The following is the standing of the the result of the polling on Thursday last. It is a most emphatic endorse-must prove most gratifying to the Premier it contains elements of danger to the government and the party that they will both do well to take heed.

HOW PREMIER VIEWS VERDICT

Is Alive to the Responsibility Which the Situation Enjoins

Victoria, B. C., March 28th—Speaking of the results of the election Premier McBride said:

"The government will more than ever realize its responsibility to the people of the province. The victory which the Conservative party has achieved is a victory for the future of the province, for the government will henceforth go on with those larger issues that are now but dimly dreamt of in regard to development and general prosperity. In the past we have labored with many handicaps and we have so far been enormously successful. That we will as a government continue to measure up to general expectations is my firm hope in view of the magnificent attitude of the people as shown at the polls. From now on British Columbia will forge ahead as she has never done before. Faith in the country's potentialities has been splendidly vindicated tonight. With that great warrant to back us, the government of the province hopes to inspire the same confidence in the investing world that the people themselves have so plainly exhibited."

MINING NOTES

The B. C. Copper Co. established a new record for themselves in the output of copper produced in March.

The constant improvement in the price of copper has led owners of copper properties to look for 10c copper in the near future.

The Kingston continues to show up well under development. There has also been some satisfactory results obtained from work done up on the Warhorse, another claim of the group.

The diamond drill work being done on the Nickel Plate this year is exceeding that of any previous year.
There has also been a marked lowering of the cost per foot in the work now being done.

Had it not been for the accident to the generator last week there would have been a new record to hang up for March as the tonnage for the month up to that date was considerably to the good over the same number of days in each of the preceding months.
While the generator was undergoing repairs at the hands of the electrician the greatest number of stamps that could be kept dropping out of the forty was fifteen. As it is, when the total extraction for the month is determined it may yet be possible that former records have been reached.

SOME TIMELY ADVICE

Provincial Horticulturist Winslow Gives Valuable Expert Advice to British Columbia Fruit-growers

A most valuable and timely publication is the circular issued from the Department of Agriculture at Victoria by R. M. Winslow, provincial horticulturist. Coming out at this time when fruit growers and those who intend setting out trees are making up their orders for nursery stock the advice and information comes most timely.

The circular reviews conditions prevailing in 1911 in different parts of the province, discussing them under the heads of climatic conditions of the year, fruit pests, labor conditions, crop and market conditions and dealing with them fully.

The most practical feature of the circular, however, will be found in the review of the different districts and the advice given as to the most suitable varieties to plant for each particular district.

Of the Similkameen in this connection he says:

"This district should produce the necessary vegetables and small fruits called for by railway construction and an increasing market in the mining towns. This is the district which British Columbia must very largely rely on for the production of Winesaps, and to some extent, for Rome Beauty and Yellow Newtown, while Jonathan should also be planted largely here.
Direct railway connection with Vancouver will put this district in a very favorable position for the production of all kinds of early vegetables for that market."

The varieties recommended for Pen-ticton and the lower Okanagan are very similar to those recommended for Similkameen.

Another excellent circular is that on the cultivation of small fruits prepared by Mr. J. F. Carpenter, assistant horticulturist, which gives valuable instructions on the profitable growing of the various small fruits in which he deals with soil selection, propagation, planting and cultivation for each of the leading small fruits.

While these have not been issued for general distribution because of the fact that they are pretty much along the same lines as the lectures delivered a few weeks ago by the same men in their tours through the province among members of the farmers' institutes and all other who attended their meetings, there is little doubt that they may be obtained by writing the Department of Agriculture and asking to be furnished with a copy. As a rule the man who is sufficiently interested to write for a copy will take care of it when he gets it. Mr. Winslow's article is known as circular No. 11 and that of Mr. Carpenter as circular No.
16. By all means those who are in the fruit business large or small should have these circulars, but the information given above as to the proper varieties suited to this district will be found of great value to those interested.

CONSTABLE ASTON DEAD

After lingering for nine days in a stupor from which he was only partially aroused at times, constable Aston who was shot by the prisoner, James, died in the Kelowna hospital. This will cause his slayer to be arraigned on the more serious charge of murder.
Aston was removed to Penticton where he was buried by the members of Orion Lodge A. F. & A. M. with full masonic honors, although he was a member of Greenwood lodge. His sister who resides in Kootenay was with him at the time of his death.

NEW RECORD HUNG UP

Again the mill crew of the Hedley Gold Mining Co's forty stamp mill has made a new record in spite of the fact that in one day out of the 31 days of March things were badly demoralized owing to the mishap to the big generator which put it out of commission for over 24 hours and the greater part of that time only 15 stamps were dropping. The number of tons milled and treated reached the handsome figure of 6263 tons while the greatest in any previous month was that of 5514 tons in December, 1911.

LOOKS BAD FOR COMPANY

Coroner's Jury Gives Adverse Verdict on Merritt Disaster and Premier is Taking Matter Up

The coroner's jury which investigated the cause of the explosion in the Diamond Vale coal mine at Merritt returned the following verdict.

"Deceased men met their death by an explosion caused by gas, combined with coal dust, coming into contact with a naked light in the Diamond Vale mine March 7th.

"As a rider: we find that gross negligence has been manifest on the part of the management, through not providing efficient equipment, and a disposition to evade the rules as specified in the Coal Mines Regulation Act of 1911.

"We further find that there has been laxity on the part of the inspector of Mines, in not strictly enforcing the provisions of the Act."

The various witnesses were examined by the Crown solicitor, W. F.
Robertson, and J. A. Maughan, representing the company.

The theories formed by the expert of the company, Mr. James Ashworth, and the chief inspector of mines, Mr.
Thomas Graham, were substantially similar, both being convinced that the explosion originated in either No. 12 or No. 13 chutes, and that it was caused by fire damp coming in contact with a naked light, causing the coal dust to become ignited. The expert evidence submitted by Andrew Bryden, who had also examined the workings since the accident, was on the same terms.

Premier McBride on learning the result of the coroner's inquiry expressed his intention of submitting the matter to a still further investigation with a view to ascertaining beyond doubt the degree of culpability. A despatch concerning it says:

"Despite specially heavy demands upon his time during the past 48 hours Premier McBride has already found opportunity to take cognizance of the verdict returned on Tuesday by the coroner's jury which has been investigating at Merritt the circumstances attending the recent disaster of the mines of the Diamond Vale Coal company near that city. The jury in its finding held that the accident was occasioned by neglect of prescribed precautions on the part of the company and further held the local inspector blameable in his not having posted, or seen to the posting of certain notices which are called for by the provisions of the Coal Mines Regulation Act. On Monday next the question of these serious charges will be taken up by the minister, the department having determined upon the most searching investigation of the disaster, with a view to ascertaining if responsibility therefor is chargeable to neglect or non-compliance with any of the provisions of the law, and if so upon whom blame rests. It is expected that Chief Inspector Graham, who was despatched to Merritt immediately after the accident, will be back the first of the week to report personally and directly to the minister."

GENERAL NEWS

The coal strike is spreading. In the United States 400,000 men have gone out.

The Dominion parliament prorogued at the end of the week and Premier Borden goes south for a brief holiday.

The I Wont Work's have kicked up a disturbance among laborers on construction on the C. N. R. and between Hope and Kamloops 4000 have gone out on strike for shorter hours. They were working ten hours and demand eight.

The British coal strike has already caused several deaths by starvation in England.

The Grand Trunk Pacific has commenced to work night shifts on construction on the section between rail-head and Tete Jaune Cache.

In the woods north of Port Arthur, Ont., the wolves are eating each other.
There has been only a few inches of snow and the deer are able to keep away from the wolves with the result that the latter are starving.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

Ex-mayor Taylor, the Vancouver aspirant for the Rossland seat, saved his deposit by one vote. It is now up to him to try and find out who polled that last vote which worked the trick and halve up with him the $100 saved. It is not expected that Mr. Taylor will ask for a receipt.

It would look as if the lesson of the recent fire is to pass unheeded as before, for apparently no move is to be made in the matter of securing some system of fire protection. About 1000 feet of hose and a few hydrants or fire plugs are needed which could be purchased at a cost that would scarcely be felt by anyone if all will contribute. The condition of affairs didn't look good to the adjuster who was in here last week and in all probability the report he will make to the companies he was representing will not be very much in the interests of those who have property to insure and look to get it covered as cheaply as possible. There is good material in the town out of which to organize a good fire company but they can do little or nothing without adequate equipment and if the insurance companies see fit to increase the rates because of the laxity of the people in the matter of providing fire fighting appliances it will not take long to eat up in extra insurance rates more than the modest outfit above indicated would cost.

Hon. Martin Burrell is making the department of agriculture one of the strongest in the Borden government and it is quite fitting that it should be so for agriculture is one of the most important industries of the country. While fruit-growing is the branch of agriculture in which he has always been engaged and his choice as head of the department was acclaimed by fruit-growers all over the Dominion, he has already given evidence that no part of the broad field of agriculture will be left uncared for. His Agricultural Aid Bill under which over a million dollars will be distributed annually among the different provinces to be used for the advancement of agriculture and the spread of agricultural knowledge is being well received everywhere, and what he found of value in the department when he took hold is being retained and improved where necessary. Stock-raisers have found him as ready to cooperate with them as with the fruit-growers and horse-breeders are very pleased to find that the movement begun under the late government to improve the class of light and carriage horses is being continued as will be seen by the aid to be given for the maintenance of thoroughbred stallions under conditions and restrictions which will ensure proper results for the expenditure made in the improved character and value of this class of horses for which there has not in the past been the same encouragement for horse-breeders to engage as there was in the breeding of draught horses.

Town and District.

There has been an epidemic of colds at the mine within the past ten days. Local anglers have been trying their luck but no big strings have yet been reported.

Tomorrow will be Good Friday and if the day be favorable the golfers will take advantages of it for a few rounds of the links.

Gardening is in progress in different parts of the town and vegetation has made marked progress during the past ten days.

Tom Marks is coming to Hedley on April 25th and 26th with a company of a dozen or more talented artists in comedies, dramas and vaudeville acts.

Even the moon appears to have been effected with the sweeping character of the B. C. government's indorsement by the electors for it will get full twice in the month following the event.

Coalmont is to have a newspaper shortly which will be edited by Ed. N. Clark. The plant which will be used is a spare plant procured from Col. Lowery, of the Greenwood Ledge.

Henry Lye, of Vancouver, adjuster for various insurance companies, paid Hedley a visit last week in connection with the recent fire when claim papers for the various losses were made out.

The Hedley Union Sunday School will give their annual Easter entertainment in Fraternity Hall, Monday, April 8th. Admission free. A collection will be taken up. All cordially invited.

Mrs. William Sampson, received a telegram last week informing her of the death of her father at Salt Lake city. The event was not unexpected as his condition was most serious when Mrs. Sampson left there about a month ago.

Old-timers who remember the crew of the steamer Penticton which plied on Okanagan lake before the C. P. R. launched the Aberdeen in the summer of 1893 will regret to learn the death of engineer Jules McWha which occurred at Revelstoke on March 10th.

General superintendent Jones is expecting a visit in May from President I. L. Merrill, Vice-president W. B. Dickson and Treasurer C. D. Fraser, of the Hedley Gold Mining Co. The golf club should try and have the greens in apple pie order when they come.

Vernon is mourning the sudden death of ex-mayor Husband who was killed in an accident at Winnipeg where he was taking a course of instruction with the Strathcona Horse. His horse slipped on an icy rail and fell with its rider and the injuries sustained caused death a few hours later.

The first game of mixed foursomes among members of the golf club played this year was that on Saturday afternoon. The turnout of ladies was not large but later on it is hoped that more will be out. Rolls and Miss Jackson played James and Mrs. Rotherham and had the best of the play by three holes up.

The last of the votes on the question of church union were collected in Hedley on Sunday evening last. The general vote throughout the Dominion, however, does not look very prepossessing at the present. In fact the thing is practically decided in the negative now, for although the vote gave a majority for organic union on the basis proposed the minority is too strong to be ignored, and it is not at all likely that any of the governing bodies in either of the churches will take any steps to put the thing in operation in the face of so much unexpected opposition.

Lack of backbone on the part of the Board of Directors of the Vernon Jubilee hospital has deprived that institution of an efficient staff of nurses who could not stand the disgraceful conduct of a local doctor. The account of the trouble as given in the Vernon News would appear to bear the stamp of accuracy and moderation and must bring home to the Board pretty strongly the folly of the course they pursued in seeking to temporise in a case where dignity and every other proper consideration would seem to demand an altogether different course.

The office ax disappeared from the Gazette's backyard on or shortly after the night of the fire. If someone borrowed it the loan is long enough by this time to warrant its return and if some kid has carried it off home it is pretty nearly time the parents were trotting him back with it.

Vancouver papers tell of a suicide which occurred in that city when a man named Geo. Lawrence hanged himself. Friends in Koroemoos of Geo. S. Lawrence are apprehensive that it may be he. When he left here about a couple of months ago he was suffering from nervous breakdown. It is hoped, however, that it may prove otherwise.

Duncan Woods arrived in town on Saturday to look after his interests in this camp. He spent the greater part of the winter in Vernon and part of the time he was in the hospital where he had a serious operation performed for kidney trouble. His friends are pleased to see him around again looking as husky as ever. It is hard to kill an old timer whose constitution has been fortified for so many years on bacon and beans.

Peck McSwain who is holding down a case on the Princeton Star and getting bonbons from members of the fraternity on his proud position on the water wagon is still sticking bravely to the seat. Now would be a good time for Peck to equip the old wagon with bucking straps for it is no more to be trusted at certain critical times than the ordinary cussed cayuse. A bucking strap may not be needed but it is handy to have around.

L. W. Shattford, M. P. P. is expected in the district shortly when we understand he is going to follow his customary practice of going through the riding from end to end and meeting with his constituents. On this occasion the trip will be of an exceedingly pleasant nature to him and the element of pleasure will transcend that of duty. It will be the first occasion upon which he will meet his constituents after having been done the honor of being returned by acclamation.
