TWENTY-THIRD YEAR—No. 16 "Tell me what you Know is true I can guess as well as you." FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1924

FIRST 1924 SESSION OF THE ASSOCIATED GROWERS, LIMITED

A. T. Howe Re-Elected President -- Experienee of Past Season Expected to Prove Beneficial to Future Guidance of Associated

The first meeting of the 1924 board of directors of the Associated Growers of British Columbia, Limited, convened in the company's office at Vernon on Thursday, February 7, to discuss and approve or amend certain policies, recommended by the retiring board, for the coming year.

The personnel of the board is as last year with the following exceptions. Mr. Chambers. Penticton, vice Mr. DasBrisay; Mr. Dryden, Westband and Peachland, vice Mr. Hogg; Mr. Simpson, Oliver, vice Mr. Huntley.

The old executive of four members in continuous session as obtained dur ing 1923, has been replaced by an advisory committee of five members, one of whom shall be in continuous session and shall call into conference any one or more of the other members as may be necessary or desirable.

Mr. Howe, re elected as president of the association for a second term, was the chosen member for continuous session, the others being Colonel B. Scott, Salmon Arm, vice president; J. J. Campbell, Nelson; G. A. Barrat, Kelowna; B. Steuart, Summerland.

The Vegetable Commodity associa tions requested the addition of a vegetable representative to that committee and nominated F. A. Lewis, who was duly elected.

An innovation that it is confidently hoped will make for a much better nnderstanding between growers and the central office, and which will re sult in the evolution of an efficient growers' service department, is to be the appointment of an assistant secretary to the board of directors and advisory committee, who will have growers' publicity and service work under his immediate control.

A number of recommendations were forwarded to the fruit branch, department of agriculture, Ottawa, asking for increased and more efficient inspection packing for export and the abolition of the combinations packs.

A meeting of managers, who will be accompanied by delegates from the local boards, will be called shortly, at which the questions of grading, packing, etc., will be discussed and recommendations made to the board for approval.

A committee on pooling was named which will bring in a complete recommendation as to the system to be followed at the next meeting of the board of directors, and the president was authorized to arrange a conference on finance between the representatives of certain locals and reprcsentatives of banking interests with a view to establishing more complete coufidence in financial matters.

The appointment of a general manager in the immediate future who will be in absolute control of the as sociation's busiuess was decided upon and the advisory committee was instructed to line up suitable applicants for that most important position and to make a definite recommendation to the board for confirmation.

During the meeting Mr. Grant, prairie markets commissioner, and Mr. Clarke, Dominion fruit inspector, addressed the members. each giving valuable information relating to his own sphere.

The new board has settled down to a complete realiztion of its many and varied problems, and while it does not suffer from a feeling of undue optimism, it is quetly confident that by taking full advantage of last year's experience better and more efficient work should be accomplished.

At the adjournment the board reconvened for business in connection with the Growers' Packiug Houses, Limited.

The same advisory board as is in office for the Associated Growers was elected for this company, J. J. Campbell being named as manager.

Lower Freight Rates Benefits The Province

Premier Oliver Devotes an Hour's Time to Third Party Matters and Asks a Pertinent Question

Victoria, February 14.—Hon. T. D. Pattullo, minister of lands, has returned from Ottawa, Montreal and Torouto, and reports conditions throughout Canada as never having been better. He visited points along the Canadian National in British Columbia and is optiuistic over the prospect of a new puip and paper mill in Prince George. Establishment of a plant there this summer is a certaiuty.

Premier Oliver devoted an hour's time to a discussfon of third party matters when addressing a meeting recently in Esquimalt. He spoke of General McRae's activities in various business ventures and said he would like to ask how McRae srill continued to be a multimillionaire, having regard to the losses which he imposed upon the debenture holders of the Pacific Fisheries.

"He tells us that he pays $3000 a year taxes on his Vancouver residence," said the premier, 'and after paying his household expenses had not enough left out of $25,000 a year to 'wad a gun' I ask you to compare this man's style of living with the fate of those who, on the strength of his representations, entrusted their money to his care and lost almost all the capital they invested."

Another statement of the premier was: I have been asked repeatedly what is the motive behind the activity of McRae, and in reply I will propound you a simple problem in mathema. tics: If McRae is able by the cunning of his brain to extract a net profit of $9,900,000 out of the disposition of 5,500,000 acres of prairie lands, how much would he be able to extract for the benefit of himself and his associates were he ent rusted with the administration and dis posal of the lands, tim ber, fisheries and mi u eral wealth of British Columbia?

Nothing succeeds like success, and the great benefit being derived by British Columbia through reduced freight rates is already being felt in practically every section of the province, Last week approximately fifty deep-sea vessels were lying in Vancouver harbor await ing the loading of grain for world markets. Vancouver alone does not profit through this greatly increased trade, which is expected to reach a total export of 50,000,000 bushels this year. There is a growing demand for every form of British Colnmbia produce.

Notes, Notions and Notables

According to a report from Victoria, this week Attorney General Manson will announce the personuel of the royal commission which will investigate charges of the third party relative to Pacific Great Eastern railway matters. The scope of the commission will be comprehensive, it is learned in inside quarters, and before the commission has finished its work opportunity will have been provided for te fullest enquiry into every charge of wrongdoing, inefficiency and excessive costs in the handling of the government line. The final audit being made by Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Co. is about completed. Auditors of that firm will be summoned as witnesses to give evidence regardiug all expenditures, and from present indications it appears that the Provincial party has pulled a bloomer and has no chance of discrediting the administration. On the other hand, the enquiry will no doubt benefit the province gfeatly. For years opposition members and the credit of the railway and its chances of final success have been injured materially. A complete housecleaning, together with cost are justified, it is claimed, and the enquiry will not have been in vain if it places the Pacific Great Eastern on a foundation of understanding and permits the government to proceed with its plans for the completion of the line to Prince George and the settlement of the lands adjacent to the railway.

The great two handed sword with which Robert the Bruce fought at Bannackburn has been handed down from generation to generation of the Bruce family who possessed Clackmannon tower. The last survivor of this branch was Mrs. Catherine Bruce, a lady of remarkable character and strong Jacobite convictions, who was convinced that her possession of the royal sword of Scotland gave her the prerogative of conferring the honor of knighthood. She thus honored many visitors to Clackmannon tower, among them Bobbie Burns, who visited when she was a nonagenarian. As Burns rose to his feet he gallantly kissed the old lady's hand. "What ails thee at my lips, Robin?" the ancient dame is said to have asked.

Tea is commended by Major J. G. Mc Naught, an army surgeon, who declares that the typhoid germ, in pure culture, become greatly diminished in numbers by an exposure of four hours to tea. After twenty hours it was impossible to recover it at all from cold tea. He recommends the use of cold tea as a substitute for water in soldiers' canteens during active service. Major McNaught suggested some time since that everybody should drink tea. If prepared in the proper manner, tea, according to physicians, constitute a refreshing and not harmful beverage, for it is tannin and other extractives which are drawn out only after continued steeping, that are productive of harmful consequences. "Boiled" tea gives a coppery coat to the stomach and a saffron hue to the face.

The perfume of flowers is greatly increased by a method invented by Professor Daniel of Rennes, France. He explained it to the Academy of Science in Paris. By taking two plants of the same species and grafting one on the other—notably a wormwood on a chrysanthemum—he found not only that the grafted wormwood develop remarkably, but its flowers gave forth a perfume much more powerful than that of the original plant. Moreover, the chrysanthemum had given to the wormwood flower something of its own perfume. M. Daniel collected the seeds of the grafted warmwood and the following year obtained from them some very fine plants. They had this notable feature—while the flowers of some of the plants emitted a perfume similar to those of the original graft, others were absolutely without odor.

Funny laws have been tried out sometimes. In Edward III's time a law was passed which forbade more than two courses being served at dinner except on certain specified holidays. It sounds like the war-time law against treating and other food regulations. "To do, or exercise, any worldly labor, business, or work of your ordinary calling on Sunday" is another little misdemeanor for which in the old days people were fined five shillings or put in the stocks for two hours. Other things still punishable by law in Europe are eating meat on a Wednesday or driving on a Sunday. A short time ago a man was summoned for selling lavender without a peddler's licence. Apparently he sold the lavendar done up in bags, for had he sold it loose he would not have been looked upon as a peddler. The summons was dismissed.

Louisiana has an immense cypress tree which contains about 23,000 feet of lumber. It belongs to William Edenborn, who will not have it felled. Scientists say that this tree is 2500 years old. It was alive when Jerusalem was entered by Nebuchadnezzer; was 600 years old at the birth of Christ; and more than 2000 years old wheu Columbus discovered America. Other wonderful trees of immense age are the Babbab tree in Senegal, which is 4000 years old; the redwood tree in California and a Dragon tree in Tenriffe about the same age; and a cypress in Mexico which is supposed to have reached the remarkable age of 6000 years.

Admiral is not an English word Its origin was Emir el Bagh, which is Arabic for "Lord of the sea." The term captain comes to us direct from the Latin caput, meaning head. The coxswain was originally the man who pulled the after-oar of the captain's boat, then known as the "cock's boat." Cock-boat itself is a corruption of the word coracle, a small round boat used for fishing. Commodore is nothing more than the Italian commendatore, or commander. Frequently we hear about "Davy Jo es." There was, of course, no such person, but should you speak of "Duffy Jonah's Locker," you have the original phrase. Duffy is the West Indian negro term for the spirit of Jonah. The term "dog watch" is a corruption of "dodge" watch, the "dodge" being an arrangemeut to prevent men from being on duty every day at the same hours. The starboard side of a ship was at one time the steerboard side, in memory of the Anglo-Saxons who used to steer their boats by putting out an oar on the right-hand side of the stern. The larboard (now known as the port side) is a corruption of lower board, which was always considered inferior to the starboard.

Life in the British Columbia jails must be a pleasurable pastime. At any rate, judging by the number of fugitives who are willing to return without requisition papers, we infer that confinement in the Grand Forks lockup is preferable to liberty south of the international boundary line.

The city council has sold the city team, and the citizens have taken up the weather as a live topic for debate.

The Granby hotel has been sold at sheriff's sale to satisfy a mortgage, the purchaser being John Temple.

"Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown." How different with the members of the Grand Forks police force! They slumber as peacefully as a new-born babe throughout the long nights of these turbulent times. And well they may. They know that once they have received the appointment their positions are secure for life.

The Objects of this Institution, for which Incorporation was recently obtained, are: "To provide a Home and Refuge for Baby and Infant Blind; to provide free Scientific Care, Training and Maintenance; to Save the Lives of even a few of the many of such unfortunates, who, for the lack of such service, perish every year; and to return these little ones to their parents, at school age with normal, healthy bodies and sound minds."

This is a large and greatly needed Child Welfare Service. Careful enquiry at the Government offices in the verious provinces reveals the fact that there are at the present time nearly 250 Infant Blind in the Dominion. Nothing has yet been done for those helpless little ones. In the United States, 16 years ago, the first home was opened in New York City; they have now homes in 13 States, all doing excellent work. In England, some time ago, Sir Arthur Pearson organized "Sunshine House," Chorley Wood, for Blind Babies, and he claims that it is the only one in the British Empire. Let us have the SECOND in Canada. To reach this worthy end money is urgently required. Fifty Thousand Dollars is the present objective of the Board. While the Home is to be located in Ottawa it will take in the Baby Blind from every province, so that this APPEAL for funds will be Dominion wide, and an early and generous response is confidently expected. Cheques should be made payable to the Canadian Blind Babies Home Association. All remittances will be promptly acknowledged.

Panama Bathing Beauties

Twenty of these twenty-two children are girls whose ages range from seven to fourteen years, and they are not mere bathing beauties. From their infancy they have played in and around the water at Panama, and they now give regular exhibitions of their aquatic skill. The girl on the left of the rear row is a back-stroke and crawl champion of the Panama Canal Zone and she is to take part in the Olympic Competitions. The photograph was taken after an exhibition before the passengers of the Canadian Pacific S.S. Empress of Canada, now on World Cruise.

Here and There

Navigation of the St. Lawrence river is expected to open early in the month of April. According to preliminary schedules issued by the various steamship companies operating between Canadian Atlantic ports and Europe, 192 ships will visit the port of Quebec in 1924.

The Canadian Pacific Railway has inaugurated as a special feature the serving of afternoon tea regularly on all dining, cafe and buffet cars throughout the system. The tasteful little menu which the company provides includes tea, coffee, chocolate, toast, muffins, cake, ice cream and preserves at reasonable prices.

The Spiller Company, a great British concern with $150,000,000 capital, has completed arrangements for the establishment of facilities in Canada which will entail an outlay of $6,000,000 to finish the plant of the Alberta Flour Mills in Calgary, with another $2,000,000 to build an elevator at Vancouver.

The second of the two large paper machines recently installed by the Belgo-Canadian Paper Company at Shawinigan Falls, Que., has commenced operations. The machine, which is the product of the Dominion Engineering Company, is now producing newsprint. It will be tuned up and is expected to produce a commercial grade of newsprint at or above its daily capacity of 75 tons in the near future.

Speaking at Toronto recently, E. W. Beatty, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, declared that "what Canada is suffering from is lack of men, lack of capital and lack of those forward policies which will enable the country to realize within a reasonable time its own manifest destiny." He added that he did not believe in "exaggerated whisperings or in any statements which are calculated to destroy the belief of Canadians in their own country."

Captain S. Robinson, C.B.E., R.N.R., commanding the Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Canada," was invested with the C.B.E. by Sir Harry Armstrong, British Consul-General at New York, when his ship arrived there on January 25th, prior to setting out on her great world cruise. Captain Robinson also received the freedom of the city of New York. These honors were in recognition of his gallant work when commanding the Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Australia" at Yokohama, at the time of the Japanese disaster.

According to Canadian Pacific officials, immigrants from Europe who spend a few hours in Montreal on their way west are re-discovering America—or rather Canada—at a great rate. Some days ago there were eighty Scandinavians drumming their heels in the big waiting-rooms at Windsor Station, bored to tears. Then one of them suddenly discovered that the Province of Quebec, unlike Sweden, is not "dry." The rush of the Dance on Alfred's England was as nothing compared to that with which the delighted Scandinavian gentlemen emptied that waiting-room. So excellent did they find the beer that they did not show up again till train-time, when they announced unanimously, though with slight difficulty, that "Canada bane one fine country."

To be stranded in a strange city with no worldly assets but a suit of dress-clothes and yet to come out of the adventure victorious is to achieve something. Joe and Bill arrived in Montreal a few nights ago, their baggage consisting of the clothes they wore, two dress suits, an adequate quantity of the needful and an enthusiastic determination to see Life with a capital L. When they woke on the morning after, they found that someone had relieved them of everything they possessed except the dress suits they had slept in, and which they had worn for the previous night's affray.

In this predicament they appealed to the authorities at the Canadian Pacific Windsor Station, for work whereby to earn enough to take them out of the wicked city. Sympathetic officials put them on the snow-shovelling gang. And here these two stout fellows, in their dress suits, Joe with his feet wrapped in sacking to keep them warm, [illegible] for four days, earn the price of their tickets back to little old home town. So once [illegible] diction and the movies are

A new record has been established by the Department of Marine and Fisheries in the number of white fish eggs collected for hatchery purposes in the Great Lakes and the Lake of the Woods. A total of 464,560,000 eggs were obtained, which exceeds all previous collections in the province of Ontario.

A new deposit of soapstone has been discovered on Trap Lake, a small lake south of Wabigoon Lake, in northwestern Ontario. The quality of the stone has been reported as excellent for various industrial uses, and practical trials are under way. Water transportation is available direct from the deposits to Wabigoon and Dryden, on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

It is announced by the Canadian Pacific Railway that two free scholarships covering four years' tuition in architecture, chemical, civil, mechanical or electrical engineering at McGill University, are offered, subject to competitive examinations, to apprentices and other employees enrolled on the permanent staff of the company and under 21 years of age, and to minor sons of employees.

Canada's fisheries' production during 1923 is estimated to be worth $40,000,000. At the beginning of the year it was not thought that anything like this mark would be reached, for the Fordney tariff had cut deeply into exports to the United States. But as the year wore on the demand and prices generally improved, thus giving fishermen along the Atlantic coast especially a much better market.

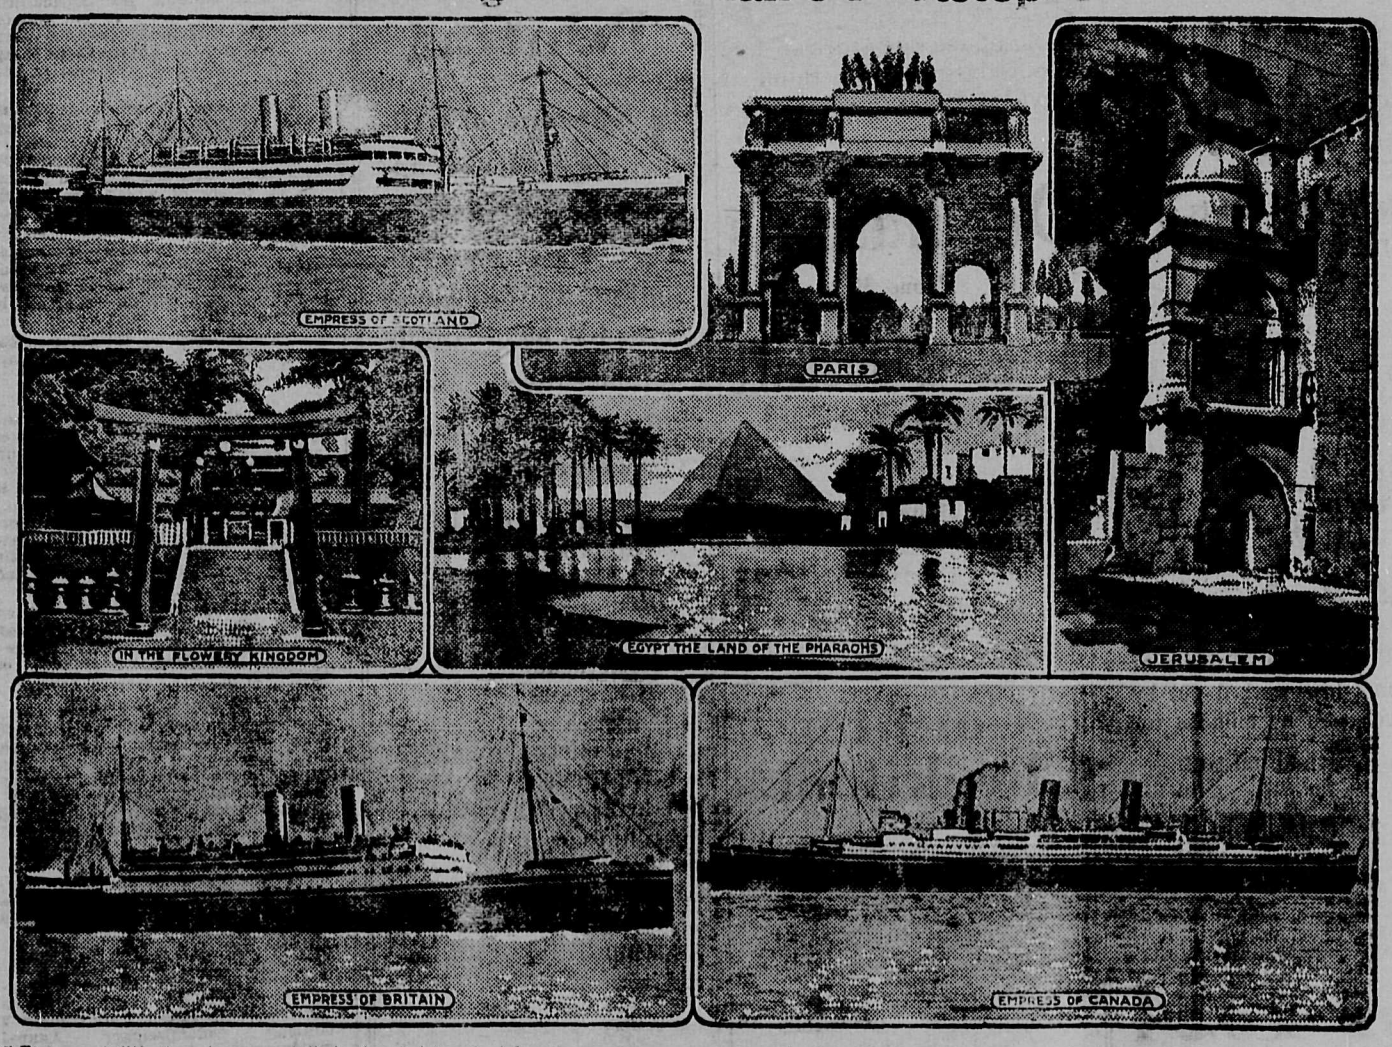
A train nearly a mile long and drawn by a single locomotive recently carried 165,000 bushels of grain over the Canadian Pacific western lines.

Almost sixteen and a half million bushels of wheat were exported from the port of Vancouver during the period September 1, 1922, to May 31 of the present year, according to figures issued by the Merchants Exchange.

Among the large number of unaccompanied women on the last westward voyages of the Canadian Pacific liners "Montclare" and "Melita" were twenty-three who were coming to Canada to be married in various parts of the Dominion.

An official in charge of the cattle shipments from the Port of Montreal recently stated that nearly 40,000 head of store cattle would be shipped from the port this year. He declared the rush seasons would be the months of August, September and October.

Following in Magellan's Footsteps



Higher civilization has not killed the Spirit of Adventure. It may even be, that people now-a-days are affected more by Wanderlust than they ever were, and enhanced facilities for travel with a greater degree of safety have stimulated, and not a little, the desire to see other than their immediate environs. In the old days when Columbus, Vespucci, Balboa, De Soto and Drake, Cartier and Champlain, and other bold mariners sailed into the unknown and its perils on the seven Seas, much courage was needed but today the World is every-man's oyster, nor does it have to be opened with a sword. With a little time and comparatively little money, one can see the places where history was made, far off countries and strange people, and live the while, in comfort.

Four hundred years ago, the first vessel to sail round the world lifted anchor at Seville, and after three years of adventurous hardship, returned to her Spanish port. Only thirty-one of the two hundred and seventy who set out came back, and only the Vittoria out of the original Armada of five sailing ships. The spirit of these seafarers is illustrated by the vow of Fernando Magellan their commander, as he set out from Tierra del Fuego across the Great South Sea, that he would push on if he had to eat the leather of the riggin'. Magellan himself was killed in the Phillippines, but as he had already reached that longitude on a previous voyage eastward from Spain, he is rightly credited with being the first to circumnavigate the globe.

Sixty years after the Vittoria set out from Seville, Francis Drake with a fleet of five sailing ships and 164 men sailed from Plymouth in The Golden Hind, and after a voyage round the world of almost three years, returned with a rich loot of silver and gold, silk, pearls and precious stones, to replenish the coffers of Queen Elizabeth The Golden Hind was the only vessel of the five to complete the voyage and it became the favourite resort of tourists on the Thames in the days of Shakespeare.

The Golden Hind, originally named The Pelican, was a ship of 120 tons, whereas the Empress of Canada, which sets out on a Round the World Cruise from New York on January 30th, 1924, registers no less than 21,500 tons. Instead of three years of privation and hardship, the voyage will occupy four months of luxurious comfort The route will be shorter, as instead of rounding the Cape of Good Hope the route taken is through the Suez Canal, and instead of traversing the stormy Straits of Magellan, the American continent is finally crossed on the excellent road-bed of the Canadian Pacific Railway. But many of the points touched by Sir Francis Drake and Magellan will be visited by the Empress of Canada, for instance, Batavia, Sourbaya and the traverse of the Celebes Sea to the Phillipines.

The circumnavigators on the Empress of Canada will return laden with the rich experiences and mental treasures gathered from visions of eighteen different countries, and contact with the costumes crafts and civilizations of fifty different races.

Encouraged by successes of former years, the Canadian Pacific has arranged for four cruisers in addition to the Round the World voyage of the Empress of Canada. The Empress of Scotland will visit the cradle of civilization in a trip Round the Mediterranean, sailing from New York on January 14th. The superb Empress of Britain will make two cruises Round the West Indies, leaving New York on January 22nd and February 23rd, and, before setting off round the world, the Empress of Canada will travel Round America, sailing from Vancouver on January 4th, visiting the Pacific coast, California, and going via the Panama Canal and Cuba to New York. This vessel will be commanded by Capt. S. Robinson R. N. R. who figured so conspicuously in the relief which followed the recent Japanese disaster.

The shortest thing in the world--

isn't a mosquito's eyelash or a gnat's whisker, or any other part of any insect whatsoever--IT IS THE MEMORY OF THE PUBLIC.

If you doubt this ask the first men men you meet the following questions:

When did the R34 cross the Atlantic? Who was her pilot? On What date was Lord Kitchener drowned? What was the name of the ship that blew up and almost wiped out the city of Halifax? What German submarine torpedoed the Lusitania?

It is a safe bet that you would not get one correct answer.

Now do you see the necessity of persistent advertising? When the details of events of world wide importance are so soon forgotten how do you expect the public to remember you unless YOU TELL'EM--and keep telling them? ADVERTISE!

One step won't take very far,
You've got to keep on walking;
One word won't tell folks who you are,
You've got to keep on talking;
One inch won't make you very tall,
You've got to keep on growing;
One little ad. won't do it all,
You've got to keep them going.

Brown started out without a cent;
He's rich now and still rising;
Some say 'twas luck; some say 'twas pluck;
HE says 'twas advertising.

It is not necessary for those on the last revised list to register again, as their names will automatically be transferred to the new list. The usual court of revision will be held on May 19.

A court of revision and appeal, under the Taxation act and Public School act, for the Kettle River Assessment district, respecting the assessement for the year 1924, will be held at the government office in this city on Thursday, February 21, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

Recent Amendments to the Game Act

A recent amendment to the game act, which does not seem to be generally known, includes in the fur-bearing classification wolverine and lynx, two animals which up to the present time have not been classed under this head. The result is that these animals came under the close season regulations, and it is unlawful to kill or trap them. A number of these animals have recently been brought in, and to the disappointment of those who had captured them, they were confiscated. As the change is not generally known it is not likely prosecutions will be pressed, though warnings are being sent out whenever occasion presents itself. Another regulation provides that all deer which are killed must have the heads left on the carcass when being brought in.

DECORATED AT NEW YORK

Upon the arrival of the Canadian Pacific S.S. Empress of Canada at New York, following her cruise Round America, Captain S. Robinson, R.N.R., who now commands this vessel on world cruise, was created a Commander of the Order of the British Empire in recognition of his heroic work at Yokohama when Japan was rocked by earthquake and when the Empress of Australia, which he then commanded, was the headquarters for the rescue parties and relief workers. The investiture was made by Sir Harry Armstrong, British Consul General at New York in the presence of a large gathering of important figures in Canadian and American political and commercial life. This photograph was taken at the time of the investiture and shows, from left to right, Sir Harry Armstrong, Captain S. Robinson, C.B.E., R.N.R., and Mr. E. W. Beatty, K.C., president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, who visited the blue ribbon vessel of the Canadian Pacific fleet after the ceremony.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emptions is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 5,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 8,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emptions are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emptions must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price of first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partially free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.
