MOTHER OF PREMIER BORDEN PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Eunice Borden Dies at Her Home at Grand Pre, N. S., Age Ninety—Members of Family Present.

Mrs. Eunice Borden, mother of Premier Borden, passed away on March 29th, at her home in Grand Pre, N. S., surrounded by the members of the family, her sons Sir Robert and J. W., and her daughter, Julia.

Sir Robert arrived at Grand Pre on the afternoon of March 28th by special train from Ottawa. For two years Mrs. Borden had been in failing health, suffering from spinal paralysis, but for the past three or four days she had been much more seriously ill and had lost consciousness. The doctors did not think the evening before her death that the venerable lady, the honored mother of the Prime Minister of Canada, would survive till the morning, but fortunately she lived for some hours after her son arrived.

Mrs. Borden would have been ninety-one had she lived to next December, and all through her life had enjoyed remarkable health, no serious illness having been suffered by her till the present time. Her father was John Laird, a man who left his mark for good on his generation. He was a farmer, teacher, classical scholar and mathematician, and his daughter inherited in a marked degree his strong mental qualities, sterling character and courteous disposition. She was born in Grand Pre, as her father also was, and was laid to rest in the old churchyard, mourned by the whole countryside. Her distinguished son and bereaved family have the sympathy of all classes.

HOW TO PRESERVE EGGS

To the Editor, Gazette:
Dear Sir,—I am instructed by the executive of the B. C. Poultry Association to respectfully draw your readers' attention to the fact that the season for preserving eggs is now here. The present low price of eggs offers householders a splendid opportunity to secure good reliable eggs for this purpose. In packing the eggs the housewife keeps down the expenses and also aids in supporting the poultry industry at a time when conditions are far from satisfactory. When buying the purchaser should insist on getting fresh, infertile eggs. Water-glass is the best medium for preservation. Wooden or earthenware receptacles are used to hold the eggs and liquid, and care should be taken to see that the former are clean and free from odors. Directions as to the use of water-glass are given with the liquid. Cracked or dirty eggs should not be packed. When taken out of the preservative the eggs should be pricked with a needle before being used.
In conclusion, permit me to mention that, owing to the high cost of poultry feed stuffs, large numbers of fowls are being killed in the province. The number of chicks raised this year will also be materially curtailed. Both these facts point to the possibility of a more than usual scarcity of eggs next winter, hence the advice to preserve eggs now, when they are at their cheapest.
Yours truly,
J. R. TERRY, Sec. B.C.P.A.
Department of Agriculture, Victoria,

Report of the President.

February 20th, 1915.
To the Stockholders of the Hedley Gold Mining Company:
During the past year everything in general, at mine and mill, has gone along very well.
The ore bodies now being opened in lower levels continue to hold their size and value. Everything seems to indicate a long life for our mine.
Our Superintendent, Mr. Jones, and his assistants are to be commended for doing good work and economical work on our new power plant which should give us a surplus power to develop some portions of our property not now being worked. We hope that this new and cheaper power will increase our earnings enough to pay for the new development work planned as above mentioned.
For detailed information I submit the reports of the Superintendent and Treasurer.
Yours truly,
I. L. MERRILL, President.

Report of the General Superintendent.

Hedley, B. C., Feb. 13, 1915.
To the President and Stockholders, Hedley Gold Mining Company:
Gentlemen:
For the year 1914 your mill has treated 78,494 tons of ore of an average assay value of $10.80, and having a total assay value of $847,340.30.
Extraction by concentration.....$614,351.53
Extraction by cyanidation.....152,488.18
Total.....$797,340.76
or 94.60%
All the ore treated in 1914 has been mined from the Nickel Plate property. Practically all the development work done has been in the nature of extensions of drifts, inclines, crosscuts or stopes, all this work has been in ore, waste having been encountered only in passing through the Andesite sheets which form the foot and hanging walls of the ore. The boundaries of the big stopes in the upper section have been extended east and west beyond the lines of payable ore bodies as previously estimated. The ore on the east side is still of satisfactory grade and strength, which indicates considerable more ore in that direction. The ore in the old stopes is being left while the lower levels are being pushed forward into new country. The stopes in No. 5 Incline below No. 4 Tunnel level have all produced high grade ore, and drill holes from the third level through the foot wall indicate another section of payable ore. Assays of the cores taken from these holes average $20.00 per ton. This ore will be mined from the second level of the Dickson Incline.

The Dickson Incline itself has been extended to 750 feet and stations cut at the 100, 200 and 600 foot levels, the whole Incline fitted with pockets and all necessary equipment, so that it is in first class shape for doing good work. Stopes have been opened up on the first, second and sixth levels, all of satisfactory grade; the stopes on the sixth level, however, produce a rather better grade than the others. A 160 ft. raise running from the sixth level of the Dickson Incline to the fourth level of No. 5 Incline above has been holed through and is provided with two stations, from both of which good ore is being mined as well as from the top of the Raise and from the 600 level, making all told four separate, inclined beds of ore which are being mined through this Raise into the pockets of the 600 level of the Dickson Incline. The sinking of the Dickson Incline has been resumed and should intersect and open up large bodies of payable ore below already proved by diamond drill holes. The indications from this section, as well as from the ground northeast from the Dickson Incline below No. 4 Tunnel, are very promising. From the No. 5 Incline drifts have been run out in this direction from each of the levels and all have encountered payable ore shoots. The total footage of new work done during the year has not been large, due primarily to want of power. Fortunately the mine has not suffered, as the ore sections are in first class shape for mining and it is not difficult to hold the present grade.

FATAL DROWNING ACCIDENT

Wm. Evans Loses His Life in icy Waters of Similkameen River on Saturday

What was perhaps the saddest occurrence of this nature in the vicinity of Hedley for a number of years, took place on Saturday afternoon at the new power plant of the Hedley Gold Mining Company, when Wm. Evans was drowned in the Similkameen river.

It appears that the unfortunate man, in company with Dave Henderson, was engaged in tearing up the temporary bridge across the river at that point, when he lost his footing and was carried down stream by the swift current of the river. Mr. Henderson also fell in and had a narrow escape from drowning.

Mr. Evans has been in the employ of the company for a considerable time, coming here from Prince Edward Island. He was about forty-five years of age.

Although a vigorous search has been carried on since the accident all attempts to locate the body appear to be futile. He has a sister living in Prince Edward Island and two brothers in the State of Montana. The heartfelt sympathy of the Gazette is extended to them in their bereavement.

KITCHENER FALLS INTO LINE FIRST

Earl Kitchener, at present the foremost figure in Great Britain, is the first one to follow the example of King George in banishing alcoholic liquors from his household. He gave orders on April 1st that no intoxicating drink is to be used in his household for the remainder of the war.

A CORRECTION

In the last issue of the Gazette the Golf Club announced that the monthly medal competitions would be played on Saturday, Sunday and Monday; this should have read Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Subsequent competitions will be played on these days in the second week of each month, commencing on April 8th.

were authorized by the Directors to select a site on the Similkameen river and submit proposals for a hydro-electric power plant which was done and the plans accepted. Work was commenced on the dam about January 1, 1914, and the whole plant was finished and in operation January 2, 1915. The location of the dam is on the Similkameen river, just below its confluence with Twenty Mile creek. The dam is of the stoplog type; from it the water is conveyed into a flume, nine by seven feet in inside dimensions, for fifteen thousand feet to the forbay, which supplies the turbines through an eight foot steel penstock. The twin turbines, of the Francis type, were built by S. Morgan Smith Co., of York, Pennsylvania, and have a capacity of 2100 horse power. The K. V. A. alternating current generator and all the electric machinery at the power house were supplied by the Canadian Westinghouse Co. The governor was provided by the Lombard Governor Co. There has also been installed, in addition to the old power house, a new 2,000 foot compressor, built by the Canadian Ingersoll-Rand Co., and direct-coupled to a Canadian General Electric synchronous motor of 410 horse power. This unit, together with the present compressor, which will also be driven by an electric motor, should supply ample compressed air for the mine and allow a surplus. The new plant started off without a hitch and has been operating satisfactorily ever since.

During the year all other departments have been brought to their highest efficiency. Special mention may be made of a new tube mill which has been purchased and is now being installed. We have also added to our mill equipment a new 21 x 36 Traylor Jaw Crusher. At the mine all the buildings have been rearranged, so as to have the men's sleeping quarters as

THE LIQUOR QUESTION IN GREAT BRITAIN

There is no reason to suppose that drink is causing any greater economic loss in Great Britain than it did in time of peace. This is the time of urgency in the production of war equipment and military supplies, and every retarding influence is emphasized. The situation has called attention to the great loss of time by workmen had it been merely a question of the loss of earnings and savings by artisans and their families, or of the damage suffered by contractors, the Chancellor of the Exchequer would not have intervened by raising the question of drink. He might have considered it important, but would not have been impressed with the urgency of the matter. But just now the War and Admiralty offices are straining every nerve to provide the material for this great war. Unlike Germany Britain did not lay up a heavy stock of such equipment. No government had dreamed of a time when it would be necessary to provide for an army of three millions. But when every workshop in the land engaged in producing military stores, or capable of doing so, was urged to work at full capacity it was found that the full capacity could not be reached or approached because a large proportion of the employees were unsteady. After much study some of the ministers and some high officials reached the conclusion that the remedy could not be found by mere local measures, or by forbidding certain classes of artisans to drink. Britain is seriously considering the Russian example of total prohibition as a war measure. Many protest against it. The King is not one of them. His Majesty is ready to make a prohibition order for himself and his household. This is a royal recognition of the fact that class legislation would be found offensive and ineffectual.—

News-Advertiser.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Ottawa Legislators are discussing a proposal to grant railroad men an extra hour at noon on election days without loss of pay, providing it does not interfere with the running of trains.

As is often the case men have not time to make a very long trip to their polling booth and are reluctant to lose time voting. The extra hour would be a great inducement to these men to exercise franchise.

The war still goes on without decisive gains on either side. Reports are prevalent that Austria is seeking peace and the Turkish cabinet is considering the surrender of Constantinople and the Dardanelles. The elusive German submarine still continues its system of piracy and murder. The allies' spring campaign will soon commence and it is only a matter of time when the wonderful resources and strength will batter their way through to Berlin.

The British Columbia Liberals at their convention in Vancouver have announced the platform on which they will ask the electorate to vote them to the treasury benches at the forthcoming elections.

They promise investigations into public affairs, abolition of patronage, improved legislation on the recent Workmen's Compensation Act. Curtailment of Railway assistance as new land policy, etc. The policy looks like an endeavor towards an improvement on recent legislation but so far is very indefinite as to what improvements they would make. The present government has been continually returned to power by reason of their Province-wide development policies such as better roads, more railways, assistance to farmers' union, and the general business like administration of Provincial affairs. The near future will be productive of much oratory from both parties and present indications point to a very hotly contested campaign.

CHARGE OF THE AIR BRIGADE

(With apology to the Shade of Tennyson.)
'Cross the Sea! 'Cross the Sea!
'Cross the Sea!—German—
Far o'er the misty North Sea
Flew the brave airmen!
'Upward! the Air Brigade!
'Bombs on the Huns!'—he said;
Valiantly by Samson led
Flew the brave airmen!
'Forward! the Air Brigade!'
Straight for Ostend they made,
'Neath them the Channel waves
Whitened and thunder'd!
Swift their propellers churned,
Bravely their ardour burned,
Danger and foe they spurn'd.
Up and away they turn'd,—
Not a man blunder'd!
Clouds loomed to right of them,
Clouds loomed to left of them,
Clouds loomed in front of them,
Wild the sea dashes!
Cleaving the wintry breeze,
Skimming the heavy seas,
Straight for the foe they flew,
Straight to the Hunnish crew,
Thirty-four flashes!
Flash'd all their pinions fair,
Flash'd as they cleaved the air,
Dropping their bombshells there,
On shed and submarine!
Whilst Kaiser Bill wonder'd!
Straight through their fleecy shroud
Down from the drifting cloud,
Bullet and bombshell
Burst on the huddled crowd,
Shatter'd and sunder'd!
Then they flew back again,—
No one had blunder'd!
Cloud banks to right of them,
Storm clouds to left of them,
Huns down beneath them
Shatter'd and sunder'd!
Storm'd on by shot and shell,
Ostend and Zebrugge fell!
They who had rung their knell
Came through the jaws of Death
Back from the mouth of Hell,
All who had sullied forth,
Not one had blunder'd!
When can their glory fade?
Oh! the wild flight they made!
All the world wonder'd!
Honor the flight they made,
Honor the Air Brigade!
Noble un-blunder'd!

Last Sunday evening a special Easter Service was held in St. John's Church (Anglican). Appropriate Easter hymns were appointed and the Anthem sung by J. Howe assisted by the choir was well rendered. Rev. G. D. Griffiths preached a masterly sermon, taking as his text that familiar Easter phrase "He is risen". The Methodist Church choir volunteered their services for the evening. Altogether the service was greatly enjoyed by the extra large congregation present.

GOLF CLUB HANDICAPS

The following are the handicaps fixed for the Golf Club's monthly medal competition in which play will take place on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week—not Saturday, Sunday and Monday as mentioned in last issue. Members whose names do not appear below will play from scratch. The handicaps are of course more or less tentative and may be amended in subsequent competitions.

Members should see that—in fairness to all competitors—the general rules of the game are strictly adhered to in this competition, more especially those relating to the non-removal of obstructions prior to making a stroke.

A member must accompany the players as referee or judge of play and his signature will be appended to the score card with those of the competitors.
