A BIG INDUSTRY

Columbia Greenhouses Now Has 20,000 Square Feet Under Glass

Supplies the Markets of the Boundary and Kootenay Districts

The prettiest sight in Grand Forks or vicinity at present is the Columbia greenhouses, located just west of the city limits. To step inside the large glass buildings is to be instantly transported from bleak autumn to luxuriant midsummer. To the imaginative it must appear as if some good fairy had snddenly changed the seasons. And the buildings are of sufficient dimensions to make the illusion seem real even to the most prosaic. A sea of blooming flowers, of variegated colors and sweet fragrance, and a profusion of palms and ferns meet the eye on every hand.

From a very modest beginning, this has grown to be an institution of large proportions. Six years ago Frache Bros., the present proprietors, established this business with one house, or 1500 square feet under glass. Today this has grown to seven large houses, or a total of 20,000 square feet enclosed by glass. Of this total, 10,000 square feet have been added during the last twelve months. Of the seven houses, two are devoted to chrysanthemums, one to carnations, one to small plants, and three to lettuce,

There are 3000 chrysanthemum plants, and 10,000 buds. They are of different varieties and of all the colors of rainbow. They have just commenced to bloom and will last until after the holiday trade.

There are 1600 carnation plants in bloom, besides a large number of young plants that have just been set out for next season.

The three houses of lettuce consist of 12,000 plants. Some of them are now ready for the market, and there is enough of them to supply the markets of the Boundary and Kootenays until next spring. There are also a large number of beds of redishes, and a vast number of tomato plants have just been set out for the early spring trade.

In the house devoted to small plants may be seen, in great profu sion, geraniums, forget-me-nots, violets, fusias, blooming cactus, Chinese primroses that will bloom this winter, begonias, all varieties of smilax, cinerea, palms, ferns from a Boston fern to a maidenhair, the entire bulb family, such as calla lilies, Lilies of the Valley, Easter lilies, freesias, dahlias, hyacinths, narcissus, tulips and cyclamen, and a great variety of other plants too numerous to mention.

The Fracha Brothers do not depend entirely on the local or Boundary market. During the six years they have been in business they have worked up an excellent trade all through the Kootenays, and Nelson and Rossland are now two of their best customers.

The Sun today celebrates its seventh birthday.

A Triumph

David B. Gally in his picturesque romance, "We Are King," was greeted with capacity housee at the opera house on Monday evening, says the Brandon Sun of the 1st ult. The star and his play were strangers to Brandon theatre-goers, but they came under the direction of C. P. Walker, which was a sufficient guarantee to the public that the production merited good patronage. "We Are King" made a decided hit—the greatest hit of several seasons. It's seldom, indeed, Brandon people have an opportunity of seeing as finished an artist as David B. Gally. His play is bright, smart and intensely interesting—just the bill that the theatre devotee enjoys and the general public finds really entertaining. There was the same refreshing snap to the presentation of "We Are King" that characterizes all the Walker productions. There was everywhere evidence of that attention to detail which gives to a piece the swing of a finished production, the artistic air that success demands.

Mr. Gally, in the dual role of newspaper man and king, is at all times splendid. His comedy is delightful, refined and free from effort, his lovemaking is natural; and as king he showed great strength. His versatility is remarkable. Mis Clifton, as Fraulien Theresa, was simply charming. Her voice is of exceptional sweetness. She is possesed of great beauty and has a bewitching manner. Her part demanded great ability as an actress and she succeeded admirably. The support was perfect, so strong in fact that several members of the company in different scenes divided the honors with the principals. David B. Gally and his company deserves the warm support of western theatregoers, for the bill they provide is seldom equalled out this way.

"We Are King" will shortly be seen at the Grand Forks opera house.

Salvation Army Social

On Sunday afternoon and night Captain and Mrs. Johnstone, together with Lieut. M. Wright and their little three-year old drummer boy John, who have been conducting special services in the Salvation Army hall during the past two weeks, will conduct their farewell services. They will, however, remain in Grand Forks until Thursday, and will assist the officers in charge of the Salvation Army work here in the coffee aud cake social to be held next Tuesday night, commencing at 8 o'clock. In connection with the social, the officers have arranged to give an entertainment consisting of flag drills and barbell drills, executed by ten young ladies to music furnished by guitars, banjos, etc. Besides this, there will also be recitations, solo and duet singing, and a mouth organ and guitar medley by Capt. Johnstone. A good time is guaranteed all comers.

Mrs. Burwell's house, in the Ruckle addition, was burned to the ground last Saturday, together with all of her household effects. The only thing saved from the flames was the clothes she had on.

L. A. Manly returned last Saturday from an extended trip to the coast cities.

Frank Sherwood, U. S. customs officer at Ferry, was a visitor in the city yesterday.

NEWS OF THE CITY

Kellogg-Haines Singing Party Gives a Delightful Entertainment

Farmers' Institute Will Hold Two Meetings on Tuesday Next

The Kellogg-Haines Singing Party, which appeared at the opera house last Friday night before a large and appreciative audience, consisted of the best musical talent that has been heard in this city. Every one of the four people composing this company is an artist, and their music and operatic interpretations are beyond criticism. The company made their debut in a manner different from the usual musical organization, and they quickly captured the audience and received hearty encores. Their program was a a lengthy one, and closed with scenes from the light opera, "Dolly Varden," in which many musical specialties, en costume, were introduced, all of which were greeted with hearty applause. During the intermission Mr. H. C. Hanington, president of the 20,000 club, under whose auspices the concert was given, took occasion to thank the citizens for the hearty support tendered the company, thus encouraging the club in its efforts to secure amusements of a high class for the people. Four more entertainments will be given under the auspieces of the club during the present season, the next attraction being Opie Reed, the well known author, humorist and entertainer. Tickets for the four entertainments can now be purchased for $3.00.

On Tuesday next, November 5th, two meetings of the Grand Forks Farmers' Institute will be held in Alberta hall. The afternoon session, at which general business of the institute will be transacted, will be called to order promptly at 3 o'clock. In the evening, commencing at 8 o'clock, a social entertninment, consisting of vocal and instrumental selections, will be given. Short addresses on horticulture will also be given by Mr. Anderson, deputy minister of agriculture, and Miss Rose, of Guelph, Ont. Every one interested in agriculture and horticulture in the valley should not fail to attend.

Recent visitors to the city have commented unfavorably on the fact that the storekeepers of Grand Forks appear to lack pride in making their shop windows look attractive. Window dressing is an important part of the mercantile business, and deserves special attention.

Mr. C. C. Heven, wife and five children arrived in the city last Friday from Indian Head, Sask. Mr. Heven is the vanguard of Northwest people who have purchased tracts of fruit lands J. W. Brown. Mr. Heven is well qualified to engage in the fruit growing business, as he has been one of the head gardeners at the government experimental farm at Indian Head for a number of years. For the present he will assist Mr. Brown in ploughing and planting the land for himself and the other purchasers, who are to follow him next spring. The family have been living in the city this week, but a couple of days ago a carload of their household effects and some livestock arrived from Indian Head, and yesterday they moved down to the ranch. The Heven family is valuable acquisition to the valley.

A case that appears to have escaped the vigilance of the police of the city is reported to have occurred last Monday night. A smelterman residing between the Henderson hill and the mountain is accused of having most unmerifully beaten his wife. The screams of the woman could be heard for blocks away, and neighbors who hurried to the scene, fearing that a burglary or murder was being committed, state that when they reached the house they found that the woman had been shamefully maltreated and that the daughter of the couple had fainted from fright. The case appears to be one demanding investigation, and if the facts prove to be as stated above, just punishment should be meted out to the culprit.

The city electrician has installed an arc lamp at the corner of Winnipeg avenue and First street. This throws additional light on the opera house.

McNeill & Henniger have built an addition to the rear of their warehouse, and Kettle Valley line cars can now be loaded and unloaded from their rear platform.

Kenneth Hankinson, of Mipway, spent Thanksgiving day in this city. He stated that the chief engineer's staff of the V., V. & E. would move from Midway to Keremeos in a few days.

Fred McKeehan insists that the balloon he saw at Marcus last week had an alderman aboard for Grand Forks. Where is he now?

John Peterson, who has been spending two or three weeks in the city, returned to Hedley last Saturday.

The blacksmiths of the Boundary, Okanagan and Similkameen districts held a meeting this week, and, on account of the advance in the price of iron and steel, decided to advance the scale of prices for work on the 1st inst.

R. H. Trueman, the well known Vancouver photographer, will arrive in Grand Forks on the 10th inst. This will be his last visit to the city before the Christmas holidays.

The "Texas Ranger" company filled a night's engagement at the opera house on Tuesday to a small audience. The play is of the highly-colored wild west character, with lots shooting and profanity. In fact, it is a regular nerve wrecker. It is the product of the imaginative eastern dime novel writer. No one in the west ever saw anything quite so sensational. The interpretation of the piece did not rise above the ordinary.

Fred McKeehan, U. S. immigration inspection at this point, made a brief visit to Spokane this week.

Two men were up before Police Magistrate Cochrane on Tuesday last, and were fined $10 each for practicing the manly art on Riverside avenue.

TYROS INITIATED

Class of 100 Solve the Mysteries of the Knights of Kohrassen

Large Number of Visitors Attend the Ceremonies in Phoenix

About thirty members of Grand Forks Lodge No. 30, K. of P., went up to Phoenix last Saturday evening to assist the Phoenix lodge to initiate a class of 100 tyros into the mysteries of the dramatic order of the Knights of Kohrassen. The members of Phoenix lodge have been preparing for thi event for the past two week, and the ceremonies attending the initiation proved a success. Besides the local members and the visitors from this city, El Mabarraz Temple No. 92, was represented by fifty or sixty visitors, who yrrived in Phoenix on the evening train with their brass brand. Greenwood was represented by about thirty members, and there was also a fair attendance from Midway, Eholt, Danville, Republic, Chesaw and other towns. All these visitors taxed the capacity of the large Miners' Union hall, in which the ceremonies were held. On the arrival of the Great Northern train in Phoenix a procession was held through the streets of the city, after which the ceremouies of initiation, with a class of about 100, including a number of members from this city, were gone through with. Following the initiation a banquet was held, elaborate preparations also having been made for this part of the entertainment. The Grand Forks and Spokane members returned to their homes on Sunday morning. One member who took the dramatic degree states that the jar made by the explosion of a stick of stumping powder is child's play compared with the antics of the goat. This man has now had considerable experience with both elements, and his statement should carry a great deal of weight.

With the flower gardens still in full bloom, it is rather difficult to realize that today is the 1st of November. Last Sunday City Clerk McCallum trotted down town with a bouquet, gathered from his garden, that reminded one of midsummer. And there are hundreds of other gardens in the city just like his.

Dr. Truax has been appointed quarantine officer at this point. His chief duty in connection with the office at present is to inspect the condition of the Hindus who are returning from Spokane.

The Conservatives appeal to the people to be placed in power, promising an end to extravagance, and that the civil service shall be reformed, and the will of the people carried out. But the Conservative platform pledges the party to an expenditure of millions of dollars for purchase of public utilities, and promises to hand over the principal functions of government to a commission not responsible to the people. This is another evidence of Tory audacity in making rash promises to gain control of the government.

Some Conservative ideas are ludicrousness inconsistent. Of course everybody who devotes attention to politics has observed the dilemma of Foster et al., the men who criticise the government for doing certain things, and when the curtrin is ruthlessly lifted by a public commission from their own lives, lo and behold, they stand naked and convicted of the self-same crimes. The Conservatives accuse the Liberals of wanton extravagance, but Foster says he would borrow large sums of money and spend them throughout Canada. The Lord deliver us from such a minister of finance. The Conservatives accuse the Liberals of excessive expenditures of money, and yet they desire to embark in a financial deal involving hundreds of millions in purchasing great public utilities and handing them over to the tender mercies of inexperienced persons who, of course, would see nothing wrong in diverting large sums into channels leading to political corruption funds. The Conservatives say the lands should be "restored" to the new provinces, intimating thereby that the provinces have been deprived of them, but this restoration is to be accomplished by a certain large payment in cash, which would suggest with equal strength that if provinces want the lands they must pay for them. The Conservatives say there must be reform in the civil service, and they pledge themselves if elected to forthwith delegate the power of appointment to a commission which will not be responsible to the people, but will, of course, be of the purest and most uncompromising Tory stripe. Other matters in the platform might be referred to, but the above examples are sufficient to illustrate the contention that the Conservatives are culpably inconsistent, and that the platform upon which they are appealing to the people is a platform of evasion, and that should they be returned to power and keep their pre-election pledges, a blow would be struck at the very root of representative government, because the Conservatives, if they kept faith, would be bound to divest themselves of important governmental functions, and the people would apparently be left without a remedy.

"Egyptian of Pompeii"

"The Egyptian of Pompeii," under the direction of Harold Nelson and Clifford Lane Bruce, will appear at the Grand Forks opera house on Tuesday evening, November 8.

The play opens with the fete day at Pompeii. Nydia, the blind girl, wanders through the streets selling flowers. Glaucus, the noble Athenian, converses with her, but does not guess that she loves him, for to him she is but a child, and his affections are centered upon Ione, the beautiful Neapolitan maiden. She and her brother, Apaecides, have been pupils of Arbaces, the Egyptian, and he, while trying to keep the brother from becoming a Christian, tries at the same time to win Ione for his bride. She, however, loves Glaucus. The interest of the play circles round Arbaces, the Egyptian, who with his base treachery and cunning makes a strong personality.

The plot is good. The costumes are typical of that early era, the sandalled feet, the flowing robes, and the band of Christians in their black cloaks and hoods.

While this production is under the direction of Harold Nelson and Clifford Lane Bruce, they have spared no pains to make this new venture a success. A capable company of New York players have been chosen to fill the various roles to support Miss Helene Scott, who appears as Ione, the Neapolitan maiden. Miss Scott is too well known through the west to need mention, having appeared for so many seasons as leading woman for the Nelson-Bruce company. Her many friends and admirers here will be glad to welcome her after an absence of two years.

Mr. Joseph DeStefani, an actor of great ability and long experience, appears in the role of Arbaces, which demands more than ordinary ability to portray. The play is a dramatization of Bulwer-Lytton's famous novel, the Last Days of Pompeii.

Special scenery has been provided, and the curtain descends upon the magnificent spectacle of Vesuvius in eruption.

Recipe Very Easily Prepared, and Many Swear By It

Many of Our Citizens Speak Well of the Home Prescription

Mix the following by shaking well in a bottle, and take in teaspoonful doses after meals and at bedtime:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Campound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. A local druggist is the authority that these simple, harmless ingredients can be obtained at nominal cost from our home druggists.

The mixture is said to cleanse and strengthen the clogged and inactive kidneys, overcoming backache, bladder weakness and urinary trouble of all kinds, if taken before the stage of Bright's disease.

Those who have tried this say it positively overcomes pain in the back, clears the urine of sediment and regulates urination, especially at night, curing even the worst forms of bladder weakness.

Every man or woman here who feels that the kidneys are not strong or acting in a healthy manner should mix this prescription at home and give it a trial, as it is said to do wouders for many persons.

The Scranton, Pa., Times was first to print this remarkable prescription, in October, 1906, since whon all the leading newspapers of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburg and other cities have made many announcements of it to their readers.

THE BOUNDARY DISTRICT

Wm. Madern and Sophia Nystrom, both of Greenwood, were united in marriage at Spokane last week.

P. D. Ahier, superintendent of the Cariboo mine, Camp McKinney, was married last week at Enderby to Miss E. Byrnes of New Denver.

Anaconda, adjoining Greenwood, would like to have a flag station on the C.P.R.

A masquerade ball will be given at the town hall, Eholt, on the evening of November 8th, the proceeds to go to furnishing the hall.

Alex Robinson, of Greenwood, is starting a lumber and tie camp on the North Fork of Kettle river. He intends to install a sawmill.

G. L. Woodward, the Kettle Valley line tie contractor, has closed down his camps for the winter months.

N. F. Kendall, for two years in the Bank of Montreal, Greenwood, left for Nelson last Thursday, having received a promotion in a branch of the same bank.

The Methodist church of Greenwood has followed the example of the Anglican church in the same town, and is now out of debt. Anniversary services were held recently, and the balance of $370 was subscribed in a short time to accomplish the desired end.

The smelter managers near Greenwood did not care to endorse the idea of the Greenwood board of trade, when interviewed to petition the Dominion government to refuse further favors to the V., V. & E. till the company built its line from Midway to Denoro via Greenwood.

President Warner Miller, of New York, and other Dominion Copper company officials, are said to be on their way to the Boundary.

Steam is being kept up in one boiler at the Brooklyn mine for the purpose of pumping until the wishes of the Dominion Copper company officials, who are about to visit the Boundary, are known.

A flagpole has been raised on top of the new Granby Victoria shaft, and the Union Jack was flung to the breeze last week at a distance of 140 feet from the ground.

Concreting has been started on the foundation of the new compressor building at the Mother Lode. Both day and night shifts are employed on the work. When this compressor is finished it will be, with one exception, the largest in Canada.

The B. C. Copper company is doing considerable extension work at its smelter at Greenwood. A new centrifugal pump, with a capacity of 1000 gallons per minute, has also been installed.

False School Reports

To the Editor of The Sun.

DEAR SIR:—The McBride government is guilty of having published false and misleading reports about some of the teachers of the public schools.

On August 23 last I asked the acting minister of education to promise that this would not occur in the next public school report. He said he would pass it on to the minister of education. I then, on August 24, appealed to Premier McBride. He, too, promised to pass it on. On August 27 I again appealed to the premier, but he was going a-fishing and promised to look into the matter on his return. I presume he is still looking into it.

The next public schools report is likely being prepared now, and the people should be warned through the press that the government has so far given no promise that it will prevent such a scandal in the next report.

Proof that the government did publish false and misleading reports in the last public schools report, 1905-1906: On page A21 Inspector Wilson says he inspected Alberni new school on February 21, 1906, and that the school room was untidy, etc. On page A L 1, Table C, public school teachers during 1905-1906, Alberni New, Miss E. C. Ohlson.

That statement is false. Miss Ohlson did not teach one day there in 1906, because I taught that school myself every day during 1906. I was in charge of the school when Inspector Wilson came, and I had been from the first of the year 1906, and so the statement of Inspector Wilson is nothing less than a slander on the good name of that young lady.

You may search through the report and my name does not appear anywhere; yet I was in charge of the school, and to me falls the honor of being charged with having an untidy school-room, etc.

Again, on page A42, Inspector Gordon says he Inspected Keefers' school on April 26, 1906, and that the tone of the school was poor, etc. On page A LV, public school teachers during 1905-1906, Keefers', Miss L. E. Frith. That statement is false. I am now in charge of the Keefers' school, and I know that that young lady was not the teacher during 1906, nor was she in charge when Inspector Gordon visited the school; so that statement, too, is a slander upon the good name of another young lady.

I cannot understand how a person who puts any value upon his own honor can allow the honor of another (especially of a lady) to be besmirched.

I therefore appeal to the people to call upon their representatives to vote against a government that is guilty of such disgraceful conduct, because in years to come, when we are dead and gone, the undeserved slur on the character of those two young ladies will still remain in the public schools report of 1905 1906.

Will the stone rise or fall? Heated discussion; break-up of party; no result. Can any reader help to settle this question?
