BOUKS WANT PACIFIC BUILDING

Bylaw Introduced in City Council to Authorize Construction of Cement Sidewalk on South Side of Bridge Street

Mayor Hull and all the aldermen were present at the regular meeting of the city council on Monday evening.

An offer from the Doukhobor society to purchase or rent the Pacific hotel building in the West ward was laid over for further consideration.

Harvey Hansen and A. E. Kipping appeared before the council and asked for an extension of the electric system for power purposes to their homes in the West ward, stating that they were wil ing to pay half the cost of installing the same. The council seemed well disposed toward the proposition and referred the matter to the water and light committee with power to act.

The usual batch of monthly accounts were ordered to be paid.

The chairman of the water and light committee reported that a nozzle had been ardered for the fire department; that foot valve at the pump station had been repaired, and that sufficient 3½ inch pipe had been secured to connect the service on Observation avenue with Winnipeg avenue.

The band made a request for a grant not to exceed $35 to repair the instruments. Promised.

The Grand Forks hospital made enquiries regarding the disposition of the liquor profits grant. Action was deferred pending an interview with the manager of the hospital.

The question of forcing the closing of the local barber shops at a specified hour was gone into and laid over for legal advice.

The question of the erection and maintenance of unsightly fences t the cemetery was discussed, and the council thought the practice ought to be discouraged in future.

The annual grant covering the refund of the road tax of the members of the fire department who are not property owners, was authorized by the council.

Mayor Hull submitted a very comprehensive report of the business transacted at the annual convenuon at Kamloops of the Union British Columbia Municipalities.

A bylaw was introduced to authorize the construciion of a cement sidewalk, 12 feet wide, on the south side of Bridge street, between Second and Third streets.

Fined for Stealing Newspaper From Owner's Porch

Cincinnati, Oetober 10.—That a newspaper is worth to the subscriber many times the value placed upon it in fixing the retail selling price has long been a recognized fact. It has remained, however, for a Cincinnati policecourt judge to measure its mental worth, or rather the lack of it, in dollars.

The stealer of a newspaper from a subscriber's front porch was apprehended and upon being brought into court was fined $5 because of the mental eistress caused the victim. In passing sentence the judge commented:

"When a man finds his morning paper gone, his whole day is spoiled."

Newspapers only seem cheap to those who judge them in bundles; it is their absence that gives us a full appreciation of their value in our everyday life.

Your Business

"And what is your business?" remarked one of those present to the latest arrival to join the group.

"Why, you might call me an insurance agent."

"Really," said Brown, "I'm an actuary with the Ajax. What's your company?"

"Well. you see," remarked Mr. Newcomer, "I've a company of my own."

"Well, I am surprised. We seem to be entertaining a capitalist in our midst."

The passing of these remarks had more or less focussed the attention of the group on Newcomer. He, in turn, felt an explanation was more or less necessary.

"Perhaps I'd better explain," he began. "You all carry insurance of many and various kinds. In fact, besides the regular fire, marine and life policies, with which we are all familiar, it seems as if we could protect ourselves against any kind of loss. There has, however, been one field never touched by insurance. So, I spend my time working out protection for that field, which ranks in importance with life and fire and, as a matter of fact, it is sometimes more than either."

"Well, what is that? Enlighten us," spoke up one of the group.

"Markets!" replied Newcomer.

"What do you mean?"

"Simply that time and experience have proved that there is a policy which not only extends over the field but actually protects against inroads on a manufacturer's market."

"Well, I'd like to buy such protection," said Henry, the boot and shoe man. "What do you call this policy?"

"Regular payment continuous advertising," replied Newcomer.

"Humph!" Brown ejaculated, "that's another angle to an old story.'

Benefits Consumer; Trouble for Producer

The new Dominion Root Vegetables act, which came into force this week, has been instituted for the protection of the industry, and in the interests of the buyer as well, states Graham Forester, inspector of the department of agriculture at Victoria.

In the course of a statement made, Mr. Forester specially refers to the sections covering the grading of potatoes as being of much benefit to the consumer, as under grade "Canada A" and "Canada B" he will get a quality which will be the most economical and best for cooking.

He is also protected by the clause which states that no potatoes shall be sold which are so diseased or otherwise depreciated as to render them unfit for human consumption.

All root vegetables must be sold by weight, with the grading marked in a plain and indelible manner on the tag attached to the sack, according to the new act. This will guarantee the buyer getting proper weight.

The act also provides that it shall be considered a false representation when more than 10 per cent of root vegetables sold in packages are substantially smaller in size, or inferior in grade, to those shown on the surface.

Good Demand in Calgary for No. 1 McIntosh--Netted Gem Potatoes, $36 Per Ton Wholesale

Calgary, October 11.—As is usual at this time of year there is now a demand for those fruits the season for which has practically closed. This is especially noticeable in the cases of peaches, plums and prunes.

Some very fine McIntosh apples are arriving in Calgary and there is a gook demand for the No. 1 stock despite the fact that crates containing mixed grades are being offered at $1.65 retail. These will retard the sale of No. 1 stock to a certain extent, but nevertheless the prime quality is being disposed of in large quantities and once the mixed grades are finished there should be a largely increased demand for the No. 1.

Netted Gem potatoes ars wholesaling at $36 per ton, and owing to the fact that the potato crop locally is generally good it is hardly to be expected that there will be any advance in this price.

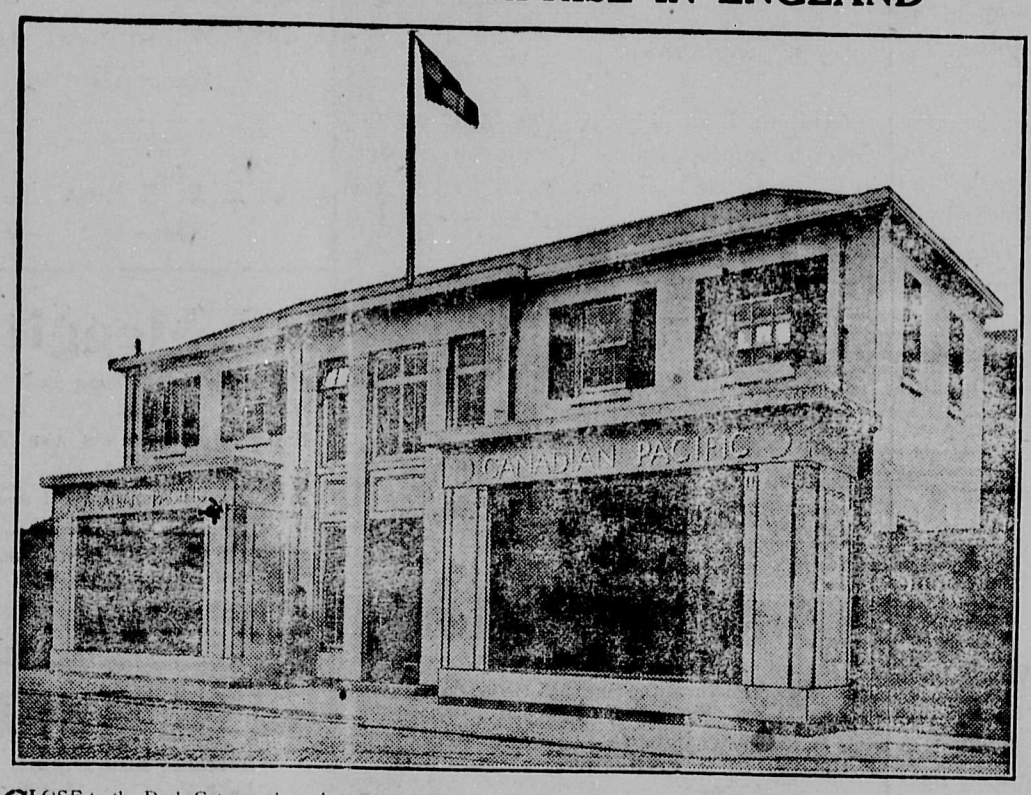
CANADIAN ENTERPRISE IN ENGLAND



CLOSE to the Dock Gates, and nearly opposite the South-Western Hotel, the new Canadian Pacific Building at Southampton, England, opened on Monday, Sept. 4th, will soon become a well-known landmark for travellers.

The building stands out in striking relief to the rather drab appearance of Canute Road, on which it faces. A stone front, colour washed brickwork, and pleasant green shutters to the first floor windows, have assisted in achieving this desirable effect. Window decoration has been treated in an original style, with sliding shutters having reed-like divisions screening the interior, on the lines of the Oriental Shyoji.

The interior decorations and arrangements have been carried out from a strictly practical point of view. A colour scheme of decided character has been obtained by a strong contrast of black and red, ebonised woodwork supplying the black, while an unusual type of old fashioned marbling has been used for the cornice and dado.

Rubber floors, which deaden the sound of footsteps and are also considered more sanitary where there is much traffic, are an important feature of an office that will undoubtedly prove a very busy one for its occupants, Mr. David Drummond, Southampton Agent, and his Staff, in dealing with the ever-increasing flow of Canadian Pacific traffic through the Port of Southampton.

All the work has been carried out by a well-known local firm, Messrs. Jenkins & Sons, of Southampton, from designs prepared by A. H. Jones, M.S.A., architect, and P. A. Staynes, R.O.I., artist, of 10, Conduit Street, London, W.

THE HABITS OF CODLING MOTH

Gravitation Is Not the Only Thing Which Makes Apples Fall From the Trees

In view of the outbreak of codling moth in some orchards in a few districts in British Columbia, the following article, which appeared in an eastern publication, will be of interest to growers:

Isaac Newton is said to have discovered the law of gravitation as a result of studies induced or suggested by the fall of an apple. What made the apple fall to the ground? The subject that concerns the fruit grower is not the law that made the apple drop, but what made it leave the tree—before its time.

Did you ever go out under an apple tree and find on the ground hundreds of little apples hardly larger than a marble? None of them were ripe, and most of them had not even startld to ripen. It is the work of the codling moth.

If you will look at one of these apples that has fallen to the ground you will find that it has or has had a worm in it That is the reason it fell. When a worm has eaten into the core and hurt the seeds so that they can not ripen, the tree knows there is no use of feeding that apple any longer. Therefore the apple falls from the tree. If the worm does not get right into the core, however, the apple will often remain on the tree until it has ripened. Then when you eat the apple you find the worm.

You will be interested to know how and where ihis little apple thief lives. After the worm crawls out of the apple, it begins to look for a place to sleep. It usually finds a piace under loose bark of the tree or under weeds that grow near the tree When it finds a place that is suitable, a silken cradle is woven around it. It finds its bed in the fall, sleeps all winter and wakes up just as the tree is blooming in the spring. A great change has taken place while it was asleep. It went to sleep as a worm and woke up a moth with wings.

The moth lays its eggs on the leaves, bark or fruit of the apple tree. In a short time the eggs hatch into worms. Then the worms begin crawling and enter the apples at the blossom end. In some parts of our conntry there are two crops of codling moths.

The best way is to spray the trees with a mixture of three pounds of arsenate of tead and 50 gallons of water. The first dose of poison should be given a week or ten days after the petals fall from the blossoms. A second dose should be given three or four weeks later.

Why not plan to keep the little apple thief out of your orchard next year!

"Bunk!" That's the word for you. A luscious, juicy, onomato-poetic word; that damns pretension in its utterance, and rebukes with a smacking gesture the vacuity of the spell-binder. More power to it! May its use increase, not as the mere coup de grace of conversational retort, but as tue critical estimate of good people of this smoke screen of empty words that hangs around us. Of course it is hardly to be expected that in this superlative age we could get along without some bunk. Babies and sunsets, fire sales and circus parades, must be described in crescendo style. The demagogue must goggle, and the heart of the "people" must be touched by the seeker after suffrage. So the flood of words runs on. But if we can not stop the flood we can at least refrain from swelling it. There are such things as truth and restraint in speech. To seek for them is a Christian duty. And even though the times do be unpropitious, it is worth while striving for honesty in speech as well as in thought.

Every time a member of the Victoria government sneezes columns of "bunk" are broadcasted by the Conservative press about an impending provincial election.

A few months ago the Mennonites left Canada for Mexico because the government of Manitoba insisted that English and not German should be the first language taught in their schools. However, the "liberty" of Mexico, where bandits raided and robbed them, was rather too much liberty; the Mennonites have asked Manitoba to take them back. The English language and a real government do not look so bad after all.

The tronble with the easy-going fellow is that it's so hard to get him started.

The disproportion between the sexes varies greatly througqout Europe, but every country that has been at war has a large surplus of women. On the whole continent of Europe, accordidg to English statistics, there is an excess of twenty-five million women.

When members of the provincial government visit the city they usually address public meetings. Our federal member seems to think that all that is required is to appear before the Conservative association.

Rural Welfare Centres on this side of the Atlantic have a couuterpart in recently organized "village clubs" in England and "foyers" in France. The purpose of the European associations is to provide social, recreational and intellectual advantages that the country commuities have hitherto lacked. The campaign is to raise the standard of living and offer wider opportunities for culture, and so to make life happier.

An honorable name is priceless. The Conservatives are attempting to bolster up their dwindling fortunes by filching the good name of the dominant party.

The astronomers at Mount Wilson have been conducting some interesting experiments to determine the heat of such giant suns as Betelgeuse, Capella and Aldebaran. They have decided that it is approximately 10,000 degrees Centigrade, or 18,000 degrees Fahrenheit. Coal strikes would be nothing to worry about in that neighborhood, remarks an eastern exchange.

Another armistice has been signed, and soen there will be no Greece spots by which to Thrace the retreating Helenese.

Cesspools Where Child Laber Is Legitimate Infect the Entire Nation

[HERBERT C. HOOVER]

Every weli wisher of children feel deeply the failure of the last effort in national prevention of child labor. A study of the situation as it stands will show that a majority of states have forwad-looking and effective laws in child protection, that some others have enacted legislation that at least goes part way. But there is a minority that are still in the Middle ages in their attitude to childhood.

Child labor in these backward states is competitively unfair to industry in the states that have responded to the moral and social ideals of our people. But far beyond this, the moral and economic results of debilitated, illiterate and untrained manhood and womanhood that must spring from these cesspools where child labor is encouraged and is legitimate, infect the entire nation.

All of us would agree in the wish that the sense of local government and local responsibility in our country were such that each and every state would advance itself to the forefront in this, so vital a question. It would be far better for the future of the republic if this were true. With the growing population and growing complexity of our industrial and social life, the constant resort to federal control for solution of difficulties will yet undermine the very basis of social progress by the destruction of sense of local responsibility.

However, if it is impossible to secure this neceesary safeguard to our people by local government, I am one of those who consider losses in our sense of local responsibility are less than the losses to the nation as a people; and if all else fail I stand for amendment to the federal constitution that will give the necessary power and authority to compel action in these states which are negligent of their responsibilities.

Clearly, if economic waste is reprehensible, waste of child life, whether viewed economically or in terms of common and universal betterment, is a blight that in its measure is more deplorable than war.

It may be worth recounting that our system of individualism can only stand if we can make effective the supreme ideal of America. This ideal is that there shall be an equality of opportunity for every citizen to reach that position in the community to which his intelligence, abilities, character and ambition entitle him. I am a strong believer in this progressive individualism as the only road to economic, social and spiritual safety and to human progress. Without this tempering ideal that America has evolved, individualism will not stand.

What you know is a club for yourself and what you don't know is a meat-axe for the other fellow.

Blessed are they who were not satisfied to let well enough alone. All that the world is today we owe to them.

"And am I the only girl yon have ever—" "Wait a minute, Molly. Berore you ask that, do you want me to lie and flatter you, or tell you the truth and satisfy your curiosity?"

Only a watch repairer can keep his eye on a timepiece and still tend to business.

If a man but talk of himself in the right spirit; rdfers to his virtuous actions by way and never applies to them the name of virtue, how easily his evidsnce is accepted in the court of public opinion.—R. L. Stevenson.

The girl was excellent in her position, but when she answered the telephone she spoke into it as if she was standing on the back step shouting across lots. It was pointed out to her that the telephone was a very responsive instrument and all that was necessary was to speak in an ordinary tone of voice.

"I guess I know how to answer the telephone," she replied with a little heat. And it took a couple of honrs to pacify her.

How do you answer the telephone?

SWINGING ROUND THE BIG CIRCLE

THE Canadian Pacific Railway, a nation-wide institution, touches the life of Canada at all points. One of the primary requisites of its employees is to know Canada in all its aspects—not merely the conditions of the district in which they happen to live, but the conditions of the entire country. This is particularly the case with passenger department men, who, to be real friends of the travelling public, should have wide knowledge gained from actual residence and experience in different parts of the Dominion.

In order to give its officials this nation-wide outlook and experience, the Canadian Pacific swings them around the big circle once in a while. Men in the east go west, and westerners come east. One such swing, together with some important promotions, are just announced by Mr. C. B. Foster, Passenger Traffic Manager of the company. From Vancouver (where he has been General Passenger Agent), Mr. H W. Brodie (3) goes east to Montreal to become Assistant Passenger Traffic Manager.

Mr. W. H. Snell (6) General Passenger Agent at Montreal, goes to take a similar position at Vancouver, and Mr. G. A. Walton (2), General Passenger Agent at Winnipeg, takes over Mr Snell's duties at Montreal.

Mr. N. R. DesBrisay (8), District Passenger Agent at St. John, goes to be Assistant General Passenger Agent at Winnipeg, and Mr. W. B. Howard (1), who has been District Passenger Agent at Toronto, goes to be Assistant General Passenger Agent at Montreal, and Mr. G. B. Burpee (5), General Agent at Cleveland, Ohio, goes to be District Passenger Agent at St. John.

Amongst the promotions announced at the same time are Mr. Walter Maughan (9), Assistant General Passenger Agent, Montreal, to be Assistant to General Passenger Traffic Manager; Mr. R. G. McNeillie (7), (Assistant General Passenger Agent, Winnipeg), to be General Passenger Agent there; Mr. W. Fulton (10), to be District Passenger Agent, Toronto, and Mr. W. Horder (4), to be Assistant District Passenger Agent, Toronto.

Battleships Are Not the Only Things Being Scrapped These Days

¶ Lots of other things were scrapped before the Washington Conference became even a possibility--old prejudices--old grudges --old methods of diplomacy had to be discarded before it was possible to ask for bids from the junk man for a few billion dollars worth of "war canoes."

¶ If you are to make the most of your opportunities selling Merchandise, it will pay you to take stock of your methods of doing business and scrap ruthlessly the old systems or prejudices that new conditions have rendered obsolete. And above all court publicity--secret diplomacy is as bad for your business as it is for the business of running a nation--

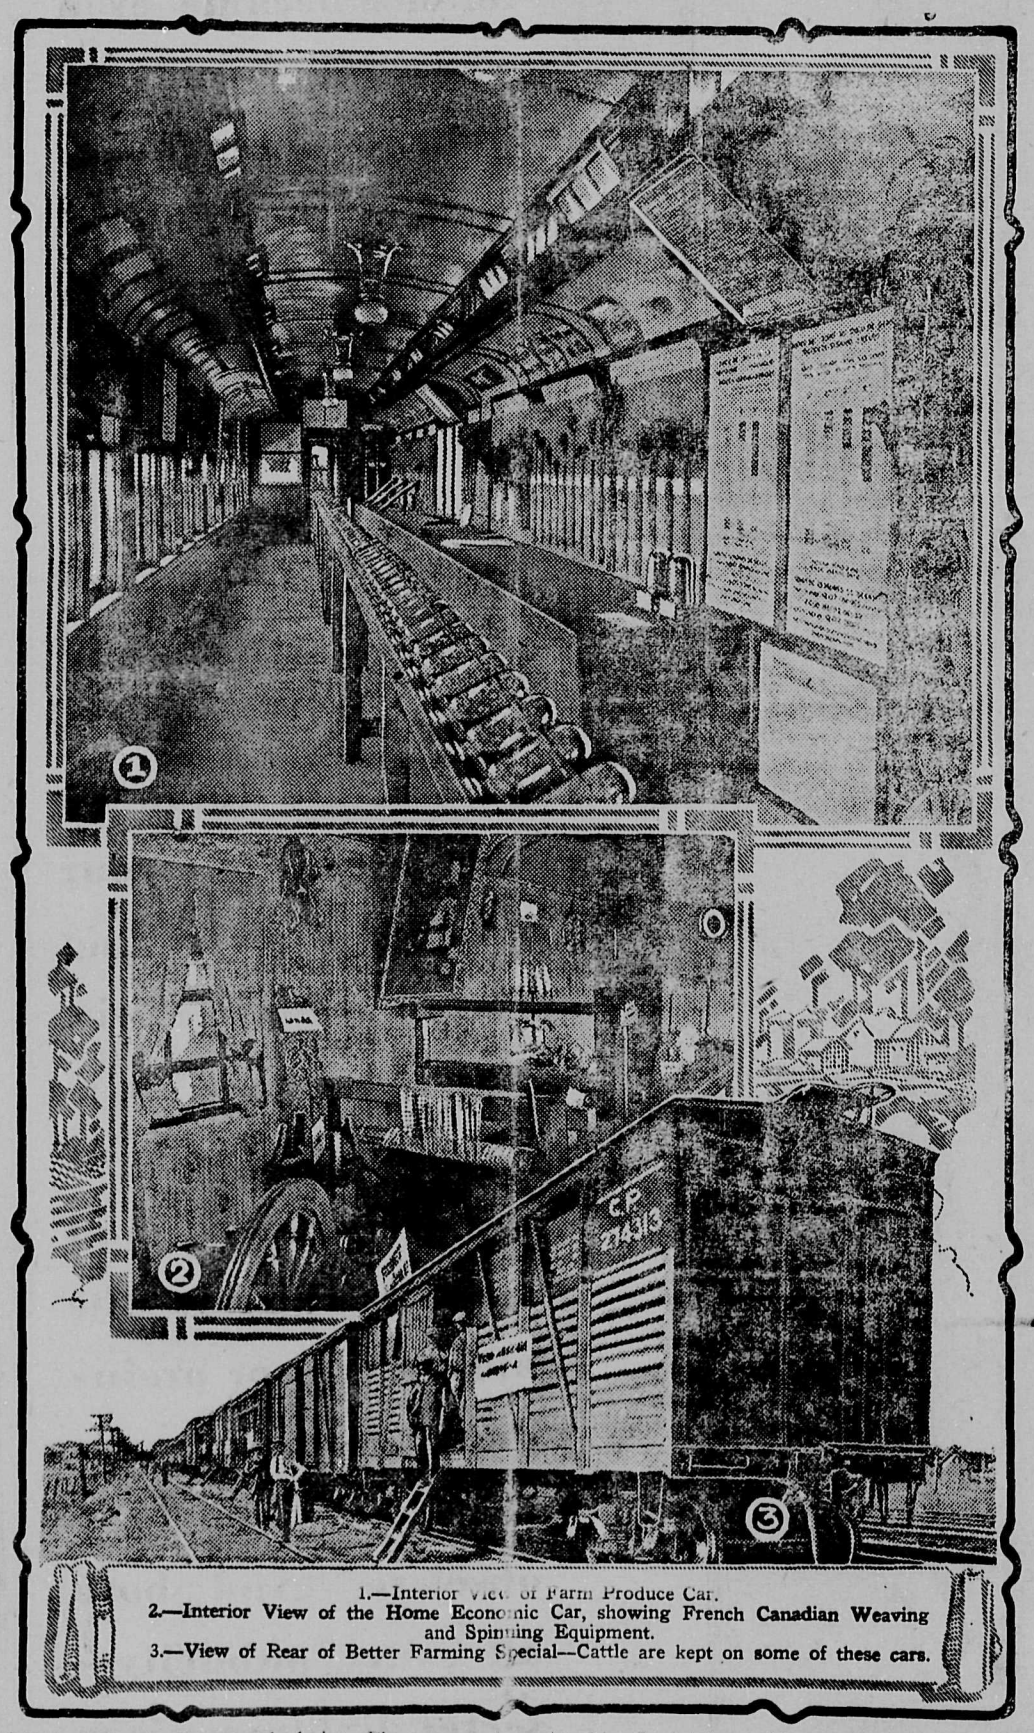
AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE ON TOUR



1.—Interior view of Farm Produce Car.
2.—Interior View of the Home Economic Car, showing French Canadian Weaving and Spinning Equipment.
3.—View of Rear of Better Farming Special—Cattle are kept on some of these cars.

AN Agricultural college on wheels is the means by which the Minister of Agriculture of Quebec, in co-operation with the Canadian Pacific Railway, is carrying the gospel of good farming and good cheer to the farming community of the province. The college consists of fifteen C.P.R. cars equipped with material to illustrate all phases of Agricultural production, and carries a staff of twenty-six lecturers and demonstrators.

Starting out at Vaudreuil on Sept. 18th and St. Clet on Sept. 19th, the train traversed the north shore of the Ottawa, stopping at Hull, Papineauville, St. Scholastique, Ste. Therese, St. Jerome, St. Agathe, Labelle, Nominingue and Mont. Laurier. Early in October the lines of the C.P.R. in the eastern townships will be covered. The train will complete its tour on the north shore of the St. Lawrence between Montreal and Quebec during the last two weeks of October.

Five cars are devoted to Live Stock, in which dairy cattle, sheep and hogs are featured. Special attention is being given to the grades and grading of hogs, and to the encouragement of the bacon industry. Field Crops and Agricultural Engineering occupy two cars, while Horticulture, Beekeeping and Sugar-making, Poultry, Dairying and co-operation, and Home Industries, each occupy one car. A diner and sleeping coach for the accommodation of the staff makes up the full complement of the material equipment of the college.

Each car is equipped with material, and plainly labelled charts, by which the important factors of economic production are emphasized. An opportunity is afforded from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., for visitors to examine the exhibits and discuss any problems in which they are interested. For this purpose two lecturers and demonstrators accompany each car. In the evening, lectures and addresses illustrated by lantern slides and moving pictures are given in the town hall or other suitable place for meetings.

The Live Stock Branch of the Federal Department of Agriculture has arranged for demonstrations on the grading of hogs. The Canadian Packers' Association has an exhibit illustrating the carcases produced from various types of hogs, and the requirements of good bacon for export purposes. The Agronomy Department of Macdonald College has co-operated in the equipment of the Field Crop and Agricultural Engineering Car. The Provincial dairy school has an exhibit of dairy buildings and products. Other colleges and schools, as well as the co-operative associations, have also lent aid either in furnishing equipment or by supplying instructors.

The train is under the direction of A Desilets, B.S.A., of the Province Department of Agriculture, and J. Dougall of the C.P.R.

Pre-emption now confined to surveyed lands only.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes and which is non-timber land.

Partnership pre-emptions abolished, but parties of not more than four may arrange for adjacent pre-emptions with joint residence, but each making necessary improvements on respective claims.

Pre-emptors must occupy claims for five years and make improvements to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivation of at least 5 acres, before receiving Crown Grant.

Where pre-emptor in occupation not less than 3 years, and has made proportionate improvements, he may, because of ill-health, or other cause, be granted intermediate certificate of improvement and transfer his claim.

Records without permanent residence may be issued, provided applicant makes improvements to extent of $300 per annum and records same each year. Failure to make improvements or record same will operate as forfeiture. Title cannot be obtained in less than 5 years, and improvements of $10.00 per acre, including 5 acres cleared and cultivated, and residence of at least 2 years are required.

Pre-emptor holding Crown grant may record another pre-emption, if he requires land in conjunction with his farm, without actual occupation, provided statutory improvements made and residence maintained on Crown granted land.

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites; title to be obtained after fulfilling residential and improvement conditions.

For grazing and industrial purposes areas exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or company.

Mill, factory or industrial sites on timber land not exceeding 40 acres may be purchased; conditions include payment of stumpage.

Natural hay meadows inaccessible by existing roads may be purchased conditional upon construction of a road to them. Rebate of one-half of cost of road, not exceeding half of purchase price, is made.

The scope of this Act is enlarged to include all persons joining and serving with His Majesty's Forces. The time within which the heirs or devisees of a deceased pre-emptor may apply for title under this Act is extended from for one year from the death of such person, as formerly, until one year after the conclusion of the present war. This privilege is also made retroactive.

No fees relating to pre-emptions are due or payable by soldiers on pre-emptions recorded after June 30, 1918. Taxes are remitted for five years.
