ENGINEERS WILL MAKE SURVEY

Satisfactory Progress Is Being Made in Irrigation Matters

A public meeting was held in the city hall on Monday to further consider the irrigation question. John T. Lawrence was chosen chairman.

A permanent committee consisting of the chairman, W. K. C. Manly and the secretary was appointed to deal with any minor matters that may arise in connection with the project in the future.

The following letter, addressed to John T. Lawrence, from J. E. W. Thompson, M.P.P., was read:

"With further reference to our exchange of telegrams in the matter of irrigation for Grand Forks valley, I have to report that the honorable the minister of lands informs me that provision is being made in the estimates of his department for completing the investigation started last fall. You can therefore assure the people of Grand Forks that a field party will make exhaustive and final reports early in the season, and should such reports be favorable, I have no doubt but that the work will be carried on."

In view of the encouraging nature of the contents of the letter, it was decided, after a general discussion, that it would not be necessary to send a delegation to Victoria at the present time. Those present thought it would be advisable to await further developments, and in lieu of the delegation the resolution printed below was adopted, and the chairman was instructed to forward it to Mr. Thompson, which he did on the following day:

"I have pleasure in acknowledging receipt of your letter of the 25th of February regarding the matter of irrigation for Grand Forks valley. At a meeting of the ranchers and business men, held in the city hall last night, the contents of the letter were made public and discussed. As chairman of the meeting, I was instructed to forward you a copy of a resolution which was passed unanimously. The resolution is as follows:

"That the thanks and appreciation of this meeting be conveyed to Mr. Thompson for his efforts with the government towards the securing of an irrigation system for the Grand Forks valley, and further urge that he use his best endeavors to have the government make such provision as will make it possible for the irrigation project to be carried out with the least possible delay as soon as a favorable report is received from the engineers who are about to make the investigation."

PLANNING HOME FOR CANADIAN NURSES

Thirty-seven members were present at the monthly meeting of the local chapter of the I.O.D.E., held the first of the week. Applications for membership were made by Mrs. R. Campbell, Mrs. B. Whiteside, Mrs. Cooper and Mrs. G. W. Averill.

The regent, Mrs. Munro, was appointed delegate to represent the local chapter at the provincial annual meeting, to be held in Vancouver in April.

The national chapter has undertaken to provide a home for Canadian nurses in London. The home of Lady Minto is available for this purpose, and the local chapter decided to send $80 as its portion of the undertaking, which will cost $25,000.

Lady Members' Maiden Speech

Mrs. Ralph Smith, the first woman to sit as a member of the British Columbia legislature, made her maiden speech last Friday afternoon in the course of the debate on the speech from the throne. She was heard by a full house and crowded galleries.

"I have come to you neither with a chip on my shoulder nor with a sword in my hand, but with a willingness to meet you on equal ground as representatives of the people," she told her fellow members.

By the ruling of the speaker, Mrs. Smith had to remove her hat before speaking.

Crowded galleries heard her, listening with interest to her declaration that while she came to the house with decided liberal tendencies she was there solely with the purpose of working in the best interests of the people, and especially of the women and children. Only, she said, when the woman's viewpoint was taken into consideration could the best results in legislation be accomplished. Referring to the problem of the returned soldier, she said the exemption of the property of soldiers and sailors from taxation was very necessary, and she also hoped the moratorium would be extended and its provisions made short, sharp and decisive, so that there should be no doubt of its meaning.

The care of the returned soldiers would, she thought, involve large expenditures, but it must be grappled with. She hoped opportunities would be made to enable the men to go on the land with prospects of earning a decent livelihood. She suggested that the women of the province should be utilized in every way in increasing production. The situation in British Columbia with respect to neglected and destitute children was serious in her opinion. She was glad to see the government was dealing with it. The institutional phase of the legislation should give place to the domestic. On some questions the province needed to change to the right-about.

JOHN OLIVER CHOSEN PREMIER

He Will Make No Changes in the Cabinet. It Is Announced

VICTORIA, March 5.—At a fully attended caucus meeting of the Liberal members of the legislature, held this evening, Hon. John Oliver was chosen as government leader to succeed the late Hon. H. C. Brewster. He will be sent for by the lieutenant-governor tomorrow morning and subsequently will announce his cabinet. There will be no changes in the personnel of the administration. Mr. Oliver will remain minister of railways in addition to being premier, and no by-election will be necessary. The vacancy arising in Victoria owing to the death of Premier Brewster will not be filled during the present session.

Tonight's caucus lasted for three hours, and it was not until several ballots had been taken that Hon. John Oliver was finally chosen as leader. In the first ballot the names submitted were those of Hon. J. H. King, Hon. John Oliver, Hon. J. W. DeB. Farris, Hon. W. Sloan and Hon. J. D. MacLean. The latter dropped out after the first count and Mr. Sloan was eliminated in the second ballot. Dr. King led in every ballot until the last, which resulted in the choice falling on Mr. Oliver. When the result was announced it was made unanimous. Subsequently Hon. John Oliver, the prospective premier, entertained his colleagues to supper at the Empress hotel.

Seed Grain Distribution

Farmers who have not already made provision for securing the seed grain necessary for the crops they plan to grow during the present year will now have great difficulty in obtaining good selected seed. Throughout the Dominion of Canada and the United States a great scarcity of practically all kinds of seeds exists, and those who have not as yet filled their requirements would be well advised to take immediate steps to do so.

The provincial department of agriculture is receiving many requests from farmers asking that they be supplied with seeds of different kinds. It is obvious that it would be an impossibility, neither would it be sound policy, for the department to undertake to meet the requirements of all those people who ask for assistance of this kind. It is the duty of cultivators of the soil to make provision themselves for their seed requirements, and all progressive farmers under ordinary conditions do so.

Instances occur, however, when there may be a total or partial crop failure in certain districts where the assistance of the government in the way of supplying seed grain is, in the public interests, both necessary and advisable.

In these times, when the greatest crop production is essential for the well-being and very existence of our British empire, it would be nothing short of a calamity if any lands ready for crop were to lie idle owing to the owners being unable to secure the necessary seed.

The minister of agriculture has therefore authorized the purchase by the department, of a number of carloads of wheat, barley and oats, which will be placed for distribution at those points where there is the greatest need for seed. The Seed Grain act introduced on the opening day of the provincial legislature, gives authority to the minister of agriculture to purchase seed grain, to an amount not exceeding $20,000, at any one time, for distribution to farmers, the recipient of the grain to pay the actual cost of same, or, in the event of his being unable to do so on delivery, he shall give a promissory note which shall be payable on a date to be fixed by the minister, not later than the 31st day of December next following the date of the sale, with interest payable thereon at a rate not exceeding 7 per cent per annum. As an additional security for payment of seed grain, the minister shall file for registration in the land registry office for the district in which the lands described in the application for the seed grain are situated, a certificate which establishes a first charge against the lands as additional security for the seed grain supplied. A number of carloads have already been purchased by the department, but farmers are advised not to rely on this source of supply, as it is highly probable that, owing to the great scarcity, it may be impossible for the department to fill all requirements.

In undertaking this work the department accepts no responsibility whatsoever. Every effort will be made to secure the best seeds procurable at the lowest prices prevailing, but it must be clearly understood that the department does not guarantee either quantity or quality, and that its main object will be to have a supply on hand for distribution to those farmers who by reason of crop failure last year, or through other legitimate causes, are not in a position to secure for themselves the necessary seed grains for seeding lands that they have ready for crop.

Institute Meeting Tomorrow

At the Institute meeting to be held at 3 o'clock on Saturday afternoon (tomorrow), there will be a discussion on the cost of production of potatoes and the different methods of cultivation.

Arrangements have been made with the department for holding two apple packing classes for pupils of the Central and High schools, but so far the secretary has not received enough names to arrange for an adult class.

The Institute secretary has received word from Victoria that G. S. Harris will address meetings here on the subject of the increased hog production campaign on Wednesday and Thursday, March 13 and 14. Every one interested, including school pupils, should attend these meetings. The time and place of the meeting will be announced by posters.

LAST FAREWELL TO DEAD PREMIER

Liberal Leader Is Buried With Impressive Ceremonies at Victoria

VICTORIA, March 6.—With impressive ceremony the remains of Premier Brewster were interred here Tuesday. Nearly fifteen thousand persons turned out to watch the parade, which was over a mile long, and included members of parliament, civil and military dignitaries, bodies of troops and sailors and many citizens.

Among those present were Senator Shatford, W. A. McKenzie, M. L.A., and Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Turner. Mrs. Turner was a niece of the late premier.

The Metropolitan Methodist church was crowded hours before the opening of the service, which was conducted by the leading clergy. The obsequies at the grave were in charge of the Masons.

A Sportmen's Rendezvous

H. P. Thompson, of Lynch Creek, was in the city on Monday. Besides operating the only hotel between Grand Forks and Franklin camp, Mr. Thompson is also mayor of the North Fork lumber metropolis. At present Lynch Creek is teeming with activity, and Mr. Thompson states that business there is in an excellent condition. The lumber industry is at present looked upon with a patronizing air by all the allied nations, and the lumberjack is the autocrat of the labor world.

Mr. Thompson states that he can see no reason why his hotel should not become a rendezvous for sportsmen next summer. Fishing in the North Fork at that point is good sport. All kinds of fish, excepting the tarpon and the manatee, abound there. One of the beauties about fishing at Lynch Creek is, that it is quite unnecessary to take a post-graduate course in prevarication in a correspondence school in order to corroborate your fish stories. You can take your evidence out of the river.

And when you tire of fishing, you can find plenty of big-game hunting within easy walking distance of the hotel. Some of the most thrilling bear stories in British Columbia have come out of that district. One of them found its way into the London Times a few years ago. It is true that the kangaroos and the polar bears are now nearly extinct in that region, but there is still an ample supply of savage animals in the back hill to make it interesting for the true sportsman. (Australian papers please copy.)

Commencing on the 16th inst., the C.P.R. will inaugurate a tri-weekly passenger service between Nelson and the coast over the Kettle Valley line. The Great Northern will continue its daily passenger service, but all special excursion rates will be eliminated during the coming summer.

FRIDAY, MARCH 8, 1918

Although they were not entirely unprepared for the sad news, the people were shocked on Saturday morning last to learn of the sudden death, in Calgary, of Premier Brewster, after he had made a heroic fight for life. The expressions of sorrow were universal. They were not confined to the followers of his own party, because Mr. Brewster was respected by all parties. His private life was without a blemish, and his public career has been marked by honesty of purpose and an endeavor to at all times follow the dictates of his conscience. When he was elected to the premiership, Mr. Brewster inherited a very unpleasant office. The treasury was empty and the province had about reached its borrowing limit. He set to work to bring the province back to its high financial standing during the days of the real estate boom and inflated values by increasing taxation. Had he lived to complete his work, his efforts would not have been appreciated, because to raise a man's taxes, no matter how urgent the need may be, is an unpardonable sin in the light of the average citizen. We do not agree with this view. We think that Mr. Brewster was justified in the policy he adopted to raise revenue, and the highest eulogy we can bestow upon him is, that he was an honest, conscientious man, not a very shrewd leader, but at times doing what he thought would be to greatest good to the greatest number.

Honest John Oliver, the Delta farmer, succeeds the late Mr. Brewster as premier of British Columbia. The new premier has had considerable parliamentary experience, and he is an uncompromising fighter for what he believes to be right. As a leader his skill has yet to be demonstrated; but with his high reputation for honesty, the government should be safe under his guidance.

The war is dealing rather harshly with the employees of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. Recent figures given out by that institution relative to the number of enlistments for overseas service are interesting. Fourteen hundred and seventy officers of the bank have taken up military duty, representing 93 per cent of the entire male staff between the ages of 20 and 45 years, and 69 per cent of the total male staff of the institution. Of this number 166 men have been killed in action and 257 have been wounded; 17 are held as prisoners of war; one is missing, and 57 are incapacitated through illness, making a total of 498 casualties. That these men have made a brilliant record is evidenced by the fact that thirty-four decorations and honors have been bestowed upon them. If all of Canada's big financial and mercantile institutions had contributed as much towards winning the war as the Bank of Commerce, our country's present fine record at the front would be even better than it is.

It appears to be a well established axiom of history that the pendulum swings from despotism to liberty, and from liberty back to despotism; from debauchery and lewdness to moral reform, and from moral reform back to a wide-open policy. Kerensky gives Russia liberty; the Bolsheviki tries to improve on that liberty, and hands the country back to a harsher despotism than that from which it was wrested. The people of British Columbia abolish the liquor traffic. But the Utopian reformers are not satisfied with this reform. They want the people to give an account of their actions every minute of the twenty-four hours. Will they, too, play the part of the Russian Bolsheviki?

It is reported that Lenine and Trotzky have been requested by Berlin to resign. They are dem lucky that the Russian people have not requested them to resign wearing their heads.

When we made the statement, a couple of weeks ago, that in future The Sun would not accept whiskey ads. or objectionable patent medicine ads., we fully anticipated that there would be at least one man, in this city who could not understand such a move. We were not disappointed in our surmise. However, we are willing to be judged on this point by our action in the future.

Twine and bread are closely related. The twine that binds use in the wheatfields is made of sisal, which grows in Yucatan, where it is the subject of a monopoly. The American food administration has taken over the control of the imports of the binder twine output for 1918 in order to concentrate the buying and to eliminate competition among manufacturers, and thus to keep the price lower than it would be otherwise.

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF, HAIR STOPS FALLING

Save your Hair! Get a small bottle of Danderine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf.

There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. Save your hair! Try it!

"The Canadians in France,"

A Great War Map

Canadian homes will no longer have difficulty in following the Canadian troops in France. There has just been issued a map of the European war area that clearly shows every point of interest that has been mentioned in dispatches since the Canadian forces first landed in France. It has been made especially for the great Canadian weekly, the Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal, and is a credit indeed to Canadian enterprise. It is a marvel of detail and yet not crowded. It is in four colors and about 23x31 1/2 feet and folded into a very neat cover, about 5x10 inches. The map is surrounded by a border of the regimental badges and coat of arms of nearly every battalion that left Canada, from Halifax to Vancouver. Every important point can be recognized at once. That portion of the map covering France is in a soft color with names of towns and battle scenes in black, easily recognizable. The map is endorsed by returned military experts as most complete and accurate in detail. The map could not be produced, except in such large quantities as The Family Herald will use, at less than two dollars a copy, yet it can be had absolutely free with The Family Herald.

The publishers of The Family Herald and Weekly Star for several months back have been fighting hard against the necessity of increasing their subscription rates, but eventually had to come to it like most other papers. The increase, however, is a mere trifle—twenty five cents a year, making their new rate $1.25—and with the year's subscription they will include a copy of this great war map free of charge. This is certainly a generous offer, and one that Canadians will appreciate. Many expected a much larger increase in the subscription price of The Family Herald, and are surprised at the small extra amount charged.

The enormous circulation of The Family Herald and Weekly Star should be still greater when this offer becomes known.

News of the City

It was very difficult to find anybody in town yesterday who was willing to admit that he had witnessed the "Henpecked Henry" performance at the Empress on the previous evening. It was a show of a single joke, and that did not measure up to any one of the bright stories printed in last week's Sun. It was a "henpecked" audience.

A special sitting of the county court was held yesterday, Judge Brown presiding. A cow-poisoning case from Pife was the only business on the docket. Decision was reserved.

P. B. Freeland, resident mining engineer, returned today from Victoria, where he has been on official business since the opening of the present session.

IF YOUR CHILD IS CROSS, FEVERISH, CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated, cleanse little bowels with "California Syrup of Figs."

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

Grant Hall, of Winnipeg, vice-president and general manager of western lines of the Canadian Pacific railway, and F. W. Peters, of Vancouver, superintendent of the Pacific division of the system, passed through the city yesterday, enroute east from the coast.

The Sun has received from Ottawa a pamphlet on Feeding and Housing of Swine. Printed on immaculate white coated paper, piggy looks clean enough to be kept in the front parlor, let alone shoving him fifty feet away from the back kitchen.

Tuesday was a legal holiday, by proclamation, throughout the province as a mark of respect to the memory of the late Premier Brewster. A number of citizens noticed the fact that the Grand Forks schools were not closed for the day.

Sure! High Heels Cause Corns But Who Cares Now

Because style decrees that women crowd and buckle up their tender toes in high heel footwear they suffer from corns, then they cut and trim at these painful pests which morely makes the corn grow hard. This suicidal habit may cause lockjaw and women are warned to stop it.

A few drops of a drug called freezone applied directly upon a sore corn gives quick relief and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts out without pain. Ask the drug store man for a quarter of an ounce of freezone, which costs very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet.

This drug is an ether compound and dries in a moment and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. Clip this out and pin on your wife's dresser.

Special Showing of New Cotton Fabrics

Our stock is now about complete in this department, and we take great pride in being in a position to show many lines of goods at old prices.

Many thanks for judicious buying on the best markets before the raise in raw material, many lines being bought in the spring of 1917.

Supply and demand regulate prices in all lines of goods, and the merchant who bought early in 1917 for spring delivery, 1918, has shown great forethought, as many merchants put off buying, to their sorrow.

In our Hosiery Department the Cotton and Wool Lines are being sold at jobbers' prices TODAY.
