long winter evenings are ahead of us. With the use of artificial light, it is a trying time for the eyes. If slight defects already exist, a dim or unsteady light will greatly aggravate the situation. This is particularly true among children, whose vitality and power of resistance is much lower than grown ups. Inflamed lids, styes, headache and watery eyes are almost sure indications of some sort of eye trouble. If your child has trouble with his eyes, bring him in and let us examine his eyes.

News Items and Comment Which Appeared in The Sun for the Corresponding Week Eighteen Years Ago

At a public meeting in the city hall in Grand Forks Saturday night to discuss the Great Northern bonus bylaw a committee consisting of W. K. C. Manly, Frank Sears, E. Doberer and City Clerk Bower was appointed to interview Mr. Snapp, right of way agent, and ascertain from him if possible further information as to what, all told, the Great Northern would promise to do for the city in return for the large bonus it was seeking. There were present at this meeting E Doberer, W. K. C. Manly, Councilman Fisher, Walter Askew, T Alfred Kennion, E. Miller, Peter McRae, Frank Sears, H A Sheads, W B. Bower and a Sun reporter.

The councilmen of Grand Forks say that the assertion by the Gazette that they passed a resolution to back Mayor White if he would pummel Earle McCarter, is a falsehood made out of whole cloth.

It appears that the resignation of all the teachers in the Grand Forks public school have been demanded. The reason advanced for this action is the expected amalgamation of Grand Forks and Columbia in the near future. A closer scrutiny of the incident reveals strong evidence that it is more the result of the unwarranted and vicious medling of a local journal which imputes evil motives to all whom it deems of sufficient importance to notice than to anything else,

The Grand Forks city council raised the salary of the city electrician, F. M. White, from $50 to $100 per month.

Norman McLellan and family left on the 4 o'clock train on Thursday for a six weeks' visit to Ontario.

The boys and girls are having lots of fun of nights on the ice down by the Catholic church, There's skating galore.

The Great Northern bonus bylaw bylaw was approved by the electors of Grand Forks and Columbia on Thursday.

HAVE YOU EVER NOTICED

That working will get you further than whining?

That he who prides himself on living without folly is not so wise as he imagines?

That the man who never does anything he doesn't like rarely likes anything he does?

That most men would not have so many troubles if they talked about them less?

That remorse is not the same as reform?

That over-sleeping and over eating hurt more people than over working?

That it would be a good thing if we could remember what we forget and forget what we remember?

That the big man never catches up to his ambitions—that he always keeps them ahead?

That it is as hard to find a man who is not injured by flattery as it is to find a man who is improved by criticism?

The Pessimist's Germ-- News From the Front

You know, one could get morbid, providing one is a germ crank, when one thinks of all the germs human flesh is heir to!

Recently the atmospheric pollution research department of the meteorological office began experimenting with a view to devising means for purifying London air.

By actual experiment it was demonstrated that the air of the metropolis contained about 6,000,000 particles of dust and floating rubbish to the cubic inch. In the purest mountain air the average number of similar particles is 20,000.

Thus the pessimist reminds us that the average man in the average city inhales about 37,000,000 microbes of various sorts. That's a nice, cheerful thought the next time you feel out of harmony with the world and every thing in it.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Turkish women eat rose leaves with butter to secure plumpness.

In London, ladies' maids who are also qualified to run m'lady's automobile receive an extra high wage.

In Chile, it is customary, whenever a stranger is received in the house, for each of the ladies of the family to offer him a rose.

Prof. Carrie Derick, professor of botany in McGill University, has the distinction of being the only woman in Canada with the title of professor.

It is a fact not generally known that Queen Elizabeth of the Belgians is the namesake and goddaughter of the murdered Empress Elizabeth of Austria.

In Sweden, young girls place under three cups a ring, a coin, and a piece of black ribbon. If the ring is first accidentally exposed she will be married within a year; if the money, she will get a rich husband; if the ribbon, she will die an old maid.

In Korea, the women are taught to shun the opposite sex from their earliest girlhood. Their seclusion is carried to the utmost limit. Out of doors the women usually wear a green mantle which covers the whole countenance except the eyes. Nor do they willingly let even their eyes be seen.

In China, a girl who is partaking of the last meal she will eat in her father's house, previous to her marriage, sits at the table with her parents and brothers; but she must eat no more than half the bowl of rice set before her, else her departure will be followed by a continual scarcity in the domicile she is leaving.

"CASCARETS" WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—Take Cascarets tonight.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret to-night will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months.

The Usual Talk

The man from the States was talking—as usual.

"How is that?" asked the British merchant.

"Why," replied the American, "over here you sell the people what they want. But in my country we educate the people into wanting the things we have to sell."

This! Try it! Hair gets soft, fluffy, and beautiful—Get a small bottle of Danderine.

If you care for heavy hair that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life, has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine. Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice heavy, beautiful hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. Surely get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store and just try it.

Time it! In five minutes all stomach distress, due to acidity, will go. No indigestion, heartburn, sourness or belching of gas or eructations of undigested food, no dizziness, bloating, foul breath or headache.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in regulating upset stomachs. It is the surest, quickest stomach sweetener in the whole world, and besides it is harmless. Put an end to stomach distress at once by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder caused by fermentation due to excessive acids in stomach.

MEETING

COURT HOUSE

Wednesday, Dec. 17th, 1919

at 7 P.M.

for the purpose of enquiring as to whether or not, and to what extent, public interest requires the introduction of legislation in British Columbia along these lines, and generally to enquire into all matters affecting the above subjects.

You are invited to attend.

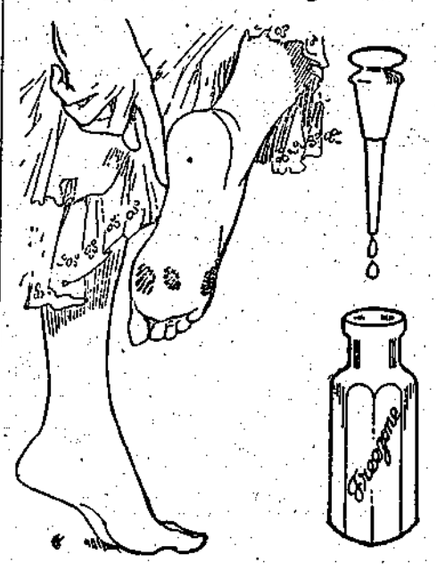
GIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" TO CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm tender little Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has sore throat, diarrhœa, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

LIFT CORNS OR CALLUSES OFF

Doesn't hurt! Lift any corn or callus off with fingers



Don't suffer! A tiny bottle of Freezone costs but a few cents at any drug store. Apply a few drops on the corns, calluses and "hard skin" on bottom of feet, then lift them off.

When Freezone removes corns from the toes or calluses from the bottom of feet, the skin beneath is left pink and healthy and never sore, tender or irritated.
