BOARD OF TRADE

Canning Factory Looking for a Location in the Valley

A largely attended meeting of the board of trade was held in the city hall on Wednesday evening. President Clark occupied the chair. The most important business transacted was the consideration of the following communication from the industrial branch of the western lines of the Canadian Pacific railway at Calgary:

F. R. Barlee, Secretary Board of Trade, Grand Forks, B. C.—Dear Sir. The following proposition has been suggested to me, and if you have the right man in your town it may be that something can be done with it.

There is a canning factory that wants to move out to British Columbia, and the people that control it want to handle the proposition on the following lines: That somebody who owns a tract of land suitable for growing tomatoes and other fruit would join these people by putting in his land, on terms to be arranged, so that it could be divided into five, ten and fifteen acre lots, on which a house would be constructed and a family brought in, used to the growing of tomatoes and fruit, with whom the canning company would contract for the taking of so many tomatoes each year, depending, of couse, upon the amount which a man could bring into cultivation. This land would be sold to these people on long terms, and their entire output bought by the canning factory. In this way the land owner and the owner of the canning factory would make money by the increased ealue of the land and the dividends earned by the plant.

This is only a sketch, but it may be that there is somebody in your town who would like to look into the question, and it would no doubt be a good thing to get a good canning factory in your district. Yours truly, JOHN F. SWEETING, Industrial Agent.

The letter was referred to the industrial committee of the board, of which W. K. C Manly is chairman, with instructions to draft a reply and to report at the next meeting. The committee was also requested to make inquiries for the class of land suitable for the growing of fruit for the canning factory and for the location of the plant.

New Stump-Burning Method

A rancher at Bonners Ferry is the originator of a new scheme for clearing logged-off lands, which he claims enables one man to get rid of from fifteen to twenty stumps a day, says the Creston Review. Mr. Kindschuh, the inventor, has tried nearly all methods advanced for the pulling of stumps, and claims that he has now found the most practical thing known to the owners of logged-off lands.

Mr. Kindschuh burns his stumps with the aid of a draft flue four feet to six feet long—the longer the better, on account of the increased draft. The flue is attached to a two-inch auger hole, which is bored on a slant of about 45 degrees through the highest roots of the stump.

If possible the auger hole is bored so as to come out at the lower end between two parting roots. A fire is built of the auger shavings about four inches below the opening of the auger hole, and the flames are drawn through the heart of the stump by the flue. Mr. Kindschuh claims that ordinary-sized stumps will burn off clean through by this method in thirty-six hours, without any attention, while it sometimes requires a week to burn a stump by the char-pit method. It is also claimed that this method will burn off the roots deep enough to allow a plow to go over them.

DATA ON AGRICULTURE

Royal Commission Obtains Views of Local Ranchers on Many Subjects

The royal commission on agriculture, composed of A. Lucas, M.L.A., chairman; J. J. Campbell, of Nelson; J. Kidston, Vernon; S. Shannon, Cloverdale, and Wm. Duncan, Comox, held a meeting in the new court house at 2:30 o'clock on Monday afternoon to enquire into the condition of the various branches of agriculture in this valley. W. H Hayward, M.L.A., the regular chairman of the commission, was not present, having been called to Victoria. Nearly all the ranchers of the valley expressed their viewed on agricultural, horticultural, dairying and stock raising subjects. From the line of questioning on the fruit growing industry. it is surmised that the provincial government is desirous of establishing a central selling agency for the marketing of the fruit crop of the province. On Tuesday morning the members of the commission were taken for an automobile ride through the valley, and at noon on that they left for the Kootenay country.

Ore Shipments

The following were the shipments from the Boundary mines during the past week. Granby mine, 21,269; Mother Lode, 4,914; Rawhide, 5,043; Napoleon, 668; Victoria, 107. Smelter treatments: Granby, 23,585 tons; Greenwood, 11,265.

Bound to Bargain

"What's the price of this silk?" asked a deaf old lady of a young shopman.

"Seven shillings," was the reply.

"Seventeen shillings," she exclaimed. "I'll give you thirteen."

"Only seven shillings, ma'am, is the price of the silk," replied the honest shopman.

"Oh, seven shillings!" rejoined the lady, sharply. "Well, I'll give you five."

The Scandinavian Aid and Fellowship Society of British Columbia will hold its annual picnic at Ward's lake, in the West end of the city, on June 25. Arrangements are now being made by the local society for the entertainment of visitors, who are expected from all parts of the province.

E. Davis arrived in the city yesterday from Victoria.

RAILWAY FATALITY

Engine Crashes Into a Gasoline Speeder at Greenwood

A terrible accident occurred at Greenwood on Wednesday, in which Joe Davidson, C P R. station agent at Midway, lost an arm, his wife had a leg cut off, and his child had a narrow escape.

Mr. Davidson and family were on their way from Midway to Greenwood on a gasoline speeder. When in the cut between Anaconda and Greenwood, the engine of an ore train, on its way to the turntable at Anaconda, and running at a speed of five miles per hour, suddenly rounded a sharp curve and crashed into the speeder. Mr. Davidson fell on the onteide of the track, with his right arm across the rail. His wife fell between the rails, and half of the engine passed over her before it could be stopped. The child was hurled a distance of about thirty feet, but miraculously escaped injury with the exception of a few scratches.

Mr. Davidson and his wife were removed to the Greenwood hospital, where Mrs Davidson, in spite of the best medical attendance available, died at midnight on Wednesday night. She regained consciously shortly before the end came. Mr. Davidson is reported to be in a critical condition, having sustained internal injuries as well as the loss of his arm.

Frank Davidson, a brother of the injured man, who is employed at the yard dispatch office of the Canadian Pacific railway in Nelson, passed through the city yesterday on his way to Greenwood.

NEWS OF THE CITY IN BRIEF

An enjoyable social was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hodgson, under the auspices of the choir of the Methodist church, on Tuesday evening. A long program of music and recitations was rendered. Misses Thomson and Annable, of Nelson, delighted the gathering with vocal solos, and were heartily encored. Miss Alice Lequime rendered a piano solo to special advantage. Ernest Harrison amused the audience with humorous songs, and E. Mrs. Miller acted accompanist. Refreshments were served.

The British Columbia Copper company will begin at once development work on a largely increased scale, doubling the force of men now employed and otherwise pushing forward investigation of their vast mineral areas at Voigt camp and Copper mountain, says the Princeton Star. No other company in the province holds such immense ore reserves as is believed to be contained in these contiguous camps. The old Sunset and Voigt camp mineral claims will be the busy scenes of new work to be rapidly advanced.

The Granby smelter in this city, during the last ten days in May, shipped 782,000 pounds of copper, or an average of 78,200 pounds every twenty-four hours. During the same period there was treated 35,264 tons of ore, all of which, with the exception of 128 tons, was from the company's mine at Phoenix. This establishes a new record for the company.

The Grand Forks baseball club was defeated in Republic on Wednesday afternoon by a score of 16 to 3. A special excursion train was run from this city. Those who witnessed the massacre are still in mourning.

J. W. Logan, of Vancouver, who has been relieving Manager Spink, of the Royal bank, during the latter's vacation, will leave next Monday for the Okanagan.

DROWNED IN A POND

Greenwood Boy Meets Death While Taking a Lone Bath

John Rendell, the eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Rendell, was drowned in the pond near the C.P.R. station at Greenwood last Monday while bathing. He was alone, and no one witnessed the accident.

Kettle Valley Subsidy

Railway subsidies tabled by Hon Frank Cochrane in the Dominion house last week provide that the Kettle Valley railway will receive subsidies on its line from Midway to Penticton, a distance of 135 miles; from Penticton to Merritt, 145 miles, and from Penticton wharf to Hope station, 55 mileo. These subsidies, calculated on a minimum of $3200 per mile, will total over a million dollars which the Kettle Valley railway will receive from the Dominion government.

Probably the added tax burdens, as a result of the present riotous, unparalleled session for expenditures may help to convince some people that it is time they took more interest in public affairs and less in the advancement of party leaders, who seem as puppets in the skilful hands of such railway promoters as Mackenzie and Mann.—Winnipeg Tribune.

Archbishop Casey, of Vancouver, spent a few days in the city this week. On Sunday he will confirm a class and hold services in Phoenix.

Gateway Lodge No. 45, I.O.O.F., will hold a picnic at Christina lake on Dominion day.

Mr, and Mrs. G. A. Spink have been spending the present week at Christina lake.

Mayor G. M. Fripp returned yesterday from a business trip to Spokane.

The copious showers during the present week have been worth millions to the fruit growers of the valley.

The brickwork on Wm. Bonthron's two-storey brick block on First street has been completed. The building will be ready for the tenants, Miller & Gardner, about the first of August.

THE CITY COUNCIL

Resolutions Adopted Asking for Sidewalks Around Public Buildings

The mayor and all the aldermen were present at the meeting of the city council on Monday evening. A large amount of routine business was transacted. Ald. Woodland gave notice that at the next meeting of the council he would introduce a bylaw to amend the debenture bylaw. This amendment is necessary because in the debenture bylaw passed by last year's council the bonded indebtedness of the city is erroneously stated.

A resolution was also adopted urging the federal government to construct a cement sidewalk around the new post office building, and a similar resolution asked the provincial government to build a like walk on Winnipeg avenue and Fifth street in front of the new court house.

Wm Henderson, of Victoria, government supervising architect, was in the on Tuesday, and stated that the federal government would build a sidewalk around the post office as the city estabiishes a proper street grade for the block. Ernest Miller, M.P.P., has promised to lay the matter of a sidewalk in front of the court house before the provincial government.

Farmers' Institute Meeting

A special meeting of the members of the Grand Forks Valley Farmers' Institute will be held in the Miners' Union hall on Saturday evening, June 14, at 8 o'clock, when the following government speakers will address the gathering: R. C. Ashby will speak on "Feed Crops and Tillage," followed by J. R. Terry, who is the secretary of the Provincial Poulty association, and will take "Poultry" for his subject. A large and representative gathering is requested. The ladies and everybody in any way interested in poultry are specially invited to attend.

How to Clean Brass

To clean brass furnishings or to remove fly spots or tarnish from them they should be boiled for a few minutes in a solution of one ounce of alum to every pint of water. After boiling they should be polished by some brass polish or just a dry cloth. This will remove tarnish from all crevices where other means faill.

COP DRESSED AS GIRL

Did Not Feel Quite at Home in Togs, Yet Success Was His

London, England.—Dressed as a woman, a fresh-complexioned young Wokingham, Berkshire, police constable named Albert Sellwood so completely deceived John Butler, a local painter, that he did not know until after his arrest that he had attempted to flirt with a constable. At Wokingham police court Butler was sentenced to two months' hard labor for sending objectionable letters to Miss Bartholomew, of Wokingham.

These letters, it was stated in court, asked Miss Bartholomew to meet him outside her home. She did not read the letters, her mother opening them and her father informing the police. In order to identify the writer and to arrest him, Superintendent Goddard conceived the idea of dressing Sellwood in clothes belonging to Miss Bartholomew. So disguised, Sellwood kept the appointment made for Miss Bartholomew

Sellwood told how he played his part. I dressed at Miss Bartholomew's house. I wore a tight-fitting light brown serge skirt, a white blouse, a Dolly Varden hat, motor veil, feather boa and a long gray ulster. Dressing was not an easy matter. The skirt was rather tight round the waist and the movements of my legs were very much restricted. The hat went on easy enough but I had a little trouble with the blouse.

Walking down the drive I found myself tripping, through trying to do the regulation 36-inch stride. I soon came down to 18 inches. I saw Butler standing near the gate and I walked up to him. Then I thought of my voice, which is rather deep. I pitched it as near to the falsetto as I could and said: Good evening. He was delighted to see me, called me 'Dearest' and suggested a walk.

I arranged to meet him again two evenings after at the same time and place. On that evening at 7.30 I dressed up again, only I was not alone. Butler was then arrested, and that ended my part.

Further indication of the developments of Prince Rupert's fishing industry is to be found in a despatch from that place received at Grand Trunk Pacific head-quarters in Montreal announcing the consignment of the first car-load of halibut to the east by the Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Company. The fish are shipped to Boston by express and are reported to be in the very best of condition. Temporarily these shipments are forwarded to Vancouver in regular coasting vessels and shipped thence in cold storage cars but as soon as the main line of the G.T.P. is completed they will be despatched direct from Prince Rupert from that route.

So rapidly has the Canadian Fish and Cold Storage Company's business developed that it has recently been obliged to add two vessels purchased in Seattle to its already numerous fleet. On these vessels are a large number of fishermen from New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Newfoundland coming north to engage in their occupation at Prince Rupert.

OLD SORE HEALED IN SIX DAYS

Nearly Impossible to Heal Skin. Badly Hurt. Sore, Red and Inflamed. Could Not Sleep. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Healed.

Bowsman River, Manitoba.—"When I was thirteen years of age I got my shin badly hurt and when healed the skin was attached to the bone. The least bruise would injure it and it was nearly impossible to heal. The sore would be very red and inflamed round the edges and had a burning sensation. When extra sore I could not sleep at night on account of the pain. I always wore a cotton bandage on it from the ankle to the knee. For a number of years I used sticking plasters, then got a salve. I saw the advertisement offering a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a sample and purchased some more and in six days the sore was healed completely." (Signed) James Edwards, June 21, 1912.

CHINESE LOOT STEAMER

Captain and Officers are Saved by Intercession of Woman Missionary

Hongkong, China. — The British West river steamer Taion, which signaled that it had been attacked by pirates, has arrived here. It reports that the pirates, whose numbers were variously estimated at from 50 to 100 and who were armed with revolvers, came on board at Kongkong last night disguised as passengers bound for Kongmoon.

The Taion was three hours out from Hongkong and was just outside British quarters and entering the Canton river delta, when the pirates rose. They killed the Chinese steersman, and having thus held the steamer up, seized Captain Holmes, Chief Officer Cornwall and Engineer Macartney, whom they tied up securely.

They attempted to burn a woman missionary's cabin with rags soaked in paraffine, and having stolen all her money, amounting to $80, and her gold watch, took her into the saloon. The woman prevailed on the pirates not to harm the European officers.

The pirates killed one and wounded four passengers all Chinese; ransacked the officers' cabins, stealing $170 in cash, besides a quantity of valuables, and secured a considerable amount of booty from the passengers.

They disabled the engines and dynamo, smashed the switchboard to atoms and carried off the ship's lights and stands of arms and ammunition. They held possession of the steamer for four hours, eventually rowing off in a boat, which they stole, and two sampans.

FINES FOR DOPING HORSES

French Steeplechase Society Guards Against Fraud

Paris. — Penalties varying from $100 to $1000, with power to withdraw trainers' licenses in the last resort, are imposed for doping (giving stimulants to horses) by regulations adopted at the annual meeting of the French Steeplechase Society.

The responsibility is thrown on the trainer in every case in which it is proved that a horse ran under the influence of a stimulant illegally administered. Horses with respiratory tubes will be debarred from race courses controlled by the society.

KAISER TO VISIT GIBRALTAR

Wishes to Inspect World's Most Famous Fortifications

Berlin.—The kaiser intends to pay a visit to Gibraltar next month in order to inspect the famous citadel. He will leave Cuxhaven in the Imperator, the giant Hamburg-American liner, which will be making its maiden trip.

Gibraltar will be reached in three days. One day will be devoted to the fortress, where it is expected several British and foreign battleships will gather to greet the royal visitor. The kaiser will then return to Germany on the Imperator, which will start on its first journey to America a week later.

The kaiser has sent an invitation to Sir Ernest Cassel to accompany him on the trip.

ASPHYXIATED IN A BUS

Fumes From Benzine Tank Endanger Lives of Passenger

Geneva.—A strange accident is reported from Fleims, in the Tyrol, endangering the lives of seven visitors, one of whom was an Englishman.

The motor omnibus, which had replaced the old horsed diligence in the district of Fleims, arrived at the station of Fonunne-Froide, and the chauffeur opened the door to ask the travelers to descend. All the passengers were lying in a heap, and looked as if they were dead. The unconscious travelers were at once carried to a hotel, where doctors attended them, and they recovered.

The cause of the accident was a defective benzine tank. The fumes of the gas had entered the closed car, gradually rendering the occupants unconscious.

NEW THEATRE IN PARIS

Built by a Syndicate Including Many Americans

Paris.—The Grand Theatre des Champs Elysees gave two inaugural performances recently of 'Benvenuto Cellini,' by Berlioz, and of 'Freischuetz,' because one performance would not be sufficient to enable the thousands who wished to do so to make acquaintance with the new theatre.

The Theatre has been built by a syndicate, in which there is a good deal of English and American money, in the Avenue Montaigne, which runs down to the Seine from the Champs Elysees. It will seat about 2000 people and has been built in rather less than two years.

REGRET LOSS OF SECRETS

France in Possession of What She Would Have Given Fortune to Know

Berlin.—It was recently stated the press and public, with few exceptions, are manifesting a masterly composure over the fall of the Zeppelin secrets into the hands of the French. But in the ultra-partriotic quarters of the air party Z 4's fate produces a state of mind bordering on hysterics.

The Taegliche Rundschau suggests that the officers in the ship can only be adequately dealt with in the way France dealt with Marshall Bazaine for the surrender of Metz; namely, by courtmartial. The journal agrees with Die Post that it was the unquestionable duty of the senior German officer in Z 4 to blow up the airship with all on board and let it alight on the parade ground at Luneville a shapeless mass of smoking wreckage, rather than run the risk of permitting its priceless secrets to fall into French hands.

When the Zeppelin passenger airship company's offices at Frankfort-on-Main sent word to the kaiser at Homburg of the events at Luneville, his majesty's first inquiry was for the names of the officers on board.

It is declared that the French intelligence department has gained information for which it would probably have been glad to pay an immense sum of money. That is the point which strikes Germans as by far the gravest aspect of the affair. The Taegliche Rundschau even expresses the fear that the prize which has fallen into France's hands may be deemed by her of such enormous value that she will not much longer delay the day of reckoning. Captain Hildebrandt, in the Lokal Anzeiger, however, says the French will not even now be able to imitate the Zeppelins.

London.—A carpenter named Harnigold, living at Terrington, West Norfolk, dreamed on Wednesday night that on the following day he would have to make a coffin for his father. On the following morning the father was found dead in bed from heart seizure, and later in the day the son made the coffin.

SPRING IMPURITIES IN THE BLOOD

A Tonic Medicine is a Necessity at This Season.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are an all year round tonic, blood-builder and nerve-restorer. But they are especially valuable in the spring when the system is loaded with impurities as a result of the indoor life of the winter months. There is no other season when the blood is so much in need of purifying and enriching, and every dose of these pills helps to make new, rich, red blood. In the spring one feels weak and tired—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give strength. In the spring the appetite is often poor—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills develop the appetite, tone the stomach and aid weak digestion. It is in the spring that poisons in the blood find an outlet in disfiguring pimples, eruptions and boils — Dr. Williams' Pink Pills speedily clear the skin because they go to the root of the trouble in the blood. In the spring anaemia, rheumatism, indigestion, neuralgia, erysipelas and many other troubles are most persistent because of poor, weak blood, and it is at this time when all nature takes on new life that the blood most seriously needs attention. Some people dose themselves with purgatives at this season, but these only further weaken themselves. A purgative merely gallops through the system, emptying the bowels, but it does not cure anything. On the other hand Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new blood which reaches every nerve and organ in the body, bringing new strength, new health and vigor to weak, easily tired men, women and children. Try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills this spring—they will not disappoint you.

It Cured Him

There had been a little breeze at dinner. Relations between husband and wife, were for the time being, distinctly strained. The silence grew oppressive.

So you think I smoke too much? he asked at length, harping back on the same chord, just by way of saying something.

Not at all, she replied deliberately forcing a yawn.

Well, that's what you said a few minutes ago.

I didn't say anything of the sort. I don't think you're smoking too much.

Didn't you say I'd die if I didn't cut it down?

Yes; that's what I said.

And it took him quite a long time to grasp the meaning of the remark. Then he was quite angry.

But it cured him of the habit.

Art as an Amusement

Post Impressionist—Of course I paint purely for my own amusement you know.

Visitor to Studio—Nonsense, my dear fellow. They simply tickle us to death, too!

Miller's Worm Powders are par excellence the medicine for children who are found suffering from the ravages of worms. They immediately alter the stomachic conditions under which the worms subsist and drive them from the system, and, at the same time, they are tonical in their effect upon the digestive organs, restoring them to healthful operation and ensuring immunity from further disorders from such a cause.

Suicide by Machine-Gun

Berlin.—A private in an infantry regiment at Graz has committed suicide by placing himself before a machine-gun and firing it by means of a cord. His breast was riddled with bullets. The man had had differences with his superior officers.

Edgar Knew Them—The teacher was hearing her class of small boys in mathematics.

Edgar, she said, if your father can do a piece of work in seven days, and your Uncle William can do it in nine days, how long would it take both of them to do it?

They would never get done, answered the boy earnestly. They would sit down and tell fish stories.

A Power of its Own.—Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil has a subtle power of its own that other oils cannot pretend to, though there are many pretenders. All who have used it know this and keep it by them as the most valuable liniment available. Its uses are innumerable and for many years it has been prized as the leading liniment for man and beast.

DOMINION FORESTS

How the Federal Reserves are Being Developed

The Dominion Forest Service has progressed farther than any other service in Canada in the laying out of forest reserves and providing for their proper administration. Sixteen million acres have been definitely set apart by Act of Parliament to be administered as forest reserves. Additional areas are being examined each year, and some six million acres additional are now under temporary reservation and will shortly be added to the reserves set apart by statute. The mere setting apart of reserves, though an important step, is only a preliminary one. Although, unfortunately, in some cases it has not been realized that anything further is necessary, this mistake has not been made in the federal administration.

The reserves have been organized by appointing an inspector in charge for each of the western provinces. The inspectors selected are men who have had a thoroughly technical training in forestry and who have shown good administrative ability. In each of the inspection districts the reserves areas are laid out in units or forests each under charge of a technically trained man or a man experienced in timber administration. Twelve such divisions have already been established, and others are being organized and manned with forest rangers as the development of the reserves and the fire danger may render necessary. These divisions do not include patrol outside of forest reserves on the large area of forest not included therein. In such areas there are in addition twelve patrol divisions each under charge of a chief fire ranger.

On each of the forests, houses have been erected for the forest rangers so that they may be close to their work and give it careful supervision. At different points throughout the forest, huts have been erected as headquarters for summer patrols and in some of the more inaccessible districts. 470 miles of trails and roads have been constructed so as to make the reserves more accessible. 10 bridges have been constructed, and 100 miles of telephone have been put in operation. A much enlarged programme of such improvement work has been laid out for the coming year.

A conference of the Inspectors was recently held at Ottawa to plan the work for the coming season and the construction work on the reserves will be pushed as rapidly as possible so as to have the reserves made immune from fire, as they are in Europe, in the shortest possible time.

A Puzzle

What puzzles me, said Uncle Snooks as he looked up from a book he was consulting, is this: If a man is standing on the side of a hill or mountain how is he to settle in his mind whether he is on an acclivity or declivity? According to my dictionary here the former is a slope up and the latter a slope down. I've never yet seen a slope up that didn't slope down.

CHILDREN IN THE HOME

When there are children in the home it requires constant attention to keep them free from the many childhood ailments which come so quickly—some of them proving fatal while others leave the little one cross, restless and weak. To keep little ones well Baby's Own Tablets must be kept in the house. These Tablets regulate the stomach and bowels, break up colds and fevers; expel worms and make teething easy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

He Understood

The man and his wife in the motor car came face to face with the man on a heavily-laden wagon in a narrow lane. Quite as a matter of course the husband made a move to back out and allow the wagon to pass. But his wife objected.

Let him back out she said coldly. We were here first. He must have seen us coming.

Her husband pointed out that a sharp curve in the road rendered this impossible.

I don't care reiterated the dame in the car. I don't intend to move. I'd rather remain here all day.

But—, the husband began feebly.

Gie over, man, said the carter, and the tones of his voice expressed a great sympathy. Don't argy any more. I'll back out. I've got one like her at 'ome!

No Chance to Escape

I couldn't get out of marrying her, Henpeck explained When she proposed she said: Will you marry me? Have you any objection? You see, no matter whether I said yes or no, she had me.

Why didn't you just keep silent, then? inquired his friend.

That's what I did, and she said: Silence gives consent, and that ended it.

The house is so lonesome without you and the dear children, writes Blibbins now to the absent wife, who is with the family at her mother's. But the faithful maid-of-all-work writes: Shure, man, Mr. Blibbins hasn't been in until after twelve o'clock never a night since you left.

SPLIT 40 CORDS AT AGE OF 85

Thankful to the Medicine That Gave Him Ability For the Task.

A VERY INTERESTING CASE

Few men of eighty-five years of age can boast of much else but poor health and failing strength. And such was the condition of Mr. Benj. Marsh, who is known to every soul in the neighborhood of his home at Lime Lake, Ont.

"Quite unsolicited," writes Mr. Marsh, "I wish to say how I have been bothered for years with stomach trouble. I tried everything I could think of without benefit. I was terribly afflicted with swelling and gas, and had much distress between meals. I tried everything I could think of, but without benefit. Then I was recommended Nerviline. My, but Nerviline did me a power of good—made a new man of me, so that within the last three weeks I have been able to split about forty cords of stove wood. I will always stick to Nerviline and will always recommend it, and would like to meet anyone and convince them if in doubt as to what Nerviline has done for me."

For sour stomach, nausea, belching of gas, cramps and sudden sickness at night, nothing is more helpful in the home, nothing saves so much pain and distress as Nerviline. Large family size bottles, 50c; small size, 25c; at all storekeepers and druggists or The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y.

All Square

It was in a West End restaurant, where Sandy went for a drink, and he ordered a whisky and soda, for which they charged him a whole shilling. He complained of the price and said that he was only accustomed to pay threepence for a nip of whisky.

Next day Sandy went into the same place again, ordered a drink and put down threepence. It was a different barman, but he protested.

No, no scid Sandy. No, no, mon; that's all right. I saw yer pictures yesterday.

MOTHERHOOD SUGGESTIONS

Advice to Expectant Mothers

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

C.P.R. Flower Day

It is just twenty-four years since an employe of the C.P.R. raised a few varieties of flower seeds in his own garden and distributed them among his friends in the company with the idea of beautifying to some extent the somewhat barren aspect of the stations on the railroad round houses and yard offices on the company's property. It was a small beginning but today the C.P.R. is celebrating its semi-annual flower day and the little seed planted in the earlier day has grown to such an extent that it requires a floral department to handle the work and instead of a few packages of seeds handed out to a limited number of employes no less than 150,000 packets of various varieties have been distributed to station agents, section foremen, those in charge of round houses, yard offices and all employes living on company's property, showing an inclination towards the cultivation of flowers. In the fall a million of bulbs were given out and the benefit of these is now being felt, as from the Atlantic to the Pacific and even on Vancouver Island, the traveller will see the delightful results from the fall planting of these luxurious flowers. Even in the midst of the prairies where men are permanently encamped working on the irrigation ditches at forty different points have seeds been sent for cultivation, which is another demonstration of the effect the tending of flowers has on the human mind and body. These men take a great delight in caring for the plants as they gradually grow and enjoy their fragrance as much as the man nearer home. The influences and encouragement of flower growing on the C.P.R. during the last twenty-four years has materially assisted in the inauguration of floral societies in almost every town along the lines of the system, and an examination will show that actively connected with these hundreds of societies are employes of the C.P.R. whose first lesson in flower culture and the love of the beautiful were learned in the service of the company under the stimulating influences of the Floral department. Station improvements have led to town improvements and often the C.P.R. is asked to co-operate with some of these institutions for the beautifying of open spaces, and in many instances the station is a sort of bureau for flower information, while the floral department at Montreal is looked upon as the headquarters of flower information for the whole of the C.P.R. system from the Atlantic to the Pacific. In every division special prizes are awarded for the best displays and many of the employes have become so interested in the work as to try their results against the best in the country by exhibition at the big exhibitions. In many instances they have been very successful and have carried away the premier prizes Many agents have wonderful vegetable gardens in the west for the climate is such that anything can be grown.

The Pill That Brings Relief.—When after one has partaken of a meal he is oppressed by feelings of fullness and pains in the stomach he suffers from dyspepsia, which will persist if it be not dealt with. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are the very best medicine that can be taken to bring relief. These pills are specially compounded to deal with dyspepsia, and their sterling qualities in this respect can be vouched for by legions of users.

It doesn't always pay a lawyer to be stern with the posing witnesses when cross-examining them. They are often as clever as the attorney and the following anecdote illustrates how one witness put one over on a bright young lawyer.

Sir, said the lawyer sternly, you need not state your impressions. We want facts. Now, henceforward, answer me categorically. You say you live next door to the defendant?

Yes. To the north of him?

No. To the south?

No. To the west, then?

No.

Ah, said the lawyer sarcastically, at last we are likely to get down to one real fact. You live to the east of him, do you?

No.

How is that, sir? said the astonished attorney You say you live next door to him yet you live neither to the east, west, south nor north. What do you mean by that sir?

I thought perhaps you were incompeten to form the impression that we live in a flat, said the witness; but I see I must inform you that he lives next door above me.

'Twas Better So

They were engaged. Perhaps he repented; perhaps he did it only for fun. Said he:

My darling Ethel, what would you say if I were to tell you that I cannot marry you.

I would say, my dearest love, that I have a big brother who would make it warm for you, and that I have some of the sweetest little billets-doux that would make it expensive for you, George dear.

But you know I haven't said it.

I know you haven't, my pet.

So we'd better get married, hadn't we?

I think so, my precious.

Ponder This—You'll be sorry some day that you didn't marry.

Well, I'd rather not be married and be sorry I wasn't than be married and sorry I was.

Fate of the Fare

The portly gentleman hailed the passing cab. Cabby, he said, $1.50 if you drive me to the station in less than fifteen minutes.

In he jumped and away went cabby at a rattling rate. On reaching the station he was delighted to see that he had still three minutes to spare. As soon as the door was opened the fare stepped out, panting and mopping his streaming brow.

Whatever's the matter? asked cabby.

Matter! Phew! Can't you see that the bottom's dropped out of the cab and I've had to run all the way to the station. Phew! Then, as he looked about him, his purple face becoming mauve. Cabby, he said, you've brought me to the wrong station, and I've lost the train.

FRIDAY, JUNE 13, 1913

A bulletin published this year by the Toronto department of health contains some advice on the prevention of drowning which might be read with profit by the people of every community. No one, it says, should use a canoe who can not swim. No one should even enter a canoe who can not swim, for the unskilled man may cause the death of himself and the swimmer who is with him. Everyone, it advises, should learn to swim; but as the swimmer not infrequently meets his death, through heart failure, wrongly described as cramp, everyone should have his heart examined at the beginning of each season. "In the event of drowning," the report continues, "don't lose a minute in rescuing the body from the water, and always try to restore life. Ten minutes under the water is usually given as the limit, yet people have been resuscitated after a half hour or more. Begin operations immediately after the body is taken from the water. Lay the body face downwards, with the stomach resting on a roll of clothing, a log, or a barrel, with the head lower than the rest of the body, so that the water may run out from the throat and lungs. Clean the mouth of all mucous with a corner of a handkerchief wound around the finger; keep the jaws separated with a stick, around which is wrapped a piece of cloth; keep the face exposed to the air, and promptly and untiringly use some method of artificial respiration. The Chafer method as used by the Royal Life Saving association is probably the most simple and least fatiguing, and can be performed by one person. Most important, however, whatever method you use, is not to give up too soon. There should be no relaving for at least two hours, as at any moment up to that period signs of recovery may occur."

Mr. Bourassa, the erratic Nationalist, queries: "If Mr. Borden really has faith in his naval bill, why does he allow it to be destroyed by some fifty old gentlemen in the senate instead of appealing to the seven million or more people of Canada?"

Dear Sir: I have known for over 40 years of the effects of Wilson's Remedy [Wilson's Preparation of Hypophosphites and Blodgett's] in cases of pulmonary troubles. At this point I will say to you what you have not before known of; that 40 years since, while I was a resident of N.Y. City, I was severely ill with lung trouble. Physicians said I was a consumptive and my family physician told my wife that he thought I could not recover. My attention was directed to the Wilson Remedy, which I used with splendid effect. I have been on my feet and at work ever since my cure. Yours truly,

SAVED FROM SUICIDE

Letter to Him Announcing Her Intention Rushed to Public Station

Paris, France.—A dramatic attempt at suicide by a girl of 19, named Noel was prevented at Cherbourg recently by the presence of mind of her brother, a railway guard.

The young man was swinging himself on the footboard of a train which was leaving for Paris when a letter without an envelope was handed him. The letter contained a few incoherent lines from his sister saying that she was going to commit suicide, and that her body would be found in the sea at the end of the jetty.

Young Noel at the risk of his life, jumped from the train, retaining hold of the rail, and running along with the train, gave his sister's letter to a man at the other end of the platform, where he swung himself on the footboard again, shouting to his colleague to run as hard as he could with the letter to the police.

Fortunately, there was a police magistrate in the station, and more fortunately still, there was a motor-car just outside. The police magistrate dashed at full speed down the jetty and arrived as Mlle. Noel threw herself into the sea. The magistrate shouted to three customs house officers in a boat which was putting into the harbor and they succeeded in saving the girl when she was nearly 100 yards from shore. Her brother received the news of her rescue when the train arrived at Caen.

TOBACCO SMUGGLED IN PRISON

Official Guilty of the Act Is Sent to Jail for Four Months

London, England. An extraordinary story of the ease with which convicts have been able to communicate illicitly with their friends and receive presents of tobacco from them was unfolded at the Portland police court recently.

Samuel Crowhurst, a civil guard at Portland convict prison, was charged with having illegally conveyed tobacco into the prison. As he pleaded guilty no evidence was taken; but Mr. Prym who appeared for the treasury, fully explained the details of the case.

He said that Crowhurst did not come in contact with the convicts within the prison hall but he had an opportunity of seeing convicts who worked apart from the ordinary gangs outside of the prison.

One such man was a convict named Day, with whom Crowhurst became acquainted and used as a medium between other convicts and their friends. At the end of last year there was considerable traffic in the prison and a watch being kept, a quantity of tobacco was found concealed in a part of the prison where Day worked. The tobacco was found in a ground frame used for rearing plants and was hidden under sawdust.

Chief Inspector Ward and Inspector Burton were sent from London to make a special investigation. They found that Day had received letters which various convicts had written to their friends asking them to send money for tobacco.

They also found that Day had handed the letters to Crowhurst, and that he had inserted in them a slip of paper requesting money for the tobacco to be sent to Mr. Crother, care of post-office.

Postal orders were sent by friends to Crowther, and they were received and cashed by Crowhurst, who bought tobacco, handed it to Day; who in turn put it in a secret store and eventually distributed it among the other convicts.

The magistrates sent Crowhurst to prison for four months.

An elderly woman, with a small dog upon her lap, while riding in a trolley car, asked the conductor if he would kindly tell her when he got to Hazel street.

After she had got up two or three times, the conductor told her to keep her seat and he would let her know when they reached Hazel street.

The woman held the dog up to the window, and said: Fido, look! There's where you were born! Then turning to the conductor, she remarked, I'm going to the end of the line.

A city woman who recently passed a few days at a farm, bought some poultry from the farmer with a view to providing fresh eggs for breakfast every morning. She sent them to town by messenger, at the same time despatching a note to her husband telling him to look out for the consignment. Her husband, on reaching his home that night, asked if the poultry had arrived. He was informed that it had, but explained the servant he had carelessly left the basement door open and all the chickens had escaped. A fowl hunt was immediately organized. The next day the husband, meeting his wife on her return, exclaimed: A nice time I had with your poultry. I spent three hours hunting and only found ten.

You may consider yourself lucky, then, replied his wife, for I only bought six.

A Clear Record

Seeing the youngster sitting on the doorstep, crying pitiably, a kind-hearted old gentleman went up to him, and asked what might be the matter with the lad.

Hunger appeared to be the matter; the boy said he hadn't had anything to eat that day.

But why doesn't your father give you food?

No reply.

What is your father? asked the would-be philanthropist.

'E's my father, came the somewhat astounding reply.

Yes, but what is he?

Ow, really 'e's my stepfather.

Yes, yes, yes! exclaimed the old gentleman impatiently. But what does he do? Sweep chimneys, drive a 'bus, or what?

The light of intelligence suddenly dawned on the small boy's puzzled face.

Oh, 'e ain't done nuffin since we 'ad 'im, he replied.

KAISER APOLOGIZES TO TENANT

Man of Whom He Had Spoken Slightingly in Public Has His Revenge

Berlin, Germany.—The case of the kaiser's tenant, Herr Sohst, has been settled to the satisfaction of both parties. Herr Sohst has consented to give up his farm, the lease of which had still five years to run, on payment of $30,000 from the kaiser's agent. Herr Sohst has also received a letter from the kaiser's civil cabinet, the contents of which are not divulged, but in which, presumably, regret is expressed that his majesty had been misinformed.

Finally, and this makes a deep impression here, Herr Sohst has had conferred on him the Fourth Class of the Order of the Crown, probably as a sort of salve for his wounded feelings.

It will be remembered that last February, at a meeting of the German Agricultural Association, the kaiser addressed this body, giving his experiences on his estate at Cadinen. In the course of his observations he remarked that one of his tenants, whom he described as no good, had been thrown out by him. This tenant was Herr Sohst, who is regarded in the neighborhood as a most capable farmer, and whose lease had still several years to run.

It has taken six weeks to arrange the matter, and in some quarters it is believed that it would not have been arranged even now had not the crown prince taken the matter up and urged a settlement.

Cornerstone of Successful Farming

More essential than instruction in farming itself is the teaching of domestic economy as it may be applied by the farmer's wife, for domestic economy is the underlying principle of successful farming. The farmer may work for years but he can progress no further than his wife progresses. If the woman is without the knowledge to become efficient in her department then farm life is one of discontent and dissatisfaction.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS QUICKLY CURED HIS KIDNEY DISEASE

How Hudson Marchbank, After Suffering for Five Years, Found Quick Relief and Permanent Cure in the Greatest of Canadian Remedies

Marchbank, King's County, N.B. (Special)—After suffering for five years from kidney disease, brought on by a strain, Hudson Marchbank, Esq., the well-known farmer of this place, is again a strong, healthy man, and another grand cure for Dodd's Kidney Pills has been put on record. In an interview Mr. Marchbank says:

"About five years ago I hurt my back from lifting, and it developed into kidney disease. My back pained me all the time, and I was very much troubled with headaches. My appetite was fitful; I had a bitter taste in my mouth in the mornings; I perspired freely, and my perspiration had a disagreeable odor.

"I used liniments and plasters, but they did not do me any good, and as there were other symptoms that my kidneys were affected, I decided to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. After using two boxes, my back was completely cured, and my kidneys have not troubled me since."

When Mr. Marchbank decided that his kidneys were the cause of his troubles, the rest was easy. Almost any of his neighbors could tell him that Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure diseased kidneys.

JUDGE AND LAWYER ASSAILED

Strange and Turbulent Scene Marks Close of Murder Trial at Naples

Naples, Italy. — The trial of Yvoane de Villespreux, the young Italian comedy actress, who is said to have killed her lover, Dr. Ettore Turdo, in a fit of jealousy, has come to an abrupt close with disgraceful scenes of violence between the king's procurator general and the lawyers for the defense.

Although the accused has been in prison awaiting trial for three years, the medical experts it is said, have not had time to examine her mental condition, while the chief of the forty witnesses are now scattered in various parts of North and South America and Erythrea. For these reasons the procurator general, who corresponds to the American district attorney, moved the indefinite postponement of the trial to a future assize. To this the presiding judge agreed.

This was the signal for an outbreak of disorder. Atrocious insults were hurled from the well of the court against the chancellor, procurator and judges. 'Scoundrels, liars!' bawled the procurator general. 'Base villain!' retorted the chief lawyers for the defense. The procurator then sprang from the bench with uplifted fists. Court attendants hurriedly interposed themselves between the combatants, while the presiding judge jumped from the bench, and tugging vigorously at the procurator's toga, got that official out of danger by a back exit. The crowd cheered the disorderly lawyers, while armed police were ordered to clear the court.

Before this amazing scene the judge had put the prisoner through clever cross-examination, during which, after reminding her that before she was 18 she had been twice charged with theft and condemned to ten months' detention in a reformatory, he elicited that instead of having been born in Spain, as she pretended Villespreux had never been nearer that country than Turin, her native city. She admitted that her real name is Fornais, that she had fled from home when barely 13, and that before starting her stage career she had been a chambermaid. She pleaded she took the blame of one of the thefts herself, in order to shield a criminal lover she was living with at the time.

Is Health Only A Game of Chance?

If you are accustomed to look on health as a gamble you will probably prove a loser early in the game.

Some may hold on to health and life for considerable time and defy the laws of nature, but there are many rules of the game which are conducive to health and long life.

Take nervous diseases, for example. There are many symptoms to warn one of the approach of nervous exhaustion long before there is danger of locomotor ataxia or some dreadful form of paralysis.

But they seem such little things that their danger signal is not taken notice of. Sleeplessness, headache, indigestion, irritability, loss of vigor and energy, discouragement and dispondency, all point to low vitality and exhausted nerves.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has been wonderfully successful in the cure of nervous disease of a serious nature, such as prostration, locomotor ataxia and partial paralysis, but persistent treatment and considerable patience are necessary.

On this account we prefer to think of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as a preventive treatment, which overcomes these symptoms by rebuilding the feeble, wasted nerve cells and restoring vigor to mind and body.

Red Forbes

The Story of His Latest "Grouch"

By CLARISSA MACKIE

Red Forbes sat on the porch of his ranch house and peered through a pair of fieldglasses across the level grassy plain into the distance, where were two moving specks.

"It's her and him," said Red Forbes enigmatically. He tilted his chair down upon its four legs, replaced the glass in the accustomed case on the wall of the house and lurched toward his saddled horse.

"I'll get him today," he muttered as he bent to tighten a girth before mounting. "No man can take my girl away from me without making trouble for himself and her too!" And, still muttering, he dashed away in the direction of the two specks, which were growing smaller and smaller.

Red Forbes was quite capable of making trouble for any number of people in the short grass country. Indeed, his reputation as a creator of disturbances was county wide, and he was accordingly shunned.

Forbes' latest grouch was directed against Jimmy Pike of the Three Link outfit. Jimmy had assiduously courted the pretty schoolteacher, and even now had just returned from her Ohio home, whence he had brought her as a bride.

Red Forbes had been watching out for them for a week. Now he had spotted them. He had not formed any plan of revenge, but there would be no harm in riding them down recklessly and glowering at them from under his hat. It would make things uncomfortable until he could formulate a plan.

Jimmy Pike knew Short Grass from one end of the county to the other and from corner to corner. He was aware of the weaknesses of Red Forbes. Moreover, he was weary of the perpetual stir-up caused by the red haired one's fancied grievance. In fact, there had not been a peaceful courtship and marriage in the region since Forbes' appearance there six years before.

"MAYBE YOU'LL LET ME HAVE A DANCE."

Therefore Jimmy Pike, who was naturally a peace loving citizen, made up his mind that Red Forbes should find an affinity that would be lasting.

He returned from his wedding with every preparation made for the rapid cure of Red Forbes.

On this particular day he and his bride had gone near enough to the Forbes ranch to be recognized. Then they headed for home, and by the time the red headed one had galloped himself into a state of profuse perspiration Jimmy and Mrs. Jimmy had disappeared.

There was nothing for Forbes to do save to ride all over to the town and see if there might not be a letter for him. He hoped for various reasons that there would not be anything.

There was a letter, and it proved to be an invitation to a dance in the schoolhouse the following night. "Ladies, Refreshments and Gents—Music," it said in one corner.

Forbes grinned fiendishly. This would suit his purpose admirably. He would publicly denounce Jimmy Pike as a rustler and demand satisfaction for alienation of affections. Forbes strengthened this resolve with several drinks and then went to Fiederman's clothing store and purchased a pale blue satin necktie.

The schoolhouse was well filled when Red Forbes arrived. Ben Dickson was playing a rackety piano in one corner, and several couples were dancing.

Forbes glanced fiercely around, nodding moodily in response to the pleasant greetings that met him on all sides. He felt a bit puzzled and more resentful. Here was a great gang of fellows he had known for years, and many of them had their wives with them.

Jimmy Pike and his bride were standing temptingly near. When he caught Jimmy's eye that calloused young cattleman nodded pleasantly and beckoned him over.

"I haven't heard you congratulating me on marrying the nicest girl in the hull world," grinned Jimmy.

"Huh!" Red Forbes grew redder and redder until his presence seemed to cast a roseate sunset glow upon the company. The azure necktie was like a glimpse of blue sky in the sunset.

Mrs. Jimmy shook hands with Red Forbes and tried not to wince when he crushed her fingers.

"Maybe you'll let me have a dance with the bride," growled Red Forbes hoarsely.

"Of course it's up to Mrs. Pike," acquiesced Jimmy cheerfully.

"With pleasure," agreed Mrs. Jimmy, with a reproachful glance at her husband.

Then the rackety piano swung into a waltz tune, and Red Forbes swore softly. He was a wretched waltzer, and he knew it. Square dances were his salvation. Now he trampled all over the little feet of Mrs. Jimmy Pike and scowled villainously whenever he met a pleasant smile among the company.

This wasn't having his revenge upon Jimmy Pike. They were certainly getting the laugh upon him. As he shuffled around in dizzying, aimless circles he pondered whether he would shoot up the dance or let them go home in peace and pick out a quiet moment when he should find Jimmy Pike alone on the plain, shoot him dead and then marry the widow.

This latter plan appealed to him, and as he danced he came to think of the newly made bride as "the widow" and called her so in his mind

After the dance was over and as he leaned against the wall, a wallflower indeed, there was a flurry of arrival at the door.

Lamson Culver, boss of the Three Link outfit, came in with another man and two women. One of the women was Mrs. Culver. One could recognize her sharp features through the thick veil she wore, but the other woman could not be identified. She, too, was thickly veiled in pale blue chiffon. She was plump and gave evidence of prettiness. There was a loop of gold colored hair visible.

"We can't stay but a minute," said Culver genially as he introduced his friend as "Mr. Jackson, a friend from Tucson:"

Mr. Jackson immediately approached the prettiest woman present, who was none other than Mrs. Jimmy Pike, and invited her to dance.

Fiercely jealous, Red Forbes glanced around for new fields to conquer. The strange woman, still veiled, was talking to Jimmy Pike in a vivacious manner. Mrs. Culver, also veiled and cloaked, was dancing with her husband.

Red Forbes marched up to Jimmy Pike and his companion. His long body stiffened and then bent like a bladed jackknife in the accepted short grass fashion.

He was asking her to dance in the very face of Jimmy Pike. That was an open insult to Pike.

To his delight, she accepted at once and, slipping her hand upon his arm, turned away from Jimmy Pike.

It was a square dance, and Ben Dickson was calling the numbers in punctuated yells.

Red Forbes was in his element. He balanced to corners with upward flings of his long legs and ungainly jerks of his elbows. He swung his partner off her very solidly placed feet time and again, but she did not murmur. He joined in all hands around with hilarious merriment, and his spirit of mirth seemed to be infectious. Everybody was very jolly.

"All sashay!" yelled Ben Dickson.

"Gracious, but it's warm here!" cried his partner breathlessly as they stood still for a moment.

"We'd all be mighty more comfortable if you'd rip off that there veil," insinuated Red Forbes delicately.

"Would you?" demanded his veiled partner coolly, and thereupon she put up her hands and unfastened the pale blue veil that matched Forbes' necktie.

A momentary hush fell upon the room. Everybody stopped dancing, but Red did not notice it. He was absorbed in the conquest he had made. If his other attempts at gallantry had been unsuccessful here was some one who appreciated him at last. Now, he didn't care about revenge upon Jimmy Pike or any of the others.

"A girl with golden hair for mine," he muttered in her ear as she removed the veil.

"I'm yours, all right," said his new affinity rather grimly.

She was. It was none other than the young wife he had deserted six years ago. True, her prettiness was now bolstered up by those arts that may be obtained for a price in the stores with colored water bottles in the windows, but she was his, and he was hers.

Mrs. Red Forbes stood there with one plump hand on her husband's arm and a look of repossession on her face.

"Well, Red, here we are again," she said meaningly. "There's plenty to do between now and tomorrow if we're all going to pack back to Tucson. Mr. Jackson there, my lawyer, will tell you the three children are waiting for you to come back and take care of 'em. I'm tired of keeping boarders."

Red Forbes went gladly. It was nice to get away from quizzical glances and reproachful ones, for he had tried to court many of the fair ones there—and he was married, after all. It was rather a pleasant change to find a sprightly lady with golden hair who really appeared to want him. So Red Forbes wently gladly, triumphantly after a fashion, and Short Grass knew him no more and was thankful.

Sun Spots.

Astronomers have no generally accepted theory as to the cause and nature of sun spots, but some connection with terrestrial phenomena surely exists, because the curves representing the frequency of megnetic storms and of the aurora borealis are practically identical with the curve of sun spot frequency.

Pomp of English Mayors.

Considerable pomp attends the office of mayor in English cities. Chichester arms its chief magistrate with a gold mounted malacca cane of office, while the mayor of Guildford carries the stick presented to the borough by Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth. At York both the lord mayor and lady mayoress are equipped with the silver mounted oak staves which have marked their authority for centuries. Among the official retainers of the mayor of Ripon is the municipal horn blower, who every night at nine o'clock gives three blasts upon this aged musical instrument before the mayor's residence and again at the marked cross.—London Standard.

Debutante Wrap For Summer.

knees, give an exceedingly modern silhouette, and a new note is the girlish collar of fine swiss embroidery which falls over the deep collar of the wrap.

An Idea For the Slender.

Many girls and women who are unnaturally thin would be glad to hear of an idea that can be quite simply carried out which would give their figures just that rounded appearance that is lacking. It is a form of brassiere with a number of tiny frills of cambric, one overlapping the other, covering the upper part of the bodice and gradually tapering off lower down.

A CANADIAN PEER.

Baron Aylmer's Accession Was a Romantic One.

The fact is sometimes overlooked that Britain has a real "Colonial Peerage," the history of which has many romantic points of interest. The term "the Colonial Peerage" would naturally seem to suggest those sturdy statesmen and empire-builders, Lords Strathcona and Mount-Stephen. Yet, curiously enough, they can scarcely come under that nomenclature, as they were both born in Britain, and have apparently every determination to die in it.

By the "Colonial Peerage," then, is meant those noble families whose permanent home is beyond the confines of the British Isles, and who are by birth, instinct, and predilection "pioneers of the truest colonial type. The consideration of this small Colonial Peerage naturally prompts one to enquire how it came about that noble British houses should become so far expatriated from the land of their origin as to have a permanent domicile at the ends of the Empire. Adversity will naturally suggest itself as the prime reason. It was misfortune that accounts for the Canadian domicile of the Aylmers; the Indian domicile of the Gardners; and the New Zealand residence of the Seafields.

So acute did the crisis in the affairs of the Aylmers become that the sixth lord allowed his title to lapse. He was, too, unmarried, and as the family had then long been lost to the Old Country, and had become forgotten, the House of Lords was in no mood to admit the claim of one Sir Udolphus Aylmer, as "Baron Aylmer" when he sent over his claim to that dignity. He was, of course, a born Canadian, and unknown in London.

Two years passed before the Lords would admit him to their ranks. He imported the Huguenot French-Canadian strain into the family by his marriage with a Miss Journeaux. He was a real "pioneer," an ardent agriculturists, and commanded the 5th Canadian Infantry Militia for nearly forty years.

He was eighty-eight at his death, and the present Lord Aylmer has followed in his footsteps in military activity. He is now something over 70, and his wife is a daughter of a distinguished colonial statesman. Other members of the Aylmer family promise ere long to loom large in Canadian affairs.

How "Valmond" Was Written.

There are Canadians who rather pride themselves on never reading novels by Canadian authors and who adopt the traditional attitude regarding any good in their own land. There are, at least, two Canadian writers of fiction who are well worth reading, and one of them is Sir Gilbert Parker. "When Valmond Came to Pontiac" is as good as the "Prisoner of Zenda." In the introduction of the book Sir Gilbert tells how it was written.

"The manuscript of the book was complete within four weeks. It possessed me. I wrote night and day. There were times when I went to bed and, unable to sleep, I would get up at two o'clock or three o'clock in the morning and write till breakfast time. A couple of hours' walk after breakfast, and I would write again until nearly two o'clock. Then luncheon; afterward a couple of hours in the open air, and I would again write till eight o'clock in the evening. The world was shut out. I moved in a dream."

He goes on to describe the progress of the book until it nears its end. "I could not shake the thing off, the last pages demanded to be written. The sermon which the old Cure was preaching on Valmond's death was running in my head. I could not continue my walk. Then and there I stepped into the Windsor Hotel, which I was passing, and asked if there was a stenographer at liberty. There was. In the stenographer's office of the Windsor Hotel, with the life of a caravanserai buzzing around me, I dictated the last few pages of 'When Valmond Came to Pontiac.' It was practically my only experience of dictation of fiction. I had never been able to do it, and have not been able to do it since, and I am glad that it is so, for I should have a fear of being led into mere rhetoric."

Treasure Trove on Farm.

While digging in an old gravel pit on the Prince farm, near Sandwich, Ont., recently, Joseph Morenci, a workman, unearthed a moss-covered oak chest containing $90 in 50-cent pieces. The coins were of United States thirteen-star design, used nearly a century ago, and showed signs of having been underground for a long time.

Many stories are about in the neighborhood as to how the money came to be buried. Some advance the theory that the coins were buried by the Indians. Others think the money was stolen and buried for safekeeping, while some believe it a relic of a gang of counterfeiters who at one time hid in the woods on the farm.

Maitre d'Hotel Butter

For use with beefsteak try preparing this famous butter in the following way: Have ready two large tablespoonfuls of butter, one scant tablespoonful of lemon juice, a little sprig of minced parsley and a seasoning of salt and pepper. If one likes it quite acid half as much lemon as butter or as much as the butter will hold can be used. Beat thoroughly and serve.

Help to the Housewife.

When asked how she accomplished so much work so easily the mother of a large family replied, "I work by schedule."

That is the secret of all easy work. If you live in a nerve racking rush try what keeping a schedule will do for you.

Buy a notebook and head opposite pages with the day and date. Before going to bed plan and write down the work for the next day. In the evening sum up what has been accomplished.

It does not take long to keep this simple schedule, but it is surprising how quick you learn system from it. Busy women go so far as to plan certain duties for certain hours.

Do not plan to do too much in one day, for then the opposite page is a disappointment which spurs you to unwise efforts or needless discouragement. What is left undone one day may be carried over to next day's planning page as a jog against procrastination.

Reading over such a notebook is an object lesson to the shiftless housewife who works by fits and starts, gets nothing accomplished, has no time for leisure and ends by being a nuisance to herself and a burden to her family.

Twelve Clearing Houses.

Western Canada now has twelve clearing house associations. In this list there are included the association at Fort William, which is almost wholly a western product with western affiliations, and the recently opened house at New Westminster. In the latter city the need for a clearing house has been keenly felt during the past year. The following seven banks in the coast city entered the association there: Commerce, Merchants, Montreal, Northern Crown, Royal, Toronto and Vancouver. The Montreal and Royal have also each a sub-office in the city.

Picking Up Diamonds.

To pick up diamonds on the ground as you crawl on your hands and knees is the newest way of acquiring great wealth in South Africa. It is in Damaraland where recent valuable finds are reported to have taken place. At one spot, it is told, 20 negro laborers, working under two white overseers, picked up 60,000 carats of diamonds, valued at more than $2,000,000, in three days, and at a point about 10 miles from Luderitzbucht, two white men gathered 8,000 carats, worth over $300,000, in a single afternoon. Diamonds have frequently been found in the streets of Luderitzbucht.

The great mass of the diamonds of Damaraland are found in the narrow valleys between the moving sand dunes, on a granite surface with its carpet of three or four inches of sand. In these flat places negro laborers in bands of from 10 to 50, with an overseer to every 10 or 12 men, crawl slowly on their knees over the sand in search of the gems, each one carrying a bottle in which he drops them as they are found. Fifty laborers will thus scan about an acre a day. One feature of diamond-hunting in Damaraland that seems almost uncanny lies in the circumstances that the same thoroughly searched area may be gone over again a few months afterward with an almost equally successful result as on the first inspection, proving that these gems are shifting.

The coast of Damaraland is like no other part of the world. For 500 miles the giant sand dunes, pushed unceasingly by the winds from the southwest, are piling up at the water's edge to the height of hundreds of feet, during the periods that the tide is out, to be undermined and overthrown when the sea returns. Some of the largest of these dunes have been known to move as much as 8 feet in 24 hours.

MANLY'S HARDWARE

NEWS OF THE CITY IN BRIEF

A sample of the first local strawberries was brought into the city last Saturday. Up to the present, however, the market has not been glutted nor the price affected by the home product.

No damage to the fruit crop has been reported from hail storm which passed over the valley last Sunday evening. In some localities the cherry crop was thinned out a little, but this appears to have been the extent of the damage.

Mesdames Nat Taylor and F. E. Cooper left last Friday for Vancouver to attend the annual meeting of the grand lodge of the Order of Rebekahs as representatives from the local lodge.

A mild form or fire blight has made its appearance in a few of the orchards of the valley. If a united effort is made to stamp it out, the disease can readily be eradicated before much damage is done; but if a policy of concealment—which some appear to think the only one when an unpleasant fact confronts them—is pursued, the malady may spread and become a serious pest. The Sun understands that orchard owners where the disease has made its appearance are take the only means yet known of checking it, i.e., pruning off the diseased portion of a tree and burning it.

Harry Chapman left for Vancouver last Friday to attend the annual meeting of the grand lodge, I. O. O. F., as a delegate from the local lodge.

While the rule of the road in British Columbia is to turn to the left, drivers of horses claim that when a team meets a motor car on a narrow road, where there is a high embankment on one side and a bluff on the other, the team is always entitled to the inside of the road.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Meagher left on Tuesday for a six weeks' vacation, which will be spent with friends and relatives in Portland, Oregon.

During the high wind on Saturday night a dead pine was blown across the eastern approach of the First street bridge, but beyond breaking the railing no damage was done.

One hundred and ten men are now employed by the British Columbia Copper company at the properties in the upper Voigt's camp near Princeton, which are being explored. Extensive diamond drilling operations are being carried out by the company on the properties.

Bobert McIntosh arrived in the city on Tuesday from Shuswap, where he has been superintending the construction of a government wagon bridge. He is on his way back to Victoria.

George W. Cooper has been spending the greater part of the present week in Phoenix, where he has a plumbing contract.

The Yale Annex has been repainted the same color as The Sun man's bungalow. Artistic taste.

Mrs. (Dr) J W. Frank, of Nelson, has been visiting relatives in the city this week.

The Ten Demandments

For boiled-down worldly wisdom it would be difficult to surpass the following "ten demandments" hanging in a dining room used by the employees of a London draper:

1. Don't lie. It wastes my time and yours. I am sure to catch you in the end, and that is the wrong end.

2. Watch your work, not the clock. A long day's works makes a long day short, and a short day's work makes my face long.

3. Give more than I expect, and I will give you more than you expect. I can afford to increase your pay if you increase my profits.

4. You owe so much to yourself you cannot afford to owe anybody else. Keep out of debt or keep out of my shop.

5. Dishonesty is never an accident. Good men, like good women, never see temptation when they meet it.

6. Mind your own business, and in time you will have a business of your own to mind.

7. Don't do anything here which hurts your self-respect. An employe who is willing to steal for me is willing to steal from me.

8. It is none of my business what you do at night. But if dissipation affects what you do the next day, and you do half as much as I demand, you'll last half as long as you hoped.

9. Don't tell me what I'd like to hear, but what I ought to hear. I don't want a valet for my vanity, but one for my money.

10. Don't kick if I kick. If you are worth while correcting you are worth while keeping. I don't waste time cutting specks out of rotten apples.
