GOVERNMENT WINS ON LACK OF CONFIDENCE VOTE

The Administration Gets a Majority of 5 When Opposition Springs a Test of Strength Motion

Victoria, November 18.—Conservatives in the provincial legislature yesterday forced a sudden test of party strength with a straight motion of lack of confidence in the government, and were defeated by 25 votes to 20.

The government's victory in the first division of the session came on an amendment on the address in reply to the speech from the throne, moved by Col. C. W. Peck, V.C., regretting that the government had not given cabinet representation with portfolio to Vancouver.

Col. Peck's lack of confidence resolution came as a dramatic break in the proceedings of the house and its prompt rejection closed up the debate on the address, which had been proceeding since the house opened.

All Liberal members for Vancouver voted against the Peck amendment.

Even Charles Woodward, who had assailed the government publicly for not giving Vancouver a cabinet minister, refused to support the Conservative motion on the ground that it was a political trick and that the dispute over cabinet representation was a "family quarrel" in which the opposition had no place.

All Conservatives in the house voted for the Peck motion and were supported by George Walkem and A. McCreery, Provincial party, R. P. Neelands and F. A. Browne, Labor. The government received the support of D A. Stoddard, Provincial, Thomas Uphill, Labor, and Major R. J. Burde, Independent.

Passing of Captain P. S. Thompson

Captain Philip Stephens Thompson, aged 47 years, 8 months and 27 days, died in the Grand Forks hospital last Friday afternoon following an operation, which had been performed a week prior to his death. For a few days after the operation the patient gave signs of recovery, but on Friday he took a relapse and passed peacefully away.

The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon, and it was one of the most largely attended held in the city in recent years.

Captain Thompson served with the British forces during the Great war. Immediately after the war he married and came to Canada, locating in Grand Forks, where he purchased a fruit ranch, and he followed the occupation of a fruit grower. He also took a keen interest in the Boy Scout movement, and has been scoutmaster of the local troop ever since he came here. He was a splendid type of a citizen and his passing is keenly lamented by everybody in the community. He is survived by his wife and a young daughter, to whom public sympathy is extended in their sad bereavement of a kind and loving husband and father.

FULL RETURNS OF ELECTION IN THIS DISTRICT

Stirling's Majority Over Edgett Is Announced by the Returning Officer as 2701

W. C. Kelley, returning officer for Yale electoral district, last week officially announced the majority of Grote Stirling, Conservative, over Col. C. B. Edgett, Liberal, as 2701, but in the communication received by The Sun from him the respective total vote was not stated. The figures are now available from the polls reports from which were missing when The Sun ast printed the returns.

Mr. Stirling's majority is one of the largest, if not the largest, in British Columbia, and shows a tremendous increase over the figure of 399 by which he defeated Mayor Sutherland of Kelowna in the by-election of 1924.

18 FIRST PRIZES AT TORONTO SHOW

Box of O.K. Delicious Won Sweepstake as Best Apple of Any Variety in the Show

British Columbia apples continue to demonstrate their superior qualities. The Royal Agricultural Winter Fair, held each fall in Toronto, is undoubtedly the greatest apple show held in Canada, attracting exhibits from all parts of the country that produce apples. Word has just been received by the Associated Growers that their exhibits this year took eighteen first prizes and one fourth prize, in addition to which a box of O. K. Delicious won the sweepstake as being the best box of apples of any variety in the show.

This follows close after the Imperial Fruit Show which was opened in London on October 30, at which the Associated, for the third time in succession, won the Challenge cup offered for the best dessert apples in the British empire, and also won nine first, five second two third prizes.

The advertising value of such demonstrations of the comparative quality of British Columbia apples and those produced elsewhere is very great and nothing could better enhance the reputation of our fruit in the world's markets.

Clothier and Nordman Will Develop the Elkhorn Fraction Property Near Gteenwood

A lease and bond of $55,000 is reported to have been taken on the Elkhorn Fraction property, near Greenwood, by Roy Clothier and Ed Nordman, former successful operators in the great Beaverdell camp.

Mr. Clothier and Mr. Nordman have been interested in the Beaverdell camp for some time and it is their intention now to develop the Elkhorn Fraction. George S Walters, Dan McGinnis and George Hambly secured the Elkhorn Fraction from D. McKenbie last fall under a $4000 bond, and some weeks ago a good strike of ore was made which rivals that recently struck in the Beaverdell camp."

Winter Time is Carnival Time in Banff

Banff in winter time is fairyland. Shafts of the sun strike the white snow-covered mountains and valleys of the Canadian Rockies, changing them into a landscape of flashing irridescence. Colors — blue, red, green and purple — dance over the scene, as gaily costumed devotees of the snow shoe, the skate and the ski move in the pastel of the great outdoors.

Fancy skaters swing gracefully into intricate figures on the rinks. Ski jumpers thrill the spectators with their marvellous leaps through the air from the ski jump on the top of a nearby mountain. Ski-jorers dash down the Bow River behind fleet mountain ponies. Blanket-coated snow-shoe trampers take the trail to the snowy woodlands. In the evening, the brilliant scene is softened by the silver gleam of the moon.

Winter time is carnival time in Banff. February 3rd to 17th has been set for the 1926 Winter Carnival, and Mrs. Basil Gardom has been chosen as the fair Queen. A splendid palace of glittering ice, sparkling with myriads of bright colored electric lights is being built for the chosen beauty. With true regal pomp and splendor she will be crowned and seated on her throne as the culminating triumph of the carnival.

Trains pull into the station at Banff. Passengers on their way west stop off to disport themselves in the snowy, gay little town. Passengers on their way east delay long enough to see the famous ski jumpers breaking world records. Passengers from both east and west with Banff as their objective, and snow shoes, skates and skis in their luggage, hurry to attend the festivities in honor of the carnival queen.

NEWS AND VIEWS OF LEGISLATIVE PROCEEDINGS

Finance Minister MacLean Says That the Net Debt of the Province Is Only $43,266,221

Victoria, November 19.—With the session of the legislature now in its third week, the predictions that the Oliver government faced dire calamity, if not extinction, have gone the way of similar predictions in the past. The administration is faced with the handling of some of the most serious questions ever before the people of this province, but Premier Oliver appears able to handle them.

To the experienced observer in the legislative press gallery the opposition have brought forth nothing of constructive criticism and are contenting themselves with hammering away at the government fortress in hope that "something may happen." And nothing appears likely to happen that will embarrass the Liberal government. True, the Pacific Great Eastern railway problem must be wrestled with again this year, but before the session ends it is fully expected that provision will be made for the caring for of the provincial line until such time as it becomes incorporated in one of the main Canadian railway systems.

The attack on the government for the responsibility of over-commitments on the University of British Columbia has fallen flat. The people of British Columbia apparently are fully aware of the importance of this new institution and prefer to stand behind the administration that has had the courage to consfruct the new buildings, rather than join government critics in persecuting the government for spending—necessarily—more money than was technically provided last session In the eyes of business men and those best qualified to judge, the new institution itself is the best answer to opposition detractors.

Hon. J. D. MacLean, minister of finance, has again effectively answered the calamity howlers who have seen British Columbia going to the dogs and being swallowed up in a mire of debt. In a statement given to the house the minister shows that the net debt of British Columbia is only $43,266,221, while the gross debt is given at $76,886,240. From the gross must be deducted $16,525,000 of sinking funds and $17,136,242 described as revenue-producing debt. Despite the fact that money had to be boorowed, the net debt only increased a mere $138,000 for the year.

At least one Conservative member of the legislature is anxious to "get down to business," and in deprecating the time wasted in useless political jockeying for political position the member for Salmon Arm has expressed an opinion held by a a large section of the public. More than half the entire time of the government is spent in meeting opposition attacks, whereas the real duty of opposition representatives is to assist in constructing beneficial legislation, so that the welfare of the country may be cared for. And just so long as the electorate sends members to the legislature who seek only party preferment before everything else, just so long will any chosen administration find itself seriously hampered in attending to the affairs of the people.

The fellow who first discovered that honesty is the best policy had evidently tried them all.

Our [illegible] appear to have missed the train this week.

It seems like pure impertinence for a British Columbia newspaper—especially a Tory newspaper—to tell Prime Minister King what to do under the present muddled conditions in federal politices, and most people will therefore rejoice that the gratuitous advice tendered him by two or three journals in this province was not needed. The majority of the Canadian people, whose minds are not too badly warped by political bias, will eventually come to the conclusion that Premier King took the right course. Had the government resigned and a new government been called to the leadership of Hon Arthur Meighen it could not have carried on for a week unless the Conservative platform had been scrapped and the 117 Conservative members had chosen to violate every pledge they made their constituents during the late campaign, because the platforms of the Conservative party and the Progressive, Labor and Independent parties are irreconciliable, and the members of the three last-named parties would not have given ground. The tail would have wagged the head. If it had been unable to do so, we would have had another election in midwinter. Had the premier called a new election himself, it would likely have come at same season. At that time of year one-half of the electors in the country either could not or would not go to the polls. Elections are very expensive, but the people would have had to pay for it, and would in all likelihood have received the same verdict as was rendered last month. The prime minister wisely rejected both of these ways and decided to call a session of the federal house for next month, when the question of another dissolution of the government and a new election will be debated by that body. If the decision is for an election, it will probably come next summer when the people will be able to go to the polls and a true expression of the electorate can be obtained. But if the house decides that a new election is unnecessary, there is no reason why the King government should not be able to carry on for the full term of four years, because the principles of the Liberal party and the Progressives and the Laborites and Independents are but slightly at variance. Many people who are too rabid partisans believe that the latter alternative would be to decided benefit of the country. It seems to be a well established fact that the people are best served by their representatives in parliament when there is a strong opposition, and the 117 Conservative members should be able to prevent any "wildcatting" legislation from being put through the house.

It is a curious discovery that the greatest of the modern locomotives renders less efficient service in some ways than those of simpler construction in use twenty five years ago. The refinements and the greater hauling capacity have been attained at the expense of more frequant repairs and longer periods out of commission. The older type was avallable for service about 75 per cent of the time, the newer for only 45 per cent.

To Elbert H. Gary, the head of the United States Steel corporation, is credited the most apt reply to a question of stock value. "Do you think steel stocks will go up or down?" a woman once asked him. "Yes," was the answer, "I think they will go up or down. They rarely stand still, and they can't go sidewise!"

Next to static electricity, sunset is the greatest deterrent to efficient transatlantic radio telephone communication that nature exert. During the past two years daily tests across the ocean have been made. Summarized these show that durilg the winter months satisfactory conversation can be carried on at all hours of the day with the exception of that period when sunset is making its progress across the 3000 mile expanse of water separating the old and new worlds. During the summer months commercial telephone communication is possible during the morning, evening and night hours, exclusive at heavy static periods, the tests show.

The Pursuit of Fame

Contempt and want the wretch await
Who slumbers in an abject state—
'Midst rushing crowds, by toil and pain
The meed of Honor we must gain;
At Honor's call, the camel hastes
Thro' trackless wilds and dreary wastes,
Till in the glerious race she find
The fleetest coursers left behind;
By toils like these alone, he cries,
Th' adventurous youths to greatness rise;
If bloated indolence were fame,
And pompous ease our noblest aim,
The orb that regulates the day
Would ne'er from Aries' mansion stray.

Sport conditions are very good in New Brunswick this year. A very pleasing incident occurred during the visit to Montreal of Madame Maria Jeritza, world-famous operatic star. Col. George H. She gave a one-night recital in Montreal, leaving for Toronto the following day.

Basking in brilliant autumn sunshine, the coast of British Columbia offers a striking contrast to the severe winter weather already making itself felt in other parts of Canada. On the Coast, golf courses are crowded, the ocean is dotted with figures of bathers taking their daily dip, and pleasure craft still ply the waters.

One hundred thousand dollars' worth of Black Fox puppies were shipped to Norway in Canadian Pacific Lines "Class" recently. In specially built cages they will be conveyed by the Dominion Express across Europe to the farm in Switzerland where they will form the nucleus of a fox-breeding establishment.

Another instance of bold daring at a recent report from Hull is to the effect that an automobile, travelling at high speed, crashed through both gates at the Chelsea Road level crossing just as they were being lowered to stop traffic so that a light engine should pass. The automobile smashed in two over the tracks barely two feet ahead of the locomotive.

To perpetuate the memory of the late P. Alexander Peterson where engineers in this part of the country gather, a portrait of the famous engineer, done in oils by the late Robert Harris, Canadian artist, is to be hung in the Engineering Institute on Mansfield street. The late Mr. Peterson, who was chief engineer of the Canadian Pacific Railway, took a leading part in the railway construction in Eastern Canada during the latter part of the last century.

According to a report just issued from Canadian Pacific Railway headquarters, an average of one instance of gross carelessness on the part of automobilists every seventeen days is the record during the last three years and two months in connection with level crossings in New Brunswick, Quebec, Ontario and the Algoma districts. These instances number 69 from September 1st, 1919, to October 31st last, or a period of 1,157 days. They resulted in injuries to 53 persons, of whom two died.

Creation of a new industry in Western Canada covering a product which is now imported into this country to the value of about five million dollars annually is foreshadowed by the samples of hemp now on display at the Windsor Station, Montreal, according to C. C. Commanney, Development Engineer, Canadian Pacific Railway. Mr. Commanney stated that considerable work had already been done in the West of Canada towards the creation of such an industry. Efforts to procure companies have been made in recent months and there is no doubt that the stands of hemp can easily be grown in certain districts.

In 1915 Canada exported no wheat to China. In 1918 she sent only eight bushels to Japan. In 1924 China imported over 5,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat and over 1,500,000 barrels of flour, while Japan took 7,000,000 bushels of wheat and 120,000 barrels of flour. It is predicted these figures will be well beaten for the current year.

Canada's Wool, Woollen and Knit Goods Industry at the C. N. E.

1. Mrs. Cockshutt, wife of the Lt.-Gov. of Ontario, looking exceedingly smart in an "all-Canadian" costume, in which she attended the opening of the Canadian Woollen Goods exhibit at the C. N. E. The two-piece sports costume is of navy purple trimmed with [illegible] the collar, cuffs and pockets, the wool being grown, spun, dyed and knitted in Canada. The ensemble coat is of grey marvella, a magnificent specimen of pile cloth with a silken finish from a Canadian loom. The coat has a straight back with godet fronts with a shawl collar and cuffs of grey Canadian baby lamb, lined with grey flat crepe silk produced by the silk industry of Canada. Grey shoes and stockings, and a purple cloche hat, completed the "all-Canadian" costume.

2. Exhibit of Canadian Woollen Knit Goods machinery at the C.N.E.

3. His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario opening the exhibit of Canada's Wool, Woollen and Knit Goods Industry at the C. N. E.. He is seen wearing a suit of milled worsted made from wool grown on the Alberta ranch of H. R. H. the Prince of Wales. Mrs. Cockshutt is looking at the prize bred Canadian lamb, presented to her by the officers of the Canadian Co-operative Wool Growers' Association.

Tens of thousands of people obtained an entirely new idea of the wool growing and wool manufacturing possibilities in Canada at the exhibit of the Wool, Woollen and Knit Goods Industry at the Canadian National Exhibition. The pillars of wool from the nine provinces of Canada supplied by the Canadian Co-operative Wool Growers Association excited considerable comment, and emphasized the fact that although we maintain only 2,500,000 sheep and lambs in Canada, the size, feed conditions and climate could permit the keeping of 24,000,000, and that sheep keeping is the most profitable branch of agriculture. As against the 70,000,000 lbs. of wool used annually to clothe the population of our country, some 50,000,000 could be grown here instead of only 15,000,000 lbs. as at present.

The small factory installed with twenty operatives showed the practicability of manufacture in Canada of fine woollen and worsted yarns, the weaving of fine blankets, woollen cloth and worsted cloth, and the knitting machines making underwear and hosiery. It was a miniature representation of the work that is being done in over two hundred and seventy woollen and knitting mills in over one hundred and forty municipalities.

The finished goods display, which showed what the completed goods looked like after being made on the machines, showed that in quality and style the $75,000,000 worth of goods produced by the industry annually were equal, and in many cases better, than goods made abroad. It conclusively showed that so far as climatic, physical and technical conditions in Canada are concerned there is no reason why 90% of the woollen and knit goods used in Canada should not be produced in Canada.

NEWS OF THE CITY

Santa Approves a Christmas Gift

Santa Claus has been down a great many chimneys since he started business, and he is intimately acquainted with a large number of people. He knows that the best kinds of gifts are those which please the whole family, and which bring the excitement and enjoyment of Christmas every week. That is why he looks so jolly when he receives hunu eds of subscriptions to The Youth's Comdanion with which to fill his pack. And, being wise from long experience, he knows that people are likely to overdo things around Christmas, so he chuckles when he sticks a Companio into the top of a stocking. "Be as greedy as you like," he thinks, "the more, the better for you."

Interesting Announcement

Word comes from Montreal tha that great family and farm paper The Family Herald and Weekly Star has been enabled to reduce its subscription price to One Dollar a year. This certainly will be interesting news in every Canadian home where the Family Herald is known and to many who will avail themselves of the offer. At two Dollars a year The Family Herald and Weekly Star was generally admitted to be good value, in fact big value, but when reduced to One Dollar a year it will certainly be the marvel of the newspaper world.

Canada is proud of that great Weekly, and has every reason to be so, as it has no superior and few equals in the world today. The publishers announce that notwithstanding the change in price every feature will not only be maintained but improvements will follow. The publishers are fortunate in being in an financial position to do this, and Canadian homes will have the advantage. When the new rate is made known it certainly will bring a rush of subscribers to the Family Herald. One Dollar is a small amount for such a great paper.
