THE GIDDY THRONG

Local Events of General Interest to the Citizens of the Combined Cities

The past week has seen several social events, all much enjoyed by young and old. On Thursday evening a party was held at Mrs. T. Smith's, where a most enjoyable time was spent by all present.

On Friday evening there was the Spence-Macdonald concert. We were glad to see a larger attendance this time than on the occasion of the the last visit of these Scotch entertainers. That it was much enjoyed was quite evident. Flora MacDonald looks as charming as ever; her voice was in good condition, and her rendition of old favorites much enjoyed. Gavin Spence told many good stories in a manner that "brought down the house," and his songs were given with a freedom from affectation and stage effect that made one feel the sentiment of the song.

The first ice carnival, held at the rink last night, was a success—unqualified. There were so many in costume that it would be impossible to go into details, but certainly the west end of the town can be proud of its representation. Miss Peters looked regal with her crescent and star; Miss Hay very charming in her costume, and the blending of beautiful colors in Miss Donnan's dress was very effective. Many others were there, among them Miss E. Donnan, the Misses Miller, and, barring the baby, we think the whole of the Peters family. The ladies were not the whole show, however. The boys were there, too, and strictly in it.

After the carnival came the dance given by the new Citizen's Supply company. If their business is as successful as their social function, then we doff our hat to the new concern. There was a large attendance; the music was good, and many of the dances above the average. A first-class supper was served at the Granby hotel about midnight, and dancing continued until nearly 2 a. m.

So much for the past. Coming events cast their shadow before them. The 27th is going to be a big night. If you don't know why, find out.

Under the attractive forces of a full moon, jingling bells and good company we hear a sleighing party is to go out to Covert's ranch on Wednesday evening next, the 15th inst., under the auspices of the Lanies' Aid of Knox Presbyterian church. The fare—both passage and provisions—is only four bits per head. It is requested that those Columbians wishing to go will phone Rev. J. R. Robertson, No. A 119, when arrangements will be made and sleighs will call at J. H. Hodson's store about 7:30. We trust all intending to go will please see to this, so that there may be no crowding and every one will have a good time. Mr. Hodson has kindly given the use of his store as a waiting room, so that there need be no waiting in the cold.

The skating rink is being well patronized this season, and there should be no trouble in financing a good covered rink for next winter. The people from this end of the burg are doing their share. Over thirty residents south of the C.P.R. track being counted on the ice last week.

At the meeting of the Grand Forks city council last night very little business was transacted, with the exception of ordering a few bills paid. The petition of the liquor dealers, asking that they be granted a licence for the next term of six months on payment of $100 and a note for $150, payable subject to the decision of the new council, was referred back to the committee that presented it, with a recommendation that it be laid before the licence commissioners.

IN another column will be seen a notice requesting that all claims against the City of Columbia be presented for payment at once. This, on the eve of retiring from office, has the ring of legitimate business. The amalgamation agreement provides for the running expenses and the expenditure of certain money for both cities until they become united, and implies that there be no other expenditure and accordingly no other debt (except the debenture indebtedness) in either city at the end of the year. Any debt to the contrary—any obligation left over by Columbia for the new city to shoulder—would not only be a breaeh of faith with Grand Forks and a violation of trust on the part of Columbia, but also shoulder the new city with a dishonest burden which would tend to hamper its progress. It is to be hoped that the closing of the books in Grand Forks will reflect as much credit and business ability on the Grand Forks council as is due to the Columbia council for their past career and closing accounts, and that the Grand Forks council will likewise keep their pledges with Columbia, by paying all their debts and balance their books so as to give the new city a fair start and not try to hamper its prospects by burdening it with dishonest debts, and let no member of the council so far forget his duty and his honor as to say, "Let this or that bill stand over for the new council to pay."

THE aldermanic ticket is rapidly filling up, and within a day or two the list will be complete. In the Center ward there are three candidates in the field, the two most favorably spoken of, and who will undoubtedly be elected, are Charles Cusson and N. McLellan. Mr. Cusson is a successful hotel man, and during the past year has made an enviable record in the Columbia city council by always championing the side that stood for progress in civic improvements. His election to the legislative chamher of the amalgamated cities is almost certain, and the ratepayers will make no mistake by giving him their support. Mr. McLellan is one of the most—if not the most—successful and enterprising business in the city. During the past three years he has been engaged in the wholesale and retail feed and commission business, and under his wise and energetic management his private affairs have prospered, until today he easily leads all competitors in his line in the Boundary district. He owns property in all three wards, therefore all parts of the city can depend upon receiving justice at his hands in the council. Mr. McLellan should be given a handsome majority, because every vote cast for him will mean that the citizens favor the employment of business methods in the transaction of the city's affairs.

BY glancing oyer the editorial columns of the last issue of our local contemporary, THE SUN has arrived at the conclusion that the News-Gazette is searching for a scientific man to enter as a candidate in the mayoralty contest. But the paper neglects to state in what branch of science it prefers our next mayor should be versed. If scientific railroading is its hobby, the paper will undoubtedly swing around and support the present occupant of the mayor's chair before the campaign is over. And to strengthen this opinion, we cite the fact that the News-Gazette makes special reference to the science of wireless telegraphy. This, judging the future by the past, would suit the present mayor to a dot, because the perfection of the system would enable him to transact Grand Forks civic affairs from Toronto. Is the News-Gazette acting in good faith in supporting a scientific horticulturalist for mayor?

THE SUN has received the following communication from Mr. W. A. Stratton, manager of the Kettle Valley Lines, which we publish in a fair-minded spirit: "Referring to your editorial in the paper stating that there is a doubt whether we are not opposing the V., V. & E.'s entrance to the Granby smelter, I beg to inform you that we are not opposing them in any way; but, on the contrary, we would be better pleased if we could assist them. We are interested in all kinds of business which will build up the town."

THE elector who intends to vote for Mr. Burrell, should insist on reasonable assurances that that gentleman will not be ruled by the present mayor.

AN anxious public is wondering if The News-Gazette has decided yet which candidate it will lend its powerful ediiorial support to in the approaching mayoralty contest, or will it repeat its policy last year of holding back until a couple of days before election, by which time it may be able to once more locate the gentleman with the long green.

THERE were a great many masqueraders at the carnival last night; but not all of them. A few of them are running for office at the forthcoming mnnicipal election—for instance, some of the aldermanic candidates in the East ward.

P. T. MCCALLUM, the poputar candidate for mayor, is gaining every day in his campaign. Mr. McCallum is a pioneer of Grand Forks, having come to this valley from Ontario ten years ago, after spending a short time in Vernon. In the early days he used to record the mineral claims throughout the district for the prospectors, as there was no mining recorder nearer than Midway at that time. It is this fact that accounts for his good standing among the old-timers. About seven years ago he was appointed a justice of the peace, and three years later was made a notary public. Since that time he received his appointment as deputy sheriff. At present he conducts the most prosperous insurance agency in the city, and is well liked by all classes of citizens. He owns property in every ward in the city, and it elected he will labor for the best interests of all sections of the town.

SOME of the the candidates should make a note of it. There are no First, Second and Third wards in this city. East, Center and West will do for the present.

THE aldermanic race in the East ward is yet in a chaotic state. We won't be able to tell who's who until our next issue makes its appearance.

REV. IRL R. HICKS' 1903 ALMANAC

To say that this splendid work of science and art is finer and better than ever, is stating it mildly. The demand for it is far beyond all previous years. To say that such results, reaching through THIRTY YEARS, are not based upon sound sense and usefulness, is an insult to the intelligence of the millions. Prof. Hicks, through his great Almanac, and his famous family and scientific journal, Word and Works, is doing a work for the whole people not approached by any other man or publication. A fair test will prove this to any reasonable person. Added to the most luminous course in astronomy for 1903, forecasts of storms and weather are given as never before, for every day in the year, all charmingly illustrated with nearly two hundred engravings. The price of single Almanac, including postage and mailing, is THIRTY CENTS. Word and Works with the Almanac is $1.00 a year. Write to WORD AND WORKS PUBLISHING CO., 2201 Locust Street, St. Louis, Mo., and prove to yourself their great value.

BOUNDARY MINES AND SMELTERS

Last Monday the Granby mines at Phoenix sent out 73 cars of ore, or about 2200 tons. As far as known this is the largest tonnage ever sent out from one group of mines from any camp in the province in a single day.

The main tunnel on the Lucile Dreyfus mine, at Danville, is in about 300 feet, and from the intersection of the vein follows the hanging wall. The winze is down 75 feet on the hanging wall and follows fine looking pay ore. If the Lucile Dreyfus, the Mineral Hill and neighboring mines continue the production of base ores as they are now doing they will soon bring that district into prominence.

Ore shipments last week: Granby mines, Phoenix, 8338 tons; Snowshoe, Phoenix, 390 tons; Mother Lode, Deadwood, 3208 tons; Sunset, Deadwood, 325 tons; B. C. mine, Summit camp, 900 tons; Emma, Summit camp, 930 tons; total for past week, 14,091 tons; total for 1902, 14,091 tons.

The ore shipments from Republic to the Granby smelter last week were: Lone Pine-Surprise, 112 tons; Quilp, 268 tons; total, 380 tons.

The Florenee group, on the North Fork o Kettle river, in which Ottawa parties recently acquired an interest from the owner, M. R. Feeney, of this city, is looking well. Surface work has resulted in the exposure of a well defined lead of pay ore two and one-half feet wide underneath "wash." One of the walls has been struck. A drift from the bottom of a twenty-foot shaft is to be started at once with he object of catching the lead. An assay of ore from the surface showing, uncovered recently, gave returns of $68 in gold, silver and copper in the order named, the principal value being in gold. The group iss ituated in Brown's camp, eleven miles from this city. Four men are at present employed on development work.

W. F. Newton has eleven men working on two shifts on a group of 24 claims on the east side of the Kettle river, about a mile south of Danville. He is operating in two different places for the development of the Copper Bullion, which gives evidences of becoming a mine. The principal work done on it is a shaft 108 feet deep, from the bottom of which a drift has been driven on the vein 300 feet. A crosscut from the bottom of the shaft has intersected the yein, where it is six feet wide. In the drift the vein varies from three to six feet in width, and the ore along the entire 300 linear feet is said to average $18.25 in value. Several analyses of the ore show from 40 to 60 per cent silica and a half of 1 per cent copper. The commercial values run about $16 in gold and from two to six ounces silver to the ton.
