SESSION OF CITY COUNCIL

Communications and By-laws Take Up Most of the Time of a Rather Short Meeting

Mayor Acres and all the aldermen were present at the regular meeting of the city council on Monday evening.

A letter from the police commissioners stated that the board recommended that the back salary of the police magistrate be paid, and that in future $50 per month be paid him.

Another communication from the police commissioners stated that the board could not agree with the position taken by ex-Chief Norgrove, as presented by Solicitor Riley in a threatened action for damages. The mayor council seemed to think that the ex-chief had no case, and the matter was dropped.

A letter from C. V. Meggitt, asked for folders descriptive of the district for distribution.

A letter from the water controller, Victoria, stated that the Granby company had filed an objection to the city's application for a water record on Mill creek. A copy of the draft of the points on which the company objected to the granting of the application was enclosed in the letter and read to the council. Referred to the water and light committee.

Hon. John Oliver, transmitted a letter to the council from the finance minister dealing with taxation outside of municipalities for school purposes. The clerk was instructed to acknowledge the letter and to thank the premier for the information contained in it.

The mayor reported that Mr. Walsh, of the Grand Forks Mill company, had approached him with a proposition to move the Lynch creek to Smelter lake, provided the company was given reasonable assurance that the smelter dam would be maintained. The council decided to take the matter up with the provincial government and with the Granby company. A resolution was also adopted instructing the clerk to communicate with the Granby company and ascertain what steps it was prepared to take make the dam safe for the city.

The mayor stated that A. H. Eureby, although he had not enlisted in this city, had asked for one of the city's certificates of service. The council granted his request, and Mr. Eureby was requested to be present at the next meeting of the council to receive the certificate from the hands of the mayor. The council also wished it made known that if there are any other ex-soldiers in the city who have not received certificates, they will be supplied with the same if they present themselves at the next council meeting.

The chairman of the finance committee reported that no acceptable offer had been received for the bonds. Several brokerage firms had made requests for options on the bonds. He recommended that a Toronto financial firm be given a sixty days' option on the $55,000 worth of bonds, and that the Bank of Commerce be notified of the action taken. The recommendation was approved.

The chairman of the board of works reported that street work was in progress and that Wm. Eddicoat had been granted a permit to erect a blacksmith shop on Second street in accordance with the fire limit by-law.

The chairman of the water and light committee reported that the city reservoir had been repaired. Joe Manly had been promised electric power to irrigate his four-acre orchard at 12 per k.w. hour. The Sun would also be supplied power when ready for the same.

The mayor reported that night patrols of mounted police had been placed at two homes in this city.

The Grand Forks percentage by-law, 1920, was advanced to the third reading stage.

Mayor Acres stated that he expected to leave the city for a few days, and he appointed Ald. Hull mayor pro tem during his absence.

Ald. Miller gave notice that at the next meeting he would ask leave to introduce a bylaw providing for the diversion of water from Mill creek into the city reservoir.

FUNERAL OF LATE GEORGE STANFIELD

The funeral of the late George Stanfield, held at 2:30 last Saturday afternoon, was one of the largest ever witnessed in Grand Forks, the members of the Masonic and Knights of Pythias lodges, of which orders deceased was a member, attending en masse and participating in the rites. The service at Holy Trinity church, conducted by Rev. P. C. Hayman, was very impressive. The sermon, though short, was full of pathos, and touched many in the audience to tears.

Those who sent flowers were: The city council, Messdames and Messrs. O. Dunn, H. A. Sheads, E. C. Henniger, S. Dinsmore, John A. Hutton, W. Dewdney, Kirkpatrick, E. Janne, P. Hansen, Fowler, E. J. R. Walton of Nelson, Clunis, Mulford, Geo. E. Massie, Messdames A. C. Burr, John Peck, Miss S. Donnan, the Mounted Police, Provincial Police, Miller & Gardner, Ruth Eureby, Woman's Auxiliary, E. Vant, K. of P. Lodge No. 25 of Nelson, Holy Trinity church committee; Second, Third and Fourth Grades, High School; teachers and pupils first year High School, U. S. Customs and Emigration, Grand Forks K. of P. Lodge No. 30, Mrs. Stanfield's Sunday school class.

GOVERNMENT OFFERS REWARD OF $2500

The provincial government has offered a reward of $2500 for information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons guilty of the murder of the late Constable George Stable.

Inspector Dunwoody, of the provincial police, has returned to the coast after investigating the murder case that resulted in the death of the late George Stanfield.

NORTH FORK RAILWAY BRANCH

Premier Oliver Explains Why Present Government Is Powerless to Act in Extension Matter

In a letter to the Grand Forks Liberal association, through E. C. Henniger, Hon. John Oliver, premier and minister of railways, makes the following statement regarding the extension of the Kettle Valley line to Franklin camp:

This company was incorporated by the Dominion parliament in 1901. They have had extensions of time for the completion of their line of railway at different periods. The last extension of which I can find any trace expired on the 8th of April last. This is as far as their Dominion incorporation is concerned.

I find, however, that the Kettle Valley Railway company, made an agreement with the government of the province of British Columbia. This agreement is contained in a schedule of chapter 26 of the statutes of 1910. Among other provisions was one that the Kettle Valley Railway company was to build a branch line to Franklin camp. This line was to be completed in four years. There was no cash subsidy in connection with this branch. There were, however, certain certain exemptions from taxation, and the railway company was to give a bond satisfactory to the lieutenant-governor for carrying out the work.

There was a cash subsidy for that portion of the railway between Penticton and Nicola. This road does not appear to have been fully built under the terms of this grant. I understand, however, that some twenty miles were built northward from Grand Forks.

In 1914 an agreement was entered into between the government of the province and Kettle Valley Railway company in respect to the extension of the railway to Franklin camp by the North Fork of the Kettle river. I quote the following extracts from this agreement which appears to me to be a sufficient explanation of the present position:

"And whereas the railway company should not be required to do further construction up the North Fork until further and satisfactory development of Franklin camp mineral district shall warrant the same."

"Now this agreement further witnesseth, that the province agrees in consideration of the agreement herein contained on the part of the railway company, that the railway company need not proceed with further construction up the North Fork of the Kettle river, unless and until the further satisfactory development of the Franklin camp mineral district shall warrant such further construction."

"And this agreement further witnesseth, that in consideration of the above agreement on the part of the province, the railway covenants and agrees with the province to extend the line from Grand Forks up the North Fork of the Kettle river to Franklin camp, mineral district whenever the actual and further development of said district shall warrant sufficient tonnage to justify such construction.

As the agreement is silent upon who is to be satisfied that the tonnage is sufficient to justify construction, the presumption is that it must be satisfactory to the railway company. Under these circumstances, it appears to me that the question as to whether they build or not is entirely in the hands of the railway company.

I am not sure whether it was yourself, personally or one of our Liberal friends who wished to be informed on this matter, but the above contains all the information which I am able to furnish.

MONTHLY MEETING OF THE I. O. D. E.

The monthly meeting of the I. O. D. E. was held in the chapter's room on Thursday, with twenty members present.

Mr. Kerby reported regarding the flags for soldiers' graves, and said that they had been mounted and placed over the graves of three heroes who had died after returning home. Two others had not been provided for, but would be as soon as flags could be obtained.

One hundred and forty dollars was voted to the national war memorial fund, which completes the assessment for this chapter of eight hundred and forty dollars.

As the next meeting of the chapter would fall on Dominion day, it was decided to hold the meeting on Wednesday, June 30.

The meeting adjourned with the singing of the national anthem.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

While all possible assistance should be given the proper authorities by the citizens to bring the perpetrator or perpetrators of the cowardly crime committed here last week to justice we fail to see the wisdom of libeling our city by spreading the report broadcast that Grand Forks is a seething bed of lawlessness. Excepting the crime of last week, we believe that police court statistics will bear us out in the assertion that the people in this community are more law abiding than in any other town of similar size in British Columbia. To make the positive charge, as has been done, that the crime last week was committed by a "boot-legger," in view of the verdict rendered by the coroner's jury, necessarily carries the implication, with it that the person making the statement must have been an accessory of the crime. We do not wish to minimize the gravity of the present situation, or to attempt to belittle the enormity of the crime, but unless a person has some tangible evidence to offer, we believe that is the better part of wisdom to give the officers working on the case a free hand. No good can be accomplished by making wild charges against any class of people, and much harm may result.

BOARD INCREASES POLICE FORCE

Nerves High Strung at a Meeting of the Commissioners—Asks Government to Assist

The high nervous tension which usually follows bad tragedies was slightly evidenced at the meeting of the board of police commissioners on last Monday night. A resolution was adopted, authorizing four additional policemen to the force temporarily. Another resolution called on the provincial government to police the city until such time as the illicit liquor traffic is brought under control.

The admission that the liquor traffic had passed beyond the control of our local authorities, was a blow to believe. We still have faith in our police force and in the board of police commissioners.

The meeting was attended by a number of our leading citizens. They all expressed a desire that drastic steps be taken to stamp out the liquor traffic and that ample police protection be given the citizens. The board promised to meet their wishes.

The chief's monthly report, which failed to show any aggravated cases of lawlessness, was read.

The mayor said there were certain rumors afloat around town, and he asked Chief Parks concerning his whereabouts on the night when the murder was committed. The chief replied that he had walked around town till 10 o'clock, sat in front of fire hall till 11; went around town again, and turned off store lights at 11:15; went back to the fire hall again, and talked to "Pete" Chief Norris; told him he would stay up for the train; went into a cell, laid down; fell asleep and stayed till morning. He had not drunk a glass of whisky during the past fifteen years.

One of the parties who was alleged to have started the rumor that the chief was intoxicated on this particular night, contradicted the report. A number of other persons who had seen the chief, during the night, also testified that he was perfectly sober.

Card of Thanks

We wish to tender our heartfelt thanks to the citizens of Grand Forks for the kind words of sympathy and many acts of kindness extended to us during our sad bereavement.

Automobile tramps have taken the place of the Weary Willies. They may be more ornamental than the latter, but they are not one whit more useful to society. The Dusty Willies were satisfied with a bare existence and the blue sky for a blanket at night; they wasted nothing. The motor car variety require an army of attendants to wait on them, and are daily consuming vast stores of material that is now needed for farm tractors. The fact that they are known as tourists instead of tramps, does not add one iota to their value in the present fabric of civilization. If they and the army required to produce the material they waste were engaged in useful productive occupations, the cost of living would soon drop and society would once more re-establish itself on a sane basis.

The road of reckless pleasure has plenty of parlor cars and a smooth roadbed, but most uncomfortable terminal facilities.

By establishing imperial air routes and new aeroplane mail services, by encouraging civil aviation and by doing what it can to make night flying safe, Great Britain is building an air force that will link together the widely separated domains of the British empire, and that will form a trained reserve to supplement the fighting forces in time of war. For some years to come Egypt will be the center of the system of air routes. Thence air lanes will lead to the Cape, India and Australia.

Automatic telephones that the New York Telephone company is installing at Dunkirk, Ithaca and Geneva make it possible for the subscriber to call any number by using a dial attached to the ordinary telephone instrument. A subscriber who uses one of these instruments need not know whether the telephone he is calling is automatic or not, for, since the automatic telephones are connected also with the ordinary switchboards, the connection will be made promptly in either case, and if the number called is busy a signal will sound in the receiver. The company plans soon to extend the service to New York city.

It is a great deal easier to find an engine than it is to find an engineer.

It is interesting to note that prohibition has lessened materially the demand for certain delicacies that used to be much esteemed. Only about one-fourth as many terrapins are sold now, and keepers of restaurants are buying fewer chickens than ever before. It is predicted, too, that the demand for crabs this summer will be much lessened. Unimportant though the lessened demand is to the great majority, who will save their money and be the better for it, to those who make their living by marketing terrapins and crabs it is a serious matter.

A quarrel is harder on a man than a week's work, and takes him quite in the opposite direction.

Athletics serve their highest purpose when they foster a sportsmanlike spirit. There have been severe criticisms of the partizan attitude taken by the crowds that attend athletic contests in this country, and the censure seems to be rightly placed.

You can not hope to solve mathematical problems [with emotions]; the same is true of problems in economics.

Far away in the Sahara desert a French soldier lay mortally wounds. When the surgeons told him that he had only four or five hours to live, he said, "To die is nothing, but to die without a priest or the consolations of religion is hard." A brother officer who belongs to the aviation corps overheard him. "I will bring you a priest," he said. He dashed to his machine, started the motor, and in a moment was in the air and heading north, for Laghouat, two days' march away. In less than four hours he was back in camp with a priest.

"Life is short," says Josh Billings, "but it is long enough to ruin enny man who wants tew be ruined."

A group of New Yorkers dined the other day on some curious dishes. There were octopus soup, rock cod from New Zealand, roast breast of penguin, peas from Argentina, sea elephant cutlets and salads made from endive grown in Tasmania. The diners were guests of a former companion of Sir Ernest Shackleton in the Antarctic. All the fish and meats served at the meal had been frozen two years before in the south seas and were brought north to show how great and how varied a food supply the Antarctic continent can furnish.

An Afterthought

We have read somewhere of an old Scotchman whose wit was edged with pessimism. One morning he met at her gate a neighbor whose husband was seriously ill.

"And hoo's yer husband this morning, Mrs. Tamson?" he asked, solicitously.

"Oh, he's awful bad! The doctor said his temperature has gone to one hundred and fifty."

"Nae, nae, you've made a mistake. Sandy's temperature could never be as muckle as one hundred and fifty—at least no' in this world," he added, as an afterthought.

The Poetry Business

Soon after the death of the poet Wordsworth, a gentleman met a farmer of the neighborhood and said to him:

"You have had a great loss."

"What loss?"

"Why, you have lost the great poet."

"Oh, ay," said the farmer, "he is dead, but ah hev no doubt the wife'll carry on 't business an mak it as profitable as iver it was."

Pointing a Moral

A dear old lady, writes Edwin Pugh in A Book of Laughter, was in charge of a party of her nephews and nieces. They were going the rounds of a museum, and the guide had just said in a very impressive voice:

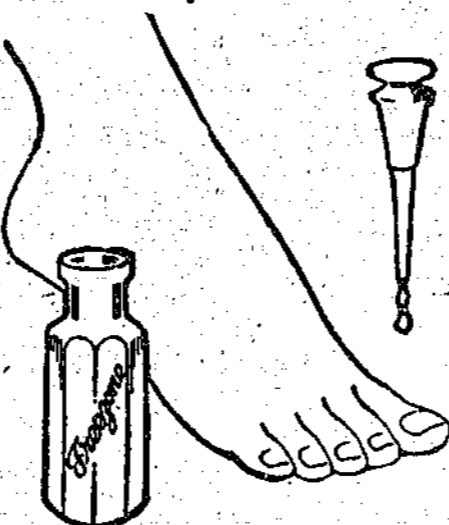

"Here you see the waistcoat worn by Lord Nelson at the Battle of Trafalger. The bullet that ended his life went through this hole here."

And the dear old aunt said:

"You see, children! Haven't I always warned you against carelessness and untidiness? If that hole had been mended at the proper time, the bullet could not have gone through, and dear Nelson would still be alive."

"Henrietta," exclaimed Mr Meek-ton all of a sudden, "I'm going to put my foot down—"

"I was just going to speak of that," she interrupted. "You are going to put both feet down—on that mat on the front step and wipe them carefully the next time you come into this house."

A. D. Morrison on the 15th inst sold his jewelry business to J. C. Taylor, who has been in charge of the store for a couple of years. Mr. Morrison retires from business after having conducted a jewelry store for thirty-four years, twenty-one years of which he has been in business in Grand Forks and the balance of the time in Ontario. During that period he never went through a fire and only had one minor burglary. In future he will devote his entire attention to the fruit growing industry, of which he has already made a marked success. Mr. Taylor, the new proprietor of the store, is an energetic young business man, and he will doubtless meet with the success to which his high standing in the community entitles him.

Hon. W. J. Bowser, leader of the opposition in the provincial legislature, spent part of Monday and Tuesday in the city. He was on his way to the Masonic convention in Nelson. His object in stopping off here, he said, was to urge the electors to get their names on the voter list. As far as is known, he addressed no public meeting here.

E. Davis, of Victoria, visited the city on Monday in connection with the government irrigation scheme in this valley. At a meeting with the irrigation committee Monday forenoon the matter of the organization of a water municipality was left with the committee. It is said that the project looks more favorable now than it did after the recent public meeting.

William Cooper, of Calgary, has purchased the ten-acre farm of David Feigbner situated about 1 1/2 miles east of the city. The farm, which is one of the best ten-acre tracts in the valley, was sold for $2750. The sale was made through the real estate office of S. T. Hull.

W. J. Galipeau, manager of the Grand Forks Concrete company, has received an enquiry about his cement work from a municipality in Miss Vivinn Brooks, of this city and Mr. Cranston, of Revelstoke, were married in the Presbyterian church here on Tuesday, Rev. Hillis Wright performing the ceremony.

A Needless Expense

A mighty builder of railways, the late George Pauling, was known from the Cape to the Congo, and from Beire to Angora, as the constructor of almost every mile of line throughout South Africa. What Cecil Rhodes dreamed Pauling built, and there is a quaint story of their close association.

On his frequent journeys to and from England Rhodes insured fresh eggs for breakfast by taking a coop of hens on board the steamer. Pauling, his frequent fellow traveller, was asked why he did not indulge in a similar luxury.

"Oh!" said Pauling. "I don't bother about the hens. I give the boss a sovereign and I get Rhodes' eggs."

A Double Exposure

The first barrage was too much for Rastus, colored doughboy, and he took to his heels. Some distance back of the lines he was intercepted by an officer, who inquired why he was running.

"I saw de shells a-comin' at me, cunnel, and I jes' had to run."

"You saw the shells?"
"Yes, sah; I saw one big shell twice—first when it passed just over my head and second when I passed just under it."

Synopsis of Land Act Amendments

Minimum price of first-class land reduced to $5 an acre; second-class to $2.50 an acre.

Pre-emption now confined to surveyed lands only.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes and which is non-timber land.

Partnership pre-emptions abolished, but parties of not more than four may arrange for adjacent pre-emptions with joint residence, but each making necessary improvements on respective claims.

Pre-emptors must occupy claims for five years and make improvements to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivation of at least 5 acres, before receiving Crown Grant.

Where pre-emptor in occupation not less than 3 years, and has made proportionate improvements, he may, because of ill-health, or other cause, be granted intermediate certificate of improvement and transfer his claim.

Records without permanent residence may be issued, provided applicant makes improvements to extent of $30 per annum and records same each year. Failure to make improvements or record same will operate as forfeiture. Title cannot be obtained in less than 5 years, and improvements of $10.00 per acre, including 5 acres cleared and cultivated, and residence of at least 2 years are required.

Pre-emptor holding Crown grant may record another pre-emption. He requires land in conjunction with his farm, without actual occupation, provided statutory improvements made and residence maintained on Crown granted land.

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homestead; title to be obtained after fulfilling residential and improvement conditions.

For grazing and industrial purposes areas exceeding 50 acres may be leased by one person or company.

Mill, factory or industrial sites on timber land not exceeding 40 acres may be purchased; conditions include payment of stumpage.

Natural hay meadows, inaccessible by existing roads may be purchased conditional upon construction of a road to them. Rebate of one-half of cost of road, not exceeding half of purchase price, is made.

PRE-EMPTORS' FREE GRANTS ACT.

The scope of this Act is enlarged to include all persons joining and serving with His Majesty's Forces. The time within which the heirs or devisees of a deceased pre-emptor may apply for title under this Act is extended from one year from the death of such person, as formerly, until one year after the conclusion of the present war. This privilege is also made retroactive.

No fees relating to pre-emptions are due or payable by soldiers on pre-emptions recorded after June 26, 1918. Taxes are remitted for five years.

Provision for return of moneys accrued, due and been paid since August 4, 1914, on account of payments, fees or taxes on soldiers' pre-emptions.

Interest on agreements to purchase town or city lots held by members of Allied Forces, or dependents, acquired direct or indirect, remitted from enactment to March 31, 1920.

SUB-PURCHASERS OF CROWN LANDS.

Provision made for issuance of Crown grants to sub-purchasers of Crown Lands, acquiring rights from purchasers who failed to complete purchase, involving forfeiture, on fulfillment of conditions of purchase, interest and taxes. Where sub-purchasers do not claim whole of original parcel, purchase price due and taxes may be distributed proportionately over whole area. Applications must be made by May 1, 1920.

GRAZING.

Grazing Act, 1919, for systematic development of livestock industry provides for grazing districts and range administration under Commissioner. Annual grazing permits issued based on numbers ranged; priority for established owners. Stock-owners may form Associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits for campers, campers or travellers, up to ten head.

SNAPS IN CITY PROPERTY

CITY OF GRAND FORKS will hold a sale of Acre Plots and smaller parcels of land suitable for gardening or building. These properties have been listed at very low upset prices and may now be purchased at the City Office. Many of these parcels of land are located on City Water Mains and Irrigation can be arranged for at low cost, while many, especially those in West Grand Forks, will come under the irrigation system when installed. These would all be good buys at any time, but should be particularly attractive with the coming of irrigation to the valley.
