POLITICAL ACTIVITY AT VICTORIA

A dispatch from Victoria announces unusual activity in political circles there during the past few days. This has resulted in a flood of rumors regarding the possibility of an early election in the near future. While a great many of these come from irresponsible sources, there is enough authentic information obtainable to show that the government is planning a surprise for the people of the province. There is some doubt as to the exact nature of the coup, but it may be stated on the best of authority that an election will be held before the Christmas season.

The premier, Sir Richard McBride, is at present confined to his home with a severe cold. Mr. Bowser is in full command and, although his intimates refuse to divulge any information, it is said that the original plan of usurping Sir Richard's position has been abandoned temporarily, the attorney general being advised by his friends that the prime minister is necessary to win the forthcoming election and that Sir Richard will remain as the nominal leader until a later date. On the other hand, it is most confidently stated that Sir Richard will be squeezed out of the government and be given the position now held by J. H. Turner as commissioner for British Columbia in England.

The personnel of the new cabinet is an open secret in political circles. Hon. Dr. Young and Hon. Thomas Taylor will not have any place in it, the latter because he has been a constant source of weakness and the former because of his connection with the Arbutnot-Pacific Coast Coal mines deal. Messrs. C. E. Tisdall, A. C. Flumerfelt and Lorne Campbell will be the new members of the ministry. Of the other Vancouver members, H. H. Watson has been slated as chairman of the labor commission at a salary of $5000 per annum, and Dr. Maguire, as a reward for his services both recently and in the past, is named as the new senator from British Columbia. Not long ago a photograph was taken in Victoria by a well known photographer of the following group: Messrs. Bowser, Flumerfelt, Tisdall, Ross and Campbell.

Accident at the Rink

A serious accident occurred last Friday evening at the skating rink during the progress of the basketball game between the high school girls and the city girls. Toward the end of the game, when the play was getting exciting, a large number of the spectators leaned over the railing, which gave way under their weight, precipitating about thirty of them to the ground below. Three girls from Republic were severely injured. One had an arm broken, another sustained a dislocated shoulder, and a third was badly hurt in the back. Arnold Carter, of this city, was severely bruised and the shock of the fall rendered him unconscious for half an hour. Miss Emma Needham also received some bruises by the fall. The game was called immediately after the accident, the score being 5 to 4 in favor of the high school girls. The game between the Republic high school boys and the Grand Forks high school boys, which was scheduled for the same evening, was postponed until Saturday afternoon, when the former team won by a score of 20 to 5.

Death of Mrs. Donaldson

The death of Mrs. Clara R. R. Donaldson, beloved wife of John Donaldson, occurred at the Grand Forks hospital on Monday morning, after a week's illness with heart trouble. The late Mrs. Donaldson was 43 years of age at time of her passing. She was a native of Guelph, Ont., where she was born and raised, and where she was married to Mr. Donaldson. She came to Grand Forks with her husband seventeen or eighteen years ago, and has resided here ever since with the exception of a short period, when the family moved to Regina. She is survived by a husband and a family of five children—two sons and three daughters. Deceased had a wide circle of friends and acquaintances, and she was very highly esteemed by all for her many admirable qualities. The profoundest sympathy of the entire community is extended to the bereaved husband and motherless children.

The funeral has been put off until 2.30 tomorrow afternoon in order to afford an opportunity of the elder son of deceased to reach the city from Chicago, where he is attending school. The service will be held in the Presbyterian church at that hour, and interment will take place in Evergreen cemetery.

Death of Hugh S. Mills

The death of Hugh S. Mills, aged 30 years, occurred at the Grand Forks hospital on Wednesday morning, after suffering for two weeks from typhoid fever. Deceased was a native of New Brunswick, where his parents reside. He came to this city seven or eight years ago, and has resided here continuously since that time. At the time of his death he was in the employ of N. L. McInnes & Co. He was an exemplary citizen, and everybody who knew him was his friend. A brother of his enlisted in this city last year for the front, and he is now fighting in the trenches somewhere in France. Deceased is survived by a wife and two daughters, who mourn the loss of a kind and loving husband and father.

The funeral was held at 2.30 this afternoon from the family residence on Second street to the Presbyterian church, where services were held. The remains were shipped to the former home of deceased in New Brunswick on this evening's C.P.R. train.

On Saturday, November 13, at Metcalfe's old store, the Methodist Ladies' Aid will hold a sale of plain and fancy articles suitable for Christmas presents, and invite your inspection and patronage. A cafeteria will also be open from 3 p.m. to 8 p.m., and both light lunches and supper will be served. Please note the date and place, and come.

The Grand Forks Poultry association will hold its annual show in this city on December 2 and 3 next. Over forty special prizes and cups will be offered this year.

PREMIER ANSWERS PROHIBITIONISTS

The answer of the provincial government to the prohibitionists has been given by Premier McBride in a reply to the president of the prohibition movement and in answer to the deputations which waited upon the government asking when a plebiscite would be taken and what form it would take. The premier says he wholly concurs with the question being dealt with in a non-partisan way, but thinks that satisfactory results will be obtained if the plebiscite were taken at the same time as an election. He does not consider that such a course would involve the mixing up of issues, but on the contrary, thinks that in the event of a political contest the maximum of votes would be secured. In the event of the plebiscite being held separately it would cost between $40,000 and $50,000.

Dealing with the form of submission he points out that the prohibitionists want a referendum in the exact terms of a bill submitted so that an absolute response of yes or nay can be registered. He thinks there are two fundamental objections to this proposal. In the first place it restricts the choice of the people to only one method of dealing with the liquor problem, whereas there may be many effective methods of bringing about what prohibitionists have chiefly in view. He points out that an act of parliament may be inspired by a right principle but may express it badly. In the second place he is opposed to the suggestion of direct legislation, which is contrary to the spirit of British representative institutions and responsible government. It is, he said, a form of legislative procedure growing up in the United States with very unsatisfactory and expensive results.

What the government is desirous of ascertaining is the wish of the people as a whole on various phases of the question involved. What the people want the government is prepared to carry out to the letter. If they emphatically declare for prohibition, he says, the attorney general will carry it out without fear or favor, and for this reason the form of plebiscite must be such as to clearly indicate what is the public wish and what is fair to all classes of the community. As soon as the form of reference is prepared an announcement will be made.

NEWS OF THE CITY

Five members of the Independent Company of Rifles were drafted to Vernon on Wednesday. Their names are: Privates Wilkinson, Brouillette, Benvenuti, Stevenson and Zucketto. They left on the noon C.P.R. train, and were given a send-off at the station by the citizens and the members of the company.

Rev. A. A. McLeod, touring west from the recent annual meeting of the Baptist board of missions for Canada, will visit Grand Forks and address the Sunday morning and evening services in the Baptist church. He will also remain over for a special Monday 8 p.m. meeting of interest to parents and workers among the young. Mr. McLeod for twenty five years in India was a pioneer organizer and worker among the Telugus, and has many interesting things to tell about those peculiar people of the East.

The funeral of Joseph Michael Caron, who died in the Grand Forks hospital last Friday morning, was held from the late residence of deceased to the Catholic church. A large number of friends of the family followed the remains to Evergreen cemetery, where interment was made.

Charles Newman and Miss Ida Zuelka, both of this city, were married in Holy Trinity church on Tuesday morning, Rev. P. C. Hayman performing the ceremony. The couple left on the Great Northern train the same day for a short wedding tour to Spokane. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Newman will take up their residence in this city, Mr. Newman being employed in E. C. Henniger's feed store.

H. M. Lunney, who was severely injured recently while working on the pole line at the Jewel mine, has recovered sufficiently to leave the Greenwood hospital.

Rev. P. C. Hayman, of Holy Trinity church, conducted a service at Billings on Thursday.

CONSOLIDATED TO REFINE COPPER

Col. Carnegie, chairman of the shell committee at Ottawa, is reported to have stated that the committee has placed an order with the Consolidated Mining & Smelting company at Trail for a supply of refined copper in Canada, and that arrangements are being made for its production. This is one of the most important war supply orders issued so far, and it will mean much activity at the Trail smelter.

URGENT APPEAL FOR THE BELGIANS

The British national committee for the relief in Belgium has sent the following appeal, signed by the Lord Mayor of London, to all the high commissioners and agents general of the overseas dominions. It has been transmitted to Sir Robert Borden by Sir George Perley. The prime minister of Canada in turn forwarded it to Sir Richard McBride. It reads as follows:

"Fete day heroic king Belgians falls on Monday, 15th November, and as chairman national committee relief Belgium I appeal people British empire celebrate event in manner that will afford King Albert greatest satisfaction, namely, by subscribing money enough feed whole of three million destitute Belgians in Belgium on their beloved monarch's fete day. Sixpence will keep one Belgian alive for one day, therefore I appeal for three million sixpences enable us to keep alive on king's fete day every one of his subjects who are without food. Canada has responded nobly to cry of starving Belgians and I feel certain this special appeal for sixpence per head will meet with ready response. Ends."

The appeal is for a most worthy object, and it is commended to your best consideration and to such action as you may think desirable. The message having been transmitted to me as premier of Canada, I feel it my duty to commend it to you as premier of your province.

The British Columbia government is anxious that as strong an effort as possible be made to meet this appeal, and your assistance in organizing such an appeal in your district will be greatly appreciated. The matter is being given publicity as far as possible in the local press.

Remittances in this connection should be made to J. A. Lindsay, 304 Times building, Victoria.

The Independent Company of Rifles defeated a city team in a game of football this week by a score of 6-0.

French Praises Cavalry Of the Dominion

Declared They Played Notable Parts in Great Battles

"He is a great little man. I see little change in him since the South African days."

This is how a Canadian emigration officer serving in the Second King Edward's Horse describes Sir John French after his inspection of the Canadian cavalry. His narrative shows what severe experiences the cavalry has recently undergone in the front line as an unmounted force, and also the warm commendation their bravery has received from the Commander-in-Chief. The letter, dated August 26, already censored, says:

"We feel that great events are close at hand. Every man wants to share in them. We feel so well that I find some difficulty in making my tunic button up, which is rather sad, and certainly uncomfortable."

"Gen. French's speech, to us has greatly cheered everybody. Addressing the Canadian Cavalry Brigade the general said:

"I am very glad of the opportunity to come here this morning, because I want to tell you how very highly I appreciate all the services you have rendered. All the troops from Canada have shown a very magnificent example to the whole empire in volunteering to come here. In doing so you performed perhaps the greatest service of all, that of rivetting together the bonds that bind our great empire, bonds that can never be severed."

"Surely in this great service of the Overseas Dominions, at the head of them all comes Canada. I wish to express my appreciation of the splendid manner in which you responded to the call early in the year when you arrived from England, and the tremendous losses suffered by this Canadian cavalry brigade by giving up your horses and coming out here to serve."

"The third great service you have rendered is the greatest since you have been here, namely the prominent part you took in the battle of Festubert, where we not only gained considerable ground, but captured a large quantity of material. Then at Givenchy you kept up the same fighting record, and up to a few days ago you have been doing very hard work in the trenches."

"I take this opportunity of expressing to Col. Seely my great appreciation of his fine work. On many occasions he gave me most valuable information, and never spared himself. My personal thanks are due to him."

"It is not the first time I have been with the Canadian cavalry. I was with them five or six years ago, and little thought that the next time I should be talking to them would be here. Well, I only wish to tell you how much I appreciate the splendid work you have done. You have earned the gratitude of the whole empire."

"One special word I wish to say on a subject that has come to my knowledge. I believe before you left England there was some understanding that you would get your horses within a certain time. I am quite sure you are prepared to leave it to my judgment. I am most anxious to see you mounted as cavalry, but the time has not yet come. Whenever that time does come, then I will see what fine cavalry soldiers you are. I am quite confident that whatever you are called upon to do in the future will be nobly carried out. Your records will go down to posterity as one of the most splendid in English history."

"I hope every officer, non-commissioned officer and man of the Canadian cavalry brigade will understand that I personally offer you my most grateful thanks for the work you have done."

Exodus of Chinamen to be Facilitated

Owing to the number of Chinamen in British Columbia who are out of employment, and their willingness to go home to China for fear of being unable to return here within the statutory twelve months, an order-in-council has been passed extending the period of absence allowed to six months after the termination of the war.

A large number will now leave for China, thus relieving the situation at the coast.

Shilling a Week For Prisoners

It was hoped some time ago that one shilling a day would be paid Canadian prisoners of war in Germany, but as the army council have decided to allow only one shilling a week to British prisoners of war irrespective of rank, and as it is absolutely necessary to treat British and Canadian prisoners alike, the Canadian government have asked the war office to arrange for prisoners to get this amount also. Prisoners when required to work are paid 11 cents a day by the German government.

"Waiter," he suggested mildly, "I want three eggs, and boil them four minutes."

But the cook, having only one in the place, boiled it twelve minutes. Which proves the value of higher mathematics.

Superstitions in Serbia

Many Curious Customs Practiced in Serbian Villages

It is not surprising to learn that the plucky Serbian soldiers carry on to the battlefield all manner of curious mascots, for our smallest Allies are a very superstitious race. In the Serbian villages the inhabitants practice many curious customs by means of which they firmly believe that they can ward off evil and bring for themselves good fortune. At certain seasons of the year Serbian farmers make small crosses with special trees and throw them on the vineyards and fields as a protection against hailstorms. This custom is generally observed on April 24, St. George's Day, when Serbian ladies also evoke the aid of charms as a means of improving their looks. The girl who wishes a white face places a bouquet of flowers under a white rose tree and allows it to remain there for a night; whereas those who prefer rosy cheeks place blooms under a red rose tree and in the morning the flowers thus "charmed" are thrown into their baths.

Serbian women who wish to have revealed to them their destined husbands, have a curious supper table custom. They put aside the first and last crumbs of bread, bind these together with a piece of wool, and lay the whole under their pillows. The future husband is then said to appear in their midnight dreams, and as he may be across the sea the piece of wool is included in the charm to serve him for a boat.

In some Serbian districts every master of household drives a lamb to church one day each year. A wax taper is lighted and fastened to the head of the animal, and it is taken to the church door. The priest then recites a prayer over the lamb, in which he asks that the business of the owner may prosper. At the conclusion of the ceremony the animal is killed, its flesh being roasted and eaten by the owner's family, whilst the skin is presented to the priest.

The Serbians are very superstitious over animals, and they have a practice of forecasting the future by means of the shoulder bone of a roasted sheep or pig. The flat part of the bone is said to predict peace or war; if clear, and white, peace; if rather dark, war. Near the upper part of the bone are some small holes which, according to their size and position, are termed "cradles" or "caskets," and foreshadow joy or sorrow.

On the eve of St. Barbara's Day in Serbia it is a custom to boil a small portion of every species of grain in a pot over a wood fire. In the morning the surface of the grain is critically examined, and should it be uneven it is thought a good omen. The grain is then thrown in spoonfuls into a neighboring stream, and if three wishes are asked for they are always said to be granted.—Tit-Bits.

Value of Alfalfa

Among Other Recommendations Is Said to Destroy Canada Thistle Curse

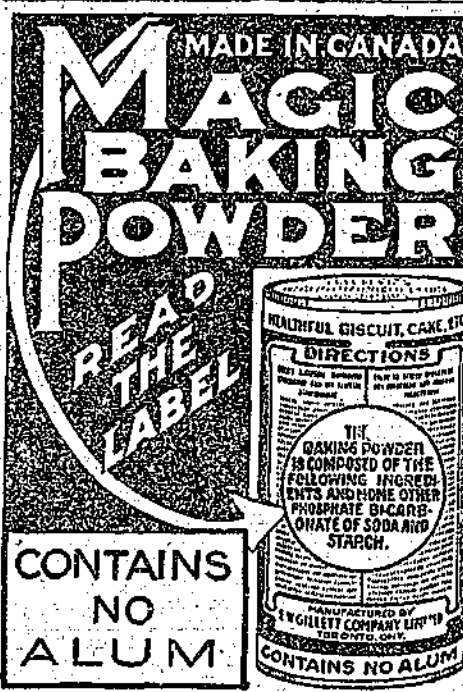

Alfalfa is not a cure-all. It will not cure all the ills to which mankind is heir, but it is making quite a record as a remedy for a number of trying conditions. It assuredly will greatly improve impoverished soils. It will lessen the evil of spending farm earned money for nitrogenous feeds. It will cure the trouble that comes from feeding unbalanced rations. It will cure the mental habit of believing that only one crop a year may be taken from the ground. It will cure the expenditure of thousands of dollars for nitrogen. Recently it was averred that the tincture of alfalfa would cure the blues. Whether that is true or not, most cases of blues come from a flat pocket book, or at least the curlew hue is much mitigated by the rosy glow of a cash bank balance, such as results from 3 to 5 tons of hay to the acre. And now comes cumulative evidence that alfalfa will cure the Canada thistle curse. No little space is annually given in farm papers to alleged remedies for this widely distributed weed trouble, but no one has yet been devised which is more effective and more profitable than an alfalfa field seeded over the thistle patch. We know it is a sure cure. It is sometimes impossible to get the men after the thistles with scythe or mower, but the meadow must be mowed, and continuous cutting, together with the smothering of the thickly annoying plants, will finish that annoying field pest.—Breeder's Gazette.

Crop Exceeds All Expectations

When one of the leading millers of the country speaks of a 300,000,000 bushel wheat crop as a possibility for Western Canada this year, it is about time that the public woke up to a realization of the measure of success which has attended the present season's operations. It has far exceeded what the most optimistic of us dared to hope for, and the stimulus which it must give the country will influence our whole future to an enormous extent.—Edmonton Journal.

Stranger—Seventeen years ago I landed here in your town broke. I struck you for a dollar. You gave it to me, saying you never turned a request like that down."

Citizen (eagerly)—Yes?

Stranger—Well, are you still game?

"There, there!" said Mrs. Blue-Myrrh, picking up her little boy, who had hurt his toe, "don't cry. Be a man, like mamma!"

Harry—Paw, what is a henpecked husband?

ST. VITUS' DANCE.

Hamilton, Ont.—"While I have not had occasion to use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, I have observed its good effects. My brother used it for St. Vitus' Dance. A neighbor recommended it and brother began taking it at the age of ten. He had tried different remedies but they did not help him permanently. We used 'Golden Medical Discovery' for about three months and he had no return of his trouble. He is nineteen and has been well since."—Miss MARGARET HADDOW, 227 Murray St., Hamilton, Ont.

A HUMAN MATCH FACTORY

The body contains phosphorus sufficient to make 453,000 matches. Phosphorus is one of fourteen elements composing the body—divided among bones, flesh, nervous system and other organs. The perfect health of body requires a perfect balance of the elements. These elements come from the food we eat—the stomach extracts and distributes them.

But if the stomach is deranged—the balance of health is destroyed and the blood does not carry the proper elements to the different organs, and there is blood trouble—nerve trouble—rheumatism—gout—heart trouble. Pain is the hungry cry of starved organs. Put the liver, stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition into condition of health. That is just what is done by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which has been so favorably known for nearly 50 years. It is now put up in tablet form, as well as liquid, and can be obtained of medicine dealers everywhere or by mail by sending 50 cents in 1c. stamps for trial box—address Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original little liver pills first put up nearly 50 years ago. They regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Much imitated but never equalled. Sugar-coated and easy to take as candy.

BRITAIN'S AIR SERVICE

Change Made Owing to Its Rapid Growth

Owing to the rapid expansion of the Royal Naval Air Service, both with respect to personnel and material, the admiralty has decided to place it under the direction of a flag officer with the title of director of the air service.

Rear-Admiral C. L. Vaughan-Lee has been selected for this appointment. Commodore M. F. Sufter, the present director of the air service, will be in charge of the material side of the naval aeronautical work, with the title of superintendent of aircraft construction.

Vacant Lot Gardens

Excellent Results Secured, but Precautions Against Weeds Is Required

Reports from various cities and towns in Canada as to the cultivation of vacant lots indicate that the campaign inaugurated last spring for greater production and more extensive use of vacant land has been a success. Several cities have handled the vacant lot problem in a systematic manner, and have secured results commensurate to the amount of energy expended. Some, by allowing interest to lag, have been only partially successful. In others, also, circumstances militated against success in that unemployed men took up the cultivation of vacant lots, and, upon securing employment, neglected them. On the whole, however, the movement can be regarded as a distinct success. No estimate of the value of the product is available, but, judging from the enthusiasm of some of the vacant lot gardeners, the total value is large.

There is one danger from the vacant lot garden, however, to which attention must be drawn, namely, the growth of noxious weeds in the newly cultivated land. Too often, on the removal of the crop, the ground is given over to the weeds. Organizations handling the vacant lot work should give the matter of weed destruction early attention; otherwise, the lots will not only prove a menace to the land in the vicinity by the spread of weed seeds, but create antagonism to the movement on the part of the occupiers of the neighboring land.

Bulgaria's Aid

Could Put Over 300,000 Soldiers in the Field

In refusing to allow Germany and Austria to send munitions of war through Roumania to Turkey the Roumanian government gave strong proof of its friendly attitude towards Great Britain and her allies. This has now been followed by similar action on the part of Bulgaria, King Ferdinand having assented to a ministerial decree a few days ago forbidding the passage of war supplies to Turkey through his country. Viewed in the light of Premier Asquith's outspoken remarks in the house of commons to the effect Great Britain was preparing to give financial assistance to one or more neutral countries which were likely to be drawn still closer to the allies, this step by the two Balkan states is highly significant.

Military observers agree that no harder blow has been struck at Turkey than this cutting off of her supplies, and the prediction is made that Austria will attempt to force a passage to the Turkish border. Such an effort would result in disaster to the enemy, for the slightest offense in this direction would bring a declaration of war from both Bulgaria and Roumania. It will not be surprising if these nations lose little time in entering the conflict anyway; for it must be plain to them now that their only hope of gain is in actively opposing the Teutons and their ally. There is every indication that the newly elected parliament of Greece looks at it in that way, so far as Greece is concerned, and its attitude undoubtedly is having a tremendous influence with Roumania and Bulgaria. The latter, military observers believe, will throw its lot with the allies in spite of certain railway concessions that Turkey is reported to have made to the Bulgarian government.

If Bulgaria should enter the war on the side of the allies it would be in a position to put between 300,000 and 400,000 first class soldiers in the field. While the population is only 4,400,000, about 2,600,000 less than that of Roumania, a very large proportion of the male population is trained to fight and the women are ready to take the places of the men in all kinds of domestic work. The Bulgarian navy, of course, is of little importance, as it consists only of a torpedo boat or two and a few small steamers. But it would not be the military strength of Bulgaria that would mean so much to the allies it would be the ease with which allied forces could pass over Bulgarian territory to the Dardanelles that would count most. With such a passage at their disposal the British and French soon would be in possession of Constantinople.—Daily Telegraph, St. John.

Toys Allowed to Pass

Johnny Bull isn't hard-hearted. His decision to let ships bearing toys from Germany to go through should make him lots of sympathizers among the little folks of the United States.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Stovepipes should be thoroughly cleaned of soot before being used in the autumn, not only as a precaution against fire, but because the soot acts as an insulation, and keeps the pipe cool. Instead of the heat radiating from a warm pipe, it is carried up the chimney and wasted.

Non-Agricultural Lands

Present Waste Land Should be Utilized For Growth of Timber

Optimistic as we have been in this country, we seem to have been unable to see any value worth caring for in our non-agricultural lands. Our vision was broad enough years ago, when we heard of agricultural lands in the Peace River Valley, to recognize that such lands, while unused at the time, would within a decade or two grow crops and support a population. We may look across the future to the time when our far northern mineral deposits, though inaccessible and incapable of development at present, will develop centres of industry. But we travel daily across the non-agricultural, logged areas and burned-over lands which surround many of our most densely settled communities and lie across our transcontinental railways and we see in such lands no asset. This attitude is both dangerous and unfair to the country. We must realize that our present stands of merchantable timber cannot support our growing industries indefinitely. The growing American demand for forest products, to which in a very few decades will be added a much greater market in Europe than now exists, will very rapidly wipe out our eastern merchantable forests. Even now, New Brunswick, speeded up by foreign markets, is cutting each year from crown lands more than the annual forest growth.—H. R. MacMillan, at 1015 Annual Meeting of Commission of Conservation.

Every intelligent individual in Canada and in the United States knows almost intuitively what good citizenship is, what it stands for. FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1915

Premier McBride's answer to the prohibitionists is a masterpiece of vagueness. If Sir Richard expected, when he made it, to gain a reputation for wisdom by saying nothing, his object has been realized.

The Greenwood Ledge wants the charges made against Peter Veregin of horsewhipping some of the girls in the Doukhobor colony near this city investigated. We should also like to see a little more publicity thrown on the matter. The charges were printed in The Sun a couple of weeks ago, and we have good reasons for believing that they are founded on facts. The details of the incident, as we stated them, were told by one of the girls who had been lashed to her sister, who related the circumstances to her husband, an independent Doukhobor employed by one of the fruit growers on the Covert estate. This man informed his employer of the outrage. The rancher says he notified the provincial police immediately after Peter had administered the horsewhipping, but that no action was taken. Another citizen of Carson also states that he, too, informed the police of the incident. Whether or not the police had instructions from Victoria to do nothing, we are not prepared to say, but it looks that way. These are the facts in the case. To us the charges made against Veregin appear to be serious enough, in view of the severe beating and barbaric treatment given the girls, to warrant an investigation. The Lodge, or any other Tory paper, should not lay the unctuous flattery to its heart that the details printed in The Sun in connection with this case were dreamed in this office.

The provincial government's treatment of Doukhobor problem in this province has been the greatest travesty on justice every witnessed in a civilized country.

We prefer the following prophecy of a brighter future, by Victor Hugo, to the doleful wailings of the the present-day prophets, who can see nothing but the rapid approach of the end of all terrestrial things, all because a mad kaiser has converted all the European countries into a military camp. We not only prefer Hugo's prophecy, but we firmly believe that some day in the not distant future his mind's vision will be a reality; and the present war will do a great deal toward bringing about this ideal state. Teach the people to think right, and they will soon see the uselessness, injustice and barbarity of war.

"A day will come when the only battlefield will be the market open to commerce, and the mind opening to new ideas. A day will come when bullets and bomb shells will be replaced by votes, by the universal suffrage of nations, by arbitration of a sovereign senate, which will be to Europe what the parliament is to England, the diet to Germany, the legislative assembly to France. A day will come when a cannon ball will be exhibited in public museums, just as an instrument of torture is now, and the people will be astonished how such a thing could have been. A day will come when these two immense groups, the United States of America and the United States of Europe, shall be seen extending the hand of fellowship across the ocean, exchanging their products, their industry, their arts, their genius, clearing the truth, improving creation under the eye of the Creator, and uniting, for the good of all, those two irresistible and infinite powers—the fraternity of man and the power of God."

Women may come and women may go, but their bargain counter habit is a fixture.

Much of woman's vanity is due to man's flattery.

Never go in for practical joking unless you are a good loser.

There are people who look upon matrimony as a necessary evil.

No argument can discount genuine happiness.

It takes a woman to lead a fool man around, even when he imagines he is driving her.

Why is a woman more sensitive about a wrinkle than man is about his bald head?

About the first thing a woman does after moving into a house is to look into all the closets to see if the last tenants left any skeletons.

"Type was made to read" This fact is constantly kept in mind at The Sun Print Shop.

Council Meeting

Mayor Gaw and Ald. Bickerton, Bonihron, Manly, McCallum and Smith were present at the regular meeting of the city council last Monday night. Only routine business was transacted. The weather was blustery, and The Sun's hydroplane was out of order, preventing our reporter from attending to report the discussions.

A PRAYER

Lord, strong in battle with power to aid us,
Turn from our empire the tempest of war;
Save us, we pray Thee, from deep desolation,
Cry we in agony, stricken and sore.

Watch o'er our dearest ones, keep them through peril
By the sure guidance of Thy mighty hand;
Fear shall assail not, if Thou be their buckler,
Strength Thou canst give every foe to withstand.

Father, Thy children, bowing before Thee,
Ask for Thy help through this darkness to see;
Grant to our soldiers the light of Thy favor,
Thou art the victory, glory to Thee!

JOURNALISM IN TRENCH AND CABIN

Despite the hard times and the discouragements of censorship, there have recently appeared in the field of British journalism several interesting and audacious newcomers. These are the newspapers published by soldiers in the trenches and sailors at sea. A unique venture is the Maidstone Magazine, with which is incorporated the Pandora Piffle and Aleo Argus, whose editor and contributors are all officers of the Eighth Submarine Flotilla. It contains a little news and a great deal of jollity and nonsense, including an amusing parody on Lewis Carroll—"Alice in Eighth Flotilla Land."

The undersea journalists are rivaled by those who ride the billows instead of diving under them. Several papers have appeared on different ships of the battle fleet. In one, the North Sea Times, a contributor, "Mr. Clinker Cole from the stokehold," protesting against the uneven distribution of fighting chances, perpetrates a pun that is so bad that it is positively pre-eminent.

"Well, I dunno, but some blokes seem to scoop in all the luck wot's goin'," he complains resentfully. "Every time there's anything doin' that 'ere menagerie squadding—you know, the Lion and Tiger, and Indomita (bull), whatever kind of animal that may be—always gets a look in and does something, where as the remainder of us merely takes the part of audience."

Even the Voice of the Benzine Lancers—motor transport—makes itself heard through a special organ; and more than one enterprising little British sheet, published just behind the trenches "somewhere in France," contains, along with its news and nonsense, advertisements of concerts, private theatricals, wrestling and boxing matches, and football games organized among the men. In all the papers, anecdotes of the lighter side of military life abound. Here are a few of them:

"The skipper of trawler arrived alongside in his dinghy last week, having a German mine in tow," reports a naval correspondent. "The man's reply to urgent requests not to bring the thing too close, was, 'It's all right, sir, I've knocked the horns off wiv a boat hook.'"

Two brief dialogues were sent in to compete for the leather medal offered by a journal published in the trenches in Flanders:

A discontented soldier complains to an orderly officer about the dust and dirt in his rations.

Orderly Officer (severe y)—Didn't you enlist to fight for your country?
Discontented Soldier—Yes, but I didn't enlist to eat it.

The second dialogue takes place between an infantryman and a motor mechanic:

Infantryman—Which is your sergeant major—that thin man over there?

Friend, of the Motor Transport—No, the other one; him with the pneumatic stummick.

Just the Right Present

Don't take chances in the matter of Christmas presents. You don't want yours, like so many others, to be received with indifference or worse, and ten days after Christmas to be cast aside and forgotten.

You take no such chance in giving The Youth's Companion for a year.

Did you ever know of a home in which it came amiss, or of one in which it was not conspicuous on the library table or in some one's hands all through the year?

It is worth while to make a gift of that sort, and it is worth while to receive it, too, for The Companion illustrates the best traits in American and Canadian life in its stories and sketches, upholds the best standards in its articles and other contributions, and combines the practical and informing with the entertaining and blood stirring.

If you do not know The Companion as it is today, let us send you one or two current issues free, that you may thoroughly test the paper's quality. We will send also the Forecast for 1916.

Every new subscriber who sends $2.25 for the fifty two weekly issues of 1916 will receive free all the issues for the rest of 1915 and The Companion Home Calendar for 1916.

A Cascaret to-night will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. ### Dealing With Enemy

Department of Trade and Commerce
Asks Firms to be Careful

The department of trade and commerce has issued a statement urging that Canadian firms conducting business with Uruguay should do so through British or neutral firms rather than through the agency of German firms, however much they may be disguised by working through German sources. The government has been advised of hides from Uruguay being shipped to United States ports for transshipment to Canada through German firms in Uruguay. This virtually means trading with the enemy.

There is also evidence of Germans working through Dutch firms and offering to supply goods that formerly came from enemy countries. Warnings have been issued against Canadians patronizing such houses operating under the guise of Dutch manufacturers.

Miss Miranda Brown and Angelina Johnson were in the midst of a rather heated argument as to the meaning of "circumstantial evidence," when old Uncle Rastus poked his woolly head in at the door. He was immediately besieged to give his worthy opinion on the matter in question.

"De way Ah understand it, fum de way it's been 'splain'd to me," announced the old fellow, "circumstantial evidence is de feeders dat yo leaves lyin' round."

TWO WOMEN SAVED FROM OPERATIONS

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Their Own Stories Here Told.

Edmonton, Alberta, Can. — "I think it is no more than right for me to thank you for what your kind advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have done for me.

"When I wrote to you some time ago I was a very sick woman suffering from female troubles. I had organic inflammation and could not stand or walk any distance. At last I was confined to my bed, and the doctor said I would have to go through an operation, but this I refused to do. A friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now, after using three bottles of it, I feel like a new woman. I most heartily recommend your medicine to all women who suffer with female troubles. I have also taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills, and think they are fine. I will never be without the medicine in the house."—Mrs. FRANK ENSLEY, 903 Columbia Avenue, Edmonton, Alberta.

The Other Case.

Beatrice, Neb. — "Just after my marriage my left side began to pain me and the pain got so severe at times that I suffered terribly with it. I visited three doctors and each one wanted to operate on me but I would not consent to an operation. I heard of the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was doing for others and I used several bottles of it with the result that I haven't been bothered with my side since then. I am in good health and I have two little girls."—Mrs. R. B. CHILD, Beatrice, Neb.

Off the Narrow Way

On the first introduction of Tractarianism into Scotland, says Dean Ramsay in his reminiscences, the full choir service was established in an Episcopal church, where a noble family who lived in the neighborhood had adopted High Church views and carried them out regardless of expense. The lady of the house was very anxious that a favorite servant of the family—a Presbyterian woman of the old school—should hear the new service. Accordingly, she took her down to church in the carriage, and on returning asked her what she thought of the music and the service in general. "Oh, it's verra bonny, verra bonny," admitted the old Scotswoman; "but, oh, ma laddy, it's an awfu' way of spending the Sabbath."

IN THE CLUTCHES OF RHEUMATISM

The Great Suffering of a Calgary Lady Before Relief Was Found

There is still a very prevalent belief that rheumatism is due to cold or wet weather. This belief is probably due to the fact that when the blood is thin and watery there is an acute sensitivity to atmospheric conditions and a change to wet weather often means a return of the excruciating pains. Rheumatism, however, is rooted in the blood, and it can only be driven from the system by building up and enriching the blood. Hot baths and outward applications of liniment may give temporary relief, but cannot cure. If the disease is not attacked through the blood, it simply fastens itself more firmly on the system, and the sufferer ultimately becomes hopelessly crippled. The truth of this is proved by the case of Mrs. Frank Ford, of Calgary, Alta. Mrs. Ford says: "I was an almost helpless cripple from rheumatism. It seemed to have settled in every joint. My arms and hands had to be bandaged. My ankles were so swollen that I had to use crutches. After doctoring for a long time and growing steadily worse, the doctor advised me to go to Banff Springs. I stayed there for eight weeks taking daily baths and returned home poorer in pocket by about $150 and not one bit improved in health. I then entered a local hospital, but did not derive any benefit. I was in such constant pain that I almost wished to die, and I felt sure I would be a lifelong cripple. It was at this stage that a friend who had been greatly benefited by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills urged me to try them. I began the use of the Pills and after taking them a few weeks the swelling in the joints began to go down and the pain was relieved. This greatly encouraged me and I continued the treatment until in the course of three months the cure was complete. I had thrown away the crutches, could walk anywhere and do my own housework, and I never felt better in my life than I do at the present time, and all this is due to the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I have also given the Pills to my daughter who suffered from anaemia and she has gained in flesh and become a strong, healthy girl."

If you are suffering from rheumatism or any weakness of the blood give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial and they will speedily restore you to health and strength. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Customs Receipts Very Satisfactory
Customs receipts for the month of August, 1915, according to official figures, amounted to $3,330,604.00. This total is very slightly under that of August, 1914, when receipts showed the result of the heavy ex-warehousing of bonded liquors in anticipation of the tariff increase. The receipts for August last year exceeded those of last month by only $53,202.50.

The statement for this year is accordingly regarded by officials of the customs department as in every way satisfactory. The receipts for the five months of the present fiscal year for all departments amounted to $36,731,165.01, against $37,125,679.92 for the corresponding period of 1914-15.

Moving the Crops

Big Crop Will Swell the Earnings of Railways

After a long period of decreasing earnings, broken only occasionally by improvements which were not maintained, the Canadian railways are likely to receive a long hoped for and well deserved increase in earnings as a result of the enormous grain crop this year. It is estimated that in moving the total grain crop of more than half a billion bushels the three roads will earn between $10,000,000 and $20,000,000, and the effect of this both on the roads themselves and on other branches of commerce will be very great. From the wheat crop alone it is calculated that a sum of $24,000,000 will be earned.

For a long time the steady drop in railway earnings has been a cause of some concern. Various reasons have been attributed for the situation, among others being the falling off in immigration, the business depression and the increased competition of one road against another.

In no one branch of commercial activity, however, does the harvest so greatly reflect prosperity or the reverse as in the Canadian railways. These roads, whose western business, although being developed and increasing with the growth of the country is not of enormous proportions during the entire year, depend to a large extent on the harvest.

German Hatred of Prussia

A good deal of interest naturally attaches itself to the following quotation from Heine, Germany's greatest lyric poet, which was written in 1832: "I regard this Prussian Eagle with apprehension, and while others count his daring glances toward the sun, I look the more attentively at his claws."

"I could not trust this Prussia, this tail, pietistic hero in gaiters, this braggart with the capacious maw carrying a corporal's staff, which he first dips in holy water before bringing it down upon one's head."

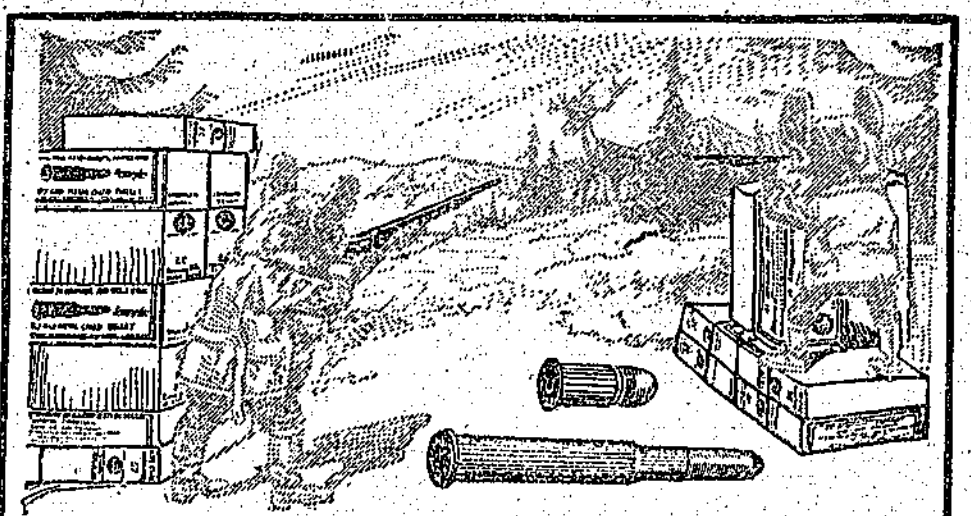

"I had great misgivings about this medley of beer, deceit and Brandenburg sand."

"Repulsive, deeply repulsive to me, was ever this Prussia, this pedantic, hypocritical, sanctimonious Prussia—this Tartuffe among nations."

"Prussia has made use of its most thunderous demagogues to preach to the world that all Germany ought to be Prussian—Hegel himself has been obliged to demonstrate the advantages of servility."

B.C. and Yukon Send Many Soldiers

Military district No. 11, comprising British Columbia and the Yukon has raised 21,161 troops, of whom 17,370 have enlisted for overseas service, according to figures published by headquarters. Already 12,000 troops have left British Columbia and are either on the firing line or at Shorncliffe. The aggregate strength of the overseas battalions and other units for the front now in training in the province is 192 officers and 5,178 men. On this basis of enlistment to population, if all Canada responded in the same ratio, the forces of the Dominion would number 400,000 men.

A Cure For Fever and Ague.—Disturbance of the stomach and liver always precede attacks of fever and ague, showing derangement of the digestive organs and deterioration in the quality of the blood. In these ailments Parmelee's Vegetable Pills have been found most effective, abating the fever and subduing the ague in a few days. There are many who are subject to these distressing disturbances and to these there is no better preparation procurable as a means of relief.

Disablement Fund Grows

The disablement fund which is being started under the auspices of the Military Hospital commission, of which Senator Loughheed is president, is off to a good start.

James Carruthers, the Montreal millionaire grain man, has contributed $100,000 towards the fund. Other generous contributions have also been received and will be announced later.

HUGE SUMS HAVE BEEN SPENT TO ATTRACT IMMIGRANTS TO CANADA

THREE MILLION IMMIGRANTS IN PAST 15 YEARS

A Booklet Issued by the Minister of the Interior gives some Interesting Facts and Figures Concerning the Immigration Work Carried on by the Dominion During the Past

Canada has expended thirteen and a half million dollars in the past fifteen years on immigration work in all parts of the world and the result has been a direct increase in population by new arrivals of about three million people. This, and a whole lot more information concerning immigration work is contained in a very interesting little booklet issued by the direction of Hon. W. J. Roche, minister of the interior, called "Immigration Facts and Figures."

Immigration has been encouraged from the British Isles, the United States and certain European countries, but, of course, at present the campaign is not being carried on in Germany, Austria, Finland or Russia. Southern Europeans or Asians have not been wanted at any time.

There are various ways in which the attractions of Canada are set forth to the prospective emigrant. Regular agencies are established, newspaper publicity, distribution of pamphlets, exhibits of grains and other products; and in Great Britain exhibition wagons are sent around through the country districts. In the United States exhibits are made at the big fairs and expositions. In Great Britain and Europe arrangements are made with steamship and booking agents, whereby a bonus is paid for the emigrants which are directed to this country. Records in the pamphlet go back as far as 1897, but in the majority of instances they are not complete for all that period, as more detailed and accurate information regarding new arrivals in the Dominion are constantly being introduced.

During the past 15 years there was a total immigration of 3,050,000, the largest number from any country being those from the British Isles, 1,359,628; with Americans a close second, 1,058,000. Of the remainder the Austro-Hungarians, which include the Galicians, numbered 200,000; Germans, 28,000; Italians, 119,000, and Russians 97,000. These are the round figures.

Easterners have a pleasing habit of telling the people west of the lakes that money which is spent on immigration is a direct contribution to the filling up of the west and that we should be correspondingly grateful to them for allowing the money to be appropriated.

A glance at the figures given regarding the destination of the immigrants shows that the eastern provinces got about half of the new arrivals.

There is one class of immigrants that is directly beneficial in a financial way—the Chinese. In head tax the Orientals have paid very large amounts particularly in the four years following 1910. In that year the receipts were $2,257,000; 1911, $3,041,000; 1912, $2,530,000; 1913, $2,639,000; while last year there was only $577,000. This money is collected from each Chinaman at the rate of $500 per head.

While there have been over three million people admitted, it must not be inferred that all who make application are allowed to take up their residence in the Dominion. In the past 12 years there have been 123,500 rejections for various reasons, ranging from sickness or lack of funds. Even after admission has been gained there have been during the past dozen years over 10,000 people rejected.

In classifying the occupations of the immigrants it is shown that those from the British Isles and others from the continent are about equally divided between farmers and general laborers, as there were a little more than 500,000 of each. A very great majority of the Americans who have come across are farmers, there being almost a half million, while the laborers do not total 200,000.

There are a great many comparisons that can be deduced from the little booklet, which contains a lot of interesting information for those who might be inclined to give a little study to the material from which the future Canada is to be constructed.

Better Prices For Crops

Banking and Business Interests Should Co-operate With the Farmers

At a meeting held recently in Winnipeg at which representatives of the farmers' organizations of Western Canada were present, the matter of prices likely to be received for the present crop was discussed. It was the unanimous opinion of those present that a heavy movement on the part of the farmers to sell their grain at the present time would be almost certain to force prices to a lower level and that if a more leisurely method of marketing were followed by the farmers in the disposal of their grain a better average price all round would be secured for it.

While it was recognized that the matter of giving advice on the selling of grain is a difficult one, it was thought advisable by all present to make a public statement advising the farmers of Western Canada, as far as possible, to store a portion of their grain on their farms, and, in this way, spread the marketing of it over the next eight or ten months, rather than place it in immense quantities upon the market in the next few months with the certainty—as far as the present outlook is concerned—of bringing prices to a considerably lower level.

Lake and ocean boat space is more scarce than in previous years; rates for such space are higher than ever before; rates of exchange between this country and Europe are also more adverse than they have even been and undoubtedly the flooding of the market with grain immediately after threshing will mean that these charges which ultimately have to be paid by the farmer, will go higher than ever.

It was thought advisable to publicly request the co-operation of the banks and business interests generally in the matter. Their co-operation might take the form of extending the time for payment of liabilities that farmers might have to such banks or business interests, rather than to force the farmers to sell their grain at a sacrifice in order to meet liabilities falling due in October and November. The banks particularly by taking advantage of the powers recently conferred could make advances to farmers on the security of grain on the farm.

If this method of marketing can be followed, we feel certain that it will result in a greater monetary return for the crop to the farmers of Western Canada than will otherwise obtain, and it seems apparent that such a result will be a direct benefit to every business interest in the country, and at the same time will insure a steady flow of grain sufficient for the needs of the empire.

More leisurely marketing of our grain has always been advocated by the leaders of the farmers' organizations and we make this statement at the present time for the purpose of directing attention to this very important matter at a period when our crop is just beginning to move. We believe that if farmers follow our suggestion in large numbers that the result will prove that the scheme is far more practical than any other that could be suggested to insure a fair return for the crop.

Signed on behalf of the farmers' organizations. Jas. Speakman, Pres. United Farmers of Alberta; P. P. Woolbridge, Sec. United Farmers of Alberta; John Maharg, Pres. Sask. Grain Growers' Association; J. B. Musselman, Sec. Sask. Grain Growers' Association; R. C. Henderson, Pres. Manitoba Grain Growers' Association; R. McKenzie, Sec. Man. Grain Growers' Association; C. Rice Jones, Pres. Alberta Farmers' Co-operative Elevator Co.; Chas. A. Dunning, Gen. Manager, Sask. Co-operative Elevator Co.; T. A. Cramer, Pres. Grain Growers' Co., Ltd.

Considerable Impetus To General Trade

Canada's Prospects Are Warmly Eulogized

The London Observer has a lengthy article eulogizing the financial position and prospects of Canada. It says: "The Canadian harvest news is much liked, and is naturally having a material influence on prices. With a big surplus and high prices current owing to the Dardanelles being still unforced the Dominion should greatly benefit. Moreover, it is distinctly encouraging to learn that a considerable impetus has been given to general trade, and that the volume of orders from country districts is increasing largely."

"The immediate result is that Canadian Pacific and other Canadian railway securities are making headway, and business is becoming more pronounced. The Canadian Pacific report gives timely reminder of economic being practised, and furnishes evidence of the confidence of the directors in their roads for the future."

"Owing to crop conditions, and the period of enforced economy, severe curtailment is unnecessary. The outlook has helped to place the Dominion in a position to benefit decidedly from any improving profits, whether from war munitions, trade or the sale of foodstuffs."

Conservation and propagation of bird life go hand in hand, and the forces of destruction, disease and shooting must be limited and regulated until a balance is reached that will show an annual healthful increase.

Since the beginning of the war more than 100,000 British workmen have been transferred through the government labor exchanges to work on munition and other military labor.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE WAR IS SHOWN TO REST ON GERMANY

GERMANS TRY TO CONCEAL DAMNING EVIDENCE

British Foreign Office Replies to Recent German Statements, in Which the Latter Have Endeavored to Place the Blame for Their Humiliating Position on Other Nations

In reply to recent German statements relating to the origin of the war, the British foreign office issued the following:

"First—The Germans maintain that the reason which led to the rejection of the proposal for a conference was the mobilization of Russia. In Paper Number 43 of our White Book, Sir J. Goschen (British ambassador at Berlin) reported a conversation with the German secretary of state, refusing a conference."

"The secretary of state said that the suggested conference would practically amount to a court of arbitration and could not in his opinion be called together, except at the request of Austria and Russia. He maintained that such a conference was not practicable. He further said that if Russia mobilized against Germany the latter would have to follow suit. As when he refused a conference he referred to the possibility of Russian mobilization it cannot now be maintained that the reason for the refusal was the fact that Russia was mobilizing."

"As a matter of fact, the proposal for a conference was made July 26, 1914, and was refused by Germany July 27, 1914, while it was not until July 31 that orders were given for a general mobilization in Russia. On that day Germany presented an ultimatum to Russia requiring an undertaking that within 12 hours the Russian forces should be demobilized."

"Second—Doubt is thrown in Germany on the assurance we gave Belgium in 1913 that we should not land troops in that country except in the case of violation of its territory by another power. Assurance was not only given to the Belgian minister but Sir F. Villiers gave Sir Edward Grey's record of it to the Belgian government at the time. The assurance appeared in the collected diplomatic documents. Why is it doubted? It is because the Germans have not allowed the reproduction of the document, which is so damning to their case."

"Third—The final interview between Sir Edward Grey and Prince Lichnowsky (German ambassador at London). This interview, purely private, was held at a private house and no record was made of it. But Sir E. Grey is certain that he never made the statement quoted by the North German Gazette with regard to the decisive factor in Great Britain's participation in the war, nor did he speak of mediation in favor of Germany. If need be, a fuller statement will be made in parliament on the subject."

"Fourth—The immediate cause of this war was the dispute between Austria and Serbia, which then turned into a dispute between Austria and Russia. Yet it is worthy of note that it was Germany who declared war against Russia and France. The Austrian ambassador remained in Petrograd after the German ambassador left. Germany declared war on Russia on August 1 and Austria on August 6, 1914."

French Airmen Use Liquid Air Bombs

It Has Contributed Largely to Success of Recent Raids Over German Positions

A well known French aviator describes how a 60 year old professor of science joined the air service as sub-lieutenant to try out a new liquid air bomb he had invented. A member of the Academy of Science and an officer of the Legion of Honor, the professor offered his bomb free on condition that he be allowed to direct the first military trial, but as the regulations forbid anyone, save a member of the army, taking war flights, he promptly volunteered and received a commission. He took the observer's seat in a biplane during operations near Lieberterne and accurately dropped a bomb weighing 100 pounds, on a chateau, the local Germans headquarters. When the smoke cleared away he saw the chateau had been practically demolished. The aviator asserts that the bomb is tenfold more destructive than the same weight of dynamite. The professor is now directing the manufacture of these bombs, which have contributed largely to the success of the recent raids by French airmen.

Phosphates of Lime Deposits

A Valuable Discovery is Made in the National Park at Banff

Frank D. Adams, Ph. D., dean of the faculty of applied science at McGill University, reports a valuable discovery of phosphate of lime made in the Banff National Park by him, in company with W. J. Dick, mining engineer of the commission of conservation. The discovery may have a far-reaching effect on the grain growing industry of Canada, in view of this substance being the best known fertilizer. Its special value to western Canada is that it is practically the only thing that can be used to keep up the fertility of a soil that is being continually cropped.

The two men were sent out to look for phosphate of lime, following recent discoveries in the states of Idaho, Utah, Wyoming and Montana. They believed that should the Rocky Mountains of Canada contain similar geological formations as the localities where the lime had been discovered they would also find deposits of the lime.

This proved to be the case. They went to Montana, examining the deposits near Butte, then passed into Canada, investigating the strata of the mountains in the North Kootenay pass, the Crow's Nest pass and the Banff National park. In the park they found the desired geological horizon, and eventually the lime.

Dr. Adams thinks the lime exists there in commercial quantities. There is no other known deposits along the north shore of the Ottawa river. It appears only on the eastern slope of the Rockies, where the rocks are carbonaceous.

Another interesting discovery made was the existence of three hitherto unrecorded coal seams near the summit of the South Kootenay pass. The geologists have reported to the commission of conservation and a statement will likely be issued shortly.

The farmer with the golden grain is the man who is to be envied this year. Alberta farmers are among the most fortunate people on the face of the earth and likewise among the best. Calgary Albertan.

The Part Played By the Dominion

Canada Is Not Unduly Feeling the War Burden

Sir George Foster, minister of trade and commerce in the Canadian cabinet, in an interview, says: "One hundred and fifty thousand Canadians are on the battle line in Europe or being recruited and trained for the war." This statement is the first official announcement concerning the contribution of men Canada has made to the allies.

"Up to the present time Canada has trained over seven thousand men and sent them to the front or base stations in Europe for further training," Sir George continued. "In addition, eighty thousand men are being recruited and trained in Canada. If occasion demands Canada can increase still further her assistance. Canada does this not simply to help the Mother country, but because the Dominion is part of the empire and shares its ideals and perils equally."

"Altogether it is probable that out of this co-operation in the struggle for existence of the British empire relations between the Overseas Dominions and the Mother Country will become closer than ever. What methods of organization will be needed to bring this about and give it articulate form are not worth while discussing now. That will remain for after consideration."

"Canada is not unduly feeling the burden of war, owing mainly to our large agricultural resources, and for the surplus of which the call is continuously and insistent, but whatever burdens Canada may be required to bear as a consequence of the present conditions, she will bear cheerfully and without murmuring."

Business Will Boom

Pessimists Will Receive a Severe Jolt This Winter

British war orders of $280,000,000 and French, Italian and Russian contracts amounting in all to as much more, we may put the total money coming into the country and already here as not less than half a billion dollars. To this colossal amount must be added the value of the western wheat crop, the biggest in the history of the Dominion.

These two facts mean one thing only, namely, that business is bound to boom in the fall and winter. It is impossible that such vast sums of money should be coming here without influencing business enormously for the better. That is the answer to those pessimists who say that this coming winter is going to be without parallel for distress, unemployment and general hard times. Those firms which have prided themselves on an optimistic outlook through the tight money and slack business period following on the outbreak of the war, are going to reap the advantage of their pluck and energy. Companies and individuals who have kept the flag flying in the lean times just after the commencement of the war and who have consistently kept themselves in the public eye, are the ones who are going to get the pickings soon when the good times break.

Let Ontario Give Thanks

There is in some quarters of Ontario loud complaint about the damage done to the crops by bad weather of late. Let any man who kicks about the damage done to crops just think for two minutes about Belgium or Poland and then thank heaven that it is only his crops that are damaged.—Brockville Times.

U. S. Fleet Can Traverse Panama in a Day

Proof of This Afforded in Handling of Naval Practice Squadron

Proof that the entire present main American battleship fleet, made up of four divisions of five ships each and a flagship, a total of twenty-one, could be passed through the Panama canal in one day has been afforded by the handling of the Naval Academy practice squadron in the canal locks on its way to and from the Panama Pacific Exposition.

The squadron, composed of the battleships Missouri, Ohio and Wisconsin, the largest warships which have so far used the canal, were put through the locks at Pedro Miguel and Miraflores, the Missouri and Ohio simultaneously in parallel, with the Wisconsin directly in the rear.

Patriotism and Prices

Necessary That the Producer Should Receive Fair Prices

Patriotism and production was the label on the campaign that employed the leading men of the country in the work of teaching the farmers how to grow better crops.

Patriotism and prices might be the label on a campaign that could employ the leading men of the country in the work of teaching the farmers how to get better prices for the crops they have grown.

Farmers know as much about raising crops as they do about selling crops. Outside wisdom helped the farmer to raise crops. Outside wisdom might help the farmer to sell crops. The patriotism and production campaign will be discredited if the farmer is to receive no more money for the long crop of 1915 than he received for the short crop of 1914. That result may be the inevitable outcome of the workings of the law of supply and demand. Fair prices for the fruits of the harvest are almost as essential to the prosperity of a country as is the fertility of that country's fields. A multitude of counsellors can at least do something to dispel the superstition which represents the farmer as the victim of manipulation which seeks to reduce prices for the benefit of speculators.—Toronto Telegram.

Good Humor

Our good allies, the French, have been astonished by the light-heartedness of the British Tommy. However heavy the casualties, however wearisome the duty, however imminent the danger, our soldiers have never lost their power to sing and chuck and laugh. As a matter of fact this power is the quality of the people. The typical working class Briton meets adversity with a smile, and bad luck with an unconquerable determination to make the best of things. Dickens discovered the humor of England. England at its greatest was "Merrie England." The British tried and proved by the war must be a "Merrie England" once more.—London Daily News and Leader.

Facts and Figures of War

The British Empire is Now Nearly One-third Larger Than Before the War

The population of the world is variously estimated at between 1,600 and 1,700 millions, and over 963 millions (or more than half) are now at war, in that they are subjects of, or under the protection of, states now engaged in hostilities. Of this total, 421 millions, or nearly one-half, are subjects of King George or under British protection.

The land surface of the earth (including all the waste places, such as the Polar regions) is estimated at 55,500,000 square miles. More than half of the world, in this geographical sense, is at war, the territories, colonies and protectorates of the nations concerned totalling 25,616,000 square miles.

Of the sixty nations usually given in the list of nations of the world, nineteen are at war or directly concerned in it.

The British empire, before the war, comprised 11,454,862 square miles, excluding Egypt, the Sudan and Cyprus, which were technically Turkish. The empire has increased by some 2,326,000 square miles, or nearly one-third, during the first year of the war. This figure includes the Camerons, the conquest of which is not yet complete, and is a Franco-British enterprise, so that the territory will probably be divided.

The new territories captured, incorporated in the empire, or added to our sphere of influence, are in square miles:

Egypt, 400,000; Sudan, 984,000; Cyprus, 3,500; Arabia, 1,200,000; German Southwest Africa, 322,456; Togoland, 33,700; Camerons, 191,200; German New Guinea (including Kaiser Wilhelm's Land, the Bismarck Archipelago, and the Carolines, Pelew, Marianic groups of islands), 100,000; Samoan Archipelago, 1,050.

Of the Arabian Peninsula, the Aden protectorate (about 6,000 square miles) belonged to Great Britain. Turkey owned about 436,000 square miles, and the remainder comprises huge deserts, sparsely inhabited by nomadic tribes. It has a total population of some 4,870,000.

B.C. May Go Into Shipbuilding

That the province of British Columbia should get into the ship owning business with a view of developing the natural resources of this country, increasing its export trade and making its products known to all the world is the suggestion made by Mr. Hugh McLean, an old time resident of Vancouver, and who has placed his scheme before the government.

Mr. McLean has carefully studied the lumber trade of British Columbia and has come to the conclusion that British Columbia lumber is not getting fair recognition in the markets of the world. He also believes that the province is wealthy enough in natural resources to justify the government in making a bold experiment in the way of government owned and managed ships to carry our products.
