Commissioner Metcalfe Reports on Fruit Market in Northwest

Commissioner J. C. Metcalfe reports as follows regarding the fruit market in the Northwest:

Portage la Prairie, June 9.—No B. C. strawberries arrived at this point to date. Hood River strawberries here, costing retail at Winnipeg $4.25 per case; Missouri strawberries also, costing $3.90 per case; express by C.N.R. and C.P.R. 60c per hundred pounds, or about 18c per case. Dealers here claim our strawberries do not arrive in as good condition, nor do they hold up as well after arrival as Hood River or Missouri, but prefer as a flavor. Idaho cherries in now; cost dealers Winnipeg $2.50, sell for $2. Dealers all supplied from Winnipeg. No jobbing houses here.

Brandon, June 10.—At Smith & Burton's retail dealers here, I saw some B. C. strawberries from Mission. Arrived in good condition, and fairly well graded, but baskets not full enough. Our growers generally do not fill baskets enough, in comparison with American growers and shippers. Washington cherries in here now. Mr. Pauline, manager McPherson Fruit company here, stated they cost 70c per ten pound case, f.o.b. Washington. Were buying California peaches, f.o.b. point of shipment, 60c per case, and expected to buy them before season was over at 35c per case at point of shipment. Dealers here have had a number of shipments of strawberries direct from growers at Hammond and Mission, all of which arrived in pretty good condition, and prefer our strawberries as to flavor in comparison with the American berries from Tennessee, Missouri, Louisiana and even Hood River, but our growers do not grade close enough or fill the baskets as well.

Regina, June 13.—The agent of the express company here reported two shipments of strawberries arrived here from Missouri; twelve on the 13th and thirteen on the 13th for the McPherson Fruit company, and were refused by them, being in poor condition. Were sold by the express company for charges. First lot brought $15 and the second lot $17; express charges to be deducted from above. Twenty-five cases more came in from Mission on the 11th; were only in fair condition. Twelve cases more came in the 13th from Mission. These strawberries were bought by their own agent for Stockton and Mallinson, some of them arriving on the Saturday night, and by Monday were in poor condition. Quite a number of them had to be dumped out, being no good. Our growers and shippers must avoid shipping to arrive on Saturday night at any of these points, as they will certainly suffer loss if more attention is not given to the time of shipment. There is no difficulty in figuring out from time table the proper train and day to ship.

Saskatoon, June 15.—Have had three carloads of strawberries in here this season. Hood River and Mission strawberries are coming in here daily. They do not arrive here in the best condition; stock is poorly graded and baskets not well filled, of those I saw at the Northern Fruit company's warehouse. The stock is bought by their own agent at Mission. These berries are brought in by the C.P.R. by way of Kirkella to Saskatoon, being a longer time in transit than via Regina to Saskatoon. Express rate by Kirkella $3 per hundred pounds; express via Regina $3.85 per hundred pounds, having to go over the C. P. R. to Regina, then C. N. R. to Saskatoon, but a shorter time in transit. They refused one lot of forty cases that came in from Mission, and they were sold for charges. The freight rate on mixed carloads from Lewiston, Idaho, is $1.33 per hundred pounds; from North Yakima $1.42 per hundred pounds.

Prince Albert, June 17.—In conversation with the retailers here, I find a strong feeling in favor of B. C. fruit of all kinds. They have no jobbing houses here, and are supplied by the jobbing houses of Saskatoon and Regina, although in past seasons they have had mixed carloads of B. C. fruit. Coombs & Co., Rogers & Co., A. F. Purdy & Co., and Handell & Co., all deal largely in fruit, co-operating sometimes in the buying of the same. B. C. strawberries came in here, but it is a long and expensive trip. They have to go over two roads to reach here, costing via Kirkella $4 per hundred pounds; via Regina $4.15 per hundred pounds, but they could not co-operate and handle mixed carloads of fruit by freight at this point successfully. This morning before leaving I saw some Vashon island strawberries; came in from Winnipeg; arrived soft and mouldy. Express rate from Winnipeg to Prince Albert $2.40 per hundred pounds.

There is certainly better feeling on the part of jobbing houses and retailers towards buying and handling our fruit this season. They recognize that we have a good crop, and they are also aware that it will come into these markets, and if they do not handle it they will have it in competition anyway.

I am trying to impress upon jobbers, retailers and consumers I come in contact with that we have an abundant crop of all varieties of fruit, and that it will be to their advantage to handle B. C. fruit for many reasons.

Another point our growers and shippers ought to bear in mind is the fact that although our fruit might be marketed in the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan, it will be advisable to market a percentage of our output in the province of Manitoba, for the purpose of not only selling our fruit, but for the advertising of it, and also the possibilities of fruit growing in this province, removing the impression that exists in the minds of some that we are not growing or producing any appreciable quantity of fruit as yet.

It is to be hoped our growers and shippers will use every endeavor to put up a good product this season for these markets, because prices will be ruled to a great extent by Oregon and Washington competitive prices, and we must be prepared to meet them. Prices f.o.b. there, plus the duty and any advantage we may have in freight rates, will be the ruling prices for same variety and grade of fruit in B. C.

FELL IN FURNACE

Jack Feak Has Narrow Escape From Instant Death at the Smelter

To fall into one of the large furnaces at the Granby smelter, to be enveloped for an instant by blue flames and sulphurous fumes, and to emerge alive and practically uninjured, was the thrilling experience of Jack Feak, one of the oldest furnacemen on the works, on Thursday afternoon. Today a couple of severe burns on his wrists and badly shattered nerves are the only evidences of his miraculous escape from instant death.

Feak was working in front of his furnace, when one of the electric charge cars came along with a load of coke. Feak gave the signal to the motorman, Wm. Farmer, to stop, and resumed his work. Farmer, however, did not see the signal, as the trolley of his car had jumped from the wire, and at the time it was given he was engaged in replacing the trolley. The instant the trolley touched the wire the car rushed into the furnace, carrying Feak before it. There were several workmen around the furnace when this exciting scene was being enacted, and to their coolness and rare presence of mind Feak undoubtedly owes his life. The motorman, when he realized what had occurred, reversed the lever, and before the car had entered half way into the furnace, it shot out again with lightning speed. Some one shut off the blast of the furnace. The unfortunate Feak made a quick jump and caught one of the rails on which the car enters the furnace with both hands. As he did so Bill Enard, who was standing by the side furnace, caught hold of the man's arm, and with the help of another workman he was instantly pulled out of the furnace. All these events happened in a second, but when Feak landed on the feed floor his hair was singed and his clothes were a-blaze. While in the furnace he refrained from breathing. Had he done so, the sulphurous fumes would certainly have choked him. With the exception of the burns on his wrists, Feak suffered no bodily injuries. But his nervous system has been badly wrecked by the terrible experience. Similar accidents might be repeated a thousand times, and in every instance prove fatal.

Presbytery of Kootenay

The Presbytery of Kootenay met in Knox church, this city, on Tuesday, when the induction service of Rev. M. D. McKee, who has had temporary charge of the congregation since last November, was held. Dr. J. T. Ferguson, of Nelson, presided, and there was a large attendance of the public and members of the church. Rev. T. A. Petrie, of Greenwood, preached the sermon; the charge to the minister was given by Rev. McNabb, of Trail, and the charge to the congregation by Rev. L. Lundie, of Phoenix. Previous to the service a large company, including the local clergy and the members of the Dominion and provincial parliaments, were entertained at a splendid luncheon on the manse lawn by the ladies of the church.

Wednesday morning the presbytery met again and discussed a proposed plan for an extensive evangelistic mission to be held in connection with the Presbyterian churches throughout Kootenay next fall. The mission was to be carried out by ministers and members of the Canadian church, and was to be directed to the strengthening of church life and the promotion of training for religious and social service. Dr. Ferguson was instructed to convey to the general assembly's committee on evangelism the views of the presbytery regarding the proposals made, which appeared to have been wisely conceived. The various phases of home mission work were also discussed, and the report of the committee on systematic beneficence was carefully considered and remitted to the committee. It will be brought up again at the next regular meeting of the presbytery.

NEWS OF THE CITY

The examinations of the entrance class, consisting of eleven pupils, which were carried on under the direction of Principal May, closed on Thursday afternoon at the public school building. Next week the regular high school examinations, and the examinations for teachers' certificates, will be held at the public school house by George H. Dean, of the educational department, Victoria, under the supervision of Principal May. The examinations will commence at 9 o'clock on Monday morning. Pupils who intend to write are requested to be at the school house at 8:30 o'clock.

As predicted in The Sun a couple of weeks ago, Campbell Brothers' circus proved to be the greatest fake that has struck the city since Halley's comet left the earth. It was a grafting institution from start to finish, and few of those who had been duped were willing to admit that they attended the show. The clowns were silly, the acrobats mediocre, and the performance abbreviated. The menagerie slumbered peacefully in their barred and locked cages, and the steam calliope consisted of a pair of Scotch bagpipes. In glancing over our exchanges we notice that in nearly every town where it has exhibited, this aggregation has offered some plausible excuse for not giving a better performance. Too many excuses raise suspicions. The question naturally arises, Was the management capable of giving a better performance?

Twenty-six applications for the position of principal of the Grand Forks public school were submitted by the secretary at the meeting of the board of trustees last Tuesday evening. The secretary and the chairman of the school management committee, Messrs. Hull and Rutherford, were authorized to make the selection.

Died—In Grand Forks, on Thursday afternoon, June 30th, at 2 o'clock, Francis William, one-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Stewart. The funeral was held from the family residence at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

J. B. Fleming, principal of the high school, will leave in a few days on a two weeks' vacation trip to the coast cities.

NEW POSTOFFICE

Will Be a Two-Story Brick Building, 60x80, Costing $40,000

Wm. Henderson, of Vancouver, government architect, arrived in the city on Monday, and spent a couple of days in taking measurements of the postoffice site on upper Bridge street. Mr. Henderson stated that he expected work would be commenced immediately after he had prepared the plans and the government had advertised for tenders. The preparation of the plans, he said, will only be a matter of a short time, as the department intends to combine the plans of the Nelson and Rossland federal buildings for the postoffice here. The exterior of the building will resemble the Nelson postoffice, and the interior will be modeled after the Rossland building. The Nelson postoffice is considered to have a handsomer outside appearance than the one in Rossland, but the interior arrangement of the latter is more convenient. The new Grand Forks postoffice will be a two-story brick building, 60x80 feet.

The City Council

Mayor Clark and Ald. Follick, Henniger and Rutherford were present at the adjourned meeting of the city council on Monday evening. The tax rate bylaw was reconsidered and finally passed.

R. L. Miles was granted permission to remove the building formerly occupied by Mr. Long as a barber shop from First to Riverside avenue, provided he complied with the fire limits bylaw and left the sidewalk on First street in as good condition as before the removal of the building.

A resolution was adopted requesting the police commissioners to instruct the chief of police to see that permits were taken out by parties before starting building operations, and also to enforce the fire limits bylaw in regard to the removal of buildings.

Leo Mader addressed the council regarding the sanitary condition of the firemen's sleeping quarters in the fire hall. He claimed that the room was in an unsanitary condition. Referred to water and light committee, with instructions to report at the next meeting.

The trades license bylaw was advanced in committee of the whole to the reading of the twentieth section, after which the committee rose and reported progress.

Won First Prize

The Grand Forks baseball team went up Greenwood yesterday morning to participate in the First of July sports. The lineup of the local club was: Wright, pitcher; Lang, catcher; Reid, first base; F. Haverty, second base; Johnson, third base; Allen, shortstop; O'Keefe, right field; Stendal, centre field; C. Haverty, left field. H. W. Gregory held the position of manager. Greenwood defeated Phoenix, and then the Grand Forks boys, who drew the bye, defeated Greenwood by a score of 5 to 4, thus winning the first prize of $125.

SATURDAY, JULY 2, 1910

The province of British Columbia boasts of a surplus of $5,000,000. This money does no one any good by being locked up in the government vaults. A portion of it could be profitably employed in aiding the struggling ranchers in the sub-arid belts in establishing irrigation systems. In the United States millions of dollars are being expended by both federal and state governments in installing irrigation plants in the west, and supplying the farmers with water on the most liberal terms possible. It is only a question of time when this plan must be imitated on this side of the line, if the British Columbia fruit grower is to compete with his American cousin in the markets of the world. If government aid in this direction is not forthcoming, the expansion of our fruit growing industry beyond a narrow limit is doubtful. In our own valley the best fruit land in the province is today selling for $100 per acre. If we had an adequate and efficient irrigation system here it would be worth $500. There is an abundance of water in the valley. All that is required is to get it on the land. The government might at least ascertain the feasibility of the installation of an irrigation scheme here by having a survey made. If found practicable, some method of raising the funds would surely be devised.

June Rod and Gun

While each issue of Canada's foremost sportman's magazine contains some feature of special interest, the June number of Rod and Gun in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor, Woodstock, Ont., is notable for several of such features, each one of particular interest to all sportsmen. "Three Weeks in the Forests of Quebec," with the successful capture of a moose, will prove entrancing to all big game hunters; while the story of the success of Jack Miner in attracting wild geese in large numbers to a pond near his home cannot fail to hold the attention and secure the interest of all wild bird lovers. The latter story forms a splendid illustration of the success of protection, and should encourage all engaged in the work. Mr. Miner has demonstrated the fact that it is possible to succeed with the wary wild goose, and success with such shy birds means that efforts in other directions need not spell failure. The importance of the policy of conservation justifies the illustrated account of the gathering at Toronto university. This policy means more to the future of Canada than the present generation can fully realize, and to all interested in the great outdoors it is vital. A full supply of stories appealing to all tastes is included in a number which will prove a fine companion on all vacation trips.

WOMEN'S BEAUTY

It Can Never Be Perfect Without Luxuriant Hair

A head of luxuriant hair is sure to be attractive. But nature has not crowned every woman with glorious hair. Some very lovely women she has treated rather scantily in this respect.

For instance, there are tens of thousands of women in Canada today who have harsh, faded and lustreless hair, who are unattractive simply because they do not know that nowadays even the whims of nature can be overruled by the genius of science.

If you are a woman without beautiful hair, do not permit your attractions to be hidden because of this slight misfortune.

Go today to Woodland & Co.'s and buy a large bottle of Parisian Sage for 50 cents, use it each night, and you will notice the harsh, repulsive hair disappear, and in its place will come soft, silky, bright and luxuriant hair.

Parisian Sage is guaranteed by Woodland & Co. to cure dandruff, itching of the scalp, and stop falling hair in two weeks, or money back.

AS YOU LIKE IT

Many a man is proud of his past—because it is past.

Politeness pays enormous dividends on the investment.

Vanity in a woman is almost as bad as conceit in a man.

A wise man doesn't always know when money talks.

Sleeplessness rarely bothers much in the early morning.

Some women play bridge in an effort to cross the social stream.

Probably the shabbiest thing in the world is a worn-out welcome.

Even a spinster may be induced to become enthusiastic over a baby.

A girl should not attempt to sing with feeling when she feels badly.

The despondent lover may lose heart, but the successful one loses his also.

The only thing most people can be patient waiting for is what they don't want.

The average man no sooner acquires a virtue than he proceeds to advertise it.

A woman's idea of a genius is a man whose neckties match his complexion.

A girl hasn't much tact if she can't induce some man to tell her that she is pretty.

The wife of a railroad man speaks of her men folks who come home to dinner as "empties."

Be kind to your family, for they have so many intimate chances to get back at you if you don't.

There never was a woman who couldn't make some man sit up and take notice if she so desired.

The man who does the most for his friends is sometimes the one that removes himself from their circles.

It is a good thing to be happy today, for you don't know what the chances may be for it tomorrow.

It is estimated that there are always 4,000,000 people at sea—and 10 times that number "up in the air."

There are lots of admirable people in the world who never have learned how to cut a long story short.

It's astonishing how easy it is for so many people to have known a thing was going to happen after it did.

A woman whose stocking doesn't wrinkle is said to be a good housekeeper; but, then, how can you tell.

You may have noticed that the man with a large family who is opposed to circuses will risk a look at the street parade.

What has become of the old-fashioned person whose idea of a fine compliment for a woman was to say that she is "gentle"?

Marrying a rich wife is undoubtedly a strenuous and hazardous way of earning a living and collecting it after it is earned.

The man who looks downward is impressed with his own greatness, but the one who looks upward realizes his own smallness.

It is easy to see why our next door neighbor is always making mistakes and getting nowhere, but these things can't possibly apply to our own condition.

It is easy enough in the abstract to do a thing that you don't have to do, but when the necessity comes then is when we wonder how anybody could have the conceit to think how he knew anything about it.

Be patient while removing the cold creams, silver-topped toilet water and perfume bottles, powder and manicure implements from daughter's dressing table in order to dust. In only a few more years she will be married, and the toilet articles on her bureau will consist of one comb with half the teeth out.
