THE VALUE OF COOPERATION

Address at Annual Meeting of Fruit Growers' Association

The annual shareholders' meeting of the Grand Forks Growers' Cooperative association was held on Saturday evening last in the office of S. T. Hull, a number of shareholders attending. F. R. S. Barlee, secretary-treasurer, read a report on the operations of the association for the past year.

Robert Mann read the following very interesting address on the need of cooperation among the fruit growers of the valley:

"Gentlemen: With another year gone by—with another fairly successful season behind us, it is with a good deal of pleasure that I read this, my final report as president of the Fruit Growers' association of Grand Forks.

"During the past year we have watched events of world-wide importance. We have seen the Great War develop in magnitude till it surpasses anything that the imagination could have pictured even a year ago. We have seen our brave allies hold their lines against unnumbered foes—we have seen our heroic sons again and again cover themselves with that unsung glory which we have come to accept as ours by right of relationship with those glorious Canadians overseas. We have seen political upheavals of far reaching extent in most of the warring countries; we have consented by an overwhelming vote to allow those of our younger men who have not already sacrificed themselves to be taken away from us.

"All these events have conspired to change us. We are no longer a normal people—as an empire we are bordering on the hysterical—as a nation we have become more or less morbid in our thoughts, and as individuals we have for so long become inured to the awful catastrophe that our very feelings of humanity have left us, and the long daily casualty lists no longer excite more than passing comment. Such conditions are bound to have their effect on our every day affairs. There is no trade, business nor profession that finds itself unaffected, and perhaps no class of people finds itself so concerned as the farmer and the rancher.

"We have no desire to offer criticisms or comments that could be construed as playing at politics; yet we may be permitted to point out that while we are the most adversely affected by current events, yet we are not in the least protected from excessive taxation. Whatever our opinions as individuals, we may not as a society discuss political matters, still less can we hope to remedy things till ourselves, our leaders, our governments and the civilized world return to a normal state of mind and perspective.

"Our only hope of salvation in these strenuous and history making days is our mutual assistance. Cooperation is the keynote of the day. By it labor unions have attained benefits and are rapidly attaining a place of power undreamed of and impossible by individual effort. Our political leaders will eventually reach their object through cooperation; an object beyond the hopes of statesmen while individual effort and political strife held sway. Our empire united with brave and unconquerable allies will in the end triumph over a ruthless enemy; whereas we are all aware that these same allies, with the same resources, courage and leaders would as individuals bow down before a proud and arrogant conqueror.

"Let us, therefore, take to ourselves this lesson that is set before us. At no time in the history of fruit growing in British Columbia and in this valley has our very existence as fruit growers been so threatened. We have it on unimpeachable authority that this year we are to see an offensive launched against us by commission men and the larger buyers. It is to their particular advantage that we should be unorganized and unprepared. As individuals they will play us against one another till we can no longer resist and will be forced to accept what terms they are willing to offer us, and our work of years will be undone. Together we can combat them, and the stronger the front with which we oppose them at the start, the quicker will they understand that while at other points they may dictate prices and terms, yet in the Kettle valley there is a weapon called Cooperation that no individuals, as individuals, may combat.

"Had we been threatened as we are now several years ago we would have done well to fear the result, for these commission men and large buyers are men who understand well the value of organization, for it is by this very means that they are able to do their most effective work. They do not venture with hope of success into a district where cooperation is a tried and proven success. It is into districts such as ours where we are more recently combined and where some of our neighbors are still acting as individuals and hold-outs, and where certain of the members of our association are not thoroughly convinced of the effectiveness of combination. There are none of us but are men who have the ability to think for ourselves, yet we have joined ourselves together for our mutual benefit, and from a beginning of heavy indebtedness and few assets we have grown to a point where success is within sight. Shall we let one season of doubtful progress upset the advance made in several years? The very fact of last year's inferior crop should spur us on to greater efforts—it should teach us to prepare for other poor seasons. The lesson to be learned from last year's experience is, to have a higher standard of fruit. We all have a proportionate amount at stake; we have invested in expensive acreage and planted trees at heavy cost, year after year we have waited for our trees to bear; we have seen dry seasons and cold springs; we have seen our trees winter-killed, and have been forced to replant, and yet after all we are no worse off than are fruit growers in other sections. Other valleys sometimes seem better adapted than ours for the production of fruit, but on examination we find that these more prosperous com-

CHASE AFTER A DEMENTED MAN

Old Prospector Barricades His Cabin at Moody Creek

Immigration Inspector P. T. McCallum, Constable Stanfield and Chief of Police Norgrove had an exciting chase for a demented man on Friday last.

Some time ago Phil Reilly, an old prospector of this district, was released from an American asylum for the insane as cured. Recently he made application to re-enter the country to do assessment on some claims that he owns at Moody creek. His case was referred to Ottawa. Ottawa consented to grant the request provided he was rational. At that time he appeared to be perfectly rational, and Inspector McCallum allowed him to enter the country.

Recently complaints have come from Cascade that Reilly has been making gun plays and threatening to shoot people on sight. These complaints became so persistent, that on Friday the three officers decided to go to Moody creek to arrest the man.

At Moody creek they found Reilly's cabin empty. The building had been well barricaded, however, and all the weapons of modern warfare, except an airplane, a submarine and a poison gas machine, were in evidence. After considerable searching and inquiring the officers learned that Reilly had gone to Paulson, and they left for that place.

At Paulson Reilly was found sitting outside a cabin. The officers walked up to him when he was unaware of their approach. Mr. McCallum picked up the trusty laying at his side, and while engaged in examining it asked if it was loaded. Reilly replied that it was not. A later examination, however, showed that it contained seven shells.

Reilly was arrested and brought to this city. He has since been deported.

Communities have been through precisely the same troubles as ourselves, but they have learned their lesson—by pruning, by spraying and by careful watching they have gradually raised their standard of crop; by combining and cooperating they have found the best markets and obtained the highest prices.

"And now, gentlemen, I trust I have not wearied you of cooperation. I may have said more on the subject than you can all subscribe to, but it is a subject on which I feel very deeply, and I am firmly convinced that it is the only path out of our difficulties. For two years I have been president of this association. I have enjoyed the work and have felt honored to be in the position. There have been times when differences arose between us, when we expressed ourselves pointedly and when we have not hesitated to advance very decided opinions to one another on various matters. Yet at the end of it all I find that these free and frank criticisms and discussions have not weakened but rather strengthened our association, and have made of us all better friends, better neighbors and better members of the association. I have enjoyed my term of office and it is with the greatest reluctance that I herewith resign from that office. While certain private matters force me to this step, I intend to remain a member of the association, but must positively refuse to serve as either officer or director. I feel, moreover, that there are members to whom this honor is more due, and also there are members who should feel it their duty to give a little more time to the association, and this feeling, together with outside matters, causes me to ask you to consider this my formal resignation. I will do a line in my power to further the best interests of our association, I will not let outside influences swerve me from the cause of cooperation, and my whole belief is expressed in these my final words, 'United we stand, divided we fall.'

The following officers were elected for the coming year: Directors, Talfourd Padgett, J. T. Lawrence, S. T. Hull, C. A. S. Atwood, C. C. Heaven, H. W. Collins and Robert Mann; secretary-treasurer, F. R. S. Barlee; auditor, Dan McKinnon.

A general discussion ensued regarding the operations last year and the prospects for the coming season. On motion, a vote of thanks was tendered to the president, Robert Mann, for his excellent address and regret expressed at his resignation as president.

The meeting adjourned to meet again on Saturday, the 15th inst., when the auditor will present his report.

A meeting of the directors was then held, and Talfourd Padgett was elected president and J. T. Lawrence vice president.

News of the City

John Donaldson, one of the pioneer merchants of the city, and Miss Bell Huddard were married in Holy Trinity church at 8:30 Tuesday morning, Rev. P. C. Hayman performing the ceremony. Quite a number of people were present. After the ceremony an elaborate wedding breakfast was given at the home of the groom, at which about forty guests were present.

Mrs. F. M. Kerby, who has been in Spokane for a couple of weeks obtaining special medical treatment for her hand, in which blood poisoning set in after she injured it some time ago, returned home on Saturday. Her physician thinks there will be a complete recovery from the effects of her injuries.

Don Manly, who went to Vancouver a couple of weeks ago to join the colors, returned home on Saturday. He was transferred to Class E and will probably not again be called for service for some time.

R. A. Brown has gone north into a wilderness surrounded by civilization to relocate some fabulously rich placer claims. He has wagered a suit of clothes with a prominent merchant that he brings out $1000 worth of gold dust this fall.

W. H. Beach, of Christina Lake, was in the city on Tuesday.

GRANBY RUSHES ITS COKE PLANT

Product of Vancouver Island Mines Will Be Handled at Anyox

In connection with the large undertaking of the Granby Mining, Smelting & Power company on Vancouver island, where, in the vicinity of Cassidy's Landing, near Nanaimo, coal areas recently acquired are now being developed and already a 14-foot seam of coal has been located, work is also being proceeded with simultaneously on the $1,000,000 coke plant of the company at Anyox. This plant will be supplied with coal from the company's holdings on Vancouver island.

The coking plant at Anyox, with needed docking and other facilities incidental thereto, will be located at Graves Point, a mile and one-half from the company's great copper smelting plant. The ground has already been cleared of timber and the surface earth is being removed by hydraulic giants. The main dock has been completed and piles are being driven for the railway approach. Storage sheds are being erected, the brick shed alone to have a floor area of half an acre. Excavation for the coal bunkers has been finished and construction on the coke bunkers started. These will be 52 feet wide and 300 feet long and more than 705,000 feet of lumber will be used in their construction. The bins will have a total capacity of 12,000 tons of coal.

Besides coke to be made out of the coal from the company's holdings on the island, the plant at Anyox will produce gas, also valuable in smelting coal tar and other by-products.

It is estimated that by having its own source of coal supply where-with to manufacture its coke the company not only will save 50 cents a ton on its coke; but will be independent of other sources. Its experience of two years ago, when there was such a shortage of coke that its Grand Forks plant had to shut down, was the motive which impelled the company to secure its own source of supply.

CUSTOMS RECEIPTS

R. R. Gilpin, customs officer at this port, makes the following detailed report of the customs receipts at the head office in this city and at the various sub-customs offices, for the month of May, 1918:

The tension on the western front has been considerably relieved during the past week, and at present the outlook is decidedly encouraging. The supreme war council is confident of the ultimate outcome and the allied people are resolute not to sacrifice a single one of the free nations of the world to the despotism of Berlin. Their armies are displaying the same steadfast courage which has enabled them on many occasions to defeat a German onset. They have only to endure with faith and patience to the end to make victory for freedom secure. The free peoples and their magnificent soldiers will save civilization, says the supreme war council.

Fourteen vessels have been sunk during the week off the American Atlantic coast by German U-boat raiders.

Must Produce the Goods

The masters of the German people must give that people something of a definite achievement soon, or their dominance over them may be imperilled. They must produce, in compensation for the grim sacrifices which they have induced by fair promises their duped fellow countrymen to make something tangible and valuable. No status quo ante can be made to suit Prussian autocracy's book. Such an outcome could not be camouflaged to look anything but failure.—New York Sun.

America Following Suit

The Canadians who barred the way to Calais in April, 1915, had had only a few months' training before going into the trenches. The half million Americans now in France have had on the average the same period of apprenticeship. Probably most of them are destined to make their stand on almost the same ground as did the Canadians, and against a German offensive with the same objective.—Toronto Globe.

News of the City

There will be a solar eclipse tomorrow, and it will reach its maximum at about 4 p. m. In Spokane the sun will be 95 per cent dark, but in Grand Forks, where we have a multitude of Suns, no one will be inconvenienced by the darkness.

Mrs. G. A. Spink and Mrs. H. C. Kerman left today for a few days' visit to Spokane.

Corp. H. S. Sheads, of the provost marshal's office, was in the city Monday. He left for Vancouver on Tuesday in his motor car with a couple of young men from Trail who had failed to report for military service.

W. B. Willcox, the J. Rufus Wallingford newspaperman of Trail, visited some of his companion-pieces in the Boundary last Sunday. During his brief stay in Grand Forks,

Mr. Willcox exhibited undue concern regarding The Sun's circulation, and if the statements attributed to him by some of our friends are true, he indulged in some wilful misrepresentations. Why Mr. Willcox should bother himself about our business affairs is not entirely beyond our comprehension. For his information we may state that The Sun would not trade subscription lists with the Trail paper, either from a numerical standpoint or by valuation of the lists as indicated by the class of people that read the respective papers. About a year ago half a dozen country papers in this province were goldbricked into buying out-of-date typesetting machines. The Trail newspaper colossus was one of the half dozen. At that time Mr. Willcox threw out his chest (there is really nothing to the man but chest, unless it's wind) and decreed that every paper that didn't own one of these out-of-date machines and a few fonts of obsolete type would have to get out of business. The fact that The Sun has prospered since that time may have prompted the Trail man to take the underhanded method of slandering this paper he did last Sunday. Mr. Willcox is not the newspaper genius he imagines himself to be. He has boosted some towns off the map, it is true, and he is now engaged in milking Trail dry, and when he gets through he will have a few more dollars to invest in another country. But he doesn't get any more meals per day than we do.

The Acme of Usefulness

With the greater activity throughout the province, consequent on war-time needs, the telephone has been a great adjunct to the speedy termination of business. It supplements personal effort to the last degree, in fact its usefulness speaks for itself. That it is such a great utility, facilitating endeavor along every line, is due to the co operative human element behind the scenes which makes the valuable, inanimate equipment intensely useful.

The aim is to make the telephone of the greatest use and convenience to every user.

BRITISH COLUMBIA TELEPHONE COMPANY, LTD.

THE "WHY" IN FLOUR MILLING

"Why was the flour miller put under license?"

In June last the millers' profits on flour were fixed at 25 cents a barrel. This alone would not keep down the price of flour. Therefore the price of wheat was fixed.

With the limitation of millers' profits some firms found more profit in taking out of the grain a larger proportion of the higher priced feeds, as the prices of these ran away up. But this reduced the domestic flour supply. Then the price on bran and shorts was fixed and other feeds were not allowed to be made.

Later the "extraction" was set at 74 per cent of the wheat berry, i.e., the miller was compelled to mill his grain to give 74 per cent flour for human food, leaving for feed 26 per cent, for feed for cattle had to be supplied also.

The application of this fairly to the small man and the big firm alike could only be done by the license system. "What was sauce for the goose was sauce for the gander."

The small man has thus not been ousted from the essential war work of food production. He has been given a chance in trade at equal profit with the big firm. The only variable factor in the price of wheat today is railway freight; the Canada food board has no control over this part.

Americans have often journeyed to Europe about this time of year, but never before in such a steady stalwart stream and for such a splendid purpose—Toronto Globe.

Canada's Registration Its Purpose and Application

CANADA faces the gravest crisis in her history. Four years of war have taken from the Dominion a heavy toll in talent and labor, yet despite the shortage of man power, our Allies still depend on Canada to maintain her own fighting forces at full strength and to increase her exports of food and war materials, so vital to them, and to the successful prosecution of the war.

Every ounce by which Canada can increase her food production and every ounce Canada can save in her food consumption is needed for export to the Allies.

Should the war continue for another year, food cards and a rationing system may have to be instituted. It is the duty of Canada to be prepared for whatever situation circumstances may force upon her.

It is quite probable that before the war is won our Government may have to place restrictions upon the occupations in which men and women may engage. In such an event the Government wishes to be in a position to render all possible assistance in keeping our population usefully and profitably employed.

Registration Day, June 22nd

These conditions point to the necessity of Canada knowing the exact capabilities of her men and women at home.

All persons residing in Canada, male or female, British or alien of 16 years and over, will be required to register on June 22nd and truthfully answer the questions set forth upon the registration card.

It is not the Government's intention to conscript labour in any form, but to assist in directing it wisely, so that every available unit of human energy may be utilized to the best advantage.

The information procured through registration will be used as an aid to the Military Authorities in procuring the men necessary to maintain "Canada's First Line of Defence"—to mobilize all units of available labor in the Dominion and direct them from less essential to more essential occupations—to establish and intelligently administer a system of food rationing should that become necessary.

LEMONS WHITEN AND BEAUTIFY THE SKIN

Make this beauty lotion cheaply for your face, neck, arms and hands.

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quarter pint of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, whitener and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any drug store and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It is marvelous to smoothen rough, red hands.
