

COUNCIL MEETING

Longest Session Since the Present Government Assumed Power

Mayor Makes a Hard Fight for Economy, but is Outvoted

The council meeting last night was the longest that has been held during the present city government's term, it being midnight before adjournment was reached. Mayor Hammar presided, and all the aldermen were present.

A communication was read from the J. A. Fairbanks company, notifying the council that the new city pump had been shipped.

A communication was read from Postmaster General Mulock, asking for data concerning the telephone systems in this locality. Referred to the finance committee.

A communication from the Colville band, asking for an engagement for the 1st of July, was laid on the table, as there is no likelihood of a Dominion day celebration in the city this year.

On motion of Ald. McCallum and Crossen, the council granted a reasonable rebate on the Victoria hotel license for the time which the house has been closed.

A communication was received from the police commissioners, stating that the board had decided to dispense with the services of A. E. Savage as police on the 30th inst., and that they had failed to concur in the council's recommendation to cut off the feed for the chief of police's horse. Ald. Brown thought it would have been better if the commissioners had not specified the man to be discharged. The city solicitor explained that the commissioners had full power to deal with police matters. The only recourse the council had, in the event of the board saddling too heavy expenses on the city, was an appeal to the lieutenant-governor in council. On motion of Ald. Crossen and Hutton, the report was received and adopted.

A communication was read from the license commissioners, suggesting the advisability of the council amending the bottle and wholesale liquor license by-law. Ald. Henniger desired to know why and how they wanted the by-law amended. Ald. McCallum stated that a committee of retail liquor dealers had waited on the commissioners, and complained that the holders of bottle licenses were allowed to compete with the retail dealers. The commissioners had decided to act cautiously and to thoroughly investigate the charges. Wm. Penrose, of the Lion Bottling Works, was present, and positively denied retailing liquors on his premises. All cities, he said, had a by-law similar to the one in force here. The mayor stated that a customer could purchase a bottle of liquor, be handed a glass and go in back room and drink the contents of the bottle, practically creating a bar-room on the premises. If the present by-law permitted this act, it should be amended. Ald. McCallum said the commissioners could get no evidence that the by-law was being violated. He asked Mr. Penrose how a wholesale license would work in the latter's business. Mr. Penrose said it wouldn't work at all. It would simply be a case of getting out of business. Mr. McCallum gave notice that he would bring in a by-law on the subject.

The usual number of accounts were ordered paid.

The cemetery committee reported progress. Ald. McCallum thought two acres of the present cemetery could be purchased by the city at a reasonable price. Objections had been raised by property owners to extending the grounds farther west. The mayor added the names of P. T. McCallum and E. Spraggett to the committee, and on motion they were confirmed by the council.

Ald. Henniger, chairman of the board of works, recommended moving the small bridge—now in bad condition—over the ditch near Mr. Fisher's, from its present location to Seventh street. This change was authorized. There were also loose boards in the sidewalks all over town that should be nailed down.

Ald. Henniger stated that Winnipeg avenue, the main thoroughfare of the city, from J. B. Henderson's residence to the C.P.R. tracks, was in a worse condition than any piece of road between Bossburg and Republic. In fact, it was nothing but a trail. The mayor said the street was in a bad condition, and should be graded. Ald. Clements thought that a definite grade should be established first, so that whatever work is done on the street would be of a permanent nature. Ald. Brown coincided in this view, adding that the work should be done by contract. Mr. Henniger said it would take about $3000 to do the work according to an engineer's plans, and the city could only spend about $500 on the street. Mr. Brown suggested a visit to the street. The mayor said the council would be no wiser after viewing the work, which should be done as soon as possible. On motion of Ald. Brown, the board of works was authorized to engage an engineer to establish a grade, and to bring in a profile and an estimate of the cost of the work.

Ald. McCallum reported that the police commissioners had decided to dismiss A. E. Savage from the police force on the 30th inst., and that after that date he would only receive half a salary as chief of the fire department.

Ald. Brown—Is there any other work that Savage can do? Has the council anything in view?

Mayor Hammar said that when he was first elected Mr. Savage had told him that he wished to be chief of the fire department, but would not accept the position as chief of police. If Mr. Savage was to be retained at all, the council should find him a position where his salary would be the same as it is now. He had suspended Electrician Waterston on his return and had told him not to go to work until the council re-instated him. He thought Mr. Savage was well qualified to fill Mr. Waterston's position. Personally he had nothing against Mr. Waterston and his work, but he thought his services could be dispensed with, and that Mr. Savage could do his work.

Ald. Clements said Mr. Waterston had been granted a leave of absence with the understanding that Messrs. Savage and Reid were to do his work, but later it transpired that Savage had not agreed to double up on the work at a single salary. The committee had afterwards endeavored to get an electrician from the Granby smelter and other places, but had failed. He questioned whether Mr. Savage was competent to do the work, otherwise he had no serious objections to the change. He thought, however, that Mr. Waterston had gone away in good faith, and he wouldn't like to take the responsibility of the change, although he believed in economy. He had advocated a salary of $100 per month for the electrician at the beginning of the year.

Ald. Henniger—Are you satisfied that Mr. Waterston is thoroughly capable of running the electrical plant?

Ald. Clement—He has proved himself so heretofore.

Ald. Brown fell in line with the views expressed by Mr. Clements.

Mayor Hammar asked the chairman of the water and light committee if Mr. Waterston's time was fully employed.

Mr. Clement—He could do more more work if he had it to do.

Mr. Hammar thought the lines and equipment might be kept in better condition if Mr. Waterston had any spare time. Mr. Savage's services as fire chief entitled him to first consideration. He now had the department in first-class shape. Clements—Savage is a very handy man and should be retained if possible. Although Chief of Police Sheads is a good friend of mine, I would rather see him dismissed, if the commissioners can see their way clear to do so.

Ald. Brown—Savage would fill the position of chief of police to the satisfaction of everybody.

Mayor Hammar—If you can show me wherein Mr. Sheads has been inefficient, the commissioners might be induced to reconsider their action.

But Ald. Clements and Brown had nothing against the chief of police.

Ald. McCallum stated that some time ago it was proposed by the commissioners to reduce the force if times got duller, and they had now decided to cut it down to one man. The most natural thing to do was to dismiss the man who was only drawing half a salary. He had not been willing to do anything until Ald. Clement's return. Enough work should be given Savage to make up the $45 per month he received from the police department. If Waterston's salary was too high, it could be reduced without working any special hardship on him.

Henniger said it would be time enough to look for work for Savage after the council had decided to retain Mr. Waterston.

Ald. Crossen said the council couldn't dictate to the police commissioners. He thought Savage was thoroughly competent to do the city's electrical work. The council shouldn't lock horns over the question. By all accepted usages of priority and civil service rules Mr. Savage was entitled to the position, and he would fill both positions acceptably to the ratepayers. He was decidedly in favor of the council reducing expenses.

Ald. Hutton favored a reduction in the force. He had favored reducing the staff in the city office to one clerk, and it had worked satisfactorily. The sale of the city team, which he had advocated, had saved the corporation $600 during the past year. No one could tell whether one man could fill both positions until it was tried. He was one who was willing to try.

Mayor Hammar said the change could be tried for thirty days at least.

Ald. Brown wouldn't like to take the responsibility for the change.

The mayor replied that Mr. Savage had done enough electrical work for the city to qualify him for the position.

Ald. Crossen again expressed the opinion that Savage was competent to fill the position, and offered the following resolution, which failed to receive a seconder: That A. E. Savage be appointed city electrician at a salary of $105 per month, provided he can show he is capable of taking charge of the city's electrical plant, the appointment to take effect July 1, 1905.

V., V. & E. Charter

The vote on the V., V. & E. railway bill in the house at Ottawa last Wednesday showed fifty Liberals and one Conservative for the bill, and forty-two Conservatives and eleven Liberals against. Among those against was the minister of justice, who voted with the eleven. The minister of railways is in favor of the bill, but was not present when the vote was taken. He and three other Liberals were with a delegation to the premier at the time. The sub-committee of the railway committee, to which was referred a clause of the V., V. & F. railway bill, met on Thursday, and decided to make a report of the clause as it stands at present. Hon. C. F. Fitzpatrick, minister of justice, also was present, and was satisfied with the wording of the clause from a legal standpoint. The report will be presented at the next meeting of the committee. The question of policy will not come before the sub-committee, for that will be discussed at the full committee. The clause restores any rights which may have lapsed in the bill.

TUESDAY, JUNE 20, 1905

The council meeting last night appears to have demonstrated on things—that there is one man too many in the employ of the city. We are not prepared to say, at present, who the superfluous official is; but it is a safe wager that neither the council nor the ratepayers will be happy until he is found.

COUNCIL MEETING

Concluded from First Page.

Ald. Henniger had no favorites among the city employees. If Waterston was dismissed he should be treated like all the other city officials previously discharged, and given a month's salary.

Ald. McCallum couldn't see any sense of dismissing a man who had given satisfaction to make room for a man of doubtful ability.

Ald. Clements said the city had no moral right to dismiss a man without cause. It wasn't a square deal, in his mind. Both men had been employed by the city about the same length of time, and it was hard to tell who was entitled to the most consideration. The easiest way out of the difficulty would be to appoint Savage chief of police. He made a motion, which was seconded by Ald. Brown, asking the police commissioners to reconsider Mr. Savage's dismissal.

Ald. McCallum said it had always been his policy to stand by the heads of departments. He now stood by the head of the water and light department. If the matter was referred back to the commissioners, he would stand by the head of that department.

The mayor said he was pledged to reduce expenses. The city office was being run as competently this year with one man as it was last year with two. He had cast the deciding vote for the present incumbent because he thought the West end was entitled to one office. If the resolution was referred back to the commissioners it was as far as it would ever go. The chief of police had enough to do without looking after the fire department. He was on duty about sixteen hours a day at present. He thought the electrical and fire departments could be run by one man, and he would continue to stick up for what he considered was right.

Ald. McCallum offered the following substitute for Mr. Clement's motion: That the chairmen of the board of works and water and light committee bring in a recommendation at the next meeting as to what services Mr. Savage can render the city to make up the $45 per month, and that Mr. Waterston's salary be reduced to $105 per month. This substitute was seconded by Ald. Henniger, and on a vote being taken it was carried. A vote was then taken on the original motion, which was lost.

The street sprinkling time was cut down to 2½ hours in the forenoon and 2½ hours in the afternoon.

The tax sale by-law was put through its final stage.

Ald. McCallum gave notice that he would introduce an amendment to the bottle liquor license by-law at the next meeting.

The council then adjourned till next Monday night.

Synopsis of Regulations Governing the Disposal of Dominion Lands within the Railway Belt in the Province of British Columbia.

A LICENSE to cut timber can be acquired only at public competition. A rental of $5 per square mile is charged for all timber berths excepting those situated West of Yale, for which the rental is at the rate of 5 cents per acre per annum.

In addition to the rental, dues at the following rates are charged:—
 Saw lumber, 50 cents per thousand feet B.M.
 Railway ties, eight and nine feet long, 1½ and 1½ cents each.
 Shingle bolts, 25 cents a cord.

All other products, 5 per cent, on the sales. A license is issued so soon as a berth is granted, but in unsurveyed territory no timber can be cut on a berth until the licensee has made a survey thereof.

Permits to cut timber are also granted at public competition, except in the case of actual settlers, who require the timber for their own use.

Settlers and others may also obtain permits to cut up to 100 cords of wood for sale without competition.

The dues payable under a permit are $1.50 per thousand feet B.M., for square timber and sawlogs of any wood except oak; from ½ to 1½ cents per lineal foot for building logs; from 1½ to 2 cents per cord for wood; 1 cent for fence posts; 8 cents for railway ties; and 50 cents per cord on shingle bolts.

Leases for grazing purposes are issued for a term of twenty-one years at a rental of two cents an acre per annum.

Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres may be acquired by one individual or company.

Royalty at the rate of 10 cents per ton of 2,000 pounds is collected on the gross output.

Entries for land for agricultural purposes may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may, on application to the Minister of the Interior at Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration at Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district within which the land is situated, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

A fee of $10 is charged for a homestead entry.

A settler who has received an entry for a homestead, is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:—

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land to each year during the term of three years.

It is the practice of the Department to require a settler to bring 15 acres under cultivation, but if he prefers he may substitute stock; and 20 head of cattle or the equivalent property, with buildings for their accommodation, will be accepted instead of the cultivation.

(2) If father or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of the Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such persons as a homestead, the requirements of the Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of the Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

Playfully pinching Penrose, he plucked a particularly promising perquisite from the political plum tree and proceeded on his promenade.—Chicago Tribune.

"Let us wait and see the lady contortionist," said the bachelor in the sideshow.
"Wouldn't interest me," replied the benedict. "I see one at home every day."
"At home?"
"Yes; my wife has one of those blouses that button at the back."

The Sun
PRINTS all the news of the Boundary, and prints it while it is news. It is the only twice-a-week paper published in Southern British Columbia. It is not owned or controlled by a clique of politicians, to further their own ambitious aims; nor by a combination of merchants to be used as a means of lauding their own wares, to the detriment of their rivals.
THE SUN is the sole property of its publisher, and no one else has any right to dictate its policy. It is printed in the interest of Grand Forks and surrounding district. When its editor believes he is right, he speaks right out. He does not have to consult half-a-dozen different parties about what he intends to say.
Everybody in Grand Forks reads THE SUN twice a week. Its out-of-town circulation is large, and is rapidly increasing. It is therefore the best advertising medium in the Boundary.
