ABLE EXPOSITIONS OF LIBERALISM

A Large and Attentive Audience

HEAR GOOD SPEECHES

Important That a Liberal Should Represent This District

The largest crowd of representative citizens that has ever assembled in the Grand Forks opera house was in attendance at the Liberal rally last Tuesday evening. If the applause tendered the government speakers has any significance, Duncan Ross, the Liberal candidate, will carry Grand Forks next Tuesday by a handsome majority. The orators of the evening were Hon. Senator Templeman, W. W. B. McInnes, M.P.P., and Duncan Ross, for Liberalism, and Lawyer Kerr for Socialism. K. C. MacDonald occupied the chair, and the best of order was maintained throughout the meeting.

Senator Templeman was the first speaker, and was given a hearty ovation. He was a personal friend of Mr. Ross, whom he knew to be an upright and honorable gentleman, and he would be elected by a very large majority. If the people of Grand Forks knew their best interests they send a man to Ottawa upon the merits of the questions involved. It was important that British Columbia should send a solid delegation to Ottawa, as by doing so more good could be accomplished for the province. It would be time enough to send a Conservative member when the Conservative party obtained power, which, in his opinion, would not be during the next twenty years. The government had been overwhelmingly sustained upon every issue that had been brought before the people. The Grand Trunk Pacific contract was the paramount issue, and it was an important one to the citizens of British Columbia. He felt certain that the electors of Yale-Cariboo would endorse it on Tuesday next. Mr. Templeman then reviewed the government's railway policy at length. Under Liberal rule no land subsidies had been given to railways. The cost to the people of Canada of the eastern and western sections of the Grand Trunk Pacific would be about $14,000,000. The original length of the C.P.R. was 1900 miles; the G.T.P., from Moncton, N.B., to its Pacific terminus, would be 3400 miles long. The time had arrived when it was absolutely necessary for the development of Canada to open up the northern tier of territory by the construction of another transcontinental railway. Referring to the trade question, the senator said the Liberal's tariff policy must have been beneficial to Canada, else the commerce of the country would not have increased during the past seven years. The government had expended large sums of money in developing the country, but had done so without adding one cent to the national debt. In his opinion, it was a wise policy to make liberal appropriations for the development of the resources of the country. The government's future policy would be to encourage railway construction in the Northwest and British Columbia. If the government had not given a subsidy to the Crow's Nest road, there would have been no Granby smelter in Grand Forks today. If the Kettle Valley line was not constructed up the North Fork, it would not be because the federal government had not given liberal aid. The Dominion government stood ready to subsidize a railway from this point to the coast. In conclusion, the senator said it was of vital importance that this constituency send a representative to Ottawa who could properly present the Coast-Kootenay question before the government. Mr. Templeman concluded his speech by saying it was the fair-minded Conservative vote that had snowed Col. Prior under in Victoria; it was the fair-minded Conservative vote that had given Macpherson his big majority in Vancouver, and he felt sure that the fair-minded Conservative vote of Yale-Cariboo would swell Duncan Ross' majority on Tuesday next.

Lawyer Kerr, of Greenwood, followed Senator Templeman. Mr. Kerr spoke on behalf of the Socialist candidate, Ernest Mills, and his speech was, with some slight variations, a repetition of the one delivered here during provincial election about a year ago. He spent most of his 30 minutes in telling the audience of existing conditions in the United States, Europe and other far-off countries.

Candidate Ross followed Mr. Kerr. He felt highly gratified in addressing such a magnificent audience in Grand Forks, and was particularly pleased to see so many ladies present. He did not see why Grand Forks should antagonize him because he lived in Greenwood. He owed his nomination to the Grand Forks delegates. It was their votes in the convention that had made it possible to nominate a Boundary man, and he wanted to go to Ottawa with the good-will of the people of this city. Whether he was elected or not, every appropriation and every appointment for this district would be referred to him before being made. The Conservative candidates appealed to the electors without platform and without a leader. They had lost everything on the 3rd. Mr. Ross paid a high tribute to his opponent, and said he felt sorry that such a fine man would have to be sacrificed on the 22nd. The doleful predictions of Conservatives at the time the Liberals attained power had not been realized. On the contrary, the country was now more prosperous than ever before. Instead of a deficit in the postoffice department, we now had a surplus, and this after a reduction in the postal rates had been made. The Grits, who had been charged with disloyalty, and every other crime imaginable, had given the mother country a trade preference. Under Conservative rule we had deficit after deficit. Now the tide has turned, and we have surplus after surplus. Mr. Ross enumerated a long list of government grants in aid of public works in this district, showing that the Ottawa authorities had not been unmindful of the needs of the people of this section. He believed in a policy of development of this district during the next few years, and would advocate the building of more railways. The West should get all it could from the Dominion government now, because 20 years hence the Tories might regain power, and then there would be no more surpluses. The speaker pointed out the weak points in the Conservative railway policy, laying stress on the fact that Mr. Borden had a new policy for each day in the week. He had no quarrel with the C.P.R., but Canada was large enough for two great transcontinental roads. He said we would be unable to control the rates on the C.P.R. until it paid 10 per cent on its watered stock, and that time would probably never come. The only section of the road that was under the control of the government was that portion which had been constructed during the Liberal regime. Instead of allowing the Chinese to enter Canada free of duty, the Liberals had put a $500 head tax on them. The Grand Trunk Pacific would be built by white labor. A direct benefit to southern British Columbia would follow its construction, as the company, if it desired to do business in this section of the province, would be compelled to build north-and-south feeders. In conclusion, Mr. Ross stated he would go to Ottawa as the representative of the entire district, and not of any particular section of it.

At this juncture there were cries of "Mills, Mills," in the rear of the halls.

Mr. Ross—Well, I suppose you want $200 worth of fun, and you better have it.

W. W. B. McInnes, M.P.P., was the last speaker of the evening, and delivered one of the best political speeches ever heard in this city. He was sorry that no one had spoken in Mr. Burrell's behalf. Mr. Kerr had taken the platform tonight in opposition to Liberalism, yet four years ago he had made campaign speeches in favor of Mr. Gallihier.

Mr. Kerr here arose and explained that four years ago there had been no Socialist candidate in the field.

Continuing, Mr. McInnes said the best thing the Socialists could do would be to vote for the Liberal candidate. Mr. Kerr had told of the growth of Socialism in the United States and Germany, but why had he kept silent concerning its decline in British Columbia, especially on the coast. Socialism was a dying cause. Socialist orators always depicted the dark side of life, but never told how they would remedy existing evils if by some chance they obtained the reigns of power. The Liberal government had increased the wages of its employees 30 per cent during the past seven years, and had given the people a safe, business-like administration. A more prosperous country than Canada did not exist under the sun; in fact, the prosperity of the Dominion was higher today than at any other period in its history, due in a measure to the wise and clean Liberal rule. A policy of national development would be inaugurated by the Laurier government. The entire country had overwhelmingly endorsed the Liberals. The reasons that appealed to the people of other sections of Canada, should appeal to the people of Yale-Cariboo. The whole of the Conservative party was not a unit on the question of placing a duty on rough lumber. While the Conservatives at the coast advocated a high tariff, the Conservatives in the Northwest territories wanted it on the free list. The Tories were insincere in their professions of favoring government ownership of railways; but if they adopted that plank in the next election, the Liberals would, of course, be compelled to give them credit for sincerity. Sir Hibbert Tupper had raised a brand-new issue in this province. This was the issue of better terms. But as the people did not understand the meaning of the term, it was immaterial. The Conservatives had now no leader—not even a man capable of developing into a leader. They were without a policy, and he was at a loss to know upon what grounds they appealed to the electors of Yale-Cariboo. Their only issue appeared to be the big Liberal majority. Mr. Burrell was pleading for a strong opposition. But Mr. Burrell would not count fifty in the house of commons; and so even that issue fell flat. The speaker was here for the good of the district. Seven members in the Dominion house would be stronger than six. Burrell's election would diminish the force of the delegation from this province at Ottawa. Let the solid seven go down, and British Columbia will have a standing in the federal government it never had before. A friend can get from a friend what a foe can't. The speaker couldn't get as much for his district from the M.Bride government as a Conservative could—even if the Conservative was a Socialist. Yale-Cariboo was fortunate in having a candidate who stood so close to Senator Templeman, to whom all British Columbia business would be submitted for approval.

At the conclusion of his speech, Mr. McInnes read the following letters:

CUMBERLAND, Nov. 5, 1904.
To Wm. Manson, Conservative Candidate for Comox-Atlin:

SIR:—I have the honor to inform you that at a special meeting of the association, held here last evening, it was resolved that owing to the wish expressed by the executive at Vancouver, and having in view the overwhelming majority just elected by the Liberal party in the Dominion, it would be useless, if not actually inadvisable, for the Conservatives of this district to continue the campaign, and I was duly instructed to so inform you, and to request you in the interests of the party to withdraw your name from the list of candidates. Yours faithfully,
W. B. ANDERSON, Secretary.

November 5th, 1904.
To the Electors of the Comox-Atlin Electoral District:

GENTLEMEN:—I beg to inform you that it has been considered wise in the interests of the Conservative party and the people of the constituency that I should retire from the contest and allow the election to go by acclamation. This conclusion has been arrived at owing to the result of the elections on November 3rd over the whole of the Dominion, when the Liberal party was returned by an overwhelming majority. I have, therefore, allowed my friends to withdraw my nomination, and I feel satisfied that my supporters, after careful consideration, will come to the conclusion that in doing so the right course has been pursued in the best interests of all. Yours faithfully,

Someone signing himself "Workman," whose hardest work, we venture to guess, has been manipulating a fountain pen, has a letter in The News-Gazette to the effect that the best thing the workingmen can do is to elect Mr. Burrell "to interest Eastern capital in Yale-Cariboo." It so happens, however, that we send a representative to Ottawa for another purpose; and if "Workman" or anyone else will show the electors that the Conservative party ever did anything to better the conditions of the workingmen of Canada, he will be doing what no one has up to the present succeeded in proving.

Conservatives are so busy decrying the Liberal government for having brought a few Doukhobors and Galicians into the Northwest some years ago, that they fail to notice that of the 130,000 settlers that came in last year 70,000 were Americans, 45,000 British, besides Germans, Swedes and Norwegians. Nor do they mention that one of these same despised Galicians was put up as a Conservative candidate in the Northwest at the recent Dominion election.

There is no use trying to please the Conservatives of Grand Forks. All along they have been complaining that no Liberal speakers had appeared on the platform; and now they are complaining louder than ever because Senator Templeman and Mr. McInnes did appear and rudely rode roughshod over their peculiar platitudes.

The Conservative association of British Columbia was of the opinion, as was the Conservative candidate himself, that it was to the welfare of the party to allow the Liberal in Comox-Atlin to be elected by acclamation; and Mr. Burrell, on the evening of the 22nd inst., will wish he had followed that same policy.

It does not make any difference to the already large Liberal majority which local candidate is elected on Thursday next; but it makes a heap of difference to the people of this section. Elect a government supporter, and get what this riding is entitled to in the way of appropriations; that's practical business.

Are the electors of Grand Forks going to send a representative to Ottawa who works with the solid Western body already chosen, or a member who will of necessity pass uneventful days with the small but select bunch from Ontario in the O. position solitudes?

In comparison to the cost of living, wages are higher in Canada than elsewhere on earth; and workingmen should see to it that their votes are given to the Liberal government, which has made these conditions possible.

If, as The News-Gazette asserts, the Liberals stole the trade policy of the Conservatives, now is a good time for the latter to get in and support it, which would prove satisfactory for everyone.

The Conservatives are making a loud protest against Ross and his methods—through the columns of the temporary newspaper. But they wisely refrained from meeting him on the public platform here on Tuesday evening.

Copper is now up to 14½ cents—another proof that good prices and Liberalism are contemporaneous.

Vote for Ross, and make it unanimous.

Seven always was a lucky number.

WHAT IS CATARRH?

It is an inflammation of the mucous lining of the throat, bronchial tubes and nasal passages, excited by germs that can only be destroyed by fragrant, healing Catarrhzone, which is breathed direct to the seat of the disease, and never yet failed to cure. Pleasant to take, absolutely certain to cure. Catarrhzone always gives satisfaction. "I suffered from nasal catarrh so badly that I couldn't breathe through my nostrils," writes G. K. Wilmet of Meriden. "I used Catarrhzone for a few minutes and was relieved. It cured in a short time." No other remedy just like Catarrhzone—it's the best. TO THE ELECTORS OF YALE-CARIBOO:

As the Liberal candidate in this electoral district, I respectfully solicit your votes and influence.

No attempt will be made to discuss the general issues of the campaign in this address. Since receiving the Liberal nomination in January last, I have visited many parts of the riding and made myself thoroughly acquainted with its requirements. This work will be continued until election day, but owing to the large extent of territory to be covered, it is a physical impossibility to visit all sections or personally interview all the electors. I therefore avail myself of this opportunity to ask for your suffrage.

Permit me to direct your attention to some matters of local importance.

Yale-Cariboo fully warrants the expenditure of public money in its development. The government has already done much in this direction. It has granted aid to several lines of railway; government owned telegraph and telephone lines have been constructed; the necessary money has been voted to secure telephonic communication through the rich Nicola and Similkameen districts, and telegraphic communication between Vernon and Kelowna. In order that the practically inexhaustible mineral, timber and agricultural resources of the district may be fully developed, this policy of governmental aid must be continued. It is important that Yale-Cariboo shall return as its member one who can direct the attention of the government to matters of vital importance to the district, and who will support the government in its aggressive policy of development. It is particularly important that the electors of this riding should show their appreciation of the government's broad, statesmanlike plan of constructing another transcontinental railway which will be the chief factor in opening up the northern portions of the riding. Branch lines to connect with the southern transcontinental line will surely follow and the whole interior of the province will be opened up.

Briefly, my policy, so far as Yale-Cariboo is concerned, is a policy of development of all its important sections. With a leader whose record fills with pride all people of this country, irrespective of party affiliations; supporting a government whose eight years of wise, progressive administration has placed Canada in a proud position among the nations of the world, and at the same time has more closely connected the ties which bind us to the mother country, and fully endorsing a policy which means so much to the western portion of the Dominion, and more particularly to the district of Yale-Cariboo, I await with confidence your verdict.

Yours very sincerely,
DUNCAN ROSS.

Synopsis of Regulations Disposal of Minerals on Dominion Lands in Manitoba, the North-West Territories and the Yukon Territory.

COAL—Coal lands may be purchased for $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of 10 cents per ton of 2000 pounds shall be collected on gross output.

QUARTZ—Persons of eighteen years and over and joint stock companies holding free miners' certificates may obtain entry for a mining location.

A free miner's certificate is granted for one or more years, not exceeding five, upon payment in advance of $750 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered coal in place, may locate a claim 150x250 feet by marking out the same with two legal posts, bearing location notices, one at each end on the lode or vein.

The claim shall be recorded within fifteen days if located within ten miles of a mining recorder's office, one additional day allowed for each additional ten miles or fraction. The fee for recording a claim is $5.00.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made, and upon complying with the other requirements, purchase the land at $1.00 an acre.

Permission may be granted by the Minister of the Interior to locate claims containing iron and mica, also copper, in the Yukon Territory, of an area not exceeding 160 acres. The patent for a mining location shall provide for the payment of royalty on the sales not exceeding five per cent.

Placer Mining, Manitoba and the North-West Territories.—Placer mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5.00, renewable yearly. On the North Saskatchewan river claims for either bar or bench the former being 100 feet long and extending between high and low water mark. The latter includes bar diggings, but extends back to the base of the hill or bank, but not exceeding 100 feet. When steam power is used, claims 200 feet wide may be obtained.

Dredging in the rivers of Manitoba and the North-West Territories, excepting the Yukon Territory.—A free miner may obtain only two leases of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable in the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee's right is confined to the submerged bed or bars of the river below low water mark, and subject to the rights of all persons who have, or who may receive, rights for bar diggings or bench claims, except on the Saskatchewan river, where the lessee may dredge to high water mark on each alternate leasehold.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles, but where a person or company has obtained more than one lease, one dredge for each fifteen miles or fraction is sufficient. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent collected on the output after it reaches $10,000.

Dredging in the Yukon Territory.—Six leases of five miles each may be granted to a free miner for a term of twenty years, also renewable. The lessee's right is confined to the submerged bed or bars in the river below low water mark, that boundary to be fixed by its position on the 1st day of August in the year of the date of the lease.

The lessee shall have one dredge in operation within two years from the date of the lease, and one dredge for each five miles within six years from such date. Rental, $100 per mile for first year, and $10 per mile for each subsequent year. Royalty, same as placer mining.

Placer mining in the Yukon Territory.—Creek, gulch, river and hill claims shall not exceed 250 feet in length, measured on the base line or general direction of the creek or gulch, the width being 100 to 300 feet. All other placer claims shall be 200 feet square.

Claims are marked by two legal posts, one at each end, bearing notices. Entry must be obtained within ten days, if the claim is within ten miles of mining recorder's office. One additional day allowed for each additional ten miles or fraction.

The person or company staking a claim must hold a free miner's certificate.

The discoverer of a new mint is entitled to a claim of 1000 feet in length, and if the party consists of two 1500 feet altogether, on the output of which no royalty will be charged; the rest of the party ordinary claims only.

Entry fee $10. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent on the value of the gold shipped from the Yukon Territory, to be paid to the Comptroller.

No free miner shall receive a grant of more than one mining claim on each separate river, creek or gulch, but the same miner may hold any number of claims by purchase, and free miners may work their claims in partnership by filing notice and paying fee of $2. A claim may be abandoned and another obtained on the same creek, gulch or river, by giving notice and paying a fee. Work must be done on a claim each year to the value of at least $200.

A certificate that work has been done must be obtained each year. If not, the claim shall be deemed to be abandoned, and open to occupation and entry by a free miner.

The boundaries of a claim may be defined absolutely by having a survey made and publishing notices in the Yukon Official Gazette. PETROLEUM.—All unappropriated Dominion lands in Manitoba, the North-West Territories and within the Yukon Territory are open to prospecting for petroleum, and the Minister may reserve for an individual or company having machinery on the land to be prospected, an area of 640 acres. Should the prospector discover oil in paying quantities, and satisfactorily establish such discovery, an area not exceeding 640 acres, including the oil well and such other land as may be determined, will be sold to the discoverer at the rate of $1.00 an acre, subject to royalty at such rate as may be specified by order-in-council.

SUNSET SAUNTERINGS

About fifty guests assembled at the Manse last evening to tender a farewell reception to Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Peters and family, who are soon leaving for Vancouver. A very social time was spent. During the evening the pastor, Rev. Robertson, took occasion to express the regrets of Knox church congregation at the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Peters, after which Mr. Thos. McIntyre read an address and Mrs. John Donaldson made the presentation of a beautiful silver pudding dish in the name of the congregation. Mr. Peters replied on behalf of himself and family, and thanked all their friends for their kindness. Rev. Mr. Ross added a few interesting remarks in appreciation of the friendship of the Peters family. Refreshments were served, and the pleasure brought to a close.

James McArdle, formerly on the police force in this city, has purchased the Model livery stable from Frank Royer. The deal was a cash transaction, and the sale included everything with the exception of fifteen head of horses and the Grand Forks-Greenwood stage, which Mr. Royer will continue to run during the winter.

Next Sunday at the evening service in Knox church, Rev. J. R. Robertson will preach on the subject, "Mental Powers in Christian Character," this being the second in a series on "The Human Powers in Christian Character." The young people are especially invited to be present.

The Ladies of the Maccabees will give their regular monthly social dance in Eagles' hall, First street, next Thursday evening. Good music will be provided. Tickets, 50 cents. Everybody invited.

The China display at Titter's store is creating a great sensation.

DIED.—At his residence, in the Sears' block, in this city, at 9 a. m. today, Caleb Langford, aged 55 years. Deceased was taken sick about two weeks ago with typhoid fever, and was doing nicely up to last Tuesday, when inflammation of the bowels set in, and from that time until the end came he gradually grew worse. Mr. Langford had resided in this city for one year prior to his death, and was very favorably known. He leaves a wife and a family of seven children, all of whom reside in different towns of this province and Washington. The funeral will take place at 3 o'clock tomorrow from Cooper's undertaking establishment. Rev. E. Manuel will conduct the funeral services.
