THE CITY COUNCIL

Large Number of City Lots Disposed of to Various Purchasers

Amendment to Fire Limit Bylaw Read a Third Time

All the members were present at the regular bi-weekly meeting of the city council last Monday night.

An offer of $75 was made by H. B. Cannon for lot 9, block 50, plan 80. On motion of Ald. Lequime and McCallum, the council decided to offer this property to Mr. Cannon for $100.

On motion of Ald. McCallum and Sheads, the council decided to sell lot 39. block 35, plan 72, to G. D. Clark for $100.

On motion of Ald. Lequime and Manly, lots 9, 10, 11. 12 and 13, block 27, plan 121, were sold for $50.

On motion of Ald. Lequime and Whiteside, the clerk was instructed to notify Mr Jones that the lots he referred to are not for sale at the prices he mentioned.

The property owners near Bridge and Third streets petitioned the council for an arc lamp at that point. Referred to water and light committee, with power to act.

The health and relief committee reported that Mr. Dent and the Robson chilnren were being cared for by the committee, as instructed by the council.

On motion of Ald. Manly and Davis, Ald. Sheads and McCallum were appotnted to act with the mayor as a court of revision, to sit at 3 p.m. on December 10th.

The city solicitor was instructed to settle with J. C. and A. J. MacDonald, of the steel works, on a basis of paying the city the amount of the cash bonus given them and 4 cents per kilowat for the free power.

The amendment to the fire limits bylaw passed its third reading. Outbuildings at houses and business blocks may be constructed of wooden frame with metal covering, not over 12x14 and 12 feet from the ground and only one story. The final power over such matters is vested in the council hereafter instead of the board of works. Moving of buildings within the fire limits without permission from the city is prohibited.

Mr. Belton's account of $150 for three months' "publicity work" was ordered paid.

The Christmas Rod and Gun

In wealth of matter and variety of subjects, everyone interesting to sportsmen, the Christmas (December) number of Rod and Gun in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor, Woodstock, Ont., is notable. An appropriate Christmas tinge ig given to the first two stories and adds something to the interest both will evoke. Hunting, fishing and exploring papers, widely different in character and displaying in a remarkable way the wonderful resources of the Dominion in these several respects, fill a number no sportsman can afford to miss. The study of the wild waterfowl of the Pacific Coast by Bonnycastle Dale will appeal to all lovers of the bird life while the stories of days with the deer, mountain sheep, bear, wolves and a fox will recall many pleasant experiences. Bird shooters will revel in the papers dealing with duck woodcock, while one on Grouse shooting in the Motherland is included by reason of its exceptionally strong descriptive force, giving Canadian sportsmen a pleasant change and enabling them to enjoy a different view point to that generally taken by them. Mountain climbing in East and West, a mysterious Indian story, fishing from tuna and salmon to trout, and many other items fill a number which should be included by all interested in the great outdoors in their Christmas reading. They cannot fail to find interest and pleasure in its perusal.

Amateur night at Dreamland

Last Thursday night was amateur's night at Dreamland theatre, and although there was only one entry, the quality of that one was especially good. Masters McIntyre and Lequime were the contestants and sang a duet "Smarty," which brought down the house. They were awarded the prize of $5. Next Wednesday night there will be another amateur contest and the management intimate that there will be several contestants, so that a very interesting show should be assured. Entries will be received up to 7.30 on Wednesday.

A great treat is promised for next week, when the chronophone, the only perfect talking pictures, will picture Harry Lauder and his famous Scotch songs. From press reports the chronophone would seem to be the only perfect machine ever produced. This machine ran continuously for 15 months at London (England) Hippodrome and was shown by command before the queen at Buckingham Palace. The makers claim absolute perfection between sound and movement. The Dreamland management expects to open with this great attraction Monday or Tuesday evening and will also show three sets of moving pictures and illustrated songs, thus giving over an hour and a half show for 25c.

A Good Entertainment

W. J. Bengough, the famous cartoonist and entertainer, pleased a large audience at the Grand Forks opera house on Tuesday eveuing with his clever drawings and witty stories. Two of his best anecdotes related to Scotch thrift and and a Socialistic discourse on the downtroden black hen, "who lays eggs for gentlemen," without receiving a just share of what she produces. His cartoons of local celebrities were, perhaps, the best part of the program. They were cleverly drawn, and evoked much merriment.

NEW DEPARTURE

Fruit Growers' Clearing House to Be Established in Spokane

Will Keep Orchardists Posted on Market and Crop Conditions

SPOKANE, December 9, 1909.

Trustees of the National Apple Show, headed by E. F. Cartier Van Dissel, second vice president and chairman of the board, have made arrangements for the establishment of a clearing house of information for growers and handlers of apples in the northwsst. The tentative plan is to keep the growers in touch with market conditions as well as with each other by means of bulletins and special letters.

Ren H. Rice, secretary-manager of the organization, announces he will have regular correspondents in every commercial orchard district in Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Washington and the province of British Columbia, also receiving special reyorts from other states and provinces. This information and statistics will be arranged in comprehensive form in the shape of bulletins and mailed direct to the growers. It is expected to begin the service the latter part of April or early in May, and continue it until the close of the marketing season.

"The plan has been approved by a committee of prominent growers in the nortnwest," said Mr. Rice, who has just been re-elected to the position of secretary-manager of the third apple show in Spokane next fall, "and we believe it will work out to be of great benefit to the industry, not only in this part of the country but all over the continent. "We expect to be able to furnish full information to growers and handlers as to the condition of the crops, the state of the market and such other matters as will make the reports of value to all concerned."

TRUTH OR FICTION?

An enterprising horticulturist, who exidently possesses a fertile brain, of Carroll county, Illinois, known to the world as the greatest watermelon growing country on earth, has succeeded in raising melons on a bottle. The process is said to be extremely simple. A runner or branch vine is cut immediately back of the developing melon, and the cut end of the vine is inserted into a bottle of water sweetened with sugar. The water is quickly absorbed, resulting in increased size, rapid growth and greater sweetness. The Carroll county horticulturist is reputed to have raised a melon weighing eighty pounds by this treatment this season.

The above facts, or assertions, or fabricattons are gleaned from a paragraph now making its initial tour of the city and country press. The first time we read the item it only provoked one of those sweet, angelic and credulous smiles for which the editor of this journal has become famous. But the idea lingered. There might be more truth than fiction in this method. Infants are raised on bottles. Why not watermelons? Watermelons are hardier than babies, because they sleep out in the field all night without raising the least disturbance. If babies thrive on bottles, why not watermelons?

This train of reasoning induced us to readjust our spectacles and read the paragraph a second time, taking particular care to see that none of the data escaped our observation, but at the same time keeping one eye on the cardinal point—the bottle. Then the possibilities of the extension of this wonderful system of horticultune presented themselves. What had at first only appeared in the light of a freak or innocuous experiment, suddenly became fraught with the the gravest danger. If a melon could be sweetened by raising it on a sugar-and-water bottle, what was there to prevent obtaining an opposite effect by inserting the cut end of a vine into a bottle of Scotch? It would undoubtedly be a pleasant occupation, as well as elevating and beneficial to the human race, to raise sweet milk, buttermilk, soft-drink, or even ice-cream melons. Imagine the joy of the tired workman, famished with thirst, and exuding copious drops of sweat while engaged under a scorching midsummer sun, in the arduous task of killing weeds—imagine this man's delight, if you please, in picking and devouring a ripe and luscious melon filled with ice cream! The thought is enough to make an enthusiast of the most conservative person on the subject of bottle melons.

But a joy is said to be merely the advance agent of a sorrow. Tragedy usually follows comedy. It would assuredly be so in this case. If the sugar-and-water bottle melon can be grown successfully, why not the Manhattan cocktail melon? Why not the brandy-and-soda, the Scotch and-soda, or even the beer melon? Picture to yourself the artistic "jag" a man could acquire on an 80-pound Scotch-and-soda melon! The bottle-growing business would also bring numerous inconviences. Not the least of these would be a horde of revenue tax collectors searching the fields for bottle-melon patches. It is also quite likely that an agitation would be started for a plebiscite against bottle-melon raising. And, as it would be impossible to tell whether the merchant was selling ice-cream or spirituous melons, a doubt would naturally arise as to his proper professional name. The soda-water-melon people would naturally call him a druggist, while spirituous-liquor-melon people would cling to bartender, or invent a more appropriate name. Some would order an ice-cream melon with a straight face, others would order the same article with a wink, and— But we have said enough to make all sane persons pause before they engage in this treacherous field of horticultural work.

STOMACH LIVER LUNGS

Each of the chief organs of the body is a link in the Chain of Life. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link, the body no stronger than its weakest organ. If there is weakness of stomach, liver or lungs, there is a weak link in the chain of life which may snap at any time. Often this so-called "weakness" is caused by lack of nutrition, the result of weakness or disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. Diseases and weaknesses of the stomach and its allied organs are cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When the weak or diseased stomach is cured, diseases of other organs which seem remote from the stomach but which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, are cured also.

The strong man has a strong stomach. Take the above recommended "Discovery" and you may have a strong stomach and a strong body.

GIVEN AWAY.—Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, new revised Edition, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 50 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Those marriages that weren't made are sure failures.

When a man argues with a woman he doesn't. Neither does she.

It is really to much to expect a man to keep his promise when he is addicted to giving it all the time.

When your purse and conscience are fairly elastic you can sure have a good time.

Anybody has plenty of money who has enough to keep the fun going.

A woman can bear a lot of tribulations without worrying provided one of them is not being out of fashion.

Speaking of "night riders," among those who should be suppressed are those who have to be faken home in hacks.

We can see the finish of the man who courts temptation merely to exhibit his strength to the world.

"Every man is the architect of his own fortune," the trouble being that so many of us draw bad plans.

It will be pretty hard for a man to purchase heaven with charity, if that is his reason for it.

Just before a man succeeds in getting all he wants in this world the undertaker gets busy with his person.

Money makes the automobile go and the automobile makes the money go—and there you are.

CHRISTMAS STAMP CAMPAIGN

THE 1909 BATTLE AGAINST THE DREAD WHITE PLAGUE.

Available Beds in the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives Increased Three-Fold as a Result of Last Year's Sale of Christmas Stamps. The Number Can Be Doubled This Year If Everyone Will Help.

STIMULATED by the success of a year ago the National Sanitarium Association have made large preparations for the sale of the Christmas Stamp of 1909-10, issued on behalf of the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives.

Nearly $6,000.00 was netted from last year's sale, making it possible for the trustees to increase the available beds for needy patients from an average of fifty-five a year ago to one hundred and forty, the accommodation to-day.

The trustees are hopeful that they may bring the accommodation up to 300 beds as the outcome of this year's sale of this little one cent messenger of hope and healing.

The Christmas Stamp, as a means of fighting the dread white plague, had its origin in Denmark in 1904, the sale from which has financed a hospital for consumptives in that country. The idea was taken up by the Red Cross Society of the United States in 1907, and interest has grown each year,

A year ago a Christmas stamp of special design was put in circulation by the Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives with the success already indicated in this article.

The price of the individual stamp is only one cent, but what wonderful things can be accomplished by so tiny an instrument. There is no reason why everyone who writes a letter, addresses a postcard, mails a newspaper or parcel from this day out should not use one of these stamps.

The educational value of the stamp appearing on every piece of mail matter would be enormous. One can hardly figure up the material results. It would mean a routing of the enemy Tuberculosis that would bring hope and joy and gladness to thousands of homes and communities in all parts of Canada.

The stamp of 1909 is more beautiful than that of a year ago. The design is as shown in this article, but printed in red and green, and is of same size as the regular government postage stamp.

This Christmas stamp will not carry any kind of mail, but any kind of mail will carry it—and carry too the happy Season's Greetings from sender to receiver. The stamps will be done up in envelopes of ten, twenty-five, fifty and one hundred for ordinary selling, and large users will be supplied in quantities. The price for ten or for one thousand is a cent each.

The banks, departmental stores, drug stores, book and stationery stores and many other stores will sell them. Women's clubs, church organizations, bible classes and Sunday schools, public schools, and many other organizations and individuals will help this year as last year.

There would seem to be no reason why everybody everywhere may not help in forming an army of willing workers to sell these stamps all over the Dominion. The Muskoka Free Hospital for Consumptives is in the fullest sense a national institution caring for patients from every province in Canada.

The first issue of the stamp for this year is one million, and these will be put into circulation immediately, but there can hardly be any reason why the issue should not be increased many times over before Christmas.

The direction of the sale of Christmas Stamps is in the hands of Mr. J. S. Robertson, Sec.-Treasurer, National Sanitarium Association, 347 King Street, West, Toronto, who will give prompt reply to any enquiries regarding the stamp.

David John Henry Allen Zambox Schwack-Hanner, jr., who claims to be a native of Hayti, was in the city this week, and on Monday afternoon addressed the junior grade public school pupils on the subject, "Manners and Customs of the People in Other Lands." If the criticisms of the children are authentic, the wandering orator's head is not overweighted with intelligence.
