Tragedy At Christina Lake

The environs of Christina lake was the scene of a bloody tragedy on Monday afternoon and the following morning. As the result of a murder and suicide, W. E. Kelly and T. J. Carroll, both of Cascade, are dead.

Monday afternoon Kelly and Carroll started out on a hunting expedition on the Rossland highway. Carroll returned alone to his cabin at the lake that night. Tuesday morning he wrote a note saying that he had killed Kelly, giving as reason for the act that he was infatuated with a woman. The note also gave directions where the body of Kelly could be found. This note Carroll placed on a table and then sent a bullet through his own heart.

The shot attracted some of the neighbors, and a party was immediately organized to search for the body of Kelly. It was found where Carroll's said it could be found—about two miles from the lake near the Rossland highway. Two rifle bullets had penetrated Kelly's body. They had entered the body from the back. The first shot had evidently failed to kill, but the second bullet had.

The bodies of two men were brought to this city, and on Wednesday Coroner Truax held an inquest. O verdict of murder and suicide was returned.

The age of Kelly is said to have been 61 years. He came here with his wife from Spokane a couple of years ago, and has since conducted the Cold Springs camp at Christina lake. The age of Carroll is given as 54 years.

The remains of Kelly has been shipped to Minneapolis, Minn., for burial. Carroll's will be buried today from Mainly & Miller's undertaking parlor in this city.

When the news of the tragedy reached this city Tuesday morning, surprise was expressed by everybody, as Kelly and Carroll were the best of friends.

GRANBY MINE AT CASSIDY CLOSES DOWN

LADYSMITH.—Another chapter in the history of coal mining on Vancouver island was brought to a close at the week-end when the last man employed at the Granby mine, owned by the Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting & Power Company, Limited, finished work.

The mine, which is situated at Cassidy, about eight miles from Ladysmith, was in its heyday the biggest producer of any coal mine ever operated in the island, and at one time produced more than 1000 tons daily. At the height of production in 1922, nearly 500 men were employed. Since that time there has been a gradual decline, but even until two years ago the mine was still the heaviest unit producer at the coast.

With the closing of operations, the village of Cassidy has practically died. In 1919 the company laid out an attractive townsite. A modern bathhouse and locker system for employees was erected near the mine, and a large boarding house was constructed. Numerous beautiful houses were built by the company on boulevard streets, and until recently the Granby townsite at Cassidy housed probably the most prosperous industrial community in British Columbia.

SILENCE GREET'S MCGOUGH CHARGES

VANCOUVER.—What has become of the McGough charges? It was mid-August when M. H. McGough, former Dominion government representative checking up on unemployment relief in British Columbia, forwarded to the lieutenant-governor a petition asking for investigation into alleged misappropriation of relief funds.

It was mid-September when the Milk Drivers' union endorsed his demand for the Vancouver and New Westminster Trades and Labor Council forwarded another petition to his honor demanding an enquiry. When the McGough letter went forward Premier Tolmie announced there would be no further enquiry, intimating that the matter had been dealt with by the committee of the legislature.

Shortly after the labor council petition was delivered there were vague hints of an enquiry by way of an audit. These found expression in the party press, but nothing visible has come of them.

Mr. McGough and Colin McDonald, president of the labor council, insisted that an audit would be ineffective, in any event, and made public statements demanding a public judicial enquiry.

Officers of the Trades and Labor Council received a formal acknowledgment from the legislature of their demand for an enquiry.

OTTAWA CONFERENCE COST $238,000

OTTAWA, Oct. 14.—The total amount expended in connection with the imperial economic conference was $238,681.88. Sir George Perley, acting secretary of state, told William Duff (Lib. Antigonish-Cuyaboro) in the house of commons.

The sum paid for entertainment, including lodging, restaurant and other charges of delegates and official parties while the conference was sitting in Ottawa was $138,505.

Grand Forks district is becoming well known as a good producing district.

Neil N. Matheson, 32 Years in City, Died on Monday

Neil Norman Matheson, who was born in King's county, Prince Edward Island, 83 years ago, died at his home on Bridge street in this city on Monday morning.

Mr. Matheson was a resident of this city for 32 years. In his early life he was a railway contractor. After coming to this city, he was an employee of the Granby smelter all the years it operated here.

Deceased is survived by his wife, and another, who lives on the prairies; also by a nephew, J. N. Currie of Trail who attended the funeral here yesterday.

The funeral was held from the Full Gospel Mission at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. A large number of citizens paid their last respects to a worthy and upright man.

SEATTLE'S IDLE, ON RELIEF, MUST EARN RATIONS

SEATTLE.—Seattle's unemployed must henceforth work for their rations, declared Mayor John F. Dore Friday night.

Through cooperation with the county commissioners, the city will provide work for the unemployed, cleaning streets, working in the parks and renovating parking strips, Dore said.

Each man drawing rations from the commissaries must work two days a week, or his supplies will be cut off, the mayor announced.

"We must clean up these commissaries," he continued. "Of the 60,000 persons being fed, it is estimated that 25 per cent are not entitled to their supplies."

New Scheme for Transients in Offing

OTTAWA, Oct. 8.—A new scheme for caring for transient unemployed will shortly be initiated, it was learned yesterday. Hon. Wesley A. Gordon, minister of labor, has been studying the situation to formulate a scheme whereby the homeless idle may be taken care of more efficiently.

"We are not contemplating at the moment any change in the present system of sharing in direct relief which has been in force since the beginning of the fiscal year," the minister said. "We may, however, make some new arrangement for looking after transients. It would seem that there could be some method whereby the dollar would go much farther, and the matter is receiving consideration right now."

Grand Forks City Council Proceedings

The regular meeting of the Grand Forks city council chamber on Tuesday evening. The mayor and all the aldermen were present.

A committee of the unemployed married of the city interviewed the council regarding the unemployed situation for the coming winter. The mayor informed the committee that as a result of a recent trip to Victoria arrangements were under way for relief during the coming winter, and that when the council had approved the arrangements the committee would be advised.

The mayor also reported that he had secured approval of the power bylaw and the transfer of the water license.

The clerk was instructed to have the debentures printed. L. A. Read was appointed auditor to audit the city books for the current year.

CHIRPINGS FROM ROCK CREEK AND DISTRICT

(From The Sun's Correspondent)

Rock Creek was the meeting place on Saturday evening of the Kettle River and South Okanagan Pioneers. They sat down to one of the finest banquets ever given in this part of the province. The banquet tables were set in the old original Larsen's hall which has in bygone days been the scene of many beautiful banquets. The pioneers arrived on time, and were received by the genial host and charming hostess of the Riverside hotel. They came from Greenwood, Midway, Grand Forks, Carmi, Beaverdell, Princeton and Republic to their annual reunion gathering. Their business meeting came off at 7 p.m. The side room was packed with members of the Pioneers' club. Their president, S. T. Larsen, was in the chair. After a most cordial welcome was given to all, the president called for the election of officers. The results of the ballots were: President James Lynch; vice president, P. McCallum; secretary, G. McMynn. The next place of meeting is to be held in Greenwood next year. After the business meeting was concluded, the pioneers started for the banquet hall, where 73 old pioneers sat down to a splendid banquet. The hall was beautifully decorated with evergreen trees and autumn foliage over the stage. Worked in with fir branches were the words, "Welcome Pioneers." This piece of work was beautifully done and was the work of Mrs. Larsen. At each corner was draped a flag, the Union Jack on the right side, with the Stars and Stripes of U.S.A. on the left-hand side. On the stage was built a small unfinished log cabin. Standing near, was a large discovery post, which showed that this particular piece of land had been staked out by T. Kettle Turnover, a native of Norway, and who had just begun to clear the land. In a small clearing the tables were set. They were decorated with snapdragons, sweet peas, astors and ferns, and looked lovely and tempting loaded down with all kinds of dishes filled full with choice meats, etc. A special table was set for the officers and to the left of the table president was placed Jimmy Copeland, one of Rock Creek's oldest pioneers. Late in the evening a number of toasts were given, and the rest of the evening was spent in speech-making by many of the guests. W. Hatton sang several delightful songs. He was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Ted Clarke of Beaverdell. Some of the pioneers danced step-dances. James Kerr, Harvey Wilcox and Jimmy Copeland entertained the gathering with fancy dancing. Many made speeches. James Bush of Midway played his violin while the old timers stepped. Altogether a most enjoyable evening was spent, and in the wee hours of the morning they all left for their respective homes, after having had a most enjoyable time.

Rock Creek residents who motored to Midway last Thursday noticed that the Ingram family ralling had been badly broken, and to all appearances looked as if some one had hit the ralling a terrific blow with their motor car and had a near shave of plunging head first into the river below.

Mr and Mrs. P. G. Wish of Kettle Valley have taken up their residence in Mrs. Kay's house, which is situated near the Rock Creek school. Mr. Wish will certainly economize in the saving of gasoline and be near to his school, too.

On Thursday a number of horses passed through town, driven by a couple of cowboys. They were on their way to take part in the Stampede at Trail. The majority of them were to be ridden in the bucking-horse contest.

Mrs. I. V. Procter of Rock Creek left two weeks ago to join her husband, who has a position at Field. Mrs. Procter hopes to be able to reside at Golden. She has many friends who regret her having to leave Rock Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Bubar of Beaverdell were in town on Saturday. They motored to Midway and returned to their home on Saturday evening.

S. T. Larsen, the popular proprietor of the Riverside hotel, motored to Greenwood on business on Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Hopper of Grand Forks was visiting with her daughter, Mrs. L. Powers of Midway for a few days last week.

On Saturday night Rock Creek was visited by a very heavy frost. It registered almost 20 degrees of frost.

A Chilly Wave

The city was visited by a cold north wind during the week-end. Thanksgiving day was rather chilly, which is uncomfortable to be abroad and most of the people spent the day by their own cosy home fires. On the prairies they have already had several inches of snow, stopping all outside work.

Riverside-Rock Creek was pleased to receive a brief call from Hon. T. D. Pattullo, the head of the Liberal party a couple of weeks ago as he drove through on his way to Penticton. He expressed his views that it was quite possible that there would be an election soon, and he gave much encouragement to his friends by saying that the Liberal party would get into power again and with a big majority.

On Wednesday a man was seen walking through the town and he created quite a little commotion. He was the proud possessor of golden red hair—it reached to his shoulders—and he also had a handsome beard of the same color. He wore no hat. He was a perfect stranger and looked as if he might belong to some travelling show. He was going in the direction of the boundary.

We hear that Atwood of Grand Forks a short time ago successfully passed his examination for game warden; and we are not at all surprised that he passed. He also passed the forestry examination last year. What a brilliant idea it would be to have the premier and all the M. P.'s pass an examination to see if they were fully capable of performing their duties. We wonder how many would pass. We wonder.

It is wonderful what a difference Leap Year makes. There has been so many more marriages than there was last year. Perhaps it is that the men are too nervous to propose to a girl, consequently the girls have to wait until Leap Year comes, round again and then very wisely pops the question to the ever-willing groom, who eagerly seizes the opportunity of joining the Benedict club.

Ted Whiting and Joe Gane of Kettle Valley went out hunting on Saturday morning, and later in the day returned with a nice 4-prong deer. They are about the only lucky hunters in the valley, as so far no one seems to have been able to get a shot at a deer.

Air Mail For British Columbia?

The destiny of Vancouver's $600,000 Sea Island airport as the Western terminus of a Canadian transcontinental airmail service will be advanced one step further toward realization with the completion of the coast-to-coast series of landing fields contemplated by the Department of National Defence.

This was the reaction of civic officials today on receipt of news that the Department intends to embark on an extensive program of clearing and establishing landing fields as a measure of unemployment relief.

A subsidiary cause for jubilation was seen in the additional announcement that labor will be drawn from the ranks of single jobless men now congregating in cities.

The work, according to Ottawa despatches, will be concentrated in three stretches of the country where landing facilities are believed to be inadequate—Montreal to Halifax, Toronto to Winnipeg and Lethbridge to Vancouver.

Surveys MADE
Surveys to determine the need have been carried out quietly for the past three years and the Department now intends to act on the information obtained.

All airmail services west of Ontario were discontinued last April when Federal appropriations for the purpose were slashed by the Bennett Government.

In spite of this Ald. E. W. Dean, chairman of the City Councils Airport Committee is hopeful that services will soon be resumed.

When they are, Vancouver repeat requests for airmail will be made much stronger by the presence of a chain of landing fields through the Rocky Mountains.

CROWS NEST ROUTE
The route to be followed known as the Crows Nest route, was surveyed by A. D. McLean, Acting Superintendent of Airways; Squadron Leader A. T. Cowley Superintendent of Air Regulations and Squadron Leader J. H. Tughope.

When they are, Vancouver repeat requests for airmail will be made much stronger by the presence of a chain of landing fields through the Rocky Mountains.

Bennett and King Clash Over Pact

OTTAWA, Oct. 10.—The guns of currency inflationists in the house of commons were spiked today when Premier R. B. Bennett announced Canada never would desert the policy of "sound money." Turning on the printing presses and flooding the country with new money would have a disastrous effect on the Canadian dollar, forcing government securities far below par and placing an unbearable load on individuals and ministries owing debts in international markets.

Following Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King in the address debate, the prime minister criticised him for attempting to "depreciate the effects of the government at the imperial economic conference" and said the Liberal leader could not disguise his spleen that a successful conference was held in this country.

TO BE COMPREHENSIVE
Discussion of trade pacts negotiated at the conference will be comprehensive, Mr. Bennett promised the house. They will be tabled Wednesday afternoon and if the opposition desire it, discussion might be delayed a day or two so as to provide time for study and meditation.

Canada was in the grip of a worldwide depression, said the prime minister, nothing that Mr. King said the government was impotent to deal with unemployment and falling trade. "It is sheer partisanship to say Canada alone is affected. When efforts are made to be a Jeremiah, to paint everything in the darkest colors and depreciate efforts of the government to bolster the morale of the Canadian people," I say it is unworthy of a great opposition or a great party."

PSYCHOLOGICAL INFLUENCES
Psychological influences must be set to work if the depression is to lift, said Mr. Bennett. Confidence must be restored. The morale of the people must be rejuvenated. "This government in season and out of season has done everything to restore confidence and tell the people of this country the lot of Canadians is better than that of any other people in the world."

The prime minister intimated the government had no intention of instituting proportional representation, as suggested by the Liberal leader. And he depreciated Mr. King's use of the word dol in reference to the governments direct relief efforts. Administration remained with the provinces.

LACK CONSTRUCTIVE SUGGESTION
OTTAWA, Oct. 11.—Premier R. B. Bennett followed Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King. He professed some surprise untempered with regret that the remarks of Mr. King had been so lacking in constructive suggestion.

There was no appeal on which Mr. King had not touched, Premier Bennett said. There was no suggestion which Mr. King did not adopt in his speech that might get a single vote. In this regard Mr. King ran true to form as he did when he went from end to end of the country during the general election in 1930.

Before the conference there was never a time Mr. King did not express his doubt whether it would be held or not. Then when one had been held the Liberal leader, the prime minister continued, came to the house and made a species of plea in a manner that made one wonder just what he meant as his stand on the conference.

BINDING PARLIAMENT
Mr. King talked about the binding of a future parliament. Did Mr. King forget that the government of which he was a member had made a treaty with the West Indies for 12 years which could not be abrogated within that time, the prime minister said. Mr. King was a member of a government that had made a treaty with Japan for 11 years. "The hand of parliament was tied then," Premier Bennett remarked.

Tonight, then was the "glorious spectacle" of the Liberal leader discussing, without giving his stand, agreements which were not before the house and trying in every single way to get votes.

LIBERAL LEADER FEARS RETALIATION AGAINST THE EMPIRE PACT
OTTAWA, Oct. 11.—Visions of foreign nations banding together in a trade sense against the British Empire were conjured up by Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King in the house of commons yesterday as he led a multiplicity of attack on the Bennett government's fiscal record.

If the Empire resolved itself into a rock-bound economic unit, extracting tribute from every nation desiring to promote trade, it might drive foreign nations to some form of organization and tariff retaliation.

The Liberal leader made only passing references to the Imperial Economic conference as he devoted two and one-half hours to a general attack on fiscal policies. He climaxed his speech by moving an amendment to the address in reply to the speech from the throne, expressing regret "the government has wholly failed to afford a remedy for unemployment and agriculture distress" and "regrets that, except the dole, the government has no policy with respect to the relief of unemployment" and "deplores the government's obvious endeavor, by postponing the revision of the bank act, to avoid immediate consideration by parliament of the all-important subjects of banking and currency."

Traversing a wide field, the Liberal leader advocated such policies as proportional representation, an independent national commission to administer unemployment relief funds and immediate banking and currency reform, including establishment of a central bank of rediscount, a national system of unemployment insurance and reversion to the policy of national public works to relieve unemployment.

Two California cities, San Francisco and San Diego, each have the distinction of possessing a species of butterfly found nowhere else in the world.

Water License Dispute Said To Be Settled

VICTORIA, Oct. 8.—Grand Forks settled with the government yesterday a long-continued dispute with West Kootenay Light & Power company as to the city's construction of its own power plant and use of a water license acquired from the Grand Consolidated interest some years ago. Hon. N. S. Loughheed announced that the government had decided to transfer the water licence in question to Grand Forks city and would issue the new licence within a few days.

At the same time action was taken through Attorney-General Pooley to ratify a bond issue by the city financing the erection of the power plant, which was completed recently and is now in successful operation. The negotiations were conducted for the city by Mayor T. A. Love who returned Thursday to the interior.

"The dispute between Grand Forks and the West Kootenay Light & Power company centered around the right of the city to develop hydroelectric power within the zone presumed to be that of an existing power company," Mayor Love explained while here.

"Grand Forks urged the settlement of a matter that had been held up since March and pointed out that while some modification of the height of the dam on Smelter lake had been consented to, this has no direct bearing on the hydro-electric power plant, which was built separately. The power plant was financed when the citizens of Grand Forks brought up the entire issue of debentures in a single day, as a community enterprise. Rebuilding of the dam has been carried on as a separate undertaking and was not part of the project concerned in the bylaw," Mayor Love concluded.

For months past officials of the two conflicting interests in the area have argued their respective cases before the provincial authorities. Decision reached by the government, which will be implemented by order-in-council in due course, settles the issue, with some concessions from both sides.

SOVIET OFFICIALS ARE EXPELLED FOR COUNTER REVOLUTIONARY PLANS
MOSCOW, Oct. 11.—General control of the Communist party today expelled 20 of its members, some of them prominent leaders of the Soviet regime since the days of the revolution, on a charge of having organized a counter-revolutionary movement advocating the dissolution of collective and state farms. The group included Gregory Zinovieff and Leo Kameneff.

PLAN "HAV'N" FOR SOCIALISTS NEAR SOOKE
VICTORIA.—The "Canadian Young People's Cooperative Society of Alberta and Saskatchewan" will establish a colony on the Pacific coast with the declared purpose of "proving a haven where men and women of ideals will have the opportunity of attaining their highest fulfillment by living according to the laws of nature."

H. A. McDougall and O. C. Morris of Jasper, Alta., sent to the coast to look over possible locations, have completed their survey and it is believed they will recommend Sooke, Vancouver Island, on the site of the community established after the war by the International Bible Students.

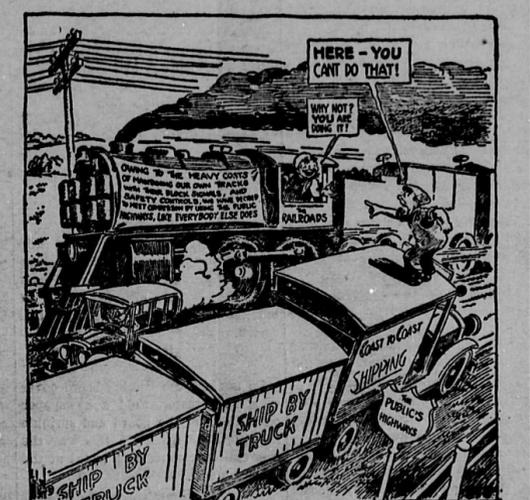

"The community will be run on strict socialist principles as a haven for men tired in spirit and body who seek relief from the strain and stress of the capitalist system, and desire something higher out of life than what is afforded by drab commercialism," Mr. McDougall and Mr. Morris said.

PRODUCTION OF TADANAC PLANT IS LOWER
MONTREAL.—Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company of Canada, Limited, reporting production figures for the third quarter of the current year, show declines in all metals. The production schedule does not list any copper for the quarter.

Production of lead, zinc and silver show declines as compared with the second quarter of the current year and against the third quarter of last year. Gold production of 8837 ounces in the quarter compares with 8861 ounces in the second quarter and with 6065 ounces in the third quarter of 1931.

Whatever you are from nature, keep to it; never desert your own line of talent. Be what nature intended you for, and you will succeed; be anything else, and you will be ten thousand times worse than nothing! Sydney Smth.

It is a higher exhibition of Christian manliness to be able to bear trouble than to get rid of it.

HINDU CEREMONIES COST BILLION YEARLY

That the Hindus in India spend something like $1,350,000,000 annually on ceremonial occasions, and that this national budget of the people needs economizing, is the main conclusion and recommendation made in a preliminary report by the Hindu religious committee to his holiness the shankaracharya, Doctor Kurtaakti.

Very death means religious ceremonies, lasting 15 days, which are performed by Hindus of all castes. It has been estimated that 50 rupees per death ceremony would be a very moderate estimate.

During the lifetime of a caste Hindu there are in all 16 ceremonies, including birth and death.

Marriage is a ceremony of universal importance with Hindus of all castes. It has been estimated that there are in all about 30,000,000 Hindu families in India.

ber of marriages per year is estimated at about 5,000,000. But taking into consideration that two families are concerned in the marriage, about 10,000,000 families are affected by it.

The thread ceremony among the Brahmans is the most important, as without it no person has the right to call himself a Brahman.

There are numerous other ceremonies on all sorts of occasions, like the ne wyear, the dassera, the festival of lights, etc. Added together, all these ceremonies represent an expenditure of 2,780,000,000 rupees, or $1,050,000,000.

The depressed classes, numbering about 50,000,000, have their annual ceremonies which cost them about 10 rupees per head, adding another 500,000,000 rupees, or $187,500,000, to the huge sum spent on ritual.

Taking the present estimate as the best for the purpose of general consideration, the committee thinks that at the present moment, when the government dues are being considered as excessive, an attempt should be made to reduce these religious charges.

The committee considers that a broader and more humane outlook must be taken of this problem of life for the Hindu.

Alberta, which comprises a portion of the Rocky mountains, is unrivalled for its scenic attractions.

DOUKHOBOR COMMISSION AFTERMATH

The citizens of Grand Forks are trying to get rid of the Doukhobors residing in this district. It is alleged that the Doukhobors do not adopt the customs of this country; that they harness their women to the plough, and that they take spells of going about naked.

OH, DEER! OH, DEER!

E. E. Gibson and James McArdie returned to the city from Christina lake last Friday in Mr. Gibson's automobile. When a short distance this side of Gilpin the gentlemen espied a big buck deer leisurely trotting in the middle of the road.

Mr. Gibson described the race as the most exciting event in his life, not even barring the last bull fight he witnessed in Mexico.

Had there been any spectators to the race, they would have been puzzled whether the deer and the streak of light passing through the country were really Roosevelt's bull moose seeking safety in the mountain fastnesses or that Santa Claus had become confused in his dates.

HEALTH

HEART TROUBLE

Not a few people are worried because they think they have heart trouble, when, as a matter of fact, there is nothing wrong with the heart at all.

It is rather remarkable that a great many people take upon themselves the responsibility of deciding that their heart is diseased.

There is every reason why we should find out the cause of pain or other physical discomfort.

The person with heart trouble who simply shuts his eyes to the condition, and refuses to accept advice as to live without overtaxing his heart, is headed straight for disaster.

The heart as one part of the body benefits from the condition of the whole body; so the general health should be cared for.

Heart trouble does not make the sufferer an invalid. Exercise, within limitations, is usually desirable.

There are so many different forms of heart trouble, and these occur in such varying degrees of severity, that each case must be considered individually after medical examination.

British Columbia Apple Growers Have Made Marketing Progress

Despite what they themselves may think of their plight, British Columbia apple growers have brought the problem of distribution and marketing to a more satisfactory status than the producers of any other commodity, according to Thomas Wayling, member of the press gallery at Ottawa, who addressed a record attendance of the members of the men's and women's Canadian clubs at the Nation ballroom in Vernon Wednesday evening.

British Columbia apples, said Mr. Wayling in the course of an address in which he reviewed the recent imperial economic conference and described a transatlantic trip on the R-100, constituted the commodity best advertised in London during "Buy British" campaigns.

the experience of a department of agriculture friend of his who was astounded when he purchased a British Columbia Delicious in a shop in the heart of the Annapolis valley.

Mr. Wayling, in the course of his address, drew a picture of very little being accomplished, generally speaking, at the conference.

"Like so many other conferences," he said, "there are so many loose ends left to tie."

The speaker went back in history to the conference of 1896 when Sir Wilfrid Laurier first introduced the principle of giving a 10 per cent preference to goods coming from Great Britain. For many years nothing in turn could be given by the United Kingdom because of a pledge to the principles of free trade. In 1930 Mr. Bennett went to the imperial conference and suggested that all the dominions raise their general tariff 10 per cent and that Great Britain put on 10 per cent on goods outside the empire. The other dominions could not see it that way. They wanted the tariffs lowered between themselves.

WAS IT A SUCCESS?

Mr. Wayling remarked that he had been asked right across Canada as to whether the last conference was a success. No answer to such a question can be given, he stated, until the agreements have been put into effect. No imperial conference has any executive authority and before the agreements can be made effective they must be ratified by the parliaments concerned.

"It is impossible to say for a year what the results will be," he declared. It was agreed at the conference that the biggest single cause of the depression is the low wholesale price of commodities, but it was decided to let this subject stand over until the world economic conference.

Nor could the delegates arrive at any conclusion as to an empire currency. Even the anomaly of the exchange rate between Canada and the United Kingdom being fixed in New York was not straightened out.

It is recognized in Canada now, the speaker continued, that the country cannot be prosperous unless her natural industries are flourishing and at the conference the Canadian delegates strove to get some advantages for the stable commodities in the British market. "But I cannot see that they have," he remarked. The 3 cent preference on wheat is not regarded as much of a benefit on the prairies, but the duty on butter and eggs might be.

TARIFFS STANDARDIZED

Mr. Wayling did admit that something good might come out of the conference in the standardization of tariffs. One of the things the Ottawa delegates most strenuously objected to was the right of collectors at port of entry into Canada to fix their own valuation on imported goods. On that system it was impossible for anyone to know before hand what their goods were going to cost. It was agreed that when the financial position of Canada would allow that this would be altered and tariffs standardized.

Mr. Wayling showed himself at his best as a raconteur, giving many vivid sketches of the conference and the atmosphere in which discussions were carried on.

After speaking of the conference he gave a very vivid sketch of his trip across the Atlantic on the R-100. He was one of the correspondents of Canadian newspapers allowed to make this flight, and he told many humorous stories of that record-breaking event. So steady was the great ship that a glass of water placed on the floor of a room had not been spilled when it arrived at Cardington, England.

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Where will student be on election day?

"At the polls", answers one college that of Oberlin, Ohio. It is the first to come forward with a "time off" order for November 8, for its students. "Play reality now," says President Ernest Wilkins, in a message to students of Oberlin.

As a contrast, the remark has been made that:

1. Students of Latin American countries start revolutions.
2. Students of Europe riot politically and go to jail.
3. Students of England debate at the Oxford Union and take government seriously.
4. Students of United States play football and do not bother to vote. Oberlin plans to change the schedule.

CANADA THE WORLD'S GREATEST PLAYGROUND

Wide Variety of Recreational Attractions

Canadians Fortunate in Holiday Advantages Their Country Offers

The majority of Canadians probably do not realize what a wonderful choice of vacation opportunities this country offers. How many of us in any one province have first-hand knowledge of the wide range of attractions of our neighbouring provinces? Many no doubt have gone abroad to seek a holiday, forgetting that our own Dominion is unequalled in the exceptional variety and range of its recreational resources. Surely a country which attracts visitors from other countries by the tens of millions must have recreational features of interest to its own citizens.

one of the chief attractions in the parks, but game animals and birds are rigidly protected and their fearlessness never fails to interest visitors.

Summer Resorts Numerous and Varied

Throughout the Dominion there are many summer resort districts which offer a wide range of attraction and variety of accommodation. On the Atlantic coast, in the provinces of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, are typical sea-shore resorts, where salt-water bathing, sailing and deep-sea fishing are the principal attractions. The rugged beauty of this coast and the picturesque charm of the fishing villages, at the head of every inlet, cannot fail to enchant the summer visitor.

Quebec's summer playgrounds are of the most varied nature including as they do, sea-shore, mountain lake and forest resorts. Along the lower St. Lawrence, summer colonies have been established at many points. North of the St. Lawrence and Ottawa rivers the Laurentian mountains, clothed with pine forest and dotted with lakes constitute a vast summer and winter playground. The Eastern Townships, which adjoin the international boundary, also have a number of well-established resorts, on picturesque lakes and rivers.

Ontario has perhaps the largest number and greatest variety of developed summer resorts of any of the provinces. The Thousand Islands, Lake of Bays, Muskoka lakes, and Georgian Bay are known throughout America, but there are in addition equally attractive, only slightly less known, districts. Accommodation includes everything from campsite to palatial hotel, and cottages may be rented, in any district.

In the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta many attractive resorts are located along the shores of the lakes and rivers. The Canadian Rockies are world famous for scenic beauty and contain some of the most highly developed tourist resorts on the continent.

British Columbia, with varied and splendid scenic attractions, is a tourist wonderland. The province has majestic mountain ranges, and extensive lake area, stately forests, an imposing coast line, and many attractive resorts in settings of exceptional natural beauty.

Government Bureau Free Information Service

For a number of years the Department of the Interior at Ottawa has been engaged in the promotion of the Canadian tourist industry, more especially the development of tourist travel from the United States to Canada. It is also endeavouring to influence Canadians to spend their vacation in the Dominion. The National Development Bureau of that Department will gladly furnish interprovincial road maps and other information for the use of those planning a Canadian tour, and where necessary will refer enquiries to provincial and local tourist organizations. Applicants should be as specific as possible as to the section of Canada in which they are interested, in order that available information may be supplied.

Recreational Areas Easily Accessible

It is so easy to travel in Canada that an interprovincial tour is a recreation which every Canadian vacationist may well and profitably undertake. All the developed and much of the undeveloped part of the Dominion is easily accessible by train, boat, or automobile. Canada is served by two of the world's greatest railway systems and a number of smaller lines. The equipment and service are of the highest standard. Steamers built specially for pleasure cruising afford many pleasant trips along the coast and on the extensive inland water system of lakes, rivers and canals. A cruise from the head of the Great Lakes to the Maritime Provinces is nearly equal, in distance, to an ocean voyage. Good roads lead to practically all scenic and sporting territories. Canada's road system includes many thousands of miles of surfaced highways, well equipped with direction signs, and danger signals. Tourist accommodation, from campsite to hotel, is available almost everywhere.

National Parks Cover Large Area

National and provincial parks in Canada cover nearly 25,000 square miles. They are areas which have been withdrawn from exploitation and are being preserved in their virgin beauty and wildness for purposes of pleasure and recreation. The largest national parks are in the Rocky Mountains section of Alberta, a region of unsurpassed scenic splendour admirably equipped by nature for all forms of sport and recreation. There are also important parks in British Columbia, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec. Accommodation ranges all the way from large modern hotels, to log cabins and tents. Fishing is

A good time missed-- no telephone

"Hello, Charley!" said Frank. "Say, you missed the best party of the year last night. All of the gang were there, except you. Bob tried to get in touch with you, but—well, you haven't a telephone, you know, so he just couldn't reach you."

"Seems I'm always missing things these days," said Charley, "and all because I haven't a telephone. I never realized how much I depended on it until I was without one. Believe me, I'm going to have one installed right away."

Nowadays most invitations come by telephone."

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

That advertising through the printed page has the necessary attractiveness and efficiency of performance that brings profitable results.

History has shown that continuous advertisers have found success, while non-advertisers have always been lagging behind.

Lack of advertising is killing many a business that should show increasing business instead of decreasing business.

People have been educated to the fact that well advertised products are the quality kind and they won't buy any other.

Continuous advertising of quality creates a buying demand which assures the advertiser quicker turnover. Any business in this day and time cannot stand still. Progress and competition demand that it move ahead or go out of business.

Continuous advertising of quality and service builds and keeps the confidence of the public. Without the confidence of the public, no business can move ahead.

Continuous advertising is the modern way of building better business. It proves to the public that the advertisers are proud of what they have for sale.

Anything worth selling is worth advertising.

Advertising is the most effective selling help that can be found, because continuous advertising opens the way to bigger sales.

Every business having something to sell should advertise continuously so the public may know who they are, where they are, and what they have for sale.

There is room enough for all on this earth—after death.

Power of The Rural Weekly Press

Listen to what John H. Perry, President of the American Press Association, has to say on the influence of the country weekly:

"The force that controls this country of ours, in the long run, is the rural editor. In his capacity as spokesman for hundreds of thousands who live and earn their living on the farms and in the villages and towns.

"It is not necessary to take the writer's word for it. Ask any politician whom you know. He will tell you the truth. Ask any representative of the interests—big city bankers, for instance, or presidents of great railroad or industrial corporation.

"The politician, if he is above peanut size, will tell you that he worries little about what the city papers say; but let even half a dozen country weeklies in his home state or district open on him, and he pulls down the lid of his desk at the state capital and takes the next train home to see what it is he has done to make the farmer sore.

"The Big Businessman, if he is big enough to be entitled to the designation, will tell you that his business is gold or bad depending on how the country people like the way it is run, and that what those country people are thinking he finds out by reading or having others read for him, what the country papers are saying."

Canoe Trips in Canada

Lakes and Rivers Provide Numerous Attractions

Opportunities for an Enjoyable Vacation Almost Unlimited kind of trip to be made, whether one requiring much effort and experience, or one quite free from rapids and portages, the canoeist has only to select his route.

Easy of Access
Although railways and the automobile have provided a means of rapid transport, there are countless places in the forest, and islands out of reach of either. It is such places, approachable only by canoe, that invite the adventurer to partake of the wonders of nature. The railways and the development of good roads have however made the majority of canoe routes in Canada easily accessible, and one need not travel far from the majority of Canadian cities before reaching the embarkment point of an enjoyable trip.

Forest Beauty
In certain parts one may follow the streams for a long summer outing and never see a village or dwelling, yet civilization lies so close that return is easily possible. Waterfalls, rapids large and small, lakes of singular beauty hidden deep in the forest, and islands covered with pine and spruce trees are among the interesting features encountered en route. In some places one may travel hundreds of miles without meeting obstacles of any kind.

There is a remarkable contrast between the conventional life of modern times and the full naturalness of life in the great forest, where one may relax, amid the beauty of natural surroundings. A strange appeal of imagination comes to one while following the routes of the historic explorers and contentment prevails amid the constant change of beautiful scenery.

Fish and Game in Abundance
Canadian lakes and rivers are renowned for the variety and abundance of their fish. Brook and lake trout are numerous, the latter often weighing from fifteen to thirty pounds while other species of fish are plentiful. Eastern Canada is well provided with waterways, well suited to travel by canoe. Canal systems, rivers large and small, rapids, falls, lakes, stillwaters and all the requirements for an enjoyable canoe trip, await the devotee of the paddle. Whether it be a cruise through a well settled region, or an adventurous journey through the wilderness, the canoeist will find an almost unlimited number of lakes and streams.

The waterways of western Canada, in days gone by, assisted materially in unveiling the mystery of the great country between lake Superior and the Pacific Ocean. Radiating from lake Winnipeg, are routes of romantic interest. Nestling among the mountains of the coast are many beautiful lakes, also streams that wind through the hills, where sport for the angler and hunter may be found.

Free Information
The National Development Bureau of the Department of the Interior at Ottawa, has prepared a series of four booklets entitled "Canoe Trips," copies of which may be had by our readers free of charge. The series covers the Maritime Provinces, Quebec, Ontario and Western Canada. Further detailed information is available to those who require specific information on any particular trip.
