

STREET CARNIVAL

Preparations Now Being Perfected That Will Make It a Grand Success.

Grand Forks, Rossland and Phoenix Name Candidates for Queen.

It is evident that this big event has now taken a palpable hold on the public not only here but in surrounding towns. The thousand and one projects that have been set in motion are about to be precipitated. The tireless energy of the carnival directors is proving fruitful and soon a truly marvellous change will take place in the general aspect of Grand Forks. The triumphal arch, which will constitute the main entrance to the carnival grounds, is now in process of construction. This imposing structure, together with the queen's chariot and throne, will be works of art in classic architecture, designed by specially imported artists. The irresistible merry-go-round is in active preparation. New and wonderful features are coming in with amazing celerity. The greatest available novelties, rope walkers, balloonists, parachute jumpers, jugglers, acrobats, etc., have been procured from all parts of America and the provinces.

The coronation and presentation of her most gracious majesty, the queen of the carnival, with her maids, courtiers and attendants, will present an imposing spectacle of regal splendor. The nominees for this enviable position are as follows: Miss Rose Hoffman, of Grand Forks; Miss Burrell, of Rossland; Miss Annie Pierce, of Phoenix. Up to the present time the name of Nelson's fair nominee has not arrived.

The merchants should all enter into the true spirit of the event and make their establishments a blaze of decorative splendor.

All these preparations are drawing the attention of thousands to this city, where for a few days dull care will be set aside; the floodgates of pleasure will be thrown wide open and joy will be unconfined.

SUNSET SAUNTERINGS

M. S. Mossler, a director of the Betts and Hesperus Mining Co., Ltd., and W. M. Thornton, a capitalist, both of Chicago, arrived in the city this week, in company with Manager Bert Rae, for the purpose of inspecting the Betts and Hesperus property, located on Hardy mountain. They expressed themselves as highly satisfied with the showing at that promising mine. They will also inspect the big mines of Boundary, with whose future they are deeply impressed.

W. G. Perkins, late superintendent of the Northport smelter and formerly chief assayer at the Granby smelter in this city, has been appointed manager of the Cataract Copper company's new smelter at Basin, Mont., and Al McCormick, formerly assistant assayer at the Granby plant in this city and late assayer at the Le Roi mine in Rossland, has received the appointment of assistant manager of the same smelter. Both gentlemen left for Montana this week. The above aptly illustrates how quickly men of ability and integrity climb to the highest positions of responsibility. Their numerous friends in this city will be glad to learn of their rapid rise in their chosen professions.

The Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting & Power company has an expert mining man in the Similkameen country examining and sampling the various properties. This move may be regarded as significant in view of the presence of Great Northern surveyors in that district and the persistency of the report that President Hill intends to extend his road to that section without delay.

Billy Towe, of the Granby smelter, has returned from a tour through the Similkameen country, bringing with him some splendid specimens of native copper from his group of claims sixty miles north of Prince on. Copper of this variety, and grey copper mixed with sulphide ore, extend to the bottom of a forty-foot shaft. He thinks he has a world beater.

Special attention is directed to the Grand Forks Driving Park and Athletic association's advertisement in this issue, inviting tenders for privileges on the race track grounds during the meeting here on the 25th, 26th and 27th inst.

The Granby smelter baseball club will cross bats with the Granby mines team in Phoenix next Sunday.

Phoenix is reported to be enjoying a huge wave of prosperity.

The ladies of the Hill party enjoyed a day's angling for mountain trout while in the city. Reports as to the number and size of the fish they caught vary, the same as with the local sportmen.

The prize list of the Nelson fair, which will be held on September 28th and 29th, has been received at this office. The list of premiums offered is longer this year than last, and of a more substantial nature. Those of our readers who are interested in this event can gain additional information by reading their ad in this issue.

"Old Tom" is no more. He got too inquisitive about the machinery at the smelter the other night and had his front paws cut off, and so the boys had to kill him. They executed him three times before he was pronounced dead enough for burial. His remains were interred, together with his other six lives, with due impressiveness. Tom was only the smelter cat, and has been at that institution for three years. His peculiarity consisted of being the only animal that apparently thrived on sulphur smoke. It is said that even Superintendent Hodges shed tears when he heard of the sad catastrophe that had overtaken Old Tom. Requiescat in pace.

Wm. Holden, a well known Vancouver insurance man, is in town.

INSTANTLY KILLED

Oscar Turnquist the First Victim on the Phoenix Branch.

Charles Halberry Is Also Severely Injured in an Explosion.

One man was instantly killed Tuesday, two miles this side of Phoenix, in the first fatality that has taken place since construction work was commenced on the Phoenix branch of the Great Northern. The accident happened near the No. 2 camp of Burns & Jordan, at a point where a large amount of rock must be removed, and where Johnson, Turnquist and companions had taken five or six stations of work. They had drilled and sprung a good sized hole and poured in six kegs of black powder, when it clogged. Then they started a small hole farther down the hill for the purpose of intersecting the larger hole. When the black powder was reached by the drill an explosion occurred, blowing Turnquist into small pieces and slightly injuring another workman.

Dr. Boucher was at once summoned and hastened to the scene of the accident, but he could only find parts of the unfortunate victim of the casualty, his remains being scattered in several directions. D. J. Darraugh, provincial constable at Eholt, was notified and came post-haste, while the coroner, Dr. G. M. Foster, of Greenwood, was informed of the event. After looking into the case he decided that an inquest was unnecessary. The funeral was held Wednesday morning.

Turnquist was a single man, 47 years of age, and a native of the southern part of Sweden, having been on this side the water for some years.

Charles Halberry, who was slightly injured at the same time, was able to proceed to the railway construction hospital in this city Wednesday morning.

From the latest account of the accident, it appears that Turnquist did not drill into the loaded hole from the small hole run below, as at first reported, but was in the lower hole and had succeeded in getting most of the powder out, when one of the workmen, supposing Turnquist was out, used an iron spoon to make the main hole clearer, so that more powder could be poured into it. When this set off the powder remaining in the hole, Turnquist was blown straight out of the lower tunnel as from a catapult, fragments of his body being scattered for a distance of several hundred feet. The officials gathered up as much of the remains as could be found for burial.

County Court

County court was called to order Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock by his honor Judge Leamy. The jury, however, wasn't summoned until 11:00, and an adjournment was made to that hour. On the ressembling of court, Mr. Hanington, on behalf of himself and other members of the bar, arose and said he had a matter he wished to bring before the court before the regular order of business was taken up. He then stated that he had learned only that morning that this was the last occasion on which Deputy Sheriff McCallum would be acting with them in his official capacity, and he thought that it was only fitting that he should thank him, not only for himself, but on behalf of the other members of the bar, for the very excellent services which he had rendered, and he could assure him that they all appreciated the manner in which he had always done his duty as deputy sheriff.

Judge Leamy then addressed Mr. McCallum at length, dwelling upon his efficiency as deputy sheriff, his courteous manner at all times, never using unnecessary authority; always attentive, ready and willing to perform his duties at the sittings of the court. In conclusion he said that he only hoped that the court would find in Mr. McCallum's successor, as he had no doubt they would, one who would give as good satisfaction as Mr. McCallum had done.

Mr. McCallum then made a brief reply, thanking his honor and the members of the bar for their kindness, and assuring them that he appreciated very highly the fact that he had given satisfaction, and from his personal acquaintance with Mr. Kernan, the incoming sheriff, he felt satisfied that they would find in him a very efficient and obliging officer.

There were but two cases on the docket. In the case of P. Burns & Co. vs. Blakeway & Urlin, being a disputed meat account, the jury brought in a verdict in favor of the plaintiffs. E. Miller for plaintiffs, A. C. Sutton for defendants.

In the case of J. H. Hodson vs. John Trotter, for an unpaid grocery bill, judgment was given plaintiff. Hanington for plaintiff.

Court adjourned Wednesday afternoon.

CITY NEWS

A fire broke out in the old Cosmos hotel, on Main street, this evening and badly damaged one corner of the building. The prompt response of the fire department saved the structure from total destruction.

The last issue of the B. C. Gazette contains the following: Herbert C. Kernan, of Grand Forks, to be sheriff of that portion of the county of Yale comprised within Grand Forks and Greenwood electoral districts, in place of Oliver J. Vail, whose jurisdiction as sheriff of the county of Yale is curtailed accordingly.

LICENSES ISSUED

But Will Not Be Gazetted Until First of Next Month.

McIntosh and Hackett Secured Their Licenses Wednesday.

A Victoria special to the Nelson Daily News states that none of the licenses for coal and oil prospecting were gazetted yesterday. William S. Gore, deputy commissioner of lands and works, stated that they would not be published until the end of the month and will, therefore, not be given out till then. Messrs. McIntosh and Hackett have secured their licenses.

The Spokesman-Review says: The first of the licenses to be issued for coal and oil prospecting in the southeast corner of the province of British Columbia, in Southeast Kootenay, were handed over to applicants today. Others will follow as soon as they are applied for, or as soon as they can be prepared. They were issued according to the form prescribed, the fee being $100. John Watt, who located oil seepages, got 15 licenses today; also included in the number were 74 which were held by the Grand Forks syndicate. About 80 were also taken out for what is known as the Spokane syndicate. The Flathead Coal & Oil company, which was recently organized in this city, with a Nelson man at the head, got its licenses. About 250 licenses, at least, were issued today. Some interested parties are already negotiating for railway connection with their properties. There are also some negotiations on between conflicting parties looking to an arrangement of the difficulties between them arising out of claiming the same property.

John McRae and Miss Oxley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Oxley, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents in Spion Kop, a suburb of Phoenix, last Tuesday, the officiating clergyman being Rev. E. W. C. MacColl, pastor of St. Andrews Presbyterian church. Mr. McRae is a member of the firm of McRae Bros. & Smith, of Phoenix.

A six-round boxing exhibition will be given at the Union hotel, on Riverside avenue, Saturday evening. Time will be called at 9 o'clock sharp. The contestants will be Jack Turner, 128 lb. Australian champion, and Geo. Conway, champion colored 115 lb. boxer of Philadelphia. No admission will be charged, and everybody is invited to attend.

The Pavilla Comedy company gave a very good vaudeville entertainment in the Biden opera house this evening to a fair-sized audience.

Henry White, of Spokane, who gained fame and wealth by locating the Old Ironsides mine in pioneer days, is in the city.

About Women Writers.

Mrs. Humphry Ward is known to the world chiefly as a novelist, yet one of the most active aspects of her life is her philanthropic work among the settlements of London. Especially is she interested in the raw material of young life that populate the congested slums of the East End, and the institution which lies nearest her heart and of which she is most proud is the Vacation school founded by her in Bloomsbury in conjunction with the Passmore Edwards Settlement in Tavistock Place. While the readers of England and America have been following with unabated interest the fortunes of Julie Le Breton in "Lady Rose's Daughter" during the summer months, the author has been quietly and unostentatiously pursuing her schemes for the amelioration and gladdening of the joyless lives of the children in the neighborhood of Bloomsbury.

Mary MacLane is at it again. Her publishers promise that before the end of the month we shall have a new book from her radium-tipped pen, called "My Friend, Annabel Lee." They write that the young lady has been living quietly in Boston, working on this book. It is hard to imagine Mary doing anything quietly.

Miss Corelli is always funny when she is hysterical, and she is nearly always hysterical. Her loud protestations against the desecration of Stratford by a Carnegie free library were the first act of a howling farce which has now reached its climax. Sidney Lee, a scholar whose greatest fault is that he is quite incapable of hysteria or any other manifestation of feeling, says that the cause of Miss Corelli's objection is that she once tried to get the site in dispute for a free library of her own, but found the price too high. Miss Corelli, in a voice shriller than ever, retorts that Mr. Lee is a mean thing, and calls on her solicitors to hale him to the courts. Then she writes another pamphlet, call it "The Plain Truth About the Stratford-on-Avon Controversy," and sends it out as her final vindication.

A Great Whispering Gallery

With the increase of cable, telegraph and telephone communication, and especially with the introduction of the marvels of wireless telegraphy, the world has been converted into a huge whispering gallery.—"Herald," Sydney.

Artist—I guess I'll make it a half-nude. Model—Which shall I put on—my ball dress or my bathing suit?—

A Queer Fee.

Mr. John Ball Osborne, while acting as Consul in picturesque and tranquil Tibet, had few exciting experiences, and duties which were not arduous. But he received one surprising fee.

A man came to him to secure the authentication of a document to be used in court in the United States, a service for which the regular fee is two dollars, which Mr. Osborne duly charged. But his client appeared troubled and admitted that he was "hard up." He was, he explained, by profession a glass-eater, but was temporarily out of employment after a series of performances at country fairs; and he had only expected to pay a quarter.

He fumbled in his pockets a moment in a distressed way, then brightened suddenly and suggested a compromise—he would not pay in money, but by giving his creditor a special performance.

Believing him to be one of the numerous fakirs who rely on sleight-of-hand in so-called glass-eating feats, Mr. Osborne expressed incredulity.

"Gimme a thin goblet," said he, "and I'll eat it all up."

The goblet was brought. The impecunious American grasped it firmly with both hands as a boy would a big apple, and munched off a great piece. The fragments crackled horribly under his large teeth, Mr. Osborne reports, and disappeared down his throat.

He was precisely what he claimed to be—a human ostrich; but it was not a pleasant way of receiving a notarial fee, and the Consul hastened to inform the glass-eater that his debt was discharged.

An Irish Miracle.

"And is it swimming you mane?" observed the O'Maherty. "By Jabers, thin, ye should see the little devils of South Say Islanders! Sure, and they run down to the beach and dive into the water long before they can walk at all."

MINISTERS have many interesting and amusing experiences. A clergyman of Duluth, Minn., was engaged in conversation with a number of friends the other day, when each started telling stories of weddings he had performed. One of the party had this to offer:

Some time ago a great big fellow, roughly dressed, and a wee mite of a young woman came to him. They had no witnesses, and, in fact, did not care to have any. Nevertheless, a bridesmaid and groomsmen were selected from the household and the ceremony began. They had promised to love and obey and all the rest of the service, when the preacher announced: "Kiss the bride."

The bridegroom, on bended knee, hesitated a little, tried to say something and couldn't.

"Kiss the bride," said the pastor. "Why, parson, I did, afore I come here at all," replied the bridegroom, whose face had taken the color of a June rose.

The witnesses burst forth in laughter, while the minister had all he could do to retain the serious expression which he always wore when wedding people.

The great Simplon tunnel under the Alps from the valley of the Rhone into Italy is about half finished, and it is now believed that it will be ready for traffic within two and a half years. Its cost will be $14,000,000, and this enormous expense has been incurred to shorten the road between Paris and Milan only 50 miles and to save grades of fifteen hundred feet. The length of the completed tunnel will exceed twelve miles.

An editorial writer with a taste for statistics has given to this waiting world a statement in which women may feel some interest. He declares that he recently stood in a crowded thoroughfare of a large city and listened to "scraps of conversation" of fifty women who passed him. Of these fifty women, four were talking about cooking and recipes; seven, about babies; twelve were discussing men and love affairs; and from the lips of twenty-seven rippled remarks about clothes.

TONSILITIS IS GOING AROUND

And everybody is wondering what to do. Here is a simple cure. Use a gargle of Nervilleine and water as recommended in the directions, and rub your throat and chest vigorously with Nervilleine. This has been tested and proved successful a thousand times. Nervilleine is a specific for tonsilitis and we know of nothing half so good for breaking up colds, curing tight chest and all muscular pains. Try a bottle of Nervilleine; price 25c. H. E. An interesting feature of the Carnival will be the coronation of the Queen, who will be elected by popular vote. Candidates are entered from Rossland, Nelson, Greenwood, Phoenix, Republic, Northport and Grand Forks, and a close and spirited contest is looked for. Another feature will be the Grand Midway Plaisance, which will be stocked with novelties of every description. There will also be a rock drilling contest for a valuable prize, in which the best teams in the surrounding country will meet in competition. The Gala Attraction will be Mardi-Gras night, when everyone is invited to mask from 7 to 11:30 p.m. For further particulars see posters. There will be SPECIAL RATES ON ALL RAILWAYS during Carnival Week.

THE TORONTO

DAILY NEWS

AND THE

GRAND FORKS SUN

...FOR ONLY...

$2.25 a Year

A radical change from old methods and prices has been made by the Toronto Daily News. The eyes of the newspaper world have been upon The News for the past few months, during which time several departures have been made which have given that paper a widespread reputation for enterprise and originality. This latest move is to place The News at the price of $1.00 a year by mail. Only a deep-founded belief in the future success of The News could lead the publishers to make such a reduction in price. But just as the dollar magazine has taken hold of the people, so, we venture to predict, The News will secure a vast and ever-increasing circulation, based not only on the popular price at which it is sold, but mainly upon the intrinsic merits of the paper.

We have arrangements concluded which enables us to club the Toronto News with our own paper at $2.25 a year in advance. Such a combination presents many unique features—our semi-weekly giving you all the home and district news, and the big 12-page daily keeping you in touch with events all over the world. Send us your subscription to The News, or if you would like to see the paper first, write us and we will secure a sample copy.
