

FRUIT GROWING

Professors Thornber and Melander Address Ranchers of the Valley

There was a large attendance of members and citizens at the meeting of the Kettle Valley Farmers' institute in the city hall on Monday evening, when Professors Thornber and Melander, of the Washington State College at Pullman, delivered lectures. The speakers were introduced by C. Scott Galloway, president of the institute.

Prof. A. L. Melander, entomologist at Pullman, spoke on "Insect Pests and Their treatment." His lecture was illustrated with a large number of stereopticon slides of the various insect pests that infest orchards. The best method of spraying orchards was also illustrated by the same agency. His concluding remarks were devoted to the spread of disease by the common housefly, mosquitos and rats. The housefly was a great menace to public health, as it roamed from barnyards and outhouses to the sugar-bowl on the dining-room table. It was a prolific disseminator of such diseases as typhoid fever, tuberculosis and dysentery. A great deal of sickness was caused by this pest, and one death out of every ten was due to it. In houses infested by flies everything edible should be kept under cover. Flies could be got rid of by applying proper sanitary laws to their breeding places—mainly stable refuse, decayed vegetable matter and outhouses. The spread of malaria and yellow fever was mainly caused by mosquitos, while contagious diseases of the type of the Asiatic plague were often disseminated by rats.

Prof. Thornber delivered an interesting and instructive lecture on "Commercial Fruit Growing." His address was also illustrated with lantern slides. The subject of the conservation of moisture was treated exhaustively. A three-inch clot mulch, the largest clots being about the size of a hen's egg, was recommended as best.

For the production of fruit buds he recommended pruning during the first week in August. For wood growth winter pruning was best. The Northern Spy and Spitzenburg trees should be pruned in summer, but for trees of an early variety winter pruning was preferable.

The Clark Sr. cultivator was, he said, in his opinion one of the best orchard tools on the market today, as it permitted of cultivation under the trees.

Wheat, rye, Canada peas and Harry Vitch were recommended for cover crops, and the Lambert cherry for wind breaks.

On motion of Martin Burrell, M. P., and A. D. Morrison, a hearty vote of thanks was tendered Professors Thornber and Melander.

On Tuesday forenoon a practical demonstration was held at J. T. Lawrence's ranch.

Wood Burned

The forest fire at Lynch creek this week destroyed about $600 worth of cordwood and cedar poles belonging to Robert Lindholm. Robinson & Lequime's lumber camp has also been burned. A number of bridges and culverts have been destroyed, and the wagon road north of Lynch creek is reported to be impassable on account of fallen trees.

Stewart Gold

All is not gold that glitters, even though it glitters at Stewart, and by this time the Portland Canal Miner ought to be heartily ashamed of itself for having so grossly exaggerated the character and value of the reef recently discovered in that country. Now that the Dominion government has declared that it is simply "a pyrrhotite vein in slate with some gold showing at the surface only," no condemnation can be too loud for the statement that there was a gold reef running for twenty miles through the country, free milling, and standing out like a "white" bluff. The London press, which has not a little to do in influencing British investments abroad, will be apt to regard it as a very "black" bluff. It is to be hoped that the camp will not permanently suffer from such ill-advised boosting. Meanwhile the Colonist quotes the exaggerated reports which have appeared in the London papers, and blames them for not making "local enquiries" before publishing them. Is the Colonist aware that these reports emanated from the local paper—the Portland Canal Miner—and from the office of a well known Victoria correspondent? Is not this "local" enough?—Victoria Week.

Death of a Pioneer

On Friday, July 22, George Stark, who had reached the ripe age of 86 years, passed quietly away at his home on Winnipeg avenue in this city. Deceased was one of the first settlers in Grand Forks, having resided here continuously for over twelve years. He was a native of New York state. He is survived by an aged wife and three daughters—Mrs. Fred Steers, of Wallace, Ida, Mrs. Almstrom Armstrong, of Phoenix, and Mrs. R. J. Gardner, of this city. The people of the community extend their sympathies to the bereaved family. The funeral will be held on Sunday afternoon, interment taking place at the city cemetery.

Road Opened

Mark Kay was in the city this week. He reports having cleared the old wagon road between the Phoenix road and the City of Paris and Lone Pine mines, and autoists, if they so desire, can now visit these properties with their machines.

New Auto

B. Lequime, the lumber merchant, is the latest member to join the ranks of the local autoists, his machine arriving in the city today.

Directors' Meeting

The directors of the Grand Forks Agricultural association will meet in the city hall on Monday evening, July 25th.

J. R. McDonnell left on Wednesday for a vacation trip through the Similkameen country.

Rev. H. W. Wright returned on Tuesday from the Baptist convention at Vancouver.

THE CITY COUNCIL

Financial Statement for Past Six Months Submitted to the Board

Mayor Clark and Ald. Follick, Manly and Ruthford were present at the council meeting on Tuesday evening.

The board of works was authorized to construct a concrete sidewalk in front of D. Whiteside's residence on Winnipeg avenue, charging two-thirds of the cost against the property.

The medical health officer's report for the past six months was laid on the table until the next meeting, some of the members considering it incomplete.

A petition from the residents on Winnipeg avenue, between Cambridge and Observation streets, for a new sidewalk, was refused, as there are no available funds for this purpose at present.

James Bruno was granted a permit to erect a two-story concrete residence on Winnipeg avenue, near the Presbyterian church.

The auditor's statement for the past six months showed that the receipts had been $19,985.42 and the expenditures $22,145.56.

The following accounts were ordered paid:

Kettle River Lumber Co.....	$468.92
South Kootenay Power Co.	390.50
Canadian Westinghouse Co.	169.22
Northwest Electric Co.	119.31
City treasurer	106.20
Win. Bonthron	94.95
B. A. Jordan	60.00
S. Baker	61.00
Dominion Guarantee Co.....	37.50
McNeil & Henniger.....	31.50
Crane Co.....	20.25
B. C. Telephone Co.	13.55
Gazette	13.25
Frache Bros.....	7.00
G. F. Transfer	4.75
J. H. Reid	3.00
B. O'Donnell	3.00
James Taylor.....	2.10
T. A. McIntyre	1.35
S. Carruthers	1.00

The account of Thos. Wright for $51.25 for bricklaying on the new city stable, was referred back to Mr. Wright, the council considering the charge excessive.

In W. K. C. Manly's account of $44.15 there was an item of $3 for two haulers. The finance committee wished to know who had authority to purchase these. It transpired that M. Quinlivan had done so, and had given them to Mr. Berthois with the city team. On motion of Ald. Follick and Ruthford, the account was ordered paid the $3 to be charged to Mr. Quinlivan. In future city employees must procure a requisition from the city clerk for all supplies purchased.

The reports of the chairmen of the various committees were not of an important nature.

The city clerk was instructed to advertise in the Macleod and Lethbridge papers for a team of horses suitable for the fire department.

Ald. Follick asked that a list of all owners whose cattle or horses were impounded be kept, so that those who were guilty of violating the law more than once could be prosecuted.

The board of works was instructed to purchase sufficient lumber to make the needed repairs to sidewalks and the Winnipeg avenue bridge.

The trade license bylaw was reconsidered and finally passed.

MYSTERIOUS FIRE

Irrigation Pumping Plant for Two Ranches Destroyed Last Night

The pumping station near the Great Northern bridge, which has been operated to irrigate the Traunweiser and Campbell orchards, was destroyed by fire on Friday night. The loss is estimated at about $3000. The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is supposed to have been started by tramps.

A Stringent Fire Law

Because he refused to leave a $3.50 a day job for a day to fight forest fires when called upon by a deputy state fire warden, Charles Simon, of North Bend, Wash., is serving ten days in the county jail, being the first man ever imprisoned for that offence in the state of Washington. The state law provides that upon an emergency call from a deputy fire warden, any citizen may be called upon to help fight a dangerous fire. The Washington Forest Fire association is more active this year than ever before in its fight against destructive forest fires. Several small fires have occurred already this season in western Washington, but the association and its patrolmen and the state officers are on the watch for each small blaze, and hope to get through the dry season without any disastrous fires such as have each year wiped out many thousands of dollars worth of fine time. They are warning farmers against burning slashings at this season, and campers against leaving any fires of an sort behind them.

SATURDAY, JULY 23, 1910

The most despicable type of a newspaper is the one which prides itself on doing indiscriminate boosting. Its editor is either a fool or a criminal. If he boosts fake enterprises or mining propositions without making proper enquiries as to the genuineness of their claims, but simply takes the glowing descriptions made by the promoters for granted as true, he is a fool; but if he knows the claims of the concerns to be false, and still persists in boosting in order to line his own pockets, then he is a criminal, and should be sent to prison along with the promoters. This kind of boosting is nothing short of highway robbery, and too much of it is being done nowadays, especially in undeveloped districts. The investor of moderate means reads these erroneous articles, and on the strength of the wild statements made, and the promise of a rapid rise in the price of the stock, the money that should go toward the support of his family is often lured from him. The conscienceless peddler of worthless shares does not care where the money comes from. The widow, the orphan, or the wage earner may suffer for the necessities of life through his misrepresentations, supported by the hair-brained or criminal booster, but as long as his own belly is lined capon their miseries do not affect him. It sounds very pretty to say, "If you can't boost, don't knock." But when you analyze the phrase, it does not assay very high in common sense. It has always been our impression that it must have been coined by some immature hungry person desirous of raising the price of a meal by doing a little bap-hazard boosting. If you are certain that an enterprise is sound and worthy of boosting, by all means boost it; but if you are in doubt, endeavor to ascertain the facts, and tell the public the truth, because if you don't some of your readers may suffer by your silence.

It is now too warm to do more work than is absolutely necessary. In a few months it will be too cold to work at all. This may be a pessimistic sentiment, but it is true.

Can indigestion be cured? Hundreds of thousands of people who suffer from belching of gas, biliousness, sour stomach, fullness, nausea, shortness of breath, bad taste in mouth, foul breath, nervousness and other distressing symptoms, are asking themselves that question daily.

And if these same doubting dyspeptics could only read thousands of sincere letters from people who once suffered as badly as they do now, but who have been quickly and permanently cured by the use of Mi-o-na, the mighty dyspepsia remedy that cures by removing the cause, they would go to Woodland & Co.'s this very day and get a large box of Mi-o-na tablets, and start themselves on the right road to health at once.

The price of Mi-o-na tablets is only 50 cents, and Woodland & Co. guarantees them to cure indigestion or money back.

Thin or lean or scrawny people will find in Mi-o-na a maker of flesh and blood, because it causes the stomach to extract more nutritious matter from the food, which quickly enriches the blood.

AS YOU LIKE IT

Once there lived a woman who admitted that her husband was too good for her—but she's been dead several centuries.

There's but one side to a question when a man and woman argue—and the woman always has a strangle hold on it.

Some statesmen are so big that a party's liabilities become too heavy if they are not counted as it's best assets.

Every year, more and more people pursue a literary career, and every year fewer and fewer catch up with it.

Steer the average man up against a soda fountain and he'll complain that he isn't being treated right.

A woman will envy another woman's homely feature if she hears often enough that it is pretty.

A man thinks he's a devil of a fellow to have a prizefighter pointed out to him in a street car.

A little cold nerve will get a man a bigger reputation for ability than a head full of brains.

A woman spends her money for what she wants; a man for what he thinks he wants.

If judges were mind readers a lot more lawyers would be fined for contempt of court.

A girl is awful smart to be cross with a man so as to make him think he is the one.

You can always tell by the way a woman smiles that what you think it means isn't it.

A thought one cannot express without profanity would be just as well unexpressed.

The good investment is for the fellow who lets you have it for some of your money.

When a man is told of his fine figure he lets himself out; a woman holds herself in.

There is something wrong with the woman who prides herself on her lack of pride.

Men wouldn't care so much for even baseball if it were a family affair.

A man may lose on the best hand by not paying his poker face just right.

If a man won't listen to reason it's a sign that he doesn't agree with you.

When a man hasn't any reputation left he can afford to run for office.

The way a man cuts down his flower bills for a girl is by marrying her.

Most women talk politics cut bias and trimmed to suit themselves.

Any excuse would be all right if you could make people believe it.

Never judge a man's importance by the self-conceit he has on tap.

A deaf man doesn't mind being shaved by a garrulous barber.

Little conscience money comes from overlooked street car fares.

More than half your suspicions have no foundation whatever.

Would a towel trust be able to wipe out all competition.

Some girls are known by the company they refuse to keep.

Many a man who knows it all was never inside a college.

The other fellow's cloud seldom looks dark to us.

You can't buy happiness at the bargain counter.

Pawning a check suit is one way to cash checks.

Some men keep straight on going wrong.

Reform is always headed for reaction.

Little money, much flourish.

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM—it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, In Plain English; or, Medicine Simplified, 1008 pages, over 700 illustrations, newly revised up-to-date Edition, paper-bound, sent for 31 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of mailing only. Cloth-bound, 50 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Geological Survey

The annual summary of the geological survey for the year 1909 has recently been issued, and is now being distributed. This government blue-book is of special interest, since the reports are not only of an unusually varied and practical character, but some of the subjects dealt with are of national importance.

On pages 26, 27 and 28 is a brief account by the director, R. W. Brock, of a visit last summer to the mountain and valley region of the Kootenay-Columbia divide. The suggested reservation by British Columbia of the two valleys of Hamill and Toby creeks, as a provincial park, is enthusiastically endorsed. After entering Hamill creek, says the director, a somewhat steep climb of 2000 feet brings one to the level of the pass, which is low and easy, considering the rugged nature of the mountains through which it leads. Several alpine glaciers lie close to the trail. Some of the peaks exceed 10,000 feet in elevation, and from their summits is to be seen one of the finest and most extensive panoramas in the Canadian Cordillera. The region has been made somewhat famous by the present governor-general, Earl Grey.

Another magnificent site for a park exists up Duncan river, in the Lime-dike country, about the head of Hall, Haley, Caribou, Gainer and Porcupine creeks. Here the scenery is of the peculiarly wild, airy type of the famous Dolomites of the Tyrolean Alps. Such parks, says the director, would mean a great deal in the future tourist travel in southern Kootenay, which can soon be made one of the big "industries" in the province; so that in addition to preserving in its natural state the grandest of mountain scenery, and forming a game and timber reserve, they would become most valuable provincial assets.

The director gives an account of the visit made, in company with Hon. Wm. Templeman, to various points on the west coast of British Columbia and the Yukon.

His description of the Portland Canal is timely on account of the mining boom which is this year centering in this district. The discussion of the lode deposits of the Atlin and Yukon is an interesting and instructive feature, particularly that in regard to the origin of the Yukon placers and the possibilities of gold quartz.

He also gives a summary of the oil prospects of the province of Alberta.

Queen Charlotte islands are receiving the attention of miners at present, and Mr. McConnell's description of the mineral occurrences on these islands will prove helpful to those whose attention is being directed to their exploitation.

W. W. Leach reports the discovery of promising silver-lead deposits in the Hazelton district.

C. H. Clapp reports on the geology of the southern end of Vancouver island.

Chas. Camell furnishes a description of the Tulameen district, which is remarkable for the variety of its mineral deposits.

R. L. Reinecke describes the Beaverdell district on the West Fork of Kettle river. This district is expected to witness important mining developments on the advent of the projected railway.

Mr. Malloch describes the country along the Grand Trunk Pacific between Tete-Jaune Cache and Fort George.

O. E. LeRoy furnishes an important report on the well-known silver-lead deposits of the Slocan.

S. J. Schofield reports upon the St. Mary River district, East Kootenay.
