WILL PROTECT THE CITIZENS

Agents Selling Stock for Non-Resident Companies Must Pay $25 Per Day

The meeting of the city council on Monday night was rather abbreviated, compared with former sessions. Mayor Gaw and Ald. Bickerton, Bonthron, Donaldson, Henniger, Manly and McCallum were present.

A communication from A. B. Berber & Co., of Boston, stated that the firm bought and sold second hand electrical machinery. On motion of Ald. Manly, the clerk was instructed to offer the water wheel and motor at the smelter power house for sale.

A communication from the railway commission, Ottawa, stated that the application for a station in the West end of the city would be heard at Revelstoke on the 18th inst. On motion of Ald. McCallum and Manly, the council decided to remain neutral in the matter, and the clerk was instructed to notify the commission to this effect.

A legal opinion had been obtained from Jas. H. Ryly regarding the sale of Calgary oil shares in the city. Mr. Ryly stated that the traders' license bylaw did not really cover the sale of stock by transient and non-resident companies, and suggested that it be amended so as to safeguard the public. W. E. Hadden also addressed the council on this subject. He contended that the oil company he represented was a bona fide concern and that he was its duly appointed local representative. The matter was dropped with the intimation that notice of an amendment to the traders' license bylaw would be given later in the evening.

The chairman of the board of works reported that the cement sidewalks on Ida and Victoria avenues had been completed, as had also the board walks on Second street and near the Central school on Winnipeg avenue. In discussing the proposed cement sidewalk on First street, the chairman brought up the question as to who should bear the expense of laying the walk across alleys and streets. The council decided to be guided in this matter by the provisions of the cement sidewalk bylaw, which provides that all the property owners in the block must bear their pro rata share of the cost.

On motion of Ald. Henniger and Bickerton, the clerk was instructed to inform the city health officer that he must notify the chairman of the health and relief committee of all charity cases before any expense is incurred.

The chairman of the health and relief committee thought that milk tests should be made oftener in the future than they have been made in the past.

On motion of Ald. Bickerton, the health and relief committee was granted the use of the city team for 2½ days in order to carry away the balance of the debris gathered together on "clean-up" day.

Ald. McCallum reported that the city was now in a fairly clean condition.

Ald. Bonthron, chairman of the board of works, stated that the cement sidewalk around the new post office would be completed as soon as permission to proceed with the work was obtained from the government.

Ald. Manly, chairman of the finance committee, recommended the payment of the city payroll and the past month's accumulation of bills, which was concurred in by the council. The council also decided to pay the balance of Mr. Ryan's account into court.

A grant of $25 per month was made to the board of trade. The grant dates from May 1 of the current year and continues until further notice.

Ald. Henniger suggested that all city lights could now be turned out at 3 a.m. At present there was a great deal of waste of power.

Ald. Manly gave notice that at the next sitting of the council he would bring in an amendment to the traders' license bylaw. He also gave notice that at the same meeting he would ask leave to introduce a rate and tax levy bylaw.

The council then adjourned until Wednesday night.

At the adjourned meeting of the city council on Wednesday evening Mayor Gaw and Ald. Bonthron, Manly and McCallum were present.

Ald. Manly was granted leave to introduce his amendment to the traders' license bylaw, which passed its first and second readings, was considered in and adopted by the committee of the whole, and then under a suspension of the rules was read for the third time. The bylaw provides that local agents selling shares for a non-resident company must pay a license fee of $25 per day. Non-resident real estate agents who wish to do business in the city must also pay the same fee.

The financial committee was instructed to investigate the best method to collect the dog tax, and to report at the next meeting of the council.

The chairman of the board of works was instructed to investigate the best method of dealing with the street sprinkling problem and to report at the next meeting. In the meantime this work was left under his charge. He was also instructed to look after the destruction of noxious weeds.

GRANBY SMELTER ORE TREATMENTS

For the seven days ending June 7, the Granby smelter in this city treated 23,537 tons of ore, 23,284 tons of which were from the company's own properties and 253 tons of foreign ore. For the same period Granby shipped 261,000 pounds of blister copper.

For the present year up to June 7, the Granby smelter treated a total of 529,698 tons of ore, 519,954 tons being from the company's mines at Phoenix and 9,744 tons from foreign properties. The blister copper shipments for the year were 8,814,295 pounds.

It is easy to grow a cover crop of weeds at present.

UNIFORMS FOR THE CADETS

Local Corps Inspected by Maj. Belson---To Camp at Kaslo

Major Belson inspected the Grand Forks Cadets yesterday, on the school ground, and expressed himself as well satisfied with the showing the corps had made.

The major, in addressing the boys, stated that a mistaken idea prevailed in some quarters regarding the cadet movement. Some people were of the opinion that the boys were being trained for soldiers. Such was not the case. The movement was to assist the boys of today to be better citizens and men that any country would be proud of, by teaching them obedience, to think quickly and to be dependent upon themselves as well as giving them a course in manual training to properly develop their bodies.

After complimenting the company on their splendid appearance in their new uniforms, the major informed them that arrangements had been completed for their annual outing, which would be held at Kaslo this year, the cadets of the interior going into camp at that point about July 20. All transportation expenses, as well as those in camp, would be paid by the government. There would be plenty of sport and he hoped every member of the company would go.

Archie Symes was in command, and assisted by Stanley Donaldson and Rennie Keron, put the company through their various drills, including skirmishing. The corps showed much attention to the commands of their officers and the company made a splendid showing and one which their instructor, A. S. Matheson, may well be proud of.

Quite a number of citizens, including the members of the board of school trustees, were present during inspection and were well pleased with the advancement the cadets are making.

NEWS OF THE CITY

With the news that the Granby Consolidated Mining & Smelting company is now engaged in opening up the old Hadley copper property at Hadley, Alaska, the steamship Spokane, of the Pacific Coast Steamship company, arrived in Seattle on Monday from Skagway and other southeastern Alaska points. For the first time in years she called at Hadley to deliver freight to the company. The company is ready to begin work on the construction of a new wharf there, and will also erect new bunkers.

J. R. Jackson, M.P.P. for Greenwood riding, was in the city on Monday and Tuesday, and was busily engaged with his auto in piloting Hon. Thomas Taylor over the country roads.

James Mitchell, who has been visiting at the home of his cousin, Robert Lawson, returned on Saturday to his home in Summerland, where he owns a fruit ranch. Mr.

Mitchell was very favorably impressed with the Kettle valley as a fruit growing district. He even hinted that he preferred it to the far-famed Okanagan.

Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Currie and F. Downey left on Saturday for Victoria, where Messrs. Currie and Downey will represent Gateway Lodge No. 45, I.O.O.F., at the 50th Jubilee convention.

F. Legault, formerly manager of the British Columbia Telephone company in this city, but now manager of the Kootenay Power & Light company at Greenwood, was in the city on Monday.

The Grand Forks Creamery company is the latest enterprise to be launched in the city. Atwood Bros. are the proprietors. The company will deal in sanitary milk and cream, which will be delivered to customers.

Robert Lawson, the fruit grower, left on Tuesday for Regina. He will investigate market conditions at various points in the prairie provinces before returning home.

A joint celebration of the Fraternal Order of Eagles and the Scandinavian Aid and Fellowship societies of the Boundary will be held at Christina Lake on June 22.

Mrs. McPherson and daughters, who has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Needham, returned to Trail on Tuesday.

In the intermediate baseball game at the exhibition grounds on the 7th, Grand Forks was an easy winner against Republic, the score being 16 to 4. A good crowd witnessed the game.

Tom Livingston, the well known prospector, returned on Saturday from a three months' vacation trip to southern California. He left on Wednesday for Franklin and Gloucester camps.

G. M. Fripp received a telegram from Nelson that the daily passenger train service between Nelson and Midway on the Canadian Pacific railway would be resumed on Tuesday, and at 1:30 on that day the train pulled into the union station. The news was received with unalloyed joy by the people of the Boundary. This obviates the expense of bringing the case before the railway commission.

The new library in Knox Presbyterian church is now ready for distribution. Those who want books can get them on Friday evenings from 7:30 to 8, and on Sunday mornings from 10 to 11. No book is to be kept out longer than two weeks. The library is free to any adult citizen.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lemaster and family left yesterday for Wenatchee, Wash., where they will reside in future.

Hon. Thomas Taylor, minister of public works, spent Monday and Tuesday in the city, and inspected the roads and public works of the district. On Tuesday he was taken as far north as Gloucester camp by Road Superintendent Spraggett.

Died—In Grand Forks, on Saturday, June 6, infant son Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Peterson. The funeral was held on Monday.

WAS PLEASANTLY ENTERTAINED

George Bury and Party See the Smelter and Fruit Growing Industry

One of the most successful informal functions ever attempted in Grand Forks was carried out on Monday, when George Bury and family, W. O. Miller and other officials of the Canadian Pacific railway were entertained by the board of trade and the city council and a large number of the ladies of the city. The party visiting our city was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bury and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Drummond-Hay, Mr. and Mrs. George Bury Jr., W. O. Miller, H. B. Walkem and other officials. The most pleasing part of the whole entertainment was the warm greeting given to Mrs. Bury and the other ladies of the party by the ladies of Grand Forks.

Promptly at 9:30 a.m. the entire party, accompanied by about twenty of the citizens and their wives, entered the automobiles so generously provided and proceeded to the Granby smelter. The party was there taken in charge of by Mr. Bishop, and the process of extracting the minerals was fully explained to them. Leaving the smelter, the party, in eight autos, fully loaded, proceeded east of the city as far as the orchard formerly owned by Hon. Martin Burrell. Returning, the party proceeded west as far as the Western Pine Lumber company's plant, where Mr. Bury could see the new cut-off now being completed. Returning to the city, the party crossed the Fourth street bridge, drove over the macadamised road to Danville and then to the old Covert estate. The members of the party were greatly enthused over the beautiful orchard and grounds. A dainty luncheon, which was greatly appreciated by everyone, was served on the lawn by Mr. Metcalfe and his assistant. On the trip back to the city some of the members of the party went to the top of the hill, where a magnificent view of the whole valley was obtained.

When the party reached the union station, after driving a distance of thirty miles, it was discovered that the ladies of Grand Forks had presented to Mrs. Bury a beautiful bouquet of home grown flowers.

Many expressions of praise and thanks were given by Mr. Bury and party to the board of trade and the city council for the pleasant entertainment given.

The board of trade and the city council wish to thank heartily all of the ladies who were present for their assistance in making the social gathering a success, and also to Mr. Niles, who tendered the use of the residence and lawn on the Covert estate for the entertainment of the party.

It is stated on doubtful authority that a travelling man in this city this week discovered that an application of an electric poultice is an efficacious remedy for heart trouble.

FRIDAY, JUNE 12, 1914

THE Canadian Northern aid bill has passed the house and senate at Ottawa, and Canada's titled millionaire mendicants are happy once more. The next time Will and Dan come for assistance they will run up against a government that may not be so liberal with the people's money.

HON. MARTIN BURRELL, minister of agriculture, appears to be adding lustre to his fame. He has been photographed in company with Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Premier Borden and Geo. E. Foster. The picture arrived in Grand Forks last week, and the owner will have it framed when the post office clock arrives, in order to appropriately commemorate that important event.

A MEMBER of the cabinet of the provincial government visited our city this week, but the event was scarcely noticed except in official circles. A few years ago such an important occurrence would have caused a flutter of excitement. Is it possible that the remnant of our local Conservative association scrutinize from afar all officials who come to our city, and that only those who come not empty handed grow to favor in their eyes.

ONE reason why the flotation of "wild-cat" oil and mining stock is a sure-thing gamble for the promoters is because the purchasers take all the risk. It is the buyers' money that develops the properties. Then if a strike is made the promoters, who have put none of their own cash into the venture, always happen to hold a majority of the stock, and in the end the small shareholders, who should profit by their investments, are invariably forced out of the concern. It is a flim-flam game, and no one who has not money to throw away should have anything to do with it.

GEORGE BURY, second vice-president of the Canadian Pacific railway, had such a good time while in the city this week, and the citizens got so thoroughly acquainted with him, that in future we shall not feel at all embarrassed when we ask him for favors. Our first requests are quite modest. We should like to have a big tourist hotel at Christina lake, a large brick and marble union depot in this city, the North Fork branch extended to Franklin camp, and we should also like to see Grand Forks made a common freight rates point. After these improvements have been made, we shall feel contented and will be happy forever more.

Dead Quiet

The little chap was playing "store" Along with other boys; And as they romped around the floor, They made a lot of noise.

"Keep that store quiet," mother said. The little chap was wise. "All right," gouth he, "we'll just pretend That we don't advertise."

Men Washed Dishes

Mrs. Harriett Prentiss Scott, a suffragette of Clearfield, Pa., finally, after two years of effort, has persuaded her husband to wash the dishes. He often quoted Scriptural texts to prove that the household duties belong to the wife.

Smilingly engaging her husband in argument, Mrs. Scott declared that good men in the early ages always washed the dishes, and she could prove it by the Bible.

"Prove it," said hubby, "and I'll wash our dishes for the next two years."

"I will wipe out Jerusalem as a man wipeth a dish, wiping it and turning it upside down," slowly read the wife from Second Kings.

"Humph! let me see that!" snapped out Scott. "Humph!" he said again, after gazing at the words

MYSTERIOUS PLANT

Captain Frakes and C. B. Peterson have a dozen plants in their gardens which have an interesting history. The seed was sent Mr. Frakes by an old sea captain friend of his direct from Jerusalem, of which city the plant is a native. Mr. Peterson does not know whether the plant is a flower or a vegetable. At present it looks like a sunflower or a big weed. The seed resembled a peanut, and as the plant thrives exceedingly in this climate, it is quite probable that there may be Jerusalem peanuts on exhibition at our fall fair. The plant has many peculiarities. Whenever the name of its native city is mentioned in its presence it becomes visibly agitated, and when a Jew passes it, it waves its foliage at him as much as to say, "How do you do, comrade?" Mr. Peterson says he would not be surprised if the plant would sing "Jerusalem" as soon as it bursts out in bloom.

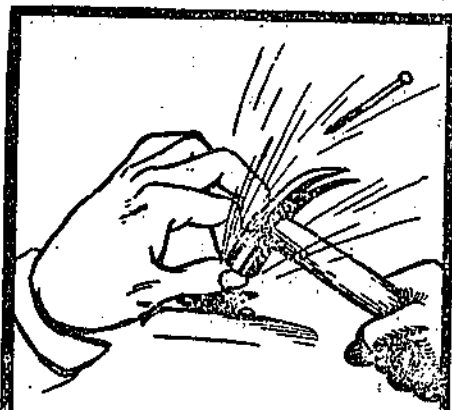

Grand Forks has probably the smallest baby in British Columbia. When it was born, nearly three years ago, it weighed just one and one-half pounds. Today, at the age of three, it is about the size of an ordinary baby at its birth, but it possesses all the intelligence that a child of its age is usually endowed with. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. Johnston, of the West end.

Girls! Try It! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful—Get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine.

If you care for heavy hair that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine. Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. Surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store and just try it.

GRADING AND SHIPPING BERRIES

Timely Bulletin Issued by the Department of Agriculture

The horticultural branch of the provincial department of agriculture has issued the following rules for picking, grading and shipping strawberries and raspberries. The rules have been compiled by Edwin Smith:

STRAWBERRIES.

1. Make pickings as soon as the color of the berries indicates the proper market maturity. For long express shipments pickings should be made when the berries show about one third color, the degree of color depending upon the distance of the market.

2. Make frequent pickings, going over the vines alternate days. Immediately after a period of rain go over the whole patch, cleaning up all the fruit and sending the fruit that is fit to the cannery.

3. Pick in the cool part of the day if possible and do not allow the fruit to stand in the sun or dust after picking. Carry the stands to the packing shed at once after they have been filled.

4. Each picker should be provided with stands holding six cups. Remove the berry from the vine by breaking the stem over the forefinger in giving the berry a little side motion. Do not injure the berry in any way, either by pressure or by tearing it loose from the calyx or "hull." Pick the vines clean and place the soft berries in separate cups for the cannery, throwing the culls away.

5. Pack the berries in a cool shed having plenty of light. Before packing remove the berries from the picking cups, placing them upon a cloth covered packing frame. Be sure the berries are perfectly dry before packing. Forcing air currents over the berries while they are upon the frames removes all moisture, brings out the lustre on the fruit and leaves it in a cool condition.

6. Use experienced packers. For long distance shipments make at least three grades: (A) distant market grade, using only sound, partially colored fruit; (b) local market grade, using sound and well colored fruit; (c) cannery grade, which includes a good quality of ripe fruit. All berries showing the least indication of decay or deterioration are culls and must be thrown away. Such berries will spoil the rest of the crate.

7. To determine the proper color that berries should have for long distance shipment by express the best plan is to study the train schedules and determine the amount of time it will require the berries to arrive at the destination. Pick several cups of berries at different stages of maturity and place them in a temperature of 65°. At the end of the given time inspect the berries and determine which is in the best shape. For this test the cups should be wrapped up in newspaper and the time of the test should be two or three days over the actual train time.

8. When packing for market use uniform sizes of berries, placing them in clean, new cups. Have the top layer of berries come slightly above the outside edge of the cups and have the rows faced evenly, so as to give an attractive appearance.

9. As soon as packed place the cups in the crate and keep in a cool place. In nailing on covers use four nails to the cleat. Do not nail superfluously, as it irritates the consumers and deflects from the packers' reputation.

10. Cool the berries down to 60° before shipping. This may be done by leaving the fruit in the night air and shipping in the morning.

RASPBERRIES.

1. Pick the berries as soon as the fruit will slip off the core without crumbling or mashing. Every berry that is red must come off the vine.

2. Pickers must use small carriers attached to the waist so as to hold the cups. Pick directly into the shipping cup and never transfer from one receptacle to another any raspberries that are to be shipped.

Have a separate cup for cannery berries. Throw away any berries showing decay. Do not put one overripe berry in the shipping cup, as it will spoil the rest, and the market condition of the whole crate will be ruined.

3. Berries should not be picked while the bushes are damp, either from rain, dew or fog, except for cannery purposes.

4. See that the cups are filled full, having all the corners filled to the top.

5. Pickers must not pinch the berries, nor hold them in the hand to be crushed. The berry should be taken firmly between the forefinger and the thumb, with a lateral twist removed from the core and placed directly in the shipping cup. Pinching makes a red discoloration after the berry has been on the market a few days, which is followed by premature softening and decay.

6. As soon as picked place the cups in the crate, which should be kept in a cool place. Never allow berries to stand in the sun or dust after being picked. For express shipments cool the berries to 60° by fanning with night air and ship the following morning.

Gibson-Barrett

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in Christ church on Thursday morning, when E. E. Gibson and Miss Teresa Barrett were united in marriage, Rev. Mr. Hayman performing the ceremony.

Mr. Gibson is a prominent young electrician, being Boundary manager for the West Kootenay Power & Light company. He has been a resident of the city for about ten years, and has a host of friends here. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Miles Barrett, Mr. Barrett having been general foreman at the Granby smelter ever since the plant started operating. She is very popular with the young people of the city. The many friends of the young couple extend congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibson left on an extended wedding tour immediately after the ceremony. On their return, they will make their home in this city.

British Columbia paid duty and inspection charges amounting to more than $86,000 on apples, pears and peaches alone during the year 1913, according to statistics compiled by Fruit Inspector Clarke, of Vancouver. The apple duty and inspection charges came to $49,600 last year; the figure for peaches was $29,408.70, and for pears $8,171.25. A total of 309,676 boxes of apples were imported, 35,575 boxes of pears, 11,375 boxes of plums, and 7,688 boxes of prunes, besides 38,180 boxes of peaches and 31,158 boxes of apricots. Vancouver alone consumed 99 carloads of peaches last year.

The Calgary Oil Boom

At the beginning of the week the Victoria Colonist took a very sound stand on the subject of the Calgary oil boom. It is possible that the salutary warning which it published may fall upon deaf ears, for in the excitement of a boom of any kind, even real estate, still more of oil, people lose their heads. But for this there would have been no South Sea Bubble, the precursor of thousands of fatuous speculations. At the same time it is none the less the duty of the public press to utter that warning and to tell the public the facts. The Colonist has wisely closed its columns to irresponsible advertising and it would be a boon at the present moment if the legislation now projected at Ottawa were actually on the statute books, so that advertisers could be made responsible for their statements. A genuine boom based on a solid foundation, while it may have objectionable features due to the impulsiveness and inconsistency of human nature, may also do much good in stirring up things and in advertising the resources of a country. If it lacks that solid foundation, it will react and the last end of that country will be worse than the first. Now, what is the truth about the Calgary boom? The best way to answer the question is to quote the highest and most competent authority. That authority, it is needless to say, is not Cunningham Craig, whose name has been so wide exploited in this connection, and whom nobody knows, but R. W. Brock, formerly head of the geological department at Ottawa, and now deputy minister of mines. Mr. Brock in an official manifesto states:

"At a depth of 2700 feet oil was struck that quickly rose to a height of from 2000 to 2200 feet in the well. There may perhaps be a notable quantity of this oil, but this has yet to be demonstrated, and the most universal history of the other fields has been that these white oils are rather limited in quantity. The strike therefore is encouraging, but a mule; he is apt to get back at you."

has not demonstrated an important commercial field. At the best oil prospecting is speculative; no one should invest money in oil prospecting if he cannot afford to lose. The development of a commercial field would be invaluable to the country, but this end is to be obtained only by sane, common sense, intelligent work. Reckless gambling on the oil prospects of the northwest may give legitimate prospecting a set-back that it may take a generation to overcome.

This is the opinion of a man of the highest scientific and practical attainments, who spent many years of his life in geological field work in British Columbia and Alberta for the Dominion government. He is a man of the highest integrity and of proved capacity, and when he says that a "commercial oil field has not yet been demonstrated" the statement may be accepted in the fullest sense. This is not to say that the evidences of oil already found in the Calgary district are not of the most promising character, nor is it to suggest that they will not lead to the discovery of commercial oil at greater depth. The Week has every confidence that this will be the case, and in this opinion is sustained by the reports of eminent geologists, but the point worth making is that at present the development of this great oil field is still in an elementary stage, and while it is a sound investment at bed rock prices, it is the most reckless gamble at such exorbitant figures as are being asked for some stocks. The investor should not allow himself to be rushed into purchasing stock at fabulous prices. There is no fear that he will be left out in the cold, because his money will be wanted before this field is fully developed, and he will yet have many opportunities to make a sound investment when the present period of inflation subsides into one of steady, businesslike development.—Victoria Week.

Don't attempt to take advantage of a mule; he is apt to get back at you.
