A PATHETIC CASE

Another Incident of the Long Struggle of the A.O.U.W. to Keep Their Heads Above Water

There is no gainsaying the fact that fraternal societies that dabble in life insurance have relieved a great amount of suffering and protected many a poor family from want when the bread-winner was taken away; but there are nevertheless thousands of other tragedies where men who have depended on them find themselves late in life with no other insurance and a burden on their hands that advanced years and a consequent diminished earning power makes it impossible for them to carry. One such is shown in a letter taken from the Toronto World under the heading "Government Should Act." The letter is as follows:

"Editor World: I notice by your issue of the 17th that the United Workmen society after October intends raising the monthly rates so high on its old members, they will be forced to drop out, owing to the prohibitive charges and changes which they intend to make. This change would seem to be directed against the old members who for the last 25 or 30 years have materially assisted in keeping it in existence.

"This change, if carried out, is one of the most high-handed and outrageous proceedings ever perpetrated on the old and confiding members of the order, who were and are relying solely on this insurance for support in their old age, into the coffers of which they have been paying for the last 25 or 30 years, and to think at a time when it may become a claim, are, in plain English, to pay the excessive charges or get out.

If the institution is bankrupt, why not say so, and have it wound up at once, instead of forcing more money out of its old members, and, above all, coaxing and cajoling younger men into the order, and with their money hoping to give it a larger existence?

It is generally conceded that it is about time the provincial government, or federal, took action to see that the members of the order get justice and fair play in this so-called "fraternal insurance," with which the whole country is honeycombed.

"In the case of a member who has been paying $3.80 monthly for thirty years, and who by the proposed increase of rates, will be forced to pay $11.40 a month, or $136.80 a year, the result will assuredly be that members will be forced out and lose all. This would seem to be the move of the "fraternal society." Such insurance would seem to be a fraud on its old members.

"The members of such societies have to die young to be able to leave something for those dependent on them, or surely be forced out in old age. This proposed increase of rates is not the first; twice before it was raised. Why was the order not placed on a proper financial basis then? Who is to blame that it was not? Not the members. Such kind of insurance if not properly managed at its inception, generally goes to the wall. You say the proposed new rates are based on the "Hunter mortality tables." What have we got to do with this, or how many of its members know anything about those tables? I venture to say not one in 50 ever heard of "Hunter's tables." We have been paying as much into this society as we would pay into a good stock company, with this difference, that you have got to pay or lose all. While in stock companies you get interest for your money, and if after three years you desire to drop the insurance, you get back a certain amount of what you paid in.

"This treatment by stock companies is more like "fraternalism" than that handed out by societies that talk so much about it. As a constant reader of your paper, I hope you will publish this letter and let us know where we are at, and if the old members can be fleeced with impunity.

An Old Member of the Order.
Orangeville, July 20, 1912.

What "old member" says is true as between his society and the regular stock companies, but some one should have told him of a mutual company. Had he chosen the Mutual Life of

IN CAVES OF THE EARTH

Rev. Geo. Kinney Tells of Hairbreadth Escapes While Exploring Caves in the Rockies

(Rossland Miner.)
Rev. Geo. Kinney, who has traveled a great deal and who has explored the Selkirk and Rocky Mountains, and who has lived in Kentucky, where he explored the caves, large and small, of that state, in a recent interview, told of experiences in those weird subterranean passages. Kentucky, he says, has the largest cave in the world, its various passages covering a distance of seventy miles. Most all of the streams flow underground there. The formation is largely limestone and the subterranean waters find no great difficulty in eating their way through it. He told of eyeless crayfish and other fish found in the subterranean waters. Mr. Kinney spent a great deal of time in exploring in the Canadian Rockies and the Selkirks, and told how he had discovered a number of wonderful caves, some being in the Selkirks and others in the Rockies. The largest of these is located in the vicinity of Mount Robson. He says he only partially explored, although he travelled for several hours at a time through it. There are mighty waterfalls, glistening stalactites and stalagmites in every conceivable and fantastic form. During his narrative he described many hair-breadth escapes. Once when wading breast deep through a subterranean lake, the water was so wonderfully clear that he lost sight of the line between air and water and the lantern went out through being immersed, and he was left in the darkness. Fortunately he had matches and relit his lantern. Otherwise he would have had a fearful time in getting out of the cave as the way led over precipices and waterfalls. The speaker told of beautiful caves that he found lined with rock crystals, garnets and other semi-precious stones.

FOR FRUIT GROWERS

Now that the apple and pear season is on, fruit growers and fruit packers are reminded that every box of apples and pears offered for sale must be properly packed in standard sized boxes and must also be marked in a plain and indelible manner in letters not less than one half inch in length, before it is taken from the premises where it is packed, with the initials of the grower's Christian name, his full surname and address, the name of the variety and the grade. Ordinary lead pencil marks are not indelible. A stencil is the best means of complying with the law. A rubber stamp will make an indelible mark is carefully used. Copies of the inspection and sale act, part IX (the Fruit Marks Act) explaining all about the grades and the markings may be had on application to D. M. Robertson, deputy fruit inspector, 237 Sixth street, New Westminster, B. C.

MINISTER OF MINES

West Likely to Get Another Portfolio.

Ottawa, Aug. 11—It is very possible that next session an additional portfolio will be created and the west will secure a fourth minister. It is understood that strong influence is being brought to bear by the mining interests to have a minister of mines appointed. Formerly the department of mines was under the minister of inland revenue. Last session the branch was transferred to the department of the interior, but this is a very busy branch and too much so for the necessary work.

Canada instead he would be paying less than $25,000 a year for the same amount of insurance that is now to cost him $136.80 and he could draw in actual cash if he wanted to the nice sum of about $675.00; or he could quit paying altogether and take a paid-up policy for about $1380 although he would not have paid in for it in that time more than $875. These figures are taken from actual results that have been paid in a similar case and are therefore not mere estimates.

SPUR LAID AT LAST

Work of Installing Plant of B. C. Portland Cement Co. Will Now Be Rushed to Completion

The Great Northern which has been responsible for delaying the opening of the British Columbia Portland Cement Company's plant at East Princeton by at least a year through failure to lay the steel on the spur to works, has at last limbered up sufficiently to do this small job, and work of installing the balance of the machinery in the factory will now be rushed through as quick as possible to enable the manufacture of cement to begin at the earliest possible date.

Last week the railway got to work and as the job is a small one it has doubtless been completed by this time. This final move of the Great Northern has probably been the outcome of recent visits of Mr. George and C. R. Briggs, the secretary, who made it their business to see officials of the road to urge upon them the speedy laying of the steel.

The line of the Kettle Valley will pass so close to the works that the surveys of that line can as easily be made to enable them to get their share of the business as not, for their track will have to cross the Great Northern spur which has been put in. When the Kettle Valley line is completed there is no doubt that they will get handling a good share of the factory's product, and president Warren to whom this has been pointed out will doubtless see that his road is put in position to come in for its share.

It was estimated that only two months would be required in the first place to instal the machinery after the spur went in, and as the Cement company have been compelled to team a good deal of it from Princeton station and instal it without waiting for the laying of the steel it is not expected now that many weeks will lapse until they are turning out cement and by the end of the year a considerable quantity will be available for the market.

A CUP O' TAY

Canadian Ministers Invited by Mr. John Redmond to Visit Ireland

London, Aug. 7—Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden, Hon. L. P. Pelletier and Hon. C. J. Doherty were guests of Mr. John Redmond at ten in the House of Commons yesterday. Several matters relative to Irish trade in Canada were discussed, including the question of an Irish trade mark and distinct statistics of Irish imports into the Dominion.

Mr. Redmond tendered the Canadian ministers an invitation to visit Ireland. Mr. Doherty expressed the intention of going and Mr. Borden may possibly go.

The premier spent the week-end with Mr. Waldorf Astor, M. P.

Otis Staples a prominent lumberman in Kootenay has been blinded by a fish-hook run in his eye ball when fishing, and the injury resulted in his death a couple of days later.

JIM HILL SELLING OFF

Give Option to C. P. R. on Rossland and Nelson Lines.

VANCOUVER Aug. 13—It is stated today on excellent authority that the Canadian Pacific Railway has secured an option, expiring on the last day of August, for the purchase of those sections of the Great Northern system extending from Northport to Rossland and from Northport to Nelson, the two roads being known as the Red Mountain line and the Fort Sheppard. The lines were recently inspected in detail by a Canadian Pacific official designated for the task by President Shaughnessy.

The motives of the Canadian Pacific railway in seeking to acquire these short sections are said to be in connection with plans for making one of them a link in an alternate through line to the coast via the Kettle Valley line. By constructing a new road connecting the Corbin line with the Nelson and Fort Sheppard line, easy grades would be secured and the transfer of through freight to the boats on Kootenay lake would be obviated.

CANADIAN BISLEY TEAM

Some Interesting Features of the Make-Up—A Parson Competitor

A letter from Bisley, England, published in an eastern paper, had the following to say of Rev. H. W. Simpson: "Another Canadian who has been assisting much in the social world life of the camp is Rev. H. W. Simpson, Rector of Rossland, British Columbia. Mr. Simpson who has been taking an active part in the competitions, was the preacher at the annual camp services. At first Britishers were under the impression that he was chaplain for some Canadian regiment, but were agreeably surprised to learn that he was a private, and that he preferred to rough it in the ranks, believing that in this way he would be able to influence his fellows more for good than by accepting a chaplaincy. It is scarcely necessary to add that this has added immensely to his popularity at Bisley.

In the course of conversation with the officers and men many interesting facts were learned about the Canadian team. Half of the men hail from Eastern Canada and half from the Western provinces. Half are married and half are single, half again are Canadian born, and half first saw the light in the Old Country.

GENERAL NEWS

Sir James Ramsay, the great British scientist, is to visit Canada next month.

The courts have decided that natural gas is not a mineral. The Dominion government will let the contracts for the Hudson's Bay Railway in September.

The West India Islands have ratified the trade agreement with Canada. The Unionists continue to win the by-elections in Britain.

A preacher was leader of the strike at Port Arthur, Ontario, in which several were killed. He had espoused socialism, and is now being given ample time to think the whole thing out in jail.

G. T. P. strikers are returning to work. The I. W. W. was the cause of the strike and forced the men out.

A thirty-five foot motor boat has recently crossed the Atlantic. The price of boots and shoes is likely to take a sharp advance in Canada.

The Vancouver cadets who have gone to Australia are cabling back for more funds.

English farmers who settled in Ontario claim they have been deceived by the land company which sold them their holdings. The deception they complain of principally is lack of market for their fruit at the prices that had been assured them. Many of them are likely to come west.

Canadian banks hold $676,147 of unclaimed balances. The Bank Act is likely to be amended so that this money will pass to the government.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

The United States presidential election takes place on the first Tuesday in November. As that day happens to be gunpowder plot day this year, who can it be that Teddy intends to blow up?

France joins Britain in her protest against the act of the United States Senate on the Panama bill. French papers indicate the probability of a universal tariff war against the United States if she persists in ignoring treaty rights of other powers.

More Russians want to come to B.C. The way in which Doukhobours and others from the Czar's domain have behaved themselves in the country makes it questionable whether it would not be preferable to have Japanese and admit them to full citizenship than to try to make good Canadians out of people with such outlandish notions as the Doukhobours who will not obey the laws of the country and who absolutely refuse to fight in its defence. They take no interest in the civic institutions of the community in which they reside and buy nothing from local merchants. Then there is the perennial difficulty of making them keep their trousers on. If Asiatics are to be excluded, the Tartarean instincts of the Russian immigrant are so near the surface that for all practical purposes he might as well be bunched with all the rest of them.

If you want an argument against a wholly elective senate such as they have in the United States it is to be seen in the action of the United States Senate in trampling under foot the nation's honor by disregarding her treaty obligations with reference to the Panama Canal. The individual that will neither keep his word nor honor his note of hand is on a par with the nation which will not live up to her treaty obligations. But the representative elected by the people can never be expected to rise to a higher moral plane on any great question involving either personal or national honor than that of the people who elect him. Fear of their ability to be elected again in the face of a mob cry which might be got up against them by British tail-twisters and other Anglo-phobists across the line was doubtless the thing which influenced the greater number of votes that helped to swell that ignominious majority which voted against striking out that perfidious clause to discriminate in favor of United States shipping going through the Panama canal—a clause which nothing else but the same fear of a venal electorate first placed in the bill. This violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty places the United States before the world in a most unenviable light, but the nation must put the immediate blame for it upon their senatorial representatives and secondarily upon themselves for being represented by such men.

Now that the United States Senate has declared for repeal of the Canadian Reciprocity Act, and also that the new Roosevelt party have adopted repeal of it as one of the planks of their platform notwithstanding the fact that Teddy himself wrote that letter to Taft saying how he approved of what Taft "proposed to do with Canada", isn't it funny that Scott of Saskatchewan should appeal to the American settlers in Canada to vote for him because he was a reciprocity man who was prepared to follow Fielding, Patterson and Laurier to the last ditch, and funny also that these same American settlers should respond to his appeal as they did. It has been claimed by some American writers that there are voters on the south side of the 49th parallel so far behind the times that they do not know the war for "secesh" is over yet. It would almost look as if it were some of that kind who have taken up their abode in Saskatchewan. As the Canadian tariff is now very little more than half that of the American tariff, if it is even that much, and as both the Republican and Democratic parties stand pledged to a revision of the American tariff downward, (particularly the Democrats who promised to give all the freedom of trade which the reciprocity pact would give) the most feasible and logical way for these Yankee settlers in Saskatchewan to secure the reciprocity their hearts yearn for, would be for them to hurry up and get in their nice Canadian harvests in good time to allow them a month or two before November 4th to go back to "God's country" and persuade their old neighbors to vote for Woodrow Wilson and low tariff.

Town and District.

Mrs. Bert Jones and her daughter Marguerite left on Monday for Nanaimo where they will visit Mrs. John Jamieson.

Rev. A. H. Cameron and G. W. Cooper came up from Keremeos on Friday to attend the regular meeting of Hedley Lodge A. F. & A. M.

The Gazette had the pleasure of sampling some fine nice red Astrachan apples from John Jackson's orchard up near Stirling Creek. Friday's wind storm knocked down quite a few of the earlier apples.

O. H. Carle has the Gazette's thanks for a tasty box of fine ripe Keremeos peaches which came to hand on Saturday and have been duly appreciated by the office staff and others who have helped to sample them.

Mrs. R. S. Collins has been making satisfactory progress after the amputation as could be expected. The weather fortunately has been in her favor and a week or two more should see her pretty well recovered from the shock.

F. M. Gillespie went up the river on Friday last to spend a few days above Princeton. Mrs. Gillespie and her mother went up about ten days ago to W. A. McLean's road camp and latest reports state that she is gaining strength daily.

The contractors ceased work in putting the verandah around the hospital last week owing to the critical condition of patients which made it undesirable to have any more disturbance about the premises than was absolutely necessary.

The Gazette was shown a fine basket of fish caught by Geo. Bowerman up Twenty-mile, and all of them good big ones. As a rule the fish caught in Twenty-mile are small but these were taken a long distance up the stream which would indicate that the creek is getting pretty well fished out down near the town.

A heavy windstorm that came down the valley on Friday afternoon was a bit hard on the orchards that were not duly protected by windbreaks. Some of the orchards had a fair crop of windfalls after the storm passed. Fortunately the storm seemed to either taper off or take another direction before it reached Keremeos where there is a much greater acreage in fruit lands.

Either the Similkameen game association did not kick hard enough or "the powers that be" at Victoria did not pay proper attention to their kick to have the open season for deer shortened. Notices of game regulations for 1912 show the same old thing and deer may be killed from Sept. 2 to Dec. 15th. Grouse of all kinds except prairie chicken may be killed from Sept. 2 to Dec. 31. Beaver must not be killed before November 15th, 1913.

The Ethel Tucker Co. put on "Are You a Mason" in Fraternity Hall on Tuesday night. Only a medium-sized house turned out for the performance, for a whispered rumor seemed to have drifted in from some where that it was not up to much, but there were few present who could resist the exceedingly funny situations that developed in quick succession as the crazy burlesque proceeded. All the audience were promised a good laugh and they assuredly got it. As for the company no reasonable fault could be found with the way each part was taken. We are sure that if the same company comes back to Hedley with any like production they can count on a much better house than they had on this occasion.

Authentic information is still lacking as to final arrangements for building in the Coquihalla. It was understood that the Railway Commission would assist at an adjustment which would determine what sections and distances of the remaining un-built portion to Hope would be constructed by the V. V. & E. and the Kettle Valley. It is one thing to decide where each will build and another to decide when. Whether the arrangement be a patch-up or a frame-up, let us hope at all events that it will not be a further sit-down. As the building in the Coquihalla need in no way effect the programme of the V. V. & E. in building from the Tulameen to the summit and as no move has yet been made to move a shovel beyond Tulameen it would look as if the Great Northern has not yet got sufficiently rested after the terrible strain to which they have been subjected in the mad race of building from Midway to Tulameen.

Important improvements are being made at the central station of the gravity tram where a new headgear is being installed. There has always been trouble at that point owing to the very heavy strain and constant wear, and the breaking of heavy shafts was of frequent occurrence. The uneven wear on the two drums in time produced a state of affairs that worked like a differential block and something had to give way under the strain. The new arrangement will provide for three wheels and distribute the strain over the three.

Hedley was well represented at the meeting of the water commissioners in Keremeos on Saturday last. In fact so much so that some explanation is due as to why the commissioners failed to arrange to hold a meeting here. But in view of some of the other shortcomings in the arrangement and advertising of these meetings—such as specifying in the advertisement that the holders of water rights residing in Hedley should appear at the meeting held in Princeton on Friday and serving notices on them to appear in Keremeos on Saturday—one might as well cease to wonder at anything.

The school inspector paid a visit last week to Hedley with a view to investigating the need for a superior school in the valley and it is expected that word will be received this week to make arrangements for fitting up the extra room and procuring a qualified teacher. In this connection the secretary asks us to invite the co-operation of resident house-holders who could take outside pupils to board. There are pupils at other points in the valley who have passed the entrance and are qualified to attend the higher classes and it is desirable that the matter of board may be made as easy for them as possible. To this end the suggestion has been made that light work could be given outside pupils mornings and evenings to help them to pay for their board while attending the higher classes.

L. R. Eastman of Winnipeg came in last Saturday and at Present is staying with his cousin W. G. Mattice.

With water commission on the brain Keremeos and district turned out nobly on Saturday evening last.

Tom Daly won his game against Oroville last Thursday, when Penticton defeated Oroville, the score being 11-6.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Armstrong returned to Vancouver Saturday night, after spending a few days looking over their interests.

G. P. Jones of the Daly Reduction Company, was up at the Centre last Saturday attending the meeting of the Water Commission.

Mrs. (Rev.) J. A. Cleland and two children returned to Penticton last Friday after spending a pleasant vacation as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Armstrong.

J. R. Brown and daughter, Miss Evelyn, drove over from Summerland Thursday going on to Princeton Friday and returning to the Okanagan Monday by way of Fairview.

D. H. C. Balling of Vancouver representing McCrossand and Harpe, of the same city, was here Friday on business in regard to some property now belonging to Victor Quaedvlieg.

L. P. Lawson, cartoonist of the Winnipeg Free Press staff, is at present visiting Mr. R. L. Cawston on the R. Ranch. He is delighted with the ranch and its surroundings and intends while here to take some drawings and paintings.

We beg to state that an error occurred when it was stated that Chas. Armstrong was acting Provincial Constable. We were informed on pretty good authority and took the liberty of publishing. Although Charley has been asked to accept the position, he has refused.

It has been reported to us that the Salvation Army struck town on Sunday evening last, but what we heard didn't sound much like tamborines. Some of the hymns rendered were to the tune of "The Old Gray Bonnet" and "When She Was Chasing Her Boy 'Round the Room". May be all right on a week day but sounded somewhat out of place on Sunday.

Ethel Tucker played to a ninety-five dollar house in the town hall last Saturday night in a three act farce comedy "Are You a Mason". At times the farce was thoroughly enjoyed by all but at some points they ran a little too close to the danger line of decorum and left themselves open to criticism on that account.

The Water Commission sat at Richter's hall last Saturday to hear any cases of water rights of property-holders and to adjust any disputes. Nearly all rights were satisfactory with the exception of some rights on Keremeos creek held by the Keremeos Land Co., and the Richter Estate, respectively. The meeting being adjourned their case will be brought up some time in October.

A party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. McKay Smith, Miss M. Blair and Messrs. N. Smith and A. Blair spent Friday in town before going on to Princeton and other points. The party who are all of Vancouver are on a pleasure tour having come through the Okanagan staying at points on the way down, and intend going by the Similkameen into the Nicola valley thence back to Vancouver.

Little Billy Clark had a very narrow escape from drowning last Sunday. After being for a little while with his father in the garden he unnoticed slipped down towards the hotel to the water tub, which is imbedded in the ground, and this time full of water. Billy must have fallen in head first for when caught sight of his feet were sticking up only. The hotel Chinaman saw him luckily just in time to save the little fellow's life.

We often hear the phrases "The old home back East" or "over in the old country" when talking of our respective homes. Things generally speaking are so new in the west that one longs for a week back over twenty years or more to see the big orchard trees that we used to climb when kids and to see the old house and the old barns. These things we saw last Sunday, when paying a visit to the old R. ranch, the home of R. L. Cawston and Family. R. L. very kindly taking us through the orchard pointing out the different varieties of apples and other fruits much to our satisfaction and taste.

GENERAL NEWS

The lacrosse war was so bitter between teams in Vancouver and New Westminster that local referees are no longer practicable and as a result an eastern man is being reported to referee the balance of the games, and will be paid $1000 for the five remaining games.

Audie Carnegie thinks that millionaires are not paying half enough taxes. Audie likes to keep as much in the limelight as possible and the way to do so is to advance views different from anybody else. So far as he is personally concerned, there is nothing to prevent him making the readjustment in his own case.

Ontario compels members of parliament to pay income tax on their sessional indemnity.

Ottawa expects soon to present a clean bill of health from her typhoid epidemic.

A Versatile Old Lady.

The attention of the class in history seemed to be anywhere but on the subject in hand, and the young teacher was getting impatient. "Children," she said, "you must pay better attention to what you are doing. You cannot possibly do two things at the same time. No one can do two things at once."

At this point a small boy raised his hand and waved it frantically in the air. "Well, Willie, what is it?" she inquired.

"Please, teacher," said Willie, "my granny kin do two things ter onc't. I seen her."

"No, Willie. I think you must be mistaken, but suppose you tell us what these two things are."

"Please, ma'am, she kin read an' soak her feet all ter onc't."

Curious School Customs.

Mexican schoolmasters show their appreciation of a pupil's efforts in a curious manner. The diligent student is allowed to smoke a cigar during the lesson. When the whole class has given satisfaction, permission is given for a general smoke, and even the little Mexicans are allowed to light a cigarette for the occasion. Needless to say, the schoolmaster himself smokes a cigar of a size and quality proportionate to his superior position. But the scholars are not allowed to drink, this privilege being accorded to the master only. On his desk he always keeps a bottle of liquor, which, when empty, occasions much dispute among the parents of his scholars, as it is considered an honor to be able to fill the schoolmaster's bottle.

The Carnivorous Ants.

The subject of vegetarianism had occupied a great deal of attention in the family. One day the five-year-old was out walking with his elder sister, and he meddled somewhat too freely with the affairs of a large colony of ants. He deserted them rather suddenly and came back to his sister's side, rubbing his bare legs vigorously.

"What's the matter?" asked sister. "Oh, nothing, only them ants ain't vegetarians," was the sententious reply of the youngster.
