NEW WAR LOAN OF THE DOMINION

People With Savings Can Help Materially in Winning the War

The Dominion of Canada war loan, launched last Monday, and which is being offered for popular subscription until March 23, will undoubtedly meet with as splendid a reception as the former loans. This is an opportunity for those who have saved and husbanded their resources to do a very important part in winning the war. Canada has been blessed with the material conditions for storing up national wealth. There has been nothing to interrupt the harvests of the land, there has been unusual industrial activity, there has been an excess of exports over imports marking the increased productive power of the people, which is the basis for an increase in national wealth, and there has been economy in private, civic and national life. All these factors have surely made it possible for the money to be forthcoming to raise the huge loan of one hundred and fifty million dollars which Finance Minister White has called for.

The life insurance companies, the trust companies, and the banks have applied for large portions of the new war loan. But there is a limit to what the fiduciary and financial corporations can invest, no matter how large their surplus funds. This is especially true of the banks, which must keep a large amount of ready cash on hand to meet emergencies. But there is no reason that individuals should not take part in national effort to the extent of their savings. The war loan certificates will be accepted as collateral by banks at any time as equal to gold, and unlike an investment, say in a mortgage, can thus be used to obtain ready money in an emergency.

But apart from any consideration of convenience, those who have profited by war work, the supplying of munitions or war materials, the high price of foodstuffs, or by the higher wage-earning power of the times, have a national duty to perform in assisting in financing the war, or Canada's part in that effort. As the Rt. Hon. A. J. Balfour has declared, unless those who stay at home are prepared to assist in the finances of the country, it is in vain that our soldiers sacrifice themselves in the trenches; it is in vain that the fleet of the mother country blockades the enemy and protects the empire's commerce; it is in vain that men toil at a thousand and one tasks to keep the fighting strength of the empire up to the efficiency test.

Was Merely Dead

When the late Russian ambassador, Count Benckendorff, lay on his deathbed, the London newspapers were keenly interested in his condition.

One reporter, somewhat more persistent than his rivals, made almost hourly trips to the embassy to receive bed side bulletins. Each time he appeared he was informed by a majestic English flunky in gold lace that there was "rahly no chynge in his excellency's condition—quite nothing to report." After about six weary rounds between his office and the embassy, the reporter became suspicious of the monotony of the butler's reply, and said he'd just sit down and wait until there was some change.

"But, rahly, sir," remonstrated the flunky, "there'll be nothing further to report. His excellency died two hours ago."

GRANBY EMPLOYEES GIVE GENEROUSLY

The results of the Granby mine patriotic subscriptions at Phoenix for the past year have been announced. The total amounted to $23,776.67, the chief subscriptions being as follows:

C. M. Campbell, $500; J. J. Strutzel, $120; J. A. McLaughlin, $120; C. D. Martin, $120; D. G. Stafford, $120; George, $120; George Hewson, $120; P. B. Freeland, $120; F. E. Nelson, $108; H. F. Tilton, $60; J. G. Wrean, $60; A. Hillier, $72; Fred Frederick, $60; Frank McDonald, $60; Harry Goodwin, $60; Albin Johnson, $71.25; W. D. Williams, $71.25; N. Davidson, $71.25; R. Christie, $71.25; D. A. McKinnon, $71.25; R. McDonald, $71.25; 380 other employees average $54.89 each, $21,244.17; total, $23,776.68.

The total does not include any of the town subscriptions, which amounted to a considerable sum.

The Woman's Patriotic society also raised $2516. This sum meant that $50 per week had to be found by various means, and considering the limited number of women in a mining town, it will be seen that the members of the society were kept pretty busy.

The citizens of Phoenix expect this year to raise over $30,000 for patriotic purposes.

Died While Eating Breakfast

While eating his breakfast last Monday morning at the Province hotel, Gus Torlen, aged about 72 years, who has been employed in Geo. E. Massie's tailor shop during the past six years, died suddenly of heart failure. The funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon, the remains being interred in Evergreen cemetery.

Deceased was a native of Sweden, and possessed a varied and interesting history. His parents immigrating to Minnesota when he was of tender years, the entire family, with the exception of himself and a sister, was massacred in one of the Sioux raids. The two survivors saved their lives by hiding in a clump of bushes. It is not known here if this sister survives him, and if she does, where she lives. In later years, while in San Francisco, he was shanghaied and made an involuntary trip to the Orient before the mast.

No town will grow whose people are untrue to it. Whoever destroys it is an enemy to progress and a traitor to the community. If they deny it, do not invest their money in it, nor patronize its business establishments, they are surely killing it. The prosperity of a town depends chiefly upon the confidence the people have in it.

CHAMPIONS OF THE PROVINCE

Local Ladies' Hockey Team
Acquire That Title by Defeating Rossland

By winning from Rossland by a score of 2 goals to 1 last Monday night the Grand Forks ladies' hockey team became champions of the Kootenay, having previously wrested that honor from the Boundary league. The Rossland Daily Miner gives the following account of the game:

The Grand Forks ladies' hockey team proved themselves the best players in British Columbia when they defeated the Rossland septet last night with a two to one score.

The game was one of the fastest ladies' games ever played on Rossland ice, both teams being very evenly matched. Grand Forks, however, played better combination than our team, which made them victorious.

Things went pretty lively the first period, neither side being able to pass the other's defense. Good combination plays were broke up, neither side could score at close quarters. After fourteen minutes' play, Mrs. Newitt shot from centre ice, scoring Rossland's first and only goal. Just before the end of the period, Gwenie McIlwaine made a nice rush and scored for Grand Forks. The period ended with the score a tie.

The second period was when Grand Forks did their good work, scoring another goal. From the face off the rubber went to the Rossland end, and after three minutes' play Emma Needham scored another for Grand Forks. Grand Forks now being in the lead, played a defense and made it impossible for Rossland to score any more. The game ended with Grand Forks in the lead, the score being 2-1.

The teams lined up as follows:
Rossland. Position. Grand Forks
E. Blackman... Goal..... G. Spinks
E. Stevens... Point... O. Frankovitch
Mrs. A. Newitt... C. Point..... M. Mann
G. Loughheed... Rover... I. Haverty
A. Hender... Centre... E. Needham
Mrs. W. Jewell... R. Wing... G. McIlwaine
A. Burnett... L. Wing... A. Frankovitch
After the game the Grand Forks team was entertained by the Rossland ladies at a dance in the Odd-fellows hall. After the dance refreshments were served and the guests voted the Rossland ladies' hockey team royal entertainers.

NEWS OF THE CITY

Last Friday evening the public school cadets held a special meeting in the basement of the Central school building in honor of Sergt. A. Symes, who recently returned home from England. Before enlisting for overseas service, Sergt. Symes was a member of the cadet corps. Addresses were made by Principal Glaspell, of the public school, A. M. Crawford, assistant principal, and the cadet instructor, Sergt. Symes, and others. Refreshments were served, games enjoyed and a very pleasant evening was spent.

Constable Stewart, of Nelson, arrived in the city on Tuesday and arrested J. Jones, charged with passing forged cheques in Nelson, on a warrant issued by the police magistrate of Nelson. Magistrate Cochrane returned the prisoner to Nelson on the same warrant. In this city Jones cashed a $20 bogus cheque at the Yale hotel. Jones claimed Duluth, Minn., as his home town. While here he went by the name of C. Coleman.

Saturday last Angus McDougall received a telegram from the militia department, stating that his brother James had been wounded in the head and left arm and that he had been admitted to a hospital.

From letters received in this city from England, it is learned that Bert Reid has joined the flying corps and that "Tack" Cook is in the hospital suffering from rheumatism.

"Mickey" McKay, who has played hockey with the Vancouver team this winter, returned to the city on Sunday.

Shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday fire broke out in Jas Hardy's house, on Winnipeg avenue, and before it was extinguished the building was badly damaged, although the brigade made an unusually quick run. The extent of the loss caused by the blaze is not yet known. The house was occupied by Mr Mackenzie, of the smelter force.

TOAST TO A CANADIAN HERO

In a letter to the Nelson Daily News, Reginald H. Brown, author of the appended poetical tribute to a Canadian hero, says:

"The incident of which the enclosed is a slight appreciation took place on the Somme November 11, 1915, when Sergt. Major E. Holbrook, unassisted and single handed, captured an enemy machine gun, also taking prisoners six of the crew. For this conspicuous gallantry Sergt. Major Holbrook was awarded the distinguished conduct medal by military authorities. Sergt. Holbrook enlisted in Grand Forks."

Here's a "ho"—wherever you are,
Wherever you go—here's a "ho."

You have proved that the stuff you are made of

Is sterling, fine wrought and strong
There is nothing that you are afraid of,

Except it be dirty or wrong,
You are straight as a winged arrow,
A true friend to all those you
know;

You are "white" through and
through to the marrow,
No taint of the "yellow" you show

For the "Stars" and the "Stripes"
sing your praises,

You are beloved by each one of your men;

May you long cheat the roots of the daisies,

Ernie Holbrook, our new D.C.M.,
As down the long trail you travel,

May you find many true pals
about,

And as life's woven skein you unravel

May you find all the knots taken out.

Here's a "ho"—wherever you are,
Wherever you go—here's a "ho."

FREE LOTS FOR GARDEN PURPOSES

Council Decides to Aid in Patriotism and Production Campaign

The regular meeting of the city council last Monday night established a record for briefness. Mayor Acres and all the aldermen with the exception of Ald. McCallum were present.

A letter from the Y. M. C. A., asking for a grant, was ordered filed.

A letter from Mr. Page, of Cascade, asked for the refund of $10 which he had paid for a burial lot in Evergreen cemetery. The lot not had not been used and had reverted to the city. The request was granted.

The past month's accumulation of bills were ordered to be paid.

The chairman of the board of works reported that the board would be ready to commence work on the Yale bridge in a week or two. He recommended that a draft of an agreement between the city and Allen & Norris for the supply of lumber required by the city during the year at $14.50 per thousand be drawn up, and that the city clerk be authorized to sign it. The recommendation was adopted.

The chairman of the health and relief reported that his committee had had a conference with Dr. Kingston in reference to charges of city patients in accordance with the recommendation of the city auditor. The matter, he said, was at present held in abeyance until word regarding the law on this subject is received from the coast.

On motion of Ald. Harkness and Sheads, the council adopted a resolution donating the use of vacant city lots for garden purposes free of charge to anyone who wishes to take advantage of this offer.

Ald. Schmitter gave notice that at the next regular meeting he would ask leave to introduce a bylaw providing for the sale of electric power for heating and cooking purposes.

IS ROAD WORK UN- NECESSARY EXPENSE?

Is all the expensive road building of the present day going to become unnecessary? Some who pride themselves on having the far seeing eye aver that it is. Aeroplanes will be so developed after the war that the motor car will be as far behind the times as the one-horse shay is today behind the little Ford. Aeroplanes will deliver parcels, the mail, even passengers, and travel as safely as the motor car. The aeroplane rural mail delivery is to be organized by France. Thus the world advances. —New Westminster British Columbian.

Nearly everything broke the record by a billion dollars or so last year, but what's a mere billion dollars or so in times like these.

A new half-dollar piece is very beautiful and artistic, but it seems to be as impotent in the egg market as an old one.

FRIDAY, MARCH 16, 1917

The disaffection of a single Liberal on the government's railway policy in the provincial house is not an event that calls for extended comment, although the Conservative press is making the most out of a matter of small moment. The incident simply proves the non-existence of a political machine in Victoria at present. It also has a tendency to show that Liberals do their thinking individually instead of in groups. That is one reason why they are Liberals.

The city council has done its share in promoting, locally, the campaign of production and patriotism by giving the citizens the free use of the city's vacant lots for garden purposes. It now rests with the citizens to do their part. The person who is not blessed with a substantial bank account will do well to take advantage of this generous offer. The prices of foodstuffs are gradually rising, and in another twelve months, if the present conflict spreads over this continent, they may not be obtainable at any figure. It is always the safest plan to be prepared for eventualities.

The Russian revolution has succeeded and the czar has abdicated. This was the startling intelligence the news dispatches brought us today. Few people in this country were aware that a revolution was in progress in Russia. In London great satisfaction is expressed over the outcome of the three days' battle in Petrograd between the Russian people and Russian officialdom. This satisfaction is based on the assertion that official Russia was pro-German, while the revolutionists demand a vigorous prosecution of the war against the central powers. London press opinion is that the triumph of the Russian people will hasten the victory for the entire nations. With the overthrow of the Russian government, the last great power ruled by absolutism vanishes. Democratic Russia will be welcomed among the democracies of the earth. The hour for the Russian people to rule has struck.

China has severed diplomatic relations with Germany. "When you see a man who hasn't a friend in the world," remarks an exchange, "there is something rotten in Denmark." It is the same with nations.

The British army estimates, issued last week, provide for an army of 5,000,000 men, exclusive of India. An additional navy estimate calls for 50,000 officers and men, bringing the total of the navy personnel to 450,000.

The quiet and confident determination of the people of Great Britain to win the war—which, in fact, is necessary to continued national existence—was reflected in the phenomenal way in which the great "win the war" loan, recently issued, was subscribed, or rather over-subscribed, on top of all the other previous heavy borrowing on war account. The subscriptions to the "victory loan" totalled £1,312,950,000 (approximately $6,564,750,000).—Pacific Canadian.

Patriotism and Production

A circular letter accompanied by a pamphlet has been issued and circulated by the department of education on the subject of Patriotism and Production in public and high schools of British Columbia for 1917. Representations have been made to the department from various parts of the province, where labor shortage is likely to become very acute during the present year, with a view to obtaining the assistance in the fruit growing districts for a limited period, before or after the summer holidays, of the older boys and girls in the harvesting and packing of the 1917 fruit crop. The letter sets out the difficulties in connection with the granting of so wide a request, but offers suggestions to meet the case and lays down the conditions upon which applications for assistance would be considered.

The pamphlet deals with the general subject of production from the patriotic as well as from the commercial standpoint, quoting Sir Thomas White's exhortation: "Work harder, save more, is a good motto for war time." It also points the way for the teacher and the pupil in the school to gauge the responsibility that rests equally on their shoulders in strengthening the great war arm of the nation. It is planned to hold exhibitions of products in connection with the "Patriotism and Production" campaign in the schools and calls for the assistance of all local organizations to hold in the general stimulation of interest among the boys and girls in this vital question.

The pamphlet may be had from the education department.

Abolish Road Superintendents

Radical changes in the system of public works construction throughout the province are foreshadowed in the public works department at Victoria by recent orders coming from Dr. King, the minister of works.

It has been plainly intimated that the road superintendent system will be abolished on the ground that it savours too much of political patronage. The plan that the new minister will bring into effect will mean the appointment of a number of qualified civil engineers who with their staffs will be under the civil service act and who will each have charge of a section of the province. They will have road foremen for each section. Instead of a road superintendent for each constituency, the scheme will mean a road engineer for three or four, or possibly more, ridings. The government believes that this method will mean economy and efficiency, particularly in the matter of getting roads built to a standard on the best grades.

"The Lord will provide," is a beautiful doctrine that works out perfectly with those who believe in showing their faith by their works. It fails only where a lazy rascal sits down to oversee the job while the Lord does the work.

Speaking Easily and Directly Into the Telephone

Even telephone men of long experience are surprised at the greater voice distinctness when speaking directly into the telephone. When you speak directly into the telephone, a lower tone of voice can be used, and your friend can hear easily.

Moreover, when you speak lower the actual tone qualities of your voice are transmitted. When you speak loudly, you unconsciously adopt an unnatural tone of voice, with the result that much of that intimacy that should be associated with face-to-face conversation is lost.

A close position to the telephone means easy talking and easy hearing.
