

REVIEWS SESSION

All Pledges Made to the Country Faithfully Kept by the LiberalsImmense Works Undertaken for the General Good of the Dominion

Special Correspondence of The Sun.

OTTAWA, May 10.—The session has ended after a little over five months of work, and a general review of the situation may not be without interest.

While a great deal of private legislation has been enacted, interest centers around the government measures in which the new tariff and the labor disputes bill take precedence. With respect to the former, the government, after making a tour by commission through the country, and hearing the views of any person or corporation wishing to express any, got to work and framed a tariff, which, while not particularly disturbing the one in force, made a more equitable distribution through the entire list.

The new feature was the intermediate tariff, which opens the door for better commercial relations with other countries when they feel inclined to approach Canada on the subject. The British preference, of course, commends itself to all students of political economy, and tends to bind Canada and the mother land in closer bonds of commercial unity and amity.

The labor disputes bill, introduced by Hon. Mr. Lemieux, minister of labor, is now undergoing a very severe test as to its efficiency, as it is being applied to the situation existing among the western coal miners. The only difficulty experienced so far arises out of the want of knowledge of its provisions by the operators and employees. However, as the situation develops, and the presence on the ground of the deputy minister of labor makes matters clear, the primary difficulties of the situation are rapidly vanishing, and the way is open up for the board of conciliation provided by the act getting to work and settling all the disputes which gave rise to the present strained relations between employees and employer.

One remarkable fact has been very obvious during the session, and that is the great strength of the government, and the conspicuous ability with which the affairs of the country have been managed. This is noticeable as to the result of departmental work, and also as to the debating strength of the Liberals in the house. It is more remarkable when contrasted with the weak and ineffectual showing of the opposition.

The strong man in the opposition was heretofore supposed to be Mr. Foster, but after being given every opportunity to put himself right with the house and the country, he signally failed to do either. Papers friendly to him have declared in unmistakable language that his day is done, and as a power in politics his time has passed and gone. He is now openly regarded as a dead weight to the Conservative party, and the party organ in Toronto advises that he dropped for the good of the cause.

To one familiar with the work of the session, the question arises: Is there any opposition? If so, what are its functions, what does it accomplish? Upon many questions it is divided—a very significant one was the tariff. Some members wanted free agricultural implements, and the leader of the opposition with some of his followers wanted a duty placed upon them.

Throughout the session there has been no unity, no oneness of thought, no standing together on policy—if the opposition have any policy. There is no discipline and the party is divided into factions, and it has no objective point to which it appears to be heading.

On the subject of provincial rights the opposition has always alleged that it assumed a formidable position, and yet when the provincial premiers agreed upon extra subsidies and the Dominion government approved, the opposition fought bitterly against giving the provinces what they wanted. In this attitude they were assisted by Mr. Bourassa, who loses no opportunity to embarrass the government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

It was an amusing sight in the house to hear Mr. Bourassa quoting from the British North America Act without understanding its provisions, and the patient manner in which Hon. Mr. Aylesworth, minister of justice, explained the terms of the constitution to him. This young man will get wiser as he grows older.

The opposition found itself in a most untenable position during the session. The revenue was bounding, imports and exports were increasing, the country was getting richer and prosperity increased on every hand. The government was developing the great natural resources of Canada in the interests of the peoples and there was nothing with which to find fault, nothing that could be better done, and no good reason could be advanced why the people should not continue their support to the Liberal government which had done so much for the advancement of Canada and the well-being of her people.

In striking contrast to the factional, disrupted opposition is the compact, orderly business-like methods of the government in the house. Every minister ready at a moment's notice to answer every question as to the work of their respective departments. Hon. Mr. Fielding, minister of finance and acting leader of the house, ready, alert and courteous, and always with knowledge of matter in hand, and always business-like and methodical.

The minister of justice, Hon. Mr. Aylesworth, ever cool, collected, logical and erudite, approaching difficult questions with a consciousness of their gravity and impressing his hearers with the weight of the consideration put forward. After he has spoken the matter from a government standpoint is finished—there is nothing more to be said. He is concise but exhaustive; he speaks lucidly and comprehensively.

Of the other ministers the same may be said. The aimless questions of the opposition are answered by the various ministers of the crown with great attention to detail, and as often as the answer comes just so surely does an imaginary scandal fail to materialize.

It would indeed be a marvel if a government dealing in $100,000,000 a year would escape without some slight wrongdoing on the part of some person, but the Liberal government is fortunate in this regard. Public affairs have been ventilated in committee and have died there. Nothing was to be found worthy of bringing to the attention of the house, and the opposition has almost found itself without anything to do in the scandal wavy.

The Liberal party redeemed its pledges made in the speech from the throne. A bill dealing with the insurance question would have been introduced had time permitted, but it will be ready when the house meets again. The abuses said to exist were clearly exemplified in the case of Mr. Foster. It was shown that he had improperly handled trust funds to the prejudice of those who depend upon insurance for compensation for the loss of the bread winner. This will be impossible in the future; the widows and orphans will find their interests well protected by the government.

One of the prominent pledges made by the Liberal party was that the new tariff would be a tariff for revenue without placing any undue burdens upon the people. The figures for the last ten months show the receipts from customs as $44,122,292.10, an increase of $6,135,267.53 over the same period last year. The receipts for the month of April were from customs $4,468,393.97, as against $3,940,994.22 in April of last year, a gain for the month of $527,399.75.

This is only one department of the government, and the same ratio of increase is evident all down the line. Under Liberal rule the country is prospering in every branch of trade and commerce.

The flagrant abuse of the election laws of the country by the Conservatives, influenced the government to give serious attention to some needed amendments to the law which will make such practices impossible in the future. Various resolutions dealing with this subject have passed the house, and next session the government will introduce legislation dealing with the subject, so that the purity of elections may be guaranteed and the franchise preserved to the people.

The revenue from public lands has jumped from $150,000 in Conservative times to $1,500,000 per annum under the Liberal administration. This important branch of the public service is the one against which the opposition directs most of its attacks, but heretofore such attacks have been productive of no scandal; the result of ventilating the work of the department has been to give to the electors of the country useful information about our western heritage, and provoke more settlement in that direction.

The laws relating to survey of the lands, and better arrangement of the land act were discussed during the session, and when the house meets again legislation in these directions will be completed.

Provision was made during the session for the construction of many miles of the Grand Trunk Pacific railroad. The large revenues of the Dominion are being wisely expended in developing new transportation lines and bettering those that already exist. In a short time now Canada will have another transcontinental line stretching from ocean to ocean, and the effect this will have upon the commerce of the country is beyond calculation.

The great natural shipping ports will experience the immense impetus given to trade when the crops from the west and the product of the mines find their way easily to the sea.

This branch of transportation has not been neglected. Generous provision has been made for the betterment of the two great shipping ports of Quebec and Montreal. Liberal assistance by way of loan of government funds to both points will soon be earning the reward by completed works and the added power to handle and transport freight quickly and cheaply. The business of the country will acquire an added stimulus from the completion of the work now in progress at these two points.

With the many works going on in other directions, the government has not neglected the great arterial waterway of Canada reaching from the great lakes to the sea. Ample provision was made during the session to dredge the channels and deepen the harbor and approaches to the lake ports. This is part of a complete scheme elaborated by the government years ago, and brought down in an order in council which Mr. Borden, leader of the opposition, characterized as the most able state document that had ever emanated from a government. Time will see this great enterprise completed.

As Canada grows in importance, and villages become towns, and towns cities, extra accommodation must be provided for the public business of the people. The Liberal government, mindful of this, is constructing wherever required throughout the Dominion, all necessary public buildings, so that the affairs of the public may be conducted without inconvenience. No partiality is shown in this regard. Wherever the necessity exists, there the government at once enters upon the subject of meeting the wishes of the people.

In a country such as Canada with a great coast line, the importance of docks is obvious. In this regard the Liberal administration has been far more generous than their Conservative predecessors. To the Liberal government a community may be poor, but this alone is not a reason for refusing a request for such accommodations as a parental government should afford. The maritime provinces are monumental evidence of the thoughtfulness of the Liberals in this connection.

Those industries which employ labor and find the earliest years of their existence onerous may depend upon a helping hand to tide them over their primary difficulties until they are able to stand alone. The bounties on iron and steel give the necessary encouragement to enterprises which could not exist without them.

The future of the Dominion under a fostering progressive government is bright. After ten years of office the Liberals can point with pride to the accomplishment of all they promised when in opposition, and the gratitude and confidence of the people in the administration and its distinguished head, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, is unabated.

What of the opposition. Little can be said; a few men in parliament and a scattered support throughout the country is all one knows of the Conservative party. This session it never was weaker or less effective in the house, and the Liberals never were stronger or more progressive.

The country is satisfied with the work of the session, and the work of the government as a whole, and the Liberal party may confidently look to the people to give it continued support and many years of power, to direct the destinies of this Canada of ours, which is only now on the threshold of its glorious possibilities.

COUNCIL MEETING

A short adjourned session of the city council was held in the council chamber Monday, Mayor Hammar, Ald. Hardy, Horner, McCallum, McIntosh and Woodland being present.

The question of accepting the new Fourth street bridge was discussed, and laid over till the next meeting.

The clerk reported the assessment roll completed, and on motion it was accepted. The council decided to sit on the 17th day of June, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, as a court of revision.

The water contract with the C. P. R. was discussed for some time. The mayor thought the price quoted the company was none too high, but no contract should be entered into extending beyond the 1st of September, when the city's contract with the Granby company for power expires.

On motion, the council decided to purchase 500 feet of fire hose from a Vancouver firm.

The board of works was authorized to have the necessary signs placed on Fourth street bridge.

The mayor stated that numerous complaints had recently been made to him about the pondmaster not performing his duties, and he suggested that the present occupant of the office be discharged and a new man appointed. After discussing the matter for some time, the council decided to give the pondmaster another 30 days' trial.

The mayor has since suspended Mr. Woodhead for neglect of duty, and Chief of Police Savage is now acting as city pondmaster.

Chas. Brown, of the Boundary Iron Works, made a request for another transformer at the foundry referred to water and light committee, with instructions to report.

The council then adjourned till next Monday night.

Fifteen hundred dollars is the amount of the purse to be hung up for the relay race at the Spokane Interstate fair this year.

PYTHIAN GROWTH

The Order Now Has a Membership of 700,000 in Canada and U. S.

Local Lodge Acknowledged the Best and Strongest in the Province

Mayor Jeffery Hammar returned last Saturday from Nelson, where he attended the 18th annual convention of the Knights of Pythias Grand Lodge of British Columbia. He was elected grand chancellor of the grand lodge by acclamation. In point of years of membership, he is the youngest grand chancellor in the entire organization, as he has only been affiliated with the order for about seven years. He modestly attributes his rapid rise to that position by the splendid standing of the the local lodge, it having been voted the strongest and best in the domain of British Columbia by the convention.

As grand chancellor, Mr. Hammar will make official visits to all the lodges in the province during the year. His first official act of this nature will be a visit to Grand Forks Lodge No. 30 next Tuesday evening. Among his other duties will be to visit and encourage weak lodges, institute new lodges, and look after the interests of the order generally.

Mr. Hammar spoke very enthusiastically of the work done by the Grand Forks degree competition team, saying that there was no other team at the convention that could approach it. In spite of the fact, he said, that some of the best trained members had left the city when the smelter closed down, thus leaving the team in a somewhat crippled condition, they beat the Nelson team by about ten points. This splendid victory was gained notwithstanding the fact that Nelson had the flower of its lodge to pick from.

Not much new legislation was enacted by the convention, as the grand lodge meets again before the convention of the supreme lodge of the order. The work cut out by the convention for the coming year was that of securing 500 new members and the organization of five new lodges. British Columbia is recognized as the strongest and largest domain in Canada by the supreme lodge.

Mr. Hammar attributes the rapid growth of Pythianism to the fact that it is comparatively a modern order, and therefore its ritual contains all the best features of the older fraternal societies. At present the grand total membership of the order is about 700,000. There is a strong probability that the territorial jurisdiction will in the near future be extended to England and all other English-speaking countries.

The new grand chancellor will attempt to institute a D. O. K. K. Temple in this city, and this will be one of his first official acts. The Grand Forks knights who took this degree while in Nelson were W. K. C. Manly, Frank Miller, Geo. Nye, H. A. Sheads, Mr. Verge, Robert Petrie, A. J. Stoldal and Thos. Wall.

A report from Ottawa says that the fiscal period ending March 31st will be the largest in the history of Canada. The revenue already reported for this nine months' period amounts to $67,138,594, and it is estimated that the final collections will add two million more. This will be almost $5,000,000 more than Hon. W. S. Fielding hoped for when he made his last budget speech in November. He estimated the revenue at $65,000,000. At the same time he calculated the expenditure would be $64,500,000, of which $52,000,000 would be charged to revenue and $12,500,000 to capital. Returns to date show the expenditure on revenue to be $45,000,000, which will be increased by four or five millions with the complete returns, and $12,000,000 expenditure on capital, which will be increased by half a million dollars. This indicates that the collections will exceed and the expenditure fall below the finance minister's expectation. Mr. Fielding hoped for a surplus of $13,000,000, but indications are that it will be from $16,000,000 to $17,000,000, or the largest in the history of Canada. This means that not only will the expenditure on both revenue and capital accounts be met, but the net debt will be reduced by three or four millions.

Within a few weeks Canada will be in charge of the naval station at Esquimalt, word having been received in Ottawa from Hon. L. P. Brodeur, minister of marine, that he had a conference with Lord Tweedmouth, and that the final terms of transfer had been arranged. When Canada took over the Halifax station it was understood that Esquimalt was to be taken over, but the naval authorities did not facilitate the transfer.

TOPICS OF THE TOWN

The trial of the damage action of Daniel Campbell against Wall & Creelman for injuries received in December last while working as topman on defendant's piledriver in this city, was concluded on Wednesday last at the spring assizes in Nelson, Mr. Justice Clement presiding. After hearing all the evidence and what Messrs. Taylor and Macdonald to say as counsel in the case, the judge at once announced his finding. He gave judgment in favor of the plaintiff Campbell for $4000 and costs of action under the common law remedy. If an appeal is taken and the full court finds under the Employers' Liability Act, then his lordship fixes the damages at $2700 and costs, and if the full court finds under the Workmen's Compensation Act, the damages are fixed at $10 a week until the sum of $1500 has been received. In addition Campbell is to receive his costs of the action.

The Grand Forks and Phoenix baseball clubs will cross bats at the driving park grounds in this city next Sunday afternoon. An admission fee of 25 cents will be charged, which will include an upholstered seat in the grand stand. It is understood that a party of Phoenixists will accompany the club from the camp in the clouds.

His Lordship, D. D. Dontenwill, Bishop of New Westminster, arrived in the city Saturday afternoon, being accompanied by Rev. Father Bedard, of Greenwood. Sunday morning his lordship said mass at 10 o'clock, and administered the Sacrament of Confirmation in the Roman Catholic church before high mass, which was sung by Rev. Father Bedard. In the evening his lordship preached a very instructive sermon to a very large congregation. There was a good attendance at all the services.

Mrs. Creelman, of Vancouver, is visiting her husband in this city. She intends to remain here three or four weeks.

The C. P. R. changed to the regular summer schedule this week, and the train from the east now arrives here a few minutes after 1 p. m.

Postmaster Hull returned on Saturday from the K. of P. convention in Nelson and a brief visit with friends in Rossland.

Last summer a local sportsman constructed a war vessel at his own expense and placed it on Smelter lake as a protection for the city against the hordes of wild ducks that annually visit this section. This week the vessel broke from its moorings and went over the smelter dam. As it rushed past the Yale hotel, one lone gunner was seen clinging desperately to the skys'1 yards with one hand, while with the other he called loudly for help, as the hero does in modern fiction. The city is now at the mercy of the feathery invaders.

It is reported that a Vancouver syndicate is negotiating for the purchase of the Golden Eagle property, which adjoins the Pathfinder mine. This property was a shipper in former days, but the high cost of transporting ore by team necessitated a discontinuance. The mine is owned by a couple of Englishmen, who lack the necessary capital to develop it on a large scale.

The baseball game at the driving park last Sunday between the Grand Forks and Danville clubs resulted in a score of 12 to 9 in favor of the home team. There was a big crowd of enthusiasts present.

Walter Baron, driver of Waugh Bros. delivery wagon, had a narrow escape from drowning in the North Fork Saturday morning. While water his horse, the animal got beyond its depth, and the swift current carried him down the stream, taking the rig and driver along. Luckily for young Baron, a lumber jack named Duffy happened to be close to the scene of the accident, and he jumped in and rescued the boy, while the horse and rig continued their journey in the direction of Cascade. At the time of going to press they had not been recovered.

A broken wire between this city and Cascade on the West Kootenay Power & Light company high tension line plunged the city into partial darkness Friday night.

A remarkable little booklet has been compiled under the self explanatory title of "5000 Facts About Canada" by Frank Veigh, of Toronto, the well known writer and lecturer on themes Canadian. Perhaps no one in the Dominion is better qualified to make such a compilation. Its value is, as claimed, "worth its weight in Yukon gold or Cobalt silver." The idea is a clever one, viz., a fact in a sentence, giving a wonderful mass of information in the smallest compass on every phase of our commercial and industrial life and our natural resources. The booklet is sold for 25c, and may be had from newsdealers or from the Canadian Facts Publishing company, 667 Spadina avenue, Toronto.

L. A. Manly returned to the city last Friday, after a two months' stay in Victoria, where he has business interests.

Jeff Davis left on Monday last for Moosjaw, Alta., where he is associated with John Donaldson and Mr. Thompson in the wholesale fruit and produce business.

E. H. Hutchinson, publisher of the Northwest Mining News, Spokane, was a visitor in the city the latter part of last week. The Mining News is an excellent publication, comparing favorably with the high class magazines devoted to the mining industry. It should be liberally supported by those who are interested in the development of our mineral resources, and thus encourage the publisher to maintain its present standard of excellence.

A decision in the long drawn out case of Genelle vs. Genelle was rendered by Mr. Justice Clement at the assizes in Nelson on Monday last. As is well known, Joseph Genelle claimed from his brother Peter one-half of the latter's interest in the Yale-Columbia Lumber company, valued at $37,000, setting up a verbal agreement. The learned judge held that no such agreement had been made out by the plaintiff by his own showing. The action was dismissed with costs.

Duncan Ross, M.P. for Yale-Cariboo, passed through the city on Tuesday, being en route from Ottawa to his home in Greenwood.

The carpenter force and a number of the mechanics at the Granby smelter returned to work last Monday, and at present there are about 40 men employed around the works.

It is gratifying to note that a large number of our citizens have taken steps to beautify the lawns in front of their residences. Among the grounds that have been transformed into earthly dreams are the lawns at the residences of L. A. Manly, Dr. G. W. Averill and Charles Brogden.

All the logs cut for the Yale-Columbia Lumber Co. in the North Fork country have now been sent over the smelter dam without injury to that structure.

LACROSSE SEASON

Opened by the Grand Forks and Nelson Teams in Latter City

Boundary Boys Played Well Individually but Lacked Practice

The Nelson News gives the following report of the Nelson-Grand Forks lacrosse match, played in the former city on Tuesday:

The visitors made a gallant struggle during the first half, but they were clearly overmatched and had luck against them as well. Individually some of the visitors played brilliantly, but in team work and particularly in goal they were weak and in urgent need of steady practice. Easily the busiest man among the visitors was Mike Clunis, an old Nelson player. McQueen, Henderson and Hood all put up good lacrosse and worked hard to retrieve the fortunes of the day.

McBeath of the Nelson team was sent to the fence twice for rough play during the first half, and Harrigan of the visitors was given a rest during the first half for the same reason.

His worship Mayor Gillett faced the ball at 3:25; C. D. Blackwood was referee during the first half and G. P. Wells during the second half. R. Curran and J. H. Fox were time keepers and C. Hipperson and R. Henderson goal umpires.

During the first quarter Nelson had the best of it, and Bell and Jamieson each secured a goal, while the visitors failed to score.

In the second quarter the fate of match was settled, Nelson securing six more goals and the visitors one, making the score at half time 8-1 in favor of Nelson. Henderson scored for the visitors, and Bell, Jamieson, A. and H. Bishop for Nelson.

During the second half the interest fell off; some excellent passing and checking was done, but the home team scored at will, leaving the final score 15-3 in Nelson's favor. Kirk and Spinks scored the two additional goals for the visitors. The end of the match was more or less of a practice affair, neither side exerting themselves very much.

The weather was perfect, a warm, sunny day, with just enough breeze to make it pleasant.

Joe Thompson was the favorite with the crowd, his infectious little laugh when he got away with a visitor seemed to disconcert the Grand Forks men and made the crowd applaud vigorously. There was a good attendance, and as the opening event of the season the match passed off successfully.

A Cordial Invitation to Disease

This is an apt description of constipation. It's an unnatural condition to begin with, and it's more, because it brings about blood deterioration, interferes with digestion, renders you susceptible to infectious diseases and causes anaemia. Not so much a purgative as a natural stimulant to the bowels is what you need. You get it in Dr. Hamilton Pills, which increase liver activity, restore the bowels to perfect action and positively cure constipation and its attendant evils. Insist on having only Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut, 25c per box at all dealers.

TOPICS OF THE TOWN

Steel on the Kettle Valley line has been laid as far as the bridge, twelve miles up the North Forth, where a halt will be made for a short time until that structure is completed. Cross-sectioning is now in progress on the right of way above Lynch creek, and grading operations will be started there in a few days.

The hotel men of the city held a meeting Wednesday evening, and while no definite action was taken, the feeling appeared to be unanimous that, owing to the rapid rise of provisions, a raise of from 10 to 15 per cent in the price of board would be imperative on the first of the month.

G. L. Woodard, the Kettle Valley line tie contractor, returned yesterday from a trip to his camps on the American side of the line.

During the month of April the two furnaces of the B. C. Copper company's smelter made an average of treating 662.7 tons each per every 24 hours, the month's total being a new record for this smelter—34,239 tons of ore. Besides this, 212 tons of matte were smelted.

Work has been started on the properties in Deadwood camp, of the newly organized Sudbury Mining company.

John R. Greenfield, of Vancouver, postoffice inspector for British Columbia, arrived in the city yesterday on an official visit.

The force at the Skylark mine has been cut down to three men. This reduction was necessitated on account of the inability of the mine to ship the ore already hoisted.

Page Boyle, who has been doing diamond drilling in the Boundary for the past two and one-half years, is at present working on the Elkhorn mine.

Only one drill was in operation at the Granby mines last week.

The new electric air compressor, ordered by the Dominion Copper company for the Sunset mine, Deadwood camp, has arrived in the Boundary.

The work of ballasting the Kettle Valley line track through the city was started this morning.

There are about 250 men employed by the Great Northern and C.P.R. on construction work in and around Phoenix.

There was a report in circulation last night that the miners in Phoenix had returned to work, but very little credence is placed in the story.

It has been suggested to The Sun that the 20,000 club arrange for a complimentary entertainment in honor of our school teacher.

When a bunch of young men and ladies go fishing, it is difficult to tell whether they are angling for wives and husbands or trout.

A Boundary newspaper man, who at times exhibits the same traits as the fabled fly that rode on the wagon hub and imagined that he was responsible for the dust that arose around the vehicle, takes a sort of fatherly interest in the rest of the fraternity in this district by telling them he is afraid they will never get paid for certain advertisements. The gratuitous advice is, we feel certain, thankfully received by the novices at the business. But we are afraid the man is devoting too much time to other peoples' affairs, thereby neglecting his own business interests, as we notice that during the past two or three months he has forgotten to "lift" a few columns of "dead" legals.

The Canadian Pacific railway is putting on a new tri-weekly trans-continental train to make the run from Montreal to Vancouver twelve hours faster than the present express. The new train will cover the 2904 miles in less than 58 hours.

There is said to be a woman in this city who is so modest that she blushes when addressed kid gloves are mentioned.

On the 1st of May they were still playing hockey back in Quebec, and were expecting to have a May-pole on the St. John river in Fredericton.

Many Children Sick

Get their feet wet, catch cold or cramps, and give mothers an anxious time. With the first shiver or sneeze rub the little one's chest with Nerville, gargle the throat, and give ten drops in hot water at bed-time. Next morning all is well. No cold, no time lost at school. If Polson's Nerville isn't in your home get it there at once. Dealers sell it in large 25c bottles.
